VOL. XVII. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 7 1904 NO 20

THE PANAMA TREATY

Only Issue Before Congress, Says the President.

The president's message to congress is a plea for the recognition and indorsement of arrangements made with the republic of Panama by which this country has secured the necessary strip of land and all other privileges required for the construction of an isthmian canal to be policed and guaranteed by the United States.

The United States has taken the position that no other government is to build the canal. In 1889, when France proposed to come to the aid of the French Panama company by guaranteeing their bonds, the senate of the United States, with only some three votes dissenting, resolved:

"That the government of the United States will look with serious concern and disapproval upon any connection of any European government with the construction or control of any ship canal across the isthmus of Darien or across Central America."

When this government submitted to Colombia the Hay-Herran treaty three things were already settled.

One was that the canal should be built.

Second. While it was settled that the canal should be built without unnecessary or improper delay, it was no less clearly shown to be our purpose to deal not merely in a spirit of justice, but in a spirit of generosity with the people through whose land we might build it.

During all the years of negotiation and discussion that preceded the conclusion of the Hay-Herran treaty, Colombia never intimated that the requirement by the United States of control over the canal strip would render unattainable the construction of a canal by way of the isthmus of Panama; nor were we advised, during the months when legislation of 1902 was pending before the congress, that the terms which it embodies would render negotiations with Colombia impracticable.

The president says Colombia is inconsistent in rejecting the treaty at one time and now trying to restore conditions as they were and adopt the same treaty.

Third. Finally the congress definitely settled where the canal was to be built. It was provided that a treaty should be made for building the canal across the isthmus of Panama; and if, after reasonable time, it proved impossible to secure such treaty, that then we should go to Nicaragua.

He says the Nicaragua route is no longer to be considered, that route being only an alternate proposition in case of failure to secure one by Panama. The latter having been obtained, the Nicaraguan route is out of the question.

He denies the right of any petty government to assume such sovereignty over possible canal routes as to estop the building of a canal.

He recites numerous extracts from newspapers, naval officers, and other sources which go to show that revolution in Panama was progressing for months before Colombia failed to accept the proposal of this country and conclude a canal treaty with it, the inhabitants of the canal strip being as anxious for the canal as this country and as impatient of the dilatory tactics of Colombia.

He would not deny insinuations that this government was privy to the revolution in Panama were it not for the fact that silence might be construed as admission of the charge. He then gives the revolution in detail and particularly points out the neutral position maintained by this government except in the protection of American citizens.

Next he says the revolution has been accomplished and that the new republic is recognized by many of the leading nations of the globe as an independent people, capable of making treaties and entering into contracts.

American vessels of war were disposed within easy reach of Panama and these orders issued to commanders on the spot:

"Maintain free and uninterrupted transit. If interruption is threatened by armed force, occupy the line of railroad. Prevent landing of any armed force with hostile intent, either government or insurgent, at any point within fifty miles of Panama. Government force reported approaching the isthmus in vessels. Prevent their landing if, in your judgment, the landing would precipitate a conflict."

A mass of department and official correspondence and messages is quoted.

In defending the administration he speaks of the fear that was expressed as to the possible intentions of the United States about Cuba and maintains that Cuba is free and independent today. Then he adds:

"Instead of using our forces, as we were invited by Colombia to do, for the twofold purpose of defeating our own rights and interests and the interests of the civilized world, and of compelling the submission of the people of the isthmus to those whom they regarded as oppressors, we shall, as in duty bound, keep the transit open and prevent its invasion. Meanwhile, the only question now before us is that of the ratification of the treaty. For it is to be remembered that a failure to ratify will not undo what has been done, will not restore Panama to Colombia, and will not alter our obligation to keep the transit open across the isthmus, and to prevent any outside power from menacing this transit."

A special argument is interjected to show that the Panama case is unique and must be considered from the high standpoint of the demands of civilization for the canal as well as from the usual international standpoint.

In conclusion he says: "Let me repeat that the one question actually before the government is not that of the recognition of Panama as an independent republic. That is already an accomplished fact. The question, and the only question, is whether or not we shall build an isthmian canal.

APPEAL TO CARNEGIE.

To Establish Rural Libraries All Over the Country.

A movement is on foot to ask Andrew Carnegie to donate a sum of money for the establishment of libraries in the rural districts of the United States. It is thought several thousand signatures will be secured to the petition in Alabama, when the list will be sent to Washington, where, with the petitions from other states, it will be prepared for presentation to Mr. Carnegie. The petition reads:

"Appreciating the great work that you have done and are doing for the cities of the United States, we most earnestly ask that you take steps at your earliest convenience, to investigate the crying need of more than sixty million people who are in rural districts and small towns, beyond the reach of city libraries.

"From these country communities have come most of the great men of our nation; the young people who live in such communities appreciate fully what is being done for them. They have time to read and build into their minds the contents of good books that are placed in their hands.

"We, the undersigned, believe that the result of an investigation along this line by you will demonstrate that in this field, the maximum return may be expected from the minimum investment."

Iowa Capitol Burned.

Fire cleaned out the northwest wing of the Iowa capitol, causing a loss of $500,000. The chamber of the house of representatives is a charred mass of debris and can not be repaired in time for the approaching session of the legislature. It originated presumably from an electric light wire.

The fire department was hindered in fighting the flames by the height of the building and the elevation of the capitol. A gallery of the house chamber fell, the debris injuring two firemen.

Governor Cummins, clad in rubber boots and rough coat, fought the fire, which finally burned itself out. The Iowa capitol cost $3,000,000 twenty years ago.

A Peculiar Catch.

In the Tennessee river near Sheffield, Ala., an old man in an elegant naphtha launch was captured by officers, charged with small thievery. He had plenty of money and paid his fine. There is much conjecture as to where he got all the money. On his boat, which was beautifully fitted up, a small table and packs of cards were found, and it is surmised that he gambles as well as steals along the river banks.

The statue of Vulcan, which will represent the iron district of Alabama at the St. Louis fair, will be the second largest statue in the world, the only larger one being that of Liberty in New York harbor.

At the annual meeting of the Alabama Bible Society B. M. Washburn, of Montgomery, was re-elected president. Reports showed more Bibles sold and distributed during the past year than ever before in the history of the society.

Beginning last Friday, January 1st, coal went back under the Dingley tariff rates to sixty-seven cents a ton. The duty was removed through democratic agitation, backed by public sentiment, during the great coal strike.

The president has sent to the senate the nominations of Wm. H. Taft for secretary of war and General Luke E. Wright as civil governor of the Philippines.

The torpedo boat Lawrence was injured at Key West, Fla., by the steamer Olivette. It will take some months to repair her.

New Decatur, Ala., has a daily known as the Evening Sentinel.

Tennessee's industrial record for the last quarter of 1903 shows twenty-two woodworking plants, fifteen mines, nine electric companies, six flour mills, six tobacco factories, four water works plants, four iron works, three compresses, three brick works and three telephone exchanges.

The depot of the Western railway of Alabama, located at Shehaw, Ala., four miles from Tuskegee was burned Thursday.

The Mississippi Historical society, of which General Stephen D. Lee, of Columbus, is president, and Dr. Franklin L. Riley, of University, secretary, will meet at the representatives' hall in the capital for its seventh annual session on the 7th and 8th of January. Thirty-six papers will be read during the meeting.

There were erected in Birmingham, Ala., last year $1,400,000 worth of new buildings.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

JANUARY 4TH.

The senate's first session following the holiday recess was devoted entirely to Panama. President Roosevelt sent a message on the subject. Discussion continued throughout the day, speeches being made both in defense of and against the policy which has been pursued. Mr. McComas defended the president and asserted that his action would stand if tried in court. He maintained that even without recognition the new republic of Panama would have been established and maintained indefinitely.

Mr. Morgan stated his preference for the Nicaragua route, and maintained that the present course of the administration was breaking down the established policy of the United States regarding neutrality. He said the president now desired the assistance of three democratic senators to maintain his policy. He predicted that even though the government of the United States should undertake the construction of the canal, a canal would be built over the Nicaragua route because of its superior feasibility.

He referred to President McKinley's attitude toward the canal routes, and declared that "Nicaragua has a better friend in the grave of William McKinley than Panama has in the present head of the American army and navy."

In the house a privileged resolution offered by Mr. Hay, democrat, reciting that certain statements contained in the Bristow postoffice report reflected on the membership of the house, provided for an investigation by a committee to be appointed by the speaker. The vote developed no quorum and the house adjourned.

The Sisters Have Met.

Mrs. C. W. Taylor, residing at Bluff Springs, Fla., was so badly burned Thursday night that death resulted.

The accident is a particularly sad one. Mrs. Taylor was in the room where lay the corpse of her sister, who had expired that day. During the night Mrs. Taylor, who was much affected by the death of her sister, went into the room where lay the corpse. She was standing near the fire, when her dress caught in some manner. She was not aware of this until she was nearly enveloped in flames. Before assistance arrived Mrs. Taylor was severely burned. The remains of the two sisters were placed side by side in the room where, the day previous, there had been but one to mourn.

John Alexander Dowie started on his trip around the world Saturday. Dowie will first go to New Orleans, where he will remain for a week. Then he will proceed to San Francisco. He will embark for Australia January 21, going by way of Honolulu.

Empress Eugenie is seriously ill, says a Paris dispatch. The cause is a deep accidental pucture in her neck from a hat pin. Her face has swollen and it is feared blood poisonig has set in. As she is 70 years old, fears are held for her recovery.

W. C. Zeigler shot and killed himself at his home in Georgiana, Ala. The only reason that can be given for the deed is that his business was not prospering and he became despondent.

The Sixteenth regiment, stationed at Fort McPherson, near Atlanta, has received orders to hold itself in readiness to go to Panama, and preparations to this end are in progress.

Florida has had established since October 1, 1903, sixteen woodworking plants, four ice and cold storage plants, two mines and two phosphate companies.

Fire at Moulton, Ala., Saturday night destroyed two grocery stores, postoffice and several other large frame buildings. A defective flue is thought to have been the cause.

A party of Boston scientists backed by Mr. Carnegie, has gone to Afghanistan and the Crimea to search among the buried cities in that part of the world.

During the last three months of 1903 Alabama has given the south twenty-two new woodworking plants, nine new mines and quarries, seven iron works, five development companies, four flour mills and three compresses.

With the beginning of the new year the Southern railway absorbed the Knoxville and Bristol, a road forty miles long, running from Corryton, Tenn., to Morristown, Tenn.

The L. and N. railroad is erecting new stations at Cullman and Mountain Creek, Ala., both old ones having been destroyed by fire.

The empress of Korea is dead.

T. J. Rutledge has filed his bond of $15,000 as Alabama state bank examiner with the secretary of state and is ready to take up his duties.

According to the new directory of the city of Birmingham, Ala., which has just been issued, the city's population is 83,271.

SENATOR MORGAN

Says That He Will Continue to Fight Panama Canal,

Senator Morgan states in a letter to the public that he will not support a policy he knows to be unlawful, and declares that southern representatives will be committing such an offense if they shall cast their ballots for the Panama canal measure as it is now framed.

Speaking of the Panama route the letter says: I knew then, as I know now, that we were binding ourselves to dig a ditch that would be a receptacle for dead men and a waterway for none of the people, and that there is little chance of it ever being made a waterway for ships.

A FEW FIGURES

"The Progress of the United States in Its Material Industries" is the title of a statistical statement presented by the department of commerce and labor through the annual report of the chief of the bureau of statistics. The table pictures conditions in the great industries and material interests of the United States in 1903, where such figures are available, and compares those conditions with those of earlier years, running back, where possible, to the year 1800.

In area the total in 1903 is 3,025,600 square miles, against 2,980,959 square miles in 1850, and 827,844 square miles in 1800. These figures do not include Alaska or the islands belonging to the United States.

The population in 1903 is stated at 80,372,000 against 23,191,876 in 1850 and 5,803,483 in 1800. The wealth of the country is stated at 94 billions of dollars in 1900, and presumably 100 billions would not be an unreasonable estimate for 1903, while for 1850 the wealth of the country stood at 7 billion dollars, no estimate being given for any year earlier than 1850. The per capita wealth is set down at $1,235 in 1900 and $307 in 1850, having thus more than quadrupled meantime. The interest bearing debt in 1903 is 914 million dollars, against 1,724 millions in 1880 and 2,046 millions in 1870. The per capita indebtedness of the country in 1903 is $11.51, against $60.46 in 1870, and the interest per capita 32 cents in 1903, against $3.08 in 1870.

The per capita circulation in 1903 is $30.21. Deposits in savings banks in 1903 are 2,935 million dollars. The value of manufactures for the census year 1900 is given at 13 billions of dollars. Railways in operation in 1902 are 203,132 miles against 9,021 in 1850.

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER

Has Submitted His Annual Report for 1903—An Increase.

The report of the Alabama state insurance commissioner for the calendar year 1903 shows an increase in receipts of $7,634 over the previous year, while there was a decrease in expenses of $497. The total receipts of the department for the year were $74,466.32, with an expense including salary of $2,816.32.

During the year sixty-two fire companies, thirty life companies, twenty-two accident and casualty companies and eight mutual aid associations were licensed by the deprtment. Three new fire companies and one new casualty company were licensed. A total of 3,209 agents were licensed.

Walter Trice, Robert Bridges,, Boss Stovall and Albert Thompson, all of Paint Rock, Ala., have been arrested for complicity in the shooting of Marshal Trisdale, of Gurley. All of the young men arrested belong to prominent families in the county and have made bond for their appearance at the spring term of court.

The Knoxville division of the Southern railroad has just received the first two of a large number of new one-hundred-ton engines. They were put in service on the Knoxville and Ohio branch, but can not be used on the main line to Asheville until the bridges are strengthened, about one month's time. The engines are the largest used in the south.

Money now in circulation in the United States is $2,449,168,000. There was a gain in the total during the year of something like $98,000,000. Secretary Shaw predicts that there will be a surplus of $14,000,000 by the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904. The surplus for the last fiscal year was $38,000,000. The cause for the shrinkage in the estimated surplus is found in the great falling off of customs receipts.

Servia's war department has asked for 10,000,000 francs and it is thought that preparations are making for war with Turkey.

It is said now that war between Russia and Japan is inevitable.

The weather conditions during the past week have been favorable for plowing and planting on the sugar plantations and this work is being actively pushed everywhere. The estimated tonnage for 1902-3 is 225,000.

The Keystone Lime Company is preparing to erect five new kilns at their plant at Hardyville. This is one of the largest plants of the kind and employs a large number of men.

ONLY ONE LEFT

Lieut. Gen. James Longstreet Died Last Saturday.

General James Longstreet, soldier, statesman and diplomat and the last lieutenant general of the confederate army, with the exception of General Gordon, died in Gainesville, Ga., Saturday from an attack of acute peumonia. He had been ill two days. He was nearly 83 years of age. He is survived by his wife ,two sons and a daughter.

General Longstreet was born in Edgefield district, S. C., January 8, 1821. His family removed to Alabama in 1831, and from that state he was appointed to the military academy at West Point, where he graduated in 1842.

He served in the Mexican war and for gallant conduct in that service he was breveted captain and major successively. He joined the confederate army in 1861 and was immediately made brigadier general and was considered the hardest fighter in the confederate service.

General Longstreet took up his residence in New Orleans after the war and established a commercial house, of which he was the head. He was appointed surveyor of the port of New Orleans by President Grant, and was afterwards supervisor of internal revenue in New Orleans and postmaster of that city. He was sent as United States minister to Turkey by President Hayes, and under President Garfield was United States marshal for the district of Georgia. A few years ago he was appointed United States commissioner of railroads, with headquarters at Washington, which position he held at the time of his death.

NO MORE SMALL BOARDS.

Civil Service Examinations Will Be Under Direct Charge of the Commission.

The civil service commission has decided on a change in the matter of holding examinations in various parts of the country, which is intended to simplify the work and avoid cause of complaint as to the character of the examinations. It is proposed to centralize the small examination boards in the large cities and have every examination superintended by an officer from the office of the commission.

The small boards will be abolished and a representative of the main office of the commission will have a place on every board. The new arrangement is expected to introduce into every examination much of the authority and regularity which mark the larger central examinations held under the auspices of the civil service commission.

A RETIRED OFFICER

Will Be Placed in Charge of the Alabama State Guard.

The war department has written Governor Jelks, of Alabama, asking if the governor has any personal preference in the selection of a retired army officer to be detailed in charge of the Alabama state guard under the provision of the Dick militia bill.

The governor has not yet responded to the secretary's letter. In case he has no one whom he personally prefers for the place the department will select an officer. Only retired officers will be detailed, as the department can not spare the services of those on the active list.

The new dispensary law of Walker county, Alabama, is to be tested, a suit having been filed Saturday. It is said that the regularity of the journals of the legislature will be attacked, it being alleged that the bill was not enacted as required by the state constitution.

John Leroy Robinson and John Vinson, two well known young men of East Gadsden, Ala., experimented during Christmas with a balloon of their own manufacture. The crowd was badly frightened when Mr. Robinson, the balloonist, came near breaking his neck in an attempt to ascend with the balloon and descend with an umbrella for a parachute.

Planters Prosperous.

The new year, as far as the treasury department figures may indicate, has opened auspiciously for the southern states. One of the most interesting features of the operations of the treasurer's office during the old year has been the enormous shipments of currency, particularly to the south. Up to date these shipments amount for the twelve months to something over $35,000,000, while for same period preceding the shipments were but $21,700,000. This is taken to mean that the cotton planters have been making a lot of money the past few months, for the greater part of the money went to pay for the cotton crop.

Back Tax Assessments.

Back tax assessments on packing houses, oil companies and refrigerator lines operating private rolling stock in Mississippi were filed in eight counties by the state revenue agent, the assessments amounting to $1,216,000. This is additional to the big batch of similar claims filed about ten days ago, and will make the total amount of taxes demanded about $2,500,000.

The Bread We Eat.

By Harry Snyder,

THE recent experiments by the United States Department of Agriculture have shown that the gluten and other nutrients in graham bread are less completely digested than the same nutrients in white bread, the bran and other wheat offals in the graham flour lessening its digestibility. This conclusion has been reached from a series of comparative digestion trials covering a period of six years. A number of men in sound health were experimented upon; some were working men; others were students; men of both sedentary and active habits being included in the trials. A teamster, a college athlete, a naturally lazy fellow, and both corpulent and lean men were subjects of experiment. In one set of tests, the men were fed for several days upon graham bread and milk. Then white bread was substituted for the graham, and for the same number of days the rations consisted of white bread and milk. All of the food consumed was weighed, and samples were analyzed, as were also all of the waste products from the body. The graham and the white flours were milled from the same lot of wheat. The conclusion reached is briefly stated as follows: "According to the chemical analysis of graham, entire-wheat, and standard patent flours milled from the same lot of hard Scotch Fife wheat, the graham flour contained the highest and the patent flour the lowest percentage of total protein (glutinous matter.) But according to the results of digestion experiments with these flours, the proportion of digestible or available protein and available energy on the patent flour were larger than in either the entire-wheat or the graham flour. The lower digestibility of the protein in the graham flours is due to the fact that in both of these a considerable portion of the protein is contained in the coarser particles (bran), and so resists the action of the digestive juices and escapes digestion. Thus while there actually may be more protein in a given amount of graham or entire-wheat flour than in the same weight of patent flour from the same wheat, the body obtains less of the protein and energy from the coarse flour than it does from the fine, because, although the including of the bran and germ increases the percentage of protein, it decreases the digestibility."

Those who really enjoy graham bread and find that it agrees with them should continue its use. The beneficial results arise not from increased nutrients secured from the food, but from the mechanical action of the food

Man, Irresistible Man

By a Woman Cynic

AND now for the man who feels that he is so irresistible that every woman is at his feet the moment she meets him. He isn't uncommon, alas; he is all too numerous. He is afraid to be more than half-way civil to a girl for fear she may misinterpret his attentions.

If a girl makes a pretty little complimentary remark to him he first swells up with conceit and then instantly collapses through fear that she is after him.

He keeps a guard on his every look and action for fear the girl will think he is in love with her. He does not, of course, know that in all probability the girl would not have him if he were to go on his bended knees and beseech her ever so hard.

And such is masculine contradictoriness that if he did know it he would very likely turn around and fall in love with her.

I remember once meeting a man of this class. He was showering his valuable (?) attentions upon a pretty little rose of a girl All went well until some teasing friend remarked on the friendship, taking it for granted that the gay Lothario's attentions were serious. At once his fears were aroused and he exclaimed: "I assure you there is nothing in it. She is a sweet girl and I am willing to do all I can for her to give her any pleasure I can, but this dear self—never."

The fact that the girl married another man a week later did not in the least disturb his colossal conceit. He simply thought she married through pique and blighted affection, and for some time spoke of her as "poor little Mary."

It is well for all men to bear in mind that a sensible girl does not look on every man she meets as a possible husband.—New York American.

Vote against removal and save yourself from being doubled taxed

Better be a big peg in a little hole than a little peg in a b g hole.

Beat Four (Montevallo) will go solid against court house removal.

Beat Ten says "Our people are against removal of court house."

Pay your poll tax by the first of February next.

Don't forget that the court house election is on the first day February.

The voters of the county are against removal of the court house from its present location to Calara

Many voters in the county who oppose court house removal don't know that the court house election in on the first day of February.

A point aimed at by those opposed to court house removal is not simply to win, but to bury the folly so deep that we will never again hear of it.

News comes from beat 14 and 15 that those beats will give a majority against removal at the court house election. Let the good work go on.

Calera says "We'll carry Vincent beat." Vincent says "Wait and see." Our information is that an overwhelming majority will be rolled up against removal on the 1st of February.

It is being told by those who are advocating the removal of the court house from Columbiana to Calera that the commissioners intend building a new court house and jail at Columbiana in the event that the result of the election is in favor of Columbiana. For the benefit of our readers we reproduce the resolutions passed by the commissioners last spring in regard to the report which has been used by the promoters of the removal of the court house.

QUALIFICATION OF VOTERS IN THE COURT HOUSE ELECTION.

To the Voters of Shelby County:

In order that there may be no misunderstanding in regard to the qualificatians of the voters in the county seat election to be held on the first day of February, we deem it proper to give in a condensed form the law in reference to same.

A person to be entitled to vote in the court house election on the first of Feb. 1904, must possess all of the following qualifications:

1st. He must be over twenty-one years and must have resided continuously in the state two years in the county one and in the precinct in which he offers to vote three months, immediately preceding the election at which he offers to votes, provided that when he removes from one precinct to another within three months immediately preceding the election, he may vote in the precinct from which he removed, provided he could legally have voted in said precinct had he not removed.

2nd. He must have legally registered in Shelby county under the new constitution of 1901.

3rd. He must have paid his poll tax for 1901 and 1902 (if he was liable for the poll tax of said years or either of them) and he must have paid his poll tax on or before the first of February 1st, 1903. and he must show to the managers of the election his poll tax receipts for said years; or make oath before the managers that he has paid said poll tax. Any one falsely making said oath would be guilty of perjury and on conviction would be sentenced to the penitentiary.

4th. The following persons are disqualified from voting in said election; all idiots and insane persons, those who were by reason of conviction of crime disqualified from voting at the time of the ratification of the constitution on November 28th, 1901, those who have been since Nov. 28th, 1901, convicted of treason, murder, arson, embezzlement, malfeacance in office, larcency, receiving stolen property, obtaining money under false pretenses, perjury, subornation of perjury, robbery, assault with intent to rob, burglary, forgery, bribery, assault and battery on wife, bigamy, living in adultery, sodomy, incest, rape, miscegenation crime against nature, or any crime punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary; or for any infamous crime, or crimes involving moral turpitude, or convicted as a tramp. or vagrant, or of selling or offering to sell his vote, or the vote of another, or of making or offering to make false returns in any election by the people.

JOHN E. MORRISS, Ch'rmn
J. H. GUNN,
D. R. McMILLAN,
Board of Commissioners of County Seat Election.

The oldest and best equipped livery stable in this section of the state is located at Montevallo and is fitted up with the latest styles, and up-to-date rigs. This stable was established in 1882, and is opposite the St. George's Hotel, and is under the management of John Kroell. Team can be furnished on short notice. Hacks meet all trains. The proprietor has lately added new rubber tired rigs and keeps the best of stock, and employs none but polite and trusty drivers.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unnecessary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. For sale by Williams Bros.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost sure to be lost in case of croup, as a revolver in case of a burglar. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost as much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is plasant and safe to take. For sale at Williams Bros.

Distress After Eating Cured.

Judge W. M. Holland, of Greensburg, L., who is well and favorably known says: "two years ago I suffered greatly from indigestion. After eating great distress would invariably result, lasting for an hour or so and my nights were restless. I concluded to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and it cured me entirely. Now my sleep is refreshing and digestion perfect. Sold by Williams Bros.

Good Advice.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, Gnawing and Burning Pains at the Pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and Disagreeable Taste in the Mouth, Coming up of Food after Eating, Low Spirits, etc. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 25 or 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. For sale by Williams Brothers, Columbiana.

By special arrangements with the publishers of the Constitution and Sunny South we offer a years's subscription to our own paper in addition to the Contitution and Sunny South and will furnish all three for ONLY TWO DOLLARS. Such orders must come direct to The Chronicle.

NOTICE.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but it stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 25 and 75 cts. For sale by Williams Bros.

Stepped Against a Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. G. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath stepped against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great pain and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm in the house she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Pain Balm is an antseptic liniment and valuable for burns, breises. cuts and sprains. Sold by Williams Broe., Druggists.

DeWitt is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by Williams Bros.

Teachers' Institute Examination Course.

A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly over loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cur digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by Williams Bros.

Dragging Pains
2825 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.
I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.
Mrs. Bush
Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

The many friends of J. E. Adams, of Weldon, have announced him as a candidate for the office of Tax Collector of Shelby county. In another column will be found the announcement.

In this issue will be found the announcement of J. W. Perry as a candidat for the nomination for Tax Collector of Shelby county. Mr. Perry was reared in the county, and is well known in the county, and if he is a successful candidate in the primary will give his opponent in she general election a defeat.

Hunters returning from a camp hunt at the Narrows on the Coosa river, saw a balloon fall in said river on the 29th ult., one mile below Wood's ferry, the balloon was a small paper one, and was seen by constable Garris and family who lives two or three miles of the river, when seen by them it contained a bright light and was at times entirely obscured by the clouds and traveling in an easterly direction. Just what was said and done by those lonely woodsmen is difficult to imagine, perhaps the whole truth will never be known, however, after mustering up sufficient courage they procured a boat, viewed the wreck as the balloon and quietly returned home.

Married—At the residence of the bride's mother, at 10 o'clock Sunday morning Dec. 27, R. F. Lyon to Miss Lula Ray. The groom is a popular young school teacher, and the bride is one of our loveliest young ladies. May their troubles be few and their joys many.

Died at his residence in this place Monday morning, Dec. 28th, Geo W. McGowen, aged 69 years. He had been slightly ill on Sunday but didn't think his illness anything serious, but while up during the night fell [illegible] the floor without warning. He was reared at this place and was known by every one, both young and old. His smiling countenance, his affable manner, and his his genial disposition won him friends wherever he went. He was a good democrat, a model citizen and better than all a Christian. A wife, and daughter and two sons survive him. The funeral took place from the Methodist church, of which he was a member. Dr. L. C. Branscomb conducting the services. He was also a Free Mason and was buried with masonic honors. We realize that a great and good man has passed away one whose example is worthy of imitation, and Wilsonville feels his loss very keenly, so as evidence of his popularity, the procession which followed his remains to the cemetery was the largest that we have ever seen in this place. We extend to the bereaved loved ones our sympathy and commend them to Him who gave and who hath taken away.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of of cold, deepseated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. G. E. Fenner, of Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says "the cough and straining so weakened me that I ran dow in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I tried One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. Sold by Williams Bros.

What to do Until the Doctor Arrives.

"One of my children was taken with cramp colic and suffered severely,' says S. B. Elzee, of Monette, Mo., "I telephoned for a doctor, then gave a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and a few moments later a second dose. Before the doctor came the child was relieved. Sold by Williams Bros.

The removal of the house from Columbiana to Calera, would be the greatest folly which the people of Shelby county have ever been guilty of. It would be such a folly as they would never cease to regret. Even those who might be benefited from the standpoint of convenience, would see in a few years that they had made the mistake of their lives. Their increased taxes would hang over them as a hideous nightmare. If this be case with those who would be placed more convenient to the court house, how about those who would not? They would not only be burdened with high taxes through the remainder of their lives, and leave this heavy debt-legacy to their children, but would be forced, the majority of the people of the county to, travel double the distance and within one and a half miles of the line of Chilton county to reach the county seat. This is awful to contemplate. But when you add to this the fact that Columbiana is in a high, dry healthful town, and Calera is in a low, marshy, unhealthy location, and it is readily seen that every reason exists for the county seat to remain at Columbiana. The people of the county will express their sentiments in this way, and the force of this expression will be a complete settler to this annoying question.

RESOLUTIONS AGAIN.

It is astonishing at the extent to which our ambitious Calera court house advocates are going in order to bluff the people of the county to vote for removal to Calera. They are still preaching to to the people that if Calera should fail to carry the election a new court house will be built at Columbiana any way, and that the people of the county will have to be taxed to build it. The resolutions passed by the county commissioners recently ought to be a satisfactory refutation of this statement. We reproduce these resolutions that they may answer for themselves?

"Whereas, It is currently reported that the county commissioners have perfected plans to build a new court house at Columbiana, if the election results in favor of that place; and

Whereas, Such reports are wholly without foundation; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the commissioner's court of Shelby county, that it is the sense of the court that no new court house be built at Columbiana or extensive improvements be made, and that we will vote against any motion or proposition to tax the people of Shelby county for the purpose of buiid ing a new court house or remodeling the old one.

I hereby certify that the above is a true and correct copy of the above resolutions, as it appears upon the minutes of the commissioner's court.

A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate."

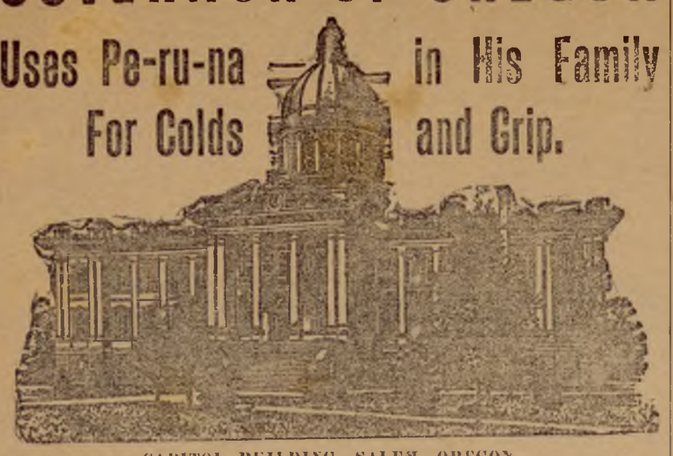
GOVERNOR OF OREGON

Uses Pe-ru-na in His Family For Colds and Grip.



CAPITOL BUILDING, SALEM, OREGON.

A Letter From The Governor of Oregon.

Peruna is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Peruna as a catarrh remedy are pouring in from every State in the Union. Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Peruna is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stage and rostrum, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Peruna is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Peruna not only cures catarrh, but prevents it. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth.

The Governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Peruna. He keeps it continually in the house. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he says:

Dear Sirs—I have had occasion to use your Peruna medicine in my family for colds, and it proved to be an excellent remedy. I have not had occasion to use it for other ailments.

Your very truly,
W. M. Lord.

It will be noticed that the Governor says he has not had occasion to use Peruna for other ailments. The reason for this is, most other ailments begin with a cold. Using Peruna to promptly cure colds, he protects his family against other ailments. This is exactly what every other family in the United States should do. Keep Peruna in the house. Use it for coughs, colds, la grippe, and other climatic affections of winter, and there will be no other ailments in the house. Such families should provide themselves with a copy of Dr. Hartman's free book, entitled "Winter Catarrh." Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Popularity of Fencing.

Fencing among women promises to achieve a popularity this season never accorded the sport before by the fair devotees. Many competitions are scheduled which indicate women's appreciation of this excellent exercise, which can be indulged in by them without public displays, and without fear of acquiring "manny" characteristics. The Fencers' Club of New York offers to its female members advantages that tend to advance the game. The officers of the National Amateur Fencers' League of America contemplate a series of intercity team contests between the fencing clubs of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington. The intercollegiate fencing championship will probably be held at the New York Athletic Club toward the end of the season. Little work has been done as yet in the college fencing clubs, but after Thanksgiving the series of college dual matches will begin. Columbia, Cornell, Yale, Harvard, University of Pennsylvania, West Point and Annapolis will all take an active part in the college fencing affairs this season.—H. P. Burchell, in Leslie's Weekly.

Miss Gannon, See'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness, and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains, and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did." — MISS GUILA GANNON, 359 Jones St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary Amateur Art Association. — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

When one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all.

A Boston physician's discovery which cleanses and heals all inflammation of the mucous membrane wherever located.

In local treatment of female ills Paxtine is invaluable. Used as a douche it is a revelation in cleansing and healing power; it kills all disease germs which cause inflammation and discharges.

Thousands of letters from women prove that it is the greatest cure for leucorrhœa ever discovered.

For cleansing, whitening and preserving the teeth we challenge the world to produce its equal.

Physicians and specialists everywhere prescribe and endorse Paxtine, and thousands of testimonial letters prove its value.

UNKNOWN SO. AMERICA.

THERE ARE VAST REGIONS STILL UNEXPLORED BY WHITE MEN.

Mountains to Be Climbed and Forests to Be Penetrated—Interesting Discoveries Possible—Amazon Region Largely a Mystery—Hardships of Travel There.

Of all the continents, South America undoubtedly offers the greatest field to the adventurous traveler. "Explorers have gone up the rivers and come down again," a writer on the subject says, "but they have not penetrated any distance overland across the jungle-covered water sheds."

Never a month passes without an expedition leaving the confines of civilization and plunging into the heart of some unexplored region in South America. Little or nothing is heard of these expeditions, but each of them would furnish material for a thrilling book, if the adventurers cared to write about their experiences. Usually they do not.

They have other fish to fry. They are orchid hunters, gold prospectors, diamond seekers or government officials engaged in delimiting boundaries between the various republics and colonies of South America.

Three months, six months, a year, perhaps three years after they left the last settlement on the fringe of the unknown, half of them returned, tanned, haggard, half starved, fever stricken. The rest have been lost in the jungle, to perish of hunger and thirst; or drowned in the rapids of some mighty river, or killed by hostile Indians, jaguars, or sting rays.

The survivors always tell the same story:

"We have seen some wonderful things, but they were not even the thousandth part of that which lies beyond. We climbed such and such a mountain, ascended such and such a river, dwelt among such and such a tribe; but we heard of other mountains, other rivers, other tribes far stranger and more interesting in the remoter regions to which we could not pentrate.

Take, for example, the immense range of unknown mountains which runs along the hinterland of the three Guianas.

"The best known of these so-called inaccessible mountains is undoubtedly Roraima," said Eugene Andre of Trinidad, a well known explorer of Venezuela, Colombia and the Guianas. "Since the Spectator, in April, 1877, wrote, 'Will no one explore Roraima and bring us back the tidings which it has been waiting these thousands of years to give us?' the mountain has been ascended and the secrets of its summit laid bare. To the Quelch-McConnell expedition is due the honor of having performed the most valuable scientific work in the exploration of this interesting mountain.

"Considering that Roraima is only one of a whole series of such masses, the existence of some of which may not even be suspected, we can form some idea of what remains to be done in the exploration of this little known part of South America.

"When we consider, moreover, that the summits of these mountains are plateaus isolated from the surrounding country during countless ages, we cannot help thinking that each of them must be a field of absorbing interest to the naturalist and botanist."

Andre himself, in 1901, tried in vain to scale the mighty heights of Mount Ameha on the River Merevari, in Venezuela. This mountain has never been climbed, nor have its companions, Mount Arichi and Mount Arawa.

The country all around them is unknown, and so are the most distant Panama mountains, which are said to be the home of tribes of Indians utterly unlike any of those already known in South America.

In 1901 J. J. Quelch of Georgetown, British Guiana, one of the two Englishmen who climbed Mount Roraima, penetrated alone to the settlements of the Macusi Indians in the unexplored Kanaku mountains on the borderland between British Guiana and Brazil.

"I thought I was the first white man who had ever visited that region," said Mr. Quelch to his friends in Georgetown on his return, "but I found a couple of Germans settled on what is regarded as the British side of the frontier, although the Brazilians claim the territory as belonging to their republic.

"They told us that the Brazilian government had sent them, years before, to explore the country and introduce civilization among the Macusi Indians. But the Indians uncivilized them instead.

"They had taken native wives, renounced all their prospects of advancement under the Brazilian government, turned their backs forever on civilization, and were contentedly leading the peaceful, pastoral life of the Indians.

"These men spoke of some strange beasts which they called the Warakabra tigers. They said these tigers roamed about the country in large numbers, hunting in packs and attacking any animals, including human beings, that crossed their path. The Germans asserted that the only way to escape from these beasts was to get into running water, where they would not follow you."

Mr. Quelch's expedition was undertaken on behalf of the British Museum. He discovered several small mammals hitherto unknown to science. He also discovered a number of new orchids of wonderful beauty.

"But what I have found," he told his friends, "is nothing when compared with that which remains undiscovered in those regions. They are an inexhaustible mine for the botanist, the zoologist and the anthropologist."

The great republic of Brazil, with its area of nearly three and a quarter millions of square miles, is largely unexplored. The vast valley of the Amazon and its affluents, as well as those of many other great Brazilian rivers, are practically unknown.

In the Royal Geographical society's rooms in London there is a series of outline maps showing the unexplored and explored parts of the world. The former are black and the latter white. These maps represent the central part of South America as the least known section of any continent. A big black blotch indicates the Amazon river basin. Narrow white lines run through it here and there, showing where explorers have journeyed up the rivers. They have not been able to penetrate overland to any considerable distance and discover the mysteries of over a million square miles of jungle and mountain.

One of the best of all South American explorers, the Colombian General Rafael Reyes, speaking to an assembly of South American geographers in the city of of Mexico, recently said:

"In the extended forests in which cannibal savages were wandering when my brothers and I made our explorations only a few years ago, there exists today an important commerce of some tens of millions of dollars, and towns of thousands of inhabitants have been established."

His explorations extended over along period of years, and were made in conjunction with his brothers, Nestor and Henry Reyes. The three brothers succeeded in their main enterprise to discover a waterway navigable for steamers from Colombia to the Amazon—and they also found many unknown tribes of Indians. But they paid dearly for their heroism.

Henry died of malignant fever while exploring the Yabari river. Nestor, lost in the forest of Putumavo, was captured and devoured by cannibals; Rafael spent his fortune and ruined his health.

Rafael Reyes met President Roosevelt in Washington recently, and the latter said to him, speaking of central South America:

"That region is a new world, destined for the progress and the welfare of humanity."

There is much to be done before the country is even properly explored, to say nothing of its being commercially developed. The proposed intercontinental railway, which is to unite all the existing systems on the American continent, will doubtless have a powerful civilizing tendency. Already the surveyors for that road are throwing light on many dark corners of South America, and when their work is finished and every branch of the line is in working order, the unexplored section of the country will be much circumscribed.—Sun.

To Rule the Wave.

According to Lord Brassey, a Britisher who speaks with some knowledge of at least the rudiments of this big question, the United State will, at a day not distant, be the world's biggest naval power. Potentially, he says, it is already the greatest nation in sea strength. He means by this that the United States could in a few years, if it set out to do this, put a larger naval force on the sea than even Great Britain or France has, and could enlarge it and improve it to meet the changing conditions of naval worfare.

Of course, all this is true. The United State not only has more wealth than its two nearest competitors combined, the United Kingdom and France, but it is far better equipped than either or both in the way of coal and iron to build and maintain a vast navy on the modern lines. Its iron and steel manufactures are far ahead of those of any other country. In population, wealth and in the sum of its industrial activities the country is growing with much greater rapidity than is any other big state. We have no rivals in this vast field, and none is likely to appear.

This, however, does not mean that the United States is going to start out to surpass England in the size of its fighting force on the water. It has no such program in mind. Nevertheless, the work of building up an adequate navy will be pushed with vigor and intelligence until all our requirements in that direction are met. The navy of the United States is entirely a creation of the 20 years which have passed since President Arthur in 1883 put his signature to a measure which authorized the construction of the Boston, Chicago and Atlanta, which were the foundation of the country's new naval establishment. What the country has accomplished in this direction in the last two decades it can much more than duplicate in a single decade now if it tries. The possibilities in the way of naval expansion for the United States are virtually limitless.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Horse, Here's to Him.

Here's to that bundle of sentient nerves, with the heart of a woman, says the Rider and Driver, the eye of a gazelle, the courage of a gladiator, the docility of a slave, the proud carriage of a king, and the blind obedience of a soldier; the companion of the desert plain, that turns the moist furrows in the spring in order that all the world may have abundant harvest, that furnishes the sport of kings, that with blazing eyes and distended nostril fearlessly leads our greatest generals through carnage and renown, whose blood forms one of the ingredients that go to make the ink in which all history is written, and who finally, in black trappings, pulls the humblest of us to the newly sodded threshold of eternity.

A Thought for the Week.

Learning is acquired by reading books; but the much more necessary learning—the knowledge of the world—is to be acquired only by reading men and studying all their various editions. To know mankind requires fully as much attention and application as to know books, and perhaps more sagacity and discernment. I am at this time acquainted with many elderly people who have passed their whole lives in this great world, but with such levity and inatttention, that they know no more of it now than they did at 15. You must look into people, as well as look at them.—Lord Chesterfield's Letters to His Son.

Kindness.

Nothing upon earth is so singular as kindness; nothing so rare as sympathy; nothing so absolutely unique, wonderful and purely divine as ungrudging, unboastful, devoted, changeless love, that seeks nothing for itself, but freely gives up everything.—New York News.

A WONDERFUL INSECT.

Firefly Which Does Away With Need of Gas Light.

Have you ever heard of the cucujo? If you are one of those unfortunates who are in the habit of grumbling at gas bills you will wish that the place was swarming with cucujos, so that the gas companies might be circumvented. The cucujo is the firefly of the tropics, and is the most radiant of the whole tribe of light-giving insects or animals. Thirty-eight of them yield one candle-power.

Photographs have been printed by two minute exposure of bromide plates to their illumination. People in Cuba confine them in paper lanterns for going about the country at night or for indoor lighting. Sometimes they attach one of the insects to each foot for traveling in the dark to serve as a guide to the path. Also, they use them as ornaments for the dress and hair.

Cucujos are beetles beginning life as grubs. Skipjacks, or springtails, they are sometimes called, because when placed on their backs they jump over with a clicking sound.

A small species of the same family is found in Florida and Texas. They have two luminous spots on the thorax and another on the abdomen. Damp evenings are most favorable to the light-giving, the object of which is presumably to attract a mate. The young larvae feed largely on snails, to which their bite is poisonous. The luminous organs are developed before the insects leave the eggs.

Now, the theory formerly held was that these fireflies stored up light in the day time for emission at night, as is done by the so-called luminous paint of calcium sulphide. But it was found that they shone as brightly as ever after being confined for ten days in darkness. Some that were carried from Cuba to Havre in the pitch black hold of a vessel were brilliant on their arrival.

A more striking disproof, however, was afforded by a batch of larvae hatched in the dark from eggs laid in the dark in a piece of rotten wood, the young insects being kept in darkness for the first six months of their lives. They shone as brilliantly as any of the other fireflies.—Philadelphia Record.

Heart Disease and Mental Worry.

The influence of mental emotion on the heartbeat needs no special proof in our everyday experiences. When the organ is healthy the palpitation is the ordinary response to an extra stimulus and is necessarily transient in duration. In confirmed cardiac disease in which the valves are damaged or the heart walls dilated and weakened there is often great danger to life by over exertion, either physical or mental. It is the degree and continuousness of excitement which thus work so disastrously.—New York Herald.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Want of Accuracy.

It is singular how much trouble is caused by the want of attention to detail. One day a man in Pittsburgh received a telegram from a friend who contemplated a visit to the city which read: "Meet me on the arrival of the train from Washington." It looks simple enough, but the man who received it swore. Funny, wasn't it? Why did he not go and meet his friend? "The train from Washington," said the man. "What train? What railroad? Day or night train? What day? What blooming idiots there are in the world."

An exceptional case? Possibly. Here is another: A woman was going from Pittsburgh to Memphis. She wrote to her sister in Memphis: "We will leave here Thursday morning and stay over night at Louisville with grandfather. Will leave there on Saturday morning and arrive at your home Friday evening." The sister at Memphis wrote back that the sister in Pittsburgh had things a little mixed. Luckily there was time to straighten out the snarl before the journey was undertaken, or the Pittsburgh woman would have arrived in a strange city with no one to meet her and direct her where to go.—Pittsburgh Times.

Army Remount Stations.

Members of the general staff of the army are considering the establishment of remount depots, where all horses and mules for use in the service may be received and trained before sent to various posts. The necessity for such depots has been urged by officers for some time, and Quartermaster-General Humphrey, and by other officers. Great breeding farms, where the government might carry on experiments in the raising of horses suited to the service, have been suggested, but this plan would require a large appropriation, and is not seriously considered. The general staff will doubtless agree on the location of several remount depots and give the proposed system for handling horses a trial. As most of the horses used by the army are supplied by the middle West, the depots will doubtless be in the Mississippi valley.

THE SHELBY CHRONICLE

VOL. XVII. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 14 1904 NO 21

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

JANUARY 7TH.

Mr. Morgan occupied the time of the senate in a reply to the speech of Mr. Lodge, delivered Tuesday. Mr. Morgan again criticised the president and the attitude of this government in connection with the Panama republic. He introduced numerous newspaper extracts to bear out his contention that the revolution was assisted by officers and citizens of the United States.

Mr. Morgan said that if the United States should withdraw from the isthmus Colombia would quickly drive out the few revolutionists and their supporters.

Mr. Morgan in opening said he proposed to have the ayes and nays on various propositons advanced in his resolution; that the debate on the resolution had not controverted any of these propositions, nor had the debate been directed to any question touching upon the merits of the resolution.

The senate in executive session ordered the printing of the testimonial introduced before the military affairs committee in the investigation of charges against the confirmation of Brigadier General Wood to be major general. The brief made by Senator Foraker, setting forth the views of the majority, also will be printed.

The senate decided not to make the documents public.

Representative Burnett, of Alabama, favorably reported from the public lands committee the bill turning over about 90,000 acres of the public lands of Alabama to the common school system of the state. The bill is amended so as to protect certain settlers who homesteaded through mistake.

A prominent democratic senator said: "Study on the engineering features of the Panama route have convinced me that no one now living will ever see a canal constructed by that route."

Senator Fairbanks presented to the senate the favorable report of the committee on foreign relatons on the extradition treaty between the United States and The Netherlands.

The house was in session but twenty minutes. Mr. Hemenway, chairman of the committee on appropriations, obtained unanimous consent that one hour be devoted at the opening of tomorrow's session to the consideration of a bill amending the act appropriating $500,000 for the eradication of foot and mouth disease among cattle, so as to make $250,000 of that amount available to meet the emergency caused by the Mexican boll weevil. The bill was favorably reported today.

JANUARY 8TH.

Alleged postoffice frauds were under discussion in the senate, the subject being opened by a set speech by Mr. Simmons, of North Carolina, who insisted there should be an investigation by the senate into the charges. Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, denied that the republicans were trying to cover up any wrong in the postoffice department.

The republican contention was that there had been a thorough investigation by the postoffice department, and that a senate investigation was now being pressed by the democrats for partisan purposes. The democrats insisted that there were facts and charges that the republicans were trying to smother.

The senate adjourned until Monday.

When the senate met Mr. Scott, of West Virginia, offered a joint resolution providing for an investigation of the Darien canal route. He made a brief speech in support of the proposition for a sea level canal, stating that such a waterway would be only thirty miles in length.

The house made available the sum of $250,000 to be used to meet the emergency caused by the ravages of the cotton boll weevil and other insects, and diseases affecting cotton. The measure was adopted without division, meeting general support. The sum is to be diverted from the half million dollars appropriated last year to eradicate the foot disease among cattle.

One hundred and fifteen bills were passed in twenty minutes.

JANUARY 11TH.

Senator Scott, of the senate committee on military affairs, has submitted in executive session of the senate a review of the evidence introduced by the committee in the hearing on the nomination of Brigadier General Wood to be a major general.

He prefaced his remarks with the statement that confirmation to so high a position as that of major general should be made with due deliberation, and the person to be confirmed should be highly qualified and in every way worthy and above suspicion.

The senate, in executive session, laid on the table the motion to reconsider the confirmation of the nomination of W. I. Buchanan to be minister to Panama. By this action Mr. Buchanan has now full powers to act for this government in all diplomatic exchanges between the United States and the new republic.

The house adjourned early out of respect to the memory of the late Representative Skiles, of Ohio.

The house unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the attorney general for a full report on the disposition of the five hundred thousand dollars appropriation by congress for the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, the great salary bill of the government, was reported and carries $28,258,395, which is $94,680 in excess of the appropriation for the current year and $1,452,805 less than the aggregate.

Banker Dead.

By the death of W. C. O'Neal, president of the American National bank of Pensacola, Fla., and of the Enterprise Banking company, of Enterprise, Ala., Florida loses a wealthy citizen and a great deal of litigation is ended.

A few months ago he became engaged in a difficulty with a man who held the position of referee in bankruptcy and struck him. On the claim that it was for the latter's official acts, he was imprisoned for contempt of court. He was active in pushing impeachment charges against Judge Swayne.

He died of heart trouble, and it is supposed that this was induced by worry over his imprisonment and the impeachment charges.

Mr. O'Neal was vice president of the National bank of Dothan, Ala., and director of the banks of Marion, Fla., and Greenville and Andalusia, Ala., and of the Montgomery, Ala., Street Railway company.

Lengthened the Hours.

A unanimous decision was reached by the cabinet Friday that the hours of labor for government employees shall be from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m., a half hour of that time being allowed for luncheon. The new regulation went into effect Monday.

The question was raised by the appropriations committees of the house and senate on applications made to them for additional clerks. It was pointed out by the committees that the law distinctly provides that employees should work seven hours a day, and that, under the present system, the government was getting only six and a half hours of labor. The committees urged that, as a matter of economy, the present employes ought to be required to work full seven hours.

The decision affects 100,000 employes, and adds 114 1-2 hours of labor annually to each employe's time.

FOUR RESIDENCES BURNED.

Early Tuesday morning in Birmingham, Ala., fire destroyed the residence of Dr. F. F. Snedecor, the adjoining house of C. B. Ratliff and the kindergarten of Miss Williams were totally destroyed, and the residence of John Lewis was badly damaged.

The total loss will amount to nearly $20,000, covered by about $12,000 insurance.

The fire originated in the Ratliff house, which was nearly complete. It is supposed to have started from a fire which was built on one of the hearths for the purpose of drying the plastering on the walls, although this is not positively known to be a fact.

Supposed Suicide.

The remains of the farmer, "Doc" Slaton, of Valley Head, who in a fit of mental hallucination some four months ago left home, declaring that he was going away to kill himself, were found in the woods Monday.

When found the body was horribly mutilated by hogs, and there was but little left save the skeleton. There was evidence of a bullet hole through the skull. The coat and overcoat were on the ground some little distance from the body. The pistol with all the chambers empty except one was lying on the ground not far from the body. The inference is that Slaton carried out his threat and shot himself.

Machen Case Called.

The cases of August W. Machen, former general superintendent of the free delivery service, Samuel A. and Diller B. Groff, of Washington city, and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lorenz of Toledo, all of whom are charged with defrauding the government by conspiracy in connection with the sale of box fasteners to the postoffice, were called for trial Monday in Washington. Many witnesses are on hand and it is probable the trial will proceed without further delay.

Captain R. P. Hobson has announced that he will oppose J. H. Bankhead for congress from the sixth Alabama district.

Tom Armour Killed.

An attempt at arrest of both Tom and Harrison Armour was made in a house near Boaz, where the men were at breakfast. Tom jumped behind a chimney corner and opened fire on the officers, who riddled him with buckshot. During the melee Harrison escaped. He was tracked for three miles, but not overtaken.

Tom Armour, wanted on a charge of killing William Little at Morris, Ala., several months ago, was killed at Boaz Monday afternoon by a deputy sheriff who was attempting to arrest him. Warrants for Harrison and Tom Armour, charged with the murder of Little, have been out for some time and rewards of $250 for the capture of either of the men were offered.

Cuban Senate.

On Monday the Cuban senate, after cleaning up legislative business and being in readiness to adjourn until spring, rushed the ratification of the so-called parliament treaty with the United States. There was no debate and the vote was taken by a show of hands.

The treaty includes all the provisions of the Platt amendment verbatim. This was the proposition of the Cuban government made because of the desire to eventually eliminate the amendment from the legislation and so remove the cause of the constant criticism of the makers of the constitution for accepting such an amendment from the United States.

Bids for the Philippine friar lands bonds were opened at the state department Monday. The highest bid for the purchase of the entire issue of $7,000,000 was from Harvey Fisk & Sons, 107.77. There were eighty bidders in all. This figure is lower than the bonds at first were expected to bring. However, it is stated that it is in excess of the estimates of some of the Wall street financiers.

JAPAN MOVES IN FAR EAST

Increasing Evidence in Tokio of Important Development.

RUSSIA GATHERS HER FLEET

Orders For Cruisers to Receive Their Armaments and Proceed East — Czar Sends Instructions Regarding Reply to Viceroy Alexieff—Said to Contain Terms Satisfactory to Japan.

London, England.—A special dispatch from Tokio says there is increasing evidence there of the imminence of some important development in the Far East.

The first authentic news of the date of the Russian reply to Japan reached Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Minister to Great Britain, through the Associated Press dispatch on the subject from St. Petersburg. The Minister said the reception of Russia's propositions would entirely depend on how nearly they assimilated with the Japanese terms, from which it would be extremely hard for Japan to recede.

He added that orders have been sent to Genoa to hoist the Japanese ensign over the new war ships Kasaga and Niasin, recently purchased by Japan from Argentina.

Mr. Balfour, the Prime Minister, passed a few hours in London on his way to Chatsworth to attend the meeting of the National Defense Committee, which, however, is said not to be connected with the Far Eastern situation.

Bizerta, Tunis.—The Russian cruiser Aurora has gone to Piraeus to salute Queen Olga on her return to Greece from St. Petersburg.

It is thought Admiral Wirenius and his entire Russian naval division will sail for Suez. The division comprises the armored cruisers Demitri Donskoi and Oslayba, the protected cruiser Aurora, a dispatch boat destined for Viceroy Alexieff and eleven torpedo boat destroyers of the latest model, having a speed of twenty-six knots. The personnel of the division consisted of 3500 officers and men. The orders to Admiral Wirenius were to conduct the division to the Far East and then to proceed by the trans-Siberian Railroad to St. Petersburg to assume the duties of under chief of the naval staff.

Moscow, Russia.—The Russian cruiser Saratoff has been ordered to Sebastopol to receive her armament and proceed with all haste to Port Arthur. The cruiser Oral has been ordered to remain at Odessa until she receives her armament.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—Russia's reply to Japan is now in the hands of the Viceroy, Admiral Alexieff, for him to deliver when he considers the fitting moment has arrived.

Russia has not at all given up the idea of a peaceful issue, all depending upon whether Japan is in earnest in her declarations to the government regarding her desire for peace, which is beginning here to be much doubted in view of her extensive war preparations. These are daily being announced.

As to whether Russia's reply will be acceptable to Japan no one can tell. It has been calmly and carefully considered, and from Russia's point of view frames terms which Japan can accept with honor, and she must take the very gravest responsibility by refusing them. The next word lies with Japan, and accordingly the question of peace or war rests in her hands.

Tokio, Japan.—War preparations continue, but the government seems determined to avoid the opening of a conflict, and for this purpose the note sent to the powers was intended to show that the responsibility rested on Russia.

The government is proceeding very cautiously, and unless Russia gives undue provocation it is possible that peace may continue for some time. The preparations made by the government are, however, sufficient to convince the populace of a determination to fight if necessary. The popular clamor has somewhat subsided, although many support the proposition to seize and declare a protectorate over Korea.

GENERAL LONGSTREET DEAD.

Leaves But One Great Confederate Leader Living.

Atlanta, Ga.—General Longstreet, soldier, statesman and diplomat, and the last Lieutenant-General of the Confederate Army, with the exception of General Gordon, died in Gainesville, Ga., from an attack of acute pneumonia. He had been ill two days.

General Longstreet was a sufferer from cancer of one eye, but his general health had been good until recently, when he was seized with a sudden cold, developing later into pneumonia of violent nature. He was eighty-four years old. He is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter.

BOODLE INDICTMENTS.

Milwaukee, Wis.—The Grand Jury which is investigating alleged corruption in Milwaukee city and county governments returned indictments against the following:

Fred Heiden, Jr., former inspector of House of Correction, two indictments; ex-Alderman Charles H. Havenor, Charles J. Jungman and Charles Cooke; Aldermen George Meridith, William Zimmerman and Valentine Jesion and Supervisor Albert G. Dade. Bench warrants have been issued.

Firemen Save 600 Girls.

SOUTHERN FARM NOTES.

TOPICS OF INTEREST TO THE PLANTER, STOCKMAN AND TRUCK GROWER.

The Strawberry Crop.

There is no market garden crop about which I get more letters of inquiry than the strawberry. The great extension of the culture of the strawberry along the South Atlantic coast and the general profitableness of the crop has led to the planting of wide areas. Strawberries are rarely profitable on high and dry soil. Moisture in the soil seems to be of more importance than even the amount of plant food it may contain, and a moist soil can be more heavily fertilized than a dry one, because of the immediate solution of the food contained in the application. Hence in the South the culture has centred in those sections where the soil is naturally black and filled with humus, and the permanent water table is not far down in the land. Few realize how deep a strawberry root will permeate in a mellow subsoil in search of moisture. Having the proper soil, and such soil abounds in the coast country from Maryland and southward, the grower can afford to treat it liberally. Size, firmness and showy color are what he is after, and the fertilization of the soil has a great deal to do with these. An excess of nitrogen will produce a rank growth and large berries, but is apt to result in berries too soft for shipment, hence great care must be taken in the compounding of a fertilizer for the strawberry. As a preparation for the planting of the crop there is nothing superior to a heavy growth of cowpeas during the summer. In order to get this heavy growth and the fixation of organic nitrogen before the planting it will pay well to use some mineral fertilizers on the pea crop. Four hundred pounds per acre of acid phosphate and muriate of potash mixed in proportion of five parts of the first to one of the last named will give a heavy crop of peas. In ordinary farming we consider it a matter of economy to mow the peas for hay and feed them to stock. But as a preparatory crop to a fine growth of strawberries it pays to be a little more lavish with the peas and let them die on the land and then turn them under in preparing the land for the berry crop. The best time to set the plants after the peas is in November or December. The soil is then moist and droughts are over and they get the advantage of the buried peas which could not be had earlier. Planted at this time we cannot of course expect much in the way of crop the first spring. In fact it would be better if all the blossoms be taken off and the plants not allowed to fruit at all. In planting I make furrows four feet apart, and in these furrows scatter 500 pounds per acre of the following mixture. Acid phosphate, 1000 pounds; dried blood or fish scrap, 700 pounds; muriate of potash, 300 pounds. Two furrows are lapped over these, making sharp ridges. These are rolled down nearly flat, and the plants are set fifteen inches apart on the flattened ridges. In the spring I add 500 pounds more of the following: Acid phosphate, 900 pounds; dried blood or fish scrap, 600 pounds; nitrate of soda, 100 pounds, and muriate of potash, 400 pounds. A similar dressing is given in the fall, and during the season of cultivation the runners are treated in along the rows to make a matted row the following spring when they bear their heaviest crop. During the winter a plenty of pine leaves are gathered, and in the early spring these are placed between the rows for the double purpose of keeping the fruit clean and having them at hand to pull over the plants in case frost threatens when they are in bloom. In the South Atlantic coast no winter mulching is necessary. In fact it would be harmful by delaying the starting of the plants. Some growers would use the nitrate of soda more heavily in the spring, but I have found that while it makes larger berries it is apt to make them soft. After the field has made one heavy crop it is best to plow it down after the fruit is off and plant in other crops, in the meantime having another plantation coming on. In fact the planting every year is the only way to keep up the production of the finest fruit to the top notch, and the planting of a new plantation is cheaper than to attempt to keep an old field clean of grass. Some growers set the plants in August and September and grow them strongly so as to get a fair crop the following season. But this necessitates heavier fertilization and does away with the getting of the pea crop to help out. I prefer to use the peas and to plant in December.—W. F. Massey, Editor of Practical Farmer.

Packing and Shipping Peaches.

The subject assigned me to-day is one rather hard to put into words, because practical plans and directions must be varied to suit the many conditions. The one thing to keep in mind always, however, is to make the fruit look as attractive as possible, because on that depends the chances of sales, especially if the market happens to be crowded with fruit. Really the work begins away back before the orchard is set in choosing varieties that will do well with the conditions you propose and attention you are able to give them, varieties which are popular in the markets you propose to enter.

If we go into any of the different shipping sections we find that the growers use and the markets seem to demand different styles of packages and packing. For instance, we find all California, Oregon and Idaho peaches and plums put up in boxes. I think these boxes are intended to hold ten pounds of fruit. In Michigan they use small baskets of various sizes holding from twelve to twenty-five pounds of fruit, and they will also load a large quantity of bushel and half-bushel baskets. This last style and the five-eighths baskets used in Maryland and Delaware have the merit of being very easy to pack. In fact, I think they are mostly filled up direct from the trees by the pickers and hauled to the cars without going to the peach shed at all.

In this section and with our markets it is probable that the common six-basket crate is the most satisfactory package we can use, but in Mississippi and Texas they prefer a flat crate with four baskets.

But the packing and the handling of them is very much the same.

You will need a packing shed as well located as you can get it with regard to your roads, outlets, etc., and should be as large and convenient as you can get it, if you have any considerable acreage in orchard. This is best on account of having plenty of room on the ground for working and setting the baskets of fruit; as it sometimes happens that we have several hundred baskets of fruit rushed in under cover to avoid rain, or if the packing gets behind for any reason. Then, again, it is very handy to have several days' supply of crates at hand and made up beforehand if possible. These can be stored overhead and brought down as needed. Also order a good supply of picking baskets and then double the order, as you will sometimes need them to keep things from being checked by complaints of "no baskets."

As for the actual packing, can only say that the idea is to get the baskets nicely rounded up so that they will just be right when the lid is nailed down on them. Always try to have all the peaches on the top of the crate so that they will not shake about and thereby bruise both themselves and the fruit they touch. Also get an average peach in color and appearance on top of the crate, and in practice we soon get in the habit of using fruit of finest color and appearance for this purpose. Handle the fruit carefully; have all wagons with springs, also with covers to keep off sunshine and dust in fair weather and rain when we have showers.

As to shipping, we do not do what we want to do generally, but what we can do. In small quantities, unless you can load with some one and thus make up a car load, you will have to use express and such service as they choose to give you, as local freights are too slow. If you can load cars the refrigerator people will likely be on hand to arrange the placing of the fruit in the cars.

As to the selling, can only give the general advice to sell as quick as you can and be as sure as you can to get your money. Get it, if possible, before the fruit leaves your possession, unless you know you are dealing with reliable and honest people.

Hog Eating Chickens.

In reply to a reader's inquiry in regard to a remedy for hogs eating chickens, Dr. Tait Butler writes The Progressive Farmer as follows:

"In reply to inclosed inquiry, I am compelled to state that I know of no way of breaking hogs of the habit of eating chickens when once formed. Good feeding, with variety of food, forming a properly balanced ration, may lessen the desire for "chicken," and would no doubt have a tendency to prevent the formation of the bad habit, but when the taste for chickens is once well established, hogs are likely to continue to gratify it whenever the opportunity is offered, despite all efforts to restrain them."

One thing is sure: never will the resources of North Carolina be thoroughly developed until cultivated brain takes it in charge. There is a wide scope—the minerals, the vast forest timbers, and the farming interest; the diversity of crops and the manner of their cultivation at half the cost of the present day. The idea of a man failing at all other professions and thinking himself an expert on the farm is a mistake.—R. R. Moore, Guilford County, N. C.

Mrs. Hobson Dying.

CALERA'S DESPERATION.

Calera, in her desperate efforts to meet and do away with the knock out arguments that are being made against removal of the county seat from columbiana to calera, is resorting to all kinds of misrepresentations and frauds. One of these is in reference to the court house at Dadeville, Tallapoosa county. The Calera News calera's court house organ, the sheet that is published out and out in Sylacauga, has a cut, a pic ture of the court house in Dadeville. Under this picture is a statement that this court house only cost $12,000. A rather lengthy editorial is written up concerning it. In this editorial and all the references to it, it is called a new court house. The argument is made that this Dadeville court house is good enough for Shelby county, and if Tallapoosa county can have such a court house built for $12,000 Shelby county can.

J. R. White, chairman of the Columbiana court house committee wrote to Hon. J. J. Harlan, Judge of Probate, Tallapoosa county for all facts in the case pertaining to the court house in Dadeville. The following is Judge Harlan's letter in answer to Mr. White:

Dadeville, Ala., Jan. 8, 1904.
Mr. J. R. White,
Columbiana, Ala.

Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in answering yours of the 6th inst. Yes, we have built a courthouse not entire ly new, for we had one that was well built some years ago, and the business had grown until we did not have room enough. We saved a part of the old one, viz., the end walls were torn out almost to the ground, (on account of changing windows, etc.) The side walls were preserved, only they were cut out below and above to get halls. The frame work of the roof was left, only it is covered with slate as all the building is. We made good room on each side the building, have fire proof vaults for probate office, register in chancery, and clerk. Have large grand jury room, two jury rooms, witness room, room for ladies, these are all in the upper story level with the court room. There was in the contract furniture for court room ($1,000) tower 98 feet high, clock in tower $800 water works on simple plan, by wind mill in well to supply water to tank for two urinals in building. We paid $20,000. Very truly,

J. J. Harlan,

Now, voters of Shelby county, the above is an illustration of the plans and schemes being resorted to by the calera court house workers to carry their point. They unequivocally have misrepresented the facts in relation to the Dadeville court house, and they have been caught up with most beautifully. The great expense of building the court house and jail is influencing and very naturally and properly should influence a great many to vote against removal. They, Calera, must meet this. The many ways she is trying to do it, are both amuseing and disgusting. She undertakes to make you believe that the building of the court house and jail is a mere matter of moon shine, and to prove this, brings in this exaggerated miserably misrepresented statement as to the Dadeville court house. Think of it voters, to make the picture of this fine court house calling it new out and out, and then tell you that it cost $12,000, when Judge Harlan, the probate judge of the county and the presiding officer of the commissioners court tells you that they have not built a new court house; that they have only built an addition to the old court house—in other words, improved and repaired the old one—and that this addition cost the county $20,000 instead of $12,000! We were in hopes that this election would run on smoothly, and that it would be determined on the real merits entering into the matter. But calera knows they cannot win by fair methods, and they are trying the frauds again, and these fraudulent methods have never won in Shelby county---not even when they stole a bill through the legislature removing the court house without letting the people of the county have even a say so in it.

CAPS THE CLIMAX.

Ha! ha! Calera has posted her hired men throughout the county to tell the voters that they need not be afraid of having to pay any taxes for building a court house and jail in Calera; that if they will vote the court house to calera, calera will pay $30,000 towards building and equipping a court house and jail. One statement says $30,000 and one $10,000. This is too ludricrous for anything Why Calera could not, if she wouid pay the tenth part of either of these amounts, and as there is not, and would not be any legal obligation on her to pay a cent, don't you know that she will not pay it. In the first place she could not pay these, or any amounts towards the erection of these county buildings, if she were diposed, and, in the second place, she would not do it if she could. This will not make her a single vote either.

FRAUD AGAIN!

Calera is industriously circulating the report among the voters and tax payers of the county that Columbiana is taking money out of the county treasury to pay the poll tax of voters in order to qual ify them to vote in the court house election, and to secure their votes for columbiana. This is not only a black falsehood of the deepest die, but is an insult to the intelligence of the voters of the county. Every sensible man knows that to pay the poll tax for a man now will not qualify him to vote in the court house election; that under the law in order to vote in the court house election he must have paid the poll tax of 1901 and 1902. and must have paid it on or before February 1st 1903. This steal would be an absolutely useless one, and we apprehend that there are not many in this county but recognize this as but a repetition of calera's old methods. When their methods reach to the extent that they actually steal court houses, it is not to be wondered at that they should resort to gross falsehoods. These methods will not go down with the voters of Shelby county.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowed to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature; removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but it stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 25 and 75 cts. For sale by Williams Bros.

Stepped Against a Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. G. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath stepped against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great pain and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm in the house she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Pain Balm is an antseptic liniment and valuable for burns, breises, cuts and spains. Sold by Williams Broe., Druggists.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

WINE of CARDUI

Owes His Life to a Neighbor's Kindness.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hapely afflicted with diarrhoea; was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any, relief, when a neigh bor learning of his serious condition brought him a bottle of Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him in less than twenty-four heurs. Vote against removal.

It is only one month till Valentine Day.

Capt. J. W. Bolin, of Wilsonville, transacted business her Tuesday.

F. E. Mason, of Wilsonville, spent a couple of days in the city this week.

John H. Robertsen who has been sick for the past week is able to be out again.

The Weaver Carnival Co., after a week's engagement here, disbanded for the season.

If you wish to avoid being taxed to build a new court house and jail vote against removal.

Mrs. Clem Waterworth, of Asheville, N. C., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cromwell.

Rev. G. T. Harris, filled his regular appointment at the Methodist church last Sunday morning and night.

If you wish to vote in the next genaral election you must pay your poll tax by the 1st day of February.

Mr. Burton, of Shelby, made a visit to the city Sunday, and a pretty black haired young lady wore a sweet smile for him.

There will be services at the Baptist church on Sunday morning and at night, it being their sunday in the month.

E. Williamson, of Wilsonville, attended the Public Installation of officers of Shelby Lodge, No. 50 K. of P., last Monday night.

Don't forget that the 1st day of February is to settle the vexed question. Let every voter come out and cast his vote against removal.

Alvarado the "up-side-down Man." give a very pleasing exhibiton at the corner of Main and Hill Streets. He is truely a wonder.

Every registered voter ought to interest himself enough to see that every one entitled to vote come out and cast his vote against removal on the first of February.

The Phoenix Auction Co., are still offering bargains in clothing, shoes and notions, if you want to secure some of these bargains you had better come and get some of them.

A call have been made for a meeting of the Republican party of Shelby county, known as the Lilly Whites, to meet in Calera, Ala., on Saturday, January 16th, 1904, for the purpose of perfecting an organization and the tansaction of such business as may come before it. All persons in sympathy with the movement are cordially invited to attend.

The National Hotel, under the management of J.T. McMillan, is one of the most pleasant hostelries in the state, and it is a pleasant treat for the traveling men to rest in its portals. The rooms are cool, the linen sweet and clean and the bill of fare most appetizing. The rates are moderate and parties visiting Columbiana should make it a special point to stop at The National Hotel.

We have been to several to a good may shadow suppers but the one at court-house last Monday night was the only one were the shadows that were sold and the purchaser did not even get the pleasure of seeing the manner in which the lunch the said shadow had brought with her, but he (the purchaser) paid his bid and with the best wishes for the Knights of Pythias retired from the court room.

The Calera News in an editorial says that Columbiana is not a fit place for the county seat and "that it is no longer entitled to the consideration of any person with common self respect." We would advise our brother to look around and see the low dives in which the young men of his town visit nightly and revel in debauchery. There has been more case recorded on court dockets than any other town in the county, but still the News says that Calera is the place for the county seat, and that Columbiana is not entitled to a single consideration of any person with common sense and self respect. Columbiana has never yet brought such a charge against her sister city as Editor Hunter has upon Columbiana.

On last Monday night Sheldy Lodge No. 50 K. of P., installed the following officers for the ensuing semi-annual term: W. F. Davis, C. C.: W. A. Parker. V. C.; C. C. DuBose, Prelate; J. H. Mason, K. R. and S.; Philip Erlick, M. E; J. N. Robertson, M. A. J. B. Pitts O. G.; Ben Johnson, I. G. The installation was public and was conducted by Deputy Grand Chancellor Jas. I Abercrombie. Before the ceremony Hon. A. P. Longshore made short talk on Pythianism. The Columbiana Orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

AN OPEN LETTER.

HELENA, ALA., Jan. 11, 1904.

EDITOR CHRONICLE.

DEAR SIR—I have been reading a great deal about moving the court house from Columbiana down to Calera near the Chilton line. What is this for? Who are they that started this racket? Property owners of Calera. Who are the ones to come to their assistance? A few above Calera on the railroad. What reason do they give? They say Calera is a railroad crossing and they say if we don't move it to Calera Columbiana will build a new court house and jail. That would be awful. They say the old one is not safe and is dangerous. Oh my, what a bug! Well, if that is a fact, won't it be cheaper to the tax payers to build it than to go and build a new court house, jail, poor house, waterworks and all that it will take to put everything in as good shape as it is in now? They say they are tired of that ring o er there. Don't you think it probable that some of the Columbiana folks would move down? Or are they (Calera) going to quarantine against them? Well, to come down to facts, I understand we have money enough to pay the county out of debt, but what about money to run on another year. Just borrow it. You can get it somewhere. Then issue $75,000 in bonds, and sell them at 20 per cent. discount, then let our children pay interest on them for the next thirty or forty years. That is a wise conclusion! Oh, but they say, it won't take more than $15.000 to build at Calera, so says Mr. Church, but who wants such a capital? If it won't take any more than that to build a new one, why do they howl so about a jail. But gentlemen if you want move, go at it right, say move and then say where to. Oh no, that would not do. We must keep Columbiana voting for itself; for we know if the fight is between Calera and some other place Silura. the cotton factory for instance we would get licked; for Columbiana will always go against us, and with its aid Cahaba valley would win.

ANGLO-SAXON.

The oldest and best equipped livery stable in this section of the state is located at Montevallo and is fitted up with the latest styles, and up-to-date rigs. This stable was established in 1882, and is opposite the St. George's Hotel, and is under the management of John Kroell. Team can be furnished on short notice. Bus meet all trains. The proprietor has lately added new rubber tired rigs and keeps the best of stock, and employs none but polite and trusty drivers.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unnecegsary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. Good Advice.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, Gnawing and Burning Pains at the Pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and Disagreeable Taste in the Mouth. Coming up of Food after Eating, Low Spirits, etc. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 25 or 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Should Columbiana be Torn Down to Build Up Calera.

Our level-headed brother of the Montevallo Sentinel, in an article in his paper some time since on the subject of removing the court house from its present location to Calera, very plainly and sensbly presents this side of the removal heresy to the people of the county and the absolute truth of his contention should appeal to the sense of justice of every one of fair mind and honorable instinct in the county. He says:

"There is still another side to this serious question—one that should appeal to all who believe in fair dealing with their neighbors, and one which, we believe, will be a large factor in this contest. Calera has nothing to lose in this contest—has nothing at stake except all to gain at the expense of a neighbor. Can any good come in success that is reached only by tearing down and destroying others? Do the taxpayers of Shelby believe in tearing down one town to build up another? Do they believe in tearing down county property that they have been taxed to build, and which is paid for, just for an opportunity to dig a little deeper into their pockets to build buildings that are not needed, so that a few may prosper and the many suffer? We do not believe they do. columbiana on the other hand, has all to lose in this contest—business, their homes all that goes to make up a happy, peaceful community. It is only the vandal who believes in the willful and promeditated destruction of property. The remaval of the county seat to calera will have a devastating effect on the fair town of Montevallo and its vioinity. It means the destruction of the best market in Shelby county, one in this section of ths country—and that hurts the farmer in a direct manner. for a good market to them is everything; court house removal will destroy the business of Montevallo, and, because of this fact, property in Montevallo will depreciate in value fifty per cent."

The Best Remedy for Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost sure to be lost in case of croup, as a revolver in case of a burglar. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost as much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is plasant and safe to take. For sale at Williams Bros.

Calera says, "We'll carry Vincent Beat." Vincent says, "Wait and see." Our information is that that beat will vote against removal by a large majority on the 1st of February.

Order for County Seat Election.

STATE OF ALABAMA, }
SHELBY COUNTY, }

Five hundred or more of the qualified electors of said county having petition the governor, praying that an election be held in said county on the question of removing the (court house) county seat from Columbiana to Calera in said county, and the governor having appointed the undersigned as a board of Commissioners of County Seat Election as provided by law. It is hereby ordered that an election be held at the usual voting places in said county by the qualified electors hereof on between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. on the question of such removal, at which election the electors who desires the county site shall remain at Columbiana shall have written or printed on his ballot the words, "against removal" and the elector who desires that the county seat shall be removed to Calera, shall have written or printed on his ballot the words, "For removal to Calera."

LET US BE FAIR AND SQUARE.

Calera's fraudulent methods can never win in Shelby county. What are some of them.

First, They say Tallapoosa county built a fine court house new out and out, for $12,000 and they show you the picture. The judge of probate of Tallapoosa county says that the county simply spent $20,000 in improving and repairing the the old court house they had, and that they have not built a new one at all.

Second, They say that Columbiana is taking money out of the county treasury to pay the poll tax of voters in the court house election. When paying their poll tax now would not and could not qualify them to vote in the court house election.

Third, They say that Calera will furnish from ten to thirty thousaud dollars to asssst in the building of the court house if voted to that town, when the facts are that calera could not do it if she would, and would not if she could.

DEP'T

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Tells How He Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters by Using Pe-ru-na.

MR. ISAAC BROCK, BORN IN BUNCOMBE CO., N. C., MARCH 1, 1788

His age is 115 years, vouched for by authentic record. He says: "I attribute my extreme age to the use of Peruna."

Born before the United States was formed.
Saw 22 Presidents elected.
Pe-ru-na has protected him from all sudden changes.
Veteran of four wars.
Shod a horse when 99 years old.
Always conquered the grip with Pe-ru-na.
Witness in a land suit at the age of 110 years.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLennan County, Texas, has lived for 115 years. For many years he resided at Rosque Falls, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

A short time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his picture. In his hand he held a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson, which has been carried by him ever since. Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decreptitude. His family Bible is still preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 115 years ago.

Surely a few words from this remarkable old gentleman, who has had 115 years of experience to draw from, would be interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given of this remarkable old man in the Waco Times-Herald, December 4, 1898. A still more pretentious biography of this, the oldest living man, illustrated with a double column portrait, was given the readers of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 11, 1898, and also the Chicago Times-Herald of same date. This centenarian is an ardent friend of Peruna, having used it many years.

In speaking of his good health and extreme old age Mr. Brock says:

"After a man has lived in the world as long as I have he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so.

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 115 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States.

"I have always been a very healthy man, but of course subject to the little affections which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature. During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds and diarrhoea.

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy, Peruna, I have found it to be the best, if not the only, reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy.

"It exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it keeps me in good appetite; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine.

"When epidemics of la grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease.

"I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Peruna was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la grippe was epidemic catarrh, I tried Peruna for la grippe and found it to be just the thing."

In a letter dated January 31, 1903, Mr. Brock writes:

"I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. The only thing that bothers me is my sight. If I could see better I could walk all over the farm and it would do me good. I would not be without Peruna."

Yours truly,

Isaac Brock.

A NERVOUS CHILD'S TRAINING.

By Injudicious Treatment Such an One May Be Wrecked.

A child born with a nervous constitution is to be pitied or envied, according as he has parents who do or do not know how to treat him. Character is made or marred, even more than we are wont to believe, by the training which the child receives, and the future of no child is more absolutely in the keeping of its father and mother than that of the nervous child. By injudicious treatment such a child may be made to grow up a physical and moral wreck, at odds with all the world, while under wise management it may develop into one of the highest types of lovable man or woman—gentle, affectionate, sensitive intellectual and dependable.

The nervous child is often difficult to manage, especially if the mother is impatient with its despondency or its irritability. Scoldings only increase the tension of its nervous system, and more severe punishment, which the phlegmatic child takes with scarce a whimper and to its betterment, is often cruel in the extreme.

There are two types of nervous children—the active child, always on the go, inquisitive and acquisitive, but delicate as the mimosa leaf, shrinking back into itself at the first repulse or harsh word; and the pale, quiet, sensitive child, intelligent and thoughtful, but retiring. The child of the first type develops into the inventor, the active philanthropist, the promoter, the schemer, the adventurer, or the leader of criminals, according as his training has been wise and foolish. The child of the second type becomes the philosopher, the thinker, the man of letters, the poet, or the misanthrope, the sour recluse, and the plotter against society and government.

One great mistake in training a nervous child is to try to strengthen the nerves by opposition. A nervous child must be guided, not driven; if afraid of the dark it must not be forced to sleep in a closed room without a glimmer of light. It should not be laughed at for natural timidity, but should be gently convinced by argument of the groundlessness of its fears. At the same time its physical constitution should receive careful attention. Tonics, good, digestible food, an open-air life, avoiding long hours of study, frequent change of air and scene are all not only serviceable, but, one might say, indispensable in the transformation of the child of nervous disposition into the well-poised man or woman.—Youth's Companion.

Stones That Are Alive.

The most curious specimens of vegetable or plant life in existence are the so-called "living stones" of the Falkland Islands. Those islands are among the most cheerless spots in the world, being constantly subjected to a strong polar wind.

In such a climate it is impossible for trees to grow erect, as they do in other countries, but nature has made amends by furnishing a supply of wood in the most curious shape imaginable. The visitor to the Falklands sees scattered here and there singular shaped blocks of what appear to be weather-beaten and moss-covered boulders of various sizes.

Attempt to turn one of these boulders over and you will meet with an actual surprise, because the stone is actually anchored by roots of great strength; in fact, you will find that you are fooling with one of the native trees.

No other country in the world has such a peculiar "forest" growth, and it is said to be next to impossible to work the odd shaped blocks into fuel, because the wood is perfectly devoid of grain and appears to be a twisted mass of woody fibres.—Chicago Post.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture

Gives to Salzer's Oats its heartiest endorsement. Salzer's New National Oats yielded in 1903 from 150 to 320 bu. per acre in 30 different States, and you, Mr. Farmer, can beat this in 1904, if you will. Salzer's seeds are pedigree seeds, bred up through careful selection to big yields.

	Per Acre.
Salzer's Beardless Barley yielded	121 bu.
Salzer's Home Builder Corn....	300 bu.
Speltz and Macaroni Wheat....	80 bu.
Salzer's Victoria Rape.....	60,000 lbs.
Salzer's Teosinte, the fodder wonder	160,000 lbs.
Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass....	50,000 lbs.
Salzer's Pedigree Potatoes.....	1,000 bu.

Now such yields pay and you can have them, Mr. Farmer, in 1904.

The Fifth Commandment.

The lesson teaches the commandments, and Theodore holds his breath until the second and fourth are passed. John and Alex got those, and it falls to his happy lot to rattle out the fifth.

"What does it mean?" asks his mother.

"Not to listen to Mose sing on Sunday, or fight Alex, or be cross to Mammy, and to clean your teeth and wash behind your ears every morning, and not say 'Dog on!'"

"Not say 'dog on!' is the third commandment," objected John.

"Then it's in both, 'cause mother told us not to, so it's in the mind-your-mother commandment. 'Most everything is in that."

"So it is," approved father from his chair. "You observe that, boys, and everything will come out right."—From Memories, in Leslie's Monthly.

Useful Apple Seed.

Probably a comparatively small proportion of people know of the remedial action of the common apple seed in cases where one get a foreign substance in the eye. Almost everybody has used or heard of "eye stones." The seed of the apple acts in precisely the same way. Introduce it under the lid and it will travel around until it has found the offending cinder or other harmful object. It gives no discomfort and will sometimes stay in the eye twenty-four hours before it has fully done its work.

Color Perception.

During the Cambridge Anthropological Expedition to Torres Straits a series of careful psychometric observations of the inhabitants of Murray Island was carried out, and these studies of a primitive people are regarded as of much importance in the science of mankind. One striking result appears to be a confirmation of the view, formerly entertained, but of late generally rejected, that the limited variety of color names found in classical literature indicates that the range of definite color sensations among the ancients, in the days of Homer, for instance, was less than with us. The observations on the Murray islanders show that they also have no definite descriptive words for color sensations in which they are defective.

Buying an Exposition.

When the exposition held a few years ago at Omaha had closed it disappeared as a mirage might. One week a town of spectacular architecture stood on the fair grounds. So it appeared the Saturday the exposition closed. On Monday a swarm of 500 workmen poured in through the gates—and in a twinkling the wonder city vanished. Not even the lagoon was left.

Months before, a wrecking company had bought the whole exposition for about $20,000. As soon as the fair closed they hurried steam derricks, special cars, and workmen to the grounds and forthwith began demolition.

The bricks that lined the lagoon and paved the sidewalks were taken up and shipped to Chicago. The buildings were torn down; all the lumber was sent away, and the plaster was thrown into the lagoon. Whole sections of the roofs were lifted bodily upon the cars. The miles and miles of fence were taken down. Train load after train load of lumber, building materials, furniture, including thousands of chairs—in fact, everything that makes up the plant of an exposition, were sent to the company's great Chicago depot.

Nothing was wasted. The hinges and locks on the doors were removed, sorted and shipped. All the thousands of trees, shrubs and plants that dotted the exposition grounds were scientifically loaded on the cars and sent east. Flagpoles, flags and typewriters by the hundreds shared a like fate. Even the great panorama of the battle of Gettysburg was taken. Two weeks from the close of the exposition the grounds were bare and level. There was no water. These things were put into shape and sold. The company has an immense store in which goods are for sale, "from a needle to an anchor"—furniture, builders' supplies, lumber, flags, hinges and all the objects and materials used at expositions—and not only these, but many more, for this same company buys dismantled theatres, great wooden bridges and old hotels. It buys in bulk and sells piecemeal. There is nothing that suggests the traditional white elephant so strongly as a group of exposition buildings, but this company skilfully puts the unpromising material to very practical use.—World's Work.

PAXTINE TOILET ANTISEPTIC

FOR WOMEN

A Boston physician's discovery which cleanses and heals all inflammation of the mucous membrane wherever located.

In local treatment of female ills Paxtine is invaluable. Used as a douche it is a revelation in cleansing and healing power; it kills all disease germs which cause inflammation and discharges.

Thousands of letters from women prove that it is the greatest cure for leucorrhœa ever discovered.

For cleansing, whitening and preserving the teeth we challenge the world to produce its equal.

Physicians and specialists everywhere prescribe and endorse Paxtine, and thousands of testimonial letters prove its value.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful, I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For over two years I suffered more than tongue can express with kidney and bladder trouble. My physician pronounced my trouble catarrh of the bladder, caused by displacement of the womb. I had a frequent desire to urinate, and it was very painful, and lumps of blood would pass with the urine. Also had backache very often.

"After writing to you, and receiving your reply to my letter, I followed your advice, and feel that you and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have cured me. The medicine drew my womb into its proper place, and then I was well. I never feel any pain now, and can do my housework with ease."—MRS. ALICE LAMON, Kincaid, Miss.

THE DEMOCRATS

Call Convention to Meet in St. Louis, July 6th.

"The democratic national committee having met in the city of Washington on the 11th of January, 1904, has appointed Wednesday, the 6th day of July, 1904, as the time and chosen St. Louis, Mo., as the place for holding the democratic national convention.

"Each state is entitled to representation therein equal to double the number of its senators and representatives in the congress of the United States, and each territory, Alaska, Indian Territory and the District of Columbia, shall have six delegates.

"All democratic citizens of the United States who can unite with us in the effort for a pure, economical and constitutional government are cordially invited to join us in sending delegates to the convention.

"C. A. WALSH, Secretary."

Three Amendments.

The senate committee on foreign relations directed Senator Cullom to report the Panama treaty with three amendments. The republican members voted for the treaty, but only two democrats, Morgan and Money, were present. The former voted against the treaty and Mr. Money stated that he had not yet had time to consider it, as it was the first meeting of the committee he had been able to attend.

The three amendments related to sanitation, limitation of cities and control of harbors. The United States by the amendment relating to sanitation is granted more direct power in all sanitary regulations. The amendment concerning the limitation of the cities more specifically defines the limits of Panama and Colon in relation to the canal zone. The harbor amendment gives the United States control of the harbors for the purpose of improvements.

Mississippi's New Officers.

All of the Mississippi state officials who were elected last November, except the governor, took the oath of office and entered upon the discharge of their duties Monday at noon and will serve four years. They are as follows:

Lieutenant Governor—J. P. Carter, of Perry.

Secretary of State—J. W. Powers, of Hinds.

Auditor—T. M. Henry, of Hinds.

Treasurer—W. J. Miller, of Penola.

Superintendent of Education—H. L. Whitfield, of Rankin.

Iron of the Birmingham District.

While the pig iron market in Alabama is not so active, as far as demand goes, since the first of the year, at it was the last two months of the past year, there is a decided improvement in the entire tone. The tendency, too, is upward, as far as the quotations go, and furnacemen believe that a fairly good price is going to prevail through the year and the demand is going to be quite satisfactory. There is a painful dullness on as to steel and finished iron and steel. There is but little demand for bar iron.

The surplus of pig iron in the yards has been working off slowly. It is announced by some of the companies that they will not be compelled to sell every bit of their surplus iron, but instead intend to hold a considerable amount for advances in price. During the past few days it was announced that No. 2 foundry iron had sold at $10.50 per ton.

More Armament.

Japan has placed orders for battleships of 16,400 tons. The vessels are to be the most powerful armed in the world. The contracts call for delivery within eighteen months.

Deeper Channel Wanted.

A six-foot channel in the Mississippi river at low water from St. Poland, Minn., to Cairo, a distance of 1,000 miles, to be completed by the time the Panama canal is put into operation is the project advocated before the house committee on rivers and harbors Monday by a delegation headed by Governor Van Sant of Minn

The total cost of the improvement is estimated at $15,000,000. An association known as the Upper Mississippi Improvement company, representing five states bordering on the upper Mississippi, has been organized for the purpose of advancing the project.

The dredgeboat Jumbo, which sank on the outer bar of Mobile harbor during dredging operations, and resisted all attempts to dislodge it, was blown to pieces Sunday by a diver employed by the United States engineering department. Dynamite was found necessary in order to clear the channel.

The coke market remains about the same, the railroads having less difficulty to handle it than during any January for several years.

COTTON WAS KING.

The Great Record in the Year that Has Just Passed.

"King Cotton" made his greatest record in the export figures of the calendar year 1903. From 1883 to 1903 cotton exports averaged a little more than three-fourths of a million dollars a day. In 1903 they averaged more than one million per day, and in the closing months of the year nearly two and a half million dollars per day. Exports of cotton in December, 1903, shows a greater value than in any preceding month in the history of cotton exportation, the total being over $72,000,000, and thus averaging two and one-half million dollars for every day of the month.

The United Kingdom was in 1903 the largest customer for our cotton. The total value of cotton exported from the United States to the United Kingdom in the calendar year 1903 was, in round terms, $147,000,000, and this forms 39 per cent of our total cotton exports in that year. Germany stood second in the list of our cotton customers, the total value of our cotton exported to Germany during the year being 111 million dollars.

The United Kingdom in the year 1903 aggregated but about five million dollars in excess of the total for 1900, while that to Germany exceeded by twenty-three millions the total for 1900, the former record year.

During the past twenty years exports of cotton reached low ebb in 1895, when $184,432,322 worth was shipped. In 1903 the value was $378,518,718.

FT. BARRANCAS

Will Be Enlarged—More Soldiers Coming.

Two more companies of artillery are expected to arrive at Fort Barrancas, near Pensacola, Fla., about February 4th. The companies have been serving in Cuba for the past two or three years and will be brought on a transport, which is due to arrive on that date.

Tents are being set up and other preparations made for the troops. It was the first intention to send the troops through Pensacola to another point, but from what can now be learned the two companies will be stationed at the local post.

The companies will occupy tents, it is stated, until new barracks can be constructed, which will be quite soon. The new barracks, which have been authorized, will cost about $200,000, and contracts will be awarded in a few months.

Miners' Convention.

President Mitchell and Vice President Lewis made reports. The treasurer's report contains this:

"There has been received from the anthracite strike assessment and in donations listed as the defense fund $57,646, and from the 10 per cent assessment $258,351. There has been paid in donations to assist various district and other unions needing help $308,780.

"The receipts for strike purposes have exceeded the expenditures by $7,218, while the net increase in the funds of the national organization for eleven months ending November 30 is $79,078. On that date there was in Indianapolis banks belonging to the organization $1,129,137. The paid-up membership is 289,836. The total membership is approximately 330,000."

To avoid the loss of revenue from these 40,000 members not paid up, which would amount to $96,000 annually, the stamp system is advocated.

The fifteenth annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America opened in Tomlinson hall, Indianapolis, Ind., Monday morning. Approximately 1,000 delegates from the various districts of the country are in attendance, Canada being also represented.

The convention will continue for ten days and will be followed by the annual joint conference between the miners and coal operators of the states of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and western Pennsylvania. It is at the joint conference that the wage scale for the ensuing year is fixed. It involves 300 operators and 150,000 miners.

The right of the city of Natchez, Miss., to convert a cemetery into a public park is questioned. The ground was donated to the city for burial purposes in 1817 by two merchants. One of the conditions was that it be forever used as a burial ground.

In 1890 the dead were unearthed and moved together with coffins and tombstones to another part of the city and the cemetery was turned into a park. In order to maintain its identity as a burial ground the authorities made a hole in one corner of the park, put the bones of many of the dead into it and erected a mound over them. The heirs now claim the city has lost the title to the property.

John Simpson, one of the best known young men of Montgomery, Ala., has disappeared. He left the city about ten days ago, and nothing has since been heard of him. He was bookkeeper for the Snow-Tullis Hardware company, and is reported to be short over $2,000.

Charters of four new banks in Mississippi have been approved: Hickory, $30,000; Tebuna, $30,000; Hoxie, $25,000, and Bay Springs, $50,000.

HANNA ISSUES CALL

For Republican National Convention, Chicago June 21

Senator Hanna, as chairman of the national republican committee, late Saturday evening issued the call for the national republican convention. In part it reads:

"To the republican electors of the United States:

"In accordance with established customs and in obedience to instructions of the national convention of 1900, the national republican committee directs that a national convention of delegate representatives of the republican party be held at the city of Chicago in the state of Illinois, for the purpose of nominating candidates for president and vice president to be voted for at the presidential election, Tuesday, November 8, 1904, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it, and that said convention shall assemble at 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, the 21st day of June 1904.

"Said national convention shall consist of a number of delegates-at-large from each state, equal to double the number of United States senators to which each state is entitled and for each representative-at-large in congress, two delegates-at-large; form each congressional district and the District of Columbia, two delegates; from each of the territories of Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Hawaii and Indian Territory, six delegates; from Alaska, four delegates.

"All delegates must be elected not less than thirty days before the meeting of the national convention.

"All notices of contest shall be submitted in writing accompanied by a printed statement setting forth the grounds of contest, which shall be filed with the secretary of the national committee twenty days prior to the meeting of the national committee, and will be acted on by the national convention in the order of the date of filing notice and statement with the secretary.

"PERRY HEATH, Secretary.
"M. A. HANNA, Chairman."

TO FIGHT THE BOLL WEEVIL.

Department of Agriculture Has Formulated Plans for the Campaign.

It is expected that the president will sign the bill appropriating $250,000 to fight the cotton boll weevil at once.

The agricultural department is already formulating plans of procedure to minimize the ravages of the pest. The department does not contemplate a war of extermination on the weevil. The plan is to establish small farms here and there in Texas, and parts of Arkansas and Louisiana.

On these farms experiments will be made by so fertilizing cotton as to make it mature before September, when the weevil gets in its work. The farmers will be given the benefits of these demonstrations. Various kinds of cotton will be planted to ascertain the best variety for early maturity. North Carolina cotton will be especially used.

The agricultural department, about the 1st of next month, will issue a series of instructions to farmers on the subject. The boll weevil is traveling at the estimated rate of 125 miles a year.

Bryan's Plans.

Mr. Bryan telegraphs as follows from Hannibal, Mo.:

"Have not heard of Hearst's St. Louis paper. I shall publish daily edition of The Commoner in St. Louis during the convention.

"W. J. BRYAN."

Making Records.

All the mines in the Pratt City district of Alabama are running on full time. The new machine that was installed during the suspension last summer is proving successful. The output of No. 1 mine during the past week has broken all former records. The daily output averages nearly 1,000 tons. Other mines also report gains.

Two Chambers County Residents Run Over by Train.

Tom Turnham and Jesse Edge were killed by a south-bound Central of Georgia train from Roanoke at a crossing a half mile north of Lafayette, Ala., Friday afternoon. They were on their way home.

Two mules were killed and the wagon and load of supplies were a total wreck. Edge was killed instantly. Turnham lived half an hour, but was unconscious.

The heads and bodies of both were terribly mangled.

Advices received from Winston county are to the effect that ex-Sheriff B. M. O'Rear, formerly of Walker county, Alabama, who shot and killed John Wilson on December 23d last, was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,500 in a preliminary hearing.

Bessemer and Ensley, Ala., rolling mills are getting ready for business. It is reported that they have a large number of orders on hand, enough to run the entire plants for a long time.

TRAIN ROBBERS

A passenger train on the Seaboard Air Line was held up one mile east of Sanderson, Fla., Saturday night by four white men.

The engine was stopped by a volley of shots. The fireman and engineer were taken off the engine and carried to the second-class coach and the robbers ran the train ahead about a half-mile, where they blew open the baggage car, mistaking it for the express. The train conductor went forward, but was fired on and driven back to the coaches.

Conductor L. S. Peck, who was in charge of the train, called for firearms and volunteers. N. H. Harrison, claim agent of the road; B. B. McCaa, traveling auditor, and J. C. Williamson, foreign agent, responded and the four went forward, opened fire and drove the robbers away.

The robbers secured nothing and made no attempt to rob the passengers. The sheriffs of Duval and Baker counties are on the trail of the robbers with bloodhounds.

JAMES L. BLAIR DEAD.

Was Counsel General for the St. Louis World's Fair.

James L. Blair of St. Louis died at Enstis, Fla., Saturday morning. Mr. Blair went there about five weeks ago in search of health, and it was thought he was improving until last week when his condition changed alarmingly for the worst.

Mr. Blair held the position of general counsel for the St. Louis exposition, and Mrs. Blair, that of president of the board of lady managers, which positions were resigned owing to certain charges of official misconduct of the deceased.

The cause of the death as stated in the physician's certificate is congestion of the brain.

A SEWERAGE SYSTEM

To Be Installed in the City of Athens, Alabama.

Athens, Ala., has let the contract for a sewerage system for the town. The successful bidder was the Nashville Plumbing company and they took the contract for laying four miles of sewer for $11,063.85.

Work is to begin the first of February and is to be completed by the first of June.

The work is to be paid in cash as the town has nearly enough cash on hand to pay the bill when the work is done.

Caught in New Orleans.

Fred W. Peterson, formerly a bank clerk of Montgomery, Ala., has been captured in New Orleans.

Until last August Peterson had for five years been in the employ of the Merchants' and Planters' Farley National bank, working as a collection clerk. He was considered a very sober young man, free of bad habits.

In August he asked for a leave of absence of two weeks, under the guise of spending the vacation in North Carolina. Soon after his departure an examination of his accounts showed that he was short $4,965. Detectives followed him to Chicago and New York. No further trace was secured and a report was received that he died in a western town.

Several weeks ago, however, it was ascertained by friends of Peterson that he was in New Orleans and he was apparently making no effort to conceal his identity. The bonding company soon located him and he was arrested.

The Citizens' Savings Bank and Trust company, capitalized at $50,000, has been organized in Birmingham, Ala., and will begin business about March 1st.

James E. Butler, of New Hope, Ala., sold 1,400 bales of cotton Saturday at the uniform rate of 13 1-4 cents a pound. The money consideration was nearly $100,000, making this the largest sale of cotton ever made in Madison county.

The West Pratt Coal company has doubled its capital.

Docked a Dock.

The small wooden floating dock at the Pensacola, Fla., navy yard was taken out on the Spanish steel dock, the work being done successfully. Two holes were found in the bottom of the dock, which will be repaired. Some weeks ago, when an effort was made to dock this structure, the blocks slipped and both were badly damaged, the pontoons of the steel dock being crushed.

It is announced that the czarina is suffering from pleurisy. The first court ball of the season, which was set for January 25th, has been postponed in consequence.

Boilermakers Strike.

Two hundred boilermakers in the shops of the Walsh & Weidner Company, the Sherman company, the Lookout Boiler works of Chattanooga, Tenn., and the works at Battaille, Ala., which is in the Chattanooga territory, went on a strike Monday. The union demand was eight hours per day to which the employers refused to concede. Employers announce that shops will be filled with non-union men if union men hold out.

FLORIDA'S FINANCES

State Comptroller Issues His Annual Report.

In his annual report State Comptroller Croom has this to say:

The rate of taxation levied in 1902 for general revenue to pay the appropriations for the current expenses of the state and for interest on the bonded debt was two and one-half (2 1-2) mills, and the tax rate levied for the same purpose for 1903 was one and one-half (1 1-2) mills, a reduction of one mill.

The state tax rate for all purposes as authorized by the legislature is six and one-half (6 1-2) mills, as follows:

General revenue to pay the appropriations for the current expenses of the state and for interest on the bonded debt	3 mills
State school tax	1 mill
Pension tax	2 mills
Board of health tax	1-2 mill
Total	6 1-2 mills

The tax rate levied for each of the different state purposes for 1902 and 1903, was 5 mills.

It will be seen that the general revenue tax, in connection with which the governor was vested with discretion, was reduced in 1903 one mill below the rate to which it was reduced for 1902. The fact that the total taxation for 1903 is the same as that levied for 1902 is due to an increase by the legislature of one mill on account of the pension tax, which was rendered necessary by the additions to the roll of pensioners.

The state school tax is fixed by the constitution and is not subject to change by legislative or executive action.

It was possible to reduce the tax rate for general revenue purposes in spite of the fact that the legislature of 1901 appropriated about $328,000 for extraordinary purposes (enlarging capitol, educational institutions, etc.), and the legislature of 1903 appropriated for like extraordinary purposes about $444,000 (educational institutions, uniform system of county high schools, etc.), payable from the money derived from taxation for the general revenue fund, from which the regular current expenses and interest on the state debt are paid.

The bonded debt has been reduced until the indebtedness amounts to $601,567 in 3 per cent bonds, issued under the act of 1901, and they are all held by the educational funds of the state.

No other indebtedness of any kind exists and all legal claims are promptly paid upon presentation. There is an aggregate balance of $507,661.40 in the state treasury, of which $269,068.58 is to the credit of general revenue fund to meet current expenses. The tax rate for this purpose is the lowest, with perhaps one or two exceptions, of any of the states in the union.

The number of pensioners has increased from 1,675 in 1902 to 2,700 in 1903. Warrants in payment of pensions are issued quarterly.

In 1898 the assessed valuation of all taxable property was $93,900,823.75, and 1903 the assessed valuation $111,333,735.

During the past year four new banks were authorized to commence business and four more filed applications for charters.

State property is insured for a total of $490,393.

The state of Florida issued bonds in the years 1871 and 1873 amounting in the aggregate to one million two hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, drawing interest at the rate of seven and six per cent per annum, respectively. All of these bonds have been retired and destroyed by fire, except one bond of the denomination of one hundred dollars, which was presented for payment too late to be included in manuscript bond and destroyed with the other bonds, and is now being held by the state treasurer.

The amount distributed to the several counties from the proceeds of the hire of state convicts for nine months of 1903 was $120,57185; the amount apportioned for distribution to the several counties for the last quarter of 1903 is $40,000; total, $160,571.85.

This is an income to the counties that is not derived from taxation and in many instances is more than sufficient to pay all the costs of criminal prosecution chargeable against the counties, thus avoiding the levy of any taxes for that purpose.

In the case of Rogers vs. the state of Alabama the supreme court of the United States sustained the right of the negro to serve as juror in criminal cases. Rogers was tried for murder and negroes were not allowed to sit on the jury for no other reason, it is alleged, than that of their race and color. The supreme court holds this to be a denial of equal rights under the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

A statement of the grievance on the part of Colombia was presented to the state department by General Reyes on December 23. General Reyes says that the course of the United States had worked deep injury to Colombia, and he cited the treaty of 1846 as showing that the independence intact between the two governments.

St. Paul's Catholic church in Birmingham, Ala., is to have a $6,000 white Italian marble altar.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

JANUARY 14TH.

Immediately after the senate was called to order Mr. Pettus, from the committee on military affairs, reported the bill extending till 1906 the time for the settlement of claims of states for the equipment of troops for the Spanish-American war. The bill was passed.

At the request of Mr. Hale the consideration of resolutions touching the postoffice department was postponed until Monday morning next.

The senate on Thursday listened to speeches by Mr. Newlands and Mr. Depew on the Panama canal question, and to a speech by Mr. Latimer in advocacy of the adoption of a plan for the improvement of the public wagon roads of the country.

When the house convened the senate resolution authorizing the erection of a monument in memory of the late President Benjamin Harrison on land owned by the United States in the city of Indianapolis was passed.

Representative Underwood, of Alabama, has introduced in the house a bill to exclude certain aliens from admission to the United States under the immigration laws. The bill provides that admission to the United States shall be denied to persons over fifteen years of age who cannot read the English language or some other language; but an admissible immigrant now in or hereafter admitted into the United States may bring in or send for his wife, his children under eighteen years of age, and his parents or grandparents over fifty years of age, if they are otherwise admissible, whether they are so able to write or not.

Representative Robinson introduced a bill providing for the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory into the union as the state of Oklahoma.

JANUARY 15TH.

Today's session of the senate began and closed with the passage of a number of bills on the calendar.

The intervening time was given over to a speech by Mr. Teller on the Panama canal question, Mr. Teller contending that the course of the president in connection with the recent revolt of Panama had been contrary to precedent, and in contravention of international law.

The senate adjourned until Monday.

The Gorman Panama resolution was laid before the senate. Before any one was recognized to speak on the resolution Mr. Gorman offered a number of amendments, striking out the word "intervention" wherever it appears, thus modifying the resolution so as to make it an inquiry of the president concerning the use of American military forces in the isthmus of Panama.

The house held no session Saturday.

JANUARY 18TH.

The postoffice inquiry resolution and the Panama canal question divided the attention of the senate. The first half of the session was given up to the inquiry, Messrs. Hale and Gorman being the speakers. The question went over until tomorrow.

The discussion of the Panama canal question was confined to the continuation of Mr. Teller's argument that the course of the United States in the recent revolt of Panama was contrary to international law and sound morals.

Resolutions looking to an investigation by congress of the postoffice department was laid before the senate before the opening of the session.

The house devoted a brief session to the District of Columbia business. While in committee of the whole on one of the bills the postoffice scandal was discussed.

When the house convened the speaker announced the resignation of Mr. Griggs, democrat, of Georgia, from the committee on coinage, weights and measures, and Mr. Hardwick, democrat, of Georgia, from the committee on revision of the laws and the appointment of Mr. Hardwick to the committee on coinage, weights and measures; Mr. Garber, democrat, of Ohio, to the committee on revision of the laws, and Mr. Currier, republican, of New Hampshire, as chairman of the committee on patents.

Some irregularities in the postoffice department were discussed, the discussion being precipitated by a letter from M. W. Lewis to Representative Bartlett, of Georgia.

Orders have been sent to the commodore in command of the German West Indian squadron to send the ships now at Havana to United States ports. During the next ten days the Vinetta with the commodore on board will go to New Orleans, the Falke to Mobile, and the Gazelle to Galveston, Tex.

YOUR UNCLE SAMUEL BUYS ALABAMA IRON.

The Tennessee company has received an order from Washington for one hundred tons of No. 1 soft iron to be used in the navy yard. This grade of the metal is the most difficult to make. The use of this material had been under consideration for some time and now that the order is given it is not an experiment but the actual beginning of the use of the Alabama product.

GALERA HOPES TO

The so-called "Calera News" published out and out in Sylacauga, has spurted and spurted in its last issue! It is a wonderful issue and passing strange. We don't see what it will be able to say next week. It has said so much this week, we fear it has said out. It has not made a single argument in all its vampings. Its desperate efforts to simply work on prejudices of the people are so apparent as to be disgusting in the extreme. This will be the effect of it too on the voters instead of accomplishing the purpose of the writer of the sheet. They go back into politics, and while their little sheet poses as a democratic paper, these astute writers for the foreign sheet assume to sign some of their deliverances "Populite." "Populite Number 2," thinking thereby to arouse populites animosity against Columbiana to the extent of causing them to vote for removal. This must appear disgusting alike to populists and democrats all over the county. These flexible, erudite writers go back to 1892 and notwithstanding it is a democratic paper, writes scathing articles on the outrage perpetrated on the populists in 1892. signing the said articles "Populite" and "Populite Number 2." Every intelligent populite in the county knows that these same articles were doubtless never seen by a populite until they saw them published in this so-called democratic sheet, and that it is presumable men wrote these same articles who pose in their own party as democrats—especially when they want offices at the hands of their party. They know also that the matters contained in these articles have nothing in the wide, wide world to do with the court house question, and were only written to arouse prejudice against Columbiana. Then they take up the action and conduct of certain individuals in Columbiana pertaining to other matters, and wholly foreign to the question involved in the county seat election, and they verily exceed themselves in in their efforts to present these foreign matters in a strong light to the voters of Shelby county. What has the action of Judge Longshore and the commissioners court got to do with the question of removal of the court house from Columbiana to Calera? Can they satisfy the tax payers of the county that Judge Longshore and the commissioners court would not do the same things which they complain of had the court house been at Calera? Or that they will not do just as objectionable things in the eyes of our democratic voters who sign themselves Populite, if the court house is voted to Calera? Have they any assurance that Judge Longshore and Mr. Browne will not be seen talking together privately in Calera if the if county seat is removed to that town?

Then for absolute abscence of argument to support the removal folly, they drag before the people of the county one of the official acts of Judge D. R. McMillan in 1894 in releasing on habeas corpus H. C. Moss who was put in jail on a charge made by some of the citizens of Calera. The action of Judge McMillan in this case we presume was just like the action of any judge on the bench in any other case. The case was brought before him. One of Shelby county's best citizens was in jail deprived of his liberty. He exercised his rights an American citizen to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. He did this. The petition was heard, witnesses examined, both side being represented by attorneys. On this hearing Judge McMillan set the prisoner free. His action was never reversed by the supreme court, on the contrary we are reliably informed that one of the distinguished judges of the supreme court of Alabama, after hearing all the facts in the case, stated in a private conversation that Judge McMillan could not have done otherwise than release the prisoner.

But suppose he did make a mistake in his ruling as a judge, yea, we will go further and say, suppose he had released the prisoner in a spirit of corruption, what has this got to do with the question involved in the present county seat election? Again we will ask, had the same county official been presiding in the same office in a court house in Calera will these shrewd writers undertake to say that his ruling would have been different, and that he would have refused to release the prisoner.

That little trick of the shrewd Calerites that they will pay $5000 toward building the court house and jail in Calera is too thin. The voters see clear through it. They know that if the county seat should be removed by this election that all the powers in Alabama could not make Calera pay this $5,000, for there is no legal liability on her to pay it.

Calera tells the voters of the county that the commissioners's court can not levy a tax rate over and above the rate now levied. This is all bosh, and is in keeping with all of Calera's methods. It is too well known to admit of discussion that in addition to the regular or general taxes, the commissioner's court may levy an extra special tax to build or repair court houses, jails, public roads, etc., and besides the general taxes levied by the State the State may levy certain taxes for educational purposes and for other purposes. We know that the taxes are now heavier than the poor farmers can well bear.

ELECTION MANAGERS AND CLERKS

QUALIFICATION OF VOTERS IN THE COURT HOUSE ELECTION.

To the Voters of Shelby County:

In order that there may be no misunderstanding in regard to the qualificatians of the voters in the county seat election to be held on the first day of February, we deem it proper to give in a condensed form the law in reference to same.

A person to be entitled to vote in the court house election on the first of Feb. 1904, must possess all of the following qualifications:

1st. He must be over twenty-one years and must have resided continuously in the state two years in the county one and in the precinct in which he offers to vote three months, immediately preceding the election at which he offers to votes, provided that when he removes from one precinct to another within three months immediately preceding the election, he may vote in the precinct from which he removed, provided he could legally have voted in said precinct had he not removed.

2nd. He must have legally registered in Shelby county under the new constitution of 1901.

3rd. He must have paid his poll tax for 1901 and 1902 (if he was liable for the poll tax of said years or either of them) and he must have paid his poll tax on or before the first of February 1st, 1903, and he must show to the managers of the election his poll tax receipts for said years; or make oath before the managers that he has paid said poll tax. Any one falsely making said oath would be guilty of perjury and on conviction would be sentenced to the penitentiary.

4th. The following persons are disqualified from voting in said election; all idiots and insane persons, those who were by reason of conviction of crime disqualified from voting at the time of the ratification of the constitution on November 28th, 1901, those who have been since Nov. 28th, 1901, convicted of treason, murder, arson, embezzlement, malfeacance in office, larcency, receiving stolen property, obtaining money under false pretenses, perjury, subornation of perjury, robbery, assault with intent to rob, burglary, forgery, bribery, assault and battery on wife, bigamy, living in adultery, sodomy, incest, rape, miscegenation crime against nature, or any crime punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary; or for any infamous crime, or crimes involving moral turpitude, or convicted as a tramp. or vagrant, or of selling or offering to sell his vote, or the vote of another, or of making or offering to make false returns in any election by the people.

DeWitt is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by Williams Bros.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but it stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 25 and 75 cts. For sale by Williams Bros.

HEAVY DEBT.

Saginaw, Ala., Jan. 18, 1904.

The time is not for distant when the people of Shelby County will vote on the question of removal of the Court House from Columbiana to Calera. Much has been said for, and against removal, this is a very important question to the people of the County. I don't see any good reason for moving the Court House from its present location. It would be more convenient for us who live along the line of the L. & N. R. R. between the line of Jefferson & Chilton Counties, but what about that large territory lying in the North Eastern part of the County? Shall we saddle a heavy burden on the tax payers of Shelby County for our convenience? That would be selfish removal of the court house to Calera would benefit the citizens of that place, and especially those who own property there. It would be an accomodation and a convenience to a few who attend Shelby County courts from Birmingham and Montgomery, Shall we tear down one town in order to build up another? Shall we tax our people for the accomodadion of a few who live in Jefferson and Montgomery counties? (Who I understand are using their influence for removal) this is all folly. What about location, healthfulness, water supply. These are important questions and ought to be duly considered, Columbiana has the advantage of Calera in these respects; it is high and dry, while Calera is low and marshy, and has the appearance of being unhealthy. Columbiana has a bountiful supply of good water which Calera has not, nor cannot get without considerble expense. Shelby county has a reasonably good court house and jail located at Columbiana and all paid for. It has been reported as an argument in favor of removal, that a new court house would be built any way. I think the resolutions passed by the commissioners, a certified copy which was published in the Chronicle last week ought to set aside that argument.

Non-Residence Notice.

L. M. Dyke, Vs. Henry Walthall.
State of Alabama, } Circuit Court.
Shelby County. } Whereas, L. M. Dyke as plaintiff in said cause has obtained an attachment out of this court issued the 19th day of January, 1904, against the estate of the said Henry Walthall as defendant, which attachment has been levied by R. F. Cox, sheriff of Shelby county, Ala., on the following described real estate of the said defendant, to-wit: Island "A" in Coosa river of sections 17 and 8, and all of Island "B" in Coosa river, of section 8. all in township 21, range 2 east. All of which is situated in the the county of Shelby and and state of Alabama and, whereas, it appears that the said Henry Walthal defendant as aforesaid is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and resides in the State of New York, therefore the said Henry Walthal wherever he may reside, is hereby notified of the said attachment and the [illegible] as aforesaid.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

The girls don't seem to understand
Like us boys that this is Leap year.
Eight years since one was in our land,
Eight more we'd go crazy I fear.

Though we boys are timid and young
We'll address you soon that is true,
Most of us boys ought to be hung
You know we're bashfull around you.

What if you knew without a doubt
You'd have no chance after this year
Wedding bell would ring as of old,
We'd court you noteaving a fear.

Leap year comes once in every four
So be calm and don't be a.raid
Just talk to us boys as ne'er before,

Hello Central!

Vote against removal.

A warm rain fell Saturday.

There are several cases of measle in the city.

A telephone exchange is being put in our city.

Only a few more days in which to pay your poll tax.

H. E. Whitaker, of Montevallo, was in the city Wednesday.

County court will convene on the third Monday in February.

Capt. J. W. Bolin, of Wilsonville, visited to the city last Saturday.

Let every voter come out to the polls on Monday Februry the 1st.

L. B. Riddle, of Longview, transacted business in the city last Saturday.

Next Monday week will settle the annoying question of court house removal.

Look out young men this is leap year. The girls have not had a chance in eight years.

Mrs. Eva Brown, of Birmingham, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barnett.

If you wish to avoid being taxed to build a new court house and jail vote against removal.

Shelly Glazener who has been laid up with a case of measles for the past two weeks is improving.

Rev. W. I. Sinnott will hold services at the Presbyt rian church on the fifth Sunday in this month.

Up to the present time there has been poll taxes for 1901, 15; 1902, 67, 1903, 964, making a total of 1,046.

Rev. J. D. W. Upshaw filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church last Sunday morning and at night.

Mrs. Belle Wooddall, of Shelby, has been confined to her room with pneumonia for the past two weeks is improving.

J. S. Farrell, a well known citizen of the county, died at his home a few miles north of this city. He was 74 years old, and had been sick for a long time. He was a good citizen and the father of Supt. J. B. Farrell. He expired on last Sunday morning.

The Dunbar Bell Ringers appeared before a large audience at the Christian Church last night. Each one of the performers is an artist and entire program captivated the audience as was plainly shown by enthusiastic encores, which received cheerful response.—Bedford (Iowa) Republican.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unnecessary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. For sale by Williams Bros.

We take great pleasure in calling attention of our readers to the announcement of Borden H. Burr, of Talladega, for the Democratic nomination to the office of Solicitor from this circuit. Mr. Burr is a prominent lawyer of Talladega, being a member of the law firm of Knox, Dixon & Burr, and is known throughout the district as being a man well qualified for the position he aspires. His friends are legions, and we predict for him a strong following in old Shelby.

By special arrangements with the publishers of the Constitution and Sunny South we offer a years's subscription to our own paper in addition to the Constitution and Sunny South and will furnish all three for ONLY TWO DOLLARS. Such orders must come direct to The Chronicle.

In this issue will be found the announcement of John N. Wyatt, of beat four as a candidate for the office of commissioner of Shelby county. We have known Mr, Wyatt since his boyhood days, he being one of our schoolmates, and we take pleasure in commending him to the people. He is a successful farmer, lives out of his own crib and smokehouse, is highly esteemed by his neighbors among whom he was raised, and is safe conservative man in whom the confidence and money can safely repose.

Cured of Piles After 40 Years.

C. Haney, of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuss, burns, bruises, sprains, lacerations, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases Look for the name DeWitt on package—all others are cheay, worthless counterfeits. Sold by Williams Bros.

Let every voter who is opposed to oppressively high taxes for the balance of his days, come to the polls on Monday, February 1st, and vote the ticket which has on it AGAINST REMOVAL!

Good Advice.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, Gnawing and Burning Pains at the Pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and Disagreeable Taste in the Mouth, Coming up of Food after Eating, Low Spirits, etc. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 25 or 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. For sale by Williams Brothers, Columbiana.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost sure to be lost in case of croup, as a revolver in case of a burglar. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost as much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is plasant and safe to take. For sale at Williams Bros.

A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

KNOCKED OUT ON FIRST ROUND.

For three weeks the Calera News had, hoisted at its mast head, a picture of the Dadeville court house, and the sheet published in Sylacauga, fairly bristled with the facts pertaining to that court house. It was printed in large type that this fine, magnificent modern court house was built, out and out, at only a cost of $12,000 to the people of Tallapoosa county. Then would follow the argument that if Tallapoasa county can build such a court house for this money, Shelby county can. Mr. J. R. White, chairman of the Columbiana court house committee, wrote to the Probate Judge of that county for all the facts in the case. The judge's letter was published in the county papers. His letter stated that Tallapoosa had not built a new court house at all, but had only repaired and added to the old one, and that this was done at a cost of $20 000 instead of $12,000. The foreign sheet, in its issue following this expose of their fraud, while it retains the picture, makes no attempt to explain or clear away its awkward position. Probably it is bracing up for next week, and that we will get an entirely new version. But we wait.

Calera still has the gall to try to make the people of the county believe that she has $5,000 in a bank in Birmingham to pay towards the building of the court house in case it is voted to that town. No voter in the county of even ordinary intelligence, will believe this story for a moment. In the first place, the Calera people are people of very moderate means. We have it from good authority that her best and most prosperous business men have never been enthusiastic over the removal scheme, and it is hardly to be presumed that they would hazza d much money in a scheme in which they did not have confidence. Leave out the best business men in the town and the rest would hardly tax themselves as they would have to do to raise $5,000 for this purpose. Then who, if any one, has that sum on deposit? Will it be paid towards the erection of a court house and jail? No, a thousand times, no. Why? Because there is no legal obligation on any one to pay a cent. The law says that if the people vote to remove, the people must foot the bill. It must be paid for by the already tax burdened tax payers of the county. But suppose per chance that these land boomers can see that by paying $5,000 they enhance the value of land in Calera to the extent that they can make five times the amount expended, why it might be a good investment. But how far would the $5,000 go towards paying the necessary expenses incident to removal?

Anniston, during the court house campaign between that town and Jacksonville, we are informed, secured an architect who guaranteed that he could erect a court house or remove the old one for $7.000 and presented his plans. The people of Anniston put up the money. The court house and jail was moved to Anniston. But Calhoun county was heavily taxed to build a $75,000 court house. Let Shelby county profit by this experience The people of Shelby county will not be HOO DOOED in this manner.

ANOTHER LETTER.

MONTEVALLO, ALA., Jan. 18.
Court House Committee,
Columbiana, Ala.

Gentlemen:—As I am opposed to the court house being moved to Calera I deem it my duty as a citizen of the county to ask you some questions. Has court house and jail been condemned by the grand jury? Also is it a fact that two prisoners have been sent to Birmingham on account of deficiency of jail? I hear some people talking such stuff, I do not believe it. I want you to know what was going on. Also some people say that it is not necessary to move the poor house, if the court house is moved? I ask you to give the many reasons why it should be moved if the court house is moved? You see the trick. They know it will follow. I do not know what to think of a man, a farmer in our county who would pull his team over such roads as we have, and then vote to put the county thousands of dollars in debt?

I remember having read grand jury reports, but don't recollect anything about the court house and jail being condemned. It seems that it was reported to be well kept and in good condition, and no complaint, except some of the prisoners complained of needing medicine.

Respectfully,
J. P. GARRETT.

The above letter explains itself. The grand jury's report did not condemn the court house and jail. The law requires the court of commissioners to exercise a general supervision over the inmates of the poor house, the manner the poor house is kept by the keeper, the attention given the inmates, etc. This court in order to do their duty in regard to this important matter at every session of their court, go in a body to visit he poor house. Any short comings of the keeper can be looked after and corrected, and any changes necessary to make in anything could be made.

They could not do this if the poor house was located 12 miles from the county seat. Then the grand jury must examine and report on the condition of the court house. They could not do this if the poor house were located 12 miles from the court house.

Then persons making application for admission to the poor house make this application to the probate judge, and on his cetificate are granted admission. This requirement of the law could not be complied with conveniently with the poor house 12 miles from the court house.

Pe-ru-na Saved Her Life

It was catarrh of the lungs so common in the winter months.]

MISS JENNIE DRISCOLL

MRS. COL. E. J. GRESHAM

Miss Jennie Driscoll, 870 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"If people knew how efficient Peruna was in the cure of catarrh, they would not hesitate to try it. I have all the faith in the world in it as it cured me, and I have never known of a case when the person was not cured in a short time."---Jennie Driscoll.

Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham, Treasurer Daughters of the Confederacy and President Hernden Village Improvement Society, writes the following letter from Hernden, Fairfax Co., Va.:

Hernden, Va.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen---"I cannot speak too highly of the value of Peruna. I believe that I owe my life to its wonderful merits. I suffered with catarrh of the head and lungs in its worst form, until the doctors fairly gave me up, and I despaired of ever getting well again.

"I noticed your advertisement and the splendid testimonials given by the people who had been cured by Peruna, and determined to try a bottle. I felt but little better, but used a second and third bottle and kept on improving slowly.

"It took six bottles to cure me, but they were worth a King's ransom to me. I talk Peruna to all my friends and am a true believer in its worth."---Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham.

A PLAIN TALK

On a Plain Subject in Plain Language.

The coming winter will cause at least one-half of the women to have catarrh, colds, coughs, pneumonia or consumption. Thousands of women will lose their lives and tens of thousands will acquire some chronic ailment from which they will never recover.

KEEP PERUNA IN THE HOUSE.

Unless you take the necessary precautions, the chances are that you (who read this) will be one of the unfortunate ones. Little or no risk need be run if Peruna is kept in the house, and at the first appearance of any symptom of catarrh taken as directed on the bottle.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

ART OF MOOSE TRACKING

THE CRAFT OF THE BEAST IN ELUDING HIS PURSUERS.

One of the Marvels of the Woods Is How Indian Guides Know When to Make the Detour to the Windward.

The last fall of snow was a blessing to hunters able to take advantage of it in tracking moose and red deer.

Two men from this locality who were in the deer country at the time were also taught that they had still much to learn about stalking moose. They found the great single tracks left by the creature, whose hind foot just reaches and fits in the print of its forefoot, and easily followed them.

As they noted the prodigious length—over five feet—of the stride, they congratulated themselves upon being on the trail of an immense specimen of its kind, and pushed on hastily. The fact was that the long reach showed they had somehow frightened the timid brute, which was using all its trotting power to get away from them.

After some hours hard travel they heard a disturbance in the woods to the left of their path, and just got a peep at a bull moose dashing away. Making sure that the woods were full of moose, they determined not to be turned aside from the one they were following.

About a hundred yards further on they found that the tracks wheeled about suddenly. Tracing them along, they were soon driven to the uncomfortable idea that the moose they had seen was the one they had been following, and that it had doubled like a hare and raced away at their approach.

A few miles further on they again caught sight of a swiftly retreating moose to their left side. Then the hunters remembered a few of the tales they had heard about the craftiness of moose, and also awoke to the fact that the wily old bull always doubled down the wind, so that it might be informed by both scent and hearing of the approach of its enemies.

Proceeding now with the greatest caution, and keeping to the right, merely within sight of the tracks, but always endeavoring to keep trunks of branches of trees to screen their progress upon their left flank, they were, after a whole day's work, at last rewarded by a sight of the big body of their quarry reclining in the snow, the antlered head against its side toward is former track, resting, but decidedly on guard.

Both of the men were good quick shots, and the chance was too good to lose. At a range of 40 yards rifles instantly rang out, but without any apparent result upon the reclining moose Again they fired, without much thought in their excitement of what they did, when one exclaimed as he ejected the spent cartridge:

"What fools we are! The first shot much have killed him, or he would have jumped."

Sure enough, both balls had entered its brain, inflicting instant death.

The habit of doubling about before stopping, so that it may have a good view of its former path, to ascertain if it is being tracked, is one of the invariable tricks of the moose. How the Indian and half breed guides acquire the judgment which enables them to decide where to leave the tracks of the moose, and make sufficient detour to get to windward of their halting place, is one of the marvels of the woods.

A green hunter, travelling along with Joe Beaudouin on snowshoes, was greatly surprised when the guide stepped aside from the deep tracks he was following and struck out rapidly in a direction at almost right angles to them. About ten minutes afterward he motioned his companion to his side and pointed out a fine moose standing at a little distance in the deep snow, intently gazing away from them toward its former path.

When the rifle had been levelled through the sheltering branches, and carefully sighted, the trigger fell upon a bad cartridge with a click, which appeared to the excited young man to be as noisy as a thunder bolt in the intense stillness of the frosty air. The moose swung about hastily, tossed its great head, pivoted the long asinine ears, stamped impatiently and actually started as though to investigate the meaning of the sound, giving ample time to turn out the faulty cartridge, to take a fresh aim and fire.

Badly hurt though it was this time, the moose persisted in its course until the guide's weapon spoke, when it fell face to the foe, with a broken shoulder.

Beaudouin laughed immoderately as he carefully slipped in a second cartridge before approaching him.

"He's jus' as mad as everything to find out we fool him," he said in explanation of his mirth.

Sometimes, when the state of the bush allows of its moving noiselessly, the moose makes sure of the passing of its enemy, and then takes up its own track, going in the opposite direction and, if the snow is deep, artfully stepping in its own footmarks. Thus one of a camping party of hunters, who was "tumping" along provisions, a long way behind his companions, was staggering along with bowed neck and eyes, when he almost ran into a moose coming toward him. As the moose caught sight of him the big fellow turned tail and the man, slinging off his burden and swinging round his rifle with one movement, took a snap shot at it.

Fortunately he missed, for the moose instantly stopped and turned to see what all the noise was about. The second shot, fired as the moose presented its quarters, took effect in the lungs, and the wounded animal, wheeling again, ran along its old track at full speed until it very nearly charged into the other members of the party, who were returning to seek their friend, and who gave it its quietus in a fusillade of bullets.

Just at this time of year a dog is very useful to the experienced moose hunter. It must be small, and ought to be trained to keep silence until at the very heels of the moose.

Often, though not always, the lordly brute refuses to be chased by a mere cur, like one of the Indian dogs generally used in this business. Turning around, it tries to crush the yelping beast with its great forefoot.

The dog, with the perversity of its breeding, sticks to the rear of the moose, and a curicus teetotum movement is the result. The hunter immediately gets to the windward when he hears the barking of the dog and with the greatest caution endeavors to get to the seat of action as quickly as possible.

The moose is well known to be of an irascible temperament, and soon works itself into a rage if unsuccessful in its attempts upon the life of the dog. But though a very demon of bad temper at such a time, its senses are generally on the alert against other dangers.

If the wind should bring to its ears or scent any sign of the presence of men, no mere cur will hinder its flight toward safety. The hunter generally has to take long chances at such times, and nearly always has to make long shots at the rapidly whirling moose. As a rule, none but the most experienced woodsmen ever kills moose with the help of a setter.

NO ITALIAN THERE A PAUPER.

That is What King Emmanuel Hears of Louisiana.

Some surprising facts concerning the Italians of Louisiana have been brought out by the visit to New Orleans of the Italian cruiser Liguria, under the command of the Duke of the Abruzzi, cousin to the king of Italy. The Duke of the Abruzzi is visiting those ports to which there has been a large emigration of Italians, and his mission is to report as to their industrial and moral condition. These ports include New Orleans, Havana, Bahia, Montevideo, Buenos Ayres, Valparaiso and San Francisco.

A prejudice was supposed to exist in New Orleans against Italians on account of the Parish Prison lynching and other events growing out of the operations of the Mafia. So strongly was this notion entertained that no Italian man-of-war or official has been to the port since the Parish Prison affair.

To his own surprise and that of the Americans, the Duke of the Abruzzi has reported that the condition of the Italian colony of Louisiana could not be better; that he could not find an Italian out of work there, or one in all Louisiana who needed assistance, and that as a consequence the fund raised for charity by the Italian societies, to which he contributed $500, was given, not to the Italian poor, because there were none, but to educational and philanthropic institutions.

The Duke further reported that he found the moral improvement as great as the industrial advance, and the spirit of patriotism strong. He recommended, therefore, that an Italian man-of-war be sent to New Orleans at least once a year, to keep alive the friendly relations between the Italian emigrants and their mother country.

This state of affairs in a city where the Mafia flourished only a few years ago, where the profession of bravo was carried on, where popular prejudice more than once broke out in anti-Italian riots, was regarded as evidence of the extraordinary progress made by the Italians.

After the Parish Prison lynchings there was a decrease in the Italian population of New Orleans. Today the Italian population is twice as great as it was when the mob outbreak occurred.

The Italians have already crowded the creoles out of the old city of New Orleans, the veiux carre of Bienville, and are scattered throughout the city. In the parishes they are rapidly crowding the negroes out of the sugar districts of southern Louisiana.

There are perhaps 25,000 Italians in New Orleans and 60,000 in the state, including their children, and that there should not be a pauper among them is to their credit. Nor do they crowd into the towns like the other immigrants. Alone among the foreigners landing at New Orleans they go to the country first and work on farms.

In a few years the more enterprising have saved up enough from their wages to move to New Orleans and open a fruit shop, or cobbler's shop, or go into some other business.

On the whole, the most striking feature of the Italian in Louisiana is the fact that he has so taken to agriculture. From New Orleans to Baton Rouge the Italians are rapidly becoming the most numerous race. The negro is easily ousted from the sugar plantations, the Sicilian peasants saving money from wages the negroes can barely live on.

The net result of the Duke's visit is to improve the morals of the Louisiana Italians, to strengthen their ties with Italy and to improve their schools, although the great majority of them send their children to the public schools. It is understood that the Italian government views with favor emigration to the south, and that the belief formerly entertained that the Italian immigrants were treated badly in this section has been completely removed.—New York Sun.

Lake Michigan's Sea Lions.

Lincoln Park's fugitive sea lion attempted to board the tug Mentor yesterday two miles off South Chicago. Startled by the sudden appearance of the lion's head over the rail, Charles Kimball, fireman on the tug, who was standing in the door of the fire room, fell seven feet into the stokehold, suffering severe bruises about the head and shoulders. The sea lion stuck its flippers over the tug rail and hung on for a few seconds before it dropped back into the lake.

The missing animal escaped from Lincoln park several days ago, and no trace of it was found until it followed the steamer W. H. Gilbert into South Chicago harbor yesterday. The sea lion just escaped is the second of the Lincoln Park herd to reach Lake Michigan. The other got away seven years ago. It was last seen from the tug Morford near Milwaukee, a year ago.

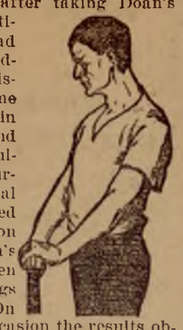
ALL DONE OUT.



Veteran Joshua Heller, of 706 South Walnut street, Urbana, Ill., says: "In the fall of 1899 after taking Doan's Kidney Pills I testified that they had relieved me of kidney trouble, disposed of a lame back with pain across my loins and beneath the shoulder blades. During the interval which has elapsed I have had occasion to resort to Doan's Kidney Pills when I noticed warnings of an attack. On each and every occasion the results obtained were just as satisfactory as when the pills were first brought to my notice. I just as emphatically endorse the preparation to-day as I did over two years ago."

Wreath of Human Bones.

On a grave in a cemetery at Chichester, England, there is a wreath which at first glance appears to be a coral. In reality it is composed of human bones. The bones were collected during his travels by the deceased, who carved them with a penknife, and formed them into the wreath which now adorns his grave.

THE ENGLISH BRICK MYTH.

Colonial Houses Built of the Native Article.

At a recent meeting of the Columbia Historical Society in Washington George Alfred Townsend ("Gath") read a paper on the prevalent belief that many of the houses of Colonial times were built of brick imported from England.

Throughout the Atlantic seaboard this myth has held sway for many years past, and nothing is commoner than the assertion that such and such a house "is very old; built in Colonial times of brick from England." The facts that brick were not extensively manufactured in England until the reign of William the First; that the ships of those days were small and carried only such things as were absolutely necessary for the colonists, and that the latter made their own bricks, just as they cut their own wood and cured their winter's supply of bacon, should be sufficient proof, said the speaker, of the unlikelihood of the colonists importing their building material from abroad.

These facts were brought out in the strongest possible light in Mr. Townsend's paper. He showed that such was the scarcity of brick in the England of the days from the Tudors to the House of Orange that the word occurs only once in Shakespeare. He further cited abundant proofs from the history of early America to justify his conclusion that there is not a single building in Virginia, Maryland or Pennsylvania built of English brick, and that the only structure of English brick in the District is that part of the Library of Congress which is known as the court and which was built of cream colored porcelain brick from Leeds, England.

In New England, he stated, there are one or two buildings of English bricks, the proof of which is indisputable, but it is doubtful if there are any buildings in New York made of brick imported from Holland.

Slaughter on American Railroads.

"The British Parliament would not stand for a day the slaughter that goes on upon the railroads of America," said John Burns, the famous labor member of Parliament, in a recent London speech. His words are emphasized by the fact that last Saturday thirty-two people were killed on our railroads by accidents that might have been prevented.,

"The slaughter on our own railroads is bad enough," said Burns, "but it is child's play to what goes on in America. The casualty list of the American railways equals that of a first class war.

"I have been accused of calling industrial America a slaughter house, and if you ask me for proof I point you to the death roll of the brave men who lose their lives in the hoarding up of millions for the railroad magnates."

Last year there were 3,600 people killed by the railroads—nearly ten a day. The law says that the railroads shall make the work of their employes "reasonably safe." At what point does the work of a railroad man become unreasonably dangerous?—New York Journal.

Race Suicide Again.

The other day when Dr. Benjamin Andrews warned society that culture was becoming obscured and that there were dark ages ahead, he declared, among other things, that there was no fear that our population was too small, but much that it was losing virility. He said he hoped that President Roosevelt would take early occasion to amend his plea for swelling the census, by urging quality of population as more to be desired than number, "thus undoing a little of the incalculable evil his recent words on this subject have wrought among the poor and thoughtless. Dr. Andrews seems somewhat over-confident about this evil that has been done. Exhortation is not a lasting means of producing a rapid increase of population. Hard facts, like the cost of maintenance, may be trusted to check any such tendency before it has become an evil, calculabe or otherwise.—Harper's

THE SHELBY CHRONICLE

VOL. XVII. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 28 1904 NO 23

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

JANUARY 21ST.

Mr. Platt, of Connecticut, concluded his speech on Panama. He defended the course of the president throughout the Panama revolt. During the morning hour Mr. Morgan spoke in explanation of his bill for the annexation of Panama to the United States, basing his argument on the ground that the pending canal treaty is contemplating that result.

Mr. Morgan made an appeal to the newspapers to use their utmost endeavors to secure information concerning the situation, saying there was no probability that any resolution would elicit new information from the executive department.

He stated that he had inserted in his bill the provision for the payment of $15,000,000 for the pacification of Colombia because he had heard the president had entered into an agreement for the payment of that sum for that purpose. He had inserted this provision, as well as the others, in the interest of peace and of good will, and of all accrued rights. It was intended in the interest of a Panama canal and to meet the emergency, and he hoped it would be so accepted by all persons concerned.

When the house convened a resolution called up by Mr. Gardner, of New Jersey, chairman of the committee on labor, asking the secretary of commerce and labor for a statement showing the number of horses and carriages maintained at the expense of the government for officials in his department and the names of the officials using them, was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Hull, of Iowa, chairman of the committee on military affairs, the house went into committee of the whole to consider the army appropriation bill. Five hours' debate was agreed upon.

Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, discussed for an hour the "stand pat" policy of the majority party and talked at length on his pending bill repealing the duty on coal. He read from the testimony before the house committee on investigation of the last session of congress on the coal question to show that coal was 67 cents less a ton during the year than before the tariff was repealed.

Mr. Payne, of New York, asserted the price of coal was not less to the consumer during this period. Mr. Williams combatted this statement and asked Mr. Payne why his party did not "stand pat" for free coal.

Mr. Lind, of Minnesota, spoke for reciprocity with Canada and pleaded for freer trade relations with that country.

Mr. Baker, of New York, opposed the army bill on the ground that he was opposed to war and would not vote to appropriate money for preparations for war.

JANUARY 22D.

The senate adopted the resolution of inquiry concerning affairs in Panama, introduced on the 5th inst by Mr. Gorman, and in addition listened to a speech on the Panama question by Mr. Dolliver, and another on the subject of the recess appointments to office by Mr. Tillman. Mr. Tillman's address had especial reference to the nomination of Collector Crum, of Charleston, but it bore also upon the nomination of Brigadier General Wood.

The house passed 209 pension bills and also resolutions calling on the secretary of war and the attorney general for information as to the number of horses and carriages maintained at government expense for officers of the respective departments.

A bill permitting the withdrawal duty-free from the St. Louis exposition of articles donated to religious, scientific, educational or literary institutions also passed.

The house devoted the entire day to consideration of the army appropriation in committee of the whole.

Mr. Robinson, democrat, of Indiana, took occasion to criticise the war department for expenditures made by the bureau of ordnance and fortifications in the Langley airship, declaring that such expenditures were without the sanction of congress, and that the airship was without utility. Only twelve of the forty-one pages of the bill had been read for amendment when the house adjourned. The provision in the bill for the construction of a canal from Sitka to Fort Liscum, Alaska, went out on a point of order.

The paragraph providing for the contingent expenses of the army, on motion of Mr. Hemenway, of Indiana, was amended so as to restrict the sum appropriated for the office of the chief of staff to purely military purposes. Mr. Hemenway precipitated a discussion in which the Dreyfus case and French novels received attention by proposing to limit to $100 the amount available for the purchase of periodicals and newspapers.

JANUARY 25TH.

In the senate Mr. Culberson introduced a resolution drawn by a committee appointed at a recent democratic conference for the purpose of getting additional information concerning the Panama situation. The members of the committee were Senators Gorman, Culberson, Carmack and Cockrell.

When the house convened Mr. Adams, of Pennsylvania, from the committee on expenditures in the state department, reported a privileged resolution requesting the secretary of state for information as to the number of horses, carriages and automobiles maintained at the expense of the government for officials of the state department.

Mr. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, sought to amend the resolutions so as to make it read "during the calendar year," saying that the omission of these words would leave a loop hole, but Mr. Adams demanded the previous question.

The senate heard further discussion on the questions of appointments to office made during congressional recess, listened to a speech on the isthmian canal question by Mr Morgan and passed a number of bills of a semi-public character. As a result of the debate on the appointment question, a resolution asking for specific information concerning the nomination of W. D. Crum, as collector of customs at the port of Charleston, S. C., was passed. A resolution asking for similar information concerning the nomination of Brigadier General Wood and other omcers went over until tomorrow.

Among the bills passed were:

Providing for the appropriate marking of the graves of confederate soldiers who died in northern prisons during the civil war and appropriating $2[illegible],000 for this purpose.

Appropriating $225,000 for a revenue cutter service at Honolulu.

Authorizing the construction of a lightship off the outer bar at Brunswick, Ga., and appropriating $90,000 for the purpose.

Mr. Tillman read a letter from Secretary of the Treasury Shaw reciting the various appointments of Crum to the Charleston, S. C., collectorship and giving the version that the last appointment was made precisely at 12 o'clock noon on the first Monday in December, when one session ended and the other began.

Mr. Hale said that the matter was not of specific significance, that the appointment is not a new one, and that Crum is still serving on his first appointment.

Mr. Tillman said that Crum is holding office just the same, and said:

"I notice, too, that Leonard Wood is sending out dispatches signing himself major general and he is not a major general."

The house passed the army appropriation bill carrying approximately $75,000,000, after adopting a number of amendments.

Representative Wiley, of Alabama, has introduced a bill providing that the sum of $50,000 be appropriated for the erection in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, of a monument to the memory of Jeremiah O'Brien, upon which shall be inscribed the words:

"Erected to the memory of the heroic Irish-American, Jeremiah O'Brien, who captured and sank in the first sea fight of the revolutionary war the British schooner Margaretta."

Said sum shall be expended under the direction of the secretary of the navy or such officer as he may designate.

From the Mayor Down.

The Iroquois jury, which for three weeks has been listening to evidence to the fire in the Iroquois theater, returned a verdict by which 7 persons are held to await the action of a grand jury.

The list includes Mayor Carter Harrison, the building inspector and commissioner, the owner of the theater and the man whose light caused the fire.

The jury uses strong language in reference to the mayor and characterizes his administration as weak.

The six-year-old boy of Dr. and Mrs. John Patton, of Deerbrook, Miss., was found dead in the cistern in the rear of their house. The child had been playing in the yard, and when he was called failed to answer. A search was begun for him and he was found in the cistern dead.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., has given to the Moundville sufferers $1.460.

Held to Grand Jury.

A St. Stephens special says: The preliminary hearing before Judge J. Brawles of Turner Moseley, a white man, charged with arson and assault to murder, ended Saturday and he was bound over.

It is proposed to erect a factory at Pensacola, Fla., for the manufacture of cassava starch, the plant to have a daily capacity of 150 tons, to cost $100,000 and to employ 100 men.

Leslie Tharp, whose father is yardmaster at Jasper, Ala., for the Northern Alabama railway, met with a serious accident Saturday afternoon while playing among some cars in the yards. It seems that the boy was between two cars, standing on the couplings, when an engine, which was switching, struck a row of cars to which these were coupled. The sudden jar caused the boy's foot to slip and his leg was caught between the bumpers and horribly crushed.

High Official Indicted.

The federal grand jury returned an indictment against Joseph Ralph Burton, United States senator from Kansas, charging him, while a United States senator, on nine counts with accepting five checks of $500 each from the Rialto Grain and Securities company for his alleged services in interceding with the postoffice department to render a favorable decision in matters affecting the permission of the Rialto company to use the mails.

The penalty provided upon conviction of the offense of which Senator Burton is charged is a penitentiary sentence of not more than two years and a fine of not more than $10,000, and one so convicted shall be rendered incapable of holding office of trust, honor or emolument under the government.

United States senators are immune from arrest except for certain specified crimes while the senate is in session. Senator Burton says he will go at once to St. Louis and defend the case and that he will be able to make it perfectly clear that there was no reason for bringing the indictment.

Caused by a Cow.

The wreck was caused by the pilot striking a cow which was crossing the track. The animal was thrown against a switch and in some manner opened it, derailing the train and overturning it entirely, with the exception of the engine and mail car. John Harris, the only person killed, was a resident of Gates and was standing beside the track.

Vegetation Injured.

Attorney General Hart, of Georgia, has filed in the United States supreme court on behalf of the state of Georgia a bill for an injunction against the state of Tennessee, the Ducktown Sulphur, Copper and Iron Company and the Pittsburg and Tennessee Copper Company.

The defendant companies are engaged in mining and treating copper ore at Ducktown, Tenn., near the Georgia border, and the bill complains that the fumes from the smelters has had a disastrous effect on vegetation for a radius of thirty miles, covering much territory in Georgia.

It Is Denied.

Edmond Bennett, of Trinity church at Mobile, has telegraphed Senator Pettus saying that Colonel Harvey Jones authorizes the statement that he does not and never did charge that W. H. Armbrecht, recently appointed United States attorney for the Alabama southern district, embezzled church funds.

Armbrecht writes that his father is seriously ill and he can not come to Washington to answer the charges in person. His case will probably be postponed.

Bristow's Guillotine.

Representative Thompson, of Alabama, says that democratic fourth class postmasters in Alabama appointed under the McKinley administration are continuing to be turned out of office by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow on flimsy charges.

It is presumed this is being done to strengthen the Roosevelt fences in Alabama, as republicans are being appointed to the offices.

Mr. Thompson contemplates introducing a resolution in congress asking for a congressional investigation.

New York is to have a real Chinese newspaper of its own. It will be started as a weekly on February 16th, which is the Chinese New Year's day. Seven Chinese compositors are en route to the city, the editor is just out of a Japanese college—the "ad." hunters number four, and they are Americans.

What Germany Produced.

Germany's pig iron production for 1903 was 10,085,634 tons, an increase of 1,682,974 tons, thus outstripping Great Britain for the first time in history.

The coal production of Germany for 1903 was 116,664,376 tons, an increase of 9,215,842 tons.

Information is received that the postmaster at Goodwater, Coosa county, will be removed.

In May, in the city of Mobile, Ala., the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church convenes. About 300 delegates are expected.

But It Was.

An accident is reported from Zeiglersville, Miss. Three boys aged about eight and ten years, named Anderson, Sea and Jordan, were "playing deer hunting." Jordan took the "stand" and his companions acted deer. As they came running through the bushes Jordan let go both barrels of his gun and down came both the deer, one of them perhaps fatally shot and the other badly wounded. Jordan "didn't know the gun was loaded."

FOR GOOD ROADS.

National Convention in Session in Washington.

A meeting of the National Good Roads Association has been called to meet in Washington January 25th, 26th and 27th. The arrangements for this meeting were left in the hands of Mr. R. W. Richardson, of Iowa, secretary of the association, by the association at its meeting in St. Louis last April. The principal object of the coming meeting will be to attend hearings before the house and senate committees on agriculture and this will be done during the three days of the meeting. A large number of prominent men from all over the country are expected to be in attendance.

There are two bills now pending before congress extending government aid to the construction of good roads. The legislatures of a number of states have indorsed the movement and instructed their senators and members to support whichever bill they consider the best. While the bills differ somewhat in detail, the principle is the same—that where a county or state appropriates money to be expended in improving its roads the government shall allot an equal sum for such improvements on condition that the roads shall be constructed under the supervision of the government, and shall thereafter be maintained by the state or county constructing the same. A number of states already make appropriations to assist the counties and townships in constructing their roads, the cost being variously apportioned. A popular plan is for the states to bear one-half the expense the county one-quarter and the township one-quarter, while in some instances the towns are assessed 10 per cent or more. Thus the burden is distributed.

Alabama's delegates are: Governor William D. Jelks, Montgomery; W. M. Drennen, mayor, Birmingham; Hon. George W. Taylor, Demopolis; Hon. William Richardson, Huntsville; R. R. Poole, commissioner department of agriculture and industries, Montgomery; Captain J. M. Falkner, attorney Louisville and Nashville railway, Montgomery; Charles P. Lane, president Alabama Commercial and Industrial association, Huntsville.

Mississippi delegates to the national good roads convention at Washington are: R. B. Fulton, president university of Mississippi, Oxford; J. C. Hardy, president Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical college; Major T. B. Dabney, chief engineer, Yazoo, Miss., delta levee district, Clarksdale; Captain J. W. Lambert, proprietor Natchez Democrat, Natchez; J. T. Senter, editor Columbus Commercial, Columbus; K. G. W. Bynum, Corinth; T. W. James, McComb City bank, McComb City; Colonel A. E. Jennings, Water Valley, and Captain W. W. Stone, Greenville.

Florida has sent the following named delegates to the national good roads convention at Washington: Governor W. S. Jennings, Tallahassee; H. W. Long, president state good roads association, Martel; Hon. W. B. Lamar, Monticello, and C. E. Garner, president board of trade, Jacksonville.

At Tokio, Japan, the Japanese interpreter at the Russian embassay has been arrested on suspicion of being in the employ of Russian officials. It has long been suspected that Russia was getting valuable inside information and it is now claimed that their official interpreter was the head of an elaborate spy system which extended even into the mikado's palace.

There is a story that President Roosevelt had a hand in the securing of the release.

Little Girl Burned.

The little four-year-old daughter of Joe Hackworth, of Stevenson, Ala., was so badly burned that her life is despaired of. She was standing near an open fire and her dress caught, burning her badly.

Russia's general committee has decided to augment the personnel of the navy by twenty-two vice admirals, thirty-six rear admirals, 102 captains, 349 commandants, 900 lieutenants, 777 midshipmen and 124 engineers. The move is made to meet the contemplated expenditure of $50,000,000 on the navy, thereby adding twenty-four battleships and fifty other warships to the fleet. High officials bitterly lamented the apparent necessity of making concessions to Japan because of Russia's inadequate seaport defenses.

Quite a colony of farmers from near Florence, Ala., will settle in Oklahoma in a few weeks.

Talladega's New President.

The Rev. Benjamin M. Nyce, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Lockport, N. Y., since 1896, resigned, announcing to his congregation that he had accepted the presidency of a negro college at Talladega, Ala. Nyce is 35 years of age and a graduate of Princeton. He and his wife are both wealthy and he is reported to be a trained athlete. He takes charge of the school April 1st.

The brain of George Francis Train weighed 53.8 ounces, and ranks, according to medical records, twenty-seventh in the list of brain weights of one hundred and six world-famous men. This is six ounces more than the average.

Two hundred and five years ago Monday Sieur Lemoyne d'Iberville having been sent by the king of France with an expedition to attempt the colonization of the Mississippi valley arrived near Pensacola. This was the practical beginning of French settlement on the gulf coast.

Chairman Mallory, of the Alabama democratic executive committee, has announced the appointment of the committee as follows: Chairman, H. S. D. Mallory, of Dallas; J. F. Proctor, of Jackson; George A. Searcy, of Tuscaloosa; Jones G. Moore, of Jefferson; John J. King, of Marengo; R. A. Mitchell, of Etowah; H. D. Merrill, of Calhoun; David M. White, of Coosa; George W. Jones, of Montgomery, and R. H. Arrington, of Coffee.

The movement for the organization of new banks in Mississippi goes on, and a large percentage of the charters being approved at the governor's office are for institutions of this kind. Up to date twelve new banks have been launched in the state since the first of the year, not including the formative steps being taken at Tupelo for a bank with $100,000 capital stock.

The New York Tribune Paris correspondent points out a case now before the Seine tribunal showing the danger not infrequently incurred by respectable but thoughtless American women in the course of their visits to Paris. The facts are as follows: In the summer the wife of a rich Paris banker became acquainted at a watering place with a young man named Mayer, with whom she made a sentimental but innocent moonlight journey through a local park. The pair were suddenly approached by a park keeper, who intimated that he must prosecute them. Ultimately he agreed to accept a bribe of 150,000 francs. In the moonlight thereupon the banker's wife signed a bill for 150,000 francs, and also handed to the park keeper her jewels, worth 40,000 francs. The next day she found that she had been the victim of a plot laid by Mayer and the pseudo park keeper, who was merely Mayer's accomplice. Mayer was arrested on a charge of blackmailing, and will be tried in Paris. His accomplice is still at large.

The early settlers of New England did not know what a mistake they made when they called the mountains of New Hampshire White, and those of Vermont Green, says the New York Tribune. It is true the beautiful color of the verdure which covers the Vermont peaks seems to give them an appropriate name, but in places where the top has been scraped off masses of marble have been found which are almost equal to the famed products of Italy. The story goes that one of these deposits, worth literally millions of dollars, was traded by the man who owned it in the early days of the State for a mule, so that he could move his household goods into a country where the soil was richer. From this "stone farm" have come monuments and statuary which can be seen in all parts of the United States.

Public Buildings.

Secretary Shaw transmitted to the house an estimate for an appropriation of $944,300 desired by the war department for the erection of buildings on the recently acquired military reservation near Indianapolis, Ind.

THE WINDS DIE DOWN

And the Facts of Moundville Disaster Develop.

Last Friday's cyclone at Moundville, Ala., is the third to have visited the town, the first one coming in 1887. No deaths resulted in either, but a number were hurt and property damaged. R. L. Griffin was the main sufferer in 1887 and this time he sustained a heavy loss.

At Sumter, Ala., the tornado played havoc. It demolished the engine room, boiler shed, fan house and one other building at the Belle Sumter mines, and one man was slightly injured. Work will be suspended for about sixty days in the mines.

While there are no fatalities reported in that immediate section, one has been reported about seventeen miles from Bessemer. David Houton, three miles from Sumter, and two children were killed.

The little daughter of James Gilbert, of Sumter, was also killed.

The storm of Thursday night did considerable damage at Athens, tearing down several buildings and one church.

The storm struck heavily near Bulard Shoals and blew down everything near the old jug factory except the dwelling of H. M. Morrison. The stable of Lil Morrison was blown away and he had to cut his horses out of the debris.

Another Cruiser.

The protected cruiser Charleston, the largest and most powerful vessel of its type in the American navy, was launched Saturday. The new cruiser continues the name of the 3,700-ton vessel wrecked several years ago in the Philippines. There will be but two other vessels in the United States navy of the Charleston class. They are the Milwaukee and the St. Louis, now under construction. While designed primarily for speed, they will be at the same time formidable fighting machines. Her coal capacity with the bunkers full is 1,500 tons, which would enable her to cross the Atlantic several times without recoaling. She cost $1,740,000.

Fair Nearing Completion.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition company now stands ready and is waiting for the full and general installation of exhibits. The point has been reached where the management of the exposition is no longer occupied with the rapid advancement toward completion of the buildings, but instead lays particular stress upon the importance of the speedy shipment of exhibits, especially those assembled by domestic exhibitors. It is estimated that from 25,000 to 30,000 cars of domestic exhibits alone will reach St. Louis during the last of March and the fore part of April.

Galveston, Tex., is celebrating this week because of the completion of the sea wall, erected at a cost of millions of dollars and which is expected to insure the city against any recurrence of the disaster of four years ago. The United States navy is represented at the festivities by several warships, and the German cruiser Gazelle is there.

Advices from the north are to the effect that the Ohio river is again open to navigation and that the Susquehanna is closed by an ice gorge at Wilkesbarre. Coal shipment down the Ohio will begin at once.

Sour Lake, Texas, lost its main business portion by fire Sunday. Loss $200,000.

Secretary Root has signed an order changing the name of Fort Columbus, on Governor's Island, to Fort Jay, its original name.

Representative Spaulding, of North Dakota, has introduced bills to provide for the erection of monuments to the late President McKinley and Alexander Hamilton. The cost of each is not to exceed $100,000.

A new $5 counterfeit silver certificate has appeared.

A Pretty Present.

I will send a pretty present to the one who sends me the full address of the most stammerers or stutterers by the 1st of February. I want to tell every stammerer in the world how I cured myself at home. They can do the same with ease in one week, or in three days if they come to me in person. Any mother can read instructions sent by mail and cure her child at home. Now, if you are kind and good you will send these poor stammerers' names. Remember the golden rule and God will remember you. I will send the present after I hear from each name. Address Rev. G. W. Randolph, Belmont Hotel, Birmingham, Ala.

Fort Sam Houston, Texas, was injured by fire Friday morning. The total loss is about $17,000.

A citizen of Greensboro, Ala., has planted a pecan grove, with the end in view of providing for his little daughter's future. He has put out a hundred and fifty trees and expects them to be yielding a handsome income by the time his small daughter has attained her majority.

Newsy Gleanings.

There will be 335 delegates in the republican state convention.

A sale of 126 bales of cotton was effected in Anniston, Ala., last week for $8,654, or 14c a pound.

The blame for the Iroquois theater horror has been formally placed by the fire department on the managers and builders of the structure and seven violations of the building ordinances are cited.

At Jackson, Miss., Joseph Messine, Jr., a young Italian who shot and killed an old man named C. E. Croft some time ago, has been tried and acquitted. Croft went to Messine's home at night and the young man claimed he insulted his mother.

Safe blowers blew open the safe in the Titusville, Fla., postoffice, securing $400 in cash. The men also robbed the safe of Kline's dry goods store. Two men charged with the robbery have been placed in jail.

The Louisville and Nashville railroad is receiving on the St. Louis division, preparatory to handling the heavy world's fair passenger traffic, a number of large ten-wheel passenger engines.

President Mitchell and Secretary Dodd, of the Pittsburg district, United Mine Workers of America, have been selected as delegates to attend the international mining congress at Paris in May. H. C. Barry, of Illinois, and T. D. Nichols were chosen as alternates.

A steel suspension bridge is to be erected at Gaylesville, Ala., across the Chattooga river. Work has already begun and much of the foundation has been finished. As soon as the bridge is complete the work on the new depot will begin.

Reports received here are to the effect that an uncontrollable prairie fire is raging in Texas. Over 100,000 acres of fine grazing land has already been burned over.

A contract has been closed with the Lookout inn on Lookout mountain to deliver an acetylene generator to supply seven hundred jets. This will be one of the largest generators of the kind in use anywhere in the south.

What is claimed to be the richest radium-bearing earth in the world has been discovered in the Llano gold and coal fields, Texas. Rumors of the discovery of earth bearing a large per cent of radium in the Llano district have been persistent.

The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad reports an unusually heavy movement of grain. The fertilizer movement and the live stock movement continues heavy.

Saturday an explosion caused a $20,000 fire in the big Masonic temple in Chicago. A fatal panic was threatened, but the 4,000 inmates of the structure were gotten out safely by the bravery of the elevator men, who stuck to their cars through heat and smoke.

The Texas railroad commission has issued orders reducing the passenger fare for children on railroads in that state from 2 cents per mile to 1 1-2 cents per mile. The excess baggage rate has been reduced by the commission from 15 per cent of the ticket rate to 12 per cent. It is said the reduction will cause a decrease of revenue to the passenger departments of the Texas roads aggregating $200,000 each year.

Hon. S. S. Calhoon, justice of the Mississippi supreme court, received a private telegram from Little Rock, Ark., stating that the body of his nephew, John Calhoun, formerly of Holly Springs, had been found at the bottom of the Arkansas river, and that from marks on same it was certain that the young man had been murdered. He was a soldier of the United States army.

The democratic senators were in conference for almost three hours on the Panama question and when they adjourned it was announced by Senator Gorman, chairman of the caucus, that the conference had agreed upon a resolution to be presented to the senate asking for all the correspondence between the United States and Colombia since the negotiations of the Hay-Herran treaty.

A measure which seeks to make embezzlement of sums not exceeding $25 a misdemeanor, instead of a felony, and in this way save the circuit courts of handling a large and constantly increasing class of petty crimes, passed the Mississippi house by a vote of 98 to 11.

REMEMBER FEBRUARY 1ST.

COURT HOUSE ELECTION ON MONDAY FEBRUARY 1ST.

JUST A FEW MORE DAYS LEFT FOR YOU TO PAY YOUR POLL TAX. PAY IT OR YOU CANNOT VOTE IN NOVEMBER ELECTION! PAY BEFORE FEBRUARY FIRST.

Court House Election!

Court House Election Monday February 1st.

Let everybody, opposed, to taxes, heavy and everlasting, go to the polls on next Monday and vote against removal of county seat.

Pay your poll tax before Monday February 1st, or you cannot vote in any election held between February 1st, 1904 snd February 1st 1905.

The Calera land boomers are planning this week to trick the honest voters of Shelby county. Reports says they are in Montgomery gettiug up some circulars to strow broadcast over the county. They will be held back untill the very last of the week. In fact will be distrbuted many of them on Sunday and Monday. There is simply no telling just what these circulars will contain, All that Calera hopes or expects to win is by trickery and misrepresentations, these circulars will be full of them.

Let every voter in Shebly county who is opposed to court house removal give much of his time from now until the polls close on next Monday in helping to stamp out the unreasonable scheme.

No one who votes on next monday against removal of county seat will ever have occasion to regret it. Many voters who vote for removal to Calera will regret it the balance of their lives if the county seat is removed.

Will the Sylacauga-Calera-News tell the people about the deal made by the Calera land Co., and a Cincinnati capitalist about the option that has been made. We have from reliable information that the land that the land boomers have is only worth about $5,000 and if they can get the county seat they can sell the land for $50000, a net gain of $40,000, at the expense of the tax payers of the cnunty.

The land boomers of Calera know as well as they know any thing that if the honest voters of Shelby county are allowed to vote their honest convictions from a consideration of the qeustion of removal on its merits. Calera will not be in it, consequently they are geting up all kinds of false statements, and circulating them for the truth. The circulars which will be ground out in Montgomery this week, and sent round by them Saturday and Sunday throughout Shelby county will be such as have not been seen. But our Shelby county voters are expecting them. And will not be influenced in the least by them.

Sylacauga–Calera–News gave Columbiana the go-by last week. There are quite a number in Columbiana who have been receiving the foreign sheet ever since its birth, upon inquiry we find that not one of them has received this last issue. This is a part of the land boomers scheme. Its columns have been full to overflowing for the last one or two issues with all kinds of misstatements and misrepresentations. The papers in this town and in Montevallo exposed these false statement, showed them up in good style, hence the go-by. The land boomers evidently had something in this last issue which they did not wish the other papers to see untill they had gone to press. But we got one from a neighboring town, and have paid our respects elsewhere in this issue.

The Sylacauga-Calera News in its last issue does not show the picture of the Dadeville court house. Jndge Harlan's letter knocked it out as clear as a whistle. It had been sporting the picture of the court house on its first page claiming that it was a brand new court house, and only cost $12,000 and then following with arguments that if Tallapoosa county have such a court house built for $12,000 Shelby county could. But Probate Judge Harlan, stated in his letter which was published in these columns, that Tallapoosa county had not built a new court house, but had only repaired the old one, and that it cost the county $20,000 Hence, in the last issue of the paper the foreign sheet appears to have taken the picture of the court house down, and says that it did not state the facts very far wrong. But this apology is not sufficient. We should know what we are publishing when we are seeking to inform the people through the columns of our paper.

Stepped Against a Hot Stove.

A child of Mrs. G. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath stepped against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great pain and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm in the house she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Pain Balm is an antseptic liniment and valuable for burns, breises, cuts and spains. Sold by Williams Broe., Druggists.

QUALIFICATION OF VOTERS IN THE COURT HOUSE ELECTION.

To the Voters of Shelby County:

In order that there may be no misunderstanding in regard to the qualificatians of the voters in the county seat election to be held on the first day of February, we deem it proper to give in a condensed form the law in reference to same.

A person to be entitled to vote in the court house election on the first of Feb. 1904, must possess all of the following qualifications:

1st. He must be over twenty-one years and must have resided continuously in the state two years in the county one and in the precinct in which he offers to vote three months, immediately preceding the election at which he offers to votes, provided that when he removes from one precinct to another within three months immediately preceding the election, he may vote in the precinct from which he removed, provided he could legally have voted in said precinct had he not removed.

2nd. He must have legally registered in Shelby county under the new constitution of 1901.

3rd. He must have paid his poll tax for 1901 and 1902 (if he was liable for the poll tax of said years or either of them) and he must have paid his poll tax on or before the first of February 1st, 1903. and he must show to the managers of the election his poll tax receipts for said years; or make oath before the managers that he has paid said poll tax. Any one falsely making said oath would be guilty of perjury and on conviction would be sentenced to the penitentiary.

4th. The following persons are disqualified from voting in said election; all idiots and insane persons, those who were by reason of conviction of crime disqualified from voting at the time of the ratification of the constitution on November 28th, 1901, those who have been since Nov. 28th, 1901, convicted of treason, murder, arson, embezzlement, malfeacance in office, larcency, receiving stolen property, obtaining money under false pretenses, perjury, subornation of perjury, robbery, assault with intent to rob, burglary, forgery, bribery, assault and battery on wife, bigamy, living in adultery, sodomy, incest, rape, miscegenation crime against nature, or any crime punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary; or for any infamous crime, or crimes involving moral turpitude, or convicted as a tramp. or vagrant, or of selling or offering to sell his vote, or the vote of another, or of making or offering to make false returns in any election by the people.

The Court House Steal.

The people of Shelby county will never forget the attempt by Calera's agents to steal the court house by slyly passing a bill through the legislature locating the county seat at the town of Calera. This dark and sinister fraud perpetrated on the honest yoemanry of Shelby county received, and justly so, the condemnation of all good people—while not a proper matter to come before a constitutional convention assembled for the purpose of framing a fundamental law, yet the fraud was so glaring and unprecedented that that body did not hesitate in declaring it a fraud on Shelby county and therefore void?

The Land Boomers and Their Agents Still Managing.

We are informed that the same characters who had much to do in stealing the court house bill through the legislature are now managing the Calera court house campaign. They have their headquarters in Birmingham, where they are. now, we are realiably informed, preparing some circulars to send over the county to deceive the voters. These circulars will contain statements that are as false as the court house steal was corrupt nnd fraudulent. All kinds of reports are going the ronnds, and the voters of the county are certalnly prepared for seeing almost anything about Sunday or Monday.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct,, 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

Calera is old, but young in her ways,
Thinks she'll have half of "coon town in a few days,
She's badly mistake as far as we see,
Trying to catch a bird even in a tree
Calera must go away back and sit down,
Or you must go and boom some other town.
You don't cut any figure with us,
So sober down and stop such a fuss,
Five thousand dollars you have I read
Five thousand foes would be better,
Calera is certainly on a tare,
Just trying to give us a scare,
Everybody vote for the C. H. to stay,
Lest you be taxed the rest of your days

OLD G. P.

Hello Central!

Vote against removal Monday.

Only few more days till the election

It is not very long to Valentine day.

Clarence Abbott, of Shelby, was a visitor to the city Sunday afternoon.

Rev. T. K. Roberts and wife, of Anniston visited relatives here last week

On last Thursday night we had one of he heaviest rain fall of the season.

Jesse Brown, of Birmingham, visited the family of J. T. Barnet last and a part of this week.

Mrs. F. M. Johnson, nee Miss G. O. Cromwell, visited her parents here Saturday and Sunday.

F. E. Mason, the popular postmaster at Wilsonville, spent Snuday in the city with his brother.

J. W. Bandy and wife, of Montevallo, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city the guests of J. P. Lane.

There will be services at the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning at 11 a. m., and at night at 7 p. m.

Rev. G. T. Harris filled his regular appointment at the Methodist church on last Sunday morning and at night.

Remember the Dunbar Hand Bell Ringers and Quartette Company at the School House Saturday night January 30th.

FOR SALE.—One black mare five years old, weighs about 1,000 pounds, sound and good worker. Apply to A. H. AVERY, Shelby, Ala.

Beginning with next Wednesday night the Union prayermeeting will be held at the Presbyterian church for the month of February.

There was an oyster supper at the National Hotel on last Friday night. The supper was well attended and the young folks enjoyed themselves hugely.

The Dunbar Hand Bell Ringers, with their magnificent peal of more than one hundred musical hand bells, cast by England's greatest bell founder, specially for this Company.

The telephone system have a very good list of subscribers, and it would be well for every residence in the city should have one put in as the price is reasonable,

The time for settling the question of county seat removal will come off next Monday. Every one interested in the election come out and cast his vote against removal.

Let every voter who is opposed to oppressively high taxes for the balance of his days, come to the polls on Monday, February 1st, and vote the ticket which has on it AGAINST REMOVAL!

Siah Hall, principal of the Shelby High School, was a visitor to the city Sunday afternoon. We suppose that a certain pretty face was the magnet that drew him to the city.

Mrs. Maroney Howell wife of Mr. Zack Howell past away last Thursday night. She was a Christian woman, and loved by all that knew her. Her remains were laid to rest in the Moore cemetery. She leaves a host of friends and relatives to mourn her death.

Simmon Friedberger have decided to make Columbiana his future home and will be found at the store of Leo Friedberger. These two young men will make a strong team in the mercantile business of our town, and we predict for them success.

The Dunbar Bell Ringers appeared before a large audience at the Christian Church last night. Each one of the performers is an artist and entire program captivated the audience as was plainly shown by enthusiastic encores, which received cheerful response.—Bedford (Iowa) Republican.

On last Sunday afternoon the young people of the Methodist church met and organized an Epworth League. The following officers were elected: Miss Esther Mason, President; Grover Liles, Vice President; Miss Lula Wilson, Second Vice President; Miss Rossie Christian, Third Vice President; Clarice White, Secretary and Treasurer; Miss Mildred White, Organist. Committees were appointed by the different departments to assist in the work. The League begins its life with bright prospects.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule s man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unnecegsary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. For sale by Williams Bros.

Calera is a town miles away,
She is working for a court house night and day
And is sure she will have it they say.
O Calera? there's another town Columbiana is her name,
If she's like a bed bug she'll get there just the same,
She has the C. H. and voters will say let it remain.
The people in this county are poor so we read,
And to move the court house it would be a foolish deed,
Now men think forward, vote right and take heed.
Calera you are a good old town,
But you are not the very best,
Columbiana has the court house.
And there is where it shall rest.
Calera is where the Southern and the L. & N. cross,
Columbiana is between the two,
When Columbiana gets a hundred votes,
Shall Calera get a few.

OLD JAKE.

Good Advice.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, Gnawing and Burning Pains at the Pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and Disagreeable Taste in the Mouth. Coming up of Food after Eating, Low Spirits, etc. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 25 or 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. For sale by Williams Brothers, Columbiana.

Judge Pelham is a candidate for reelection as Judge of the Circuit Court of this district. Judge Pelham has been presiding over the court of this Circuit for a long time. Judge Pelham has made an ideal circuit judge and expressions of satisfaction and commendation by the bar and the people of his reign as judge are common, especially during the terms of court over which he has presided." In every way qualified for the position, Judge Pelham in his candidacy for re-election has so many things in his favor—ability fitness for the position, fairness and impartiality in all things and the high esteem of his fellowmen—that his nomination and election will doubtless come without opposition as a natural sequence of faithful service."

The Best Remedy for Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost sure to be lost in case of croup, as a revolver in case of a burglar. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost as much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is plasant and safe to take. For sale at Williams Bros.

Land Boomers Slyly Working.

News comes this week that the land boomers have sure enounh put money into the court house campaign, and that they are sending men slyly over th county using and offering to use this money in an illegitimate manner. We don't know that this true, and trust it is not, but we should not be much surprised at anything done by these shrewd manipulators. We would, however, be much surprised if anything they do, or could do, will alter materially the sentiment against removal. The people are against the land company's project, and will bury it out of sight next Monday.

That Certified Check and $5,000.

Calera is making much ado over the $5,000 certified check that J. W. Dimmick, Calera Land Company's man of Montgomery, has deposited. This will fool no one. As has been stated in these columns, there is no legal obligation on Calera to pay a cent. The Sylacauga-Calera-News in its last issue says that at a meeting of the city council of Calera a bond issue of $7,000 was authorized. It does not say that any bonds have been issued. The money said to be deposited by Mr. Dimmick, the Calera Land Co.'s man, in a Montgomery bank is only to be turned over to the authorities of Calera on the delivery by them of $5,000 of gold bearing bonds. Calera will never delivered. The $5,000 will not be turned over to the Calera authorities, and if it were, what assurance have we that one cent of it go to help build a court house and jail? None in the world!

Calera says, "We'll carry Vincent Beat." Vincent says, "Wait and see." Our information is that that beat will vote against removal by a large majority on the 1st of February.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

The undersigned have this day sold their interest in The Columbiana Mercantile Co. to Max Lefkovits and Philip Erlick, and they have assumed all indebtedness of said firm. We desire to extend to the people of Columbiana and surrounding country our hearty thanks for their generous patronage for the past nine years, whlch contributed to the success of said business.

We again solicit your hearty co-operation with our successors. as they will serve you in the future with courtesies as in the past.

Thanking yau again, we remain

STATE OF ALABAMA, } Before me came W. L. Farley Cashier, of the COUNTY OF SHELBY. } Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. W. L. FARLEY, Cashier, Columbiana Savings Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 16th day of January, 1904.

A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

NOTICE.

Mr. S. M. Pickler has bought all the lands in this county that were sold by the state for taxes. I should be glad to have all persons whose lands were sold to the state for taxes to call on me at the court house, or the White House, if they care to redeem their lands, or if the sale of their land was erroneous.

F. A. GAMBLE, Agent.

An Effort to Hoodwink the Voters.

Much stress is laid by our Calera friends on the fact that the corporations pay the greater part of the taxes in Shelby county. This is very poor comfort to a poor man who is now paying all the tax he can afford to pay. If a corporation which pays one thousand dollars as taxes in Shelby county is made to pay $500 more by a levy of a special tax, how does this fact help the poor farmer who pays $20 tax when he is required by the same special levy to pay $30. And 99 times out of a 100 the additional tax of $500 on the corporation is not felt by it half so much as the $10 additional on the farmer. This argument is too thin, aed will not go down with Shelby county voters.

Another Falsehood Refuted.

Now another story is that Columbiana is going to building a court house and jail any way, and even they are trying to make it appear that Judge Longshore is in communication with architects in reference to said proposed court house. The following sworn statement ought to be a sufficient refutation of this charge:

State of Alabama, } Before me, J. R
Shelby county. } White, Register in Chancery for said county and state, personally appeared Judge A. P. Longshore, who being duly sworn deposes and says that it has been circulated that he had negotiated with an architect to build a court house at Columbian if that place won the election, and that he had told parties that if the county seat remained at Columbiana a new court house would be built at Columbiana, also that he had written a letter to that effect to an architect.

Now the said A. P. Longshore deposes and swears that all such reports are absolutly false and malicious lies, and if any such letter should be exhibited, it is a forgery, that he has never negotiated and such contract, or written any such letter, and that he is opposed to building a new court house at Columbiana, because it would be an extravagant expenditure of the people's money, as we already have a good courthouse at Columbiana

A. P. LONGSHORE.

Sworn to and subscribed before me on this 27th day of January, 1904.

J. R. WHITE, Register in Chancery.

THE FADED FLOWER.

Calera has a little man,
His eyes are filled with suds,
And when "old Coon town" shouts,
He simply takes the studs.

He heard the ring of court house fight
And hoped his pond would win,
But knowing wrong could not prevail,
His eyes grew sad and dim.

Another scheme, I'll try my hand,
This court house to remove,
And if our money fails to win,
Then we'll simply kill old boze.

Coon town, you've got us beat,
Our boze and money would not stand,
We did our best to win the fight,
But found that Coon town was a man.

Now let us join your victory sweet,
And shout old towns with our might,
And though we did our best to win,
We know, that truth has made right.

Coon town, Monday next we give you,
Our fight has reached its end,
The battle fought, the victory won,
And our eyes are sad and dim.

But like the wayward child of old,
When life has been misspent,
We come and humble every one,
And in our tears repent.

A CONVERT.

We'll Vote for Columbiana.

Revised version by J. M. Dye.

Come march along, ye voters strong,
And vote against removal every time,
Banners bright, with conscience right
We'll vote against removal every time

We're in the fight, we know are right,
We'll vote against removal every time
We come to stay, we'll win the day,
We'll vote against removal every time

Clear the track, don't hold us back,
We'll vote against removal every time
That "Calcis" cry, why that's a——
We'll vote against removal every time

Say Democrats, where are you at?
"We will vote against removal."
Republicans, what is your plans?
"We will vote against removal."

Populite, how goes the fight?
"We will vote against removal."
Calera near the Chilton line,
We'll vote against removal.

The News may swear, we don't care,
We'll vote against removal every time
Just let it scowl, growl and howl,
We'll vote against removal.

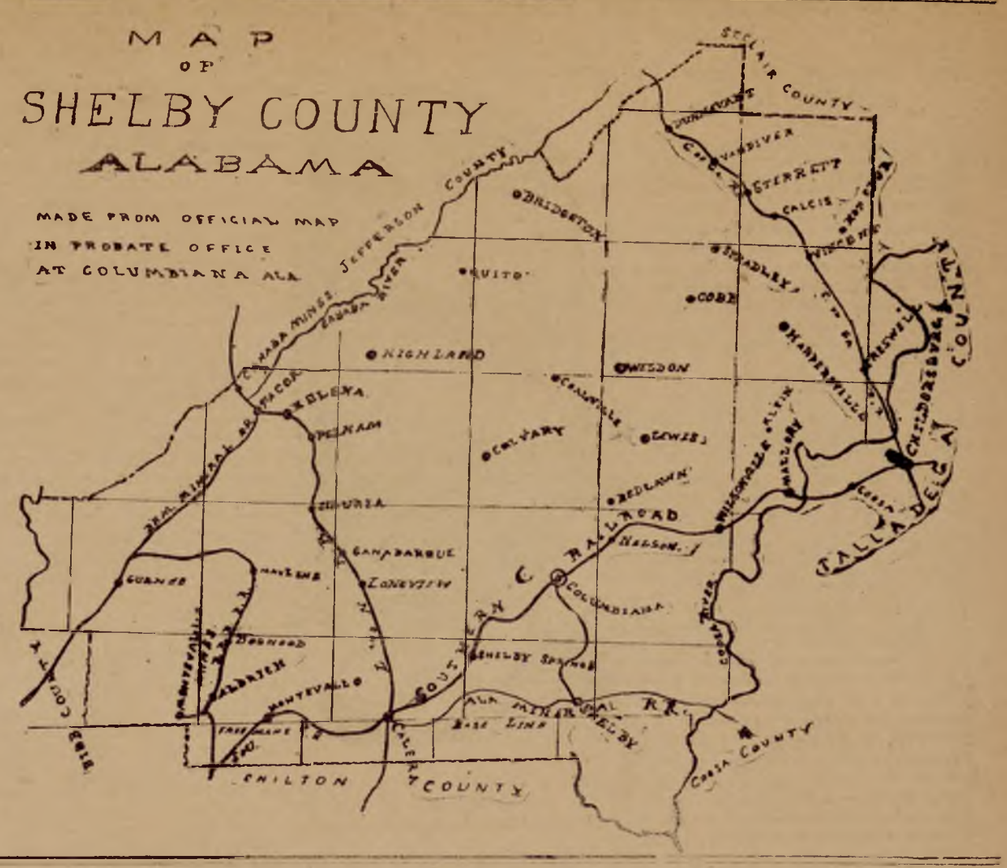
O come along and join our song,
And vote against removal every time.
Take up the tune gainst the saloon,
And vote against removal every time.

YES! O yes we'll vote for Columbiana
We will vote for Columbiana,
And its yes, O YES
We'll vote for Columbiana every time

Cured of Piles After 40 Years.

C. Haney, of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuss, burns, bruises, sprains, lacerations, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases Look for the name DeWitt on package—all others are cheay, worthless counterfeits. Sold by Williams Bros.

By special arrangements with the publishers of the Constitution and Sunny South we offer a years's subscription to our own paper in addition to the Contitution and Sunny South and will furnish all three for ONLY TWO DOLLARS. Such orders must come direct to The Chronicle.



A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of of cold, deepseated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. G. E. Fenner, of Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says "the cough and straining so weakened me that I ran dow in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I tried One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. Sold by Williams Bros.

MEDICAL EXAMINER

Of the United States Treasury Recommends Pe-ru-na.

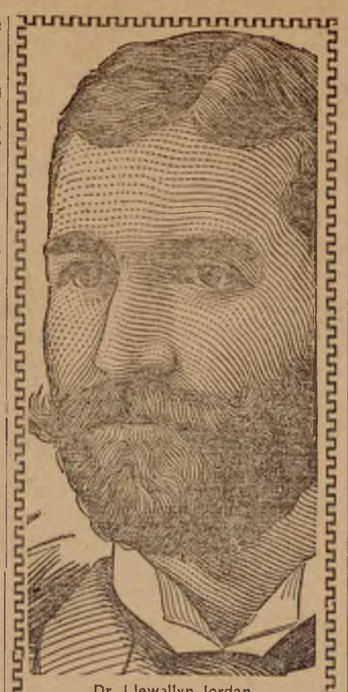
Other Prominent Physicians Use and Endorse Pe-ru-na.

DR. LLEWELLYN JORDAN, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering. Fellow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so-called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession to-day. Catarrh, as every one will admit, is the cause of one-half the disease which afflicts mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of United States.



Dr. Llewellyn Jordan.
Medical Examiner United States Treasury.

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C., writes:

"Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my patients." -Robert R. Roberts.

Dr. R. Robbins, Muskogee, I. T., writes: "Peruna is the best medicine I know of for coughs and to strengthen a weak stomach and to give appetite. Besides prescribing it for catarrh, I have ordered it for weak and debilitated people, and have not had a patient but said it helped him. It is an excellent medicine and it fits so many cases.

"I have a large practice, and have a chance to prescribe your Peruna. I hope you may live long to do good to the sick and the suffering."

Dr. M. C. Gee writes from 513 Jones St., San Francisco, Cal.:

"Peruna has performed so many wonderful cures in San Francisco that I am convinced that it is a valuable remedy. I have frequently advised its use for women, as I find it insures regular and painless menstruation, cures leucorrhoea and ovarian troubles, and builds up the entire system. I also consider it one of the finest catarrh remedies I know of."—M. C. Gee, M. D.

Catarrh is a systemic disease curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centres. This is what Peruna does.

Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve centres which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. Then catarrh is permanently cured.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Bird Tries to Feed Its Shadow.

A gentleman whose home is in a grove on the North Side relates a remarkable incident which has come under his observation within the past few weeks. A Kentucky cardinal is interfering with his comfort to such an extent that he threatens to shoot it.

Every morning shortly after daylight, for a period of a month, the gentleman has been awakened by a tapping and fluttering at his window, which each time continued for half an hour or longer. After several repetitions of the disturbance he cautiously opened the shutters and investigated. He found the redbird waging a fight with its reflection in the window pane. He frightened it away and hoped that this would break up the practice. However, the next morning the visit was repeated, and despite his efforts to discourage the visitor, every morning since it has broken his rest about 5.30 o'clock. Yesterday morning he was roused by the usual fluttering, and, securing a window stick, he started to enter the fight between Mr. Redbird and its reflection. Peeping out, his heart was softened. The bird had a piece of bread in its mouth and was trying to feed its shadow.—Lexington (Ky.) Herald.

Why Poles Are Not Germanized.

The official mind in Prussia seems to be gradually coming to the recognition that the policy pursued hitherto with regard to the Germanization of the Polish provinces has been as futile as it is costly. What happens in Polish Silesia is seemingly somewhat as follows: With the liberal sums received from the Prussian government as the price of their estates, the Polish proprietors liquidate their debts and devote the balance to founding banking establishments in the towns, in which they carry on a lucrative business by advancing money at reasonable rates of interest to the tradesmen and artisans, who in turn have laid out the loans so advantageously that a large and comparatively prosperous middle class have been created, who have actually been economically strong enough to push the German traders to the wall. Hence the fact that the German population in the Polish provinces is weaker in almost every respect at the present moment than was the case ten years ago.—Speaker.

LASTING RELIEF.

J. W. Walls, Superintendent of Streets of Lebanon, Ky., says:

"My nightly rest was broken, owing to irregular action of the kidneys. I was suffering intensely from severe pains in the small of my back and through the kidneys and annoyed by painful passages of abnormal secretions. No amount of doctoring relieved this condition. I took Doan's Kidney Pills and experienced quick and lasting relief. Doan's Kidney Pills will prove a blessing to all sufferers from kidney disorders who will give them a fair trial."

IN A KERNEL OF CORN.

SOME BY-PRODUCTS SECURED FROM THIS SOURCE.

When It Begins Going Through Its Transforming Process One of the First Results Is a Separation of the Germ—Starch and Grape Sugar.

Although health foods for humanity are much more widely advertised, there are also what might be called, without any great stretch of the imagination, health foods for animals, says the New York Times. Some of the most important are by-products in the series of chemical operations that is constantly turning millions of kernels of corn into starch and glucose—the first product serving humanity, to the tune of many thousand tons yearly, in the preparation of its cotton goods, and the second eventually reaching the human stomach, in even larger quantities, through the pleasant medium of confectionery or soda water. An ordinary ear of corn contains many industrial possibilities—even including corn cob pipes, and vulcanized rubber mats for libraries and public buildings—many of which have been developed only during the last two decades. On their commercial side the total value of these products has been recently illustrated by the formation of a highly capitalized combination of the corn product interests, while, on the theoretical side, the subject forms an important field of study in theoretical laboratories, as, for example, in the starch and sugar laboratories of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where it was first made a matter of student investigation.

Important as are the by-products obtained from corn, the ultimate products of the corn kernel, starch and glucose, are by far the most important. Glucose, a thick, colorless syrup, is indeed very generally known, and has a very ill-deserved popular reputation as an adulterant. As a matter of fact it is not, broadly speaking, an adulterant at all, but a valuable commercial agent which accomplishes certain ends in candy making and in the preparation of soda fountain syrups without being in the least injurious. Vast quantities of it are used yearly in making confectionery, preserves and fruit syrups, partly because it is more economical than ordinary sugar, but quite as much because it is better adapted to the purpose. As a foundation material it takes any flavor successfully; but unlike sugar it doesn't crystallize out afterward, and the confectionery will, therefore, keep longer in its original condition. The ojection most commonly brought against glucose, that a mineral acid is used in producing it, is altogether irrational. The actual amount of acid is not more than one pound in a thousand, and even this small amount must be quite neutralized, and so got rid of, by the very process of refining, before the glucose has reached the stage of perfection that makes it a marketable commodity.

An ordinary kernel of corn, as it comes to the laboratory, contains a germ, or embryo plant, surrounded by a mass of cells containing albuminous matter and separate grains of starch. These elements, which practically nourish the little plant germ somewhat as a chicken is nourished in an egg are really the elements of a perfect food, proteine—of which the white of an egg is a familiar example—containing sugar, starch and fats. Their presence is what gives the kernel of corn so many commercial possibilities. And without going into the technicalities of production—steep tubs, rolls, shakers, filter presses, starch runs, of what not—the gradual evolution of these different products is an interesting example of the power of modern chemical mechanism to extract a long list of unexpected utilities out of a single natural substance. Sun wind, rain, air and soil store up these various utilities, and modern humanity is always making new, quicker and better ways of extracting and applying them.

When the kernel of corn begins going through its transforming process one of the first results is a separation of the germ. The germs, separated and ground, are reduced to a pasty mass which is subjected to pressure and so divided into a clear, yellowish oil on the one hand and dry compact cakes on the other. The oil is used in the manufacture of soaps or is vulcanized, mixed with bits of cork, and so transformed into rubber mats or bicycle handles. The dry cakes are largely exported as cattle feed, the amount of proteine which they contain making them both healthful and nutritious. What is left after the germ of the corn has been extracted continues on its way to the final and vastly more important products, starch and glucose.

But before the corn becomes starch two other by-products are produced, the first being corn bran, or "wet feed," as it is called in factory practice, and the second gluten meal. Both of these products are cattle foods, the giuten being particularly rich in albuminous substances, and used, for example, for mixing with the regular food of a dairy farm in order to improve the quality and quantity of the milk. Gluten, indeed, which in dried form becomes gluten meal, and so goes to the cows, is derived from the corn during the extraction of the starch that goes to the big textile mills, and there plays an important part in the weaving and dyeing of cotton fabrics, or else to the confectioners, where thousands of tons are used yearly as molds in which to cast the candy animals, that we see so commonly at Christmas. The grape sugar, so called, which goes to the distilleries and becomes an important factor in the brewing industry, and the concentrated, liquid glucose, that goes to the confectioners and becomes an item in the manufacture of confectionery, syrups, and jellies, are both derived from starch by an elaborate chemical and refining treatment.

All these products are made by chemical reactions first carefully studied on a small scale in such theoretical laboratories as that of the institute and then applied on a large one in big manufacturing plants. Grape sugar, so called from its general resemblance to the sugar sometimes found on the exterior of dried grapes, is an ideal fermenting sugar, and is therefore much used in the manufacture of sparkling ales, the gases which it gives off during fermentation producing the necessary sparkle better than any other agency. And corn is also largely used in the production of malt food and liquors, which owe their valuable properties to maltose, or malt sugar, derived by chemical transformations from the starch in grains.

UNMARRYING LAWS ABROAD.

In France the Wedding Presents Go With the Divorce.

"There are many curious and interesting facts regarding the marriage and divorce laws of foreign countries," said R. J. Brown, who recently returned from a trip abroad, where he made a study of the question.

"Breaches of promise are averted in Hungary by an express declaration of the civil marriage act (1895) that the relations created by a betrothal do not give the right to command the conclusion of a marriage, but if either party withdraws from an engagement without just reasons he or she is bound to grant compensation to the extent of the outlay incurred. Divorce in the English sense does not exist, but the courts can decree the personal separation of a married couple without dissolving the bonds of matrimony.

"A curious law prevailing in France provides that, before being married, children of a family, although over age, shall seek in respectful and formal terms, the advice of their father and mother. It makes no difference, however, whether the consent of parents is given, for the couple can be married a month after under any circumstances. This is also the case in the Netherlands.

"A divorce further entitles the innocent party to recover all the presents he or she may have made.

"According to the constitution of the Netherlands, the civil marriage must always precede the religious ceremony. The latter, indeed, is left entirely to the conscience of the parties concerned. There is also a law providing that no man or woman under 30 can marry without the consent of parents. If the consent be refused, the ccuple have to appear before a judge, who advises them as he thinks best.

"Many countries have now abolished all marriage fees. This is the case in Norway, while in the Netherlands certain days in the week are set apart when persons may be married without payment."—Indianapolis News.

Each Color to Itself.

The race problem in the Cherokee nation is solved to the general satisfaction of the three races concerned, and the intermediary mixed bloods. In the location of homes the Cherokee full-bloods and negroes are mostly in settlements. The intermarried whites largely are in towns and territory contiguous to each other. The Cherokee speaking citizens much prefer to associate together.

In the nation there are 30 schools attended by full-blood Cherokee children and 17 by negro children. The negro blood schools are not so by legal requirement, but as a corollary of their preference to live near each other. The Cherokee and negro do not intermarry or socially mingle. Two seminaries and an orphan asylum are attended by full-bloods and mixed bloods only, the colored high school by negroes only.

In the incorporated school districts whites and Indians attend the same schools, and race prejudice and undue feeling on either side are being lost in fellowship and friendship, cultivated in the class room and on the playground. Both sides are better satisfied in the combined school than they were when they were kept separate. Full-bloods seem to mingle as freely with white renters and their families of good character as they do with mixed bloods.

Of the 38,500 citizens of the Cherokee nation the best statistical information gives about 8500 full-bloods, 3200 intermarried whites, 22,800 mixed bloods and 4000 freedmen.—Kansas City Journal.

A Study of the Sultan.

The sovereign was a frail, worn, pale-faced man of between 55 and 60 years, with thin, rather fine features except for his prominent nose. A well kept but grizzled beard covered the lower part of his face. He had a slight forward sinking of the head and shoulders, as though the years had weighed too heavily upon him. Yet he showed kingly dignity as he drew himself up to salute the throng pressing to the windows of the rooms assigned to the comfort of European visitors. I had stood wedged in a mass of Turks within five feet of him 22 years before, on the day when he was formally girded with the sword of Osman. He was then a slender, erect young man of 35 years, pale-faced and smooth-shaven but for a black mustache. His bearing produced no particular impression of power, and it was a matter of somewhat surprised interest to see this immature prince now a king in fact.—World's Work.

A Prince Edward Island Legend.

There is a delightful legend among the people of Point Prim to the effect, that when the English attacked the French fort at that place, a chain-ball from one of the attacking vessels cut the steeple from the old church located on the very point. In falling, it toppled over the promontory and carried the bell which it contained into the sea. Dwellers along the point affirm that, from time to time, the sound of that bell comes over the waters at eventide; and that its phantom tone is ever a warning of a fierce storm or some imminent danger to those who make their living by the spoils of the ocean.—Donahoe's.

Never Saw Her Father.

Princess Alice, daughter of the deposed Sultan, Maurad V., and niece of the present sultan, Abdul Hamid, has just died of consumption in the sultan's palace (Yildiz Kiosk). She was 19 years old, and the tragedy of this gentle life is little felt by the outside world. Her name does not figure in the Almanach de Gotha, for she was born after her father's fall from power. The reigning sultan had never permitted her to see her father.

WOMEN IN SPORT.

Should Ride Astride for Safety and Comfort.

Where one woman shoots, fishes or sales, a thousand ride on horseback, and these are exposed under present conditions to dangers which should be avoided. A woman should bestride a horse precisely as a man rides.

We have often called attention to the danger of the ordinary side-saddle—to the fact that the woman is wholly dependent upon her saddle girth, and in case of accident is absolutely without control over her own motions. She can cling firmly to the saddle, but that is all she can do. If anything goes wrong with the saddle, if a girth bursts, a strap breaks, a buckle tongue pulls out, and so the saddle becomes loose, it is impossible for the woman either to remedy the mischief or jump free and clear of the saddle and take her chance of a fall. On the other hand, the man or the woman who rides astride is free. If the accident to the saddle is slight, the rider is still able to cling to the horse from thigh to ankle, or if the horse cannot be ridden, then the rider is free to roll off or jump off, with an even chance of striking the ground feet first; while the woman who falls from, or with, the side-saddle, is almost certain to strike the ground on her head.

These arguments have been so frequently insisted on that they have become familiar, and it is well that they have become so, for they have appealed strongly to the hard common sense of many American women. In a certain Western State, an editorial in Forest and Stream on this subject converted all the young women of a county from riders of side-saddles to riders of men's saddles. Two or three young women, standing high in the social life of the community, grasped the force of the reasoning, adopted the cross saddle and were followed in the fashion which they set by practically all the woman riders in the county. Riding in this fashion, they used to chase coyotes with greyhounds and had many fine races.

Within the last few years the practice of riding a man's saddle has been extensively taken up in cities like Boston, New York and Chicago. Some women had the courage to adopt this fashion long ago, and more and more of them are doing it. It is not making a rash prediction to say that the numbers will constantly increase. practically all the little girls now seen riding in New York ride astride as their brothers do, and as they grow up many of them will still cling to this sensible fashion. One of the best women cross-country riders in the United States has adopted it wholly on the ground of its greater safety and comfort. The fashion is especially to be recommended to those who by necessity or by choice ride in rough countries, or fast.—Forest and Stream.

The Oat Wonder.

The Editor must tell its readers of this marvel. It originated with the largest farm seed growers in the world, the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis. It has stiff straw, stands up like a stone wall, is white, heavy, and has long ears, filled to the tip with fat, plump kernels. It is a great stooler, 80 stocks from one kernel.

IF YOU WILL SEND THIS NOTICE AND 10C. IN STAMPS

to above address, you will get a sample of this Oat Wonder, which yielded in 1903, in 40 States from 250 to 310 bu. per acre, together with other farm seed samples and their big catalog. [A.C.L.]

It takes heroism to be a good husband when he has ceased to be a loving one.

A Strange Custom.

In Denmark there is a strange but wise custom. Parents will exchange their children during the summer holidays. The little ones from the villages go to town and are all the better and brighter for their little knowledge of city life and what the world is doing. The little city folk are sent to be refreshed by the country air and come back with rosy cheeks and robust constitutions. It is dealt with, too, from an educational standpoint. At Zurich an agency has been established for the exchange of children of France, Germany and Switzerland, so that they may learn to speak the different languages.

Love can neither be bought nor sold, but it may be exchanged.

Money Saved is Money Made.

Dr. Wm. Self, of Webster, N. C., an old practitioner of medicine, tells us that after many years experience in medicine he finds it money saved to his patients to use Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein for coughs, colds and consumption.

A curious memorial of the Boer war is recorded from Surrey. At Burstaw, in that county, a drinking trough and fountain have been erected in memory of 4000 horses killed and wounded during the South African war from 1899 to 1902, "in a cause of which they knew nothing."

80 Bushels Macaroni Wheat Per Acre.

Introduced by the U. S. Dept. of Agr. It is a tremendous cropper, yielding in good land 80 bu. per acre, and on dry, arid lands, such as are found in Mont., Idaho, the Dakotas, Colo., etc., it will yield from 40 to 60 bu. COMMODORE NICHOLSON OF OUR NAVY

Recommends Pe-ru-na---Other Prominent Men Testify.

Commodore Somerville Nicholson, of the United States Navy, in a letter from 1837 R St., N. W., Washington, D. C., says:

"Your Peruna has been and is now used by so many of my friends and acquaintances as a sure cure for catarrh that I am convinced of its curative qualities, and I unhesitatingly recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint."—S. Nicholson.

The highest men in our nation have given Peruna a strong endorsement. Men of all classes and stations are equally represented.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Indications of Footsteps.

Tiptoe walking indicates surprise, curiosity, dicretion or mystery.

The miser's walk is indicated in short, nervous steps, noiseless and anxious, and with stooped shoulders.

Energy or agitation is indicated in the quick step.

Preoccupied or absent-minded people will be found with toes turned in.

The proud step is slow and measured, the toes conspicuously turned out and legs straightened.

Uncertainty, hesitation and indecision are indicated by the wavering steps which follow every changing impulse of the mind.

Slow steps, whether long or short, suggest a gentle or reflective state of mind.

Obstinate people who, in argument, rely more on muscular power than on intellectual power, rest the feet flatly and firmly on the ground, walking heavily and slowly, and stand with legs firmly planted far apart.—Detroit Tribune.

Germany may dress her soldiers in a uniform similar to that of the United States soldiers.

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain, and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I ran across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,—she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain, and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."—MISS ALICE M. SMITH, 804 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee, Minneapolis Study Club.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The truth about this great medicine is told in the letters from women being published in this paper constantly.

THE SHELBY CHRONICLE

VOL. XVII. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALA., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4 1904 NO 24

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

JANUARY 29.

The senate adopted the resolution introduced by Mr. Culberson for the democratic caucus which calls on the president to state all facts bearing on the controversy of Panama.

The vote on the resolution was unanimous, but there was a roll call on the amendments suggested by Mr. Cullom for the republican side of the chamber, calling for the information only in case the president should consider it not incompatible with the public interest to supply it. This amendment was adopted.

Mr. Tillman introduced a resolution asking for more specific information from the secretary of the treasury concerning the nomination of W. D. Crum as collector of customs for the port of Charleston, S. C., than was contained in the letter from the secretary.

The house considered whether members of congress are entitled to be paid mileage a second time. The controversy arose on an item in the urgent deficiency bill providing for two payments of mileage for senators and members of the house on account of the extra session which merged into the regular session.

The interest manifested in the question was shown by the fact that there were few empty seats on either side of the chamber when the mileage item was reported.

An adjournment was taken before a conclusion was reached.

The house went into committee of the whole with Mr. Tawney, of Minnesota, in the chair, and resumed consideration of the urgent deficiency bill. The reading of the bill under the five-minute rule was begun when Mr. Hill, of Connecticut, made a point of order against the paragraph appropriating $100,000 for the expenses of the commission on international exchange, appointed to bring about a fixed relationship between gold standard and silver-using countries. He contended that it was new legislation.

The point of order was sustained and the item was struck out.

FEBRUARY 1ST.

The president sent to the senate the annual report of the Philippine commission, including the report of the civil governor of the Philippine islands, and the reports of the heads of executive departments for the period ended December 23, 1903. The report of the commission contains a detailed statement by the auditor for the islands of expenditures under the appropriation of $3,000,000 for the relief of distress in the Philippine islands.

Governor Taft says the year was one of considerable suffering among the people of the Philippine islands on account of a short food supply, but that the worst is passed. While he does not consider the future as bright as it might be, he believes we are beginning an era in the history of the islands which, with the assistance of tariff reduction in the United States and navigation laws for the islands, will be one of decided material development.

One of the causes of the food famine, he says, was a "corner" in rice formed in November, 1902, which he met by having passed an act appropriating $2,000,000 in Mexican money to buy rice in foreign markets and distributing it among the natives. It was necessary to go to Siam and Calcutta to get sufficient supplies.

Governor Taft reviews at length the negotiations leading up to the present status of the friars' land settlement. He says he is officially informed that the number of friars now in the islands is 246, as compared with 1,013 in the figures given by the apostolic delegations in 1898.

The revenues of the islands for the year ended June 30, 1903, exceeded those of the previous year, but Governor Taft says that by reason of the necessary extraordinary expenditures a considerable deficit will be made should they continue to the end of the present fiscal year.

Mr. Dietrich, of Nebraska, rose to a question of personal privilege and demanded an investigation by the senate of the charges made against him in Nebraska. He read a statement of the case showing what had been done. The senate then unanimously passed a resolution offered by him providing that a committee of five should be appointed to investigate the charges in conection with the Nebraskan senator.

Since the Mississippi legislature convened nearly five hundred bills have been introduced in the two houses.

The Southern railway has begun work on its new mail line to do away with the curves in its track in Huntsville, Ala.

An extension of three miles is to be added by the Southern railroad near Mobile Junction.

The proceedings in the house were enlivened by a discussion of the Panama question. Mr. Bayon, democrat, of Massachusetts, declared the course of this government in Panama to have been contrary to the provisions of the treaty with New Granada. Mr. Grosvenor, republican, of Ohio, made a vigorous defense of the administration.

The bill to prevent the docking of horses' tails in the District of Columbia was passed after a discussion as to whether the practice constitutes cruelties to animals.

The house passed the bil which had been formally reported from the judiciary committee by Representative Clayton, changing the time of holding the term of the circuit court of appeals for the fifth circuit at Montgomery from the first Monday in September to the third Monday in October.

The house then took up the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. Mr. Thayer, of Massachusetts, addressed the house on the Panama question.

Appropriation Exhausted.

When Representative Haddox claimed that there was unfair discrimination against southern democratic districts in the distribution of establishments of rural free delivery routes, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, who has taken charge of the system since the ousting of Machen as superintendent, promised that there would be a change of which there would be no occasion to complain.

Mr. Bristow has exhausted the appropriation of $12,000,000 for the current year, and has served notice on congress that he must have an additional $300,000 to last until June 30 next. The department will have to suspend the authorization of new routes within the next two weeks if congress fails to pass an emergency bill in the meantime extending the appropriation.

New Secretary of War.

William H. Taft took the oath of office as secretary of war Monday and at once entered upon his new duties.

Congressman John Sharp Williams, of the Eighth Mississippi district, announces that on the 25th, 26th and 27th of February examinations for United States revenue service cadetships will be held in the cities of Vicksburg, Greenville and Meridian.

Naval Movements.

The European squadron, composed of the Brooklyn, at Alexandria, the San Francisco at Beirut, the Machias on her way to Port Said and the collier Alexander at Alexandria, have been ordered to sail for Culebra to join in the combined naval maneuvers about to ensue. It is stated in official circles that this withdrawal of the fleet from Turkish waters is but temporary, and at the conclusion of the maneuvers it will return strongly reinforced and prepared to make a more vigorous demonstration.

National Finances.

The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business January 30, 1904, the total debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $915,062,543, which is an increase of $911,663 as compared with the preceding month. This increase is accounted for by a corresponding decrease in the cash on hand.

The total debt was $1,413,110,668, against which there were demand liabilities outstsanding amounting to $1,134,365,583, leaving a cash balance on hand amounting to $378,745,084.

The monthly circulation statement, issued by the comptroller of the currency, shows that at the close of business January 30, 1904, the total circulation of national bank notes was $426,857,627, an increase for the year of $42,884,081; and an increase for the month of $1,694,609.

The monthly report of the director of the mint shows that the total coinage during January was $7,518,789. In addition 500,000 silver pieces were coined for the government of Venezuela.

GOING TO MONTGOMERY.

Frisco System Extending Its Line in Alabama to the Capital.

A new railroad line is projected by the Frisco System. The line proposed is from Birmingham via Pratt, Ensley and Bessemer by the existing road of the Frisco system, and a new line from Bessemer to be built down the west side of Red mountain to a favorable gap, where the line will cross the east side and continue to Belle Ellen and Blocton, whence it will go down Hills creek, Shultzers creek and Cahaba river valleys to Scottsville, Billingsley and Grand View to Montgomery, and another will run from Centerville via Greensboro and Demopolis to Meridian.

A new semi-monthly passenger service has been inaugurated between New Orleans and Panama.

The Republic Iron and Steel Company will blow in their No. 3 furnace at Thomas in ten or twelve days from now, and by the end of the month expect to have their No. 1 furnace ready for the torch. Their No. 2 furnace is now making iron.

Theodore Peterciff, the dog-faced man, known by the sobriquet of "Jo Jo," exhibited in most countries of the world, is dead.

THE NEW GOVERNOR

Outlines His Policy and Asks for Cooperation.

Luke E. Wright and Vice Governor Henry C. Ide, of the Philippines, were inaugurated Monday. There was an imposing demonstration, including a brilliant military pageant, about 3,000 troops being in line.

After taking the oath of office Governor Wright delivered his inaugural address. Governor Wright invited attention to the improvements that had been accomplished in the Philippines under American rule, and declared his intention of adhering to the principles of the Taft administration. He urged Americans to establish cordial personal and business relations with the Filipinos, who must constitute their chief customers. In conclusion Governor Wright asked for the sympathetic cooperation of all classes to whom, he said, were assured equal opportunities for advancement.

Site Purchased.

Ten acres of land has been purchased between Ensley and Pratt City by the Southern Street Car Manufac-Ala., by the Southern Street Car Manufacturing company. The work of erecting the plant, it is stated on reliable authority, will begin in thirty days. It is stated that the original plant will cost $100,000, being a two-story building 300 by 300 feet. The capital stock of the company, which is now $50,000, will be increased at an early date to $500,000. The company will employ 1,000 men at the outset, and this force will be increased. W. G. Pilkington, of Virginia, is president of the company, while J. W. Gilliam, also of Virginia, is secretary and treasurer. This company owns a number of patents on street car devices.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH

Leads to One More and Three Children Are Orphans.

The remains of Ernest A. Penick, a well known citizen of Yazoo City, Miss., who disappeared from his home several days since, have been found in Panther creek swamp and the body bears signs that he was assassinated.

When the news of the death of her husband was conveyed to Mrs. Penick, who was then in bed with an attack of pneumonia, she steadily grew worse and died a few hours later. Three little children are left orphans by this double tragedy, one of whom is a mute.

South Dakota Wins.

The case of the state of South Dakota vs the state of North Carolina was decided by the United States supreme court favorable to South Dakota. The case involved the validity of a mortgage on stock of the North Carolina railroad company, given by the state of North Carolina to secure the payment of state bonds given in aid of the road in 1867.

The state of South Dakota holds ten bonds of $1,000 each under a gift, the amount due "on coupons attached" being $27,000.

A YOUNG WIDOW

Is Left by a Fatal Mine Accident to Paul Long.

Paul Long, who married only two months ago, was run over by a trip of cars on the slope loading at Pratt Mines, Ala., Thursday morning and met a horrible death. He was employed as motorman on one of the electrical motor cars in this mine, but not feeling well started to leave the mine and instead of going out of the manway started up the slope. He was struck by a trip of cars and was horribly crushed.

It is stated that the body of the operator killed at Moundville is not that of Clarence P. Seymour. His wife refused the remains.

Dr. J. M. Lindley, president of the National Public Health association, who has just returned from Havana, where he made an investigation of the method of quarantine, has been arrested, charged with libeling the members of the Mobile, Ala., quarantine board. He gave bond and was released. It is believed a trial of the case will be had in February.

Word has been received of the death of "Pig" Melton, which occurred a few days ago at Pineapple, his home. Young Melton was the young man who, while playing in a game of craps with some negroes the day before Christmas, became engaged in a fight with them and was shot in the leg. The outcome of the fight was a lynching and the burning of half the town.

The report of Mrs. Maybrick's release is now denied, although she has been removed from prison.

William C. Whitney, former secretary of the navy, has undergone an operation for appendicitis and is considered a very sick man.

A guy rope attached to the gear of a derrick being used in hoisting one of the monitor Arkansas' big guns aboard broke and sent the gun crashing on the deck of the monitor. In its descent it damaged the ship slightly.

The Macon and Birmingham railroad and the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad were brought under one management Monday.

Seizure Was Illegal.

Twelve Spanish fishing smacks were seized near Key West by the United States government about the beginning of the Spanish war and the vessels were sold as prizes. The owners appealed and the supreme court decided the seizures were illegal, and on a second trial the district court awarded damages. From this action of the district court the government appealed, and the supreme court sustained the action of the lower court. The claimants will be paid at Key West, and their claims aggregate $55,855.

$100,000 FIRE.

Clarksville, Tenn., Business Section Suffers Heavy Loss.

At Clarksville, Tenn., fire Monday night caused damage estimated at nearly $100,000. It destroyed Weaver & McCauley's liquor house, W. S. Russell's grocery store and Gerhart & Son's drug establishment, while the furniture stock of C. F. Couts suffered from water. Wires and cables of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company were also destroyed. The estimated losses are:

Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company, $200,000; Weaver & McCauley, stock $3,500, building $6,000; Gerhart & Sons, stock $35,000, building $15,000; W. S. Russell, stock $6,000, building $7,500; C. F. Couts, stock $5,000. Insurance figures are not obtainable.

Mail Contracts Awarded.

The postoffice department has awarded contracts for carrying the mails on 3,968 star and steamboat routes in the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky and the island of Porto Rico for a term of four years, beginning July 1 next. The total annual compensation to the contractors for the service under these contracts amount to $1,216,576.

Columbiana the Choice.

Election in Shelby county to select a permanent site for the court house passed off quietly Monday.

There was a landslide for Columbiana. Reports from seventeen beats out of nineteen give Columbiana 854 majority over Calera. There are two beats to hear from.

This settles the Shelby county court house question, which has acquired state notoriety.

The case of the United States against Mrs. Helen Wilmans Post and others, charged with fraudulent use of the mails, is on trial in the United States court at Jacksonville, Fla.

Mail advices from Nassau, Bahamas, announce the drowning there last week of Rt. Rev. H. N. Churton, D. D., bishop of Nassau.

The supreme court of the United States granted leave to the state of Georgia to file an original bill in that court against the state of Tennessee to secure an injunction against the copper smelters located at Ducktown, Tenn., near the Georgia boundary, on the ground that the fumes of the smelters is destroying vegetation across the line of the vicinity of the works.

The International Association of Chiefs of Police will hold its 1904 annual meeting in St. Louis, beginning June 3d. The sessions will be held at the hall of congresses on the world's fair grounds.

Spain's cabinet has decided to send warm thanks to the American government for the reception tendered the Spanish cruiser Rio Plate by the American marines upon the cruiser's arrival at New Orleans to participate in the ceremonies attending the celebration of the anniversary of the purchase of Louisiana by the United States.

Nearly 50,000 pieces of odd and rare money, representing millions of dollars, are stored in vaults of a St. Louis trust company preparatory to being placed on exhibition at the world's fair. The collection contains both metal and paper money and embraces parts of some of the most valuable coin collections in the country.

January 28, 1904, forty-nine years ago Thursday, the first train passed over the Panama railroad. An American company built this road at a cost of $7,500,000. Its length is 47 1-2 miles. It was to protect this road that American marines have frequently been landed, the latest in 1903, when Panama seceded from Colombia and set up a republic.

The comparative statement of the government's receipts and expenditures show that for the month of January, 1904, the total receipts were $41,558,370, and the expenditures $48,672,553, leaving a deficit for the month of $6,784,183.

The veneering factory at Elba, Ala., has received five automatic basket making machines, and they are being set up. The factory is now rushed with orders.

A new bank, the American National, has been approved in charter and will soon open its doors in Montgomery, Ala.

Twenty-one flouring mills in Minneapolis, Minn., have shut down. Shortage of wheat the cause.

LARGEST IN THE COUNTRY.

An Immense Steel Plant to be Erected Near Birmingham.

Pittsburg capitalists recently purchased property in the vicinity of Five Mile creek, near Birmingham, Ala. Their representatives have been locating a site for a new steel mill to be superior to anything in the south, the furnaces being constructed on the same identical plan as those at the great plant at Homestead, admitted the most successful steel making plant in the world.

The steel mill will be the largest and most modern in the country, and will be located at Boyles, five miles from Birmingham. In addition to the steel plant furnaces are expected to soon follow the announced determination of the purchasers some time ago being now about to be materialized. Several millions of dollars will probably be expended in developing this property.

Filling the Order.

The Ensley, Ala., steel plant is now working upon an order of 5000 tons of steel rail for the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company, being the first consignment of the order for 30,000 tons of rail placed some time ago. The 5,000 tons will make about 200 car loads.

The rail now being turned out is of the heaviest variety, weighing eighty pounds to the yard. It will be sent to various points along the system as completed.

The Cane Crop.

Some cold weather has prevailed during the past week, and in portions of the sugar district a heavy fall of sleet is reported. The general situation concerning the coming crop is favorable, and the outlook is good everywhere.

Shut Down.

The South Chicago steel rail mills, which were scheduled to open this week, will not do so. Instead the plate mill has been shut down, throwing 800 men out of employment.

The shut-down is said to be due to the demand of officers of the Machinists' union for a conference with the officials of the company today relative to the reduction of wages of the machinists. The machinists accepted the cut under protest, and a strike was threatened unless a conference was granted and the wages restored. In answer the company announced the closing of the plate mill.

Killed by the Cars.

The body of Robert C. Farriss, one of the best known young men in Montgomery, was found in a swamp sixteen miles from the city Saturday morning, on the track of the Western railroad.

Mr. Farriss for the past week or two had been mentally unbalanced. He had been ill for several months having suffered strokes of paralysis in the past year. His brain became affected.

JAPAN IMPOSES WAR TAX

Expect to Raise $25,000,000 by Doubling Land and Income Values.

Popular Feeling Aroused in Russia in Belief That National Honor Is at Stake — Situation in Korea.

Tokyo, Japan.—It is understood that the Cabinet, assisted by the Elder statesmen, has completed a financial program which is said to include the issuance of exchequer bonds to the amount of $50,000,000, increasing taxes to the extent of $25,000,000.

In the issuing of the loan the Japanese Government will not be obliged to go outside the realm, as patriotic Japanese bankers, it is believed, will advance any amount which may be called for.

The Government has resolved to impose a war tax by doubling the land tax and the income tax, thereby obtaining additional revenue of 44,000,000 yen ($22,000,000).

St. Petersburg, Russia.—The exchanges regarding the Russian response to the Japanese note are still progressing. The Foreign Office here announces that there is no change in the situation. The Japanese Legation does not credit the report from Tokyo that Japan has requested Russia to hasten her reply. M. Kurino, the Japanese Minister, has received no instructions on the subject. On the contrary, he apparently realizes that the delay is consequent upon exchanges between St. Petersburg, Viceroy Alexieff and Baron de Rosen, the Russian Minister at Tokyo. M. Kurino reiterates his opinion that Japan will not press Russia for a reply.

The Admiralty insist that the movements of Russian ships in the neighborhood of Port Arthur are entirely without significance, saying in explanation that they are probably merely routine changes of station and certainly made without the expectation of a collision. A prominent Admiral said in an interview:

"The Admiralty believes in the peaceful termination of the negotiations. Some of our ships in the Far East are still in reserve. The steps now being taken should be described as precautionary, rather than warlike preparations."

Seoul, Korea.—The peddlers, with the permission of the Government, are levying blackmail on all wealthy houses in Seoul, except those of the high officials, on the pretext of guarding the houses. If a riot should occur 1000 soldiers will be sent south to quell the insurrection.

MINERS HURLED TO DEATH.

Cable Parts, Letting Cage Load Shoot to Bottom of Shaft.

Victor, Col.—By the falling of a cage in the Stratton Independence mine, near the centre of this city, fifteen men are dead and one other severely injured.

In the main shaft sixteen men were being hoisted in a cage from the sixth, seventh and eighth levels. When the cage reached the surface the engineer, for some unexplained reason, was unable to stop the engine and the cage with its load of human freight was drawn up into the gallows frame, where it became lodged temporarily. The strain on the cable finally caused it to part, and the cage, released, shot down the shaft with terrific speed. Two of the occupants had become entangled in the timber rods near the top of the gallows frame and were crushed to death. The other fourteen men were hurled to death down the 1500 foot shaft.

WRIGHT COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Promoter Swallowed Poison While Receiving His Sentence.

London, England.—A post-mortem examination has shown that Whitaker Wright, who died suddenly after being sentenced to seven years' penal servitude for fraud, committed suicide by taking cyanide of potassium.

Investigation indicates that Wright must have swallowed the poison tabloids while standing before Justic Bigham, after receiving his sentence.

A revolver was found on his person, of American make, heavy calibre and fully loaded. It was concealed in his hip pocket, and is an evidence of his strong determination to end his life.

Express Derailed.

The Pittsfield express on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, plunged down the bank of the Housatonic River, near Housatonic, Mass., and the passengers were saved by the thick ice from drowning.

Burn Prisoners Alive.

The bushmen with the rebels in German Southwest Africa are committing terrible atrocities. The limbs of the dead are chopped off and the prisoners are said to have been burned alive.

Negro Murderer Lynched.

Lewis Radford, a negro, was lynched at Guthrie, Ky., by a mob of from thirty to forty negroes. He had been arrested on the charge of killing Priscilla Frozell, also a negro.

German Settlers Slain.

Official intelligence from Swakopmund, South Africa, says Okahandja reports that sixteen German settlers have been murdered in that district, and that seventy people are missing.

Four Killed at a Crossing.

Four persons have been killed by a Chicago and Northwestern passenger train at Carry, near Crystal Lake, Wis. The train struck a sleigh containing a minister, his wife and four children, instantly killing the father, mother and two children.

Charles F. Dodge Arrested.

Charles F. Dodge was arrested in Houston, Texas, on a charge of perjury committed in his suit to upset his wife's divorce.

SCARED BY SMALLPOX

Eighty Families in Niagara Falls Exposed to Disease.

Mrs. Thornley, a Bride of Two Months, Stricken the Day After She Attended a Party.

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—The intensest excitement prevails on the frontier over the possibility of a great spread of smallpox. More than a hundred of the most prominent families of the city of Niagara Falls, Ont., as well as many on the American side of the river, have been exposed. The particulars are sensational in the extreme. Mrs. Julian Thornley, a bride of less than two months and a social favorite, is ill with the disease.

One evening recently she attended a social affair in the home of a prominent society leader, where the amusement was progressive euchre. A noticeable erruption had appeared on Mrs. Thornley's face, and general comment was made at the appearance of her complexion, but no one thought that she was stricken with the dread disease.

The announcement was made by Dr. W. H. Hodge, of the American side of the river, who was called into consultation. Women who were associated with Mrs. Thornley at cards, and particularly those whose wraps were left in the same room and in conjunction with hers, are wild with terror that they will contract the disease. There was a general rush for doctors and telephone calls were continuous. Fully eighty families were exposed.

What adds additional seriousness to the situation is the fact that Mrs. Thornley attended a dancing reception at the City Hall some days ago, where the wealthiest persons in the Canadian city were represented. Prominent men from both sides of the river danced with her and were exposed to the disease. Vaccination has been general and the fumigation of clothes and wraps has been conducted in more than 150 households.

The subject has been reported to Health Officer Dr. J. H. McGarry. He placed Mr. and Mrs. Thornley under the strictest quarantine and has communicated with Dr. Brice, of Toronto, the provincial health officer, who is expected to quarantine every person who was exposed to the disease.

If this is done it will practically paralyze business, for among the people present at the card party and the dance were representative lawyers, merchants, bank clerks, engineers and others, which will cause a great deal of inconvenience and discomfort.

Mrs. Thornley was married less than two months ago and only recently returned from her bridal tour. She either contracted the disease while abroad or while attending the military dance on the American side of the river on January 8. There is a story abroad that a young man from Tonawanda, N. Y., attended the dance and was taken down with the disease next day, and he is said to have danced with Mrs. Thornley. She is the wife of Julian Thornley, a young civil engineer employed in the power works on the Canadian side.

EX-MAYOR AMES GOES FREE.

Supreme Court Upsets Conviction of St. Paul's "Grafter."

St. Paul, Minn.—The Supreme Court quashed the indictment under which Dr. Albert Alonzo Ames, former Mayor of Minneapolis, was convicted and sentenced to six years in State prison for graft. The action of the court makes Ames a free man.

It came as a surprise. A new trial or even confirmation of the lower court's sentence was expected. In virtually a similar case the Mayor's brother, Fred W. Ames, formerly Chief of Police of Minneapolis, appealed to the Supreme Court after he had been convicted and sentenced to prison, but the court denied him a new trial, and he is now serving a six years' sentence in the penitentiary.

BESIEGED GERMANS IN PERIL.

Kaffirs Reinforce Hereros Attacking Germans in Southwest Africa.

Berlin, Germany.—The commander of the German gunboat Fabicht, lying at Swakopmund, German Southwest Africa, cables that he has received news from Lieutenant Zuelow, in command of the German forces at Okahandja, that the Kaffirs have effected a junction with the Hereros, who are besieging that post. As Okahandja was already hard pressed, the announcement has caused concern at the Colonial Office here.

DODGE A PRISONER AND ILL.

Man Held in Matrimonial Tangle Said to Have Bright's Disease.

Houston, Texas.—Charles F. Dodge, held here pending the outcome of an application for his extradition to New York on a charge of perjury, is seriously ill at the police station, where he is under guard. His trouble is reported to be Bright's disease, and it is said that he was ill in a New Orleans hotel prior to his starting for Mexico. Thus far he has declined the services of a physician.

Freed of Murder Charge.

Mrs. Lulu Prince Kennedy Kramer, on trial at Kansas City, Mo., a second time for the murder in January, 1901, of her first husband, Philip H. Kennedy, was found not guilty by a jury. At her first trial she was convicted and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Duellist to Stand Trial.

The president has given his old hat to a friend, doubtless because its accaustic properties were becoming out of date.

The statute of limitations and the technicality should be unanimously indorsed by the republican national convention.

The attorney general's fund of $500,000 looks almost as big as ever, but it looks very small by the side of the big defense funds the trusts keep on hand.

Those who deny the theory of future punishment should come forward and tell us what is to become of the miscreants who have organized a corner in anti-toxin.

The republicans are divided at Washington, divided in New York, divided in Ohio, divided in Indiana and even divided in Alabama. A house divided agaiust itself cannot stand.

A majority of Southern newspapers seem to advocate the Panama route for the canal. How long is it, or how short is it, since they were shouting in chorus for the Nicaragua route affirming that it offered unequalled advantages and declaring on the authority of all the civil engineers that it was the only place where a ship canal could be constructed.

BATTLE FOUGHT VICTORY WON.

The County Seat Election which has Stirred the County from center to circumference for the past two months is now a thing of the past.

Court House removal has been a disturbing element in the county for twenty years or more. While this election was dreaded by the people of the county as county seat elections always are, yet it is evident now, in view of conditions that existed and opinion which were entertained, that it is a fortunate thing, not alone for Columbiana, but for Calera and the whole of Shelby county that it was held. It settled beyond question the fact, as nothing hereto fore had, the people of Shelby county are largely opposed to the removal of the county seat from Columbiana to Calera or any other point. This election has been warmly waged and hotly contested. The friends of Calera so much desired the court house removal to Calera for their convenience and benefit that they argued themselves into the honest belief we admit that Calera was the proper place for the county seat of Shelby. Columbiana and a greater part of the county while they recognized the fact that Calera and that portion ot the county along L. & N. railroad would be benefitted by removal, could not see how the great body of the county would be benefitted.

On the contrary, they could see that removal would greatly inconvenience a great majority of the people of the county, besides heaping a needless debt upon the tax payers. Consequently, removal was resisted with an earnestness that is unusual in elections of any character. Calera forces worked with an energy worthy of a more reasonable aim. Columbiana and her advocates resisted with that zeal and determination which only those can evince whose homes and firesides have been invaded, threatened with devastation. Calera's campaign committee with J. E. Ruffin, as Chairman, had its headquarters in Birmingham. This was a good scheme, as they were accessible to printing establishments and could get out their literature as they might need it. Then could run it out on the Central of Georgia to the northern and northeastern portion of the county, and on the L. & N. to the western and southern portion, from which two railroads it was not much trouble to get it circulated into the interior of the county.

Columbiana's campaign committee with Hon. J. R. White as chairman, had headquarters in Columbiana. This committee labored under the disadvantages of not have printing facilities. But what they lacked in this respect was made up for by the number willing workers and their wonderful energy. The thing which has been the most remarkable of all for a court house election is the kindly feelings which prevailed throughout the campaign between the friends of the two places. No enmities have been created. So far as we have observed or heard the friends and advocates of Calera take their defeat gracefully. We have heard no charge of fraud in the election, and it is the unanimous verdict of all that this was an absolutely fair election. The matter of the poll tax qualification creat complication, and demoralization, but the managers and voters were pretty thoroughly informed, and dealt with the question in an intelligent manner.

Now that this question has been settled, we do believe that every good man in the county, every business man, who desires the growth and prosperity of the county, will say Amen! to the proposition, to allow it to remain settled. The people of Columbiana have the kindest feeling for the people of Calera, and will ever rejoice at the prosperity and growth of he sister town. We would, however, drop out the gentle and kindly admonition to our sister town that she never again allow the land companies make her a cats paw with which rake out their chestnuts.

The State of Alabama, } We, John
Shelby County. } E. Morriss, chairman and J. H. Gunn and D. R McMillan, composing the Board of Commissioners of County Seat Election in and for said county, hereby certify that, in the election held in said Shelby county on Monday the 1st day of February, 1904, to determine the question as to whether the county seat should be removed from Columbiana to Calera or not, on a canvass of the returns of the several precincts and wards of the county, we ascertained that there was a total number of 1,760 legal votes cast at the said election in the county; that of number 456 were cast for "Removal to Calera," and 1.304 were cast Against Removal," giving a majority of 848 votes were cast against removal. A majority of said votes cast being against removal, we hereby declare; as the result of said election, that the removal of the said county from Columbiana to Calera was defeated in said election by a majority of 848 votes.

Witness our hands on this the 3rd day of February, 1804.

John E. Morriss, chrm'n
J. H. Gunn,
D. R. McMillan,
Board of Commissioners of county Seat Election.

Dr. J. H. Gunn, of Calera, a member of Board of Election Commissioners, was with the Board in this city Tuesday receiving the returns of election, and on Wednesday counting the vote and declaring the results. The Doctor was one of the most active leaders and workers in the election for removal, and to all appearances was sanguine to the last of success for Caler However when the real truth dawned upon him, and he saw beyond donbt that removal was defeated, he bowed submissively and gracfully to the inevitable. The Doctor is a man of wonderful energy and powers of endurance. We are informed that he also as a member of the Board co-operated with Mr. Morriss in his efforts to insure a fair election We may be pardoned for saying that now, the Doctor having seen how the people stand on courthouse removal, we sincerly trust that his efforts in the future may be directed to preventing any other attempt to disturb Columbiana or to annoy the people of the county with a county seaty electian

Four thousand people were killed in railway accidents in the United States last year. And the death roll will grow as long as human life is cheaper than safety appliances.

The railroads of the country seem to have found out that it is cheaper to work upon the principle to settle with an estate than to adopt safety appliances like the block system.

The price of cotton has gone to a remarkably high point but if all the farmers in the South go into the business of making cotton the main crop this year the price may go down agaiu.

Fining a man $2,000 for stealing $2,029 and sending a boy to the penitentiary for stealing $9.30 worth of postage stamps is not kind of justice that is calculated to increase respect for the courts.

A Houston cotton firm the other day received an order from Japan for 5,000 bales of cotton. With the completion of an isthmian canal such orders will be common from the Orient.

It is perfectly proper for the government to assist in the experiments with air ships. They are so near to successful construction that they will soon be developed into practical use.

THE SENTINEL.

The balance of Columbiana's good friends in the county who fought removal so bravely, will pardon us if we doff our hat to our esteemed friend, the Sentinel, for the maginificent work it has done to defeat county seat removal. From the time when the question of removal was first agitated The Sentinel has been fighting the foolish scheme. To it, perhaps, more than to any other agency, is due the grand victory. It took high ground, never making statements which could not be fully sustained, and presenting at all times the questions involved in such a clear and intelligent manner as served not only to inform but to convince. Its location, also, seven miles beyond Calera from Columbiana, made its influence more potent through out the county. The papers in Calumbiana were expected to fight removal, and their position and arguments very naturally would be considered with their interests in view; but not so with a paper clear away from Columbiana. We desire brother Whitaker to kuow how much we appreciate his work for us, and trust he will come up and see us and rejoice with us.

Non-Residence Notice.

L. M. Dyke, Vs. Henry Walthall, State of Alabama, / Circuit Court.
Shelby County. } Whereas, L. M. Dyke as plaintiff in said cause has obtained an attachment out of this court issued the 19th day of January, 1904, against the estate of the said Henry Walthall as defendant, which attachment has been levied by R. F. Cox, sheriff of Shelby county, Ala., on the following described real estate of the said defendant, to-wit: Island "A" in Coosa river of sections 17 and 8, and all of Island "B" in Coosa river, of section 8, all in township 21, range 2 east. All of which is situated in the the county of Shelby and and state of Alabama, and, whereas, it appears that the said Henry Walthal defendant as aforesaid is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and resides in the State of New York, therefore the said Henry Walthal wherever he may reside, is hereby notified of the said attachment and the levy thereof as aforesaid.

Witness my hand this the 21st day of January 1904.

J. P. PEARSON, Clerk.

The court house election is over and the county seat is to remain at Columbiana, where our fathers located it. The voice of the people say it is the proper place. Now we desire in behalf of the city of Columbiana, to thank the good friends throughont the county who stood by us in this fight. While it was a fight in common, all of us together fighting against an extreme folly—a great wrong, Columbiana in addition was fighting for her homes and firesides. Our friends took this into consideration and not only gave us their sympathies in our anxiety for our homes but stood shoulder to shoulder with us in the hottest of the conflict. Columbiana can never forget them. We would like to mention names and give special notice to all. we would be glad to pay tribute to gallant and faithful work performed by all, but the space in our paper and the time we have at our command will not permit us to do justice to the subject. So we will throw out one sweeping THANK YOU! Which we utter from a heart ful of gratitude for one and all. Come to see us. Our latch string is on the outside of our gate.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct., 3, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maude Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

Valentine day will be here.

The time for the primary is set for April.

W. H. Farr, of Redlawn, was in the city Tuesday.

R. B. Posey, of Harpersville, spent Tuesday in the city.

Walter E. Riddle, of Wilsonville, was in the city Tuesday.

Robert McEwen, of Wilsonville, was a visitor to the city Tuesday.

G. E. Abbott, of Shelby, spent a few hours in the city Monday night.

H. C. DuBose, of Pine Apple visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Tom Norris, night operator at Randolph, visited his parents here this week.

Dr. Williams and wife, of Shelby, visted relatives in the city Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. W. I. Sinnit preached at the Presbyterian church on last Sunday morning and night.

There will be services at the Presbyterian church on next Sunday in the morning and at night.

Let us begin to build up our town, start industries and by so doing create a pay roll in our midst.

Miss Lillian Hana, after a couple of weeks visit in the city, returned to her home in Marion last week,

Court house election is over and it will still remain in the same old place where it has been lo, these many years.

Jesse M. Brown and wife, of Birmingham, after a visit to the family of J. T. Barnett, retuned to their home last week.

Mrs. Goldberg and little danghter; after a few days visit to relatives in the city, returned to their home in Talladega last Sunday.

Again I opened a repair shop at the blacksmith shop of J. T. Barnett, in the rear of J. W. Johnrton's store.

NOLAN BARNETT.

Clarence Abbott, of Shelby, was a caller in the city Monday night. We are of the opinion that a pretty face is the attraction for him.

Quite a number of Shelby's young people attended the performance of the Dunbar Hand Bell Ringers and Male Quartette lart Saturday night.

The Dunbar Hand Bell Riegers and Male Quartette appeared at the school house on last Saturday night and gave one of the best entertainments of the season.

Miss Emma Hana, one of the belles of Greensboro, who has been a visitor to the city for several weeks the guest of Miss Edna Nelson, will leave Saturday en route home.

Chester Browne, a student at Auburn, and son of W. B. Br wne, of this this city, is laid up with a case of pneumonia, but we are glad to state that he is improving.

The young ladies of our town tried their hands in modeling figures in the soft snow last week. They made some very nice specimens which was spaped by their nimble fingers.

Rip Van Winkle, America's greatest play, and made so by Joe Jefferson was played at the school house Wednesday night to a large and appreciative audiene. The company will play Shelby Saturday night and at Calera Monday night.

On last Wednesday night about 11:40 the beautiful white snow began to fall and in about thirty minutes about two inches of snow lay upon old mother earth, and Thursday morning it was on an average of 11 inches. The young people of onr town enjoyed the sport of snow balling one another during the day. In the afternoon the buggies and carriages were fitted with runners and sleigh rides were enjoyed by our citizens.

Now that the court house election is over and we, suppose the people of the county are satisfied that Old Coon Town is the proper place for the court house, and we hope that the busted land boomers will never again try to unload their poor land upon Shelby county at an enormous price. This is the final disposition of the annoying question which has been before the people for a number of years. We hope that the good people of Calera will bury the hatchet and let the past be forgotten.

A child of Mrs. G. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath stepped against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great pain and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remen bering that she had a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm in the house sho would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Pain Balm is an antseptic liniment and valuable for burns, breises, cuts and spains. Sold by Williams Broe., Druggists.

This week a petition was circulated in the city in the interest of Judge Pelham's candidacy for circuit judge. All of the bar signed it and others. Judge Pelham's term on the Bench has made for him many friends and admirers not only in Shelby county, but throughout the circuit. He is regarded as a growing man, and his many friends and admirers confidently believe that better and greater things await him in the future in the service of his state and people. He is a good and capable man, and we sincerely commend him to the hearty support of all good people in the county. While he has not as yet any opposition for the nomination before the democratic primaries, and most probably will not have, yet it will be gratifying to Judge Pelham to receive a good vote which will be regarded as an endorsement of his course and work on the bench. We trust Shelby county will give him a hearty endorsement.

A WONDERFUL MACHINE

The Cotton Picker a Success. Picks FOur Thousand Pounds a Day.

A Memphis man, who has for some years been at work on a pneumatic cotton picker, has been granted patents on several improvements on his machine.

The invention of a machine that will pick cotton, one that can do the work that the negroes are called upon to do, has been the goal of many inventors for a half a century. Many thousands of dollars have been spent in trying to give to the Cotton States a picker that would pick cotton. This machine was tried last season, minus several of the improvements for which the inventor has just been granted a patent, and did good work. The picker tried during the present season had most of these improvements, and did work highly satisfactory to the inventor and the capitalists who are backing him.

The machine is called a pneumatic cotton picker. It is mounted on a high arched frame, somewhat like a wagon. This wagon covers one row. Hose attached to different parts of the machine allow the men operating it to pick two rows on each side of the machine, which, with the row under the picker machinery, gives a total of five rows that can be picked at one trip. The speed in which the cotton can be gathered depends largely upon the skill of the men who have the handling of the hose. There are four lines of this hose directly connected with a 26 inch blower, which pulls the cotton from the bolls, through blower and dumps it in a large bag attached to the bed of the machine. Power to run the blower is obtained from a six horse power gasoline engine at the front of the picker frame. When the end of a set of rows is reached all that is necessary is for the driver of the two mules to turn around and go back over a set of rows.

One of the operators, or man who drives the team, is supposed to watch the bag, and when it is full unlock it and attack another, which takes but a few minutes. These bags, owing to the force with which the cotton can be sent into them by the powerful blower are packed tighter than they can be tramped by the old method. Five men are required to operate the picker. It has a capacity of 4,000 pounds of cotton a day of 10 hours or about 1,000 pounds per man—more than four times the amount that picked by hand.

The expense of operating is not greater and thus it will be cheaper in the long run to pick cotton by machinery. All of the cotton handled is much cleaner than the product picked by hand. The ends of the house are so constructed as to catch nearly all of the leaves attached to the open bolls, but will not pull the boll to pieces

A company has been organized under the law of this state for the manufacture of the pickers. If the machine is as much of a success as it has proved during the numerons trails it has been given it will revolutionize the cotton picking industry of the South.—New York Hearld.

A. P. LONGSHORE. Judge of Probate.

Mr. John E. Morriss, of Saginaw, was in the city Tuesday and Wednesday attending to his duties as chairman of Board of County Seat Election Commissioners. The returns were received Tuesday and the vote counted Wednesday. Mr. Morriss, as is well known throughout the county, was agreed upon by Columbiana and Calera as Chairman of the Board of County Seat Election Commission for Shelby county. The position was a very important one, as in this position he sa as umpire, or arbiter of all questions that might arise, both of the other gentlemen on the board being partisans of their respective towns. Mr. Morriss realizing the importance and responsibility of the position took from the beginning, every precaution to insure an absolutely fair election, an election which would forever settle the annoying question; and to his painstaking care as chairman, more perhaps than to any other one thing, is to be attributed the perfect fairness which characterized the election. He is proving himself a most useful citizen and will doubtless be called upon at no distant day to serve his county and state in a different sphere.

The oldest and best equipped livery stable in this section of the state is located at Montevallo and is fitted up with the latest styles, and up-to-date rigs. This stable was established in 1882, and is opposite the St. George's Hotel, and is under the management of John Kroell. Team can be furnished on short notice. Bus meet all trains. The proprietor has lately added new rubber tired rigs and keeps the best of stock, and employs none but polite and trusty drivers.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of of cold, deepseated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. G. E. Fenner, of Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says "the cough and straining so weakened me that I ran dow in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I tried One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. Sold by Williams Bros.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule s man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unnecegsary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. For sale by Williams Bros.

NOTICE.

Mr. S. M. Pickler has bought all the lands in this county that were sold by the state for taxes. Good Advice.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, Gnawing and Burning Pains at the Pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and Disagreeable Taste in the Mouth, Coming up of Food after Eating, Low Spirits, etc. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 25 or 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. For sale by Williams Brothers, Columbiana.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost sure to be lost in case of croup, as a revolver in case of a burglar. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost as much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at Williams Bros.

WOMEN ARE ESPECIALLY LIABLE TO COLDS

Colds Invariably Result in Catarrh, Which Sets Up a Host of Distressing Diseases.

Miss Rose Gordon, 2102 Oakland av., Oakland Heights, Madison, Wis., writes:

"A few years ago I caught a severe cold, which resulted in chronic bronchitis and catarrh. Our family physician prescribed medicines which gave temporary relief only. I began taking Peruna and improved at once. Two bottles cured me. I recommend Peruna to all sufferers, and am most grateful to you for your valuable medicine."—Miss Rose Gordon.

Washington, D.C., 609 H street, N. W. Dear Dr. Hartman: "I used to think that the doctors know all about our aches and pains and were the proper ones to consult when sick, but since I have been sick myself I certainly had good reason to change my mind. During the winter I caught a heavy cold, which developed into catarrh of the bronchial tubes and an inflamed condition of the respiratory organs. The doctors were afraid that pneumonia would set in and prescribed pills, powders and packs until I sickened of the whole thing, as I did not improve. One of the ladies in the Home had a bottle of Peruna and she advised me to try that. Shortly after I began using it I felt that I had found the right medicine. I used two bottles and they restored me easily and pleasantly to perfect health. While my stomach was very delicate, Peruna did not nauseate me in the least, but gave me a good appetite, and I wish to express my gratitude to you for restored health."—Miss Rosalie Von Struenning.

CATCHING COLD

There is no fact of medical science better established than that a teaspoonful of Peruna before each meal during the winter season will absolutely protect a person from catching cold. Now, if this is true (and there is no doubt of it), thousands of lives would be saved, and tens of thousands of cases of chronic catarrh prevented, by this simple precaution within reach of every one.

After a cold has been contracted a teaspoonful of Peruna every hour will shortly cure it, leaving no trace of it behind. After chronic catarrh has become established, or the first stages of chronic bronchitis or consumption have been reached, it will take much longer to effect a cure.

It seems strange that as well known and well established as these facts are any one should neglect to profit by them, and yet no doubt there are many who pay little or no attention to them and go on catching cold, acquiring chronic catarrh, bronchitis and consumption.

Catarrh May Permeate the Whole System.

Mrs. Mary E. Sampson, West Derry, Rockingham County, N. H., writes:

"I had terrible headaches, both ears run and I was nervous all the time, also had trouble each month; was deaf in one ear for thirty years. I took six bottles of Peruna and one of Manalin, and am happy to say that it is the best medicine that I ever used. I am not so nervous, my appetite is good, everything I eat agrees with me, and I am feeling better in every way. I think Peruna is a godsend to women and a blessing to suffering humanity." — Mary E. Sampson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Japan Naval Programme.

A notable naval event which slipped by without notice was the launching in Japan on Nov. 1 of the 3,000-ton cruiser Ottawa. Her completion will signalize the fulfilment of Japan's scheme of naval construction devised at the end of the Chinese war, which has raised the island empire into one of the great naval powers of the world. Most of the fleet was built in England, but Germany and the United States contributed certain ships, and Japan herself has built some. Henceforth, Japan will probably be able to handle all of her own naval construction.

The football element is sure to protest against the shortening of the college course to three years. It is all they can do to train a first-class player in four.

HORSE SHOW IN A MUSEUM.

A Three-Toed Horse, a Texas Ancient, a Shetland Mite.

A collection of horse fossils and skeletons which is expected, when finished, to be one of the most representative of its sort, was put on exhibition at the American Museum of Natural History for the first public view of the work done with a fund contributed by William C. Whitney. A year or two ago Mr. Whitney gave the museum authorities $5000 a year for three years to be expended in gathering a collection of horse skeletons.

In the collection exhibited there is the skeleton of one of the smallest Shetland ponies to be found anywhere. Another skeleton is the fossil skeleton of a splendid horse, as Director Bumpus, of the museum, calls it, which is the immediate ancestor of the American horse as we know it to-day. This was found in Texas, and Mr. Bumpus says that the original bones belonged to an animal which lived before Europeans saw America. It is very much like the American horse of to-day; in fact, Mr. Bumpus says that it would take an expert to find the difference.

The largest of the collection is the skeleton of a magnificent Percheron draught horse which was owned by George Ehret, the brewer. The horse's leg was broken by a mishap, and the animal was shot. Mr. Ehret gladly gave the skeleton to the collection, when he learned that it would be one of the most desirable features of the group. Special care was used in mounting this specimen.

"It is comparatively easy to mount a skeleton," said Mr. Bumpus, "but it is hard to do it just right. Months and months were spent on this one. The bones of the animal show with great clearness the lines of force."

It was said that Mr. Whitney hoped to add the skeleton of Lou Dillon, the world's trotting champion, to the collection when the great mare died.

Mr. Bumpus said that Mr. Whitney might have such a wish, but that the subject was too delicate to be discussed while Lou Dillon was alive.—New York Sun.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

Too Literal Obedience.

The city editor summoned the photographer of his staff. "Col. Wellgan's house is burning," he said, "and I want a picture of the fire. Get out there as quick as you can with your camera, and take a view of what's left of the building, from the inside of the fence corner."

"But," said the photographer, "if—"

"That's the point I want it taken from—right in the corner."

"But I think there's——"

"I don't care whether there's a better point or not. You know what I want. Hurry up! You are losing time.'

The photographer took his camera and departed. A few hours later he came in with the proof of a picture he had taken from the desired point of view.

"What is this?" asked the city editor.

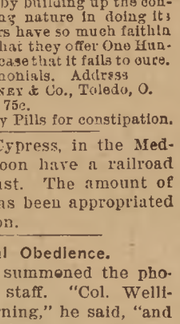
"That is a photograph of the ruins of Col. Wellgan's house, from the inside corner of the fence near the street."

"I can't see anything of the house."

"I couldn't, either," responded the photographer. "I tried to tell you there was a big tree standing between that corner and the house, but you wouldn't let me."—Youth's Companion.

CONSTANT ACHING.

Back aches all the time. Spoils your appetite, wearies the body, worries the mind. Kidneys cause it all and Doan's Kidney Pills relieve and cure it.



H. B. McCarver, of 201 Cherry St., Portland, Ore., inspector of freight for the Trans-Continental Co., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for back ache and other symptoms of kidney trouble which had annoyed me for months. I think a cold was responsible for the whole trouble. It seemed to settle in my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills rooted it out. It is several months since I used them, and up to date there has been no recurrence of the trouble."

Pierre Loti's Kitten.

Off the shores of the Bosphurus M. Pierre Loti, novelist and academician, has had baptized, with mock pomp and ceremony, his ship's kitten. The affair took place on December 8 on board the French guardship Vautour, which the novelist commands as Captain Viaud. In honor of the event, the ship was bright with bunting. Flowers covered guns and gun rooms. The captain's quarters were gayly ornamented, and a crowd of guests was on board, among them being the commanders of the English and Russian guardships, the French Consul-General, the Russian naval attache, M. Coquelin, the actor, and ladies. The cat's sponsors were Mme. Roux, wife of the commander of the Mouette, and the Vicomte de Salignac-Fenelon. Aft of the ship was erected an altar to the great Scandinavian deity Odin. The ceremony was opened by a burlesque symphony of Romberg, executed anyhow by Pierre Loti and his officers, an embassy attache acting as conductor. The newly-born kitten was in a dainty basket well wrapped up in warm wadding. The grand priest of Odin, all robed in white, handed Mme. Roux a mysterious horn, at the sound whereof the head of the kitten emerged from the basket. Then the trio from Reyer's opera "Sigurd" was heard, and, after an invocation addressed to Odin, the grand priest baptized the kitten "Belkis," which, being interpreted, means "pretty girl." A short poem was next recited, and then M. Loti entertained his guests at lunch on board the Vautour.—London Daily Telegraph.

Japanese Wives.

The position of the Japanese wife is not that of equality with her husband, says a writer in the Smart Set. He is the liege lord, to be obeyed by her in the most servile manner. He exacts from her the little attentions that an American woman expects, and usually gets, from her husband. Without so much as a murmur of complaint from his spouse, who must always receive him with bows and smiles and ever have her mind and eyes on his comfort, he goes and comes when he pleases. When he fares forth socially, he does not take her with him; when he receives gentlemen in his own house—a rare thing, by the way—madame seldom presents herself, unless in some menial capacity. And while such a thing as conjugal love must exist in Japan, it usually escapes the notice of the foreign sojourner, the people considering it vulgar to exhibit emotion of any kind in public. The wife as a social unit being completely submerged it follows that others of her sex must take her place socially, and in this office the geisha girls play an important role.

IN MONEY VAULTS.

How Visitors to Washington View the Treasure.

"Handling Uncle Sam's cash is in itself no easy task, but handling the vast number of people who desire to view that portion of it stored in the Treasury vaults in Washington is not by any means the least of the troubles of the Treasurer," said Mr. Ellis H. Roberts, Treasurer of the United States, a day or so ago.

No one can visit the underground storage vaults without a permit from Mr. Roberts, and the Treasurer holds that every citizen has an interest in the money, and if he gets any satisfaction in looking at it or examining the vaults in which it is kept, he is entitled to that satisfaction. Consequently, none is turned from his office without the necessary permit, unless there is some special reason for withholding it.

The welcome given visitors, together with the sordid delight Americans take in seeing vast stores of money, makes the Treasury one of the best show houses in Washington. Were an admission charged to the silver vaults the revenues of the Government would be appreciably increased.

Sightseers come from all over the world. One day when it was particularly gloomy and disagreeable on the outside, so that there was not much doing in the tourist line, Treasurer Roberts took the trouble to keep track of his callers. Exactly seven hundred persons entered his office. They represented thirty-five States, seven foreign countries and nearly forty different nationalities. The foreigners came from Great Britain, France, China, India, Germany, Africa and Australia.

Matters are so arranged that the visit will impress itself upon the minds of the strangers. There is a corps of well drilled guides mantained, who, after Mr. Roberts has passed on the permit, sees that the stranger registers his name in a little book kept for the purpose. This is for the purpose of assisting the Government a little later on in case a silver or gold certificate is missed. They first go to the vault in which the money is kept which is used in the current business of the Treasury. After the necessary signing and countersigning of the permit they are admitted. The cashier in charge hands around a small frame which incloses two well-worn $10,000 bills and one of $5,000.

"There!" he says, triumphantly; "you've had $25,000 in your hand."

Bigger things come later on in the trip, when they are permitted to handle millions in gold bonds in the National Bank Division, or to look at the doors behind which are stored tons of precious gold and silver which have been stamped into coin. Because of the electrical appliances they cannot see the bags of coin. Any attempt to move the magnetized doors, the guide impressively relates, would result in calling heavily armed guards, who are constantly kept at the Treasury to protect the money.

"If we were as money mad as some foreigners would make us out," observed Treasurer Roberts, "visitors at the department would not conduct themselves as well as they do. Many thousands persons have gone through the vaults during my term of office, but, so far as I know, not one has made an attempt to get hold of any of the money. Of course, we keep a close watch on them, but if the American people were insane on the question of money this would be a good place to note interesting symptoms. We like money, but we are not so crazy about it, as our foreign friends profess to believe. At least, the presence of the cause of alleged madness does not seem to aggravate the disease."—Washington Star.

Laborer Wedded Italian Heiress.

One of the greatest heiresses of all Italy, Signora Colo, in Verona, Italy, disappointed her many rich suitors by marrying a horny-handed son of toil, lately advanced to the position of railway guard, by the bride's influence.

The young millionairess changed her name for that of Beretti, and tho bridegroom is the good-looking brother of her maid. All Verona attended the wedding, which was celebrated with great pomp and circumstance.

The happy couple rode to church in a four-horse coach. The church was gayly decorated with flowers and rugs, and the archbishop himself blessed bride and groom.

A review of the performances of thoroughbred horses and of trotters and pacers in 1903 presents a wonderful list of broken records at various distances and in a wide range of conditions. Nevertheless, it is not at all certain that the animals were finer, nobler and greater than the best of ten years earlier. Cool, shrewd critics of experience are inclined to think that the horses are no fleeter, but that ingenuity, skill and lavish expenditure have made the tracks faster.

Miss Rose Hennessy, well known as a poetess and elocutionist, of Lexington, Ky., tells how she was cured of uterine inflammation and ovaritis by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I have been so blessedly helped through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it but just to acknowledge it, hoping that it may help some other woman suffering as I did.

"For years I enjoyed the best of health and thought that I would always do so. I attended parties and receptions thinly clad, and would be suddenly chilled, but I did not think of the results. I caught a bad cold eighteen months ago while menstruating, and this caused inflammation of the womb and congested ovaries. I suffered excruciating pains and kept getting worse. My attention was called to your Vegetable Compound and the wonderful cures it had performed, and I made up my mind to try it for two months and see what it would do for me. Within one month I felt much better, and at the close of the second I was entirely well.

"I have advised a number of my lady friends to use it, and all express themselves as well satisfied with the results as I was."—Miss Rose Nora Hennessy, 410 S. Broadway, Lexington, Ky.

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove beyond a question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such trouble and at once, by removing the cause, and restoring the organs to a normal and healthy condition.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—About two years ago I consulted a physician about my health which had become so wretched that I was no longer able to be about. I had severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen, was very nervous and irritable, and this trouble grew worse each month. The physician prescribed for me, but I soon discovered that he was unable to help me, and I then decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon found that it was doing me good. My appetite was returning, the pains disappearing, and the general benefits were well marked.

"You cannot realize how pleased I was, and after taking the medicine for only three months, I found that I was completely cured of my trouble, and have been well and hearty ever since, and no more fear the monthly period, as it now passes without pain to me. Yours very truly, Miss Pearl Ackers, 327 North Summer St., Nashville, Tenn."

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health more than a million women, you cannot well say without trying it "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Her advice is free and helpful. Write to-day. Delay may be fatal.

GREAT FIRE IN BALTIMORE!

Wholesale District of City is Wiped Out in Mammoth Conflagration.

A LOSS OF MILLIONS

Sunday Blaze Starts in Heart of Maryland's Metropolis and Cuts a Wide Swath of Destruction.

The most destructive conflagration in the history of Baltimore occurred Sunday and Sunday night, raging practically unchecked during many hours, completely destroying scores of the largest houses in the wholesale district, involving losses which cannot yet be accurately estimated.

The fire broke out shortly before 11 o'clock Sunday morning in the wholesale dry goods store of John E. Hurst & Co., on Hopkins place, in the heart of the business district, with a series of loud explosions, which were heard in remote parts of the city and spread with fearful rapidity.

In a half hour there were a dozen big warehouses in the wholesale dry goods and notions district burning fiercely.

The entire vity fire department was called out, but was utterly powerless to check the spread of the flames, which were aided by high winds, and by noon there were roaring fires in at least thirty big warehouses and the conflagration was steadily eating its way into successive blocks east, north, west and south.

Building after building fell a prey to the flames, and apparently there was no check to the frightful sweep of destruction.

On Baltimore street, the block east to Hanover, and after that the block on the south side to Charles street, broke out in flames, the Consolidated Gas Company's building and Oehm's Acme hall burning fiercely.

Meanwhile there were stores north of Baltimore street being similarly consumed. Mullin's hotel caught and other buildings near it. West of Liberty street, on the south side of Baltimore, the block was doomed, and the big Baltimore Bargain House also caught. Down in Hopkins place, where the conflagration started, Hurst's building and other wholesale houses on both sides of the street, crumbled and fell.

Spectacle of Ruin Appalling.

The big dry goods house of Daniel Miller & Sons and R. M. Sutton & Co. were seen aflame and along German street, east and west from the Hurst building, there were a dozen buildings burning and scores more threatened. The spectacle of ruin and destruction from any point in these doomed blocks were something appalling.

Mass & Kemper's big wholesale store, on Baltimore stret, quickly succumbed to the flames and the walls fell with a crash that was heard for squares. The Hurst building was utterly destroyed.

On Hopkins place the Hopkins Savings bank and the National Exchange bank were gutted by flames, while across the street were the ruins of John E. Hurst & Co., and next to it S. Hecht, Jr., & Sons, in flames. Adjoining was the large building owned by the William Hoch Importing Company, which was also destroyed.

Across the street the Stanley & Brown Drug Company was quickly in ruins, while fronting on the Baltimore street side of this block were the Roxbury Rye Distilling Company, the building occupied by Silberman & Todes, the house of Allen Sons & Co., which had hardly been completed, while next to it was the establishment of M. Moses & Co. On the corner was the building occupied by the Messrs. Sugar & Shear, and several other smaller concerns. All of these were swallowed up in the flames, and, in fact, the whole block was nothing but a cauldron of fire.

At 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon Mullens' hotel, a seven-story structure, was in flames from garret to cellar and its great height and narrowness, which acted as a sort of flue, converted the doomed building into a huge and dreadful torch.

Other Cities Send Aid.

Though every bit of fire fighting apparatuus in the city was called into requisition as the flames continued to spread the firemen realized that they had a task before them which was too great for them to combat. Telegrams for fire engines were sent to Washington and Philadelphia and about 1 o'clock six engines arrived from Washington and four from Philadelphia and joined in the battle with the flames.

Engines from stations in Baltimore, Howard, Anne, Arundel and Hartford counties arrived as soon as possible. Water plugs in every section within a radius of half a mile from the fire were in use, and it is roughly estimated that there were 350 hose lines all playing at one time upon different parts of the conflagration.

Owing to the great congestion of fire apparatus, the crowds of people and the general confusion, many engines from out of town were unable to find a place where they would be of any service.

At 7 o'clock Sunday night the situation was so desperate that Chief Hoston decided that the only thing left to do was to dynamite buildings at threatened points and thus prevent, as far as possible, a further spread of the flames.

At 3 o'clock Monday morning the fire still raged. So far as known no serious casualties were reported. Telegraph, telephone and electric wires of all kinds were prostrated.

The fire covered an area of three-quarters of a mile in length by nearly a quarter of a mile in width, taking in many of the most important buildings in the city. The loss, it is believed, will reach $100,000,000.

FATAL RIOT AT COAL CREEK.

Non-Union and Union Miners Instigate Scrimmage and Four are Killed.

A bloody tragedy was enacted Sunday in the litte mining town of Coal Creek, Tenn., forty miles northwest of Knoxville, as the result of which four lives were snuffed out and three persons wounded, one perhaps fatally. The clash was the culmination of trouble between union and non-union labor.

Three of the dead men were killed by guards employed by the Coal-Creek Coal Company, while the fourth victim, a deputy sheriff, was killed by a guard he had gone to arrest.

Montgomery Wins.

Montgomery county won its case in full against the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland in the United States court. Judge Jones' decision gives the county judgment for $101,017.90, which amount, less the interest, was lost by the county in the failure of the Josiah Morris bank on January 8, 1901. The attorneys for the fidelity company give notice of appeal to the court of appeals.

The case is one of the most interesting that has been in the local courts for years. It has been twice before the court of appeals at New Orleans and in both instances the decisions have been favorable to the county.

Railroad Man Hurt.

The second section of a freight train on the Southern railroad ran into the rear of the first section at Brookside, Ala. The engine, three cars and caboose were damaged and two white men injured, one of them seriously. The injured men are S. D. Day, flagman, and G. J. White, brakeman.

The investigation into the accident has not been completed, but it is stated that the switch was open and the rear section dashed into the other while it was standing at the station. There is a curve just before reaching the station and the engineer was unable to see the conditions as he approached.

This sub-committee, of which Representative Clayton, of Alabama, is a member, will leave for Florida Wednesday.

Governor Vardaman has tendered the appointment of major general commanding the Mississippi national guard to Major S. R. Keesler, of Greenwood, commanding the Third battalion of the First regiment, the rank having been made vacant by the resignation of Major General J. S. Billups, who retires after a service of several years.

Campaign Against Yellow Jack.

The health commission representing the four states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas and Alabama has arrived at Mexico. It was met by a deputation of Mexican medical men. The purpose of the commission is to bring about co-operative arrangements between those states and the Mexican government to prevent a recurrence of yellow fever epidemics, and to promote sanitary conditions on both sides of the boundary.

Burned to Death.

Ross Beard, who lives with his parents near Attalla, Ala., while standing beside the fire, ignited his clothing and he was burned to death. The flames were inhaled, causing death in a few hours.

Mrs. Maybrick is serving out the last few months of her life sentence for the killing of her husband in the quiet country home of the Sisters of the Epiphany at Truro Cornwall under an assumed name.

Labor World.

Barbers at East Liverpool, O., are on strike for shorter hours.

London's threatened cab strike seems to have been abandoned.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, after careful inquiry among the members, find that there are places for 4105 women in Canadian factories.

FRIENDLY TIES ARE SEVERED

Diplomatic Relations Between Japan and Russia are Broken Off.

INITIAL STEP TO WAR

apanese Minister and Staff Leaves St. Petersburg and Russia's Representative at Tokio is Called Home.

A special from St. Petersburg, under Sunday's date, says: It is officially announced that Count Lamsdorff, the Russian foreign minister, has informed Russian representatives abroad that Japan has decided to break off negotiations with Russia and to withdraw her minister and the entire legation staff from St. Petersburg, and that upon the receipt of a note to this effect from the Japanese minister Russia had ordered her minister, Baron de Rosen, and the legation staff to leave Tokio.

"Such attitude on the part of the Tokio government, which has not even awaited the arrival of the answer of the imperial government, which was sent off during the last few days, throws the whole responsibility for the consequences which may arise from a rupture of diplomatic negotiations between the two empires on Japan."

In a general way the Russian position is understood to be that Russia, while making concessions, declined to yield on the four following points:

Second—She insisted upon mutual recognition of the independence of Korea.

Third—That there should be no fortification of southern Korea which might threaten Russian Communications with Port Arthur and Vladivostock; and Fourth—She declined to meet Japan's wishes with regard to neutral zone on both sides of the Yalu river.

The news of the breaking off of diplomatic relations between Russia and Japan was spread far and wide throughout the capital by extra bulletins of the papers. Much excitement was created, and this resulted in patriotic demonstrations.

A Step Toward War.

A special from Tokio, Japan, says: The severance of diplomatic relations between Russia and Japan appears to be only a step toward war, although when the ministers of Russia and Japan withdraw from their respective posts quick and decisive action is expected.

When Minister of Foreign Affairs Komura, on Saturday notified Baron De Rosen, the Russian minister, of Japan's determination to sever diplomatic relations, he is reported to have declared to him that "Japan' is tired of Russia's delays, evasions and insincerity, and has decided to take independent action for the conservation of Japan's Oriental interests."

DOWIE FOLLOWERS AT CHATTANOOGA.

Mempers of Colony Make House to House Visits Proclaiming "Peace" to Inmates.

The Dowie hosts are very active in Chattanooga and the various representatives have visited hundreds of homes and greeted the residents with the salvo: "Peace be to this house."

They have secured the aid of several local people, there being a small Dowieite colony in the city.

STATE AID WANTED FOR SCHOOLS.

Longer Term Sought for Children of Many North Carolina Counties.

A special from Raleigh, N. C., says: Fifty-eight counties have asked the state for aid in order to keep their public schools open four months in the year. The amounts allowed these range all the way from three hundred to four thousand dollars.

Negroes on Jury.

The jury commission of Dallas county, Alabama, having put the names of some thirty negroes in the jury box in violation of a custom that has prevailed for nearly a quarter of a century are coming in for considerable criticism. The commission acted on advice from those high in authority and learned in the law, the recent decision of the supreme court in the Rogers case having led up to the action.

The National Association of Letter Carriers is undertaking a rather large enterprise in its scheme to provide pensions for its superannuated or disabled members, but this is a day of large things, and if it can successfully carry out the project it is better than depending on the Government for such assistance.

The petrified man that was dug up in the neighborhood of Asheville, N. C., and sold to a company for $3500, now turns out to be a neat bit of modeling in Portland cement; but still it is not thought that this unfortunate affair will seriously depress the gold brick market.

THE COOSA'S POWER

To Be Utilized This Summer by New Company.

Arrangements have been made to organize a company to be known as the Coosa Water Power Development company with a capital of $250,000. It is said that northern men of prominence in financial circles will be interested.

The lands and water power privileges in Calhoun county have been purchased, and the right to build the dam across the abandoned portion of the river secured from the secretary of war, and the probate judge has had a jury make report and assessment of damages, all of which are of record in Calhoun county.

The company will build the dam this summer, and erect power plant and lay off manufacturing sites. Negotiations are being made with eastern parties to build a cotton duck mill, and with western parties for a large reduction plant.

The large lake formed by the dam will be used for boating and fishing, and a park will be arranged there.

West End Progress.

The city council and citizens of West End, Ala., are contemplating the institution of municipal ownership, and their first move in this direction will be the erection of an electric light plant and installing of a water works system. It is proposed that these two moves will be made by the city alone, and that no company will be given stock in the enterprises. If the plans that the council of the city have on foot are realized, in the near future bonds amounting to $100,000 will be floated and work on the propositions will be immediately undertaken.

The Cane Crop.

Correspondents record in their letters the successful prosecution of field work and spring planting, and in a number of instances the work of putting down the seed for the coming crop has been completed, this being in strong contrast to the situation at this time last year, when in a number of cases not a stalk of spring plant cane was yet in the ground, the extremely wet and disagreeable weather having prevented the inauguration of this work.

Oldest Mason Dead.

Judge Green D. Campbell died at his residence in Scottsboro, Ala., Friday morning. He had been an invalid for a year, being totally blind. Judge Campbell was one of the most prominent citizens in the county. He filled some of the highest offices and represented Jackson county in the legislature.

Judge Campbell was the oldest living Mason in Alabama.

Fatal Wreck.

While running at the rate of fifty miles an hour and twenty minutes late, a Southern passenger train from Demopolis, Ala., collided, head on, with an extra freight train from Meridian, Miss., near York, Ala., Monday. The engineer and fireman on the passenger train were instantly killed, the express messenger and postal clerks, Eastman and Watson, and several passengers were seriously injured. The engineer's head was completely severed from his body.

Hand Mangled.

Lawrence Ezell, an employe of the Gulf Red Cedar mills at Paint Rock, Ala., had the misfortune to get his hand caught by a belt and drawn into some machinery, which mangled it to such an extent that amputation was necessary.

W. Cameron Forbes, of Boston, has been offered the place on Philippine commission made vacant by the promotion of Governor Taft.

At Lakeland, Fla., an entire block was burned Monday morning. The loss is estimated at $75,000 with insurance of about one-third. The cause of the fire is unknown. The entire burned district will at once be rebuilt.

Tore House Down Over Their Heads.

The entire family of A. A. Willbanks, of Pinckney City, had a narrow escape from death Sunday at noon.

While the family were seated at the dinner table lightning struck the house and tore out the whole front side, destroying one chimney and doing other slight damage. The lightning skirted the entire house, but the damage was confined to the front side. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Despondency over poor health caused Reese McCurdy, son of Captain W. D. McCurdy, of Lowndesboro, Ala., to shoot himself through the head Monday morning.

The senate committee on commerce gave a hearing Wednesday to a delegation appointed by the levee convention held in New Orleans last October to present a series of resolutions looking to the perfection of a Mississippi river levee system from the mouth of that river to the mouth of the Ohio.

ON THE STATE LINE.

Old Controversy Between Alabama and Florida.

Special Agent G. W. Lee has filed in the office of the secretary of state the field notes of the strip of land on the Florida border, and they become a matter of record.

The filing of these notes recalls an old struggle between Alabama and Florida for a strip of several thousand acres of valuable timber lands. Many years ago two surveyors named Coffee and Whitney ran border lines between Alabama and Florida, and each of these lines has since taken the name of the surveyor. The Coffee line runs parallel to the Whitney line from the Chattahoochee river, about two miles north for a distance of about seventy miles. Florida claimed the Coffee line to be correct, but when the dispute was finally settled Alabama was victorious and the Whitney line declared the proper one.

While the dispute over the wedge was being waged, the Alabama field notes were compiled and filed according to the Coffee line, and consequently since the settlement of the dispute persons desiring the use of the field notes of the "wedge" have been forced to go to Florida for them.

Attention was directed to this matter by former Secretary of State McDavid, which resulted in the last legislature making an appropriation of $200 to have the field notes made.

NOT YET APPREHENDED.

Assault and Arson at Phoenix City, Ala.

The person or persons who burglarized the house of Sam Waller, west of Phoenix City, Ala., Friday night, set fire to the residence and then shot repeatedly at various members of the family, are still at large.

It is now believed that one burglar was responsible for the reign of terror. Mr. Waller is an old man and went to town for help. After his departure the two ladies there, his wife and a Mrs. McCroan, had a perilous experience. As they left the house a man met them in the yard and cursed them. They finally took refuge in a servant's house, turning out the lights. The burglar broke the door down and entering, set fire to a bed there. Mrs. McCroan was badly cut and Mrs. Waller thought her husband dead until his return at the head of the rescuing party.

FORGOT THE DYNAMITE.

Both Hands Blown Off and One Eye Gone.

D. C. Wolf, a miner employed at the Bradford mines in Jefferson county, Ala., is in the hospital in a critical condition, the result of an accident. It appears that Wolf was preparing a "shot" in the coal, and after putting in his explosive lighted a stick of dynamite. Forgetting that he had lighted the dynamite, so it is stated, he started to get out of his room in the mine to escape injury from the "shot" in the coal. The dynamite which he carried in his hands exploded. Wolf was knocked down and rendered unconscious. When men in the mines heard the two explosions, one from the "shot" and the other from the dynamite, they ran to the place and found Wolf in a horrible condition. Both of his hands were blown off, one of his eyes entirely destroyed and the other seriously injured. In addition to this he was horribly bruised. The man's condition is such that there is not much hope for his final recovery.

On Friday, February 19, the property of the defunct Bessemer, Ala., Savings bank will be sold at public auction. As early as practicable the first dividend will be paid to the late institution's creditors, which, it is expected, will be between 30 and 35 per cent of the total claims filed. The receiver has on hand $32,000 and $4,500 of county script.

A One-Legged Marshal.

Thomas Crow was elected marshal of Courtland, Ala. Crow has been marshal of the town for a number of years and held the office up to October last, when in an attempt to arrest a negro he was shot so seriously in the leg that amputation was necessary.

While Mr. Crow now has only one leg, he insists that he can discharge all of the duties of marshal, and a majority of the people of the town seem to agree with him, as he was elected by a handsome majority. Courtland now, so far as known, has the only one-legged marshal in the state.

Rear Admiral Wise, in command of the training squadron now at Guantanamo, Cuba, has been ordered to San Domingo to protect American interests.

Bessemer, Ala., rolling mills are experimenting in rail conversion. The re-rolling of heated 80-pound rails into 16-pound rails is the work in hand.

A jail delivery at Gadsden, Ala., was prevented Sunday. A diamond saw was discovered after a bar was almost entirely severed.

BURNED AT THE STAKE.

Negro and His Wife Meet Terrible Fate in Mississippi.

A special from Doddville, Miss., says:

Luther Holbert and his wife, negroes, were burned at the stake Sunday by a mob of over 1,000 persons for the killing of James Eastland, a prominent white planter, and John Carr, a negro, on Wednesday morning at the Eastland plantation.

The burning of Holbert and his wife closes a tragedy which has cost eight lives, has engaged two hundred men and two packs of bloodhounds in a four days' chase across four counties.

The dead are:

Luther Holbert and wife, negroes, burned at the stake by mob; James Eastland, white planter, killed by Holbert; John Carr, negro, killed by Holbert; John Winters, negro, killed by Eastland; three unknown negroes killed by posses.

The killing of Eastland, Carr and Winters occurred Wednesday morning at Eastland's plantation. Holbert and Winters were in Carr's cabin when Eastland entered and ordered Holbert to leave the plantation. A difficulty ensued, in which it is alleged that Holbert opened fire on Eastland, fatally wounding him and killing Carr. Eastland returned the fire and killed Winters.

When news of the tragedy reached Doddsville, a posse was formed and left immediately for Eastland's plantation. Arriving there, further shooting occurred, and an unknown negro was killed. Holbert and his wife, who had donned men's clothing, both heavily armed, had fled.

The 16-year-old son of Holbert, who was held on suspicion of complicity in the killing of Eastland, was given his freedom, his innocence being established.

It is reported that the sight of the pope is failing.

Sunday will be St. Valentine's day.

GROUND BROKEN

For New Street Car Manufacturing Plant at Ensley.

Near Ensley, Ala., ground was broken Saturday for the plant of the Southern Street Car Manufacturing Company's plant. The site of the proposed industry is between Ensley and Pratt City. The main structure of the plant will be two stories, 300 by 300 feet, and will be used as the shops proper. The management of the company has decided not to erect a commissary building. The cost of the original plant is estimated at $100,000.

The company was organized with a capital of $50,000, but it is soon to be increased to $500,000. The product will be street cars. The plant will give employment to 300 skilled workmen to begin with. Later on the number will be increased to 1,000, and after everything gets in full running order it is the intention of the management to employ 2,000 men.

Senator Hanna is down with typhoid fever. The case is not as yet considered serious.

Mississippi's lower house, after debate, passed a bill providing the death penalty on convictions of attempted criminal assault, the fixing of the penalty being optional with the jury. Heretofore attempted criminal assault has been punished by a maximum sentence of ten years in prison.

MORGAN ON CANAL QUESTION.

The people of the south will pity and forgive, but will not forget such as can find excuse in their upstart despotism for the acceptance of gifts that are stained with fraud, are gathered from the wreck of the constitution, the statutes enacted by congress, and the laws of nations.

"We cannot if we would convince those who live or those who will live that it is honorable or just or reasonable to assist any man who may be present in the violation of the consittution or the lewe of the land. We cannot mark down the people of the south to the figure, in commercial politics, that accepts a favor of any party or any man, as the price of its support of men who disregard laws and trample the rights of the weak under foot, or of measures that are wrong dishonorable. "We have never been robbers or faithbreakers and we will not lend our assistance to those who are."

Call Meeting.

The Democratic Executive committee of Shelby County is hereby called to meet in the court house on Tuesday February, 16th 1904 at 1 o'clock, p m. It is important for every member of the committee to be present, as business of importance will be transacted.

WHITE LABOR IN THE SOUTH.

The Washington Post calls attention to the fact that a cotton crops valued at $750,000,000 and the certainty that the annual product of the staple will equal that sum for years to come, the South is making a bid for white labors that will not be long resisted, because, as the Post puts it, "labor goes where reward for honest toil is assured, and the conditions in the South are now such that the white man may rely upon profitable employment with abundant opportunities for bettering his condition, without which there is no incentive to labor."

There has been a wonderful development of the South's cotton industry, but it has not reached the limit. Statistcs show that in the ten years following the civil war the South produced about 2,500,000 bales of cotton annually and the demand was so much greater than the supply that the staple commanded high prices This was followed by an increase of production and a decrease in price until cotton was sold so low that the farmers came out in debt to their merchants at the end of every planting season. Within the last five or six years the production of cotton has increased at a very rapid price and the crop now average about 10,000,000 annually, with a value of $700,000,000. In the meantime there has been a marvelous growth of cotton factories, and the center of the cotton manufacturing business has been removed from the New England States to the South.

Those who have made a study of the labor conditions in the South, especially the managers of the great railway systems, are now doing everything in their power to encourage white immigration to this section of the country, and their efforts are meeting with success. Our Washington contemporary remarks that the results of the last few years have shown the white men not only excel negroes in the mills and factories, but they raise more and better cotton than the negro, are better paid, have higher standards of living, and add greatly to the prosperity of the community in which they are located. The statistics of the Census Bureau show that of the 24,000,000 acres of cotton raised last year white labor worked 14,000,000 acres of it, and nearly 5,000,000 additional acres were worked by white managers who rented small tracts of land hired negroes to do a part of the work. The Post is quite right saying that these facts are sufficient to explode the old arguments used by immigration agents interested in booming Western lands that the white man cannot work cotton profitable and cannot stand the semi-tropic climate in the South—States.

G, D. Wyatt, of Cora Hill, Williamson county, Texas, gives his experience in Texas Farmer with the Mexican boll weevil and other pets as follows: "Last year I planted 115 acres and got 7 bales. This year I planted 70 acres I had 6 lamps made with pans and kept them on 40 acres, from which I gatherd 17½ bales. On the remaining 30 acres I did not use the lamps and got ouly 1½ bales. The boll weevil mother is easily caught in pans. She is a pale, red insect and looks very much like the large flying red ants, and she is a very swift flyer. She comes very early in the cotton season and deposits her egg in the early squares, and in 8 or 10 days the squares fall off, and from 12 to 15 days more boll weevils will hatch out; then you have the boll weevil in your cotton. The weevil has a shell protecting its body, but you can take most of that shell off and it will still live and fly. If you put the weevil under a magnifying glass without the shell on it you will see that it is nothing but the mother boll weevil. My opinion is that the boll weevil only winters in a hard shell. And in the spring shed just like the locust. I have twenty weevils put up in a jar, and I have had them there at least fifty days. I feed them and they look well so far. I don't think they increase until they shed in the spring. I want to keep them alive until May if I can. The lamps also catch the little bloom fly that does even more damage than the boll weevil. The bloom fly is smaller than a gnat and about the color of the white cotton bloom, and they are very herd to see without a pocket lens. They get right into bloom as soon as it begins to come out of the square and cut the bud of the bloom into fine dust. If that square makes anything at all the boll won't be much larger than a bird's egg, sometimes one or two locks may open. The lamps also catch the brown miller that makes the boll worm, and the large miller that makes the corn tassel worm, and the white miller that makes the leaf worm, and many other insects that do great damage to cotton, corn and garden."

The prospects for securing the World's Fair loan of $4,500,000 appear to be favorable—in fact, it is believed by those best posted that Congress is certain to grant the request of the Exposition management. This being the case, the quicker matters are arranged the better it will be for all concerned. Only three months remain untill the gates will be thrown open. and it will keep everybody hustling to get ready.

The farmer who has confined his efforts to two or three staple crops does not know how his farm would respond to some one or more special crops. This is a day of specialties, and many men can make a success growing some special crop who are not now making a good living growing some of the stable crops. The way to start on some special crops is to start with a small area and gradually branch ont to larger proportions. Ihav in my mind a farmer who made a failure of growing staple crops and after-wards mad pronounced success growing broom corn. Another di the sam thing with pop corn—Practic Farmer.

The oldest and best equipped livery stable in this section of the state is located at Montevallo and is fitted up with the latest styles, and up-to-date rigs This stable was established in 1882, and is opposite the St. George's Hotel, and is under the management of Wm Kroell. Team can be furnished on short notice. Bus meets all trains. The proprietor has lately added new rubber tired rigs and keeps the best of stock, and employs none but polite and trusty drivers.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve
For Piles, Burns, Sores.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowed to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but it stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 25 and 75 cts. For sale by Williams Bros.

DeWitt is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hozel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by Williams Bros.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

J. F. Pope, of Wilsonville, has rented the store house of Mrs. L. C. Armstrong, recently vacated by E. D. Hall, and will in the near future open up a mercantile business.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Polesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with persuccess. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale at J. W. Bandy Drug Co's store.

J. F. Roberts can be found at the Columbiana Mercantile Co. store where he will be glad see old friends and customers when in need of anything in their line.

WHAT ARE THEY?—Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. A new remedy for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation, and a good one. Price 25 cents. For sale by J. W. Bandy Drug Co.

There are two good men out for the office of Probate Judge, and both men will make a probate judge that the county will feel proud of. These two men are both competent for the position they ask for.

There are several more officers to be voted for in the primary which candidates have not yet announced, these are Superintendent of Education, Commissioners, Coroner, Justice of the Peace and Congressman.

John B. Farrell is in the field for re-election for County Superintendent of Education. He has filled the office one term as superintendent and have given satisfaction. He is a competent and if lected will make a good and faithful county superintendent.

The best physic. "Once tried and you will always use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets," says W. A. Girard, Pease, Vt. These are the most prompt, most pleasant and most reliable cathartic in use. For sale by J. W. Bandy Drug Co.

A Case of Rheumatism Cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

The efficiency of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the relief of rheumatism is being demonstrated daily. Parker Triplett, of Grigsby, Va., says that Chamberlain's Pain Balm gave him relief from rheumatism in the back when everything else failed, and he would not be without it. For sale by J. W. Bandy Drug Co.

Miss Helen Boyer, one of Wilsonville's pretty and charming young ladies has accepted a position with the Hammond Millinery Co. The acquisition of such a young lady to the society of our city is a catch for some young man. Miss Boyer is from the Blue Grass state.

When You Have a Cold.

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy liquifies the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale at Bandy Drug Co.

We notice that the services of J. P. Roberts have been secured by the Columbiana Mercantile Co. We congratulate this firm on securing such a man. His genial spirit and keen business ability will add greatly to the firm. When we need anything, we expect to call on Joseph for it. Joe it is said, surpasses all expert tailors in taking measures for clothing.

Talk about paying a good round sum for a meal. A Birmingham boy says he washed 200 dishes in Galveston for a ham sandwich, and not a very good one at that.—Sentinel.

Brother, that is nothing, a Columbiana boy says he washed dishes in a Decatur Hotel for three hours to pay for his breakfast, and from the number of dishes it seemed that they had not washed dishes for a month.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co. has started, for the benefit of the people of this county, and also to make room for their heavy stock of goods now on the way from New York, one of the largest Removal and Clearance Sales that ever occurred in this section. Everything, in all lines is going to be closed out at the enormots saving to every purchaser of not less than 35 to 40 per cent. Every person in the town and county should avail themselves of this wonderful opportunity. Watch for the BIG CIRCULARS.

Among the candidates for county treasurer there is C. W. O'Hara, who solicits your support in the primary election in April. Mr. O'Hara has in the past served his county as tax collector for one term and is well known in the county. Another candidate soliciting the votes of the people of the county for treasurer is W. A. Thompson. He is a competent gentleman and should he be the fortunate on will fill the office with credit to the county and to himself.

Nothing Equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. P. B. Spears, of Pinchard, Ala., has become acquainted with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and uses it in his own family and in his practice He says: "It beats any preparation I have ever seen for bowel complaints. I do not think of recommending any other, and also use it with my own children." This remedy is for sale by J. W. Bandy Drug Co.

In the selection of the county commissioners the people cannot be too careful, for in the commissioners' court is vested the management of the county's affairs. Walter E, Riddle announces his candidacy for this important position from the 1st district and solicits your support. He lives at Wilsonville, about the middle of the district, and is familiar with its entire territory and is posted as to its needs. He is known as a gentleman of excellent morals, the strictest honor and integrity, good sense, fine judgment and correct business principles. We do not know a man in the county better qualified for commissioner than Mr. Riddle.

Gadsden, Ala., Jan. 8, 1904.

The members of the Gadsden Bar met in the office of Boykin & Brindley Monday evening, Jan. 4. Upon motion the chairman appointed a committee consisting of W. J. Boykin, J. B. Martin and Judge J. A. Bilbro to prepare suitable resolutions regarding the candidacy of Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap for Chancellor of the Northern Division. The committee reported the following resolutions:

Whereas, We are advised that the Hon. R. B. Kelley, chancellor of the northeaster chancery division will not by reason of his candidacy for associate justice of our supreme court, aspire to succeed himself as chancellor; and

Whereas, our fellow townsman and leading member of our local bar, Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap, has kindly yielded to the earnest solicitation of the members of the Gadsden bar as well as of leading lawyers, democrats throughout the northeastern division, and will enter the field as a candidate for chancellor. Therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st, That we take great pleasure in commending the Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap to the democracy of the northeastern chancery division, as a suitable man for chancellor; he is democrat true and tried, a lawyer of learning and great research, capable, worthy and well qualified to discharge with credit to himself and honor to the people the responsible duties of the office to which he aspires.

2nd. That it gives us, the members of the Gadsden bar, great pleasure to unanimously and enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Col. R. A. D. Dunlap; pledging our united and individual efforts in his behalf, and we earnestly solicit the aid of friends and acquaintances and brother lawyers and democrats throughout the division to secure the nomination of this worthy gentleman, for we assure those who help us that Col. Dunlap is a hard working, painstaking, sober, honest, upright Christian gentleman, and if nominated and elected chancellor, he will bring to the office his best efforts and we feel safe in assuring all who honor him with their support they will never have cause to regret their action.

W. J. BOYKIN,
J. B. MARTIN,
J. A. BILBRO.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted and, after transacting other business, the meeting adjourned.
A. R. Brindley, Sec. O. R. Hood, Chairman.

The Cherokee County Bar also endorses the candidacy of Colonel R. A. D. Dunlap. adv.

A child of Mrs. G. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath stepped against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great pain and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm in the house she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and valuable for burns, bruises, cuts and sprains. Sold by Williams Bros., Druggists.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unnecessary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. For sale by Williams Bros.

NOTICE.

Mr. S. M. Pickler has bought all the lands in this county that were sold by the state for taxes. I should be glad to have all persons whose lands were sold to the state for taxes to call on me at the court house, or the White House, if they care to redeem their lands, or if the sale of their land was erroneous.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost sure to be lost in case of croup, as a revolver in case of a burglar. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tolu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost as much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is plasant and safe to take. For sale at Williams Bros.

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP. RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

MRS. FRED WEINBERGER.
MR. SILAS S. LINCOLN
HON. JAMES R. GUILL.
MISS ALICE DRESSLER
MISS JEAN COWGILL
JUDGE HORATIO J. GOSS
"The world of medicine recognizes Grip as epidemic catarrh."—Medical Talk.

LA GRIPPE is epidemic catarrh. It spares no class or nationality. The cultured and the ignorant, the aristocrat and the pauper, the masses and the classes are alike subject to la grippe. None are exempt—all are liable.

Have you the grip? Or, rather, has the grip got you? Grip is well named. The original French term, la grippe, has been shortened by the busy American to read "grip." Without intending to do so a new word has been coined that exactly describes the case. As if some hideous giant with awful Grip had clutched us in its fatal clasp. Men, women, children, whole towns and cities are caught in the baneful grip of a terrible monster.

The following letters speak for themselves as to the efficacy of Peruna in cases of la grippe or its after effects.

Mrs. Fred Weinberger, Westerlo, Albany County, N. Y., writes:

"Several years ago I had an attack of la grippe which left my nerves in a prostrated condition. Then I had another attack of la grippe which left me worse. I had tried three good physicians, but all in vain. I gave Peruna a trial. In a short time I was feeling better, and now I am as well as any one."—Mrs. Fred Weinberger.

Hon. James R. Guill, of Omaha.

Hon. James R. Guill is one of the oldest and most esteemed men of Omaha, Neb. He has done much to make it what it is, serving on public boards a number of times. He endorses Peruna in the following words:

"I am 68 years old, am hale and hearty, and Peruna has helped me attain it. Two years ago I had la grippe—my life was despaired of. Peruna saved me."—J. R. Guill.

A Relative of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Silas S. Lincoln, who resides at 913 I Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., has the honor of being third cousin to Abraham Lincoln. He writes:

"I had la grippe five times before using your medicine. Four years ago I began the use of Peruna, since which time I have not been troubled with that disease. I can now do as much work at my desk as I ever could in my life. I have gained more than ten pounds in weight."—S. S. Lincoln.

Pe-ru-na Not Only Cured La Grippe But Benefited the Whole System.

Miss Alice M. Dressler, 1313 N. Bryant Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"Last spring I suffered from la grippe and was partially cured, but the bad after effects remained through the summer, and somehow I did not get strong as I was before. One of my college friends who was visiting me asked me to try Peruna and I did so, and found it all and more than I had expected. It not only cured me of the catarrh, but restored me to perfect health, built up the entire system and brought a happy feeling of buoyancy which I had not known for years."—Alice M. Dressler.

An Actress' Testimonial.

Miss Jean Cowgill, Griswold Opera House, Troy, N. Y., is the leading lady with the Aubrey Stock Co. She writes the following:

"During the past winter of 1901 I suffered for several weeks from a severe attack of grippe, which left a serious catarrhal condition of the throat and head.

"Some one suggested Peruna. As a last resort, after wasting much time and money on physicians, I tried the remedy faithfully, and in a few weeks was as well as ever."—Jean Cowgill.

A Southern Judge Cured.

Judge Horatio J. Goss, Hartwell, Ga., writes:

"Some five or six years ago I had a very severe spell of grippe, which left me with systemic catarrh. A friend advised me to try your Peruna, which I did, and was immediately benefited and cured. The third bottle completed the cure."—H. J. Goss.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

A Few Things You Ought to Know About Manchuria

Area, Square Miles,	362,310
Population,	17,000,000
Exports in Value,	$20,000,000
Size of Army,	60,000
Population of Blagoveschensk, (Largest City),	33,000

In the balance hangs the fate of Manchuria, the rich prize of the East. The world is waiting to behold the snapping of the diplomatic thread that shall settle the question of the power of the Russian in the land of the Mongolian and the Manchurian.

By an agreement, executed April 8, 1902, Russia promised to withdraw from Manchuria in three distinct movements the troops which were sent into that territory at the time of the Boxer troubles, in 1900, for the purpose of protecting the Russian interests in the disturbed territory.

The mooted country embraces an area of 362,310 square miles. It is more than six times the size of England and Wales, about twice the size of all the New England and the Middle States together, and nearly one-fifth the area of the whole kingdom of China. A journey across this country would be equal in length to a trip half way across the United States. It is known as the strategical key of Eastern Asia. It is within easy marching distance of the principal Chinese cities, and commands the entrance to Korea and Northern China by land. The ports of Siberia are frozen for eight months in the year, while those of Manchuria are closed but four months. The winter temperature ranges from ten degrees below zero to about fifty above, and while this closes the inland navigation it seldom affects the seaports.

The present population is 17,000,000 people, composed principally of Chinese, the pure blooded Manchus having nearly disappeared, only about ten per cent. of them remaining.

The northern portion, little known until recently, has been thoroughly explored by the Russians, and is now traversed by the great trans-Manchurian railway. This portion of the country is composed of mountains and highlands, and is dotted with the conic crests of scores of extinct volcanoes.

The great rivers of the country, the Yalu and the Sungari, are navigable for many hundred miles, and along their banks lie throughout the open season fleets of Chinese and Japanese junks, which ply between cities of the two countries.

It is in Manchuria that the larger part of the tobacco used in China is produced. The people of the country also use this product in great quantities, the men and women smoking almost from infancy to old age. Here, too, the wonderful ginseng is produced, which is believed by the Chinese to prolong life and to possess many magical virtues.

The gold deposits of this country are said to be so rich that when developed they will far outstrip the fame of the gold fields of California and Alaska. Silver, lead, copper, iron and coal are also abundant in the mountainous regions of the country, but owing to the non-progressive methods of the Chinese little has been done as yet toward developing the production of these minerals.

In spite of its enormous population Manchuria possesses few large cities, the greater part of the thickly settled districts being little more than a collection of mud huts, in which the people pass a commonplace and oftentimes wretched existence.

The Manchus have already given three Emperors to China. When they conquered the Chinese the great mass of these people remained in China, where they were required to garrison their newly acquired territory.

The descendants of those who stayed at home are scattered from one end of the land to the other. These people are, in appearance, much like the Chinese, though intellectually they are far inferior to the Mongolians.

Every village of the country and every city and town contains among its officials several headsmen, elected by their fellow-villagers and townsmen. The duties of these officials are many and varied. They are, at the same time, the justices of the peace, the coroners, the lawyers and the men who chop off the heads of offenders.

The army of the country consists of about 60,000 drilled troops, over one-half of whom are foreign Chinese soldiers.

Primeval indeed are many parts of this country where the wolves prowl among the forests and the mountain fastnesses are inhabited by bands of prowling bandits, who make their living by preying upon the people of the plains and villages. Even the great trade highways of the provinces are infested with them. Officials are sometimes carried off and held for ransom. These robbers have agents in the principal towns and cities, who keep watch upon the movements of all treasure and rich travelers.

In the construction of the trans-Manchurian railway the Russians have often experienced the greatest difficulty in transporting their silver for the pay of the workmen. As an ostensible protection against these outrages insurance offices have been established throughout the country, where agents for a commission undertake the safe conduct of goods and treasure. Each office supplies the trader with its own distinctive flag, which is planted on each cart in the caravan, and a few armed men are sent as a nominal guard. It is known that these insurance officers have to pay blackmail to the robbers, as the guards are far too weak to resist any determined attack. In some parts of the country brigandage has become a profession, and parents are often heard discussing the feasibility of fitting their sons for the robbers' profession.

When a girl in Manchuria marries she receives a dowry of six dogs, which in a few years by production give an enormous total. In no other part of the world are dog skins to be compared with those of this land either in size, length of hair or quality. Sometimes the flesh of the dog is used by the farmers for food, and the market value of this product enters largely into the profit and loss account of the farm. The animals are to be killed before spring sets in, when their hair is long and warm. Their death is effected not by means of a knife, which might injure the fur, but by strangulation.

The skins are dried and frozen, after which they are sent to market, there to be cured and made into mats and robes.

When the country has been opened up to the proper production of its minerals it is said that Manchuria will have been found to be a second Klondike. Only a short time ago several farmers discovered gold in a certain valley where they quietly dug without informing the authorities. Soon more men were seen to join this little company, and in a short time so great was the rush to this rich alluvial deposit that the officers became suspicious and instituted an investigation, with the result that the discovery of a vast territory of gold became known. Men, poor farmers and laborers, had become rich in a few weeks that they had worked undisturbed. Some of the more lucky had taken $1000 per day.

By an agreement with China and Russia the first sod of the Manchurian railway was cut August 28, 1897. Now through the country runs this modern institution which, it is said, will in the future, make Manchuria one of the foremost strategic and productive countries of the East.

INDIANS' ESTIMATE ON MONEY.

Few Know Its Value and They Do Not Learn by Experience.

Very few of the Indians, particularly those of the Far West, have any idea of the true value of money, nor do they seem to learn by experience, that dearest, though best, of all teachers. A. B. Moore, a live stock dealer of Kansas City, who was at the Raleigh last night, told a story to illustrate the truth of this statement.

In 1897 Mr. Moore said he grazed 10,000 sheep in the Ponca Indian country. The latter part of the summer the water gave out on his range, and his only show was to buy a right of way to the river over lands owned by an old Ponca Indian. He took one of his herders, who had had some experience with the Indians, along with him and went to see the old Indian.

When Mr. Moore made his business known as best he could he grunted and pointed to his squaw. She very promptly placed the price of water privileges over their land at $1 a head for all stock. That would be $10,000, and Mr. Moore was ready to drop dead, when the herder said: "Show her some money and keep on talking." Mr. Moore expected to be scalped right there, but he took four big silver dollars from down deep in his trousers pockets and offered the Indian woman that amount for the privilege to water his sheep. There was a smile that started at the corner of her mouth and passed all over her face. She pointed to the river and said: "Sheep drink in Indian's river." The squaw told the old Indian to get the ponies and they rode over to the agency and signed the lease in the presence of the agent, or rather made their mark. The Indian woman got the $4, and the sheep enjoyed the clear water of the river the remainder of the summer.—Washington Star.

Mountain Railway to Simla.

After this year Mr. Rudyard Kipling's Simla will hardly know itself any more, for the rattle of "the tinkling tonga bar" will no longer be heard on the winding mountain road that leads from Kalka to Simla. A mountain railway has now been constructed to Simla, and the first train has already performed the journey, though on his departure for the Punjab States and the Persian Gulf, Lord Curzon went down for the last time by tonga. The rate of the speed is still restricted to ten miles an hour, as the engine is liable to leave the metals, and at that rate of progress the vacuum brakes bring it to a stop immediately. This is only the second mountain railway in India, the other being at Darjeeling; but the Simla line is on a broader gauge and on a more ambitious scale in the matter of cuttings and tunnels. Another mountain line, however, has been proposed for some years past through the Dehra Dun Calley up to the hill station at Mussoorie, and it is likely soon to be carried into effect.—London Chronicle.

A Few Homely Children.

It does not require any genius or talent to abuse a man; but it does to give him credit for what he actually is worth.

The man who is proof against temptation is the only one who is safe—but who is the man?

Thanks are cheap and yet we can pay more than half our debts with them.

There are a hundred different ways to tell a lie—but there is only one way to tell the truth.

There is perhaps only one excuse for telling our sorrow; it makes others satisfied with their own.

There is always a penalty for being successful. You must be hated by some, feared by many, at best envied by all.—Kansas City Journal.

Machines That Think.

The sewing of buttons on shoes and on garments is no longer done by hand in modern factories. There is a machine that sews 5300 buttons on garments in nine hours—or more than eight expert sewers could do in the same time. This machine requires no expert operator. A boy or a girl runs it.

And in one insurance office, where it was formerly necessary for a force of clerks to copy names on reference cards to be filed in various places one clerk now writes the name on a single card with metallic ink, clamps it in a holder with a number of blank cards and flashes an X-ray through the packet. Thus, by a single motion one man writes, or rather prints, all the cards.—World's Work.

Mrs. Hughson, of Chicago, whose letter follows, is another woman in high position who owes her health to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was fitful, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of your advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly all they are claimed to be."—MRS. M. E. HUGHSON, 347 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Pinkham Tells How Ordinary Tasks Produce Displacements.

Apparently trifling incidents in woman's daily life frequently produce displacements of the womb. A slip on the stairs, lifting during menstruation, standing at a counter, running a sewing machine, or attending to the most ordinary tasks may result in displacement, and a train of serious evils is started.

The first indication of such trouble should be the signal for quick action. Don't let the condition become chronic through neglect or a mistaken idea that you can overcome it by exercise or leaving it alone.

More than a million women have regained health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs you nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

Mrs. Lelah Stowell, 177 Wellington St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—You are indeed a godsend to women, and if they all knew what you could do for them, there would be no need of their dragging out miserable lives in agony.

"I suffered for years with bearing-down pains, womb trouble, nervousness, and excruciating headache, but a few bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made life look new and promising to me. I am light and happy, and I do not know what sickness is, and I now enjoy the best of health."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can always be relied upon to restore health to women who thus suffer. It is a sovereign cure for the worst forms of female complaints,—that bearing-down feeling, weak back, falling and displacement of the womb, inflammation of the ovaries, and all troubles of the uterus or womb. It dissolves and expels tumors from the uterus in the early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. It subdues excitability, nervous prostration, and tones up the entire female system. Its record of cures is the greatest in the world, and should be relied upon with confidence.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

The United States now has three cities of more than a million inhabitants, but the fourth, St. Louis, has about 600,000.

Savings deposits in Chicago banks have passed the $100,000,000 mark. In the past year they have increased more than $22,000,000.

Better Salaries for Teachers.

Perhaps no more satisfactory Christmas present could have been devised than that which was enjoyed by the 3,800 school teachers of Philadelphia, who have just reached the successful climax of their brief and spirited campaign for higher salaries. A substantial increase will shortly be made all along the line from high school to kindergarten, not omitting the janitors of school buildings, who, it appears, get an additional ten per cent. While the new schedule just passed by the Philadelphia Councils places the nomination of Philadelphia teachers on a considerably higher plane than before, it is to be noted that it is still behind the standard of wages awarded in Boston and other cities. But the prompt and cordial response of the Councils, impelled by public sentiment, may be looked on as an indication that better things are in store for the teachers in Philadelphia public schools whenever they shall arise in their might and demand adequate pecuniary recognition for good work done.

Extension of Montgomery's city limits has been declared constitutional by the supreme court.

A WOMAN'S MISERY.

Mrs. John LaRue, of 115 Paterson Avenue, Paterson, N. J., says: "I was troubled for about nine years, and what I suffered no one will ever know. I used about every known remedy that is said to be good for kidney complaint, but without deriving permanent relief. Often when alone in the house the back ache has been so bad that it brought tears to my eyes. The pain at times was so intense that I was compelled to give up my household duties and lie down. There were headaches, dizziness and blood rushing to my head to cause bleeding at the nose. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me so much that I continued the treatment. The stinging pain in the small of my back, the rushes of blood to the head and other symptoms disappeared."

Ruskin as a Gardener.

Fond as Ruskin was of flowers, especially wild ones, he had his own ideas as to what a garden ought to be, and in his practical gardening was quite a landscapist. He liked making paths and contriving pretty nooks. When he first came to Brantwood he would have his coppice cut no more. It spindled up to great tall steps, slender and sinuous, promising no timber, and past the age for all commercial use or time honored wont. Neighbors shook their heads, but they did not know the pictures of Botticelli, and Ruskin had made his coppice into an early Italian altar piece. Then he had the espalier of apples and a little goosberry patch and a few standard fruit trees and some strawberries mixed with flowers. In one corner there were beehives in the old fashioned pent house trailed over with creepers. Here and there were little hummocks, each with its special interest of fern or flowers.

RUSSIA PROCLAIMS WAR

The Variag and Korietz Destroyed After an Hour's Fight.

ENGAGEMENT OFF CHEMULPO

In a Manifesto to His People the Czar Declares He Used Every Endeavor to Preserve Peace—The Poltava and the Novik Aground at Port Arthur—The Mikado Directing the War.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—The Czar has issued a manifesto making an official declaration of war. The text follows:

"To all my dear subjects: I declare that we were anxious to preserve peace, so dear to all hearts, and made the utmost efforts to preserve peace in the Far East. We expressed our willingness to revise the existing treaty between the two empires regarding Korean affairs. The negotiations, however, were not carried to a conclusion, for Japan, without awaiting the receipt of our last reply and the proposals which we had forwarded to Tokio, informed us of her intention to discontinue the negotiations and to break off diplomatic relations with us, without considering that such rupture means the commencement of war. After the receipt of a report from our Governor of the attack on Port Arthur we immediately ordered him to reply to the Japanese challenge with our arms, and we hereby make known our decision."

The Czar's manifesto concludes with an expression of trust in the help of the Almighty and a prayer for success in the conflict.

Japan's Ships Sweep the Sea.

London, England.—Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Minister here, has received official confirmation from Tokio of the destruction at Chemulpo of the Russian first class cruiser Variag and the third class cruiser Korietz.

The text of the official dispatch received by Baron Hayashi is as follows:

"A Japanese squadron escorting transports met on the way to Chemulpo, Korea, the Russian gunboat Korietz as the latter was coming out of port. The Korietz took up an offensive attitude toward the Japanese vessels, and fired on the Japanese torpedo boats. The latter discharged two torpedoes ineffectively, and then the Korietz returned to her anchorage in the port.

"The following day Admiral Urik, commanding the Japanese squadron, formally called on the Russian warships to leave Chemulpo before noon. The Admiral added that if his demand was not complied with he would be compelled to attack them in the harbor.

"The two Russian warships left the port at about 11.30 a. m., and a battle ensued outside the Polynesian Islands. After about an hour's engagement the Russian warships sought refuge among the islands.

"Toward the evening the Russian cruiser Variag sank, and about 4 a. m., February 10, the Korietz was reported also sunk, having been blown up.

"The officers and men of the two sunken vessels sought refuge on the French cruiser Pascal."

The Russian cruiser Diana was injured by a shot from the Russian shore battery at Port Arthur, and the cruiser Novik and the battleship Poltava have also been beached at Port Arthur.

Five large Russian steamers, among them the Ekaterinoslav, fitted up as an auxiliary cruiser, and the Argun, belonging to the Chinese Eastern Railways Company, were captured by Japanese warships and taken into Saseho. Several whalers were also taken.

Outburst of Patriotism.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—There was a great patriotic demonstration here. An immense procession of all classes, headed by choristers, and carrying National flags, paraded the streets to the Winter Palace, where the National anthem and other patriotic songs were sung.

There the procession moved to the barracks of the Pavlosky Regiment, and afterward to the French Embassy, where in response to the demonstration Mme. Bombard, wife of the French Ambassador, and General Kouropatkin, Russian Minister of War, who happened to be visiting the Embassy, went on a balcony and were enthusiastically cheered.

Later the procession went to the Anitchkoff Palace to serenade and cheer the Dowager Czarina.

A Russian version of "The Geisha," which was being performed here, has been withdrawn owing to the hostile demonstrations against it.

In consequence of rumors based on doubtful statements by foreign news agencies and newspapers, concerning a naval battle at Chemulpo, the landing of Japanese troops in Korea, incidents on the Manchurian railway and similar reports, the general staff declared that no news confirmatory of such reports had reached St. Petersburg.

Japan Lost No Ships.

Washington, D. C. — The Japanese Minister gave out the following telegram, which is the substance of Admiral Togo's official report to the Government at Tokio of the attack on Port Arthur:

"Japanese combined squadron left Sasebo in command of Admiral Togo on February 6, and on midnight of the 8th Japanese torpedo flotilla attacked with success the Russian fleet at Port Arthur, and again at 10 o'clock the following morning for forty minutes. The Russian fleet fled into the harbor. Two Russian battleships and one cruiser were damaged by torpedoes. The firing was ceased at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

"Japanese ships were but slightly damaged and none has lost its fighting power.

"Casualties were fifty-eight, four of which were killed and others wounded.

"Imperial princes are all safe. After battle the Japanese officers and men are high spirited and behaved with great calmness as if they were in ordinary manoeuvres."

The number of the imperial princes on board the Japanese ships is not known here, but the naval attache of the legation is of the opinion that three of them were with the squadron.

Russians Made Brave Fight.

London.—Later accounts of the engagement with the Variag and Korietz at Chemulpo indicate that the Russians made a brave fight against an immensely superior force. The engagement was watched by thousands of persons on shore, who had gathered in anticipation of a collision.

The Korietz was utterly overmatched. The broadsides from the Japanese vessels raked her continuously until she sank. Many of her crew were killed by shells or drowned. Those of the survivors who swam ashore were captured by Japanese soldiers.

As the cruiser Variag was steaming out of the harbor she was met by a hail of shells and her mast speedily fell. Her crew fought with desperate energy for several hours.

According to one report after she had taken refuge among the Polynesian Islands her captain ordered the crew to save themselves and then himself blew up his ship.

Mikado Directing the War.

Tokio, Japan.—The Emperor is taking an energetic part in the direction of the campaign. He is in constant communication with the Ministers. He is at his desk from sunrise until far into the night.

All the Provincial Governors have been summoned here to receive instructions. It is stated unofficially that a large Japanese force has reached Seoul.

Destroyed By a Mine.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—A report has been received from Viceroy Alexieff, saying that the Russian torpedo transport Yenisei has been blown up as the result of accidentally striking a mine at Port Arthur. The Yenisei sank and Captain Stepanoff, three officers and ninety-one men were lost.

Big Bank Failure.

The banking firm of Stephan, Lauerman & Sohn, of Bremen, Germany, has failed. The assets are estimated at $250,000, and the liabilities at $1,500,000. Besides Bremen, the principal places affected are New York, London and Paris.

Four Killed by Locomotive.

Wealthy Negro Shot.

During a gambling quarrel, "Jim" Ray, a leading negro politician and reputed to have been the wealthiest negro in St. Louis, was shot and killed in a pistol battle in which thirty shots were fired.

Thirteen Killed in Wreck.

Thirteen persons were killed and many score injured in a collision between two passenger trains on the Canadian Pacific, near Sand Point, Ont.

PLAN A NEW BALTIMORE

MANY MERCHANTS RESUME

Modern and Up-to-Date Structures Will Arise on the Sites of the Destroyed Houses—Total Loss is Now Estimated at $125,000,000—State to Lend City $21,000,000.

Baltimore, Md.—Out of the ashes which cover the 140 acres of burned business houses, a new and better Baltimore will arise, modern and up-to-date in every respect. The whole city has been roused to the necessity of pushing forward the resurrection of the revived district. The undertaking will be one of the most prodigious in the whole range of municipal history. The magnitude of this work may be realized when it is estimated that the mere cleaning away of the debris will cost about $2,000,000.

While the ruins of Baltimore's financial districts are still smoking, bankers and merchants and all other business men are laying their plans for building new offices and stores. Construction companies of this and other cities have scores of agents at work soliciting contracts for replacing the buildings razed by the great fire, and in the temporary quarters of all the homeless mercantile institutions arrangements are being perfected for reviving the blackened centre of the city's business.

Incidental to the plans for rebuilding the burned district is a scheme for widening some of the city's streets. It is planned by the city officials to urge widening Baltimore street, turning Market place into a public square, and widening Light street. The matter will be taken up by the authorities very soon, and it may be that the plan will include condemning several blocks for park purposes.

The insurance men have conferred and place the damages at $125,000,000. The insurance losses are reckoned at from $50,000,000 to $90,000,000.

Street improvements are contemplated in the burned district, and H. C. Timanus, President of the second branch of the City Council, is authority for the statement that the State Legislature will be asked to lend $21,000,000 for that purpose.

Definite plans for rehabilitation and relief are expected in a few days. Governor Edwin Warfield, who is President of the Fidelity and Deposit Company, one of the few financial institutions to escape the fire, said:

"I have appointed a committee of five financiers and lawyers to draft such relief legislation in the way of extending credit as may be thought desirable. All apprehension of any great financial distress in Baltimore is absolutely unfounded."

Commission men and grocers say that their supplies are entirely adequate for immediate needs and that no reputable house in town will take advantage of the situation by raising prices. Numerous offers of financial aid have been received from out of town by members of the National Association of Commission Merchants, and their help will enable them to start their business anew in a very short time.

Meanwhile the merchants say they are in a position to take all orders that come to them. Many of the larger houses, especially those with a big Southern clientele, already have secured offices and are doing their shipping on a large scale, although under difficulties.

Vegetables, eggs and butter are coming in just as usual, according to the produce dealers, and the local tradesmen say they have overcome the first uneasiness on the part of small shippers outside of the city, who were a little timid about sending their shipments here just after the fire. Fresh and salted meats, it is announced, will continue at the same prices, and sugar and coffee have undergone no change.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

FEBRUARY 11TH.

The senate was in executive session more than four hours, and after the agreement to vote on the treaty had been reached, nearly the entire time was devoted to general discussion of the encroachment of the senate and the president on each others' prerogatives under the constitution.

The house, by a vote of 172 to 103, concurred in the senate amendment to the urgent deficiency appropriation bill authorizing a loan of $4,600,000 by the government to the Louisiana Purchase exposition, after amending it with respect to the manner in which the money shall be paid.

When the house convened Mr. Foss, of Illinois, chairman of the naval affairs committee, reported the naval appropriation bill. In part, it reads:

"The committee recommends the construction of more than the usual number of cruisers, in view of the fact that last year we provided for five large battle ships. This will give a better proportion to our navy.

"If we judge public sentiment rightly, it is in favor of the continued policy of building up our navy. If we stopped now, we would be left behind the leading countries of the world.

"To complete all the ships authorized up to the present time, including their constructions and machinery, armor, armament and equipment, will cost $82,718,659."

The following bills were passed:

Relating to applications, declaratory statements, entries and final proofs under the homestead and other land laws, and to confirm the same in certain cases.

FEBRUARY 12TH.

The senate listened to the reading by Mr. Carmack of a speech prepared by Mr. Morgan in opposition to the president's policy with reference to an isthmian canal, and also considered the bill appropriating $200,000 to ex-Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii. Speeches in support of the bill were made by Mr. Blackburn and Mr. Mitchell, and in opposition by Mr. Spooner and Mr. Platt, of Connecticut.

Mr. Spooner moved to recommit the measure, but the vote on this motion failed to display a quorum, and the senate was forced to adjourn.

Senator Martin presented the credentials of his colleague, Mr. Daniel, as senator from Virginia for the term beginning March 4, 1905.

Adjourned till Monday.

Speaker Cannon broke all previous records in the dispatch of private pension bills. Under his guidance 320 of these measures of relief were passed by the house in 155 minutes. Nearly the whole of this time was consumed in committee of the whole.

The house passed the bills "en bloc" under unanimous consent, which the speaker himself asked for. About half of the bills were disposed of under this request without amendment.

FEBRUARY 15TH.

The suspense concerning the condition of Senator Hanna had appreciable effect on the senate and the proceedings were marked by an unusual listlessness and depression.

There were no speeches on any subject and more attention was given to the frequent bulletins announcing the condition of the senator than to matters of legislation. The entire time ofthe legislative session was devoted to routine business.

The senate in executive session agreed to vote on the Panama treaty and all its amendments on February 23d.

The bill to pay $150,000 to ex-Queen Lilioukalani failed to pass the senate, the vote being 26 to 26.

The conference report on the urgent deficiency appropriation bill was presented and agreed to. The following bills passed:

Providing for the payment of $8000 to Jean Louis Legaire on account of his service in returning Sitting Bull and his followers from Canada to the United States after the Custer battle in Montana.

Providing for the compensation of officers and men of the army who lost effects in a cyclone at Galveston and a hurricane in Porto Rico in 1900.

Amending the laws relating to the sale of detached lots of the public lands.

The Tennessee River Improvement association, through a large delegation from northern Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee was given a hearing Monday morning by the rivers and harbors committee. Among the speakers were Representatives Richardson and Burnett, of Alabama and Judge Thomas R. Roulhac. Governor McMillin, of Tennessee, concluded the hearing with an eloquent plea for the policy of improving the Tennessee river.

Several parties of American citizens commemorated the sixth anniversary of the destruction of the United States battleship Maine at Havana. The wreck was decorated with red, white and blue and draped with black. There was a brief memorial address. The flag on the American shipping in the harbor was at half-mast.

Superintendent Kline, of the Central of Georgia railroad, left an estate of $17,000.

M. A. HANNA DEAD

His Passing Away is Universally Regretted.

Senator Marcus Alonzo Hanna died at 6:40 Monday evening at the family apartment in the Arlington hotel, Washington, after an illness extending over nearly two months, filled with apparent recoveries, followed by relapses and finally drifting into typhoid fever, which he was unable to withstand. When the end came all the members of the senator's family were in the room except Mrs. Hanna, the senator's wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hanna.

For the last two days Senator Hanna had not been conscious except at intervals, and then only to obey mechanically some instruction given him by the physicians. Fourteen hours before the end was announced life had practically suspended, the flickering spark being kept aglow by the most powerful scientific agencies.

The courage which had been displayed by Mrs. Hanna was the subject of the greatest surprise. She had been in almost constant attendance on her husband, though realizing fully there was no hope for recovery.

His Last Words.

The last intelligible words spoken by the senator were pathetic in his attempt to maintain to the last the humor which was characteristic of his life. The nurse, anticipating a want, asked if he was looking for his handkerchief.

"I think my wife has my handkerchief," the senator whispered.

Members of the family eager for any sign of consciousness or recognition which the senator might display, were told of the remark, and they recognized it as one of his favorite rejoinders in good-natured plaguing in which Mr. and Mrs. Hanna often indulged. It was the senator's custom when he missed any article, especially his handkerchief, to say: "I expect my wife has it."

The Funeral.

There will be an official funeral in the senate chamber at noon Wednesday, the body lying in state in the senate marble room in the morning. After the services special trains over the Pennsylvania railroad will carry the body, the family and friends to Cleveland, where services will be held at either the home of Senator Hanna or his son Dan Hanna, Friday. It is likely Bishop Leonard, of the northern diocese of Ohio, of the Episcopal church, will conduct the services.

Both houses of congress will adjourn immediately upon the announcement of the death of Senator Hanna. No business will be transacted in either house. As soon as the senate meets, Senator Foraker will announce the death of his colleague, Senator Hanna, and will offer resolutions of regret and for a committee to take charge of the funeral arrangements. A committee consisting of twenty senators will be named by President Pro Tem Frye and the sergeant at arms will be directed to make the necessary arrangements for the funeral services, both in Washington and at Cleveland.

President Roosevelt called at the Arlington personally to express his condolence to the members of the late Senator Hanna's family. He saw Mrs. Hanna, H. M. Hanna, the senator's brother, and Dan R. Hanna, his son, and remained with them for some time.

When it was known there was no chance for recovery arrangements were made to have a death mask taken by Sculptor U. S. J. Dunbar. The cast will be perfect and show the face in its usual fullness. The senator's face shows little emaciation, and owing to the constant use of oxygen, had taken on what appeared to be a coat of tan, which gave it almost a lifelike appearance.

Representative Maynard, of Virginia, introduced a bill appropriating $3,000,000 for an exposition to be held near Jamestown, Va., in celebration of the first permanent settlement of English-speaking people made at Jamestown May 13, 1607.

Stepped Down and Out.

Representative Shafroth, democrat, of Colorado, whose seat is being contested by Robert Boyne, of Denver, voluntarily withdrew all claim to the seat and asked the house to unseat him. He alleged that the frauds in voting were not by his connivance, but he was convinced that he would not have been elected without them. He was warmly applauded on both sides of the chamber.

At the first meeting of the new Mississippi state board of health Dr. B. F. Ward, of Winona, was elected president, and Dr. J. Hunter, of Jackson, re-elected secretary.

Veteran Killed by the Cars.

John Reed, a confederate veteran about 70 years old, was run over and killed at the union station at Anniston, Ala., Monday morning by a train. Mr. Reed was waiting for the train which backs into the station. He was deaf and never heard its approach until too late. He lived an hour and a half after the accident. His death was due to internal injuries.

Denmark Will Defend Herself.

The British government has inquired if the Danish government is prepared to defend Denmark's neutrality, especially the important sea routes. Denmark replied in effect:

"We will defend ourselves."

The construction placed on this inquiry is that Great Britain appreciates the danger of Russia occupying Danish fortresses in the event of complications with Great Britain and Russia over the far eastern question.

In consequence of the possibility of such an outcome the Danish war department has ordered the army reserves to be ready for mobilization throughout Denmark within twelve hours.

In a Cave.

In a cave in an out of the way ravine north of Phoenix City, Ala., Marshal Campbell, of that town, found a burglar for whom he has been searching for several days.

He is Sam Carter, a negro who burglarized a Phoenix City home several days ago. The burglar had installed himself comfortably in the cave, where were stored the stolen articles.

A telegram from Birmingham asked the officer to hold the negro, as he is thought to be a person wanted in that city for burglary.

$1,000,000 for Improvements.

The board of directors of the Birmingham Railway, Light and Power company at a special meeting decided to call a meeting of the stockholders of the company for March 21st for the purpose of considering the proposition of negotiating a loan of $1,000,000 for the purpose of improving the system.

Students Fight.

James Wise, of Choctaw county, and Howard Hendricks, of Arkansas, both students in the Millsaps college, Miss., had a difficulty in the dormitory Sunday afternoon. Wise was knocked in the head and Hendricks seriously stabbed in the stomach.

One Company Gone Under.

Richard F. Post was appointed a receiver for the Peabody Fire Insurance company, of Baltimore. The company lost $700,000 by reason of the fire and it had assets of only $300,000.

It is officially announced that Lord Roberts has retired from the war office, but that at the special request of Premier Balfour he has consented to place his services at the disposal of the legislative session was devoted The duke of Connaught has been appointed inspector general under the new army reform scheme.

The death of Marcus A. Hanna has brought out a number of long obituary articles in the London papers and in the editorial comment on his death tribute is paid to his marvelous power as a political organizer.

Up to date 503 bills have been introduced in the Mississippi house and only forty have received enrollment and the signature of the speaker. In the senate the number of bills introduced is 268.

Representative Richardson has secured the appointment of assistant in the chemical laboratory of the agricultural department for Professor Percy H. Walker, formerly of Huntsville, Ala.

A Dallas county, Alabama, grand juror has just voted against himself in the finding of a true bill.

The marquis of Queensberry died Monday.

The St. James Budget, an English magazine, prints a new government report, which is creating a great stir in England. This report shows that, while American trade is steadily going up, British trade is going down. In the last twelve years the value of the goods we send to England has increased $148,641,000, and the value of the goods England sends to us has decreased $48,105,000. American products, it seems, are so attractive to the English people that they cannot resist buying them, even though they believe that the preference should be given to goods "made in England." At the end of the report is a fact that goes far to explain the commercial supremacy of the United States. After making an investigation with regard to the wages paid in fifteen skilled trades in both countries, it has been found that the average weekly wage in England is only $10.08, while in America it is $18. What could prove better than this report that a high wage country can always beat a low-wage country in the race for trade? A ten-dolar-a-week nation can never compete with an eighteen-dollar-a-week nation, and England will never level up her foreign trade until she levels up her wages. The highly paid worker is the cheapest in the end. "The work done by slaves is the dearest of any," said Adam Smith. Commercial supremacy is won by high grade goods, and high grade goods can only be made by high grade, well paid workers. It is costing England billions to teach the world this lesson in economics.

Iron Manufacture.

The Republic Iron and Steel Company have completed the repairing of their No. 3 furnace at Thomas, the work of relining and other improving being done in exactly fifty days, a record. The torch will be applied in the next few days.. Their No. 1 furnace is also nearing completion, this iron-maker being practically rebuilt. It is intended to start up this furnace about March 1 or a little later. The No. 2 furnace, which has been in blast right along, has been making from 240 to 255 tons of iron daily. The new furnace of the Alabama Steel and Wire Company at Gadsden, which was blown in a few weeks ago, is doing well. The Sloss-Sheeld Steel and Iron Company has six of its seven furnaces in operation. Their make for the month of January footed up 33,550 tons of iron.

All rail freight rates to the east were recently adjudicated and an advance of 25 cents is reported in some circles, though there is no general complaint made.

Thompson Objects.

Representative C. W. Thompson, of Alabama, called at the postoffice department to enter further protest against the establishment of a postoffice at the Tuskegee school of Booker T. Washington. The postoffice at Tuskegee is a few hundred yards from the school, where a sub-station has been established, and it is declared by Representative Thompson that the mail facilities are already sufficient for the needs of the school, and the establishment of a new office is entirely unnecessary. The Tuskegee office is now of the second class and the establishment of a new office cutting into the receipts would reduce the compensation of the postmaster. The postmaster general is inclined to agree with Mr. Thompson, but the pressure is pretty strong for a new office, with a relation of Washington's at its head.

For Relief of the College.

Congressman Richardson has introduced a bill in congress for appropriating $60,000 for the relief of LaGrange college, which was destroyed in 1863 by the federal troops, the building, a fine library and laboratory being burned. Captain P. N. G. Rand, of Leighton, Ala., is the only surviving trustee of the college. Professor A. A. McGregor, of Town creek, Ala., is now writing a series of articles treating of the college prior to its destruction. The college was never rebuilt.

It is announced on what is claimed to be good authority that the Cahaba Valley railroad will be constructed within the next eighteen months and that preparations are now being completed looking to this end. The road will connect all the mines and plants in the mineral district adjacent to Selma, Ala.

New Colony in Alabama.

The land and industrial department of the Southern railway and Mobile and Ohio railroad announce land purchase in Alabama for development and colonization purposes.

A syndicate of Iowa, Illinois and Arkansas capitalists have purchased at Yellow Pine, Ala., mills forty miles of railroad and 60,000 acres of land. The lands are valuable for fruit raising and agriculture and the syndicate has perfected plans to settle them with northwestern farmers as fast as the timber is cut. Several thousand acres are now available and colonization will start at once.

What For?

Somewhat extraordinary orders received at the Brooklyn navy yard led to the rumor that the department is preparing to send the battleship Iowa to the far east. The rumors were caused by the receipt of orders to replace the guns on the Iowa that were damaged during recent tests by two guns of a similar size from the battleship Indiana, which is at present out of commission.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Bastord, of Polesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that semedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chambertain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with persuccess. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt reliefr" For sale at J. W. Bandy Drug Co's store.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The County Executive Committee Meet and Order a Primary for April 11. The Bars Let Down to the Ground.

The County Democratic Executive Committee met at the court house on Tuesday at one o'clock p. m. The following beats were represented, 1, 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 15, 16, 17, and 19. Hon. J. R White tendered his resignation as chairman of the committee stating as a reason for the same that his health was such as to not admit of his taking upon himself the duties of the primary and the responsiblities of the campaign which would follow. J. T. Leeper Esq., was unanimously selected to succeed Mr. White.

A resolution calling a primary election for April 11 1904 was adopted. All white qualified electors of the county who believe in the principle of the Democratic Party are cordially invited to participate in the primary, and they are not required to pledge themselves to support the nominees of the party, but their participation in the primary will be taken as a sufficient guarantee that they will support the nominees.

A sub-committee of five was appointed to prepare a plan, rules and regulations under which the primary shall be held, the same to be in harmony with the plan adopted by the State Executive Committee. To this sub-committee is entrusted all the details of the work pertaining to the primary, including the arranging of the ballots, having them distributed, getting up the election supplies etc., the expenses of the same to be paid for by the sub-committee out of money to be raised by an assessment of the candidates.

The members of the committee reported a good feeling existing between all classes of the citizens of the county, regardless of party. The meeting was characterized so by a spirit of harmony, and evidently all were imbued with the idea that a grand and glorious victory will be achieved in Novem ber next.

THE OLIVE BRANCH EXTENDED.

The action of the committee in cordially inviting all white qualified voters who believes in the principles of the democratic party to participate the Democratic primary on April 11, was a wise and broad action, and we believe will be productive of good and lasting results to the party in the county.

There are a great many people in the county who have for several years been voting the pop ulist ticket who are, at heart, good democrats. In other words, they believe in the principles of the democratic party. They were cut off from the regular party in split which occurred from the party in the days of Kobism. They have never renounced their innate democratic principles.

Several things have conspired to keep them from voting with the democratic party. First and foremost, the populist leaders in the county have used their every effort, from the beginning, to keep their prejudices excited against the democratic party. They go back for near a quarter of a century, and bring up old matters that have been buried for years, and ought to be allowed to remain buried. All of this is for the purpose of keeping themselves in office. The masses of people who have been following these leaders, we believe, have because disgusted, and will no longer be influenced by them.

They are tired out at it—surfeited. We believe many of these will come into the democratic primary and vote the democratic ticket, and then in November will join hands with victors in putting out of office those who have proven themselves so unworthy of the trust that have been reposed in them. Good men have announced for the various offices and we feel that many populist will take pleasure in assisting to nominating them, then still greater pleasure in assisting to elect them in November next

A Card of Thanks.

Editor Chronicle we wish to thank the people through the columns of your valuable paper, for their contribution to the cemetery fund that the undersigned collected. I heard that Wild Bill was the escort of Miss—— Sunday though he denied it to me.

We saw several valentines floating around Sunday, but up to this writing we haven't been so fortunate as to get any.

Several of the boys with Wild Bill throwed in for good measure are now candidates subject to the action of the fair sex.

Our clever merchant, J. E. Adams is a candidate fortax collector subject to the action of the democratic primary to be held April 11. We have known Mr. Adams for a number of years and have found him to be an upright, energetic, honest and above all a Christian man. In business we have found him not wanting in anything. He is a gentleman who has the affairs of the county county at heart. If he so fortunate to win the office which he seeks he will serve the people to the best of his ability, and for their interest. Mr. Adams has been in the mercantile business here for years and therefore we know from what we talk and take pleasure in tesifying to his competency and fitness to fill the office of tax collector. We hope the voters will take pleasure in casting their votes for him.

A return engagement of the pleasure giving Merry-Go-Round is announced for Shelby, Ala., one week beginning February 15th. It is the same flyer that visited Columbiana and Shelby a few weeks since, only it is now under the management of the May Bros., of Shelby, who purchased the machine while at Calera, Ala. The Merry Go Round will remain in Shelby for one week only, as the new proprietors have a contract to join a Carnival Company playing northward and their return to Shelby is by request. This will give to the people of Shelby and vicinity, one more opportunity to enjoy themselves on the Prince of amusement provides—The Fying Jenny.

Dunlap for Ceancellor.

Gadsden, Ala., Jan. 8, 1904.

The members of the Gadsden bar met in the office of Boykin & Brindley Monday evening, Jan. 4. Upon motion the chairman appointed a committee consisting of W. J. Boykin, J. B. Martin and Judge J. A. Bilbro to prepare suitable resolutions regarding the candidacy of Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap for Chancellor of the Northern Division. The committee reported the following resolutions:

Whereas, We are advised that the Hon. R. B. Kelley, chancellor of the northeaster chancery division will not by reason of his candidacy for associate justice of our supreme court, aspire to succeed himself as chancellor; and

Whereas, our fellow townsman and leading member of our local bar, Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap, has kindly yielded to the earnest solicitation of the members of the Gadsden bar as well as of leading lawyers, democrats throughout the northeastern division, and will enter the field as a candidate for chancellor. Therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st, That we take great pleasure in commending the Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap to the democracy of the northeastern chancery division, as a suitable man for chancellor; he is democrat true and tried, a lawyer of learning and great research, capable, worthy and well qualified to discharge with credit to himself and honor to the people the responsible duties of the office to which he aspires.

2nd. That it gives us, the members of the Gadsden bar, great pleasure to unanimously and enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Col. R. A. D. Dunlap; pledging our united and individual efforts in his behalf, and we earnestly solicit the aid of friends and acquaintances and brother lawyers and democrats throughout the division to secure the nomination of this worthy gentleman, for we assure those who help us that Col. Dunlap is a hard working, painstaking, sober, honest, upright Christian gentleman, and if nominated and elected chancellor, he will bring to the office his best efforts and we feel safe in assuring all who honor him with their support they will never have cause to regret their action.

W. J. BOYKIN,
J. B. MARTIN,
J. A. BILBRO.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted and, after transacting other business, the meeting adjourned.
A. R. Brindley, Sec. O. R. Hood, Chairman.

The Cherokee County Bar also endorses the candidacy of Colonel R. A. D. Dunlap. adv.

When You Have a Cold.

The first action when you have a cold should be to relieve the lungs. This is best accomplished by the free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy liquiffes the tough mucus and causes its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs, produces a free expectoration, and opens the secretions. A complete cure soon follows. This remedy will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment and it leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. It counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. For sale at Bandy Drug Co.

WHAT ARE THEY?—Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. A new remedy for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation, and a good one. Price 25 cents. For sale by J. W. Bandy Drug Co.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unnecessary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. FOR THIRTY YEARS

CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own State but throughout America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the State.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh, with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unconquered foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. At last Peruna came to the rescue, and he dictated the following letter to Dr. Hartman as the result:

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."--David Meekison, ex-Member of Congress.

THE season of catching cold is upon us. The cough and the sneeze and nasal twang are to be heard on every hand. The origin of chronic catarrh, the most common and dreadful of diseases, is a cold.

This is the way the chronic catarrh generally begins. A person catches cold, which hangs on longer than usual. The cold generally starts in the head and throat. Then follows sensitiveness of the air passages which incline one to catch cold very easily. At last the person has a cold all the while seemingly, more or less discharge from the nose, hawking, spitting, frequent clearing of the throat, nostrils stopped up, full feeling in the head and sore, inflamed throat.

The best time to treat catarrh is at the very beginning. A bottle of Peruna properly used never fails to cure a common cold, thus preventing chronic catarrh.

While many people have been cured of chronic catarrh by a single bottle of Peruna, yet, as a rule, when the catarrh becomes thoroughly fixed, more than one bottle is necessary to complete a cure. Peruna has cured cases innumerable of catarrh of twenty years' standing. It is the best, if not the only internal remedy for chronic catarrh in existence.

But prevention is far better than cure. Every person subject to catching cold should take Peruna at once at the slightest symptom of cold or sore throat at this season of the year and thus prevent what is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh.

Mrs. A. Snedeker, Cartersville, Ga., writes:

"I saw that your catarrh remedy, Peruna, was doing others so much good that I thought I would try it and see what it would do for me. My case is an old one, and I have none of the acute symptoms now, because I have had the disease so long that I had none of the aches and pains, but a general run-down condition of the whole body—sore nose and throat and stomach. I had a good appetite, but my food did not nourish my system. I had come down from 140 to about 75 pounds in weight. I now feel that I am well of all my troubles."—Mrs. A. Snedeker.

HAS NO STOMACH.

William Noss Suffers No Inconvenience from the Removal of His.

A dispatch from Sioux City, Iowa, says: William Noss, a farmer, left the Samaritan hospital to return to his home without a stomach, feeling well and strong and weighing fifteen pounds more than he did three weeks ago.

The remarkable operation of removing the stomach was performed at the Samaritan hospital a little more than three weeks ago by a surgeon of Sioux City. This is the first time the operation has been performed in this city, and the medical records show that in the history of surgery men's stomachs have been removed only in about 25 instances.

William Noss is a man 58 years old and had always been well until a few months ago. He began to have trouble with his stomach, and, finally, the physicians told him he was suffering with cancer. He grew worse, and when he started for Sioux City he had lost 45 pounds from his ordinary weight. The cancer had grown so large that the outlet of the stomach into the intestines was obstructed, and food was vomited up as rapidly as swallowed. In fact, the man was rapidly dying of starvation when he arrived at the Sioux City hospital.

The surgeon found that the man was apparently in good physical condition, with the exception of the cancer and determined to resort to the rare operation if necessary. He made a long incision from the diaphragm to the navel, so as to be unhampered in his work. On examination it was found that the cancer filled the entire stomach, except a small part of the cardiac end, and that the only possible way to save the patient would be to remove the stomach.

The stomach was cut out so as to leave a flaring end of the gullet or esophagus, and at the lower end was cut off where it narrows to merge into the intestines. When the stomach had been removed the flaring, funnel-shaped part attached to the esophagus was gathered and stitched so as to form a small sack with a small orifice. Then came the difficult part of the operation. This orifice and the open end of the intestine had to be joined together in such a way as to make an airtight and water-tight passage. By the most delicate stitching this was accomplished and the intestinal tract was once more intact. The wound was closed and after a few days, in which the point in the intestine was allowed to heal, the man was given food. Gradually the amount of food was increased until now Noss eats as much as he desires.

Czar Arrested for a Minute.

Motorists will be amused to hear of an adventure which befell the czar when he was staying at Darmstadt a short time ago. The czar was driving in a motor car with Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia and the Grand Duke of Hesse, and when passing through Bockenheim, a suburb of Frankfort, the car slipped on the greasy cobblestones and came in contact with the wall of a house. Happily no harm was done, but the car had hardly been backed into the road again when a policeman stopped it and demanded the name of the owner. The czar replied, "I am the emperor of Russia," and the policeman was so taken aback that he let the car go on without taking any further steps. The czarina was much amused at the incident, and it is said that she has made the momentary arrest of the czar the subject of one of her caricatures.—London Sketch.

World's Fair Golf.

In connection with the St. Louis fair next year there is to be held in September a golf contest for the amateur championship of the world. The winner will be known as the champion amateur golfer of the world. A gold medal will be awarded to the first, a silver medal to the second and bronze medals to each of the unsuccessful players in the semi-finals. An innovation will be a putting contest over a nine-hole putting course at night, illuminated by electric lights, for which a gold medal will be offered to the winner. Teams of ten men each, representing any golf association in the world, will compete for a handsome trophy, each member of the winning team receiving a gold medal and members of the second team a silver medal. —Utica Press.

A Professional Nurse Tells Her Experience With Doan's Kidney Pills.

Montague, Mass.

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.:

Gentlemen—I heartily wish those who are suffering from backache and disturbed action of the kidneys would try Doan's Kidney Pills. As was the case with me, they will be more than surprised with the results. I had been troubled for years with my spine. I could not lie on either side. Spinal cramps would follow, and words could not explain the agony which I would endure. While in these cramps I could not speak or move, but by making a great effort after the cramp had left me I could begin to speak and move a little, but my whole back was so sore and lame that I could not even have the back bathed for some time. My nerves were in a terrible state. I would rather sit up at night than go to bed, dreading the cramps and the terrible backaches. I consulted physicians, but got only a little relief for the time being. Seeing your advertisement, my mother urged me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. After using one box I was better, and have ever since been on the gain. I have no backache and no cramps now, and I feel like a new person. My nerves are better and I know my blood is purer. Words cannot express my thanks to you for what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me. In my work as professional nurse I have a chance to recommend them, and they did me so much good that I will do so on every possible occasion.

Alfalfa Clover.

For years the editor has been urging farmers to sow Alfalfa Clover, and glad he is that thousands of wide-awake farmers, scattered all over America, are doing this now, to their great benefit and satisfaction.

A. Walford, Westlore Farms, Pa., writes: "I have 60 acres in Salzer's Alfalfa Clover. It is immense. I cut three crops this season and have lots of pasture besides."

Hon. H. F. Hunter, S. D., says, "Salzer's Northern Grown Alfalfa clover cannot be beat. I have solved the question of stock raising here. Salzer's Alfalfa is good for 3 rousing crops of hay, Salzer's Speltz for 60 bu. of grain and 3 tons hay, Salzer's Macaroni Wheat for 65 bu. best hog fattening wheat, and Salzer's Hanna Barley, for arid, dry land, is good for 70 bu. per acre. These are all great hog, sheep and cattle fatteners, and last but not least, Salzer's Victoria Rape for sheep, and Salzer's Teosinte, good for 80 tons of green food for cattle, and Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass and Bromus Inermis for lots and lots of good hay. These things make it possible for me to grow live stock by the thousands.

PRODUCTION OF COAL

Over 1,000,000 Tons Greater Than in 1902.

The official figures on the production of coal in Alabama for the year 1903 have been announced by State Mine Inspector J. M. Gray, being 11,700,753 tons, with 19,356 men employed in and about the mines. There were fifty-seven men killed in and about the mines, making the production for the year 205,276.36 tons of coal for each man killed, and one man killed in every 339.57 employed.

The figures show an appreciable increase over production last year. The inspector saw fit not to make any estimate for the coal consumed in boilers around the mines or sold to miners and other employes at the different mining camps in the coal bearing section of the state. Had he done so, as is done in other states, the production would have gone over the 12,000,000 tons mark.

During 1902 the production amounted to 10,329,479 tons, with 17,509 men employed in and around the mines. There were fifty men killed in and around the mines. The production in that year was 206,589.58 tons to the man killed out of 358.18 employed.

COOSA TO BE HARNESSED.

And Furnish Power to Anniston and for Manufacturing.

Papers have been filed in the office of the judge of probate of Calhoun county, Ala., whereby the Coosa Water Power Development Company has purchased the land and water right at lock 3.

This concern proposes to harness the abandoned portion of the Coosa river at lock 3 and utilize it as power. The right to build a dam has been granted by the secretary of war, and the company will build the dam this summer. The company proposes to erect a power plant and lay off a number of manufacturing sites.

The company is to be backed by northern capitalists and will have a capital of $250,000. It is also reported that power will be furnished for Anniston, which is only twenty miles from the lock.

Boll Weevil Campaign.

The department of agriculture has issued a circular detailing the work which already has begun in Texas under the emergency appropriation made by congress to fight the ravages of the cotton boll weevil.

There will be thirteen experimental farms of 100 acres each in different parts of Texas.

The search for parasites will continue in Central and South America and the West Indies. A number of sections will be established to demonstrate the value of diversification of crops to indicate to planters what crops can be grown with profit in place of cotton. In co-operation with the federal government Professor Sanderson, the entomologist of the Texas state agricultural experimental station, will investigate regarding other insects which affect the cotton plant, and experimental and demonstrative work will be carried on in different parts of the cotton belt against root rot and rust and other cotton plant diseases.

SOURCES OF THE PEERAGE.

Ancient Lineage? Pooh! Pooh! Look Here, Says Labouchere.

"Progress is revolution in disguise and by degrees," a well known tory has recently said, "it is destined to make the peers powerless and the poor prosperous." The description will remind many of the phrase uttered by Cromwell: "There will never be a good time in England till we have done with the lords."

What is the value of our peerage of today? Lord Beaconsfield answered the question in "Coningsby" many years ago:

"'Ancient lienage,' said Mr. Millbank; 'I never heard of a peer with an ancient lineage. The real old families of this country are to be found among the peasantry; the gentry, too, may lay some claim to old blood. I can point you out Saxon families in this country who can trace their pedigrees beyond the conquest; I know of some Norman gentlemen whos fathers undoubtedly came over with the conqueror. But a peer with an ancient lienage is to me quite a novelty. No, no; the thirty years' war of the roses freed us from those gentlemen. I take it after the battle of Tewkesbury, a Norman baron was almost as rare a being in England as a wolf is now.'

"'I have always understood,' said Coningsby, 'that our peerage was the finest in Europe.'

"'From themselves,' said Millbank; 'and the heralds they pay to paint their carriages. But I go to facts. When Henry VII. called his first parliament there were only 29 temporal peers to be found, and even some of them took their seats illegally, for they had been attained. Of those 29 not five remain; and, as the Howards, for instance, are not Norman nobility. We owe the English peerage to three sources—the spoilation of the church, the open and flagrant sale of honors by the elder Stuarts and the boroughmongering of our own times. Those are the three main sources of the existing peerage of England, and, in my opinion, disgraceful ones.'"

Lord Beaconsfield might have added a fourth origin of the existing peerage, to wit, the bestowal of honors upon the mistresses of the kings and their illegitimate children. This decorous nation, therefore, delights to honor those who have inherited titles from such shameful sources.—London Truth.

FRAUDS IN A BALE OF HAY.

Frauds in Watch Cases.

According to an article in the Cincinnati Commercial, a fifty-one pound stone was recently found in that city secreted in a bale of hay of eighty pounds.

This is not as bad as finding a lump of lead of nearly one-half the weight of the solid gold watch case secreted in the centre of the case.

Gold watch cases are sold by weight, and no one can see where this lead is secreted until the springs of the case are taken out and the lead will be found secreted behind them.

These cases are made by companies who profess to be honest, but furnish the means to the dishonest to rob the public. It is not pleasant for anyone to find that he has lugged a lump of lead in his watch case.

Another trick of the makers of spurious solid gold watch cases is to stamp the case "U. S. Assay." The United States does not stamp any article made out of gold and silver except coin, and the fakir, by using this stamp, wants to make the public believe that the Government had something to do with the stamping or guaranteeing the fineness of watch cases.

Another trick of the watch fakir is to advertise a watch described as a solid gold filled watch with a twenty or twenty-five-year guarantee. These watches are generally sent C. O. D., and if the purchaser has paid for the watch he finds that the company which guaranteed the watch to wear is not in existence.

The Dueber-Hampden Watch Company, of Canton, Ohio, who are constantly exposing these frauds, will furnish the names of the manufacturers who are in this questionable business.

Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls, Mrs. Pinkham believes that our girls are often pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.

Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality,—often it is never recovered. Miss Pratt says,—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run-down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months.

FAMINE FOLLOWS COLD

DESTITUTION IN NEW YORK

More Calls on the Charity Organization Society For Aid Than in a Decade Past — Misery Due to the Cumulative Effects of Long Continued Cold —Many People Perish.

New York City.—Not in ten years has there been such suffering among the poor as now, according to the officials of the Charity Organization Society. Since the severe cold weather began applications for assistance have been pouring in from all parts of the city, and many of the visitors connected with the organization are compelled to work far into the night to get through with the day's work.

While the destitution cases have been numerous all winter, they have greatly increased during the last few weeks. This is ascribed to the cumulative effects of long continued cold, which has broken down once able-bodied men, who, a few weeks ago, were hopeful of obtaining employment, but who, ill-nourished, have succumbed to the various diseases more or less directly due to zero temperature. A few instances will show in clearer light the terrors of the cold to the poor.

A year ago a young boiler fireman was in such comfortable circumstances that he could send his wife to Europe. Now he is compelled to ask aid to keep himself and his family. After the wife returned from abroad in the fall the young man lost the position he had owing to a strike. On the money he had saved he managed to support her and his three children, all of whom are under five years of age, for some weeks, while he sought another position. In the meanwhile the cold came and the young fellow contracted bronchitis. He found employment, but owing to the disease was unable to hold it longer than a week. When the case was reported it was found that the family was entirely without food and behind in their rent.

On the upper east side the visitors of the society found a mother and two daughters who had been getting along for some months very comfortably, all three working. The younger daughter contracted rheumatism while going to and from her work, and the income of the family was decreased, while the expenditure was added to by the care and drugs necessary for the patient. The family were people of considerable education and felt their position keenly. The sick girl has been placed in a sanitarium.

A peculiar case was discovered on the east side, not far from Fourteenth street. A factory hand, out of work, and having a young wife and one child dependent on him, pawned his overcoat while the weather was still mild. In consequence he has been greatly hindered in his search for employment. The visitors of the organization found him suffering from a severe attack of grip incidental to searching for work during the zero temperature.

Unconscious From Cold.

Paterson, N. J.—In rooms of frigid temperature and bare of furniture, Mrs. Grace Hartley was found on a heap of rags, at 429 Straight street. The woman was unconscious. She was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital. Mrs. Hartley said she had been in the house for several days without food.

LIFE SAVED BY TELEPHONE.

House Afire, Grandmother Helpless, Alarm Spread by Child.

Toledo, Ohio.—Walter S. Bunce, of Sandusky, has been living at his country residence, two miles above Waterville, on the Naumee, this winter. One night recently the family went to prayer meeting, leaving the house in charge of Mr. Bunce's mother, who is paralyzed, and of his little son.

Fire started in the kitchen and was well under way before the child discovered it. The grandmother was unable to help herself, and the boy could not move her. Finally the grandmother instructed the child to go to the telephone and call "Central" at Waterville.

The child succeeded in making the operator understand, and every telephone in the neighborhood was utilized to spread the alarm. Neighbors reached the house in time to save the grandmother and her grandson, but the house, barn and other farm buildings were destroyed.

Convicted Murderer Admits Having Destroyed a Grocery Store.

Port Jervis, N. Y.—George Jaggers, who has been convicted of the murder of Mrs. Victor E. Bevins, confessed in Newton jail that he destroyed Van Aken's grocery store, at Dingman's, Pa., a few months ago. He said that he first robbed the place and then poured kerosene about it and set it afire.

Jaggers shot Mr. and Mrs. Bevins through a kitchen window on October 23. The former recovered from his wounds. Jaggers still denies the shooting.

APPEAL FROM THE CZAR

Proclamation to the People Assails the Action of Japan.

Explains the Unpreparedness of Russia For War, and the Necessity For Patience.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—An official proclamation explaining the unpreparedness of Russia for war and the necessity for the exercise of patience by her people has been issued here. It is as follows:

"Some days have now elapsed since all Russia was shaken with profound indignation against an enemy who suddenly broke off negotiations, and by a treacherous attack endeavored to obtain an easy success in a war long desired. The Russian nation, with natural impatience, desires prompt vengeance and awaits feverishly news from the Far East.

"The unity and strength of the Russian people leave no room for doubt that Japan will receive the chastisement she deserves for her treachery and provocation to war at a time when our beloved sovereign desired to maintain peace among the nations. The conditions under which hostilities are being carried on compel us to wait with patience news of the success of our troops, which cannot occur before decisive actions are fought by the Russian army.

"The distance of the territory and the desire of the Emperor to maintain peace were the causes of the impossibility of more complete and earlier preparations for war. Much time is now necessary in order to strike at Japan blows worthy of the dignity and might of Russia, and, while sparing as much as possible the shedding of blood of her children, to inflict just chastisement upon the nation which has provoked the struggle. Russia must await the event in patience, being sure that our army will avenge an hundredfold that provocation.

"Operations on land must not be expected for some time yet, and we cannot obtain early news from the theatre of war. The useless shedding of blood is unworthy the greatness and power of Russia.

"Our country displays such unity and desire for self-sacrifice on behalf of the national cause that all true news from the scene of hostilities will be immediately due to the entire nation."

The general staff announced that the War Office was willing to accept volunteers for service in the Far East. They must be under forty years old, and have had military training. These volunteers will be enrolled in the reserve battalions under Viceroy Alexieff.

M. Pleske has been relieved from his temporary post of Minister of Finance, and transferred to the Council of the Empire.

LINER AFIRE IN MIDOCEAN.

Officers of Pallanza Prevent Panic While Flames Rage in Hold.

Halifax, N. S.—After nearly foundering on one side of the Atlantic, the Hamburg-American liner Pallanza, which arrived from Hamburg, was seriously threatened by a fire which broke out when the steamer was within 500 miles of the American coast. For five hours the crew worked to subdue the flames, which raged in the cargo, and finally conquered them by the injection of steam into the hold. Though there was intense excitement among the 138 passengers, there was no panic, the officers of the ship acting with great coolness and repeatedly assuring every one that there was no danger.

Find Woman Guilty.

MYSTERY IN TWO DEATHS

Bridgeport Man and a Maid Servant Killed in His House.

News of the Tragedy Telephoned to a Neighbor by Mrs. Canfield, Wife of One of the Victims.

Bridgeport, Conn.—Joseph B. Canfield, superintendent of the Canfield Rubber Company, and his Swedish maid servant, Vinda Andersen, were found dead in their bedrooms in the Canfield residence, 840 Colorado avenue.

Mrs. Canfield was found in another bedroom of the house too dazed to make a coherent statement.

When the case was first reported to the police they began work on the theory that Mr. Canfield and the maid had been poisoned. A hasty investigation, however, convinced them that the double tragedy was the result of asphyxiation by coal gas from a hot air furnace.

Further inquiry seemed to weaken that theory. It was learned, for instance, that a window in the bedroom where Mr. Canfield's body lay in bed was open about eight inches, and that the air must have blown directly across the bed. That Mr. Canfield, who was an athlete of considerable local fame, should have been killed by the gas, while his wife, whose health is poor, was not completely overcome by it, is regarded by the police as remarkable.

Mrs. Canfield explains that she and her husband occupied separate bedrooms that night.

The police have established the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Canfield returned here from New York City at midnight on Wednesday. They went directly to their home. Before retiring Mr. Canfield banked a hot air furnace in his house with coal.

In a statement to the police Mr. Hammond said that at about 12 o'clock one night Mrs. Canfield called him up on the telephone saying she was ill and was afraid her husband was dead. Mr. Hammond telephoned to A. H. Canfield, a brother of the dead Mr. Canfield, and then responded to Mrs. Canfield's appeal for help.

On entering the house, he says, he smelled coal gas. Canfield was dead in bed, the maid, who occupied a room on the floor above, was also dead, and two bull terriers were found prostrate on the floor, semi-conscious. Newspapers bearing a recent date and several bottles of milk, most of which was sour, were found upon the porches of the house.

The police, after a systematic search of the house, found that the drafts in the furnace were closed. The furnace fire was burned in the centre of the fire pit, and the conditions were favorable to a circulation of coal gas through the house.

Canfield was about thirty years old, and his marriage about two years ago to Mae Kathryn Donnell, a girl employed in his factory, incurred the displeasure of his parents. To all appearances, however, the pair lived happily after overcoming the objections raised by Canfield's parents.

INSURANCE LOSS, $31,095,132.

Many Baltimore Wholesale Houses in Pool Will Get Nothing.

Baltimore, Md.—The Baltimore Underwriter prints the losses of all fire insurance companies in the Baltimore fire. The total gross loss is $32,864,894, of which $6,000,000 falls upon the local companies. The estimated total of salvage is $1,769,762, which leaves a net loss to the insurance companies of $31,095,152. Many of the large wholesale dry goods houses formed an insurance pool among themselves, which amounted to about $5,000,000, from which practically nothing will be realized.

Another development is that very few tenants of the so-called fireproof buildings carried insurance.

INDICTED ON 42 COUNTS.

But Defendant's Bail in Land Frauds Case Is Reduced $8000.

Washington, D. C.—Joost H. Schneider, of Tucson, Ariz., who recently was indicted on forty-two counts, and arrested here for alleged complicity in public land frauds in the West, was released from custody under $12,000 bonds. He was brought up in the Criminal Court on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, which alleged illegal arrest and excessive bail. The former point was waived to avoid delay, and Justice Pritchard sustained the contention of excessive bail by reducing the amount from $20,000 to $12,000.

British Guiana's Duties.

At the opening of the Legislature, at British Guiana, the Governor, Sir James Alexander Swettenham, announced that a preference of ten per cent. in duties would be given to imports from the United Kingdom and Canada.

Six Men Shot in Poolroom Raid.

In an effort to close up a poolroom that had been run for a long time in the outskirts of Madison, Ill., three constables, augmented by a posse of citizens, and bearing warrants for the arrest of six men connected with the poolroom, precipitated a riot, which resulted in the shooting of six men.

Fire Destroys Paint Works.

Fire destroyed the F. W. Devoe & Reynolds paint works, in Brooklyn, N. Y., doing about $400,000 damages.

Fire Imperils Insane.

One hundred and twenty insane men and women from the county hospital were brought into Racine, Wis., from the hospital as a result of a fire which destroyed the structure valued at $100,000.

Negro Burned at the Stake.

Glenco Bays, a negro hunted down by a mob, was burned at a stake near Crossett, Ark. He was charged with the murder of J. D. Stephens, of Ashley County.

Albanian Catholics are hastening in large numbers to join their brethren in fighting at Diakova, Province of Ipek, Albania, against Shemsi Pasha.

Replying in the English House of Commons, Chancellor of the Exchequer Austen Chamberlain said the Government had no intention at present of reimposing the tax on grain, which was abolished last year.

The young woman known as Mina Alix, who was injured at the Parish Circus at Madrid, Spain, January 24, while attempting to loop the loop in an automobile, has died from her injuries.

Max H. Meyer, a well-known broker on the Boerse, in Germany, shot and killed himself with a revolver. His mind had become disordered owing to the loss of $100,000 by the fall in Russian securities.

The Russian Government has abolished the censorship in the case of all telegrams going abroad.

Ashtabula on Fire.

A fire which started in the dry goods store of N. L. Morrison's Sons, at Ashtabula, Ohio, and which destroyed the drygoods stock of that firm, caused a total loss of $125,000.

Uses Head in a Trial.

The body of John Lewis was exhumed at Fremont, Iowa, and the head taken to Sigourney to be used as an exhibit in the trial of his wife, charged with his murder.

Panama Bars Chinese.

The constitutional convention of Panama passed in its second reading a resolution prohibiting the further entry of Chinese into the republic, to become effective in January, 1905.

Dynamite Car Blown Up.

A carload of dynamite exploded at Jackson, Utah, on the Southern Pacific, eighty-five miles from Ogden. Between twenty and twenty-five persons were killed outright and about thirty injured, many women and children being among the number.

Protests to Egyptian Government.

The Austro-Hungarian and Russian Consuls-General, at Port Said, Egypt, have protested to the Egyptian Foreign Office regarding the treatment at Port Said of the Austrian collier Java and the disabled Russian torpedo boat No. 222.

Petticoat Girls Form a Union.

Girls to the number of 2000, employed in the manufacture of petticoats, in New York City, have formed a union and demand a general increase in wages.

FURTHER EXPANSION

San Domingo May Become a United States Colony

The turn affairs have taken in San Domingo gives credence to a rumor that has been prevalent around the war department and white house for several days to the effect that San Domingo is to be made part of the United States in a few weeks.

The president has made all arrangements for this, and it is boldly announced in administration circles that the strife ridden country would have been seized two weeks ago had it not been feared that such action would have jeopardized the ratification of the Panama canal treaty.

Francis B. Loomis, assistant secretary of state, has gone to the West Indies. Ostensibly Mr. Loomis is going with Admiral Dewey to witness the maneuvers, but it is understood that he is sent by the president to investigate the situation in San Domingo, where he will be on the spot ready to act when the administration's policy is unfolded.

Mississippi Money.

Mississippi's superintendent of education is figuring out the amount of school fund money that is to go to each of the seventy-five counties of the state, and in a few days the teachers will get their money. The sum to be distributed at this time on account of the January distribution is $833,333.33, and that will make a great hole in the state's strong box. The expenses of the legislature will be nearly another hundred thousand dollars, and when the running expenses for the month of March are paid there will be little or nothing left in the state treasury.

Car Report.

The report of the Alabama Car Service Association, issued last week, shows by detail the number of cars handled from each point last year. It credits Birmingham, 95,442 cars; Bessemer 69,772 cars; Ensley 56,748 cars, Anniston 27,308 cars, Mobile 44,662 cars, Montgomery 28,647 cars, North Birmingham 37,945 cars, Sheffield 38,266 cars.

The total for 1903 is 733,816, an increase over the previous year of 117,879.

Another Iron Maker.

The probabilities are that the work that has been suspended for the past few weeks on the construction of No. 6 furnace of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway company at Ensley, Ala., will be resumed in a few days. It is understood that a large number of workmen will be put at work on the furnace, and it will be pushed rapidly to completion

Not So Much Gold.

The production of gold for the year 1903 fell below that of 1902 to the extent of $5,500,000. The total, with the gold from Alaska included, is a little less than $74,500,000. In 1902 the total was more than $80,000,000. The miners' strike in Colorado is the principal cause of the decrease.

Big Stove Order.

The Sheffield, Ala., stove works has received from a wholesale firm in South Carolina the largest order for stoves ever given to an Alabama factory. The order calls for $25,000 worth of stoves, to be delivered at the earliest possible date.

The verdict of the arbitration court relative to the claims against Venezuela are made known. It recognizes the preference of England, Germany and Italy on 30 per cent of the import duties at La Guyra and Porto Cabello. The United States is charged with the execution of the sentence within three months.

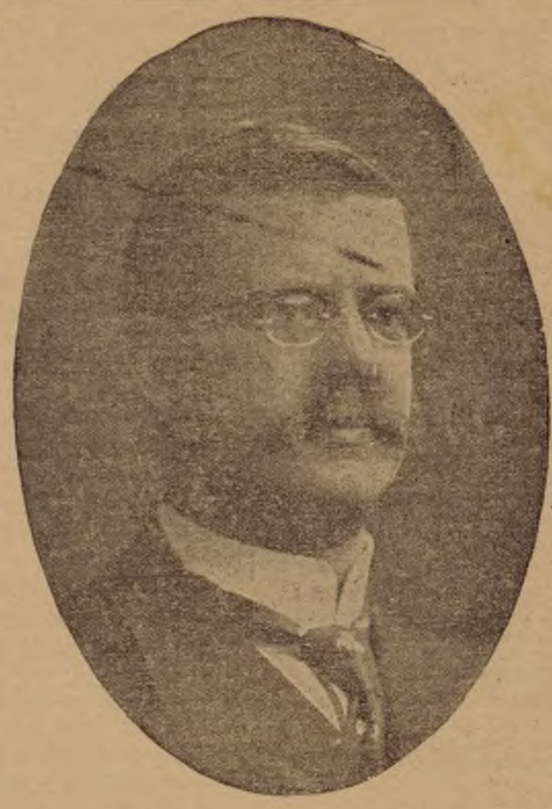
Naval officials are considering earnestly the strengthening of the American Asiatic fleet in view of the vast interests of this country in the Philippines and China and in Korea. At the same time that the fleet is regarded as too small there is a desire to avoid exciting the suspicion of the old world powers, lest this government may be put in a false light.

The Japanese squadron has captured four Russian torpedo boats at Port Arthur by using Russian signals. This dispatch confirms reports from various quarters of a fresh attack on Port Arthur by the Japanese. The report adds that the Russian crews of the four torpedo boats have been transferred.

In the postoffice appropriation bill the fast mail subsidies amounting to $142,000, between Washington and New Orleans, and $25,000 between Kansas City and Newton, Kas., are continued. The item for railway transportation amounts to $45,000,000, which is an increase of about 3 per cent.

Evans Wants to Stay.

Rear Admiral Evans has cabled the navy department expressing a wish to remain in the far east for the present in the event that the Kentucky is not to be brought home when repaired. He feels that the situation is extremely important out there, and for this reason offers to remain, although his time of real duty is up next month. The department has cabled him, leaving the matter entirely to his own judgment.



HENRY CLAY SELHEIMER.

Honorable Henry Clay Selheimer, who is a candidate for the democratic nomination for associate justice of the supreme court of Alabama, was born in Lewiston, Mifflin county, Pa., on September 3d, 1858. His father, Hon. John B. Selheimer, was a life long democrat, and in 1884 was elected to the state senate of Pennsylvania on the democratic ticket from a strongly republican district. John B. Selheimer's paternal ancestor came to this country from Germany in 1765, and his maternal ancestor, whose name was Beale, came with William Penn in 1682. The ancestors of Mrs. John B. Selheimer, the Mathews, came to this country from Scotland in 1735. Both the Selheimers and the Mathews have for many years been closely identified with affairs of church and state in Pennsylvania and have contributed largely to her business prosperity.

Henry C. Selheimer has been a citizen of Alabama eighteen years. After graduating from Princeton university he located in Birmingham, and began the practice of law. Of studious habits and retiring nature he has applied himself diligently to the acquirement of legal knowledge. His associates commend him for these traits and also for soberness and truth.

The late Chief Justice Brickell said after an intimate acquaintance with Mr. Selheimer: "In my opinion, he has no superior at the bar in Alabama."

His private life has been blameless. His public life has gained for him the unanimous indorsement not only of all the members of his profession in Birmingham, but of many able lawyers throughout the state of Alabama, particularly his associates of the late constitutional convention. In this convention he filled with marked ability a position on the committee on harmony.

The large amount of litigation coming before the supreme court from the Birmingham district, its distinctive character, requires the selection of a member equipped to facilitate its disposition. The voluntary retirement of Judge Sharpe leaves the district a place to fill.

If Mr. Selheimer is placed on the supreme bench his official utterances will be those of a learned lawyer, a broad-minded and just man and a ripe scholar.

It is rare that one aspiring to such an exalted position receives such unqualified indorsements as to his eminent fitness therefor.

The following paragraphs have been culled from many indorsements received by him:

Hon. John B. Knox: "I am well acquainted with Hon. Henry C. Selheimer, who is a candidate for associate justice of the supreme court of Alabama. He is a lawyer of first class ability, and was an active and efficient member of one of our most important committees in the constitutional convention. His friends are strongly urging his claims to the position of associate justice of the supreme court, and I feel sure that he would discharge the responsible duties of this position with credit to himself and to those who support him."

Hon. Frank S. White: "There is no better judicial timber in Alabama than Henry C. Selheimer. If elected, he will be one of the greatest judges the state ever had."

Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, M. C.: "His high character, even temperament, clear reasoning powers and learning in the law, in my judgment, make him most eminently qualified to fill a position on our supreme court bench."

Hon. John W. Tomlinson: "Mr. Selheimer has the character, ability and temperament which eminently fit him for one of the judges of our highest court."

Hon. A. O. Lane: "He has a legal mind, and his powers of analysis and discrimination are unusually great. He is painstaking, but he quickly grasps the vital points in a case, and I regard him as exceptionally qualified for supreme court work."

Hon. Alex T. London: "A learned lawyer and laborious student; just and fair and patient and painstaking; he is at all times courteous and polite and possesses what I have always regarded as one of the greatest traits a judge can have—the judical temperament."

Captain William C. Ward: "He is well equipped for the bench, and in my opinion the supreme bench would be strengthened by Mr. Selheimer's accession to the court. He is young and of vigorous health, and has a great capacity for protracted and continuous work."

Hon. S. D. Weakley: "He has the judicial temperament and faculty to a marked degree. He is a deep student of the law, familiar with all the departments of jurisprudence. As a constitutional lawyer, I give him high rank."

Hon. Augustus Benners: "An intimate acquaintance with H. C. Selheimer convinces me that he has no superior at our bar in legal learning and in the correct application of legal principles to concrete cases.

Hon. John P. Tillman: "I know of no lawyer in Alabama better suited by temperament or better equipped by learning and study for the bench than Mr. Selheimer; and I only wish that the people of Alabama knew him as well as I know him."

NEWSPAPERS OF THE WORLD.

The United States Furnishes Nearly One-half the Total.

It appears from a recent census, which is necessarily only approximate, that the newspapers of the world number no fewer than 43,000, of which 5410 are dailies, and more than one-half of all are published in the United States.

To gain some tangible conception of this enormous output of news it is interesting to know that to devote five minutes to each of the world's newspapers would occupy nearly one year and eight months, reading for six hours each day; while, at the same rate, to skim the daily papers alone would take eleven weeks.

An annual subscriber to the daily papers alone would have to pay $40,000, independent of postage or carriage to his news agent.

Each thousand newspapers is distributed among the different countries in the following ratio: United States, 462; Great Britain, 141; German, 127; France, 95; Italy, 35; Austria-Hungary, 28; Russia, 19; Spain, 20.

It will be seen from this list that the output of the United States is nearly equal to the combined publications of Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Austria, Canada and Russia, and is only three-eighths per cent. less than half the total output of the world.

These newspapers are published in eighty-one different languages, fifteen of which are represented by one paper only, while many of the papers are published in two or even more tongues. The credit of the largest circulation belongs to a half-penny paper, Le Petit Journal, of Paris, which has a circulation rarely falling below a million copies.

The Austrian Imperial Review has a circulation of three copies only. The smallest paper is the Mexican Telegraph, which measures eight inches by half an inch.

Business and Advertising.

That the monthly business of an establishment bears a direct ratio to the amount of the monthly advertising bill is a statement which has been made recently by three different business men in communications to Printers' Ink. When experience has taught this fact to a man, advertising appears to him to be the life of the trade.

BRUNSWICK AND BIRMINGHAM.

The Brunswick and Birmingham railroad has been completed and is in operation to Nicholls, a distance of eighty four miles. The Atlantic and Birmingham railroad extends from Waycross to Montezuma, a distance of 139 miles. Nicholls is a station on the way, twenty-nine miles out from Waycross. The two railroads are to be consolidated in less than a month, thus forming a direct line westward from Brunswick to Montezuma, a distauce of 194 miles, every mile of which distance lies in a direct line between Brnnswick and Birmingham.

Montezuma is an important station in the peach-growin district of Georgia, lying directly south of Macon, and forty-nine miles from it. It is twenty-two miles north of Americus. It is fifteen miles from Fort Valley, where the Birmingham branch of the Central railroad of Georgia meets the other line of the system.

Montzuma is 70 miles from Columbus, and Columbus is 157 from Birmingham. The new line is in position to build either to Columbus or else to cross the Chattahoochie at some point south of Columbus, and continuing then to Birmingham south of the Central Railroad of Georgia, passing through a section not well-equipped with railroads facilities. Its plans for construction west of Montezuma are not well developed, but a road that has 194 miles of trunk line built will assuredly push on to Birmingham. As Chairman Hyde recently said, the consolidation of the Atlantic and Birmingham practically assures the completion of the line as originally planed between Birmingham and the sea. The Brunswick line may in fact be built into this district before the Illinois Central is, a line that seems to be hesitating over choice of routes to the heart of this district.—Ex.

That Beeswax Bridge letter, published in the Advocate of last week, was too thin. That letter never saw Beeswax Bridge, unless the paper with the printed letter was carried across it. That letter notwithstanding it was signed "One of the Boys" was written, we venture to say, considerably within the incorporate limits of the court house town, and it was written by one who is extremely anxious right at this time, to stir up, not only "one of the boys" but all of the boys. The people will understand it.

Shelby county is getting ready for a good year. With the court house squabble out of the way Shelby should be one of the most prosperous counties in the state It has mineral wealth and farm wealth and timber wealth, and every advantageous railroad transportation, giving every part of the county excellent facilities. Three lines of the roads reach to Birmingham and Montgomery and Selma are near at hand. Shelby can be a very rich and populous county, and the farm land is ought to be very valuable there.—Birmingham Ledger.

W. W. Whiteside, of Anniston Endorsed for Chancellor.

We, the undersigned members of the Bar of Calhoun county hereby endores the candidacy of Hon. W. W, Whiteside for Chancellor of the North Eastern Chancerp Division; and we take pleasure in bearing testimony to his eminment fitness and qualifications for the office. He is a man of fine moral character, and a lawyer of ability and ripe experience: John Pelham, Circuit Judge; Thos. W. Coleman Jr. Judge City Court; Jno. B. Knox, W. P. Acker, A. P. Agee, Chas. D. Kline, A. B. Sawyer, J. F. Green, S. W. Tate, Hugh Walker, Hugh D. Merrill, Henry D. McCarty, W. F. Johnson, A. F. McGhee, James T. Green, J. J. Willett, E. H. Hanna, A.H. Shepperd, T.C. We the unpersigned members of the Bar of Cleburne County take pleasure in endorsing the candidacy of Hon. W. W. Whiteside for Chancellor of the North-Eastern Chancery Division of Alabama; and in so doing we desire to state that he is well qualified and fitted, in every respect, for the high position to which he aspires.

J. B. Stepheus, R. L. Evans, T. J. Burton, W. C. McMahan, J. R. Barker.

The Constitution of the State says: "The property of private corporations, associations and individuals of this State shall forever be taxed at the same rate." The Democratic administration, in its twenty year of power in this county, levied the same rate upon all alike, and the railroads paid he same rate as the people, because they could not do otherwise. Under Populist administration the common people have, complainingly paid the special road and bridge taxes, because they could not afford to contest them, while the railroads legally evade them in the courts. The result is the same as if the tax was levied against the common people and not against the railroads. The plain English, was well as constitutional denunciation of such an action is, that it is "usurpation and oppression." All this from the Populist administration which at all times poses as the champion of the cummon people; an administration that is traitorous in that it would have the common people believe it is their defender and yet mulches them of their honest dollars through an unlawful tax levy. But, speaking through the Advocate, the Populist administration is actually proud of all this. Hole up the people for a tax that was levied through illegal methods! Shades of the departed!—Ex.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of roup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Polesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale at J. W. Bandy Drug Co's store.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

HAMMOND MILLINERY CO.

We call attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Columbiana Millinery Shop in this issue.

Rev. Mr. Upshaw filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church on last Sunday morning and at night.

Prof. Spright Dowell has rented Geo. Mason house on West College steet where he will in the future reside

We all the attention of our readers to the change of the advertisement of Bandy Drug Co. in this issue.

Mrs. M. T. Wood, manager of The Hammond Millinery Co., returned from a trip to the Gate City last Friday.

Miss Rosie Christian who has been visiting relatives in Birmingham, for the past few weeks, returned home last Friday.

In another place in this issue will be found the ad of J. H. Mason. When in need of drugs or anything in his line give him a call.

Beginning with last Wednesday night the Union prayer meeting will be held at the Baptist church for the month of March.

Hon. W. W. Whitesides, of Calhoun was in the city last week. He is a prominent candidate for chancellor from this district.

The Lenten season began last Wednesday. It is the penitential period and extending forty days from Ash Wednesday to Easter Sunday.

Harry J. Gillam, of Wetumpka, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city. He is candidate for the office of chancellor from this district.

Hon. A. M. Garber, Grand chancellor of K. of P. of Alabama, delivered an address on Pythianism at the court hovse Wednesday night.

It now behooves some Leap Year poet to amend the old song to read: "Why Don't the Girls Propose, Papa, Why don't the girls propose."

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Erlick are entertaining Miss Hannah Winkler, a beautiful and charming society young lady of Cincinnati, Onio. Miss Winkler is not only known in the social circle but is a gifted writer.

Dr. Charles T. Acker, of Alpine, has decided to make Columbiana his future home, and will have his headquarters at the drug store of J. W. Bandy Drug Co. Dr. Acker comes highly recommended. We welcome him in our midst.

Helen May Butler's ladies military band will appear for the second time in our town at the school house Tuesday night. Our theatre going people will remember them, and we nope the house will be crowded to greet them on their return engagement Tuesday night.

The continuous cold weather this winter has of uusual duration. Old people say it has been one of the most severe that they have ever seen in the South. There seems to be no let up and a vast deal of coal and wood have been used this year more than usual.

T. J. Weaver left Columbiana last Sunday to attend Mardi Gras at Mobile. He arrived in Montevallo last night on his return home, his pleasure trip having been curtailed by a threat ened of pneumonia. J. S. Harris carried him to Calera to the home of his sister, Mrs. I. W. Bailey.—Sentinel

When some of our farmers and cotton buyers were offered 10 cents for cotton they said they would hold it for 12, when it went to 12 they held it for 15, and when it reached that figure they held it for a higher price. When it reached 16 cents they concluded it would go to 20 cents and are still holding it. Is there no limit as to how much one wants for his cotton? The man who holds it when the price is 15 cents is doing so at a great risk.

The people of Montevallo learn with regret and sorrow of the death of the little two year old boy of Mr. and Mrs T. P. Lane, which occurred in Talladega Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs Lane had recently located in Columbiana. A few days ago their little boy contracted a severe cold, and Mrs Lane carried him to the home of Mr. Lane's mother in Talladega. Pneumonia developed, and Tuesday death gave him relief that human skill could not. The funeral occurred yesterday in Talladega. In their grief because of the death of the little one who had only been loaned to them, they have the deep sympathy of a large circle of Montevallo friends.—Sentinel.

have and are receiving the most exquisite line of millinery goods ever brought to Columbiana. Mrs. T. Wood has the management of the firm, and will be pleased to give each of her customers her personal attentention. Come in to see us at the old millinery store, the place to get your hats.

HAMMOND MILLINERY CO.

In the selection of the county commissioners the people cannot be too careful, for in the commissioners' court is vested the management of the county's affairs. Walter E, Riddle announces his candidacy for this important position from the 1st district and solicits your support. He lives at Wilsonville, about the middle of the district, and is familiar with its entire territory and is posted as to its needs. He is known as a gentleman of excellent morals, the strictest honor and integrity, good sense, fine judgment and correct business principies. We do not know a man in the county better qualified for commissioner than Mr. Riddle.

Among the announcements this week will be found that of J. S. Falkner, of Vincent, who asks the votes of his legion of friends in the county for the office of Tax Assessor. Mr. Falkner is well known here, having been clerk in the post office here for a number of years, and is a model young man of exceptional ability, and is well qualified to fill the office which he asks the suffrage of the people at the primary election in April. Mr. Falkner is a polished gentlemen and above all a Christian. Mr. Falkner has friends all over the county, and is quite popular with the people. We have know him for a number of years and we wish him success in his race for tax assessor.

WOMAN DEPARTMENT.

Beginning with this issue we shall endeavor to have something especial interest to our lady readers, and we will be pleased to answer many and all queries to this department to the best of our ability.

It is with great pleasure that we chronicle the organization of an Epworth League at this place. It is the duty of every woman and girl to do everything that will uplift humanity. Women should realize the fact that their power is not in the ballot but in their influence for good, so let every girl, young and old lady attend the League meetings, and make our town one of the foremost for Christ and the right.

Miss Rosie Christian has returned from an extended visit to relatives in Birmingham.

One of the smartest things for neck wear, now that the balmy spring days have come, is the new maline stiff boa.

We have been especially struck with the beautiful line of goods carried by our merchants, the line of mercerized goods here cannot be excelled in style and quality anywhere.

Columbiana has the court house won, let us make it a model town, do away with bickering and backbitings, and a long pull all together for the advancement of our town and county.

It will be agreeable to Mrs. Jno. H. Robertson's many friends to learn that she is again convalescent.

Miss Ouzelle Verchot has been quite sick for the past week.

WILSONVILLE.

Miss Fannie Wilkins, of Lauiers, visited friends here apart of Saturday and Sunday.

G. P. Kytle and wife have moved to town and now are occupying Mrs. F. McGowen's residence.

Mr. Robertson and family are occupying the Pennington's house.

Two first class drug stores are now open in our town.

Misses Ada O'Hara and Samie Taylor have gone to Atlanta to take millinery lessons.

The first quarterly conference of this circuit was held here the 13th and 14th of this month.

James Evans and Irwin Wingard were down at Columbiana last week.

Died at the residence of his father near here, Robt. E. Lee. He had been sick for quite awhile with that fatal disease, consumption. His remains were interred at Harpersville Tuesday of last week. He leaves a wife and four small children, besides numerous relatives and friends to mourn his loss. HONEST JOHN.

A Rare Treat;

Washington's birthday was duly celebrated by the young people of the Elocution and Physical Culture classes of which Miss Gertrude Roberts is the efficient teacher.

It was a gala day for our aspiring city. The stars and stripes were quite in evidence upon the streets during the day, as well as upon the stage at night.

A large audience awaited the unveiling of the beautifully decorated stage. Columbiana's beauty and chivalry had gathered there, and waited with bated breath for the first strains of the orchestra's music.

Presently, the mellow music poured forth from the rear of the stage, hushing the din of muttering lips and stamping feet. Our hearts were high with intense enthusiasm when the curtains opened again and "Daughters of the Regiment," decked in patriotic colors, filed out upon the stage. Their military evolutions softened and subdued the boisterous audience into a gentle silence, eloquent with unspoken admiration for the drill. Their exit occasioned the loudest applause.

Then a painful silence ensued, which was relieved by Percy Pitts reading, "Ole Mistis." His darkey dialect revealed the fact that he was a son of the South, while his easy manner suggested careful training on the part of his teacher.

Then followed "The Conquered Banner" by Misses Myra Browne, Dinnie Rowe and Annie Longshore, which was both pathetic and entertaining. The ease and grace of the young ladies movement stamped them unmistakable Delsartain pupils.

Then Miss Erma Elliott in her own sweet way told us "The Blacksmith's Story" The time arrived for the "Tea Party." A special feature of the program. Miss Mary McMillan with her long train appeared as hostess. Misses Vin Pitts, Elna Elliott, Clarice White and Celia McMillan, dressed a la mode of Martha Washington. Their evening dresses, no doubt suggested the minute dance, which, in the course of human events, developed into a graceful competitive bowing drill. Their naturalness could not have been surpassed by the most experienced actresses. Then appeared Braddie Browne, who seemed to have a monopoly of the fair sex. Presently a Washington Tea Party was proposed by his ardent admirers, Miss McMillan and guests, to which Mr. Browne very reluctantly consented. After the completion of the plans for the tea party the absent of cherries caused wild excitement, but on inspection of the cherry stained lips and cheeks of George, disclosed the cherry mystery, which excited great indignation. The veracity of the original George was brought out by a remarkable confession to the "something awful." suggested by the ladies.

The illustratrious young George added lustre to the light of the tuminous character of the first George; while Miss McMillan shone in her orbit and added effulgence to her satelites, so they all shone in the theatrical firmaments with resplendent glory.

The next number was a monologue by Miss Annie Longshore, whose change of opinion respecting the true flag, In the discarded days of the civil war, now the heart of a loyal lover. Her fragmentary northern ideas were pulled into line by the craft and cunning of a brave Rebel; and the disturbed condition of her own mind was relieved by cupid's panacea.

Can we forget the vivid manner in which Miss Mildred White told the story of a rescued whig. The peculiar charm of his American voice reached the eager ear of his devoted finance. The deed was done, and India's conquerer surrendered prize in response to the potent appeal of a determined lover. Thus the honeymoon began to shine and out of chaos came the order of a well organized home.

But the crowning effort of the entire performance was the competitive gun drill. The military boys displayed surprising skill in the use of the muskets, and exhibited considerable dexterity in the manual of arms. The regularity and uniformity of their drill will challange comparison with the distinguished of ancient heroes. Their field movements were characterized by grace of form and dignity of carriage, so that with equal step they passed in review before the admiring audience. In them all, we saw almost infinate possibilities. Their eyes flashed with military genius, their cheeks glowed with genuine courage, their steady step showed determination that dreaded no defeat.

Charmed! delighted! our patriotic enthusiasm fired our zeal with new aspirations to excel in every seige and occupy every stragetic point fate should bring within our reach, because in the hands of such soldiers the American flag can never be dishonored.

The capable judges, Messrs. John Milner, Max Lefkovits and Leo Friedberger pronounced them all prize men but after much debating, pronounced the crimson and white victorious Although company A holds the battalion banner, company B marches in close order in her wake; and we hope no star shall ever be erased, and not a single star obscured, but all shall in glorious unity ever [illegible] A are sure, with such equipped men, full of enthusiasm and military prowess, they will serve their country in that trying hour when the drum tap is futile and the barracks exhausted

Dunlap for Cancellor.

Gadsden, Ala., Jan. 8, 1904.

The members of the Gadsden Bar met in the office of Boykin & Brindley Monday evening, Jan. 4. Upon motion the chairman appointed a committee consisting of W. J. Boykin, J. B. Martin and Judge J. A. Bilbro to prepare suitable resolutions regarding the candidacy of Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap for Chancellor of the Northern Division. The committee reported the following resolutions:

Whereas, We are advised that the Hon. R. B. Kelley, chancellor of the northeaster chancery division will not by reason of his candidacy for associate justice of our supreme court, aspire to succeed himself as chancelior; and

Whereas, our fellow townsman and leading member of our local bar, Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap, has kindly yielded to the earnest solicitation of the members of the Gadsden bar as well as of leading lawyers, democrats throughout the northeastern division, and will enter the field as a candidate for chancellor. Therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st, That we take great pleasure in commending the Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap to the democracy of the northeastern chancery division, as a suitable man for chancellor; he is democrat true and tried, a lawyer of learning and great research, capable, worthy and well qualified to discharge with credit to himself and honor to the people the responsible duties of the office to which he aspires.

2nd. That it gives us, the members of the Gadsden bar, great pleasure to unanimously and enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Col. R. A. D. Dunlap; pledging our united and individual efforts in his behalf, and we earnestly solicit the aid of friends and acquaintances and brother lawyers and democrats throughout the division to secure the nomination of this worthy gentleman, for we assure those who help us that Col. Dunlap is a hard working, painstaking, sober, honest, upright Christian gentleman, and if nominated and elected chancellor, he will bring to the office his best efforts and we feel safe in assuring all who honor him with their support they will never have cause to regret their action.

W. J. BOYKIN,
J. B. MARTIN.
J. A. BILBRO.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted and, after transacting other business, the meeting adjourned.
A. R. Brindley, Sec. O. R. Hood. Chairman.

The Cherokee County Bar also endorses the candidacy of Colonel R. A. D. Dunlap. adv.

A child of Mrs. G. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath stepped against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great pain and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm in the house she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Pain Balm is an antseptic liniment and valuable for burns, breises, cuts and spains. The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is unnecessary loss of time, for in cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and thoroughly applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. For sale by Williams Bros.

NOTICE.

RELY ON PE-RU-NA TO FIGHT

CATARRH, COUGHS, COLDS, GRIP

SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH

Use Pe-ru-na for La Grippe and Winter Catarrh.

IN EVERY country of the civilized world the Sisters of Charity are known. Not only do they minister to the spiritual and intellectual needs of the charges committed to their care, but they also minister to their bodily needs.

Whenever coughs or colds, la grippe or pneumonia make their appearance among the children these Sisters are not disconcerted, but know exactly the remedies to apply.

With so many children to take care of and to protect from climate and disease these wise and prudent Sisters have found Peruna a never-failing safeguard.

Sisters of St. Joseph, of the Deaf Mute Institute, 1849 Cass Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"We appreciate Peruna very much. It certainly does good work with catarrh and also with colds and la grippe. We have faith in Peruna and have inspired many others with same. We do not like to be without it. It has certainly kept us from being very sick. It did a world of good last winter for our little ones. Thanking you for your kindness to us and our afflicted ones, we remain, yours gratefully,

"SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH."

Dr. Hartman receives many letters from Catholic Sisters from all over the United States. A recommend recently received from a Catholic institution in Detroit, Mich., reads as follows:

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio: Dear Sir:--"The young girl who used the Peruna was suffering from laryngitis, and loss of voice. The result of the treatment was most satisfactory. She found great relief, and after further use of the medicine we hope to be able to say she is entirely cured." Sisters of Charity.

This young girl was under the care of the Sisters of Charity and used Peruna for catarrh of the throat, with good results as the above letter testifies.

From a Catholic institution in Central Ohio comes the following recommend from the Sister Superior:

"Some years ago a friend of our institution recommended to us Dr. Hartman's Peruna as an excellent remedy for the influenza, of which we then had several cases which threatened to be of a serious character.

"We began to use it and experienced such wonderful results that since then Peruna has become our favorite medicine for influenza, catarrh, cold, cough and bronchitis."

Another recommend from a Catholic institution of one of the Central States written by the Sister Superior reads as follows:

"A number of years ago our attention was called to Dr. Hartman's Peruna, and since then we have used it with wonderful results for grip, coughs, colds and catarrhal diseases of the head and stomach.

"For grip and winter catarrh especially it has been of great service to the inmates of this institution."

SISTERS OF CHARITY

All Over the United States Use Peru-na for Catarrh.

A recommend recently received from a Catholic institution in the Southwest reads as follows:

A Prominent Mother Superior Says:

"I can testify from experience to the efficiency of Peruna as one of the very best medicines, and it gives me pleasure to add my praise to that of thousands who have used it. For years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach, all remedies proving valueless for relief. Last spring I went to Colorado, hoping to be benefited by a change of climate, and while there a friend advised me to try Peruna. After using two bottles I found myself very much improved. The remains of my old disease being now so slight, I consider myself cured, yet for a while I intend to continue the use of Peruna. I am now treating another patient with your medicine. She has been sick with malaria and troubled with leucorrhaea. I have no doubt that a cure will be speedily effected."

These are samples of letters received by Dr. Hartman from the various orders of Catholic Sisters throughout the United States.

The names and addresses to these letters have been withheld from respect to the Sisters, but will be furnished on request.

One-half of the diseases which afflict mankind are due to some catarrhal derangement of the mucous membrane lining some organ or passage of the body.

A remedy that would act immediately upon the congested mucous membrane, restoring it to its normal state, would consequently cure all these diseases. Catarrh is catarrh wherever located, whether it be in the head, throat, lungs, stomach, kidneys or pelvic organs. A remedy that will cure it in one location will cure it in all locations. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

If Pills Were Poison.

If Detroit's crop of pills for a single year was made of any deadly poison one-half of them would be sufficient to depopulate the entire globe.

If the annual pill harvest of Detroit was strung on thread, like Christmas popcorn, the rope of pills would reach twice around the earth, with enough over to tie in a bowknot.

If this string of pills was cut in pieces each of the 26,000,000 women and girls in America could have a different necklace of pills for every day in the year, with an extra long one for each Sunday.

Detroit produces 4,000,000,000 pills each year.—Leslie's Monthly.

Saved from Disaster.

The Chinese, if superstitious, are adroit. It was in a naval battle when a Chinese vessel was threatened with disaster. Suddenly a spirit appeared and the enemy was destroyed. "To whom am I indebted for this supreme favor?" asked the polite captain. "I am the Spirit of the Target," replied the savior, "and when you were young you often fired at me, but you never hit me. Hence the favor I bestowed."

Reforming the Dyspeptics.

The Dyspeptic Club, recently formed in Jersey City, aims evidently to create a new "department of the interior" and to manage it on advanced and economic theories. So far there are only fifty-seven members in the organization, although a very much greater number, mostly Americans, are plainly eligible.

Each member must make quarterly written reports of experiences. The diversity of these should certainly give due variety to the sessions. But this is the only way to get facts. But actions of different foods must be duly estimated. Pie and pain, buckwheat and bloat, sausage and suffering, pickle and pang, cabbage and colic, ham and heartburn, must show their proper relations. The humiliating part of the business is that each culprit must confess his weak will and his misplaced confidences, while pork, pie and pudding will still hold their own against odds. Thus, no member should be trusted to give absolute impartial testimony unless he can prove that he was free from cramp, hyperacidity, headache or borborygmus when his report was written. Gastralgia is as apt, in a reflex way, to affect the higher moral sense of truth as is a colic to warp sound judgment on the ordinary relation of cause and effect. The only time for good resolution is when the paroxysm is on.—Medical Record.

Number on Paper Money.

"If any one comes up to you and wants to bet you they can tell whether the number on any of Uncle Sam's paper money is odd or even by looking at that part of the bill on which the number does not appear, shun him as you would the plague," said a guest at a local hotel, recently.

"Why? What is the joke?" asked another guest.

"Only this," replied the first. "I was out this afternoon with a number of men with whom I have business dealings. We ate lunch, and then one man wanted to bet me that he could tell the even or odd on the number of any bill I had, the loser to pay for the lunch. I took a bill from my pocket, folded it so that the number did not show, and after he had looked at it he said 'even.'

"Soon afterward I got stuck for the cigars in the same way. After I had been done four or five times they explained to me that all of the bills marked 'A' and 'C' were odd, while those marked 'B' and 'D' were even. It cost about $6 to find it out, but I guess it was a good investment at that. It is the same on all bills. Be careful when attempting to do the work not to take the series letter in front of the number, but hunt for a small letter on the left-hand side of the bill."

Washington's Hand.

George Washington's hand was described as that of a giant. On the last occasion of General Lafayette's visit to this country he remarked to Mr. Custis, when referring to a former visit:

"You were holding to a single finger of the good general's remarkable hand—the greatest feat you could perform at that time."

Washington was the champion jumper of his day. In one match he covered twenty-one feet three inches, easily beating all competitors.

THE SOLDIERY OF JAPAN

Subjects of the Mikado Have Never Been Conquered in Battle.

It should be remembered that Japan has never been conquered. It should also be remembered that a foot of her soil has never been held by an enemy for an appreciable time. It should also be remembered that the very hordes that Genghis Khan and his predecessors and successors led in triumph against Russia and Central Europe, and which overthrew Persia and India and Afghanistan and Russia and Hungary, were easily beaten by the Japanese. It has been said that the Japanese have never fought a serious war with a white nation, and are an unknown quantity. It may be said with equal truth that Russia has never faced the Japanese in war, and that therefore the Russians in a conflict with the Japanese are an unknown quantity. But there is abundant material for estimating the strength on sea and land of these two peoples. The Japanese in their conflict with China in 1894 proved themselves superior to the Chinese in a greater degree than the Russians or any other European soldiery have ever proved themselves to the Chinese. Again in the international extravaganza, known as the marching on Pekin, the Japanese soldiers marched and fought side by side with the picked soldiery of Europe and America. In that experience they showed themselves superior to the American and European troops in every respect, and almost every western commander engaged in the expedition against the Chinese Boxers admitted that they were at least the equal, if not the superior, of all other soldiers engaged in the expeditiou.—Gunton's Magazine.

A Rare Disease.

Mrs. Juniper entered the doctor's office, dragging by the hand an overgrown boy of fourteen. She was excited and impatient; he was dogged and glum. "O, doctor, he has lost his voice! He hasn't spoken a word for two days," she said.

The boy looked at her sullenly, and suffered the doctor to hold his face up to the light.

"Open your mouth. H'm! Tongue all right?"

"Ya-ah."

"Hold your head up and let me look at your throat. Seems to be nothing the trouble there. Push your tongue out. Now pull it back. Feel all right?"

"Ya-ah."

"Why, Mrs. Juniper, there is nothing the matter with him," said the doctor, impatiently. "Boy, why don't you talk?"

"How can I when I ain't got anything to say?"

Cool.

"Glad to meet you, old chap," he said, as he linked arms with a friend whom he had met in the street. "Just lend me a sovereign for to-day."

"Would be delighted," the friend rejoined, "but I have not got it; see!" He opened his purse—its whole contents was a half sovereign.

"Must do, I suppose, for the present," said the prince of borrowers, as he picked the coin out daintily with thumb and forefinger. "Ta, ta; take care of yourself," and walked away. But he returned hastily. "Mind, don't forget you owe me a half sovereign."

"I owe you!" gasped the automatic lender.

"Of course. I meant to borrow a sovereign from you—I only got a half. You owe me the other half. See? There's no hurry, of course, but I like punctuality. Name your own day and pay up punctually."

Nitrate and a Nation's Life.

Three-quarters of the export trade of Chile are furnished by its great deposits of nitrate of soda, which is used as a fertilizer in nearly all agricultural countries. But these deposits, like those of coal, are limited, and once removed cannot be replaced. Mr. Vergara, a Chilean authority, has recently estimated the probable future life of the nitrate deposits as indicated by the increasing demand, and he predicts that at the end of twenty years exhaustion will be near at hand. "Our national life," he says, "is based upon an uncertain foundation, which weakens with the course of years, and which will be permanently destroyed within a period, the duration of which is measured by the growth in the exportation of nitrate."

A woman would rather be idolized than understood.

A Badge of Statehood.

There were two women standing side by side at a stall in the Terminal Market yesterday awaiting their turn to be served. Each carried a big willow basket on her arm, and as the proprietor finished with one customer one of the women lifted the cover from her basket and said:

"Two quarts of those white onions, please."

The man looked at her somewhat stupidly for a moment and then said: "Oh, you mean a quarter peck."

The woman assented and the other woman with the basket looked at her curiously for a moment and then asked: "You're from New York or the Eastern States, aren't you?"

"Yes, from New York State," said the other woman.

"I knew it. They always figure by quarts in those States until they get up to a full peck, and here and in New Jersey and Ohio I know it is all 'quarter peck' or 'half peck.'"

"Isn't it funny," said the other woman. "But were you ever South or in the Washington markets?"

"No," said the other, "I never have been."

"Well," said the New York State woman, "that's the most curious of all. Everything goes by small measure and large measure. It has such a delightfully indefinite sound, like a prize package or a lottery in which you may draw something big or nothing at all."—Philadelphia Press.

Danced With Sixty-Seven.

Miss Margaret Costello and John Polinski of Jersey City were married at the Polish Roman Catholic Church at Bayonne. A reception followed at their home at Pine street and Communipaw avenue.

The bridegroom told his wife that it was a custom of his country for the bride to dance with every male guest at the wedding. There were sixty-seven men guests, and Mrs. Polinski waltzed with every one of them, concluding the final waltz by falling unconscious.

Billion Dollar Grass and Alfalfa.

When we introduced Billion Dollar Grass three years ago, little did we dream it would be the most talked of grass in America, the biggest, quick, hay producer on earth, but this has come to pass.

Agr. Editors wrote about it, Agr. College Professors lectured about it, Agr. Institute Orators talked about it, while in the farm home by the quiet fireside, in the corner grocery, in the village postoffice, at the creamery, at the depot, in fact wherever farmers gathered, Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass, that wonderful grass, good for 5 to 14 tons per acre, and lots of pasture besides, is always a theme worthy of the farmer's voice.

A. Walford, Westlore Farms, Pa., writes: "I have 60 acres in Salzer's Alfalfa Clover. It is immense. I cut three crops this season and have lots of pasture besides."

Russia has fifty-seven warships at Port Arthur.

The New York Evening Post says that only two hotels in New York City refuse to keep their register of guests open and publicly accessible. These are the Fifth Avenue and the Waldorf-Astoria. The Fifth Avenue is a favorite resort of politicians, and its guests sometimes prefer not to have it known that they are there. The Waldorf-Astoria has made its way with social leaders, captains of industry, and with important and unimportant persons. The books there are not accessible to the public; lists of guests can not be transcribed. This is not only intended as a protection to the guests, but as a protection to the office staff. Many business houses send circulars to "hotel arrivals" when they can get the names, and at the Waldorf this would mean each morning the sorting of some fifteen hundred additional pieces of mail. The law only requires that a register be accurately kept, so that the police or authorized officers of government may consult it.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines and washes internally and externally until I made up my mind that there was no relief for me. Calling at the home of a friend, I noticed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My friend endorsed it highly and I decided to give it a trial to see if it would help me. It took patience and perseverence for I was in bad condition, and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nearly five months before I was cured, but what a change, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful exhilarating feeling health always brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars, and your Vegetable Compound is a grand medicine.

"I wish every sick woman would try it and be convinced."—MRS. IDA HASKELL, Silver Lake, Mass. Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars.

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me"?

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. You have some derangement of the feminine organism, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as surely as it has others.

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain if I had known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a few months sooner, for I tried many remedies without finding anything which helped me before I tried the Vegetable Compound. I dreaded the approach of the menstrual period every month, as it meant much suffering and pain. Some months the flow was very scanty and others it was profuse, but after I had used the Compound for two months I became regular and natural, and so I continued until I felt perfectly well, and the parts were strengthened to perform the work without assistance and pain. I am like a different woman now, where before I did not care to live, and I am pleased to testify as to the good your Vegetable Compound has done for me." Sincerely yours, MRS. TILLIE HART, Larimore, N.D.

Be it, therefore, believed by all women who are ill that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they should take. It has stood the test of time, and it has hundreds of thousands of cures to its credit. Women should consider it unwise to use any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass, will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women. Perhaps she has just the knowledge that will help your case—try her to-day—it costs nothing.

BIG BOND ISSUE

Sought for Improvements in the Philippines

Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin, introduced a bill amending in several important ways the act providing a civil form of government for the Philippines. The bill was prepared by Secretary Taft. Its first provision is that all bonds issued by the government of the Philippines shall be exempt from taxation, either by the government of the United States or the government of the Philippines. Five per cent bonds to the amount of $10,000,000 are authorized for public improvements in the Philippines. These bonds are to be approved by the president and secretary of war, and are to be used to provide for port and harbor works, roads, bridges, provincial and municipal schools, court houses and penal institutions.

Five per cent municipal bonds also are authorized to carry on municipal improvements.

Extensive work of internal improvement has been going on in the islands for the past four years. All of these works, building the breakwaters and docks, the construction of roads, the erection of school houses and bridges, in fact all sorts of necessary work to develop the islands permanently, have been paid for by the Philippine government out of the cash receipts; not one cent of indebtedness has been incurred.

In fact, the islands have no bonded debt in the actual sense of debt, for the certificates that have been sold in reality were to create reserve funds in the case of the currency, and where issued to pay for the friar lands, they are based on the value of the lands themselves, which are held as security for their redemption.

Cornwell is Home.

Captain Cornwell arrived in New Orleans Sunday morning from Honduras. Captain Cornwell is under surveillance but not under arrest. When he landed in New Orleans he was met at the wharf by a special deputy sheriff sworn in for this purpose, and this deputy, who is a friend of Captain Cornwell, will escort him to Birmingham. The bonds are already signed and only await his signature to make them effective.

Captain Cornwell comes back to settle up the trouble and face a trial, if there is one. It is very doubtful if a case will be prosecuted, as it is thought he will be able to settle, and that the depositors of the bank will receive back every cent they thought they had lost when the bank was wrecked.

In the United States court of claims the chief justice announced the case of the state of South Carolina versus the United States to recover various sums paid by the state of South Carolina as special taxes for the sale of liquors in the state at the various dispensaries by the officials in charge of these dispensaries, that the petition of the state of South Carolina was dismissed. South Carolina made claim for the refund of these taxes on the ground that the state dispensary law was constitutional, as decided by the supreme court of the United States, and that the collection of these taxes was in reality a tax levied upon the exercise of a governmental function and power. The commissioner rejected the claims and suit was then brought in the court of claims.

The president sent the following nominations to the senate: Chairman of the isthmian canal commission, Rear Admiral John G. Walker, United States navy, retired, District of Columbia; members of the isthmian canal commission, Major General Geo. W. Davis, United States army, retired, District of Columbia; William Barr, New York; Benjamin M. Harrod, of Louisiana; Carl Ewald, Grunsky, Cal.; Frank J. Becker, of Michigan.

The senate committee on pensions authorized a favorable report on the pension appropriation bill with an amendment increasing to $100 a month the pensions of veterans who are totally blind as a result of service in the civil war. This amendment will increase the total appropriation under the bill by $201,600.

Ill Health the Cause.

T. H. Sledge, a young white man, was found in his room at a boarding house in Montgomery with his throat cut from ear to ear and a bloody razor grasped in his hand.

Despondency because of continued ill health is given as the cause of his suicide. Sledge was employed as a collector. His employers say that he was efficient in his work and that all his accounts are correct. He was about 25 years of age and unmarried.

ROCHESTER SWEPT BY FIRE

Buffalo and Syracuse Send Engines to the Scene.

LOSS WILL BE OVER $4,000,000

Business District Destroyed by Conflagration Caused by Defective Electric Wires—Several of the Largest Buildings in the City in Ruins—Three City Blocks Wiped Out.

Rochester, N. Y.—The most disastrous fire in the history of Rochester raged here for seven hours. Before the Fire Department, assisted by reinforcements from Syracuse and Buffalo, had checked the flames they had swept the retail clothing and dry goods district for a space of three blocks, and had inflicted a loss which is estimated by insurance experts at over $4,000,000. Of this amount, $750,000 represents the loss on buildings and the rest is on stocks and office furnishings. In addition, about 2500 persons are, for the time being, thrown out of employment.

Three out of the five big department stores of the city were consumed by the flames, one of them, the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Company, being by far the largest establishment of the kind in the city. This firm alone suffered a loss estimated at $1,250,000, a large portion of which is covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered by the night watchman in the employ of the Rochester Dry Goods Company, who says it started from a fuse which blew out in the electric elevator connection. Almost simultaneously an explosion occurred in the basement of Beadle & Sherburne's store, next door. Smoke and flames poured through the elevator grating in the sidewalk, and in an incredibly short time the buildings were a mass of flame.

The burned district lies on the north side of Main street, between St. Paul street and Clinton avenue, running from St. Paul street almost the entire length of the block. The fire started on the eastern end of the block, in the store of the Rochester Dry Goods Company, and worked west, taking but one store east of this establishment, that of the Walkover Shoe Company, before its progress was checked in that direction. Next west was the store of the Beadle, Sherburne Company, which was destroyed. Then the flames ate up the marble block occupied by the Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Company, and finally the thirteen-story granite building, a so-called fireproof structure, and the finest commercial building in the city.

The fire completely gutted the inside of the building, the flames going from story to story and from room to room, licking up every article of inflammable matter that could be found, but leaving practically unharmed the granite, the brick in the walls and the steel and iron that bound them together.

There is nothing left of any of the other buildings. They have been razed to the ground. The blow is one that will affect Rochester business men seriously, but it is one that they will be able quickly to rally from, and the prospects are that inside of six months new buildings will be ready for occupancy and the trade of the city will go on without interruption.

JAIL FOR UNION MEN.

Chicago Judge Sentences Five For Violating His Injunction.

Chicago, Ill.—Judge Holdom has again held Franklin Union, No. 4, of Press Feeders, guilty of violating the injunction of the court, and has sentenced five of its members, including the President, to jail. The action, which was brought by the Chicago Typothetae, charged the Franklin Union and its members with violating the injunction restraining interference with non-union employes.

The union was fined $1000. J. M. Shea, its Secretary, was fined $100 and sentenced to six months in the county jail. President Werner was fined $250 and sent to jail for three months. Jerome Collins got two months; Harry Brown was ordered imprisoned for forty days, and Michael Flannery was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

In his finding Judge Holdom declared that the members of the union had been proved to have intimidated other workers who were employed at plants which had come under the ban of the union.

CHARITY MONEY MISSING.

American Surety's Boston Agent is Accused of Taking It.

Boston, Mass. — Wallace H. Ham, manager of the Boston branch of the American Surety Company, of New York, Treasurer of St. Luke's Home for Convalescents, Roxbury, and until recently Treasurer of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in this city, was arrested, charged with the larceny of $104,000 from the American Surety Company.

In court, George N. Perry, counsel for the surety company, stated that although the warrant alleged the appropriation of $104,000, he was ready to prove that as much as $170,000 had been taken by Ham while manager for the company.

Mr. Perry said that Ham also was responsible for a loss of from $40,000 to $50,000 in the hands of St. Luke's Home.

Mr. Hanna Left $7,000,000.

The inventory of the estate of Senator Hanna, which has just been taken by the family, shows that the dead statesman left more than $7,000,000 instead of $3,000,000, as reported to the probate Judge at Cleveland, Ohio.

Colored Murderer Hanged.

Protesting his innocence to the last, Will Boggan, colored, met death calmly, on the scaffold at Wadesboro, N. C., for the murder of John Sullivan.

JAPANESE SHIPS SUNK

Daring Attempt to Blockade Entrance to Port Arthur.

Admiral Alexieff Issues Proclamation in Manchuria Ordering All Inhabitants to Aid Russia.

Port Arthur.—The Japanese made an attempt to block the entrance of the inner harbor and dock. With this object four merchant steamers, accompanied by torpedo vessels, were sent from two sides toward the entrance of the channel. The movement was perceived by the battleship Retvizan, which was lying in the channel, and which opened fire immediately. At the same time the guns of the forts on the Tiger Peninsula, Golden Hill, and Electric Cliff were turned upon the enemy and a furious cannonade ensued, lasting until five in the morning. Then the firing slackened and became desultory.

The Japanese failed to effect their purpose. All four steamers were sunk. They are lying in the following positions:

One behind Golden Hill. One near the Retvizan. Two between the entrance of the channel and Lao-thie-shan peninsula.

Two of the vessels were set on fire.

Ying-Kau.—Viceroy Alexieff has caused a proclamation to be issued through Manchuria, notifying the Chinese that Russia is at war with Japan on account of Japan's treacherous attack on the Russian fleet.

The proclamation is in six sections, as follows:

First—The inhabitants are warned that they must prevent the encroachment of Chinese on Russian territory.

Second—Russian and Chinese interests are declared to be identical, but as China says she wishes to maintain neutrality, all officials in Manchuria, instead of hindering, must assist the Russian Army.

Third—The people shall continue their occupations, and shall treat the Russian troops with confidence.

Fourth—The railway telegraphs are left to the protection of the people, who will be held responsible in case they are injured.

Fifth—The people are warned not to obey the threats of the chunchus (bandits), who are the curse of Manchuria, but must assist the troops to exterminate them. If they do not aid in this they also will be treated as robbers.

Sixth—If the people antagonize the troops or show them hatred they will be exterminated without mercy. The government is taking all steps, in any event, to protect its interests.

Nagasaki.—The Japanese Government has seized 670 tons of mess beef which was shipped from San Francisco on the steamer Korea, and which was consigned to the Russian Government at Vladivostok.

FRANCE AND SPAIN ARBITRATE.

French Foreign Office Announces a Treaty Has Been Signed.

Paris, France.—The Foreign Office announced that a treaty of arbitration between France and Spain had been signed. The terms are identical with the recent arbitration treaties concluded between France and Great Britain and Italy and Great Britain.

The consummation of the treaty gives the officials here great satisfaction. They say it shows the falsity of the reports recently in circulation in regard to the relations between France and Spain. The treaty is considered also as disposing of the reports of friction over Spain's North African possessions.

PANAMA TREATY INTO EFFECT.

President Signs Proclamation as Last Formality.

Washington, D. C.—President Roosevelt signed the proclamation putting into effect the treaty with Panama regarding the isthmian canal. As soon as the proclamation was signed it was returned to the State Department, where the exchange of ratifications already had taken place between Secretary of State Hay and Minister Bunau-Varilla, of Panama. The Cabinet was in session when the proclamation reached the White House from the State Department. Secretary Loeb took the document to the President, and he signed it immediately.

Coal Production For 1902.

The Census Bureau has issued a report on the mining of coal in the United States for the year ended December 31, 1902. It shows a total production of 301,590,439 short tons, valued at $367,052,069. Of this total, 260,216,844 short tons, valued at $290,858,483, were bituminous, and 41,373,595 short tons, valued at $76,173,586 were anthracite.

Buffalo Lawyer Shot.

Henry L. Schwartz, of the law firm of Baker & Schwartz, was shot and wounded at Buffalo, N. Y., by H. A. Knowles, a well-known business man, of Buffalo, who, ten minutes later, shot himself dead in the presence of Chief of Detectives Taylor and Detective Sergeant O'Connor.

Two Women Crushed to Death.

Mrs. C. B. Fountain and her mother, Mrs. A. Hogue, of Valley Junction, Ia., were crushed to death by an elevator at the State House. They were caught between the elevator and an upper floor of the building. Mrs. Fountain lost her life in an attempt to save her mother.

RUSSIA MAKES PROTEST

Declares to Powers That Japan Acted in Bad Faith.

NAVAL ORDERS INTERCEPTED

Count Lamsdorff's Circular Charges That Attack on Ships at Chemulpo Was Made by Perfidy—Admiral Alexieff Superseded—Kaiser Orders His Fleet to Watch War Moves.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—Count Lamsdorff, the Foreign Minister, has sent a circular to the Russian representatives abroad, embodying the following protest:

"Since the rupture of negotiations the action of the Japanese Government has constituted an open violation of all laws governing the relations of civilized Powers. Without specifying every such violation Russia desires to call the most serious attention of the Powers to Japan's violent acts respecting Korea."

It recalls the circumstances of the recognition by the Powers of the independence and integrity of Korea and the confirmation thereof by the treaty of Shimonoseki, by the Anglo-Japanese agreement of January, 1902, and the Franco-Russian declaration of March, 1902. The circular continues:

"The Emperor of Korea, foreseeing a possible Russo-Japanese conflict, addressed the Powers in January, 1904, affirming his resolution to maintain neutrality.

"This was received with satisfaction by the Powers, including Russia, while, according to M. Pavloff, then Russian Minister at Seoul, Great Britain instructed Mr. Jordan, the British Minister there, to present an official note to the Korean Emperor thanking him.

"In disregard of all these facts and despite all treaties and obligations and in violation of the fundamental rules of international law Japan, before beginning hostilities against Russia, landed troops in independent and neutral Korea, and on February 8, three days before a declaration of war, suddenly attacked in the neutral port of Chemulpo two Russian warships, whose commanders had not been notified of the rupture of relations, as the Japanese maliciously stopped the delivery of Russian telegrams by the Danish cable and destroyed Korea's telegraphic communication. The details of this dastardly attack are contained in the published official telegram from M. Pavloff."

The note concludes by asserting that Russia feels it to be her duty to submit this protest to the Powers, firmly convinced that they, valuing the principles guaranteeing their relations, will agree with Russia's attitude. At the same time the note announces that owing to Japan's illegal assumption of power in the Korean peninsula Russia regards all orders and declarations which may be issued by Korea as invalid.

London, England.—The Chinese are maintaining order well. They have covered the province with proclamations enjoining the preservation of tranquillity.

Well disciplined troops numbering about 6000 have been drafted in Shan-Tung Province, and General Chan Chi Tung's foreign drilled forces are coming to assist in the maintenance of order and the protection of Chinese neutrality.

The appointment of Vice-Admiral Makharoff as commander of the Russian Far Eastern fleet is officially announced. He will control the entire naval movements in Far Eastern waters. General Kouropatkin will have supreme military command. Admiral Alexieff, as Viceroy, will remain the nominal Commander-in-Chief, but he will have no practical authority over Admiral Makharoff and General Kouropatkin.

Berlin, Germany.—The commanders of the German warships in the Far East have been instructed to send to the home government full reports regarding matters which may come under their observation. Hence, the warships will visit, according to the Admiral's assignments, all ports where there is anything worthy of observation or inquiry. As these reports go to Emperor William, each commander will be keenly alive to the desirability of making clear-cut and comprehensive observations.

VICTORY FOR SAVINGS BANKS.

Court Holds Securities Must Be Assessed at Market Value.

Albany, N. Y.—The Court of Appeals has decided that the State Controller, in imposing a one per cent. tax on the surplus and undivided profits of savings banks under the law of 1901, must assess at the market value of the securities constituting the surplus, when the same is quoted on the market below their par value.

The opinion of the court is written by Judge Haight, and is rendered in the case of the Bank of Savings of the city of New York. The court reverses the decision of the courts below in this interpretation, and orders that the sum of $296,500 be deducted from the value of the surplus and undivided earnings of this bank. The State will lose a large amount of money in consequence of this decision upon assessments already made by the Controller.

PANAMA TREATY RATIFIED

United States Senate Passes Measure by a Vote of 66 to 14.

Senator Bacon's Amendment Providing For Arrangement of Compensation to Colombia Rejected.

Washington, D. C.—By a vote of 66 to 14 the Senate ratified the Panama Treaty without amendment. This was an unusually large vote, only nine members being absent and not voting. Of these nine six were paired in the affirmative with three in the negative. Had every Senator voted the result would have been yeas, 72, nays, 17. The negative was made up entirely of Democrats, but the vote on ratification cannot be said to have been partisan, as fourteen Democrats voted in the affirmative and two were paired on that side. This made 16 Democratic Senators for and 17 against ratification.

The only other vote was on the amendment offered by Senator Bacon providing for an arrangement for compensating Colombia for loss of the territory of Panama. This was rejected by a vote of 49 to 24.

The debate in executive session was generally on the merits of the treaty, with reference to the secret papers, which were sent to the Senate by the President. Senator Morgan made a set speech which occupied the greater part of the time. Senator Culberson made comments on the secret correspondence and asserted that it showed that the "reasonable time" referred to in the Spooner act was known to have expired, both for negotiating the Hay-Herran treaty and its ratification.

REBELS FIRE ON GERMAN SHIP.

Dominican Gunboat Attempts to Hold Up Steamer in Vain.

Kingston, Jamaica.—The German steamer Altenburg, Captain Kuhls, from Hamburg and West Indian points, arrived here and reported that between San Domingo and Sanchez, Santo Domingo, the Dominican gunboat Presidente hove in sight and fired a blank shot across her bows.

Captain Kuhls, however, refused to stop, and no further interfence with the Altenburg was attempted.

At Puerto Platta, Santo Domingo, President Morales warned Captain Kuhls against proceeding to Monte Cristi; but the Altenburg went there and landed cargo. Because of the revolution the steamer did not land anything at San Domingo City.

DODGE IS FREED.

Out on $10,000 Bail, as Appeal is Granted.

Houston, Texas.—The culmination of the Charles F. Dodge controversy apparently was reached, so far as all Texas tribunals are concerned, in a victory for Dodge and those interested in keeping him away from New York.

Judge Burns, in the Federal Court, granted an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States on the constitutional points involved. He also ordered that Dodge be released under the $10,000 cash bond he previously had given for an appeal. The freedom of Dodge is limited, however, to territory in the jurisdiction of the Federal Court for the Southern District of Texas. This will permit Dodge to go as far south as the Rio Grande.

BARON AND BEAR DIE.

Body of Wealthy Von Schlosser Found on Pacific Coast.

Port Angeles, Wash.—The body of Baron Martin von Schlosser, formerly an officer in the German Army, and for many years a resident of this city, has been found on the range south of the Hot Springs, near the body of a dead bear. The Baron undoubtedly had been killed by the bear while hunting.

On his body were receipts from banks in Portland, Ore.; Chicago and New York for more than $100,000.

A letter found on the body directed that Judge Hatch should administer his affairs. Baron von Schlosser had been a resident of Port Angeles for several years, and only recently had taken out naturalization papers.

GERMANS KILL 70 NATIVES.

Forces in Southwest Africa Repulse Two Attacks.

Berlin, Germany.—Colonel Leutwein, Governor of German Southwest Africa, cables that Ovambos, under Captain Nechale, attacked the police post at Amatoni and were repulsed with a loss of sixty men killed. A division under Lieutenant Schultze had a fight with the Hereros at South Tsumana, in which the enemy lost ten men killed. The Germans sustained no casualties and Lieutenant Schultze captured large herds of cattle.

EXPLOSION KILLS FOUR.

Powdered Starch Becomes Ignited—Damage to Factory About $200,000.

Waukegan, Ill.—The starch plant of the Warner Sugar Refining Company was destroyed by fire following an explosion. Four men were killed and several others injured.

The property loss is estimated at about $200,000. The explosion was caused by the igniting of a fine dust or powder that arises from the ground starch. The force of the explosion was felt five miles away.

Kills Woman and Babes.

Mrs. Benjamin Ramsey, her daughter, Myrtle, aged four, and her son, Albert, aged two, were murdered by Jerry Dugan, of Terre Haute, Ind., with a razor. Dugan gave himself up and confessed.

Six Miners Buried in a Snowslide.

Six miners employed at the Augusta mine, nine miles northwest of Crested Butte, Col., were caught in a snowslide while coming to town and swept to death.

REBELS BROKE THEIR WORD

Dominicans Treacherously Attacked Our Ships.

AMERICAN FLAG PLAINLY VISIBLE

Captain Wainwright Reports on the Shelling of the Rebel Camp and the Landing of United States Marines at San Domingo—Insurgents Offered No Resistance to Our Men.

Washington, D. C.—From Captain Richard Wainwright, of the cruiser Newark, the Navy Department has received by mail a report of the incident near Santo Domingo City in which an insurgent camp was shelled by the Newark and a force of bluejackets and marines from that vessel and the cruiser Columbia landed to drive them from the coast. Captain Wainwright's account differs in some respects from the reports telegraphed by Charge d'Affaires Powell and Captain Miller, of the Columbia. He says:

"Upon arriving off Santo Domingo City I found the U. S. S. Columbia, and at once reported to Captain Miller. The steamship New York arrived shortly after us, and at noon went alongside the dock in the river to unload her cargo, about 1900 barrels. Captain Miller had made a written agreement with the commanding Generals of both forces that there would be no firing on that side of the city while the New York was at the dock.

"The Columbia's steam launch, with a large United States flag at the bow, went into the dock, preceding the New York, also flying an American flag. The insurgents from the east bank of the river fired upon the New York, and upon the Columbia's steam launch. After consultation with Captain Miller, and by his direction, I moved to a position directly opposite the river and shelled the east bank of the river in order to drive back into the interior all insurgents in that neighborhood, preparing the way for landing a battalion composed of the landing force of the Columbia and Newark.

"The battalion, under command of Lieutenant Commander Parker, equipped in light marching order, landed. At a small town about half a mile in the interior the insurgents were found in some force under the command of General Jose Tiburzier. The General was warned to remove his forces back into the interior at once, away from the east bank of the river, and that he should not fire on the town again from that side. He signed another written agreement to that effect, and at once collected his forces and marched his men into the interior.

"The railroad from Puerto Plata to Santiago is controlled throughout by General Morales. The only town in the interior in that neighborhood remaining in the hands of the insurgents is La Vega, the interior end of the British railroad from Sanchez. The telegraph and train service between La Vega and Sanchez are interrupted. There is no communication between Sanchez and any other port at present.

"The whole southeastern peninsula is in the hands of the insurgents, and Santo Domingo City is surrounded and closely invested by about 1200 men of the insurgent force."

SPANIARD STABS YANKEE TAR.

Cruiser's Sailors Draw Knives on the Columbia's Men at St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, D. W. I.—A fight occurred here between sailors from a Spanish and an American warship, which resulted in the wounding of several men and a victory for the Americans.

The fight began when a seaman from the cruiser Columbia jostled a sailor from the Spanish cruiser Rio de la Plata as he passed him in the street. The Spaniard was with a companion from his ship, as was the American sailor, and all the men were on shore liberty. The Spanish sailor drew a stiletto and seriously wounded the American who had brushed against him. Other men from the Columbia who were on shore gathered around their companions and attacked the two Spaniards, who defended themselves with their knives and succeeded in wounding several other Americans.

They finally escaped, ran to the wharf and jumped into the water. They were picked up by a harbor boat and taken on board their ship. The wounded American sailor is in a hospital here in a critical condition.

TOWNS TAKEN IN SAN DOMINGO.

Government Forces Rout Rebels at San Cristobal and Bani.

San Domingo.—The towns of San Cristobal and Bani have been recaptured by forces from the Government gunboat Presidente. Another Government force has been sent to attack the insurgents at San Pedro de Macoris.

United States Minister Powell has informed the Government that Washington does not recognize the closing of ports not at present in possession of the Government. The blockade is ineffective.

The insurgents inflicted great damage to property in the vicinity of this city. The town of San Carlos has been almost completely destroyed.

Superintendent Maxwell Re-Elected.

The Board of Education of the Borough of Manhattan re-elected Superintendent Maxwell.

Butte Slayer Hanged in Dark.

James Martin was hanged at Butte, Mont., for the murder of J. R. Williams at Silver Bow Junction in May, 1902. The hanging took place in utter darkness. Martin refused to tell his real name.

French Educational Bill Wins.

The French Government bill regulating secondary education passed the Senate by a big majority. It excludes members of all religious orders from teaching.

It seems that China is destined to get bumped if the door is open, and badly jammed if the door is closed.

It is worthy of note that the only congressman who ever resigned a seat after learning that he was not honestly elected is a democrat.

Where is Coxey, once famous as a paripatetic, semi-military advocate of good roads bonds? Can't he reappear in behalf of the Brownlow bill by another march on Washington.

Ohio will have to have two new Senators in place of Mr. Hanna, or one for two terms. His present term will not expire till March 6, 1905, and he was recently elected for the next term, ending March 6, 1911. Ohio politics are quite effervescent at present and it is possible that Governor Herrick may be elected for the short term leaving the long term to General Dick.

STAND UNITED.

Since 1890 there have been many rifts in the democratic party. In many campaigns there have been splits of more or less importance, and there is now a division of feeling that causes fear of split. It may be that the mere fact that there are now three distinct factions, the straight party wing, the Bryan wing and the Cleveland wing. may tend to prevent a real split, as the expected does not always happen,

It has been admited by high republican authorities that Mr. Roosevelt cannot carry New York against any good democrat. It is stated that Indiana does not want to vote for Mr. Roosevelt. The split in the republican party is as wide and deep as that in the democratic party, but the republicans have a better way of getting together than we. It is true that a republican split led by Mr. Roosevelt, now the republican candidate did help us elect Mr Cleveland, but since then Mr. Clevland elected Mr. McKinley. We owe the republicans nothing.

This is the year for democratic success, and nothing but a split at St. Louis or a bad platform can prevent a victory this year. A good candidate and a new platform and party discipline and all promises well.—Ex

The opinion that either the farmer is not getting enough for his beef, or the the consumer is paying too much, is shared by many prominent specialists, includeing the secretary of agriculture. When asked recently as to the relation of the packing houses to an increase or a decrease in the price of meat, Mr, Wilson summarized his views: "Fat cattle are not so dear as they were a few years ago, and there are good reason why they should not be. But there are no very good reasons why the consumer should pay as much for his beefsteak as he paid a few years ago. Whether the packer or the retailer is to blame, I can not tell you, but my impression is that the retailer has absorbed most of the difference. The margin between those prices—what farmer pays—is much greater than it should be."

Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for any one to attempt to doctor himself, althorg he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the 30 years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., a druggist says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribe it in my practice for the past 6 years. Use it, in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten good results." For sale at Bandy Drug Co.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL

Address a Letter to the People Relative to Presidency of the Railroad Commission.

DISFAVORS B. B. COMER.

To the People of Alabama:

Would you think it fair and just if the lawyer who appeared in court and argued a case against you in favor of your opponent should be called to sit as the judge in that same case at the next term of court?

Last June B. B. Comer appeared before the railroad commission of Alabam and arged vigorously that all rail road rates in the state should be reduced. As a candidate for president of the railroad commission he is now promising to decide all those matters against the railroad companies. His various lines of business give him a direct and very large interest in a great many of the most important of these matters. Do you think it fair and just to make him one of the judges to hear and decide the very controversy in which he has already appeared as an advocate or attorney, in which he has a large personal interest, and which he has completely prejudged in advance of trial or hearing?

The people of Alabama would not elect any man as president of the railroad commission who had appeared before the railroad commission in that controversy in behalf of the railroads. If they would not elect a man representing the railroads, should they in justice elect a man who appeared against the railroads, and who is adversely interested to them?

The law of Alabama declares that a judge must not act in a case which he has been attorney or in which he is interested. Does not the same spirit of fairness require that a man should not be elected president of the railroad commission for the express purpose of deciding matters in which he is interested both personally and as attorney?

We do not, of course, deny or question the right of the state to decide what is just and fair as between the shippers and the railroads, that the railroad commission has ample power to render such decisions and make them effective.

We do not feel, however, that we have the right to ask you to select some fair minded and disinterested man as president of the railroad commission, before whom the railroads, as well as the shippers, can appear in the confident belief that a fair and impartial hearing will be accorded.

Very respectfully,
WALKER D. HINES,
First Vice President L. & N. R. R.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
Chicago, Ill., Oct,, 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

A very delightful little social was given Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erlick in honor of their guest, Miss. Hannah Winkler, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Games and music were the features of the evening, after which the guest sat down to a dainty repast. Miss Winkler leaves for her northern home next Wednesday, and takes this means of bidding her friends goodbye.

As the twilight faded away in the west a large concourse o: our people were wending their way to the school house on Tuesday evening to greet the return engagement of Helen May Butler's ladies military band which was billed for that night. At the hour for the curtains to rise a large audience had assembled in the school to greet them. The event will long be remembered by our people as a rare treat. The concert from the beginning to the end was splendid, but the features of the evening was the solos of little Miss Vashti Smith with the horn, she is the youngest artist in the world on this instrument, being only ten years of age. Last but not least to catch the audience was the Xylophone and bell solos by Miss Clara Bahr, who handles them to perfection as well as the drum sticks.

The Winning Man.

VINCENT, ALA., March 2, 1904.

It is with pleasure that the majority of the voters of Vincent (and I trust of the county) to read the announcement of J. S. FALKNER for Tax Assessor. A man who is qualified for the place. A man of good business tact. A man of sobriety and last but not least a high toned Christian gentleman, and at this critical time of the Democratic party, I feel that he is the man and should be the choice of the Democrats of Shelby county for Assessor. He is a Shelby bred boy known all over the county, is worthy of any trust that the people of Shelby county should place in his HANDS. Since his announcement, I have felt sure that he would meet with the endorsement of leading democrats of the county, and should he get the nomination, I feel confident that his election is sure.

So when we have an opportunity to cast a vote for a worthy man and a man who has naught against his character, and who is in every way qualified to fill the position for which he has asked Let us do so by all means. I write this short piece holding nofeelings against other candidate. But I certainly hope that Mr. J. S. Falkner will be the winner and after the voters have weighed other candidates, I am confident that the majority will take side with ME and Mr. Falkner will be the winning sign.

WELDON.

Some of our people have their garden seeds planted.

The singing Sunday night at C. W. Walton's was a success.

Dr. A. W. Horton has been quite busy for the past few weeks.

I think from the way somebody goes up to the camps, there'll be another wedding soon, haw about it Billy?

Rev. A. C. Messer preached at Cobb's school house Sunday last.

Our friund and candidate J. E. Adams, Esq., would make a good tax chllector for the county, lets try him.

Prof. J. W. Moore and wife attended class meeting at James Spearman Sunday evening. Prof. Moore is a candidate for tax assessor of Shelby county. He is an upright Christian gentleman and is competent to fill the office.

Married at the residenbe of C. Rays George Moore, of Fourmile settlement and Miss Anna Martin. We wish for them a long and happy life.

Wild Bill says just wait a few more Sundays and he will know by then whether to send out cards or not. Wild Bill don't say yes next time unless it is your marrying sure enough.

The death angel visited our community last week and taken for its victim, little Flora Walton, daughter of J. H. and F. L. Walton. Flora was about 6 years old, a bright intelligent little giri, she was in school at Union and I am sure I voihe the sentiment of the entire school when I say they have lost one of the brighest students It is with deepest sympathy with the bereaved relatives of the deceased that we expressed our hope that even so great and unexpected loss to us may be over ruled for good by him who doeth all thing well. This is little Flora's speech she recited a few days before her death, it teaches us a beautiful lesson:

If you are ever going to love me,
Love me now while I can know,
All the sweet and tender feeling,
Which from real affection flow.

Love me now while I'm living,
Don't wait till I am gone,
And then chisel it in marble,
Or on ice hard stone.

If you know some one thirsting,
For a few drops of water sweet,
Would you be so slow to bring it,
Would you step with laggard feet.

There are tender hearts around us,
That are thirsting for our love,
Why with hold it from them,
Nature makes them crave all above.

If you have sweet thought of me,
Why not whisper the to me,
For they would make me so happy,
And as glad as glad as I can be.

I'll not need your kind caresses,
When the grass grows over my face,
I'll not crave your love and kisses,
In my low resting place.

If you wait till I am sleeping,
Never to awake again,
There'll be walls of earth between us,
And I cannot hear you then.

So if you love me any,
If its just a little bit,
Let me know while I'm living,
So I can own and treasure it.

Farevell Flora, it will not be long before the old ship will sail from our door bearing our souls to meet you on that blissful shore where we will pact no more. J. W. S.

Colds Cause Pneumonia.

One of the most remarkable cases of colds, deepseated on the luugs, causing pneumonia is that of Gertrude E Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me so that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this, wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. Sold by Bandy Drug Company.

Dr. A. W. Horton, our efficient doctor recently moved to the Johnson place one half mile north of the city.

Rev. J. E. Samply preached a very interesting sermon at Union church last Sunday. He always hews to the line and and let the chips fall where they may.

Rev. A. C. Messer filled his regular appointment at Cobb's school house Sunday the 28th.

Mex Sharbutt and Squire Adams were seen wending their way northward Sunday morning, the Squire had a large envelope in his outside coat pocket, finally arriving at the home of R. S. Gill where they were cordialy welcomed, and there they found a host of friends had gathered, and in a few minutes everything was announced ready, when A. B. Holcombe and Miss Sarah E. Gill, a charming young lady were joined in holy bonds of matrimony. Squire Adams officiating and a short time afterwards those present partook of the marriage feast which bountiful and fine. The Squire says if it was not for his Sunday school he would be glad some one would get married every Sunday.

Say boys, I have been in favor of nominating and electing Squire J. E. Adams for tax collector, but what would us boys do for some one to say the ceremony for us, for he can't be squire and tax collector at the same time. He says the ceremony in such a genial and dignifid manner. We would hate to give him up. O yes, he is a Sabbath school superintendent and I think that would entitle him to this right, if not, we have Squire Lybrand who can fill his plaee, so let us nominate and elect the squire for tax collector for Shelby county.

Mex Sharbutt has returned from a business trip to Vincent and Cresswell and report having a nice time.

Austin Brasher was seen going towards Lester's chapel Sunday.

W. A. Wilder at this place is cutting a nice lot of lumber and nice shingles.

Dunlap for Ceancellor.

Gadsden, Ala., Jan. 8, 1904.

The members of the Gadsden Bar met in the office of Boykin & Brindley Monday evening, Jan. 4. Upon motion the chairman appointed a committee consisting of W. J. Boykin, J. B. Martin and Judge J. A. Bilbro to prepare suitable resolutions regarding the candidacy of Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap for Chancellor of the Northern Division. The committee reported the following resolutions:

Whereas, We are advised that the Hon. R. B. Kelley, chancellor of the northeaster chancery division will not by reason of his candidacy for associate justice of our supreme court, aspire to succeed himself as chancellor; and

Whereas, our fellow townsman and leading member of our local bar, Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap, has kindly yielded to the earnest solicitation of the members of the Gadsden bar as well as of leading lawyers, democrats throughout the northeastern division, and will enter the field as a candidate for chancellor. Therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st, That we take great pleasure in commending the Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap to the democracy of the northeastern chancery division, as a suitable man for chancellor; he is democrat true and tried, a lawyer of learning and great research, capable, worthy and well qualified to discharge with credit to himself and honor to the people the responsible duties of the office to which he aspires.

2nd. That it gives us, the members of the Gadsden bar, great pleasure to unanimously and enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Col. R. A. D. Dunlap; pledging our united and individual efforts in his behalf, and we earnestly solicit the aid of friends and acquaintances and brother lawyers and democrats throughout the division to secure the nomination of this worthy gentleman, for we assure those who help us that Col. Dunlap is a hard working, painstaking, sober, honest, upright Christian gentleman, and if nominated and elected chancellor, he will bring to the office his best efforts and we feel safe in assuring all who honor him with their support they will never have cause to regret their action.

W. J. BOYKIN,
J. B. MARTIN,
J. A. BILBRO.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted and, after transacting other business, the meeting adjourned.

A. R. Brindley, Sec. O. R. Hood, Chairman.

The Cherokee County Bar also endorses the candidacy of Colonel R. A. D. Dunlap. adv.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unneccesary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. For sale by Williams Bros.

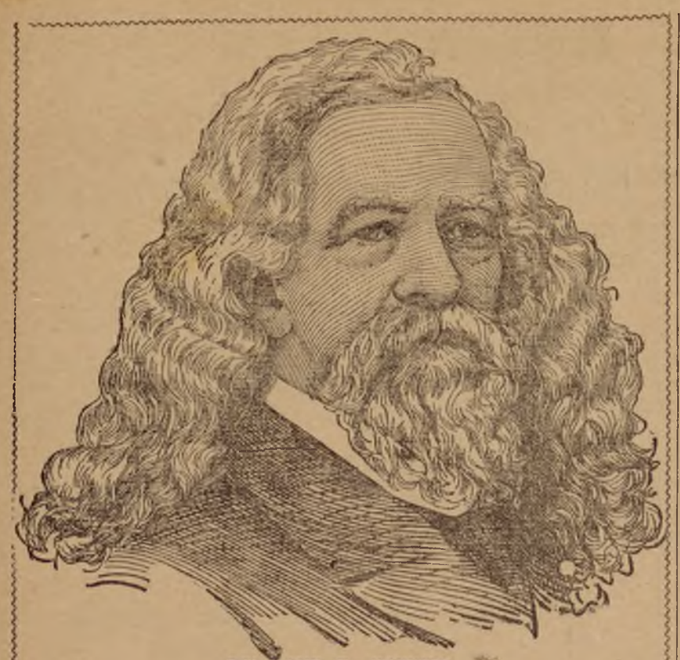
A COMRADE OF GENERAL GRANT

Says: "I Do Not Believe Pe-ru-na Has a Superior for Catarrh."



BENJAMIN F. HAWKES.

Benjamin F. Hawkes, of Washington, D. C., is One of the Three Living Comrades of General Grant in His Cadet Days at West Point.

In a recent letter from 611 G street, S. W., Washington, D. C., this venerable gentleman says of Peruna:

"I have tried Peruna after having tried in vain other remedies for catarrh, and I can say without reservation that I never felt a symptom of relief until I had given Peruna the simple trial that its advocates advise. I do not believe it as a superior, either as a remedy for catarrh or as a tonic for the depressed and exhausted condition which is one of the effects of the disease."—Benjamin F. Hawkes.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLennan County, Texas, has lived for 114 years. In speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says:

"Peruna exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it keeps me in good appetite; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine.

"When epidemics of la grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease.

"I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Peruna was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la grippe was epidemic catarrh, I tried Peruna for la grippe, and found it to be just the thing."—Isaac Brock.

Pe-ru-na Used in the Family for Years.

Mrs. E. West, 137 Main street, Menasha, Wis., writes: "We have used Peruna in our family for a number of years and when I say that it is a fine medicine for catarrh and colds, I know what I am talking about. I have taken it every spring and fall for four years and I find that it keeps me robust, strong, with splendid appetite, and free from any illness. A few years ago it cured me of catarrh of the stomach, which the doctors had pronounced incurable. I am very much pleased with Peruna. I am 87 years old."—Mrs. E. West.

Pe-ru-na Is a Catarrhal Tonic Especially Adapted to the Declining Powers of Old Age.

In old age the mucous membranes become thickened and partly lose their function.

This leads to partial loss of hearing, smell and taste, as well as digestive disturbances.

Peruna corrects all this by its specific operation on all the mucous membranes of the body.

One bottle will convince anyone. Once used and Peruna becomes a life-long stand-by with old and young.

Mrs. F. E. Little, Tolona, Ill., writes: "I can recommend Peruna as a good medicine for chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels. I have been troubled severely with it for over a year, and also a cough. Now my cough is all gone, and all the distressing symptoms of catarrh of the stomach and bowels have disappeared. I will recommend it to all as a rare remedy. I am so well I am contemplating a trip to Yellowstone Park this coming season. How is that for one 71 years old?"

A TRAVELER AT SEVENTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE.

In a later letter she says: "I am only too thankful to you for your kind advice and for the good health that I am enjoying wholly from the use of your Peruna. Have been out to the Yellowstone National Park and many other places of the West, and shall always thank you for your generosity."—Mrs. F. E. Little.

Strong and Vigorous at the Age of Eighty-eight.

Rev. J. N. Parker, Utica, N. Y., writes: "In June, 1901, I lost my sense of hearing entirely. My hearing had been somewhat impaired for several years, but not so much affected but that I could hold converse with my friends; but in June, 1901, my sense of hearing left me so that I could hear no sound whatever. I was also troubled with severe rheumatic pains in my limbs. I commenced taking Peruna and now my hearing is restored as good as it was prior to June, 1901. My rheumatic pains are all gone. I cannot speak too highly of Peruna, and now when eighty-eight years old can say it has invigorated my whole system."—Rev. J. N. Parker.

Mr. W. B. Schnader, of Terre Hill, Pa., writes:

"I got sick every winter and had a spell of cold in February, 1899; I could not do anything for almost two months. In December, 1899, I saw one of your books about your remedies. Then I wrote to Dr. Hartman for advice, and he wrote that I should commence the use of Peruna, and how to take care of myself.

"I did not lose one day last winter that I could not tend to my stock. I am sixty-three years old, and I cannot thank you too much for what you have done for me."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

ALABASTINE

the Durable Wall Coating, Won't Rub Off;

WHY?

Because it cements to, and is not stuck on the wall with decaying, animal glue, as are the various so-called "wall finishes," which are kalsomines sold under fanciful names.

You can apply Alabastine.

ALABASTINE

The Only Sanitary and Permanent Wall Coating

ALABASTINE is not a disease-breeding, hot water glue wall finish, furnishing a lodgment and harbor-ground for disease germs; it is a natural, rock-base composition, in white and many exquisitely beautiful tints; in powder form, ready for use by simply mixing with cold water. Anyone can brush it on.

ALABASTINE cements to walls, distroys disease germs and vermin, and never rubs off or scales. Other wall coatings, under fanciful names, and usually mixed with hot water, are unhealthful kalsomines, stuck on the wall with glue, which soon rots, nourishes germs of deadly disease, rubs and scales, spoiling walls, clothing and furniture. When it is necessary to refinish, the old coats must be washed off—an expensive, nasty, disagreeable job, making the rooms damp and unfit to live in.

When walls are once coated with Alabastine, succeeding coats may be applied, year after year, without washing the walls, thus saving great expense and annoyance.

Hot and Cold Water Kalsomines Have No Merit

Some dealers try to sell them, buying them cheap, and trying to sell on Alabastine's demand until such time as their customers learn of the imposition.

THEY ARE WORTHLESS PREPARATIONS

If you cannot buy Alabastine of your hardware, paint or drug dealer, refuse all imitations, and write us. We will tell you where you can get Alabastine without delay, or sell it to you direct. $500.00 GIVEN AWAY. Write for particulars.

The Sturdy Camel.

A camel has twice the carrying power of an ox. With an ordinary load of 400 pounds he can travel twelve or fourteen days without water, going forty miles a day. Camels are fit to work at five years old, but their strength begins to decline at twenty-five, although they usually live to forty. The Tartars have herds of these animals, often 1,000, belonging to one family. They were numerous in antiquity, for the patriarch Job had 3,000. The Timbuktu or Meharri breed is remarkable for speed and used only for couriers, going 800 miles in eight days with a meal of dates or grain at nightfall.

HOUSEHOLD MATTERS

Dusting.

It is no use whatever to dust with a feather duster if the object in view is really the removal of dust. The feathers merely scatter fine particles abroad, which would be much less injurious if permitted to remain on the original articles. Always employ a soft cloth, shaking it at frequent intervals. If something else is really needed to relieve the monotony of continual stooping a lamb's wool duster is the best possible substitute.—Western Watchman.

Cleaning a Sheepskin Rug.

A couple of weeks ago a correspondent wrote us, asking how a sheepskin rug could be cleaned. We were about to refer the matter to our readers when we came upon the "how to do it" in an exchange, illustrating the truth of the old saying, "All things come to him who waits"—if he can wait long enough.

First, shake and beat the rug free from dust, and mend any broken or ripped places. Choose a mild, drying day. Tack the rug, wool side out, securely on the side of a barrel. Dissolve a package of washing powder in a pail of warm water, and with a stiff scrubbing brush go over the rug thoroughly. After this pour on three or four pailfuls of warm water, using the brush, till the wool is thoroughly rinsed. By using a clean curry comb on the wool while drying it is made fluffy. Keep the skin side dry; that is why the barrel is used, its convex surface shedding the water.

Household Hints.

Carpets should always have the paper lining underneath. It is pleasanter to walk on, and saves much wear on the carpet.

Borders on a carpet are largely a matter of taste. They should, however, be avoided on small or narrow rooms. They contract the space, making it in appearance smaller than it is, by unpleasantly defining the size and shape, says The Household Ledger.

If the boards of a floor are not in too bad condition, there are several ways of making it look quite well, and after the first laborious work is bestowed, if well done, the subsequent work of keeping it nice will not be such hard manual labor. First, have it thoroughly well scraped and cleaned, and if possible have a carpenter smooth uneven surfaces and chinks between the boards, have them filled with putty or plaster of paris. Newspapers wet and worked to a pulp have been used for the same purpose and given satisfaction.

The next step is to stain it, rather than paint it. The paint is opaque and the stain is transparent, does not obliterate the grain of the wood, but simply dyes it, giving it the appearance of hard wood finish.

Stains come ready for use in any desired color. In applying let the brush follow the direction of the grain. If one application is insufficient to produce a satisfactory result, when perfectly dry go over it again.

After thoroughly drying a stained floor may be varnished, and two coats will last a year.

Varnish darkens the floor, and sometimes it is added to the stain before it is applied.

A tin can of wax polish will last a long time after the floor is once in good condition.

. RECIPES . .

Bread Griddle Cakes—Add one and one-half cupfuls of grated bread crumbs to one and one-half cupfuls of scalded milk; let soak half an hour, then add one egg well beaten, half a cupful of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder; beat well and bake on a hot griddle.

Nasturtium Pickle—Pick the nasturtium seeds green; leave a short stem on them; make a weak brine with salt and water; put the seeds in the brine for two days; then put them into fresh water for one day; pack them into jars and pour over them boiling vinegar and add several cloves to each jar; serve and let stand one month before using them.

Corn Muffins—Sift one cup of yellow Indian meal, one cupful of flour and one teaspoonful of cream of tartar; dissolve half a teaspoonful of soda in a little boiling water, stir this with one cupful of milk; cream two tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of sugar, then add two beaten eggs, and the flour and milk alternately; butter muffin pans, fill each half full and bake in a quick oven twenty minutes.

Cheese Souffle—Put four level tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan; add two tablespoonfuls of flour; when smooth add one-third of a cup of milk, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, a little cayenne pepper, yolks of two eggs, well beaten, and two-thirds of a cup of grated cheese; let cool; then add the whites of the eggs, beaten to a stiff froth; turn into a buttered mold or dish and bake twenty minutes in a moderate oven.

Cream Pie—Beat the yolks of three eggs with one cupful of sugar; sift two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder with one cupful of sifted flour; add it to the sugar and yolks of eggs, then add the beaten whites; butter two layer cake pans, fill them with the mixture, place in a rather quick oven and bake ten minutes; remove from the oven and let stand in the tins five minutes, then turn out; just before serving spread with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored; spread with icing.

Water Bread—Put two quarts of sifted flour in a bowl, add two level tablespoonfuls of salt; dissolve half a cake of compressed yeast in half a cup of tepid water; make a hollow in the flour; add the yeast, then add gradually three cupfuls of tepid water, mixing the flour with a spoon; turn out on the board and knead fifteen minutes; lift the dough into the bowl, cover it closely with a cloth and a tin cover or the bread board; let rise over night; in the morning again put it on the board and knead five minutes; cut in half and put in greased bread pans; cover and let rise two hours; put in a hot oven and bake forty-five minutes.

STRIPPED HIM OF CLOTHES.

Lightning Played a Queer Prank With a Colorado Victim.

A blinding flash, a loud and sudden crack of thunder, a sensation as of someone striking you in the face and then darkness and unconsciousness!

That is how it feels to be struck by lightning. It is the way Art Bruer, a conductor for the Manitou and Pike's Peak road, who had his clothing torn from his body by lightning last week, describes the sensation.

Although Bruer's clothing was torn to shreds, his conductor cap removed from his head, the fleece lining of his underwear set on fire and a blue streak burned across his chest from shoulder to shoulder, he recovered consciousness a few minutes later and was able to bring his train from the summit of Pike's Peak to the cog road station at Manitou.

The incident was one of the most peculiar freaks of lightning on record. It has been known to perform strange antics, but never before has it stripped a man completely of his outer clothing, tossed his hat into the air, left an indelible stamp on his body, rendered him unconscious for a few minutes and then left him almost unhurt, with no burns except a long thin line of blue on his chest and set fire to the fleece lining of the underwear without burning or scorching any other article of his wearing apparel.

Bruer believes he was born lucky. In the present instance this was better than to have been born rich. The chances of a man's life being spared in such a case are so small as to be almost infinitesmal. At the time he was struck by the lightning he was standing on the steps of the coach, holding the brass railing with both hands, preparing to start on its journey down the peak. The passengers were all aboard and everything was in readiness for the downward start.

Suddenly there was a blinding flash and a deafening crash of thunder. A blue streak of forked lightning shot across the peak on its way from one cloud to another. En route it encountered the form of Bruer and his body formed the circuit which shot the bolt into the top of Pike's Peak. After the passengers had recovered from their momentary fright they saw the insensible form of Bruer lying on the ground.

They hastened to him to pick him up, as they supposed, dead, when, to their astonishment he sat upright and looked bewildering about him. To inquiries he replied that he was not hurt, "only stunned," but one man discovered that his fleece lined underwear was burning. The fire was extinguished and the Navajo blanket borrowed. The clothing which had been torn by the electricity was picked up and brought to Manitou.—Colorado Springs Gazette.

A Shocking Crime.

The daughter of a widow living at Potsdam has just been tried for inciting soldiers against an officer in the following circumstances: One Sunday last year she was walking with her sweetheart, a soldier, when she met a young cadet. He stopped the soldier on the ground that he had not saluted him. The soldier and the girl maintained that the salute had been given, whereupon the cadet ordered the man to follow him to the barracks. The girl upon this called to a number of artillerymen, bidding them not to allow such a young officer to arrest an honest man. The soldier who followed the cadet as ordered, was sentenced to five months' imprisonment in a fortress. The charge against the girl was dismissed, but she was fined 30 marks for insulting the cadet.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

DOCTORS FALL IN LINE.

Practicing Physicians recognize the unfailing reliability of Doan's Kidney Pills by prescribing them for Backache, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Disorders—a tribute won by no other Proprietary Medicine. Four cases cited from "Notes of His Practice," by Dr. Leland Williamson, of Yorktown, Ark.

YORKTOWN, ARK., Mar. 1, 1904.

FOSTER-MILBURN CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—I have been engaged in the practice of medicine in this section for ten years. This is a very sickly climate, on the Bayou Bartholomew, near the Arkansas River. It is particularly malarious and miasmatic; we meet with many and various abnormal conditions of the human family; prominent among the cases in which I have been called upon to prescribe is kidney disease. Many of these disorders manifest themselves by pains in the back, often extending to other parts of the body; sometimes headache is present, caused by uraemic or chronic uric acid poisoning, soreness in region of kidneys, cloudy, thickened and foul-smelling urine, discharges of pus or corruption; inflammation of the kidneys, extending to the bladder, is caused by excess of uric acid and decomposition of the urine. Hemorrhage is sometimes met with, caused by high state of inflammation or congestion.

There is no class of diseases a doctor is called oftener to treat than the variety of kidney diseases, in many of which the patient will have chills or rigors, followed by fever, a result of the kidneys failing to eliminate the uric acid poison from the system. Such cases require the kidneys restored to their natural functions, then the poison and foreign substances are removed—shock to the nervous system averted and natural health restored.

I have, for some time, been using Doan's Kidney Pills in these many manifestations and with uniform success, curing most cases. I can further say that even in hopeless cases where they have waited too long, Doan's Kidney Pills afford much relief and prolong life. I can recommend the pills in conditions of excessive or deficient secretion of urine, as also in convalescence from swamp-fever and malarial attacks, as verified by the following cases in my practice.

CASE 1.

THOS. ORELL, Bear, Ark., age 60. Pain in back for several weeks, then chills, irregular sometimes, severe rigors followed by fever. Gave good purgative of calomel and padoph, and Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking four boxes of the pills, patient up and enjoying good health for one of his age.

CASE 2.

MRS. SMITH, Tarry, Ark., age 29, mother of four children. Had female complaint and kidney trouble, manifest by pain in back and urine irregular; sometimes very clear, changing to cloudy, and with much sediment on standing in chamber. Gave local treatment for female complaint and prescribed Doan's Pills; after using six boxes she regards herself as cured.

CASE 3.

BROWN EAKS, Wynne, Ark., age 21. Had severe case of malarial hoematuria or swamp fever. Gave necessary liver medicine, calomel and padoph, and morph.-sulph., to relieve pain, and ordered Doan's Pills for the high state of congestion and inflammation of the kidneys. Recovery resulted in two weeks. Prescribed Doan's Kidney Pills, to be continued until the kidneys were thoroughly strengthened and all pain in back subsided.

CASE 4.

ELIJAH ELLIOTT, Tarry., Ark., age 34. Pain in back and legs and headache. Uric-acid poisoning. Prescribed Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking several boxes pain subsided—urine became normal, or natural, and patient able to resume his work.

These are a few of the typical cases in which I have used Doan's Kidney Pills. In a great many instances I use them alone with curative results, while with some others indicated remedies are associated.

I believe that by the judicious use of Doan's Pills many serious complications are arrested and many hopeless and incurable cases of Bright's disease prevented.

I have often found that one box of the pills is all that is required to effect a cure, but in some cases I continue their use until all symptoms are entirely absent and the cure effectual and permanent. Yours truly,

Dr. Leland Williamson.

The Call for Blank Cartridges.

"Blank cartridges are manufactured all the year round," said a manufacturer on Broadway. "About the only difference between the cost of them and cartridges with bullets is the value of the lead in the bullet. Blank cartridges are constantly in demand by the theatrical profession for 'thrillers,' and for so-called exhibition shooting, in which devices are used to deceive the public. They are also sold to timid persons who keep a revolver around the house to scare away burglars if any should happen to call, but who would not keep a bullet-loaded pistol in the house for the world. We should soon run short of blank cartridges if we depended on the extra stock manufactured for the Fourth of July and similar occasions."

Not Posted.

"This is not much of a farming country around here is it?" said the owner of a farm of several thousand acres in the Great West to an old resident on Long Island.

"It ain't, hey?" was the contemptuous reply. "I reckon you ain't very well posted about the country round here, mister. Talk about it not being no great of a farmin' country! Well, sir, I kin tell you that Job Hawkins' sold more'n forty dollars' wuth o' caulyflower an' nineteen dollars' wuth o' potatoes last season, an' I know o' folks clearin' a clean fifty dollars a year on their hens. An' yet some folks thinks this ain't no farmin' country!"

Miss M. Cartledge gives some helpful advice to young girls. Her letter is but one of thousands which prove that nothing is so helpful to young girls who are just arriving at the period of womanhood as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly, for it is the only medicine I ever tried which cured me. I suffered much from my first menstrual period, I felt so weak and dizzy at times I could not pursue my studies with the usual interest. My thoughts became sluggish, I had headaches, backaches and sinking spells, also pains in the back and lower limbs. In fact, I was sick all over.

"Finally, after many other remedies had been tried, we were advised to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am pleased to say that after taking it only two weeks, a wonderful change for the better took place, and in a short time I was in perfect health. I felt buoyant, full of life, and found all work a pastime. I am indeed glad to tell my experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it made a different girl of me. Yours very truly, MISS M. CARTLEDGE, 533 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga." — $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

VLADIVOSTOCK BOMBARDED

Japs Tackle Second Stronghold of Russian Bear But Lydite Shells Fail to Do Any Great Damage.

An Associated Press dispatch from Vladivostock says: A fleet of five Japanese battle ships and two cruisers appeared off this place at 1:25 o'clock this (Sunday) afternoon and bombarded the town and shore batteries for fifty-five minutes.

The fleet approached from the direction of Askold island at the east entrance of Ussuri bay, and about 32 miles southeast of Vladivostock. Entering Ussuri bay the enemy formed in line of battle, but did not approach a closer range than 5 1-3 miles. They directed their fire against the shore batteries and the town, but no damage resulted, as most of their 200 lyddite shells failed to burst.

The Russian battery, commanded by Generals Veronetz and Artamoff, did not reply, awaiting a closer approach of the enemy.

The Japanese fire ceased at 2:20 p. m., and the enemy retired in the direction of Askold island. Simultaneously the torpedo boat destroyers appeared near Askold island, and two more near Cape Miadel.

The Japanese ships were covered with ice.

The attack resulted in no loss to the Russians, but cost the enemy 200,000 roubles ($100,000) in ammunition. Most of the projectiles were six and twelve-inch shells.

The population of Vladivostock was warned in the early morning of the presence on the horizon of a hostile fleet and the prospect of an attack during the day, but it remained tranquil.

Interest now centers on the probable encounter between the Russian Vladivostock fleet, comprised of the czar's four finest cruisers and several torpedo boats and destroyers, and the Japanese squadron which has just bombarded Vladivostock. A cable received Saturday night states that the report that the Russian squadron was not in Vladivostock March 1 is correct. When last seen it was off Usulie bay.

VICEROY WIRES REPORT.

A communication from Viveroy Alexieff to the czar from Ukden, bearing Sunday's date, says:

"I most humbly inform your majesty that the commandant at the fortress at Vladivostock reports at 8:50 this morning seven vessels were sighted south of Askold Island. At 9:45 they were seen to be warships making for Askold island. About noon the enemy's squadron was midway between the coast and Askold island, making for Ussuri bay. They were out of reach of the shore batteries. At 1:30 the enemy opened fire. Two vessels in the squadron were probably the first-class cruisers Idzum and Yakumo, but the names of the other vessels are unknown."

RUSSIAN FLANK MENACED.

News has reached St. Petersburg that the 2,500 Japanese troops who landed at Plaksin bay are advancing towards Musan with the intention of reaching Hunchun, and threatening the Russian flank. To checkmate this move a Russian outpost, 1,500 strong, is advancing to occupy Koyryoung, on the Tumen river.

ANSWER RUSSIAN CHARGES

Japan Addresses Note to the Powers Setting Forth Her Grievances and Explaining Her Actions.

Japan addressed a note to the powers Friday in response to the recent communication from Russia. The note has not been published in Tokio and its contents are unknown.

Russia's various communications to the powers attacking Japan for its conduct of diplomatic negotiations before their rupture, for its attack upon Russia without declaration of war and for its alleged violation of the neutrality of Korea have been received in Japan largely in the spirit of amusement.

The Japanese resent what is alleged to be a deliberate attempt to place them in a false position regarding certain incidents, but in the main do not take the correspondence seriously. Responding to the charge of violating the neutrality of Korea they point to the action of Russia in Manchuria, where thousands of troops were assembled long before a diplomatic rupture occurred. They say that they are fully prepared to accept the judgment of the powers on a comparison of their course in Korea, where they landed troops only after a state of war existed, and upon the written permission of the emperor of Korea.

They deny that Chemulpo was a neutral port after the Japanese landed on February 8, but whether it was neutral or belligerent, Russia began hostilities there. When the Russian gunboat Korietz steamed out of the harbor of Chemulpo on the afternoon of February 8, she opened fire on the Japanese squadron, making the opening shot of the war. The Japanese guns did not respond, but the Japanese torpedo boat destroyers answered the fire and discharged two torpedoes before the Korietz retired.

The Japanese are confident of the justice and strength of their original position in the integrity of China, and the fairness of their proposal during the negotiations. They feel fully justified in commencing hostilities after breaking off diplomatic relations and serving notice of their intention to take independent action. They are sure their recent assurances that they had no intention of taking possession of Chinese territory and would guarantee the integrity and independence of Korea will be accepted by the powers.

FIVE KILLED IN BOMBARDMENT.

Official dispatches received at St. Petersburg concerning the bombardment of Vladivostock by a Japanese fleet Sunday afternoon do not mention any Russian losses, but private advices say that five were killed—four sailors and the wife of an engineer. It is apparent the Japanese were afraid to risk exposing their ships to the plunging fire of the land batteries, and it is considered probable that the attack was really for the purpose of drawing the fire of the Russian forts, compelling the Russians to discose the position and calibre of their guns and also for the purpose of ascertaining whether the Russian squadron was in port.

The greatest consternation was caused in St. Petersburg Saturday night by the publication of a proclamation issued by the admiral in command at Vladivostok, the terms of which made it clear that Vladivostok, like Port Arthur, is to be left to its own defenses.

BATTLES OF CRAP SHOOTERS.

Five Negroes Killed and Two Fatally Wounded in Gambling Rows.

Five negroes were killed and two mortally wounded in the Doddsville neighborhood, in Sunflower county, Miss., Saturday night, as the result of quarrels growing out of crap games.

The killings occurred in two different localities and the county authorities are unable to find clews to the parties responsible for the carnival of crime, as ofer fifty negroes participated in the fights and fully one hundred shots were fired.

WHITNEY LEFT ELEVEN MILLION

At Mineola, Long Island, Harry Payne Whitney, executor of the late William C. Whitney, has filed with the surrogate of Nassau county, a provisional estimate of the value of his father's estate liable to taxation, fixing the value of real estate at $1,000,000 and that of the personal estate at $10,000,000.

MEANS STRIKE, SAYS MITCHELL.

Joint Conference of Operators and Miners Was Absolute Failure.

The joint conference of the operators and coal miners adjourned at Indianapolis without reaching an agreement. President Mitchell said: "This means a strike."

This is the second time there has been a failure to agree.

The final disagreement and adjournment came after a day devoted to consideration of the ultimatum of the operators, which was that a two-year scale be signed at a reduction of 5 1-2 per cent from the present scale.

FINAL VICTORY WITH DREYFUS.

Court of Cassation at Paris Decides on Revision of Celebrated Case.

The criminal branch of the court of cassation at Paris has granted the appeal of Alfred Dreyfus for a revision of his trial at Rennes.

The court hold that a sufficient showing had been made to warrant a reopening of the case and ordered a supplementary investigation to establish all the doubtful points

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

MARCH 5TH.

The naval bill again occupied practically all the time of the senate, but while the amendment concerning a navy training station on the great lakes was technically the pending question, it was scarcely mentioned. The discussion was entirely on political lines, Consideration of the naval bill was not completed when the senate adjourned.

Mr. Cullom presented the report of the conference committee on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill and was agreed to.

The house today passed the Indian appropriation bill after some controversy relative to provisions affecting tribes in the Indian Territory. An unsuccessful effort was made by Mr. Stephens, of Texas, to elliminate the provision for continuing the Dawes commission another year.

MARCH 7TH.

The senate passed the naval appropriation bill, which has been before it for the past four or five days, and then took up the army bill. The principal question in connection with the naval bill related to the price and method of supplying armor plate for battleships, and it grew out of an amendment suggested by Mr. Patterson, providing for a government armor plant. He ultimately withdrew the amendment, but offered several others, all of which were laid on the table.

The reading of the army appropriation bill had not been concluded when the senate adjourned.

Postal affairs engrossed the attention of the house practically to the exclusion of all else. The subject was introduced by Mr. Overstreet, chairman of the committee on postoffices and post roads, who submitted the report of that committee on the Hay resolution calling for certain information regarding the use of "influence" by members of the house to secure increases in salary for postmasters.

The postoffice appropriation bill was then taken up, and Mr. Moon, of Tennessee, the ranking minority member of the postoffice committee, arraigned the present system employed in the postoffice department, and made an appeal for a general investigation of the affairs of the department.

Mr. Pinkney, of Texas, was appointed a member of the committee on expenditures in the interior department in place of Mr. Candler, of Mississippi, who resigned from that committee.

LINOTYPE MACHINES

Under Consideration for the Government Printing Office.

The house committee on appropriations received application from the Mergenthaler Linotype Company to equip the government printing office with typesetting machines. The specific proposition was for the committee to place in the sundry civil appropriation bill now being prepared an item of $154,000, which will supply forty machines, the price of each machine being $3,600.

The statement was made to the committee that the work of the composing room could be done from 30 to 40 per cent cheaper by the use of machines.

A New Gun.

On formally introducing the army estimates for the coming year in the house of commons War Secretary Forester announced that a new field and horse artillery gun had been adopted. The secretary added that it would be unrivaled in Europe and said its manufacture would commence in April.

President Smith, of the Mormons, claims forty-one children.

Rear Admiral P. M. Rixey, surgeon general of the navy, is going to Panama to make an inspection of the sanitary conditions on the isthmus. It is felt to be expedient that the surgeon general of the navy shall have an intimate knowledge of the situation there, as the marines are to be left there for some time to guard the isthmus.

It is stated that the committee of prominent citizens of Natchez, who recently visited Washington for the purpose of appearing before the house committee on rivers and harbors and urging some speedy and early action for the protection of the harbor at their town, returned home gratified and encouraged to believe that they are going to get what they went after.

The white house improvements have been the subject for much sarcastic criticism from public men and private citizens since it was determined to remodel the structure.

Canada's export trade per capita is just two and one-half times as much as ours.

There seems to be a popular misapprehension regarding the sales of popular novels. It is stated on good authority that "David Harum" still leads the list with 727,000 copies sold. Five books are credited with sales of 400,000 copies, six with 300,000, and thirteen others with more than 100,000 Within the past five years it is estimated that 7,500 novels have been issued in the United States and yet the percentage of books which command a sale of more than 10,000 copies is painfully small.

REPORT ON CLERKS

Submitted by Assistant Postmaster General Bristow

The long expected report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow on the relations of members of congress with the postoffice department in connection with the leasing of premises to the department and the procurement of additional clerks in the various postoffices throughout the country, and of the increased rentals was made public Monday.

The names of more than a hundred and fifty members of congress whose requests for additional clerk hire in various postoffices were granted by George W. Beavers, late superintendent of salaries and allowances, although in excess of the amounts to which the offices were entitled under the rules of the department and mentioned in the exhibits.

The fault is almost entirely with the postoffice department, which is shown to have allowed clerk hire wherever enough influence was brought to bear. In not a few instances the report shows that members have been refused the clerk hire by the department once, twice and often three times. These members would try again and the department would then reverse itself and finally accede to the member's demands.

No reference is made to any of the members of the Alabama delegation in requests and importunities for clerk hire. With regard to leases and rent for buildings several of them made requests.

A 30-Day February.

During February voyagers upon the Pacific were treated to a calendrical monstrosity without parallel in the century. While to some the month contained but 28 days it exceeded all previous efforts and recorded thirty complete days.

To the former the interval between Februaries of twenty-nine days has been twelve years. To the last 1904 will go down in history with the record of 367 days.

This confusion is all due to the topsy-turvy tendencies of the 180th meridian, that mystic line on the earth's surface that is ever a point of deepest interest to the traveler—that point where it is found necessary to pick up or drop a day as the case may be, in order to make the ship's calendar conform to those of the continents between which she is sailing.

The Cane Crop.

The weather throughout the sugar districts has continued fine, engendering considerable confidence in the outlook for the coming crop. Cane planting is everywhere reported finished, seed cane in good condition and the fields in very fine tilth.

The news comes from Egypt that quite a revolution in the cane sugar industry is occurring there. The famous Daira Sanieh, practically a branch of the government there, which possessed nine sugar factories, and has been a conspicuous feature in the Egyptian sugar industry for several decades, will now cease to operate for account of the state and will pass into the hands of a private corporation. The total sugar crop of Egypt is about 100,000 tons, the bulk of which has been manufactured in these nine sugar factories. A new syndicate has been made up to take over the nine sugar factories and their dependencies, some 300 miles of railway, with the necessary rolling stock, some 55 locomotives and 2,100 cars. The purchase price is placed at nearly five millions of dollars, about $850,000 of which is to be paid in cash and the rest in four per cent bonds.

There is considerable talk of a line of railroad from Sallis, Miss., on the line of the Aberdeen branch of the Illinois Central, near Durant, to Carthage, by way of Thomastown, Leake county, where great deposits of coal and other minerals have recently been discovered. This line would be nearly forty miles long and through Leake county, where there is no railroad.

The citizens of Charleston, Tallahatchie county, Miss., have gone to work in earnest and announce that they have already raised $10,000 of the $15,000 demanded of them by the parties who propose to construct thirty miles of railroad to connect their town with Oakland.

The treasury of the state of Mississippi paid out more than $800,000 Saturday on account of the distribution of the school fund, or rather two-thirds of it, which is $833,336.33 for January.

FIERCE PRAIRIE FIRES

Thousands of Square Miles in Oklahoma Burned Over.

HUNDREDS ARE NOW HOMELESS

Flames Swept Over Comanche and Kiowa Counties, Devastating 75,000 Acres of Government, Military and Timber Reserve—Loss About $500,000—Kansas Towns Suffer.

Lawton, Oklahoma. -- Reports received here indicate that five persons have been burned to death and three thousand square miles of territory in Kiowa and Comanche Counties swept by prairie fires. Hundreds of people are homeless, and it is impossible to estimate accurately the financial loss owing to the wide extent of country affected.

At Hobart, the county seat of Kiowa County, the fire approached from the east, destroying the stables and fifteen race horses, fifteen residences, two business houses, and various small buildings. Spreading to the southwest, the fire swept 75,000 acres of Government, military and timber reserve and Indian school reserve, destroying several Indian houses and forty head of Government cattle.

Spreading westward, the flames covered miles of homestead district, destroying houses, barns and stock. It was in this district that five persons are reported to have perished in attempting to protect their property. Among the dead are "Dock" and John Harmon, brothers; A. N. Crawford, and Mrs. Henderson, a widow. Mrs. Henderson's two daughters are badly burned and one may die.

A report has been received at Fort Sill that an entire Apache Indian village was swept clean.

The soldiers at Fort Sill were ordered out to fight the flames, and rendered great assistance.

At Anadarko many farm buildings were burned. No lives are reported lost, but there were numerous narrow escapes. Women and children, scantily clad, fled to plowed ground, while the men remained to fight the flames, in an endeavor to save property.

The damage by wind extends over seven counties in the southwest. The total losses from fire and storm are estimated at about $500,000. Hastings, Olustee, Leger, Walter, Granite, Elk City, Cache, Temple, Snyder, Willow, Bloomington, Sayre and Mountain Park all report damage both in town and the surrounding country by wind. Scores of people are suffering from burns and broken legs or arms.

Salina, Kansas.—Reports are being received of many serious prairie fires, fanned by the high wind in this section and west of here. At Hill City, in the northwestern part of the State, the court house, jail, a lumber yard and fifty residences are reported destroyed, and one woman is said to have been burned to death. Wires to Hill City are down, and details are lacking.

Instances of farmers being caught with their teams in the prairie fires and of many persons being seriously burned are numerous.

BALTIMORE GROWS IMPATIENT.

Legislature and Mayor Blamed for Tardiness in Rebuilding Operations.

Baltimore, Md.—The tardiness of the Legislature in acting upon the burned district Commission bill has aroused intense indignation here. The bill to repeal the tax upon mortgages is assured of passage. This relief will encourage many business men to rebuild. The consensus of public sentiment is that there has been too much talk and too little action.

Many citizens hold the Mayor responsible for not adopting a vigorous policy in the beginning and pushing it regardless of the protests made by various parties. Property owners and business men are impatiently awaiting the signal to begin rebuilding in the burned out section. Millions of dollars that will be expended among the people of Baltimore, and will help relieve whatever distress may develop, are lying idle in banks.

MACEDONIANS AGAINST SERVIA.

Mean to Avenge Arrest of Leaders—New Albanian Rising.

Vienna, Austria.—It is reported from Belgrade, Servia, that the Government has ordered the arrest of several Macedonian revolutionists in consequence of an insurgent attempt to cross the frontier. The revolutionary leaders, incensed, held a secret meeting, and decided to retaliate on the Servian population in Macedonia.

In a dispatch from Salonica, European Turkey, a correspondent says a fresh insurrection has broken out in Albania. The districts of Mitrovitza and Ipek are in open revolt, and the Turkish authorities appear to be paralyzed.

CUT HIS THROAT TO TEACH HIM.

Man Nearly Beheads Boy in Instructing Lad in Manners.

Stamford, Conn. — Pasquale Russo tried to cut the head off Antonio Bombardiero here "just to teach him manners." Russo is forty, Bombardiero fifteen, and they live in the same lodging house. The man sprang upon the boy without warning and slashed him fearfully with a stiletto.

CALL FOR FEDERAL MONEY

Secretary Shaw Makes Request on Banks For Government Deposits.

Funds to Be Used For the Payment of the $40,000,000 Purchase of Canal Property From Panama Company.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary Shaw issued the expected call on the Federal depository banks in New York City for a percentage of their deposits of Government moneys to enable the United States to pay over to the Republic of Panama $10,000,000 on account of the Panama Canal.

The New York national banks which are Government depositories are to be called on for twenty per cent. of the Federal moneys in their possession on or before March 25.

The Secretary also issued a call for the depository banks in other parts of the country to turn over to certain intermediary banks in New York for the use of the Government twenty per cent. of the Federal moneys which they have on deposit. These funds are to be used, with current funds in the Treasury, for the payment of the $40,000,000 purchase of canal property rights from the new Panama Canal Company of France. The moneys are to be turned in by these outside banks on or before March 25.

The Panama Government asked several days ago that payment be made at once of the $10,000,000 to which the republic was entitled under the treaty, as the money was needed very badly.

About $5,000,000 of the $40,000,000 to be paid to the canal company will remain in this country. It is said that half of it will cover legal fees. The Panama Republic has contracted obligations in New York amounting to about a million dollars, and this will be paid out of the bonus. Eight million dollars approximately is to be invested by the Panama Republic in Government bonds in this country, so that only $1,000,000 of the $10,000,000 is likely to leave the United States.

SIGHT DROVE HER INSANE.

School Teacher Raving Maniac From Seeing Pupils Whipped.

Indianapolis, Ind. — Miss Bertha Montgomery, nineteen years old, a popular teacher in the public schools at Owensville, is hopelessly insane on account of having stood by and watched the principal of the school whip thirty of her pupils.

Miss Montgomery's pupils have been unmanageable, and the principal whipped them one at a time. Being of an extremely nervous disposition, Miss Montgomery was much wrought up by the sight, and when the principal had finished his job, she was walking the floor pulling her hair. Within a few moments she was a raving maniac.

The principal called three of the other men teachers and it was all they could do to get her home. Later she was sent to the Evansville Insane Asylum.

$75,000 FOR LIQUOR SELLING.

Texas Man May Have Cumulative Sentence of Sixty-three Years.

Dallas, Texas.—The Grand Jury of Bell County is making a fierce crusade against violation of the State option law, which is in operation in that county. More than 2300 indictments have been returned against illicit liquor sellers, and of the total number 1147 bills are against one man, Plimpton Morgan.

In each conviction he is being assessed money penalties amounting to $65, making the total penalties approximate $75,000. In addition to the fines, his cumulative sentences reach a total of more than sixty-thre years' imprisonment. Unless the Governor shall pardon him, Morgan will be in prison for life.

BANDED TO BURN PROPERTY.

Five Men Arrested in Utah Charged With Arson.

Salt Lake, Utah.—Charged with arson and being members of a gang organized to burn business property to secure insurance money, the police have taken into custody August Willmer, Alexander Jennings, John H. Holliman and Frank Wilson.

J. E. Colter, a prominent merchant of Lehi, Utah, is under arrest there on a similar charge. He is accused of being the financial backer of the gang having instigated plots.

Missing Rich Woman Ends Life.

The body of Mrs. C. C. Holmes, the wealthy Boston widow who so mysteriously disappeared from her hotel in Boston, Mass., is probably beneath the waters of Marblehead Harbor, under the great ice cakes now grinding each other where the yacht squadrons anchor in summer. On a snowbank on the shore was found a black velvet bag of the telescope variety. In the latter were several cards marked Mrs. C. C. Holmes.

Bank Cashier Sentenced.

John P. Cooper, former cashier of the Citizens' National Bank, of McGregor, Texas, recently closed by the national bank examiner, was convicted of embezzlement. He got the minimum penalty, five years in the penitentiary.

BIG HOTEL COLLAPSES

Many Men Crushed to Death Under Wreckage.

ROAR HEARD FOR BLOCKS AWAY

The Unfinished Darlington Building Falls Under Its Own Weight—Huge Mass of Steel Smashes Into Dining Room of Adjoining House and Kills Mrs. Storrs, a Guest, at Luncheon.

New York City.—The giant steel skeleton of the Darlington Apartment Hotel, which for several months has been in process of erection on the north side of Forty-six street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, collapsed suddenly without warning, carrying with it nearly every one of the workmen engaged on the ten stories that had been raised.

Emergency Contractor Dunn said his men had discovered seven bodies in the sub-cellar on the west side of the building, and that two more were known to be pinned under the wreckage on the east side.

The crash came with the suddenness of an explosion, but the mighty roar of the hundreds of tons of falling metal lasted for several seconds. Shrieks and groans rose through the swirling dust that enveloped the wreckage. As the cloud slowly settled it was seen that the buildings on all sides had been greatly damage, most of all the Patterson, a ten-story apartment hotel at 58 and 60 West Forty-seventh street, immediately in the rear, where the dining room had been wrecked by the crashing steel, and Mrs. Frank L. Storrs, of Rye, N. Y., a transient guest, had been killed as she sat at luncheon in an alcove.

For many blocks in all directions the appalling roar of the building's fall drowned the noises of the city streets, and people rushed headlong from their homes, thinking their own walls were tumbling about their ears.

There were no explosions to jar the structure. The steel skeleton, 149 feet in height, fell of its own weight and telescoped into a heap of broken and twisted steel girders and fragments of crumbled masonry in the cellar. It went down so straight that hardly a brick fell into the street, and there was very little of the debris on the sidewalk. But from the bottom of the cellar the rubbish was piled up to the level of the second-story windows of the adjoining houses.

FEDERAL BANK LOANS.

Favorable Report on the Measure to Take Real Estate as Security.

Washington, D. C.—The House Committee on Banking and Currency authorized a favorable report upon the bill introduced by Representative Lewis (Dem., Ga.) to empower national banks to make loans upon real estate to the amount of twenty-five per cent. of their capital stock and fifty per cent. of a fair assessed valuation of property, exclusive of improvements.

The vote of the committee to report the bill favorably was unanimous. The measure is a marked departure from the powers now conferred upon banking corporations, and is one which Mr. Lewis, who is a member of the committee, has been advocating for many years.

MAN HELD FOR RANSOM.

Brother of Railroad Official Kidnaped in Mexico.

Houston, Texas.—Mexican brigands kidnaped Dan Cushing, brother of E. B. Cushing, engineer of maintenance on the Southern Pacific Railroad. They forced him to write a note saying that a ransom of $10,000 was demanded for his life. It is said that the money must be placed on the steps of the Mexican schoolhouse in Del Rio.

The note was found tacked to the door of Cushing's cabin at Devil's River. His cabin is two miles from the Mexican and three miles from any other habitation. He is thirty-two years old and married.

NEW ISLE OF PINES TREATY.

Confirms Cuba in Her Title to the Disputed Territory.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary Hay and Senor Quesada, the Cuban Minister, signed a treaty confirming Cuba in the title to the Isle of Pines.

To guard against a lapse in the Senate, as was the case with a previous convention, the treaty signed was framed purposely by the State Department without the designation of any special period of time within which ratification must be exchanged. The new treaty will be sent immediately to the Senate. It must go also to Havana to be acted upon by the Cuban Senate.

World's Merchant Marine.

The Bureau of Commerce and Labor has published a table showing the division of the world's merchant marine among the several nations. Great Britain has 5929 steamers of 100 tons and over, Germany 1193 and the United States 846. The gross tonnage of these vessels are: Great Britain, 13,966,972 tons; Germany, 2,767,463 and the United States 1,610,466.

Between the boll weevil in the cotton growing sections and the graft microbe in the official sections, the country is being held up at a lively rate.

Will the Advocate tell the dear people what benefit the $750.00 freight on the good roads machinery did them? Also tell them who voted in the commissioners court to pay this freight bill, and who paid the expenses of the experiments in showing what the machinery could do?

The United States supreme court in an Alabama case involving the right of negroes to regis- the declined to take the case under consideration on the ground that no federal question was involved. As a result of this decision the Alabama constitution with its provision against the negro stands undisputed.

Call Meeting.

A meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee is hereby called to meet at the court house on Monday, March 14th, 1904.

Business of very great importance will come up before this meeting, and I earnestly request every member of the committee to be present at three o'clock on that day..

J. T. LEEPER,
Chairman.

"LITTLE BEESWAX BRIDGE."

Two letters have peen published in the Advocate recently purporting to have been written from Little Beeswax Bridge. One last week and one the week before. One signed "One of the Boys" the other "Old Scew Bald." The deception is so plain that the wayfaring man though an idiot cannot fail to see it. It is so plain that the so called letters were written by one of the bosses in Columbiana that one can almost see him as he sits at his desk where he has been sitting so long, and which seat he so much hates to yield up, and writes up "the honest John sort." How adroit this so-called Little Beeswax man brings in the names of Alf Merrell, Tom Huston and a dozen others scattered over the county, not forgetting either to name his own sweet self. Well, we hardly think this "taffy" plan is going to win this time. These so-called leaders have dictated long enough; they have fed the people who have been voting for them on "taffy" long enough; they want something substantial. And the people are now well acquainted with their tactics that they are not going to be held in line by any letters that these pie-eaters may write or dictate, it matters not where they may make the said letters appear to come from. When they name Alf Merrell, Tom Huston, John Hill and others, do they propose to give them anything? No, but simply feed them on "taffy." Mention their names in the paper, "O," they say "this is glory enough for such sellows as they are." The "Little Beeswax" letters don't go down.

POP GOES THE WEASEL.

"Pop will go the weasel at the next election in Shelby county," said a gray-haired old veteran to the writer one day last week, "pop will go the weasel when the other party raises its banner against the King Emanuel of true democracy!

The old man was right when he uttered these remarkable words, for never before has the political situation of the county been in better shape for the democrats to come and never has been more in need of a democratic administration than now. The county is very badly in debt "the old man said, and needs an entire corps of democratic officers to get it out."

The citizens are tired of living in a county that is all the time in debt and they are aware of the fact that under the present administration, or a like one at any time to come, they cannot even hope to be free from debt with regard to the county affairs.

This is why the voters are going to vote to change the administration. This is why the voters are going to cast their votes for democratic nominees, democrats sound from start to finish, with judgment like men should have and a willingness to exercise it to the interest of the people in general and not to their individual individualinterest, save that which honest duty grants them.

Truly this is what we need and this is what we are going to have. There is no use to hopefor this at all, there is no use to be longer in need of it than the coming election; we have only to put our best foot forward and lay the other party in the shade right in the beginning. And this will we do, if the people will only put their best efforts to the cause and push like men.

The next election is going to be something not to be grinned at by the populist party. Their little political ball will be wound-wound up so tight that the office seekers cannot unwind it—and then the seized bat of true democracy will knock it so far out into the sea of political disaster that it can never be found and resurrected.

TOBIAS.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Shelby county held on February 16th, 1904, a primary election was called to be held in the various beats of Shelby county for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various State, Circuit, Division, Congressional and County officers to be elected in the November election; therefore, in pursuance of said call a primary election will be held in the various beats of Shelby county for the nomination of said officers on APRIL the 11th, 1904. In said election, all white qualified electors, who believes in in the principles of the Democratic party are entitled and cordially invited to paricipate.

J. T. LEEPER,
Chairman Dem. Ex. Com

The Chronicle of week before last seem to be alarmed for fear somebody will tell of the rascality of the Democratic party in the past; you need not begin to hollow so soon, for we are sure to expose the fraud and rascality of the Democratic party, and don't you forget it. It is only a few years back when the Populist party could not get a competent manager in many of the beats except through the influence of a shot gun, and do you suppose that the Populist have forgotten these things to such an extent as to go into a primary with the men who opposed them representation at the ballot box.—Advocate.

We wonder if the editor of the Advocate has the idea that the people don't know that his editorial all comes from the court house, and we believe that Populist instead of the Democrats are beginning to howl so soon. The Advocate ought to pluck the mote out of his eye first and clean his skirts before trying to show others their faults.

Under tne Populist or Fusion administration the county is deep in debt and the roads of which the Advocate speaks of are in a deplorable condition, and in some place the roads are so bad that is almost impossible to get over them without going through mud hub deep. This is the result of the fusion administration.

Did you ever think of it, that we never made any improvements in our public roads, never built a half dozen bridges nor made any advancement along this line for ten years during the time of Democratic administration? Did it ever occur to you that the highest ambition of these old Democratic tricksters were to hold the offices, use the money and the people bedamned.—Advocate.

Did it ever occur to the Advocate that in the past with his boasting and braggadocio of the way he had pulled the wool over eyes of the commissioners court would ever see the light of day. As the old saying, that a man always plays his hand one time too many. Why don't the Advocate in its prating tell the people what benefit the machinery have been to the county, and why the company allows the said machinery stand exposed to the weather, and not being cared for. Why don't it tell who voted the money out of the treasury to pay the freight and expenses of the experimental work on the roads.

Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for any one to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the 30 years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., a druggist says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribe it in my practice for the past 6 years. Use it, in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten good results." For sale at Bandy Drug Co.

HAMMOND MILLINERY CO.

We announce in this issue the candidacy of Wm. R. A. Milner for Clerk of the Circuit court. Mr. Milner is one of the best qualified men in the county to fill this important office. He has been circuit clerk before and a splendid record as an efficient, painstaking, competent and accommodating clerk. He is an old soldier and a crippled soldier at that, and deserves well at the hands of all the people of Shelby county, and has warm friends in all parties all over the county. If nominated he will add strength to democratic ticket and in the general election in November assist in bearing the democratic banner on to victory.

Administrator's Sale.

Under and by virtue of an order of sale granted by Hon. A. P. Longshore Judge of Probate of Shelby county, Ala., on February 22, 1904, I, as administrator of the estate of Charles J. Christian deceased, will sell to the highest bidder for one third cash, one third in one year, and one third in two years, in the town of Columbiana, Ala., in front of the court house door on Monday, the 28th day of March 1904, the following described property, to-wit: southeast quarter of section 31, townsdip 21, range 1 east, southwest quarter and south half of southeast quarter of section 32, township 21, range 1 east, east half of northeast quarter of section 6, township 22, range 1 east, north half of section 5, township 22, range 1 east, situated in Shelby county Alabama.

HENRY MILNER,
Administrator.

NOTICE.

State of Alabama, } Probate Court.
Shelby county. }
Estate of J. J. Davidson, deceased.

This day came J. J. Davidson and Clara Davidson, administrators of said estate and filed their application in due form and under oath, praying for an order of sale of certain lands described therin, and belonging to said estate, for the purpose of paying debts and making division among joint owners. It is ordered that the 25th day of April, 1904, be appointed a day for hearing such application, at which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same if they think proper. This the 10th day of March, 1904. A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

Inflamatory Rheumatism Cured

Wm. Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for week with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remidies," he says: "Finally I sent to the drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in a week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam. For ale at Bandy Drug Co.

TIP TOP.

Just Listen! Can hear whistles in every direction, shingle mills and saw mill are almost as numerous as candidates.

Messrs. Allen Turner and Jim Wilson, of Calcis, were among the many guest Sunday.

T. B. Dickersin was the escort of Miss Nena Sunday.

Married at the residence of the bride's father on the 28, Miss Lizzie Gill and Barba Holcombe. There was a large crowd of guests present. The bride wore a brown brocaded worsted trimmed in white silk and white ribbon and lead braid. The guests were all arranged in the best room. The bride and groom was accompanied by Miss Nina Robinson as the bride's maid. Esquire Adams in his mild and genial manner pronounced them man & wife, with Miss S well at the organ playing in a low soft sweet tone Never Alone. After which a nice festival was served which was very beneficial to some of us especially those who have been fasting for several days previous. Their many friends join us in congratulating them. Guess Wild Bill will tell the rest. GYPSY.

Best Remedy for Constipation.

"The finest remedy for constipation I ever used is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets," says Eli Butler of Frankville, N. Y. "They act gently and without any unpleasant effect, the bowels in a perfectly natural condition." Sold by Bandy Drug Co.

WILSONVILLE.

Dr. David Edwards was very sick week with an attack of grip.

There was a citizen's meeting at the school house Saturday afternoon to nominate a ticket for city officers.

Black and Weldon have secured the services of a Mr. Calahan as prescription clerk.

W. G. McCarley, of Mississippi, is again at work making staves here.

Mrs. Laura Smith is very ill and has been for some time.

Allan Edwards, of Louisiana, and Blake and J. I. Edwards, of Bessemer, were at the bedside of their father last week.

Several of our young folks attended the entertainment of Helen May Butler's military band at Columbiana on Tuesday o. last week.

The little 2 x 4 crank who writes to the Advocate from Little Beeswax Bridge had better inform himself some before he writes for the public to read

The Advocate says that under McMillan's administration as judge that not a dollar was in the treasury and the county was several thousand dollars in debt and that the juries who came to court had to pay their own expense, and thus asks did you ever know anything of the kind to happen under a populist administration. We suppose that the Advocate has forgotten that there was $16,000 in the treasury and the county did not owe a dollar when the populist came into power, and that under populist administration every cent of that money is gone, and the county has been borrowing money to run its affairs for several years, and is now more than fifteen thousand dollars in debt. Scratch up your recollections brother.

F. E. Mason went down to Columbiana Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke gave an entertainment at the school house last Saturday night.

Miss Blanche Clark was absent last week, we suppose she was purchsing millinery supplies for Weldon & Co

R. A. O'Hara has sold his farms to J. R. Black and his mill and gin to W. T. Taylor.

Mr. John Robertson, of near this place was buried here on Thursday.

Died on March the 2d, infant of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edwards. Its remains were interred on Thursday at Bethesda church.

HONESE JOHN.

Miss Mary Falkner Dead.

The angel of death invaded the precincts of the happy home of Mr. T. B. Falkner at 11 o'clock on the night of February 29, and took away his beloved wife, Mary. Mrs. Falkner had been in bad health for a year or more, but was only confined to her bed about one week. She suffered intensely but bore it with that unmurmuring Christian fortitude characterized by a true child of God until the angel came and wafted her sweet spirit back to God who gave it. Deceased was born September 19th, 1858, and was 45 years, 5 months and 10 days old at death, She was married to Thomas B. Falkner at the age of 18, from which union there wore born five children all of whom survive her except one little girl who died when quite small. She was happily converted and joined the Baptist church soon after her marriage, and lived a true christian, ever being kind to all about her and ever ready to help the sick and distressed. By her gentle ways she won a host of friends who, surviving husband, children, sisters, brothers, parents and other relatives mourn her sad departure. Mrs. Falkner will be greatly missed in the community. The interment took place from the family residence, Wednesday March 2d, the funeral service being conducted by Rev. S. V. McGinnis her former pastor. Grieve not for mother for she is not dead but sleepeth and some sweet day we shall meet her on the blissful shore of sweet deliverance where parting nor pain ne'er can come

A voice we loved is still,
A precious one from us is gone,
A vacant spot is in our home,
Which can never be filled.

Dunlap for Chancellor.

Gadsden, Ala., Jan. 8, 1904.

The members of the Gadsden Bar met in the office of Boykin & Brindley Monday evening, Jan. 4. Upon motion the chairman appointed a committee consisting of W. J. Boykin, J. B. Martin and Judge J. A. Bilbro to prepare suitable resolutions regarding the candidacy of Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap for Chancellor of the Northern Division. The committee reported the following resolutions:

Whereas, We are advised that the Hon. R. B. Kelley, chancellor of the northeaster chancery division will not by reason of his candidacy for associate justice of our supreme court, aspire to succeed himself as chancellor; and

Whereas, our fellow townsman and leading member of our local bar, Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap, has kindly yielded to the earnest solicitation of the members of the Gadsden bar as well as of leading lawyers, democrats throughout the northeastern division, and will enter the field as a candidate for chancellor. Therefore, be it

Resolved. 1st, That we take great pleasure in commending the Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap to the democracy of the northeastern chancery division, as a suitable man for chancellor; he is democrat true and tried, a lawyer of learning and great research, capable, worthy and well qualified to discharge with credit to himself and honor to the people the responsible duties of the office to which he aspires.

2nd. That it gives us, the members of the Gadsden bar, great pleasure to unanimously and enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Col. R. A. D. Dunlap; pledging our united and individual efforts in his behalf, and we earnestly solicit the aid of friends and acquaintances and brother lawyers and democrats throughout the division to secure the nomination of this worthy gentleman, for we assure those who help us that Col. Dunlap is a hard working, painstaking, sober, honest, upright Christian gentleman, and if nominated and elected chancellor, he will bring to the office his best efforts and we feel safe in assuring all who honor him with their support they will never have cause to regret their action.

W. J. BOYKIN,
J. B. MARTIN,
J. A. BILBRO.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted and, after transacting other business, the meeting adjourned.

A. R. Brindley, Sec. — O. R. Hood, Chairman.

The Cherokee County Bar also endorses the candidacy of Colonel R. A. D. Dunlap. adv.

Withdrawal Card.

EDITOR CHRONICLE:

You may publish my card announcing my withdrawal from the race for Tax Assessor. I have many favorable letters from prominent citizens in all parts of the county; in addition to this I was strongly solicited by many of the leading citizens to become a candidate, to them I return most generous thanks, I am now, however, out of the race. Your truly,

JOHN M. DYE.

A child of Mrs. G. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath stepped against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great pain and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm in the house she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and valuable for burns, bruises, cuts and sprains. HOW TWO BEAUTIFUL WOMEN ESCAPED DREAD CATARRH BY USE OF PE-RU-NA.

Catarrh Robs Women of Health and Beauty. Pe-ru-na Makes Women Healthy and Beautiful.

Miss Amanda Johnson.

Miss Amanda Johnson, Fairchild, Wis., writes:
"I write to tell you how much Peruna benefited me. For a number of years I had pain in my head around my eyes, and I thought it was because my eyes needed treatment, so I went to an oculist and had glasses fitted to my eyes and wore them for some time, but felt no relief whatever. In fact, I felt worse than before, and came to the conclusion that the trouble was not with my eyes, but with my head and that it must be catarrh. As so many of my friends had used Peruna with benefit for this trouble, I thought I would try it. I was not sorry that I did so, for in a short time I began to improve, and in four weeks my eyes were in splendid condition, my general health was much improved and all the catarrh of the head was gone. I was glad to get rid of this trouble, and am glad to endorse such a good medicine as Peruna."—Miss Amanda Johnson.

Miss Flora Hauser.

No Woman Afflicted With Catarrh Can Be Either Beautiful or Attractive.

Miss Flora Hauser, 1032 S. New Jersey street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:
"I think I must have been troubled with catarrh ever since I was very young, aggravated each time I caught a cold. This did not prove sufficiently serious to be obnoxious until last winter. Then my head and nose were so stopped up that I felt I must do something. Peruna was recommended to me by a friend. I used it for four weeks, and found to my relief that it cured me. I have not had a bit of trouble since. My head is clear, and I can safely affirm that Peruna cured me."—Miss Flora Hauser.

DR. HARTMAN has probably done more than any other physician toward popularizing a means of escape from the facial deformities, such as watery eyes, twisted nose, offensive breath, dry cracked lips, due to the ravaging effects of catarrh.

He has made chronic catarrh a life-long study. His remedy, popularly known as Peruna, is the most famous remedy for catarrh in existence.

Probably there is not a man or woman, boy or girl, within the bounds of the United States that has not heard of Peruna. By far the largest majority have used Peruna.

The multitude of people that have been cured of chronic catarrh by using Peruna can never be known.

Many a girl has regained her faded beauty, many a matron has lengthened the days of her comely appearance by using Peruna.

Peruna produces clean mucous membranes, the basis of facial symmetry and a perfect complexion.

The women have not been slow to discover that a course of Peruna will do more toward restoring youthful beauty than all cosmetic devices known to science.

While it is true that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located, yet it is advisable for everyone to use Peruna as a preventive and not wait until catarrh has fastened itself in some part of the system.

Peruna acts quickly and beneficially on the inflamed mucous membranes lining the different organs of the body. Thus it will cure catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartmann, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

The Supreme Court of Alabama

(By PERCY CLARK.)

The last legislature increased the number of associate justices from four to six. The supreme court of Alabama has always taken high rank, much above the average. Its opinions have been accepted as able expressions of many intricate questions of law. Always the bench has been occupied by able, pure men, above any taint of partisanship. It is well; for the supreme bench is in many respects the conservator of the rights and liberties of the people. While it cannot make laws, it can nullify laws that are unconstitutional and which infringe on the reserved rights of the people.

The present court is composed of Chief Justice McClellan, Justices Haralson, Tyson, Dowdell and Sharpe.

Mr. Justice Haralson, Mr. Justice Tyson and Mr. Justice Dowdell are candidates for their present positions, They are entitled to an endorsement at the polls in April by the people. Their records have been of the highest; their characters are unimpeachable; their ability and fitness is unquestioned.

Mr. Justice Sharpe declines to be a candidate, much to the regret of the legal profession.

Thomas Nicholas McClellan.

Mr. Chief Justice McClellan is a native of Limestone county, Ala. He served as justice of the supreme court from 1889 to 1898 when he was elected chief justice. He is justly regarded by the profession as one of the ablest jurists that ever sat on the supreme bench of Alabama. He is a candidate for his present position and is without opposition.

Jonathan Haralson.

Mr. Justice Haralson was born in Lowndes county, Alabama. He is an alumnus of the University of Alabama and received his legal training in part at the University of Louisiana, taking the degree of L. B. in that institution. For many years he practiced law in Selma, being associated with the late Wm. M. Brooks.

On the recommendation of the bar of Selma he was appointed by Governor Geo. S. Houston, Judge of the City Court of Selma, a court of law and equity, which place he filled for fifteen years; from this bench he was elected in 1892 to the supreme court as associate justice and was re elected in 1898.

Judge Haralson has occupied the most distinguished of positions in the Baptist church. He was president of the Alabama Baptist State convention for eighteen years, and was for ten consecutive years thereafter, president of the Southern Baptist convention.

He is a Mason and an Odd Fellow.

Judge Haralson has never ceased to love the farm, where he began his career; all the years of his life he has been identified therewith. He now has farming interests in the Black belt.

John Russell Tyson.

Mr. Justice Tyson was born in Lowndes county, Alabama, November 28, 1856. He attended the common schools, and afterwards Howard college, where, in 1877, he graduated with honors taking with him the degree of A. B. He then studied law at Washington and Lee University, of Virginia, and there took the degree of L. B. Immediately thereafter he began the practice of law at Hayneville, Lowndes county.

Judge Tyson was elected to the legislature from Lowndes county in 1880 and at once came to the front as a man of strong characteristics, with the force of a logical mind, and strong reasoning powers. He moved to Montgomery and as a member of the firm of Lomax & Tyson added to his well deserved reputation of a lawyer of ability and great popularity, and was elected president of the city council. It was as judge of the Second judicial circuit that Judge Tyson won high encomiums for his fairness in his rulings, and his elevation to the supreme bench in 1898 was a natural sequence. He is noted for his learning and industry, and has proven himself a valuable member of the highest court in Alabama. He has farming interests in Lowndes. He is a member of the Baptist church, and a Knight of Pythias.

James Render Dowdell.

Mr. Justice Dowdell was born in Chambers county, April 2, 1847, in which county he now resides. He was educated at the University of Alabama and at Auburn; he graduated from the latter school in 1867, after which he taught school, studying law during the time, until 1870 when he was admitted to the bar. He began his public career as circuit solicitor in 1876, serving four years; and was thereafter appointed judge of the Fifth judicial circuit, in which position he achieved distinction, so that he was readily chosen chancellor of the Northeastern chancery division.

Judge Dowdell became associate judge of the supreme court in 1898 and is therefore serving his first term. When he offered for the position, he had the solid support of every county he had served as solicitor, circuit judge and chancellor; he had never sought a second term for either of these offices, although urged to do so.

He has served as a trustee of Auburn, and was offered the position of dean of the law school of the University of Alabama.

He is a member of the Methodist church, a Mason and a Knight of Pythias.

Judge Dowdell has been engaged in farming continuously from his youth up, and is now interested in farming.

SAW BURGOYNE'S SURRENDER

British General Didn't Send Sword by Subordinate.

The discussion about Revolutionary ancestors is joined in by J. D. Simpson, of Wellington, whose grandfather was with the patriot forces. The grandfather was a little sawed-off man. He was refused as a soldier on account of his small size several times, and at last got into the army by standing in the rear rank on a block of wood six inches high. He was present at the surrender of General Burgoyne to General Gates. Mr. Smith says:

"He saw General Burgoyne deliver his sword to General Gates, and as there has been some discussion in history as to how General Burgoyne delivered his sword I will give my grandfather's version of it.

"He said that when General Burgoyne met General Gates he was the finest looking man he ever saw, about six feet tall, every inch a soldier, with a new uniform of the finest material—'regimentals,' grandfather called them—and looked down on General Gates, who was a very short man, and dressed in a suit of homespun, linsey-woolsey, as much as to say, 'You are not my equal,' then very deliberately unsheathed his sword, took the point of it in his hand, turned his head away and handed it to General Gates. Some histories say he handed his sword to a subordinate officer, who in turn gave it to General Gates, thus not recognizing General Gates as his equal."—Kansas City Journal.

Is Violent Death Painful?

Severe injuries to the body are seldom very painful at first. The severity of the nervous shock seems to paralyze the nerve centre where consciousness of pain is situated, and in fatal cases there is often no sense of pain, even when death is delayed a day or two. In such cases it may be supposed that the shock not only paralyzes but even destroys the nerve centre. It may be compared to a lightning flash along the telegraph wires, which, although of the same nature as the electric telegraph current, is yet so intense as to destroy life.

Salzer's Home Builder Corn.

So named because 50 acres produced so heavily, that its proceeds built a lovely home. See Salzer's catalog. Yielded in 1903 in Ind. 157 bu., Ohio 160 bu., Tenn. 98 bu., and in Mich. 220 bu. per acre. You can beat this record in 1904.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THESE YIELDS PER ACRE?

120 bu. Beardless Barley per acre.
310 bu. Salzer's New National Oats per A.
80 bu. Salzer Speltz and Macaroni Wheat.
1,000 bu. Pedigree Potatoes per acre.
14 tons of rich Billion Dollar Grass Hay.
60,000 lbs. Victoria Rape for sheep—per A.
160,000 lbs. Teosinte, the fodder wonder.
54,000 lbs. Salzer's Superior Fodder Corn—rich, juicy fodder, per A.

Now, such yields you can have, Mr. Farmer, in 1904, if you will plant Salzer's seeds. [A.C.L.]

An attempt to get something for nothing parts many a fool from his money.

When the Jap became civilized in the accepted western sense he lost his faith in the divinity of his ancient religion, which, it is true, had become sadly perverted by the priesthood. He did not hesitate to discard the supernatural elements of the national faith while retaining its moral code as an admirable philosophical rule of life. In a word he became as a skeptic who accepts the philosophy of Jesus without accepting the divinity or inspired mission. Thus civilization made the Jap an agnostic without being able to proselyte him to Christianity. The superior Japanese place the teachings of Christ alongside those of Buddha. Confucius, Mencius and the other spiritual philosophers of the Orient, and, while trying to live moral lives, shrug their shoulders at the "superstitions" of religionists, whether western or Oriental.—Atlanta Constitution.

A man called at a San Francisco hospital and said he had forgotten his identity. He was detained under the name of John Myers, a small Bible in his pocket bearing that name. He thought he was a native of New York and that he lived somewhere up the Hudson river, also that he was a graduate of Yale, and that he at one time was engaged in literary work, either as an illustrator or a writer. This is borne out by his conversation, and he drew a character picture and down in the corner placed a signature, "L. C. W., '04." His hands are soft and he has an aristocratic face, but who he is and where he came from is something the people interested in his case can not fathom, and on this point the man himself professes complete ignorance.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. A writer who has canvassed her friends for their views says in a paper upon the subject "Why Women Go to Theaters::" "Some go because they want to see 'life,' others because they want to get away from 'life,' some because they like to be amused, others because they like to have their feelings harrowed. A few apparently think that plays are educative, and a good many more frequent theaters simply because it is the correct thing to do" And then she boils it all down and sums it up in this sentence: "My own opinion is that the majority of women in society go simply in order to have something to talk about."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express my gratitude for the restored health and happiness Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought into my life.

"I had suffered for three years with terrible pains at the time of menstruation, and did not know what the trouble was until the doctor pronounced it inflammation of the ovaries, and proposed an operation.

"I felt so weak and sick that I felt sure that I could not survive the ordeal, and so I told him that I would not undergo it. The following week I read an advertisement in the paper of your Vegetable Compound in such an emergency, and so I decided to try it. Great was my joy to find that I actually improved after taking two bottles, so I kept taking it for ten weeks, and at the end of that time I was cured. Billion Dollar Grass and Alfalfa.

When we introduced Billion Dollar Grass three years ago, little did we dream it would be the most talked of grass in America, the biggest, quick, hay producer on earth, but this has come to pass.

Agr. Editors wrote about it, Agr. College Professors lectured about it, Agr. Institute Orators talked about it, while in the farm home by the quiet fireside, in the corner grocery, in the village postoffice, at the creamery, at the depot, in fact wherever farmers gathered, Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass, that wonderful grass, good for 5 to 14 tons per acre, and lots of pasture besides, is always a theme worthy of the farmer's voice.

A. Walford, Westlore Farms, Pa., writes: "I have 60 acres in Salzer's Alfalfa Clover. It is immense. I cut three crops this season and have lots of pasture besides."

In the bombardment of Port Arthur the Japanese used three or four hundred Russian shells which they found on the captured transport Manchuria.

It is learned that the reason the Vladivostock forts did not reply to the shelling by the Japanese vessels on March 6th was that officials at St. Petersburg supplied them with shells whose diameter was too large for the guns of the fort.

The reported occupation of Port Arthur by the Japanese and the report stating that a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer was sunk and the cruiser Takasago heavily damaged by the shell fire of the Russians during the fourth attack on Port Arthur are officially pronounced untrue.

The Cane Crop.

Favorable reports continue to come from the country concerning the young cane crop, which is everywhere declared to be in a most promising condition and to be considerably advanced over its ordinary condition at this time of the year. Encouraging information is received concerning spring plant, fall plant and stubbles, and there seems to be every indication of one of the finest stands of cane.

Against Education.

At its session Friday afternoon the Mississippi house defeated the bill providing for the establishment of a state normal school for white teachers, the prevailing sentiment among members being that the state can not afford an expenditure for this purpose at present, owing to the large increase in the common school appropriation. The vote was 57 to 41

A Japanese woman at Nakasaki, on learning that her only son had been exempted from active duty on the ground that she was dependent for subsistence on his earnings, has committed suicide. In a letter she stated that she was about to kill herself in order that her son might be free to fight for his fatherland. Then she plunged a dagger into her heart. Withdrawing the weapon she handed it to her son, who immediately volunteered for active service.

From Rio there is an inquiry out for 1,500,000 feet of lumber. The Southern States Lumber Co., of Pensacola, Fla., reports cutting ahead for several months for Rio. The market is $13 to $14. There is also a good demands for "London deals," three and four by nine inches, twelve feet long and up, which require the same grade as Rio, except that they are short lengths, or in other words, no thirty feet and up lengths are called for.

NORTHERN SECURITY

Case Decided in Favor of The Government

The opinion of the supreme court of the United States in the case of the Northern Securities Company vs. the United States, involving the merger of the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern Company, was handed down and was in favor of the government. The opinion was read by Justice Harlan.

The opinion of the United States circuit court for the district of Minnesota was affirmed. The effect is to sustain the contention that the Sherman anti-trust laws applied to the railroad commissions of the character in question.

IMPORT AND EXPORT

Through the Principal Cities of the South

The monthly statement of the international commerce of the United States, issued by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics, has just been made public. Thirty-eight car service associations report 2,135,981 cars handled during January, 1904, compared with 2,372,461 cars in January, 1903.

In southern territory receipts of cotton for the first five months of the crop year show that 5,992,616 bales were sent to seaports of which 3,995,184 bales, or two-thirds of the total port receipts, arrived at Gulf ports; the other one-third having been received at Atlantic ports.

Galveston continues to hold first rank among seaboard receiving points in southern territory, receipts to the end of January, 1904, being 2,030,973 bales of cotton, compared with 1,568,809 bales received at New Orleans. Savannah received 1,001,983 bales. Norfolk ranks next with more than one-third of 1,000,000 bales, derived largely from the Carolinas.

Coal movements as reflected in the anthracite shipments for January have shown a tendency to decline, 4,134,245 tons being reported for January, compared with 4,259,748 tons in December, 1903, and 4,091,147 tons in November.

Comes Here First.

Following an arrangement effected by the Associated Press, all the war news collected by the great European news agencies from Japanese, Korean and Chinese territory will will be transmitted to London via the Pacific cable and the United States and will be delivered en route to the Associated Press newspapers. Hitherto this matter has been transmitted from the far east via India and has been repeated from London to New York,. Under this new arrangement first publication of all this news will be in the United States.

Without Known Cause.

Saturday night Isaac Mooney, a farmer, who lives near Jasper, was aroused by a knock on his door, and when he arose and opened it he was struck a terrific blow in the face with a rock, and it is thought that he will lose one of his eyes from the effects of the blow. Mooney can assign no cause for his treatment, claiming that he has offended no one, and if he has an enemy in the world he does not know of it.

Cut Off the Boy's Head.

A freight ran over and cut a little boy's head off near Battelle. He was playing near the track with his dog, when the dog ran across the track in front of the train. The child, to save the dog, ran after it, but in some manner slipped and fell and the train cut his head off. The dog was not hurt. The boy was about nine years old. The engineer was very much wrought up over the affair.

Against Mrs. Buffalo Bill.

A petition for divorce filed by Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), has just been made public. The complainant charges cruelty and alleges that on December 26, 1900, Mrs. Cody attempted to poison the plaintiff. Mrs. Cody, who is at North Platt, denies her husband's charges and will contest the suit. Colonel and Mrs. Cody were married at St. Louis March 6, 1866.

The work of sinking deeper one of the artesian wells of the Pratt City water works has been completed. The well is now 405 feet deep and it is thought will afford an abundant supply of water.

PAN-AMERICAN LINE

Requires but 4,500 Miles to be Completed

Charles M. Pepper, appointed by President Roosevelt as commissioner to carry out the recommendations of the second international American conference, held in Mexico two years ago, with regards to the Pan-American railway, has submitted his report to the state department, by which it will be transmitted to congress.

The report says that the general prospect of an international line, which ultimately will place New York and Buenos Ayres in through railway communication, is receiving much encouragement. At the present time about 4,800 miles are lacking, and the estimated cost of construction is based at $150,000,000. This is based on an average of 50 cents gold, as a daily wage for labor, with an efficiency of 75 cents as compared with similar labor in the United States.

IRON MOVEMENT.

January Report to Hand of Southern Iron and Steel Manufacture.

The January report of the Alabama iron committee has been made public. It shows the following to have been the shipments of pig iron for that month:

Districts.	Tons.
Anniston	19,490
Birmingham	92,670
Chattanooga	16,860
Greensboro	160
Middlesborough	6,370
Nashville	6,165
Sheffield	17,186
Total	158,901

The cast iron shipments are given as follows:

Districts.	Tons.
Anniston	2,450
Birmingham	6,756
Chattanooga	3,077
Total	12,283

This shows the grand total of shipments of cast iron, steel rails and steel billets and pig iron to have been 171,184 tons during the month of January.

The boll weevil is an insignificant creature, a little gray snout beetle, about one-fourth of an inch long, but it breeds very rapidly, multiplies enormously in the course of a summer, and works during the critical period of its life absolutely protected from any application which could be made to the cotton plant. Stowed away in old corn stalks, in clumps of grass, under the bark of trees and logs, and in all sorts of sheltered places, the weevil passes the winter. Promptly as the cotton plant comes up in the spring and early summer the weevils come forth, fly to the plants, and as soon as the first "squares"—unblown buds—are found they lay their eggs in them. The young grub hatches, and destroys the forming flower, causing the square to drop. The grub changes to a pupa within the bud, and the full grown weevil emerges soon after.

Mine Trouble.

Trouble has again broken out in Virginia mines, there being a pitched battle fought Friday afternoon between Superintendent Gafford, Sid Hurst and two negroes with them on one side, and several parties hidden in the woods on the other. About forty shots were fired on both sides. Sid Hurst, of the party with Mr. Gafford, being shot in the side, shoulder and arm with buckshot. None of the others was struck, although one man had his hat shot off his head

It is not known whether any of the attacking party were struck or not. As soon as the mines were reached bloodhounds were brought out and an attempt to trail the would-be murderers was made, but without result

It is understood that Atlanta is about to place an order for five hundred cars of chert, and after the inspection of chert beds in various sections, they have concluded that Bessemer offers the best chert to be found.

A sanitarium is promised for Gadsden.

A Big Land Deal.

Sixteen hundred acres of coal lands near Mineral Springs were sold to a New York syndicate for $16,000 cash. This property will be immediately developed, four openings already being under way with about 300 men at work. Houses, offices and other buildings will be erected at once and the work of developing the property undertaken on a large scale. The output of the new mines will be about 1,000 tons daily, the old Pratt seam having been tapped in the explorations for coal. When the openings are completed, there will be 400 miners employed to deliver the fullest output possible.

For the first time in the history of the United States the production of coal has reached a total of over 300,000,000 short tons, showing an actual output of 300,030,659 tons of 2,000 pounds, valued at $373,133,643.

INSURANCE FIGURES

Submitted for 1903 by the State Commissioner

Deputy Insurance Commissioner Ned R. McDavid has just completed a statement on the fire insurance for the past year. The receipts by the state show an increase of $10,500 over the previous year, while there has been a decrease in the losses paid by insurance companies. The average rate charged for fire insurance in Alabama last year was $1.67 per $100, which was a decrease of 11 cents per $100, or about 7 per cent decrease over the previous year's rate. This reduction in rate represents a saving to the Alabama policy holders last year of about $140,000.

The fire insurance premiums paid by the Alabama policy holders has almost doubled in the past seven years, though the rate charged is only 4 cents per hundred more. In 1897 fire companies collected in Alabama $1,168,564, and in 1903 $2,115,355. The fire companies fared well in Alabama during 1903, paying for losses in this state only 48.4 per cent of the amount received for premiums. Allowing 33 1-3 per cent for expense of doing business, leaves a profit of about 18 per cent for the companies. The average loss in Alabama during the past seven years is 55 per cent.

DIDN'T LIKE IT,

And Tried to Stop It With a Shotgun.

Near Florence, a marriage under difficulties was solemnized Sunday morning. Great preparations had been made and a large crowd of guests had assembled to witness the wedding of Miss Lily Young and Alexander Haddock, when a former suitor of the young lady appeared upon the scene and demanded that the proceedings be stopped. Seeing that remonstrances were of no avail, he left and returned later with a shotgun. His appearance caused consternation among the guests, but the irate suitor was finally persuaded to retire and leave the field in possession of his rival.

Burned to Death.

A horrible accident occurred at the home of a farmer in Hokes Bluff, resulting in the death of the thirteen-year-old daughter of William Shields, a prominent farmer. The young daughter was left to prepare dinner. It is supposed that the clothing of the girl caught from the stove and she was burned to a crisp.

Mrs. John Schultz, wife of a stonemason residing three miles from Irondale, was fatally burned Wednesday, her clothing igniting from a fire which she had started in the garden, where a pile of leaves and trash had been raked up.

Phoenix-Girard Bank.

The site for the new Phoenix-Girard bank will be selected at an early date, the committee having the matter in charge having several lots under consideration. The bank will have a capital stock of $25,000, the greater portion of which is owned by local merchants. W. E. Holloway, of Montgomery, the well-known Alabama banker, will be president of the institution. It is understood that as soon as the bank is erected and open for business, plans will be perfected for establishing wholesale houses and possibly cotton ware houses in Phoenix City and Girard.

A passenger train on the Southern was wrecked at Milton and three men slightly injured. The accident was between a head-on collision and a sideswipe. The passenger train ran into the freight engine, injuring A. E. Cheatham, engineer of the passenger train; O. B. Newman, mail clerk, and A. Thomas Baker, a mail weigher.

The largest single piece of machinery ever shipped south reached Gadsden Monday. It is the bed plate for the large engines of the rolling mill of the Gadsden steel plant and weighs 125,000 tons.

A telegram from General Zhlinsky, General Kuropatkin's chief of staff, says that, according to reports published in Korean newspapers, 18,000 Japanese have landed at Chinnampho, Korea, and are marching to Ping Yang.

Witnesses say that the Japanese fire, which was indifferent in previous attacks, on last Wednesday showed marvelous accuracy.

It is reported that the Retvizan, which was then inside the entrance of the harbor, was struck several times, and that there were fatalities among the crew. It is also said that the Golden Hill forts were damaged.

Information from an official who was an eye-witness of the bombardment of Port Arthur on Wednesday and Thursday is to the effect that the Russians had twenty-five killed on the battle ship Sevastopol, twenty on the Retvizan and twenty in the town. The Russians are said to have sunk a Japanese cruiser. The Russians assert that their damaged cruisers have been repaired and are ready for sea. The battle ship Czarovitch will be ready shortly.

The Russians are suppressing the circulation of foreign newspapers, and any person suspected of being a correspondent is ordered out of their lines. Residents of Port Arthur assert that the defenders of that place possess the delusion that British officers command the Japanese ships. A leading police officer who has been prominent in expelling suspects killed himself, it is believed, on account of his failure to apprehend newspaper correspondents.

General Kuropatkin, accompanied by his entire staff, left in a special train for the far east, where he will take command of the Manchurian army. The departure of the general was marked by demonstrations of patriotism and personal regard. General Eggrestoff, white haired and trembling with emotion, began to speak. Inside and out, there was an instant hush. "I have come to bid you Godspeed," said General Eggrestoff. "We all wish you a safe journey and with God's blessing, we shall greet your victorious return. Take this small image of Alexis, your patron saint, and wear it around your neck, and may the Almighty hold you in His keeping." General Kuropatkin knelt reverently and accepted the talisman.

ENTIRE WEST STORM-SWEPT

Great Damage Done in San Francisco on Land and Bay.

LOSSES REACH INTO MILLIONS

The Worst Rain and Wind Storm in Thirteen Years Swept Along the Pacific Coast—Churches Wrecked and Houses Destroyed—Shipping Badly Battered in Golden Gate Harbor.

San Francisco, Cal.—The worst windstorm that has been seen in California in thirteen years raged from British Columbia to Southern California, sweeping the entire Pacific Coast, causing millions of dollars' worth of damage.

Telegraph wires are down in all directions, and for several hours San Francisco was cut off from all communication with outside cities. Great damage has been done throughout the State.

A seven-story brick building in this city, which was finished with the exception of the cornice, was completely wrecked by the wind. The steeples of several churches were blown down, roofs were blown off a number of buildings, and the streets and sidewalks were littered with broken fences, signs and chimneys.

In the harbor great damage was done. The waves were lashed to a fury, and a new coast line was formed at Ocean Beach. Small boats were smashed by the waves, and larger vessels dragged at their anchors, several of them being blown against piers and rocks and badly damaged.

A full train of cars on the Alameda Mole, across the bay from this city, was lifted bodily from the track and overturned by the wind. The train consisted of an engine, a baggage car and three passenger coaches. No one was injured.

A number of new flat buildings in Richmond were completely demolished.

Frame houses in the poorer sections were blown down and a number of families have been made homeless.

The States of Missouri and Nevada have been visited by rainstorms, while in Washington floods have driven hundreds of persons from their homes and damaged thousands of dollars' worth of property.

Fierce Wind in Oregon.

Portland, Ore.—The storm raged here and telegraph lines are down in all directions. At the mouth of the Columbia River the wind blew at the rate of eighty-seven miles an hour for several hours. A portion of the great Government jetty, reaching four miles into the Pacific, has been carried away. A great snowslide covers the Southern Pacific track just beyond the summit of the Siskiyou Mountains, on the line between Oregon and California. The Columbia River is rising rapidly, being fed by the flushed streams of Eastern Washington and Idaho. The Willamette is flooding the lower ground of Portland. Should the weather turn warm and cause the great amount of snow in the mountains to melt, damage to the extent of millions will be done.

In Lake Superior Country.

Calumet, Mich.—A severe snowstorm prevails throughout the Lake Superior country. The wind has a velocity of sixty miles an hour and all street railway service has been discontinued. Railroad service is badly hampered.

Dust and Windstorm.

Kansas City, Mo.—A great part of Kansas, in the neighborhood of Ellis, Junction City and Kingman, has been visited by a dust and windstorm, which has done much damage to crops. Heavy rain has fallen in some parts.

PAY OF PANAMA COMMISSION.

The President Fixes It at $12,000 a Year, With $15 a Day For Expenses.

Washington, D. C.—The President, acting under the authority of the Spooner law, announced that the salaries of each of the members of the Panama Commission would be $12,000 a year, with an allowance of $15 a day for expenses for each member while on the Isthmus. No allowance is made for expenses while the Commissioners are in the United States, but the various expenses of the Commission as an official body will, of course, be provided for through further canal legislation.

Nearly all the Commissioners are supposed to have sacrified a large income by accepting appointment under the Government, and some persons believed the President would name $15,000 or $20,000 as a fair salary.

SPLINTER KILLS CONGRESSMAN.

Representative Croft Injured Thumb and Blood Poisoning Followed.

Washington, D. C.—Representative George W. Croft, of Aiken, S. C., died at his home in this city of blood poisoning.

Mr. Croft had been ill for over six weeks as the result of an injury caused by a splinter in his thumb, from which blood poisoning resulted. Dr. Croft, a brother, was summoned from Aiken, but his efforts and those of the local physicians proved unavailing.

Mr. Croft was fifty-seven years old and leaves six sons. He was a Democrat and was serving his first term in Congress. He had been twice elected President of the South Carolina State Bar Association and had served in both Houses of the State Legislature.

March came in like lamb however it has behaved since.

A man can talk as loud and make as much noise in a political meeting as the best and yet not be a registered voter,

It is only a short time until the primary election. Let every registered voter turn out, vote for the best men, and the men best suited to carry the democratic banner on to victory.

The negroes who are not registered will not pay poll tax. That means two things—that they feel no interest in the schools and do not intend to fit themselves to bebecome voters.

The men who pose as democrats, but who have been supporting republican polocies and candidates for eight years, should not feel offended if requested by loyal democrats to show their papers.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Shelby county held on February 16th, 1904, a primary election was called to be held in the various beats of Shelby county for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various State, Circuit, Division, Congressional and County officers to be elected in the November election; therefore, in pursuance of said call a primary election will be held in the various beats of Shelby county for the nomination of said officers on April the 11th, 1904. In said election, all white qualified electors, who believes in in the principles of the Democratic party are entitled and cordially invited to paricipate.

DISCIPLINE.

Hardships may be but the means used to develop the character, but hardship does not of itself give nobleness of character. When we consider how large a part in the shaping and directing of the highest personality has come through meeting and enduring hardships, we are inclined to fear that those who have no call to similar experiences of hardship may lack the training which would develop the highest manhood, but the men who have profited have simply done the best they could do in the circumstances which surrounded them, in the providence of God. There is no better school for any human soul than the school of God's own choosing, and one who does the best he can, whether he is called to hardship or not, is likely to develop a character for the work God has for him to do, whatever that may be. "Obedience is better than sacrifice all the walks of life. Do well the one duty at your hand.

The farmer who has confined his efforts to two or three staple crops does not know how his farm would respond to some one or more special crops. This is a day of specialties, and many men can make a success growing some special crops who are not now making a good living growing some of the staple crops. The way to star on some special crops is to start with a small area and gradually branch out to larger proportions. I have in my mind a farmer who made a failure of growing staple crops and afterwards made a pronounced success growing broom corn. Another did the same thing with pop corn.-Practical Farmer.

If Congress should grant all the special appropiation demanded for various purposes at this session, the governmeut would be absolutely swamped. It would cost more than $200,000,000 to meet the demands along a few lines only. Some of those are meritorious, others not so much so and still others little short of raids, or attempted grabs. Among the meritorious ones are those in the interest of farmers such as the good roads bill, The expositions, like the daughter of the horse leech, are still begging for more, when as a matter of fact, they already have more than they are entitled to. Their requests are for "loans," but everybody knows that the money might as well be called an outright gift, as not a cent of it will ever be paid back.

Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for any one to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the 30 years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. Dr. W J. Smith. of Sanders, Ala., a druggist says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribe it in my practice f r the past 6 years. Use i, in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten good results." Eor sale at Bandy Drug Co.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL

Address a Letter to the People Relative to Presidency of the Railroad Commission.

DISFAVORS B. B. COMER.

To the People of Alabama:

Would you think it fair and just if the lawyer who appeared in court and argued a case against you in favor of your opponent should be called to sit as the judge in that same case at the next term of court?

Last June B. B. Comer appeared before the railroad commission of Alabam and arged vigorously that all rail road rates in the state should be re duced. As a candidate for president of the railroad commission he is now promising to decide all those matters against the railroad companies. His various lines of business give him a direct and very large interest in a great many of the most important of these matters. Do you think it fair and just to make him one of the Judges to hear and decide the very controversy in which he has already appeared as an advocate or attorney, in which he has a large personal interest, and which he has completely prejudged in advance of trial or hearing?

The people of Alabama would not elect any man as president of the railroad commission who had appeared before the railroad commission in that controversy in behalf of the railroads. If they would not elect a man representing the railroads, should they in justice elect a man who appeared against the railroads, and who is adversely interested to them?

The law of Alabama declares that a judge must not act in a case which he has been attorney or in which he is interested. Does not the same spirit of fairness require that a man should not be elected president of the railroad commission for the express purpose of deciding matters in which he is interested both personally and as attorney?

We do not, of course, deny or question the right of the state to decide what is just and fair as between the shippers and the railroads, that the railroad commission has ample power to render such decisions and make them effective.

We do not feel, however, that we have the right to ask you to select some fair minded and disinterested man as president of the railroad commission, before whom the railroads, as well as the shippers, can appear in the confident belief that a fair and impartial hearing will be accorded.

Very respectfully,
Walker D. Hines,
First Vice President L. & N. R. R.

W. W. Whiteside, of Anniston Endorsed for Chancellor.

We, the undersigned members of the Bar of Calhoun county hereby endores the candidacy of Hon. W. W. "I don't think we could keep house without Thedford's Black-Draught. We have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves stomach pains, frees the constipated bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakened kidneys is necessary in the home where Thedford's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor. Thedford's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colds, chills and fever, bad blood, headaches, diarrhœa, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because the stomach, bowels liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.

TIP TOP.

Sunday was courting day with some of our boys.

Mrs. S. R. McCall, of Brighton, is on a visit to friends and relatives here.

Several of the boys attended the singing at Balentiene's Sunday.

Preaching at Ebernezer Sunday with Rev. J. J. Moore officiating.

Amos Blackerby, Arthur Armstrong and Frank Chesser, of Center Institute, were at church Sunday.

George Holmes, of Vincent, was out among his old friends last Sunday.

A severe storm prevailed in our midst Sunday night. No damage done

W. S. Dickerson and C. M. Gill made a business trip to your city Saturday.

We regret to learn of the death of our relative W. H. Colley, who has frequently visited this community, he had many friend here.

Did you ever see so many candidates? Oliver Moore, Sake Perry, Penson Moore and Jim Dickerson are candates too, but they do their talking to their girls don't guess we'll get many votes.

We heard some one ask where Tip Top was, it smidway between Straight Ridge and Pine Mountain near the loop, if any one knows where that is.

W. C. Elder is frequently seen at Oakdale. We can guess about right, there are two, think Miss D. is the one

We regret the sad misfortune of J. W. Sewell last Friday night. His residence was burned down, and he lost nearly everything.

GYPSY.

Colds Cause Pneumonia.

One of the most remarkable cases of colds, developed on the lungs, causing pneumonia is that of Gertrude E Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me so that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this, wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. Sold by Bandy Drug Company.

WILSONVILLE.

Prof. L. B. Riddle, lately of Longview has a position with Pennington & Smith. He will move his family here in a few days.

W. G. Hester and W. W. Albright, of your city were in town Saturday.

David Ray, of beat 8, was in town Saturday.

We will have telephone connection with your city in a very short time. Holes were dug for the poles.

We regret to note the withdrawal of Prof. J. M. Dye from the race for tax assessor as we were anxious to vote for him.

Misses Emma Kytle has a position with R. G. Weldon & Co.

Mr. Black, of Oxanna, visited his brother J. R. Black last week.

W. E. Riddle was in town Sunday, dear hunting we suppose.

Mr. Hammond of near Harpersville was in town Sunday and reported a heavy rain fall accompanied by hail.

Rev. Mr. Gross, a student of Howard College preached here Sunday in lieu of the pastor, Rev. O. P. Bently.

The Advocate says the democrats do nothing but draw their salaries and endeavors to hoodwink the people and we will say that it is a notable that the only official who did not draw on the county for the full amount allowed by law and in some case more, was a democrat.

Ther has been some excitement in our community caused by the county health officer pronouncing some supposed cases of chicken pox smallpox.

HONESE JOHN.

REDLAWN.

The weather has been fine and the farmers have been using it too.

D. S. Wingard who has been in the employed by Weldon & Co., can be found again on his farm.

We have notice for several days past that our friend Taylor Armstrong has been wearing a smile, we now know why—it's a girl.

Sheriff Cox and Deputy Norris passed her last week, their trend was northward, but their destination we knew not where.

Mrs. Ida Armstrong and also Mrs. Bradley have been ill for several days.

Our friend Walter Lester, a candidate for treasurer passed through our town one day last week

J. A. Spearman who has been teaching at Dogwood, since last November is at home with his family to spend the summer.

The people appear to be well satisfied with the reral free delivery of the mail. If our people will avail themselves of the oppotunity they can be benefitted largely educational speaking. Shelby county should have a doz en routes.

The primary will soon be here and then who will be the nominees, is the question that's agitating the minds of the people, and especially that of the candidates.

Ego does not say much but he can see and think just the same. O, no! [illegible] believe that the Honest John sort is not to be found in the democratic party. Yes, he may force his worm eatern doctrine on some of the people part of the time, but he cannot all the time.

Yes, we hear them snort about the constitutional convention disfranchisement of the negro, the poor white man, and there is not a white man (unless he be a radical) in Shelby county or any other county in the commonwealth of Alabama that does not admit that the negro at large is incapable of sound discretion and good government and should not be allowed to vote. The democrats have not disfranchised any white man, they have carelessly done it themselves. Let every man that is in favor of white supremacy and good government turn out on the 11th of next month and cast his vote for McMillan, Adams, Falkner, Lester, or any other man that will make a good officer for Shelby county, that's me.

EGO.

Inflamatory Rheumatism Cured

Wm. Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for week with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remidies," he says: "Finally I sent to the drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in a week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam. Dunlap for Chancellor.

Gadsden, Ala., Jan. 8, 1904.

The members of the Gadsden Bar met in the office of Boykin & Brindley Monday evening, Jan. 4. Upon motion the chairman appointed a committee consisting of W. J. Boykin, J. B. Martin and Judge J. A. Bilbro to prepare suitable resolutions regarding the candidacy of Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap for Chancellor of the Northern Division. The committee reported the following resolutions:

Whereas, We are advised that the Hon. R. B. Kelley, chancellor of the northeaster chancery division will not by reason of his candidacy for associate justice of our supreme court, aspire to succeed himself as chancellor; and

Whereas, our fellow townsman and leading member of our local bar, Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap, has kindly yielded to the earnest solicitation of the members of the Gadsden bar as well as of leading lawyers, democrats throughout the northeastern division, and will enter the field as a candidate for chancellor. Therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st, That we take great pleasure in commending the Hon. R. A. D. Dunlap to the democracy of the northeastern chancery division, as a suitable man for chancellor; he is democrat true and tried, a lawyer of learning and great research, capable, worthy and well qualified to discharge with credit to himself and honor to the people the responsible duties of the office to which he aspires.

2nd. That it gives us, the members of the Gadsden bar, great pleasure to unanimously and enthusiastically endorse the candidacy of Col. R. A. D. Dunlap; pledging our united and individual efforts in his behalf, and we earnestly solicit the aid of friends and acquaintances and brother lawyers and democrats throughout the division to secure the nomination of this worthy gentleman, for we assure those who help us that Col. Dunlap is a hard working, painstaking, sober, honest, upright Christian gentleman, and if nominated and elected chancellor, he will bring to the office his best efforts and we feel safe in assuring all who honor him with their support they will never have cause to regret their action.

W. J. BOYKIN,
J. R. MARTIN,
J. A. BILBRO.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted and, after transacting other business, the meeting adjourned.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

MARCH 9TH.

During consideration of the army appropriation bill in the senate Mr. Bacon protested against the acceptance of the statue of Frederic the Great of Germany, tendered by Emperor William, on the ground that the former German king was not in sympathy with American institutions. Mr. Stewart defended Frederic the Great against what he characterized as Mr Bacon's gross misrepresentation. The army appropriation bill was passed. The senate also passed the Philippine shipping bill after speeches in opposition by Messrs. Culberson and Patterson.

The consideration of the army appropriation bill was then resumed, and an amendment suggested by Mr. Proctor, authorizing the secretary of war to adjust the accounts between the governments of the United States and the Philippine government was agreed to.

When the house met the invocation was delivered by the Rev. J. J. Dolliver, father of Senator Dolliver, of Iowa. Immediately thereafter, Bourke Cochran, who was elected to succeed Mayor McClellan from the twelfth district of New York, was sworn in. Upon being escorted to the speaker's desk by Mr. Sulzer, Mr. Cochran was greeted with applause.

Mr. Overstreet, of Indiana, chairman of the committee on postoffices and post roads, was then recognized. He had, he said, consulted with members on both sides of the house who desired more than three hours' to discuss the Hay resolution bearing on the Bristow charges in connection with postal affairs. He therefore suggested a postponement of the consideration of the resolution until Monday.

Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, agreed to this provided the time would be extended to two and a half hours on each side.

MARCH 10TH.

The senate passed a number of bills relating to Alaska, but failed to act on the measure authorizing the election of a delegate in congress from that territory. Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, and his daughter were interested spectators.

The following bills were passed:

Concerning the repayment of fees on public lands; authorizing the award of brevet commissions for gallant conduct of army officers in China and the Philippines.

Increasing to $100 per month the pensions of ex-soldiers and ex-sailors of the United States who have lost both eyes or become totally blind on account of their service. Mr. McCumber, chairman of the committee on pensions, stated that six hundred cases were covered by the provisions of the bill, and that the increased cost to the government would be $101,600 annually.

In the house the chaplain feelingly referred to the death today of Representative Croft, of South Carolina.

The speaker announced the appointment of Bourke Cochran, of New York, as a member of the ways and means committee.

MARCH 11TH.

With the exception of half an hour devoted to consideration of routine business, the senate spent the entire day in executive session, devoting most of the time to the nomination of General Leonard Wood to be a major general.

Two set speeches were made in opposition to General Wood's confirmation, the speakers being Senators Scott and Blackburn.

The house indulged itself in nearly seven hours of explanation, accusation and denunciation, and then ordered, with only two negative votes, an investigation of postal affairs, so far, as members of the house are concerned, by a special committee to be appointed by the speaker, who, likewise, are to examine into the origin of the Bristow report, so far as it concerns members of the house. The demand of the minority for a sweeping investigation of every branch of the postoffice department was not granted. The test on this question came on a vote which resulted 144 to 125, a strict party vote.

The climax of the day was reached when Representative William Alden Smith, of Michigan, condemned every executive department of the government for its arrogant treatment of the only branch of the government in direct touch with the people of the country—the house of representatives. "I hope," said he, "that the day is not far distant when with the general consent of the American people, the speaker will be lifted into the executive office."

MARCH 12TH.

There was an echo of Indianola, Miss., postoffice case in the senate when Mr. McLaurin rose to a question of personal privilege to explain a newspaper report to the effect that the authorities of that place arrest peddlers of pictures of President Roosevelt and Booker Washington, who may chance to go there. Mr. McLaurin said that arrests of picture venders had been made both at Indianola and a neighboring town, but that the arrests were due to the fact that their wares were of an improper character.

A number of bills were passed. Among them was one having for its purpose the prevention of desecration of the American flag by its use for advertising purposes, and another to authorize absentee Indians to select eighty acres each of public land.

When the house met Speaker Cannon announced the special committee provided for in the McCall resolution adopted by the house yesterday to investigate the indictment respecting the postoffice department, as follows: McCall, republican, Massachusetts, chairman; Hitt, republican, Illinois; Burton, republican, Ohio; Metcalf, republican, California; McDermott, democrat, New Jersey; Bartlett, democrat, Georgia, and Richardson, democrat, Alabama.

The following bills were passed:

Directing the secretary of war to expend $125,000 heretofore appropriated for a deep water channel through Sabine Pass, Tex.

Mr. Crabell, of Kansas, also made a report of the committee of the whole, and after passing the 264 pension bills, the house adjourned.

Senator Morgan introduced a bill for the government of a canal zone. It declares the territory acquired for canal purposes to constitute a government reservation of the United States, subject to civil and military law under the control of the president of the United States through the canal commission. The laws of Panama shall continue until superseded by laws of congress; laws of the United States respecting citizenship, immigration, naturalization and the importation of contract labor shall not apply until congress otherwise shall direct. The fiscal operations of the commission are to be through the war department. Ten million dollars is appropriated to pay for the canal strip, the money is to be paid without delay, and the president is to take immediate possession of the canal zone.

It is announced that St. Louis is to have a woman's hall of fame. The project was given the approval of the board of lady managers at a recent meeting, and it is expected that Mrs. Manning, president of the board, will announce in a few days the members of the committee appointed.

Porto Rico has added $10,000 to its world's fair appropriation, making $30,000 in all.

A crusade against the use of cigarettes has been inaugurated all over the country by the railroads. Officials claim the fumes of cigarettes have a bad effect upon the eyesight of the smoker The cigarette habit is believed to be quite common among the trainmen, and the Baltimore and Ohio is now conducting an examination for the purpose of determining if such is the case.

An informal suggestion that France and the United States act jointly as peacemakers in the far eastern war has been made within the last week, and although officials hold that any peace overtures would be futile at present, the suggestion leads to the belief in high quarters that France and the United States will become the eventual peacemakers. The suggestion was entirely unofficial and informal, but none the less it was thought that it would prove a germ for official action. No such official action is likely at the present time, as it is the accepted view of the French and American authorities that neither belligerent would listen to any peace overture.

An autograph letter from Thomas Jefferson, written a hundred years ago to the Indians of the Louisiana purchase, has recently been unearthed from the archives of the Sac and Fox Indians in Oklahoma. The letter will be a feature of the Oklahoma historic exhibit.

A plan has been suggested to unite the Columbian, American and National universities of the District of Columbia to form the nucleus of a great national university at the capital city.

Commander William Pritchard Randall, the hero who fired the first shot from the sinking Cumberland in the fight with the Merrimac during the civil war, has just died in New Bedford, Mass.

European governments are trying to bring about an understanding between Russia and Japan that will end the war. Their reason is that if the war continues other countries may become involved.

At Garnsey, Ala., a larger and more pretentious depot is being erected by the Southern railway.

Thomas Emerson, a colored man, who was stabbed in the heart by his sweetheart, has been the subject of an unusual operation. His heart was lifted out of the body and six stitches were taken to close the big gash made by the negress' knife. The organ was replaced and Emerson is recovering.

Americans write about forty letters a year, and that average equals forty per cent. of all the letters written in the world.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

Representative Moon, of Tennessee, in a minority report on the postoffice bill, severely scores that section of the bill appropriating $142,000 for special facilities os trunk lines from Washington to Atlanta and New Orleans over the Southern. Mr. Moon says the appropriation is purely a gift, that the connecting lines are so run that mail was delayed in November, December and January from fifty minutes to eight hours on an average of twenty-six days in each month at one main point of distribution, and that as the train now starts from Washington instead of New York as formerly, the section making the appropriation is the most unjustifiable ever openly incorporated in any bill.

June 3d, Jeff Davis' birthday, is now a legal holiday in Mississippi.

A West Indian scientist has lately been making investigations into the family life of the green fly, a plant parasite whose fertility eclipses that of all other living creatures. He asserts that a single green fly will produce ninety young, all fertile females. In a few days each one of these ninety will produce another ninety, each equally capable of replenishing the earth. During the summer, about eleven generations of this interesting creature make their appearance. It will, therefore, be seen that at the end of the season the progeny of a single fly would number, barring accidents, 3,138,205,960,000,000. If ten green flies should weigh a grain—a by no means moderate estimate—its descendants in the eleventh degree would weigh no less than one hundred and forty-five billion tons.

In no country in the world is there more complete religious toleration than in Japan. It is not generally known that several of the high officials in the Mikado's service are converts to Christianity. The president of the lower house of the Japanese parliament, which was recently dissolved because it censured the cabinet for not being more vigorous in the negotiations with Russia, is one of the leading members of the Presbyterian church in Japan.

In the Philippines a very strange sight is often presented to the traveler. He will see a steady torrent of black specks shooting out from under a single tile of some big convent roof. As he approaches he will hear a strange twittering murmur where the stream melts into the darkness of the coming night. These are the bats, no larger than beetles, that spend their days in the garrets and belfrys of the churches, so thick that they cover the walls a foot deep, hanging to each other. At night they go out, always by the one hole, even if there be hundreds of others.

RESTORED TO HEALTH.

Many weak, suffering women do not know that their kidneys are sick. Backache tells of sick kidneys, and so do urinary disorders. Sick kidneys make bad blood, and bad blood makes bad digestion, heart palpitation, dizzy headaches, nervousness, sleeplessness, sciatica, rheumatic pains and constant depression.

Can't be restored to health until the kidneys are cured. Read how one woman was restored by using Doan's Kidney Pills:

Mrs. H. A. Van Sickle, 311 6th Ave., S. W., Roanoke, Va., says: "Kidney trouble was hereditary in our family, and I had been so continually afflicted with the disease that I began to despair of even temporary relief. Sometimes I suffered so severely that I was confined to my bed. The aching in my back was intense, and the kidney disorder caused an excess of uric acid in my blood which impaired my digestion. I was compelled to deny myself of many of the little delicacies of diet. The doctors diagnosed my case as congestion of the kidneys. I had about given up hope when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, but I took only a few doses when their curative powers were proven to my satisfaction. I have never been without them in the house since."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers: price, 50 cents, or mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Write for free trial.

Miss Rose Hennessy, well known as a poetess and elocutionist, of Lexington, Ky., tells how she was cured of uterine inflammation and ovaritis by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For years I enjoyed the best of health and thought that I would always do so. I attended parties and receptions thinly clad, and would be suddenly chilled, but I did not think of the results. I caught a bad cold eighteen months ago while menstruating, and this caused inflammation of the womb and congested ovaries. I suffered excruciating pains and kept getting worse. My attention was called to your Vegetable Compound and the wonderful cures it had performed, and I made up my mind to try it for two months and see what it would do for me. Within one month I felt much better, and at the close of the second I was entirely well.

"I have advised a number of my lady friends to use it, and all express themselves as well satisfied with the results as I was."—Miss ROSE NORA HENNESSY, 410 S. Broadway, Lexington, Ky.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

"Few people realize," said a man who deals extensively in wild animals, "how much it costs to stock a modern zoo. For rare animals, such as the giraffe and the Crawshay zebra, almost any price can be obtained; and even the commonest animals which every zoo has, are very expensive. It cost $13,500 to stock the Lion house at the Bronx zoo, and the new Antelope house at the same institution, which is soon to be opened, will absorb over $15,000 merely for the initial series of animals. Another zoo paid over $20,000 in one year for monkeys and antelopes, and the lions at the London zoo cost over $30,000."

THE SHELBY CHRONICLE

VOL. XVII. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 24 1904 NO 31

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

MARCH 21ST.

Consideration in the senate of the bill providing for the purchase of a site and the erection of a building for the departments of state, justice and commerce and labor was the occasion for adverse criticism of the architect who planned the white house offices. At the opening of the session Mr. Hoar introduced by request a bill to organize a colonization bureau, which, he said, was prepared by officers of the Salvation Army to secure settlement on public lands. He said it was prepared upon the advice of the late Senator Hanna, and had he lived would have been introduced by him. The bill was referred to the committee on public lands.

Mr. Carmack introduced a resolution directing the committee on judiciary to inquire and report as to the legality of the order of the commissioner of pensions granting pensions to soldiers of the civil war who had reached the age of 62 years. The resolution went over until tomorrow. An early adjournment was had out of respect to the memory of the late Representative Thompson, of Alabama, who died yesterday.

After being in session an hour and twenty minutes the house adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late Mr. Thompson. No business of importance was transacted.

En Route to Tuskegee.

The funeral party bearing the remains of the late Representative Chas. W. Thompson, of Alabama, left Washington Monday night for Tuskegee, where the last services will be held Wednesday afternoon. The congressional party will return to Washington Thursday evening.

The party consists of Charles W. Thompson, Jr., Senators Pettus, of Alabama; McLaurin, of Mississippi; Culberson, of Texas; Overman, of North Carolina, and Representatives Wiley and Clayton, of Alabama; Padgett, of Tennessee; Littlefield, of Maine; Darragh, of Michigan; Williams, of Illinois; Paterson, of North Carolina; Houston, of Delaware; Rainey, of Illinois; Brown, of Wisconsin; Scarborough, of South Carolina, and Gaines, of Tennessee.

The party is in charge of Sergeant-at-Arms Casson, of the house, assisted by F. M. Webber. The Rev. F. J. Prettyman, pastor of Mount Vernon place, M. E. church, which the late representative attended while in Washington, also accompanies the party. Representative Bowie, of Alabama, is expected to join the party in Tuskegee. Senator Morgan and Representatives Underwood and Richardson of Alabama, could not leave Washington at this time, owing to important legislation pending in congress. The other members of the delegation are now in the state.

In concluding his hearing before the house committee on inter-state and foreign commerce, Admiral Walker, president of the Panama canal commission stated that actual work on the canal would be begun after the commision had made a stay of a few weeks on the isthmus for which it was to sail March 29. The engineering feat of the whole enterprise was explained to be the construction of the Bohio dam.

It will be necessary to go 120 feet below the sea level to get the proper foundation for the dam. Although there have been many ideas advanced it was absolutely necessary to be sure of any project before commencing the work of the foundation. Chairman Hepburn suggested the possibility of a failure to find the proper foundation, and asked what the commission would do in this event. He wanted to know if the construction of the canal depended on this dam.

This was a question which would have to be met, was the answer. The admiral, however, said he had no doubt that it was feasable to construct the dam.

The house committee on judiciary voted to impeach Charles Swayne, federal judge of the district of Florida.

Grover Cleveland was sixty-seven last Friday.

A Washington special says: A change in the personnel of the supreme court is at hand which may give President Roosevelt an opportunity to appoint three justices in that body before the meeting of the next congress. It is understood in judicial circles that Chief Justice Fuller, Justice Harlan and Justice Brown are about to retire, and that they will carry their intention into effect during the next few months.

At the request of the citizens of Galveston, Tex., the cruiser Atlanta, the gunboat Bancroft and two torpedo destroyers will visit that port on the completion of the Atlanta's target practice at Pensacola.

It is reported that Jonah K. Kalaniaaole, better known as "Prince Cupid," the Hawaiian delegate in congress, is dissatisfied with Washington life and contemplates resigning at the end of the present session, if not before. One reason assigned for the prince's determination is the drawing of the color line in Washington, which his royal birth and superior attainments can not overcome.

Cotton exports for 1902 were $878,000,000, more than $1,000,000 a day.

The Georgia Manufacturing company, the well known clothing manufacturing enterprise, is installing looms, the company having decided to make new looms.

The Columbus, Ga., Power Company is installing new water wheels, so as to derive 3,000 more horsepower, this being made necessary by the demand for power from present factories and proposed industrial enterprises.

The Central of Georgia railway is building a fill and extending its Chattahoochee bridge one span at Ninth street at a cost of $15,000.

Machinery for the Columbus Coffin Manufacturing plant will be ordered immediately and the factory will be in operation at an early date.

The World's Cotton.

The world's cotton crop for 1902-03 is estimated by the department of agriculture at 17,179,765 bales, valued at $750,082,451. This is based on the latest data available, the figures in most instances representing the cotton appearing in commercial channels. With the exception of 2,687,813 bales of the East India crop, which averages 400 pounds to the bale, the bales given are of average weight of 500 pounds. The total includes estimates of the Chinese and Korean crops.

The Centreville Warehouse company has purchased a complete ginning outfit and will at once begin the erection of a ginning plant, which will cost about $4,000.

The Illinois Central railroad will construct a mile and a half extension of the eight-mile branch running from Winfield to Brilliant, in Marion county, in order that the mines of the Aldrich Mining company can be reached. The capacity of the mines is between 500 and 800 tons per day.

The Great Western Sugar Company, of Colorado, offers to erect a million dollar sugar factory at Sterling, Colo., provided the farmers will guarantee to grow 3,500 acres of sugar beets for three years, the beets to average at least ten tons per acre. No bonus of any kind is asked.

Spring began Sunday night at 7:38.

The Cane Crop.

The weather during the past week has continued favorable to the sugar planting interests and the good prospects which have hithertoo been reported continue to prevail.

The situation in the cane fields is very far advanced over what it was this time last year, and the general feeling throughout the entire sugar belt is one of optimism and encouragement.

Napoleon's Code.

A small, but distinguished, coterie of jurists, legislators and other public men witnessed an interesting ceremony Monday when the original manuscript of the Napoleonic code, with numerous corrections in the great emperor's own handwriting, was formally transferred from the ministry of justice, where it has reposed for many decades, to the national archives. It was just 100 years ago that this civil code, which has been adopted in part in almost all civilized countries, was adopted by the French government, and the transfer to the national archives was in commemoration of the centennial. The code consists of hundreds of little booklets, all bearing the seal of the French republic, and every one signed by Bonaparte as first consul.

Raised a Million.

The state board of assessment, which assesses railroad, telegraph and telephone properties, raised the assessments of railroad properties in Alabama about $1,000,000. The total assessment from last year was $52,990,918.

Eighteen cases of murder and manslaughter occurred in Mississippi during last week. The carnival of crime was confined chiefly to negroes, only two white men being among the victims. These figures do not include two accidental killings in which the responsible parties were exonerated, nor four shooting affairs which did not bring fatal results, nor does it include the dueling affair in Neshoba county in which three men lost their lives.

As a result of an attempted assault upon Mrs. G. W. Pritchett, the wife of a well-known farmer residing in Choctaw county, Dave Brassfield, a negro workman, was stabbed nine times by the infuriated husband and then shot to death by a mob.

W. H. Woodward has purchased the Metropolitan hotel property in Birmingham. It is reported that a ten or twelve-story modern fireproof hotel will be erected on the premises.

Ex-Mayor William R. Grace, of New York city, died Monday.

New Decatur's military company was inspected Monday.

Aguinaldo was captured two years ago Wednesday.

W. J. Bryan was forty-four years old Saturday.

A banana crop is harvested on an average of every fifteen days throughout the year. Each thrifty banana plant has many suckers or stalks growing from a single root at the same time. One or more bunches of the ripening fruit is cut from a single stalk, while the other stalks growing from the same root are left untouched, and in fifteen days another of the stalks is shorn of its fruit. This process continues incesantly during the year. In July and August it is necessary to cut off the ripening bunches every ten days, while in December and January about once a month is sufficient, the average throughout the year being practically fifteen days.

One and one-third miles is the length of the new suspension bridge connecting New York and Brooklyn. It cost $16,000,000, has more than double the capacity of the old bridge, cost $3,000,000 less and was erected in five years less time.

Uncle Sam will spend $5,711,240 this year for the farmer, while the balance of $600,000,000 will go to the army, navy, other departments of the government and about $140,000,000 for pensions.

The survey of the new railroad to be known as the Columbus, Pensacola and Memphis line will begin in a few days. This road will be run from Columbus to Amory, Miss., via Aberdeen.

People who do not know that Thomas Hall in Hanson, Mass., is not an individual, but a public gathering place, will be surprised to read in an exchange, "Thomas Hall is receiving a coat of paint at the hands of Whitman painters."

Latest War Items.

The foreign consuls at New Chwang officially notify their governments that the Russian commander of the garrison has forbidden foreigners to go beyond the mud walls of the native city with the single exception that they are allowed to use the river bank between the foreign settlement and the foreign gunboats. This exception is made on account of the presence of the United States gunboat Helena and the British cruiser Espiegle, which otherwise would be entirely cut off from communication with their respective settlements.

The Japs have just finished a submarine boat intended to blow up men-of-war in icebound harbors. The boat can travel under the arctic ice, then rise to the surface and act the part of a torpedo, to again vanish before the enemy can realize what struck him. The vessel is on the order of an electric submarine boat, airtight and sealed, that can be raised and depressed at will. On the whole, the vessel combines the qualifications of a submarine or diving vessel with those of a torpedo boat.

Augustus Libby and Cornelius Hoff Jewish merchants at Vladivostock, received twenty-four hours' notice from the Russian military authorities to leave the country. They had to abandon their business, sell out at a sacrifice, and travel by sleds more than a thousand miles to the nearest port on the Korean coast. No sooner had they gotten into Korea than they encountered the special service officers of the Japanese war department and they were in more trouble, their story not being accepted.

With stately ceremony the special session of Japan's parliament convened Sunday to provide the money needed to wage the war against Russia. For the first time the crown prince attended the ceremony. He followed his father to an improvised throne in the peers' hall and stood close by his right side while he read his appeal to his subjects.

Russia will be asked by the United States on behalf of Japan, which has no diplomatic relations with Russia, to treat kindly Japanese non-combatants who have been left in Siberia, and to enable them to make their way back to Japan.

The report that the government has purchased the German steamer Kaiser Friedrich III, which was built for the North German-Lloyd line, but failed to meet the speed requirements, is untrue.

Russia has forbidden the transmission of all cipher messages throughout Russia and abroad as a military censure.

It costs $10,300,000 per year to coal Russia's navy.

No Race This Year.

The New York Yacht Club has replied to the letter of Sir Thomas Lipton, in which the Irish baronet asked if the club would accept a challenge for a race for the America's cup under the new rule of measurement of the club. This letter was received early in January and acknowledged, but it was not deemed of sufficient importance to call a special meeting of the club for its consideration, as no challenge could be accepted for a race this year. Sir Thomas practically asked the club to bar the Reliance, Constitution and Columbia from participating in future races for the cup. These boats could not be used as defenders because the present rules of the club limit the draught of any boat to eighteen feet and these three draw twenty each.

New Steel Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Pacific Steel company are filed. The company is capitalized at $100,000,000, of which $50,000,000, all preferred stock, has already been subscribed. The directorate includes Charles W. French, of Cleveland, O., and California capitalists. The object of the corporation is said to be the construction of warships, steamships, locomotives and cars and the making of armor plate. The contract for the construction of the plant to cost $30,000,000, has been awarded.

The Atlanta and West Point railroad will clean off the old depot grounds and beautify them.

A special from Cleveland, Miss., says a mob of masked men stormed the jail there and secured possession of Fayette Sawyer and Buke Harris, two negroes, charged with the murder of Sid Killum, a negro porter on a passenger train, near Hushpuckna during Christmas week. The prisoners were taken to the scene of the killing and hanged from the railroad building, where their lifeless bodies were found dangling.

Sugar consumption in the United States is steadily increasing. In 1881 it was 993,532 tons, ten years later it was 1,872,400 tons and in 1901 had reached 2,372,316 tons.

Miss Annette M. Dye, a linguist in the bureau of animal industry, and a daughter of the late General William McE. Dye, at one time military instructor to the emperor of Korea, and the emperor's advisor and also commander of the army of the Khedive of Egypt, committed suicide Saturday by shooting. Grief over the death of her mother is supposed to have caused the act.

HON. C. W. THOMPSON

Died Sunday in Washington of Pneumonia

Representative Charles Winston Thompson, of the Fifth Alabama district, died Sunday afternoon. His younger son, C. W. Thompson, Jr., who has been visiting his father during the present session of congress, was the only member of his family with him at the time. The remains will be carried to his home in Tuskegee and the interment will take place Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Thompson died of toxaemia, a blood poisoning, due from a virulent form of pneumonia resulting from grip. There was little hope for him Friday and Saturday. He was taken sick a week ago and gradually grew worse.

Mr. Thompson was absolutely without hope. He seemed to have a premonition that his illness would result fatally. Before he became critically ill he told his friend, Representative Wiley, that he was seriously ill and feared the worst would result. Mr. Thompson's mind was perfectly clear until Sunday morning. He then became delirious and did not recover consciousness.

The house will adjourn Monday out of respect to the late representative. Representative Wiley will present a resolution reciting that the house has learned with profound regret of the death of Representative Thompson, and asking that in the future a day be set apart in which proper respect may be paid to his memory.

General regret is expressed over Mr. Thompson's death. He had made many strong personal friends in the house and during his illness constant inquiries were made at his hotel about his condition. He was in all respects a self-made man, succeeding in life by his own energetic effort. He was a very successful business man and is reputed to have been very wealthy.

Charles W. Thompson, democrat, of Tuskegee, was born in Macon county, near Tuskegee, Ala., December 30, 1860; was educated in the common schools of the county, at the Park Hill high school at Tuskegee, Ala., and at Bryant & Stratton's Business college at Louisville, Ky.; was appointed by Governor Joseph F. Johnston in 1896 a member of his staff as lieutenant colonel, and served in that capacity until the end of his term; was a member of the Methodist church, president of the Bank of Tuskegee; was county superintendent of education for Macon county from 1886 to 1888, and 1898 was chosen without opposition to represent the Twenty-sixth senatorial district in the senate of Alabama; was elected to the Fifty-seventh congress and was re-elected to the Fifty-eighth congress, of which he was the sixth member to die.

Mr. Thompson was a widower, his wife was Miss Estelle Alley, of Tuskegee, and died about fifteen years ago. He is survived by two sons, Ernest W. Thompson, editor of the Tuskegee News, and Charles W. Thompson, Jr., one of his secretaries, and also by his mother.

The postoffice, the military academy and the sundry appropriation bills constitute the work mapped out for the house this week. The week in the senate will be devoted almost entirely to appropriation bills, beginning on Tuesday with that for the District of Columbia and following with the Indian and pension bills.

W. T. Allison, who lives about 15 miles from Selma, had his store, warehouse, corn crib and stables burned. The entire stock of goods—in fact, all of the property enumerated—was a total loss. He did not have any insurance whatever on the property and the loss will amount to about $5,000.

Work at the Alabama Steel and Wire Company's plant is progressing so nicely that they are confident that they will be making steel by the 1st of June.

MORO TREATY ANNULLED

Rights Conferred by General Bates Declared Forfeited.

NATIVES FIGHT FOR SLAVERY

United States Troops Defeat Them and Capture Cannon and Ammunition—The Sultan of Sulu and His Subjects Commanded to Obey the Laws of the Philippine Commission.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary of War Taft told the House Committee on Insular Affairs of a rebellion that has broken out among the Moros because of a proclamation issued by the Philippine Government abrogating the Sultan of Sulu treaty and prohibiting slavery. General Wade reported from Manila that a reconnoitring force east of Cottababo, Province of Moro, was attacked by a force of Moros, who rebelled against the anti-slavery law. General Wood telegraphed that the Moro position was shelled and the Moros were flanked and their outworks taken. Twenty-one old Spanish cannon and thirty-three Lantaka guns, besides large quantities of arms and ammunition were captured in the works, which were strong and well constructed. The Moro loss was considerable. There were no casualties on the American side.

In reporting this engagement to the House Committee, before which he appeared in the interest of the bill to provide for the more effective administration of civil government in the Philippines, Secretary Taft explained that some time ago he sent a cablegram to Governor Luke Wright, telling him to notify the Sultan of Sulu and the Dattos, who made a treaty with General Bates on August 20, 1899, that the treaty is abrogated and annulled, and that the Sultan and his Dattos have forfeited the annuities which were to be paid them under the treaty, and that they must henceforth obey the laws of the Philippine Government. Secretary Taft took the position that the Sultan of Sulu treaty was a mere modus vivendi, and that it has not been complied with by the Sultan of Sulu.

Before Secretary Taft entered upon the duties of Secretary of War Secretary Root directed the Philippine Commission to take up the subject of legislation for the Moros and submit it to Washington for approval. The object was to do away with polygamy and slavery and introduce a form of trustworthy government in the Moro country.

As the Moros are Mohammedans, there is more than ordinary difficulty in governing them. It has been said that our success thus far has been due to an understanding with the Porte under which the pilgrims to Mecca have been influenced every year to go home and counsel good will toward the United States.

UNION MEN BANISHED.

Telluride Citizens' Alliance Gets Rid of Trouble Makers.

Telluride, Col.—Between sixty and seventy-five members of the Telluride Miners' Union and sympathizers who were recently deported, but who returned when the militia were called away, were forcibly taken from their homes and boarding houses by 100 armed members of the Citizens' Alliance. They were then put aboard a specially chartered train and deported to Ridgway.

The men were warned individually and collectively after they were forced into the two cars of the train never to return to Telluride on pain of death. To make this warning more impressive the Alliance members fired a number of volleys at the departing train.

The decision to deport the unionists and their sympathizers was reached at a recent meeting of the Alliance. This meeting was largely attended. The strike situation was discussed and it was the consensus of opinion that something radical must be done. The running out of town of the union agitators and their sympathizers was finally suggested and promptly agreed to.

FRAUD IN ARMY PAY ACCOUNTS.

Two Lieutenants Are Brought Back From Manila For a Court-Martial.

San Francisco, Cal.—Lieutenant G. S. Richards, of the Twenty-third Infantry, and Lieutenant F. B. Neilson, of the Twelfth Cavalry, who arrived from Manila on the transport Thomas, have come here under arrest to appear before a court-martial appointed by General MacArthur. The two young men are charged with having duplicated their pay accounts in the Philippines.

Major Webster, of the Pay Department, made a special trip from Manila under orders from the War Department to report to General MacArthur as a witness.

FRENCH CABINET DEFEATED.

Loses in Vote on Amendment to Congregational Teaching Bill.

Paris, France.—The Government was defeated in the Chamber of Deputies in connection with the bill suppressing Congregational teaching. An amendment offered by M. Caillaux extending the period of suppression from five to ten years was carried against the opposition of Prime Minister Combes.

The vote was 282 to 271. The stability of the Government does not appear to be affected.

IRISH DEFEAT BALFOUR

British Ministry Beaten in House of Commons by Eleven Votes.

Premier Declines to Accept Result as a Cause For Resignation—Coup Planned by Liberals.

London, England.—Mr. Balfour's government was defeated in the House of Commons by the combined Liberal and Nationalist vote. This reverse was due to the prohibition by Mr. Wyndham, Chief Secretary for Ireland, of the teaching of Gaelic in the junior grades of the Irish Nationalist schools. Mr. Balfour, though defeated by a majority of eleven on this question, does not regard the vote as one of want of confidence, and he will not resign on this account. This determination was strengthened by the fact that shortly after the foregoing defeat he was able to secure a majority of twenty-five.

On the question of Catholic education the Nationalists had previously voted with the Unionist government, but while so doing they were planning the downfall of the Conservatives. The mine so ingeniously laid was sprung with a success that thrilled the country. The strategy with which the attack was planned and the scenes which marked its culmination recalled the times when Gladstone and Parnell waged a titanic struggle in the same arena.

It is learned that the Premier regards it as one of the essential principles of his party to keep the reins of government, at least for the present. What he may do after Easter still remains in doubt. The blow administered makes the Premier's task of holding his party together doubly difficult, and many supporters of the Government frankly said that they favored an early dissolution of Parliament rather than again undergo the humiliation experienced.

By a curious coincidence the only other defeat suffered by the Unionist party since Lord Salisbury came into power, and which endangered the existence of the Government, occurred nearly eight years ago, on Sir Thomas Esmond's amendment to Gerald Balfour's Land Purchase bill, when it again fell to the lot of the present chief whip of the Irish party to declare the Government in a minority, which on that occasion was one of only four votes.

STRIKE RIOTS IN CHICAGO.

Drivers of American Can Company Stoned and Dragged From Wagons.

Chicago, Ill.—A series of riots occurred between striking employes of the American Can Company and union teamsters who had refused to quit work in sympathy with the strike. The first disturbance was in the North Side of the city at one of the stables of the Can Company, several men being injured and two pickets arrested.

Two pickets were doing duty in the neighborhood when six teamsters attempted to leave the stables with teams. The pickets by signals summoned about twenty helpers. The drivers were stoned and dragged from the wagons, the assailants escaping when a patrol wagon loaded with police arrived.

A second fight took place at the company's South Side barn. Escorted by police several wagons succeeded in getting half way to a railway freight house, followed by threatening crowds. At Twenty-sixth street and Wentworth avenue the police charged a mob that was showering missiles on the drivers. The wagons reached their destination after the police had captured four of the rioters.

STILL AFTER HEINZE.

Butte and Boston People Say He Got More Than $1,000,000 of Ore.

Butte, Mon.—Another charge of contempt of court was preferred against F. A. Heinze and some of his companies and officials before Judge Knowles, of the Federal Court, by the Butte and Boston and the Boston and Montana companies. It is alleged that the accused violated an injunction issued in 1898 on a portion of the Johnstown claim, and have taken out ore valued at $110,000.

The defendants have been cited to appear for trial in the near future. An application has also been made to make perpetual the order to inspect the Rarus and Michael Davitt workings, it being charged that further investigation has disclosed a continuous violation of the injunction in the Michael Davitt, and that the value of ore taken by Heinz amounts to more than $1,000,000.

Let every registered voter turn out on the 11th of April and cast his ballot for his choice of candidates.

It is of interest to every democrat to come out on Monday the 11th of April and vote in the primary election.

The days of convention and political tricks are over and the primaries are intended to give each candidate an equal chance and the people are at liberty to vote for any candidate he wants to.

One of the most important questions before the people of the State is the redistricting the rural school territory in accordance with an act passed by the last legislature to that effect.

It is only a short time until the primary election. Let every registered voter turn out, vote for the best men, and the men best suited to carry the democratic banner on to victory.

AN ADDRESS.

To the Voters of Shelby County:

There will be a democratic primary election held in Shelby county on Monday, April 11th, 1904, for the purpose of nominating officers for the various offices of the County, State, Circuit, Division and District.

At a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Shelby county held on the 16th day of February, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

In said election, all white qualified electors, who believe in the principles of the democratic party are entitled and cordially invited to participate. So you will see that the bars are completely let down and every white voter in Shelby county, who believes in the principles of democracy, should participate in the primary.

You should exercise the right of expressing your choice as to who should hold the reins of government and who should apply the principles of democracy to the affairs of our county, state and nation; and although for reasons satisfactory to yourself, you may have severed your connection with the democratic organization, still those grand old principles of democracy, that we all love so well, have been very dear to your heart. So let us all get together, as in the days of yore, under the grand old democratic flag that rescued us from those terrible days of carpet bag rule, and led us victorious to the brighest and most prosperous times that our country has ever known.

There never will be but two controlling parties in the Union, State and county. The principles of Democracy and Republicanism embrace all the various and opposing views and ideas of political enemy and civil government and there is no room in our national government for the existence of another political party. Other parties have sprung up, existed for awhile and were then absorbed by these two great parties, because their principles were not based upon the bed rock of true civil government, sufficient to draw thinking men to them and to hold them against the demands and calls of the principles embraced in the party which they had left. Even if they thought some of the principles advocated by their party were wrong and needed rectifying, they afterwards realized they should be rectified within their own party, for the division placed them at the mercy of the other great party of such antagonistic principles. A political party within a State can not exist that has not its foundation upon, and derives its existence from, a national organization. The Union is composed of its States, and it is the privilege and duty of every state and every man within it, to have a voice, by representatives, in its affairs of government but in order to have this it is necessary for the state to have political parties in unison and harmony with the national organizations, which control the government, and for every man to belong to one of these parties, for if he does not, he has no voice in the government of which he is a part and parcel. For the same reason, a political party within a county which has no state organization can not exist, for the man who belongs to such a party has no voice in the affairs of his state or nation. He must live under the law and government which he has no voice in framing, and becanse of his own act. A political party of this kind may succeed for a time in placing in office its county leaders, but it must, sooner or later be absorbed by the parties which have a district, state and national organization. The members become dissatisfied with giving up all their political rights and duties; and simply for the purpose of gratifying the ambition and desire of their leaders for office.

The leaders of the Populist party see "the hand writing on the wall." They realize the end has come and that their rank and file have broken. They recognize the fact that they have no national organization, no state organization, and county organizations only in two or three counties of the entire state, and whither are they trying to lead you?

The Democratic Executive Committee also realized that the end had come to the populist organization; that the rank and file had once belonged to the democratic party and were still democrats at heart; and that the leaders were trying to lead you into the republican party, so they throw open wide the door and ask you to come back into the party and participate in the primary, thereby expressing your choice as to who shall be Shelby's next officers,

There are men, good, true and tried, who are candidates for the various offices, in the democratic primary; men of honesty, integrity of character and loyal to the principles they believed to be right. Men who possess those Christian virtues, that compel our admiration and respect, and force us to realize that our county affairs would be safe in their hands that they would be economically and judiciously administered, and that under their administration old Shelby would bloom and blossom as the rose. She would rise and take her proper place in that highest tier of counties that adorn our grand old state, of which we may well be proud.

Alabama is making greater strides of advancement in importance and wealth than any other state in the union, and the eyes of the nation are upon us. She is rich in her varied resources, both developed and undeveloped. Her agricultural districts are veritable gardens of paradise, her timber is fine, and if she could be disemboweled and her vast wealth of mineral laid bare, it would startle the world. Her Supreme Court has for many years ranked very high in the judiciary of the Union, and the ability of her members of Congress are not only national, but international. Then why should not Shelby take part in that progress? Besides other resources of wealth she is among the richest counties in the state in undeveloped minerals; and places her affairs in the hands of economical and judicious officers, she will rise to the heighth of her possibilities and will rank with the foremost counties of the state.

Such men we present to you in our candidates, and ask every white man in Shelby county, who believes in democratic principles, regardless of past affiliations, to come into our primary, into the household of our fathers, and partake of the good things the democratic party hold out to you. Let us all select men, as nominees, who would fill the offices to the greatest honor and good of our county, then in November put our shoulder to the wheel and sweep the county with a grand and glorious democratic victory.

Respectfully,

J. T. LEEPER,
Chairman Dem. Ex. Committee.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Shelby county held on February 16th, 1904, a primary election was called to be held in the various beats of Shelby county for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various State, Circuit, Division, Congressional and County officers to be elected in the November election; therefore, in pursuance of said call a primary election will be held in the various beats of Shelby county for the nomination of said officers on April the 11th, 1904. In said election, all white qualified electors, who believes in in the principles of the Democratic party are entitled and cordially invited to paricipate.

Remember that the 11th day of next month is the day for the democratic primary, and we urge every voter to turn out and vote for his choice. It is important thet every one entitled to vote should come out to the polls on that day.

On last Friday afternoon the High shool ball team and the town boys played the second game on the diamond. Prof. Dowell did the twirling for the High school, and Tom Tinney handled the sheep skin for the town boys. The score was 9 to 6 in favor of the town boys.

Easter always brings out some new styles in ladies hear gear, and the Hammond Millinery Co., have on exhibit the very latest styles of hats which they are offering at very low figures. Give them a call before buying elsewhere.

Mr. J. R. White, proprietor of The White House Hotel of this place has added many improvements to this popular hotel, since he has bought the property, but none more valuable than the nice bath room just complet ed and equipped with the latest improved porcelain lined bath tub, giving his guests hot and cold baths free of charge. The usual charges for baths will be made to the general public. This is quite an addition to the equipment of the hotel and no doubt will be duly appreciated.

The marriage of Miss Ettie Page and Ed Strickland on Sunday afternoon at the residene of Mrs. German was a surprise to her many friends in the city. C. C. DuBose performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of our townsman James H. Page, and is a young lady of charming personality and many fine traits of character. Mr. Ed Strickland is a son of A. W. Strickland, and has a position with the Southern Railway at Wilton. The bride and groom left Monday morning for Wilton where they will in the future reside. The Chronicle extends cangratulations and wish them a long and happy life.

How to Make Money.

Agents of either sex should today write Marsh Manufacturing Co., 538 Lake st., Chicago, for cuts and particulars of their handsome Aluminum Card Case with name engraved on it and filled with 100 calling or business cards. Everybody orders them. Sample case and 100 cards, postpaid 40 cts. This case and 100 cards retails at 75c. You have only to show sample to get an order. Send 40c at once for case and 100 cards or send 30c for 100 cards without case. Mention this paper

As the twilight of the evening was fading away, last Saturday, a project was on foot for a surprise party, and at eight o'clock a party of young people met at Mrs. Parkers and docided to have it at the residence of John H. Robertson. The party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lane, Misses Florence Fallaw and May Quigley, and Messrs. O. C. Bird and J. N. Robertson took up their trend carrying refeeshments with them and held an old fashion surprise party. The manner in which this party was gotten up reminds us of the time when the young people of the city Marietta, Ga., which nestles beneath the shadows of the famous mountain, Kennesaw, where the gallant Johnston met Sherman, use to get up similar surprise parties, carrying refreshments, tin plates, cup, knives and forks, thus saving the lady of the house any trouble.

A Card of Thanks.

My sincere thanks are tendered to the kind people of Wilsonville, especially Dr. O. E. Black, who so cheerfully extended their help and sympathy during the illness and death of my loved one. Rest assured kind friends that my appreciation extends beyond the formality of this notice. Your kindess shall never be forgotten.
W. R. SMITH.

Shelby Springs.

I have been here 64 years, and 40 of them I have personally acquainted with all the probate judges, and what little time McMillan held the office he made a good officer. The democrats made a new constitution, the best thing ever done for Alabama since it has been a settled state. It cut the negro out of any right to vote and all the white people who wont pay their taxes. The populites are cutting up powerful over it. You put the populites and republicans in power and the very first thing they would do, do away with the new constitution and put the negro back like they were.

Ten or twelve years ago if I am not badly mistaken this county was out of debt and had $13.000 in the treasury. Since the populites and republican got a finger in the pie they have made away with this amount, and are now going to leave the county some $15,000 in debt. In the past five or six years it is they have spent enough money on the public roads to have macadamized every one of them from Montevallo to Harpersvill.

If Judge Longshore was to say to the populites and republican of this county to vote for Dave Ray for probate judge, every one of them would do it. The populites and republicans of this county, will after this, in all time to come be as dead as the old lady's husband was.

Now, I will leave the subject with you, and you can do as you like with your vote as the man was by building his house. He called in his neigbors to show him where to build it, one said here, another there, and so on, he just got up and said now you can go home, and I will put my house where I d—n please. R. M. D.

Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for any one to attempt to doctor himself, althorg he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the 30 years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. Dr. W. J. Smith. of Sanders, Ala., a druggist says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribe it in my practice for the past 6 years. Use it, in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten good results." For sale at Bandy Drug Co.

NOTICE!

As a milliner has opened in Shelby we will not make a trip there, but will be pleased to give our trade there especial attention here
Yours to serve,
HAMMOND MILLINERY CO.

COUNTY MUST BE RE-DISTRICTED

In accordance with a law recently enacted by the legislature of the state of Alabama, we will take up the matter of transforming the territory of Shelby county into public school districts, the boundaries of which will be made as the boundaries of beats are now made. Townships lines will not be taken into consideration; but dsstricts will be formed solely with reference to centers of population, natural barriers.

This duty which has been thrust upon us, however popular or unpopular it may be, must be discharged. And in so doing, we shall have much pleasure in subserving the wishes of our citizenship, hoping of course, that such wishes may not be impelled by any selfish motive, but that they may conform to a common sense of public good, and to the upbuilding of the cause of education.

Trustees and patrons may aid us very materially in this work by consulting each other and making diagrams of such districts as in their judgment should be made. This work shall have reached completion June 1st, 1904.
JNO. B. FARRELL,
Supt. of Education.

WILSONVILLE.

Johnnie Gwin, of Maplesville, visited homefolks the first of the week.

Miss Helen Boyer of your city spent aport of Saturday and Sunday with her parents here.

Rev Thos Parker filled his regular appointment at the Prbyterian church Sunday morning and night.

I G Gwin, jr, returned last week from Belle Ellen where he had been working as relief operator a few days.

We would like to speak a word for our friend J. E. Adams candidate for tax collector. We are well acquainted with him, and have been for years. We know him to be honest, upright, sober, intelligent and fully qualified to fill the office, and believe he will add strength to the ticket. As for the other candidates we do not know any of them, and do not know any of their qualrfications, but we do feel sure that you will make no mistake in casting yobr vote for J. E. Adam for tax collector.

DIED.—At the residence of her father. Mr J. H. Weldon, Mrs. Laura Smith, wife of W. R. Smith, Her remains were interred here at 3:30 March 15th, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. O. P. Bentley. She was born Feb. 4, 1882, was married to W. R. Smith Aug. 2, 1900. and died March 15, 1904. She leaves a husband, an infant son, two sisters and one brother, besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. She had been sick for a long time with that dreaded disease consumption, but she bore her suffering patiently and without complaint. It will be remembered by those who knew her, especially those of us who have been her schoolmates, that she was always kind, gentle and considerate. She was a consistent member of the Baptist church and had been for several years, and was prepared to meet the summons when it came. Why God in his inscrutable wisdom should cut down a flower of such rare beauty ere it is more than full bloom, is a mystery which we can not solve, but we know that he doeth all things well. Human sympathy cannot help the bereaved ones to bear their sorrow, but Jesus only will bear all our sorrows.. HONEST JOHN.

Editor Chonicle:

Der Sir.—Please allow me to announce my withdrawal from the race for circuit clerk through your paper. My continued bad health has caused me to take this step. I wish to sincerely thank my many friends for their kind endorsement, and feel confident they would give me a unanimous nomination, and I have the utmost confidence in the election of the entire democratic ticket in November. Assuring my friends that I for one will use all honorable means at my command in helping to accomplish the same. I am yours truly.

The Proper Treatment for Sprained Ankle.

As a rule s man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or 3 months before he has fully recovered. This an unnecessary loss of time, for many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some case within three days. A child of Mrs. G. T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath stepped against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great pain and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlains Pain Balm in the house she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and valuable for burns, breises, cuts and spains. A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but it stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 25 and 75 cts. THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Peruna in the House for Catarrhal Diseases.

MR. AND MRS. J. O. ATKINSON, INDEPENDENCE, MO.

UNDER date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife had been suffering from a complication of diseases for the past 25 years.

"Her case had baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing.

"She also was passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life. In June, 1895, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peruna and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her. She firmly believes that she would have been dead only for these wonderful remedies.

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of 25 years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Peruna according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me.

"Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more. Catarrh cannot exist where Peruna is taken according to directions. Success to you and your remedies."

John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Peruna:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peruna. In my rounds as a traveling man I am a walking advertisement for Peruna and have induced many people during the past year to use Peruna with the most satisfactory results. I am still cured of catarrh." John O. Atkinson, Box 272, Independence, Mo.

When old age comes on catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

This explains why Peruna has become so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safeguard. Peruna is the only remedy yet devised that meets these cases exactly.

Such cases cannot be treated locally; nothing but an effective systemic remedy could cure them. This is exactly what Peruna is.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

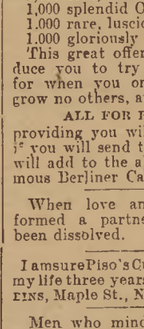
EIGHT YEARS OF TORTURE.

No suffering more keen than kidney suffering. Sick kidneys make bad blood; cause weak, stiff and aching backs; cause blind, sick and dizzy headaches, lack of appetite and loss of sleep; keep you all tired out and spoil digestion.

To have perfect health you must cure the kidneys. Read how one man was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills after eight years of torture.



Henry Soule, of Pultney St., Hammondsport, N. Y., says: "For eight years I suffered constant agony from kidney complaint. I endured the worst torture from gravel and the kidney secretions were excessive and contained sediment like brick dust. I had to get out of bed from ten to twenty times a night and the loss of sleep wore me out. Indigestion came on, and the distress after eating was terrible. Doan's Kidney Pills effected a complete and lasting cure, and after the symptoms of kidney trouble were gone my stomach began to work as it should. This lasting cure, especially in a person of my age, proves the great value of Doan's Kidney Pills more convincingly than could any words of mine."

CUBA'S FAVORITE SPORT

THE GAME OF JAI ALAI THE RAGE IN HAVANA.

It Resembles Handball—Peculiar Kind of Racquet Used—Scenes on the Huge Cemented Court—Betting the Order of the Day.

The Havana (Cuba) correspondent of the New York Times writes as follows:

What the theatre is to New York, Jai Alai is to Havana. Two evenings a week and Sunday afternoon the Fronton is crowded, and as it has a large seating capacity this crowded condition means a great number of people. Many times standing room only is to be had. Cubans, with their love of chance, are not the only ones that frequent the game. All tourists are directed to it as one of the show places of the city, and having been there once, they are very apt to go again and again during their stay.

The boxes, which occupy the entire second floor, are filled with fashionable people, family parties, including little children, often being seen in them. The tiers of seats below, like those of a circus, are crowded with people of all classes, mostly men. There is nothing beautiful or attractive about the building. Just within the entrance are windows where the house accepts wagers on the various players; further back are refreshment counters. Everything is simple, and there is no attempt at adornment of the bare walls and floors. Beyond the entrance the unadorned simplicity still prevails. One is reminded of an immense circus, but instead of rings for performances there is a cemented court 175 feet long, and instead of canvas walls are those of the building, with a very high roof, under which is a perfect network of timbers and bracings. Beneath these timbers a large net is spread, apparently to prevent the ball from being lost above. Lines on the court and lines and figures on the wall by the side of the court speak intelligibly to the initiated as to their significance, but to the uninitiated they are simply lines and figures.

Between the court and the seats of the first floor is a space of about the same breadth as the court. During games this is occupied by a man who serves coffee and other stimulants to the players, who drink freely throughout the game; three or four favored spectators, a small boy in white, who carries the balls used by the players, and three referees, who sit like statues in chairs along the side of the court, however exciting the game. Also within the inclosure are half a dozen or more bookmakers, recognized at once by the white coats and red Tam O'Shanter caps they wear. As the game progresses these men walk up and down in front of the pit, shouting the odds given at that stage, and they are kept busy issuing checks; they accept no money less than a gold piece, ordinarily a centen (almost $5 in our currency).

On a level with the second floor, in a very conspicuous place, is a small gallery where the score of the game is kept. As the points are won, one by one, the shifting numbers show it—in one frame the record of the whites; in an adjoining one that of the blues. Just below this gallery is a blackboard on which are recorded the scores of the various players in the games where each plays for himself and the amount that has been bet on each. Four games are played, two "partidocs," in which two men play against two others, occasionally three against three—the "blues" and the "whites." The other two games are those in which each man scores for himself. Five or more play in these "quinielas," two against each other until one loses the ball, when another comes up.

The house takes bets on each of these games during the intermission preceding it, and it may be added that the intermissions last as long as the betting is at all spirited. When the game promises to be very exciting the intermission seems almost interminable. A band hidden down below plays to while away the time. When the intermission ends the house takes no more bets for that game, and the amount wagered on each player—if it is a quiniela—is posted at once. During the succeeding intermission the winnings are collected. The house takes 10 percent of all winnings, and it is estimated that in the course of a month its profits from this source are from $15,000 to $20,000.

One can imagine going to a horse race without placing money on a favorite or to a baseball game without making wagers, but at Jai Alai betting is the order of the day. While there are people who attend the games simply for the pleasure in the sport, they are comparatively few, and the customary remark when any one says he has been at Jai Alai is: "You won, I hope," or its equivalent. Much discussion has arisen from time to time as to whether or not the games are sold; those of the audience that shout "a sale" at a losing player have this in mind. Some time ago a man remarked that he had bought a game for 500 centens (about $2500) and won 2000 centens (about $10,000) on it, and his statement seemed to receive credit. Last winter a certain young Cuban was named as having bought games frequently. But this is still an open question, and in the meantime the general public, being more or less at random, is not affected to any degree.

The game resembles handball. Long, narrow, curved baskets are strapped to the player's wrist, and these are used as a kind of racquet. The object is to keep in constant motion the one ball used. Instead of sending it from one player to another, it is sent against the wall at one end of the court. As it rebounds the opponent catches it in his basket, to which it seems to go as if by magic, sending it back to the wall, etc. Sometimes it is sent against the wall with such force that it rebounds the entire length of the court and strikes the rear wall. It is allowable to receive the ball as it rebounds from the rear wall if the server's play has been forcible enough to send it three.

A quiniela may be very short. As soon as any of the contestants makes six points he has won. The five or seven or more taking part sit in a row of chairs along the side of the court. Two begin to play. As soon as one of them loses he takes his seat at the foot of the row and the one at the head takes his place on the court. This rotation is continued until a player makes the requisite six points. Sometimes a quiniela drags along, but it is never as long as a partido. The longest partido ever played in the Fronton was one Sunday afternoon in December. It lasted about two hours.

Players receive from $3000 to $5000 a season, and it is generally believed that, by private arrangements, bets, etc., this income is considerably augmented. The game is a living refutation of the theory that violent exercise is impossible in the tropics, since more violent action than it requires is hardly to be found anywhere. This people, with their love of chance, aided by the foreign population, both resident and floating, who seem to find the element of chance offered equally attractive, have made the success of the sport phenomenal. The stock is held at a tremendous premium—in fact, it is not on the market.

CURIOUS LORE.

Natural History Contained in a Very Rare Book.

It is interesting to note that among some country folk the curious idea still prevails that with the master die the bees, says the London Express. Somebody tells me that instances of this have been noticed of late. At a sale of the humble effects of a villager lately dead, two or three hives of bees in old straw keeps were to be disposed of, but when they came to be examined it was found that all the bees were dead.

A coincidence of this kind will probably keep alive the superstition in that village for generations to come.

Some curious specimens of folk lore and natural history are contained in a rare book called the Sportsman's Dictionary. This was published 160 years ago. The author was evidently a Philistine among Philistines in his attitude toward nature.

Of the master musician, the blackbird, he says:

"This bird is known by all persons, and is better to be eaten than kept, being much sweeter to the palate when dead and well roasted than to the ear while living. Sings about three months in the year, or four at most, though his song is worth nothing, but if he be taught to whistle he is of some value, it being very loud, though coarse." What an ear and mind!

And here is a story of the squirrel with the ring in it of the 17th even more than the 18th century. It reminds one of the hares of Izaak Walton that changed their sexes once a year.

"If what is reported of them be true, the admirable cunning of the squirrel appears in her (where we commonly use his when the sex need not be specified our ancestors often use 'her') swimming or passing over a river, for when she is constrained by hunger so to do she seeks out some rind or small bark of a tree, which she sets upon the water, and then goes into it, and, holding up her tail like a sail, lets the wind drive her to the other side, and carries meat in her mouth to prevent being famished by the length of the voyage."

Of the wild boar we have this: "And what place soever he bites, whether man or dog, the heat of his teeth causes an inflammation in the wound. If, therefore, he does but touch the hair of a dog he burns off; nay, huntsmen have tried the heat of his teeth by laying hairs on them as soon as he was dead, and they have shriveled up as if touched with a hot iron."

An Eel's Adventure.

A big eel at large around the Wissahickon station of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway company caused quite a sensation among the waiting passengers a few days ago, and a half hundred women and a few cowardly men feel exceedingly grateful to the ticket agent, bootblack and newsboy ever since.

Somehow the eel escaped from a large box in the waiting room, and, quietly wriggling over the floor, created consternation by showing a fondness for crawling over the shoes of the fair sex.

When the eel broke jail the attaches of the station all made grabs for him. But, wriggling like an Oriental dancer, he went through their hands like the proverbial greased eel.

Terror was added to the excitiment by some one raising a cry that it would bite. Women grabbed their skirts and screamed and men looked foolish. It was a hot chase. The attaches ducked in and out, losing their hats and tempers in the scrimmage. Sometimes their hands would close over the eel, but not for long; a few wriggles and the elusive creature would be gliding over the floor again. Finally ticket agent, newsboy and bootblack, puffing and blowing and perspiring freely, made a final and successful attack, corralled the eel, and nailed him in a packing case.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

An Amazing Hoax.

Picturesque things do happen in the tropics. There was a queer story afloat in Singapore a while ago that at a set time and place the coolies of the Macao and Teochow tribes were to meet on the Esplanade and "fight out" their ancient feud to full satisfaction.

It seemed almost too good to be true, but "the man said so." Hitherto the Macao and Teochow men who singly fought as champions had found themselves in the police court, but now it was said that the Sikhs were to appear only to keep order and see fair play.

Everybody went—the men of the two rival standards ready to fight for them, the others to look on at a battle whose like had never been seen before. When the Sikhs did come there were from 30,000 to 50,000 Chinamen on the ground. The police kept order all right, but for four hours the crowd waited, and still there was no fight. Finally the Sikhs received orders to get the crowd moving, and gradually they succeeded in this by whipping the Chinamen about the calves of tre legs with their thin rattans.

One man was arrested and fined $2 in silver next morning in the police court. That was all.

Billion Dollar Grass and Alfalfa.

When we introduced Billion Dollar Grass three years ago, little did we dream it would be the most talked of grass in America, the biggest, quick, hay producer on earth, but this has come to pass.

Agr. Editors wrote about it, Agr. College Professors lectured about it, Agr. Institute Orators talked about it, while in the farm home by the quiet fireside, in the corner grocery, in the village postoffice, at the creamery, at the depot, in fact wherever farmers gathered, Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass, that wonderful grass, good for 5 to 14 tons per acre, and lots of pasture besides, is always a theme worthy of the farmer's voice.

A. Walford, Westlore Farms, Pa., writes: "I have 60 acres in Salzer's Alfalfa Clover. It is immense. I cut three crops this season and have lots of pasture besides."

It is harder to reconcile ourselves to other people's successes than to our own defeats.

The Talamancans are Indians of Panama, not far from the canal and about half way across the isthmus. They live almost in the primitive style of their ancestors in the days of Columbus and have little intercourse with whites, beyond trading fowls and pigs for tobacco, trinkets and ammunition. They speak their ancient language and still use the blow gun and spear. They live in huts of palm thatch, with a number of domesticated animals; for instance, the wild deer, peccary, tapir, and even the tiger cat. They hunt, fish and cultivate Indian crops and cassava. They have more fear of an evil than faith in a good spirit, are polygamists, and their simple government is hereditary. Their king is a despot as far as custom or law permits, and their "sokee," or medicine man, is lawyer, priest and doctor all in one. Their life is on the whole one of dreamy contentment. Apparently they are an inferior race to the Aztecs, who probably ruled them.—London Globe.

A Japanese woman, when abandoned by her lover, takes a peculiar and picturesque revenge. When she no longer has any doubt as to his faithlessness, she gets up in the middle of the night and puts on a pleasing dress and wooden sandals. Attached to her head dress she carries three lighted candles and suspended from her neck hangs a small mirror. She takes in her left hand a small straw effigy of the faithless one and in her right a hammer and nails. Walking gravely to the sanctuary she nails the effigy securely to the trunk, she selects one of the sacred trees and then prays for the death of the traitor, vowing that if her wish is granted she will take out the nails which trouble her god. Night after night she comes to the tree, adding one or two nails and repeating her prayers, persuaded that the god will not hesitate to sacrifice the man to save the tree.

A certain historical sentiment is attached to the name of the Peresviet, one of the big Russian battle ships at Port Arthur, which has thus far apparently escaped injury. That name was borne by one of the principal vessels of the little Russian squadron which visited New York during the civil war—the first Russian war ship to enter the harbor. The ships spent several weeks there, and the officers and crew were entertained, both publicly and privately, with lavish hospitality. The Peresviet of those days was then much visited and admired. But she would cut a puny figure beside the steel-clad monster that now bears her name

When a man undertakes to discuss love he winds up by pronouncing it a form of insanity.

Miss M. Cartledge gives some helpful advice to young girls. Her letter is but one of thousands which prove that nothing is so helpful to young girls who are just arriving at the period of womanhood as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkam's Vegetable Compound too highly, for it is the only medicine I ever tried which cured me. I suffered much from my first menstrual period, I felt so weak and dizzy at times I could not pursue my studies with the usual interest. My thoughts became sluggish, I had headaches, backaches and sinking spells, also pains in the back and lower limbs. In fact, I was sick all over.

"Finally, after many other remedies had been tried, we were advised to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am pleased to say that after taking it only two weeks, a wonderful change for the better took place, and in a short time I was in perfect health. I felt buoyant, full of life, and found all work a pastime. I am indeed glad to tell my experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it made a different girl of me. Yours very truly, Miss M. Cartledge, 533 Whitehall St., Atlanta, Ga."

At such a time, the grandest aid to nature is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It prepares the young system for the necessary changes, and is the surest and most reliable cure for woman's ills of every nature. Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Estes, of New York City, says:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I write to you because I believe all young girls ought to know how much good your medicine will do them. I did dressmaking for years before I was married, and if it had not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I do not believe I could have stood the strain. There is no other work that is such a strain on the system. Oh, how my back used to ache from the bending over! I would feel as though I would have to scream out from the pain, and the sitting still made me so terribly tired and weak, and my head throbbed like an engine. I never could eat after work, I was so worn out. Then I was irregular, and had such frightful cramps every month they would simply double me up with pain, and I would have to give up working and lie down. But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound changed me into a strong, well woman. Yours very truly, Mrs. Martha Estes, 513 West 125th St., N. Y. City."

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of female troubles cured. Sold by druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutions. Remember every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

THE SHELBY CHRONICLE

VOL. XVII. COLUMBIANA, SHELBY COUNTY, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 31 1904 NO 32

To the learned men who go grubbing in kitchen middens, and who can tell without stopping to count, just how many sausages it takes to reach the moon, it's as plain as the noonday sun why the hare is here at Easter with a wheelbarrow full of eggs. But for you and me, who couldn't build up a dinosaur from a decayed tooth in another million years, and who mix up history with historical novels, a little time is required to disentangle the truth from the tradition.

There's no doubt that the Easter hare has arrived. You have seen him in nearly all the confectioner's windows for some time past, either trundling a wheelbarrow full of eggs or proudly drawing a huge egg set up on wheels.

Now, be sure not to pronounce that "aigs" and "aig," as they do in the South, for if you do, you will be falling into the same unscientific error as the confectioners have made in representing the sacred hare as his humble American cousin, "Bre'r Rabbit." The rabbit is all well enough in his way, and without him we wouldn't have "Uncle Remus," perhaps, and a lot of people would have to take out accident insurance instead of prowling around graveyards in the dark of the moon.

many, from which we have borrowed the tradition of the Easter hare, who is quite as important a figure in his way in the Fatherland as is St. Nicholas himself at Christmas. Where did the Germans get the hare myth? To determine that you would have to make a pretty long excursion into the past. And perhaps, in the end, it would be "up to" the Sphinx to answer you, and you know very well how crabbed that lady has become through all the centuries, with no one to talk to but impertinent tourists. The truth seems to be that little Rameses "picked" eggs with his boy neighbors. That was long before the Gauls introduced the custom of the Easter hat.

If Cleopatra, who came somewhat later on the scene, affected the lily at this season of the year, it was probably the tiger lily; but you may be sure she knew all about the hare and its relations with the moon, and consequently with Easter itself.

For it is a fact, even if it is a fable, too, that the moon and the hare and Easter—likewise the Easter egg—are all dependent the one upon the other, and have been since the time when Easter, the Saxon goddess of the East, gave her name to our Christian festival. Now, you may think, with your limited knowledge of Egyptiology, that

THE DESCENT FROM THE CROSS.

Peter Paul Rubens, 1577-1640.

But the rabbit is not a hare, and has nothing to do with Easter. Unfortunately, there are no hares in the East and South, and out on the Alkali plains, where they insult the tame American hare by calling him a jack or jackass rabbit, they are behaving pretty well when they remember that it's Sunday at all, much less Easter Sunday.

This distinction between the hare and the undersized rabbit is really important, and chiefly because the rabbit burrows in the ground, while the hare makes forms of grass for his habitation. Are you so keen-witted that you never sought a hare in a hen's nest? Ah! now you begin to understand. And when you reflect how impossible it would be to find the Easter eggs if the hare hid them in a deep hole, it's perfectly plain that the New York dealers in confectioners' supplies are propagating a mischievous error. Maybe it is a blow at the Belgian hare trade. In these days of international rivalry, who can tell?

Yet it is Belgium's neighbor, Germany, from which we have borrowed the tradition of the Easter hare, who is quite as important a figure in his way in the Fatherland as is St. Nicholas himself at Christmas. Where did the Germans get the hare myth? To determine that you would have to make a pretty long excursion into the past. And perhaps, in the end, it would be "up to" the Sphinx to answer you, and you know very well how crabbed that lady has become through all the centuries, with no one to talk to but impertinent tourists. The truth seems to be that little Rameses "picked" eggs with his boy neighbors. That was long before the Gauls introduced the custom of the Easter hat.

If Cleopatra, who came somewhat later on the scene, affected the lily at this season of the year, it was probably the tiger lily; but you may be sure she knew all about the hare and its relations with the moon, and consequently with Easter itself.

For it is a fact, even if it is a fable, too, that the moon and the hare and Easter—likewise the Easter egg—are all dependent the one upon the other, and have been since the time when Easter, the Saxon goddess of the East, gave her name to our Christian festival. Now, you may think, with your limited knowledge of Egyptiology, that the Egyptians had no language other than the queer signs you may see today on the obelisk in Central Park, but you are mistaken. Those hieroglyphics were, perhaps, merely stenographic notes dictated by Osiris to Iris, and afterward transcribed in the cuneiform tablets.

With the lapse of ages some of them have grown so "cold" that the best handwriting experts of to-day cannot decipher them. But in the everyday language of the Nile region the equivalent of hare is "un," which, in English, is "open," "to open," "the opener." Also, the hare has been from remote time a symbol for the moon, and for several reasons. Two of them are that the hare is a nocturnal animal, and that the hare and the moon have both been credited with the power of changing their sex. Again, the young of the hare, unlike rabbits, are born with their eyes open, and are fabled never to close them. Hence the traditional "hare's sleep." As a matter of fact, rather than of fable, the hare's eyes are so situated on the sides of its head that it can see all around. You never heard a hare make that old sneering excuse for carelessness:—"You might think I had eyes in the back of my head." To all intents and purposes the hare has.

Well, then, to make it quite clear, "un" is hare, or "open," and the moon is "the open eyed watcher of the skies at night." But that isn't all.

Ecce Homo.

The Egyptians being a people of few, because difficult, words, made "un" do duty for "period," too. Thus the hare, being never comma-tose, "became the type of period-icity, human and lunar, and as the opener became associated with the opening of the new year at Easter." Finally, it came to be connected in the popular mind with the eggs, broken to satisfy the opening of the year. "And there you are!" exclaims triumphantly the enthusiastic scientist to whom I am indebted for this information.

In Germany, if little Hans and Gretel are good, the white hare steals softly into the house on Easter eve, when everybody is sleeping, and leaves in the nooks and corners many brightly colored eggs for the "kinderkins." In the morning the children and their parents hunt for these eggs amid great excitement. So says Mr.

Fresh Easter Eggs To-day.

—From a German postal card.

William Walsh, who is a composite of authorities. To this may be added Meier's explanation that in Swabia and Hesse children are actually sent to the hare's nest in search of eggs. Mannhardt goes still further, saying that the hare is reputed to be a fire and soul bringer, and that children are supposed to be procured from the nests. It would seem, however, that the stork has largely usurped this function, which some persons will consider fortunate in view of the immense number of eggs laid by the hare.—New York Herald.

"Easter" Surprises in Serving Ice Cream.

Beside the conventionalized presentation of ice cream in the mold of an Easter rabbit or a large Easter egg, colored chocolate, violet, orange or rose, we have more and additional resources this year for the Easter party. One party will be served with individual ice creams frozen and molded in the shape of Easter lilies. The Bermuda lily makes a capital design. The children appreciate the suggestion and like the generous size of their portion.

A Bad Investment.

"Guess I was stuck when I give you thirty cents fer dis rabbit. It ain't laid no colored eggs yet."—New York Journal.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

MARCH 26TH.

The senate committee on judiciary ordered a favorable report on a bill to protect the president of the United States.

The house began consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. Ten hours was fixed for general debate on the measure, but at the end of an hour and a half there were no speakers ready to continue, and the house adjourned for lack of talkers.

Mr. Hemenway summed up the fiscal condition for the next fiscal year, showing that after all the legitimate expenses had been paid there would be $22,000,000 surplus for the year.

A number of minor bills were passed by unanimous consent.

MARCH 28TH.

The senate for three hours discussed the recent order of the pension bureau making old age an evidence of disability, and then passed the District of Columbia appropriation bill. The discussion of the pension bill was based on the resolution offered some days ago by Mr. Carmack directing the committee on judiciary to inquire into the authority of the executive branch of the government to make such an order. Mr. Carmack contended that no such authority exists, but several republican senators argued that the order was in line with the regulation issued by Judge Lochren, commissioner of pensions under Mr. Cleveland, fixing 60 years of age as an evidence of infirmity.

Mr. Proctor presented a partial report on the army appropriation bill. He said that among the items disagreed to was that giving advanced rank to retired officers who had served in the civil war. He said that the house had accepted the senate provision for an increase in the engineer corps of the army, but that the senate had receded from its amendment for a three battalion regiment of native troops in Porto Rico. The report was accepted, and a further conference ordered.

The sundry civil bill was before the house, but debate took a wide range. Mr. Gillette, of Massachusetts, devoted considerable time in arguing some of the statements recently made on the floor by Mr. Speight, of Mississippi, regarding the race question. Mr. Gillette declared he had supposed there were no social grades in the United States, but that every man had the right to choose his own friends and associates among those most in sympathy with himself.

The tobacco trust was considered for some time and a resolution adopted providing for the printing of 14,000 copies of the merger decision for the use of members of the house.

An order issued by the war department, and which is of the greatest importance to the enlisted forces, prescribes the rules governing the purchase of discharges from the army Discharge by favor is declared to be illegal and the only exceptions to the system of purchasing discharges is the case of a soldier who is the sole support of a surviving parent and who may be discharged after one year's service. Discharge by way of favor to veterans is prohibited. The purchase price of discharges is forty dollars

Secretary Taft has made an adverse report on the bill which provides for the promotion to a major generalcy on the retired list of Brigadier General George Sternberg, retired, former surgeon general of the army. The action of the secretary is taken on the principle that specific promotions by legislative action are unwise and unfair to the line of the army.

Representative Gill, of California, has prepared and submitted a minority report against the resolution adopted by a majority of the committee on the judiciary to impeach Judge Swayne, of the northern district of Florida, for high misdemeanors. Every ground urged by the committee for impeachment is attacked in this report.

It has been definitely announced at the white house that President Roosevelt will not attend the St. Louis fair. He will make no more engagements to leave Washington until after the election. Mr. Roosevelt will make only one trip away from the capital and that will be to attend the Gettysburg memorial day exercises. The date for this was arranged months ago.

The eulogies of the late Senator Marcus A. Hanna will be heard in the senate Thursday, April 7th, instead of March 31st, as previously ordered

There are 13,000,000 men of military age in the United States.

The East Lake election, which was being held on the issuance of $13,500 of bonds for the erection of an electric light plant, was called off on account of an error in the ballot.

Governor Jelks has named a board of managers for the old soldiers' home at Mountain Creek and has called a meeting of the board for next Friday at noon in his office.

A $100,000, six-story hotel is to be erected opposite the Birmingham postoffice.

BURTON CONVICTED

In the Realto Grain Company Case.

Joseph Ralph Burton, senior United States senator from Kansas, was convicted by a jury in the United States district court on the charge of having accepted compensation to protect the interests of the Rialto Grain and Securities company of St. Louis before the postoffice department. The jury deliberated for forty-one hours.

For a time there threatened to be a disagreement in the jury.

A motion for a new trial was immediately filed by the counsel for the senator. Judge Adams thereupon ordered that Senator Burton appear in court either in person or by proxy at 10 o'clock from day to day until the court has heard the arguments for a new trial, and if decided against him to receive his punishment.

Senator Burton was indicted in January last. Although as a member of congress he could not be arrested until after that body had adjourned, he voluntarily surrendered himself to the prosecution authorities. He still had two years to serve in the senate. If the verdict is sustained Senator Burton will lose his seat in the senate and forever be prohibited from holding any office of public trust.

Senator Burton's recourse is an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals, which body is the final arbitrar in his case.

Members of the senate committee on privileges and elections have discussed informally the conviction of Senator Burton, but until the matter comes before the committee the members are loath to give their personal views. It will take a formal action by the senate to declare Burton's seat vacant and this will not be done until a court of last resort has passed upon it. Senators know of no precedents, as no convictions of senators are within recollection.

Peculiar Will.

Copies of a remarkable will left by Colonel C. M. Strader, U. S. A., retired, have been received by several prominent friends of the dead man.

Colonel Strader requests that his body be cremated at Philadelphia and the ashes taken to Louisville, his birthplace, there to be scattered on the waters of the Ohio river.

"If, after this process," reads the will, "the angel Gabriel, for whom I have all due respect, can with his trumpet arouse me from the dead, he is a 'darling,' and I will take off my shadowy hat to him.

"I will pass away believing in no other diety than that which is specified by Pope as being 'The First Great Cause—Least Understood,' believing that my first duty is to my fellow man, and that he who lives this life in justice to his people, and follows the precepts of Him who said 'love thy neighbor as thy self' has nothing to fear from the hereafter—no matter what it is.

"With best wishes to you all, and 'drink hearty.'"

Three of a Kind.

The oldest triplets in the United States, so they believe, sat down to a reunion dinner at Jackson, Miss. The tripletts are Messrs. J. F. and Henry Price and their sister, Mrs. Nancy Phillips. They were born in North Carolina just sixty-five years ago and all three are still hale and hearty.

Mrs. Davis Ill.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the president of the southern confederacy was stricken Sunday with an attack of acute indigestion. Hope is expressed for her rapid recovery.

Mississippi's exhibit at St. Louis includes cotton bales bound in satin.

Court has just pronounced the Arctic explorer, Andree, to be dead in law, the legal term of disappearance having expired. Andree left Spitsbergen July 11, 1897, with two companions, in a balloon with the object of reaching the north pole. No authentic trace has ever been discovered of the ill-fated expedition.

It is announced that the manuscript of Milton's "Paradise Lost," which was offered for sale at public auction January 25th, but which was withdrawn because the reserve price of $25,000 was not offered, has now been sold to an American collector, whose name and the amount paid are not disclosed. The London Daily Telegraph editorially expresses regret that the heirloom was not preserved for the British nation.

As Mrs. Skelton, of Scottsboro, was embarking on a steamboat Saturday morning her five-year-old son fell overboard and the river being up he was drowned.

Dr. J. M. Lindsley, who has been serving a sentence of ten days' imprisonment in the county jail at Mobile for alleged slander of Mobile quarantine authorities, is now a free man and will soon go to Havana, Cuba, where he says he will have printed and distributed 50,000 copies of the proceedings of his trial in Mobile.

The tower of the Powell school, Birmingham, was burned Monday. The building was damaged $2,000. No insurance. All pupils escaped safely.

LATEST WAR NEWS.

Marquis Ito has left Korea.

General Kuropatkin has arrived at Mukden.

Russians contribute 7 per cent of their salaries to the war fund.

A report from Vladivostock says that a mine has been discovered under the fortress with wires leading to a Chinese house in the town.

Chinese junks report that they passed the Japanese fleet Sunday midway between Chefoo and Port Arthur. The Japanese fleet was going in an easterly direction.

It is reported that the Vladivostock squadron, under the command of Captain Reitzenstein, has returned to port with several prizes, including a Japanese war ship.

Yi Yong Ik, the chief of the Korean government, who controls the army and finances of the hermit kingdom, was formerly a coolie and was raised to high rank by the late empress of Korea. He is pro-Russian.

General Kuropatkin has left his train at Mukden and is proceeding to Liao Yang, whence it is believed he will proceed to the front for an inspection of the troops, his visit to Port Arthur being temporarily postponed.

It is stated on apparently reliable authority that Vice Admiral Makaroff's report of the reconnoissance of the Elliott islands contained the startling statement that he captured a junk filled filled with Chinese regular troops, which was being towed by a Japanese gunboat.

Under cover of darkness Sunday morning Vice Admiral Togo made another attempt to bottle up the Russian fleet in Port Arthur, but he failed again, and when after daylight Vice Admiral Makaroff steamed out to give battle the Japanese commander refused the challenge and sailed away. The Japanese practically repeated the tactics of February 24th by sending in four fire ships preceded by a torpedo flotilla, armed with Hotchkiss guns. The attempt was discovered by means of the searchlights and fire was opened from batteries and gunboats guarding the advance to the harbor. The Russian torpedo boat destroyer Silni was outside on scouting duty, and to the dash and nerve of her commander, Lieutenant Krinizki, is chiefly due the complete defeat of the plans of the Japanese. Seven Russians were killed and the commander and twelve of the crew were wounded.

Plans for Russian Canal.

The Russian state department is apprised that plans are completed for the proposed Riga-Cherson canal, which is to connect the Baltic with the Black sea. The distance is 1,468 miles, and the canal will cost about $180,250,000, and is designed for ships of heavy draft.

A tornado caused widespread ruin throughout the island of Mauritius March 21st and 22d, doing an enormous amount of damage. Twenty-four persons are known to be killed and thousands are without food or shelter. Crops, houses, bridges and telegraph lines were destroyed

In consequence of a speech insulting to King Edward, the Australian government has refused the use of public buildings to John Alexander Dowie. The mayor of Adelaide wrote to Dowie telling him he was a disgrace to his nationality.

In many respects the great Siberian railway seems to be a delusion and a snare. It is said to have earned some $2,500,000 less than its running expenses last year. The interest on its cost is probably not less than $10,000,000 a year.

W. M. Henry, for sixteen years adjutant general of Mississippi, is dead of Bright's disease. He was twice mayor of Jackson and prominent in the affairs of the state.

"Old Friendship," the fire engine that George Washington helped to pull through the streets of Alexandria, Va., will be on exhibition at the St. Louis fair.

Henry I. Wilson, one of the most expert telegraphers in the country and for some years day chief operator of the Associated Press, is dead.

Guns were invented by Swartz, a German, about 1378, and brought into use by the Venetians in 1382. Cannon were invented earlier and at Amberg may still be seen a piece of ordnance inscribed 1303. Cannon were first used at the battle of Cress in 1346. In England they were first used at the siege of Berwick in 1405. It was not until 1544, however, that they were cast in England. They were employed on shipboard by the Venetians in 1539 and were in use among the Turks about the same time

Since the building of the famous tower of Babel there have been 1,500 distinct languages, and 3,500 colloquial, or 5,000 different forms of speech. At the present time, 600 of the primary languages are dead, leaving 900 spoken over all the world and 2,500 colloquials.

For 388 years the kings of Denmark have borne the names of Christian and Frederick. This is not due to a coincidence, but it is the law of the land that Christian must be succeeded by Frederick and Frederick by Christian, so one of these names is always given the heir to the throne.

SON SHOOTS FATHER

Ft. Payne Boy Takes Revenge for Whipping.

Deputy Sheriff Cole, at Battelle, was killed Monday morning by his 10-year-old son. The boy had been fighting and his father whipped him for it. The child afterwards stole his father's pistol and blew his father's head off.

Another Near Tuscaloosa.

A report comes from Duncanville of a shooting which occurred last week, the victim being W. P. Curry, who was shot by Harold Curry, his eldest son, who is about 23 years of age. Curry is a very prominent farmer, he and his son being both well known in Tuscaloosa.

It is said by some that young Curry went into his father's room and without a word shot him and walked away, while others state that the father was under the influence of liquor and was very cruel to his wife, the treatment going beyond the endurance of the son.

ALABAMIANS CALLED.

Witnesses Against L. C. Harding at Tampa, Fla.

L. C. Harding, who was recently wanted by the Alabama authorities for obtaining money by fraud from several banks in that state and whom Governor Jennings, of Florida, refused to surrender upon the requisition of the governor of Alabama, is in jail at Tampa, Fla., on a charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. He is to have a hearing Saturday, and in order to secure evidence that will hold him the United States district attorney filed in the federal court a petition for witnesses to bo summoned from Alabama.

The petition was granted and the subpoenaes have been issued and forwarded to the federal authorities in Alabama.

Harding will make a desperate legal fight to keep from being sent back to Alabama for trial, for he realizes that if he is not convicted in the federal court he will be tried in the state court of Alabama. When Harding was first arrested in Brooksville it was learned that he had an arrangement with the station agent and train men to notify him when any strangers came to town. He was constantly on the lookout for the authorities and it was only by pretending to be a land buyer that a deputy marshal finally got into the town without Harding being given the tip.

Asked $60,000; Awarded $400.

Damages in the amount of $400 was allowed J. W. Gallilher, plaintiff in a suit against the Labor Review and others in the Anniston city court. The suit was originally for $60,000.

The cause of the suit was that the name of Mr. Gallilher was published on the alleged unfair list of the carpenters' union. The newspaper was a weekly published there by T. J. Lamar and his brother, Charles Lamar. It ceased publication about three months ago. An appeal will be taken.

DAUGHTER'S DEVOTION

Killed Her—Mother Died Five Hours Later.

Although weak and faint from an operation, and in a dying condition, Miss Emma Dorsey, a young lady 19 years old, got up yesterday afternoon and dragged herself to the telephone to summons a physician to the bedside of her dying mother. In an hour this young girl had passed to the great beyond, and her mother followed.

Open Grate Again.

At Northport, Ala., Mrs. Walker Smith died Sunday night from the effects of a burn received Saturday afternoon. She was sitting by an open grate reading a newspaper and fell asleep. It seems that the paper caught fire and when she awoke her clothes were all aflame.

William Z. Mead, former Birmingham agent for the National Life Insurance Company, of Montpelier, Vt., has been arrested and jailed at New Orleans to answer the charge filed by T. C. FOR SUPT. OF EDUCATION,

I hereby announce for re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Education of Shelby county, subject to the action of Democratic primary.

JOHN B. FARRELL.

FOR CORONER.

The many friends of Geo. D. Campbell announce him as a candidate for Coroner of Shelby county.

It is of interest to every democrat to come out on Monday the 11th of April and vote in the primary election.

The days of convention and political tricks are over and the primaries are intended to give each candidate an equal chance and the people are at liberty to vote for any candidate he wants to.

One of the most important questions before the people of the State is the redistricting the rural school territory in accordance with an act passed by the last legislature to that effect.

It is only a short time until the primary election. Let every registered voter turn out, vote for the best men, and the men best suited to carry the democratic banner on to victory.

VALEDICTORY.

Nearly three years ago I assumed the mangement of The Chronicle and from that time to the present I have tried very hard to keep the paper on its feet, and in my efforts to do so have worked faithful day and night, although it has been a hard struggle.

In retiring from the management of the paper I wish to return my thanks to those who have given me their support and patronage, and hope they will give the successor of The Chronicle the same liberal support and patronage in the future that they have in the past.

I have accepted a position with the new management and will be pleased to have my friends to call, again, thanking one and all for their support, and to the new management an abundance of success.

Geo. D. Campbell,

RETULT OF PRIMATIES.

"The days of the old political machine and convention tricks are all over, haven't you noticed?" asked an observant citizen the other day. "The primaries have put a stop to all that, and in these days when the people go to the polls and vote for the man of his choice for the nomination, the boys who used to manipulate and run the old machine are out of a job now, and the people are in the saddle. And that is the the condition all over the state and all we have to do now is to stand by and wonder what the people are going to do on the day of primaries. The state law regulates primaries now as they have never done before, and every candidate has a chance to have fairness and justice done, by having representation at the polls. In the primaries on the 11th of April the race is between gentlemen of the same party and it would be worse than criminal to have any fraud or unfairness practiced. And then there is no reason for it, for the candidates, as a rule, are good safe men and the one who gets the most votes ought to and will be the nominee of the party."—Advertiser.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Shelby county held on February 16th, 1904, a primary election was called to be held in the various beats of Shelby county for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various State, Circuit, Division, Congressional and County officers to be elected in the November election; therefore, in pursuance of said call a primary election will be held in the various beats of Shelby county for the nomination of said officers on April the 11th, 1904. In said election, all white qualified electors, who believes in in the principles of the Democratic party are entitled and cordially invited to paricipate.

J. T. LEEPER,
Chairman Dem. Ex. Com.

COUNTY MUST BE RE-DISTRICTED

In accordance with a law recently enacted by the legislature of the state of Alabama, we will take up the matter of transforming the territory of Shelby county into public school districts, the boundaries of which will be made as the boundaries of beats are now made. Townships lines will not be taken into consideration; but dsstricts will be formed solely with reference to centers of population, natural barriers.

This duty which has been thrust upon us, however popular or unpopular it may be, must be discharged. And in so doing, we shall have much pleasure in subserving the wishes of our citizenship, hoping of course, that such wishes may not be impelled by any selfish motive, but that they may conform to a common sense of public good, and to the upbuilding of the cause of education.

Trustees and patrons may aid us very materially in this work by consulting each other and making diagrams of such districts as in their judgment should be made. This work shall have reached completion June 1st, 1904.

Jno. B. Farrell,
Supt. of Education.

An Open Letter.

Montevallo, Mch. 19, 1904.
Editor Peoples Advocate:

In commenting on my letter last week, you tacitly admit my correction of your statement, to which I was replying, although you did not see proper to do me the justice to explicitly acquit me of trying to "save the railroads the tax" in repealing the road law.

I have no grievance and will show no irritation at criticism of my public acts; but I do not think a public officer should have his acts and motives recklessly misconstrued, when the facts are so "plain and unvarnished." I note with pleasure that you transfer the matter of your criticism to two features of the road law proposed by the mass meeting Committee which I failed to enact. Coinciding in your expressed object to give the people the "plain unvarnished truth" I venture to again trespass on your space, that these facts may be placed before the people. In regard to the liability to work the roads, the present law is found in the Code:

"Sec. 2453. No person or hand is liable to work any public road, every part of which is distant more than six miles from his residence or to work more than ten days in one year, not counting the days engaged in opening new roads."

This is far from requiring or forcing any one to work ten days. During the many years this law was in operation, I doubt if any man in Shelby County was required to work ten days, or even six days. I know from my own experience and observation, that the roads were worked in from one to two days twice a year. Compare this with the Act proposed by the mass meeting Committee:

"Sec. 7. Be it further enacted: That all persons liable to road duty in said county, shall be required to work six days, under the contractor or overseers, as the said Court of County Commissioners may direct, annually, or pay three dollars, one-half of which shall(?) be paid to the overseer or contractor, at or before the time he is warned to to work the road in the Spring and the balance at or before he is warned to work the road in the Summer or fall of each year; Provided, that such work or payment shall not exempt such persons from work in opening new roads."

This absolutely requires six days work, whether the roads need it or not, while under the Code law, which I have preferred, no more is required than may be necessary, and I am sure that this may safely be left to the discretion of the overseer.

In regard to the tax placed upon "vehicles, drays, etc.," which you intimate was aimed at "the saw-mill men and others who cut up the roads," the provisions of the Committee's proposed Act are as follows.

"Sec. 8. Be it further enacted: That said Commissioners Court are authorized and empowered to levy a License Tax upon all horses, mules, oxen, and vehicles of all kinds used in traveling on public roads; which license, if levied by said Court, shall be paid on or before the 15th day of January of each year.

Sec. 10. Be it further enacted: That if said Court shall levy a License Tax upon horses, mules, oxen and vehicles, as provided for in Section 9 of this Act, then all persons failing to take out such License as required by law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined not more than twice the amount of such License."

Here was certainly an opportunity to "save the railroads the tax" if such a purpose or desire had been actuating me, for not a dollar could have been collected from them for this license to own property, for they own none of the kind mentioned. The burden would have fallen on every man who owns a horse, mule, ox or vehicle of any kind, and for each of them, and whether or not he was a "saw-mill man, or cut up the roads." It would have been double taxation of the most drastic variety, and unlimited as to amount; such in principle, as revolutions have been founded upon.

I do not assume to be wiser than the people. The people confided in me to look after their interests, and I have no fear of their condemnation for not following the lead of a committee in the above propositions, which they now see for the first time.

Yours very truly,
E. S. LYMAN.

Colds Cause Pneumonia.

One of the most remarkable cases of colds, deepseated on the lungs, causing pneumonia is that of Gertrude E Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me so that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this, wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength. Sold by Bandy Drug Company.

The Shelby school team came up Wednesday afternoon and played the Columbiana High School team a game of ball, and the score stood 25 to 12 in favor of the High schooi team.

The attention of our readers is called to a letter in this issue from the pen of Hon. E. S. Lyman which was sent to the Advocate last week for publication. It brings out some interesting points in the road law that is not known. We are told that a number of the road overseers absolutely refuse to accept a commutation fee in lieu of work, while the law expressly provides that a fee not exceeding five dollars may be paid. The Commissioners' Court of this county has fixed the commutation fee at three dollars, one-half of which may be paid in the Spring and the other in the Summer or Fall.

NOTICE.

State of Alabama, } Probate Court.
Shelby county. }
Estate of J. J. Davidson, deceased.

This day came J. J. Davidson and Clara Davidson, administrators of said estate and filed their application in due form and under oath, praying for an order of sale of certain lands described therin, and belonging to said estate, for the purpose of paying debts and making division among joint owners. It is ordered that the 25th day of April, 1904, be appointed a day for hearing such application, at which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same if they think proper. This the 10th day of March, 1904. A. P. LONGSHORE.
Judge of Probate.

TIP TOP.

The singing at Mt. Tabor was a success. Several young people were out from Cresswell and Harpersville.

O. S. Lybrand and wife were called to the bedside of her mother Mrs. Evans, who resides in Birmingham.

We can say one thing, some one may have to pay "a certain" man for the wear of his tram road, from the way some of the boys travel it.

They have declined to have the egg hunt Sunday evening at G. W. Moore's.

Now, Wild Bill, who would have thought you would indulge in slurs on the Democrats as you have. We hold no malice in our heart whatever and didn't you! If people would think more of home and its surroundings instead of politics there would be beautiful dwelling and better furnished rooms than there is, and more nice fine eatables, indulge in farming more than to run a horse down trying to get an office within the county. Think there is more in seeking an office than anything of course there are some just as good people living in the city as in the county. But who keeps up the great city's? Why tis the farmers raise the wheat and corn and meat, the substantial of life, and yet the city dude will call the country boy "old sager." But some country sager has as much brain as a city dude.

Inflamatory Rheumatism Cured

Wm. Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for week with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remidies," he says: "Finally I sent to the drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in a week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam. For sale at Bandy Drug Co.

WILSONVILLE.

Among the visitors in town last Thursday were C. L. Meroney, of Montevallo, P. M. Roland, of Talladega, J. I. Abercrombie, of Columbiana.

The remains of Mrs. Atchison were buried here on Wednesday of last week. She was a sister Mrs. B. A. Moson' of this place as well as Squire and Elias Weaver, who lives near here.

J. O. Moore, of Weldon, passed through our town Saturday having been out canvasing in beat 2.

The Pops are blowing about how dead the Democrats will be after November when they know good and well that they have never yet carried an election in Shelby county by votes.

Dr. David Edwards died at his home half mile north of town on the 23d inst., at 10 a. m. He was well and favorably known here having practiced as a physician and surgeon from the civil war up to a few years ago, where he became too feeble to follow his profession longer. He served in Co. K, 31st Alabama regiment of volunteers in the Confederate army where he acquired considerable skill in surgery. He was a consistent member of the Baptist church and had been for a number of years. He was hale and hearty on February 28th when he was stricken down and never rallied. The direct cause of his death was old age and debility. He was 72 years of age. Five son, a daughter and two sisters survive him. His remains were buried here on Friday the 25th, the funeral services by Rev. O. P. Bentley.

HONEST JOHN.

Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for any one to attempt to doctor himself, althorg he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and by the proper treatment these diseases a threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. There is no question whatever about this, as during the 30 years and more that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used we have yet to learn of a single case of cold or attack of grip having resulted in pneumonia when this remedy was used. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., a druggist says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribe it in my practice for the past 6 years. Use it, in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten good results." For sale at Bandy Drug Co.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowed to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all Lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but it stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 25 and 75 cts. NO APPETITE---EMACIATED---NERVOUS.

Many Women During the Spring Months Suffer From Extreme Lassitude, Loss of Appetite and Nervousness--What They Need Is

PE-RU-NA, THE GREAT TONIC

Miss Bertha M. Rush, 5435 Kincarde street, Pittsburg, Pa., Superintendent Junior Society of Methodist Protestant church, and leading soprano of the choir, writes: "Words cannot describe my thankfulness to you for Peruna. I was a sufferer from systemic catarrh for years and was in a very much run-down condition. I was extremely nervous, and had the most foolish fears over nothing. I was thin and emaciated.

"My physician advised me to leave this climate, but as it was not convenient to do so at this time, I took the advice of a friend to use a bottle of Peruna. I took it faithfully, and when the first bottle was gone I felt so much better that I bought six more and took them faithfully, after which I looked like a new woman.

"I gained in flesh, my appetite returned and all my old symptoms had disappeared. I am more than thankful to Peruna."—Miss Bertha M. Rush.

I AM TIRED.

Everybody is Tired--Spring Weather Does It--Every One Should Be Cautious.

Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is the cause.

General lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feeling, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep. Peruna meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peruna invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and produces regular sleep.

That tired feeling which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter quietly disappears when Peruna is taken. Thousands are daily testifying to its priceless benefit.

Mrs. H. Kassatt, 1309 W. 13th street, Des Moines, Ia., writes: "I am happy to give my endorsement for your valuable medicine, Peruna, as I consider it a valuable medicine to take when the system is run down from overwork. About two years ago I felt that I must take a long rest, as I had been unable to work for over a month and could not regain my strength. I could not sleep at night and was in a very nervous, high strung condition. I decided to try what Peruna would do to build up my strength, and am pleased to say that I began to improve very shortly, and in less than two months I was able to take up my work, and felt better than I have for years. I take it now twice a year, and find that it keeps me in perfect health." Mrs. Kassatt was for over ten years the manager of a plant furnishing ladies' wear and employing hundreds of women.

Tired, Nervous Women.

There are thousands of them everywhere. A few bottles of Peruna would do them untold benefit. As a tonic and nerve invigorator it has no equal. It builds up the nerves, it gives strength to the circulation and at once restores the appetite and digestion. No feeble woman should be without Peruna.

MISS BERTHA M. RUSH---PITTSBURG.

Miss Rush Suffered With Systemic Catarrh---Was Nervous, Had No Appetite, Grew Thin and Emaciated. She Now Looks Like a New Woman After a Course of Pe-ru-na.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

THE TOO-AGGREEABLE FELLOW.

The feller who's certain to say: "That's right"
Who acquiesces in ev'ry view,
Who if I tell him that black is white
Will frankly own that he thinks so too;
I'm never able to fuss with, much,—
So utterly non-resistent she;—
Yet, somehow, never am I in touch
With the feller who allers agrees with me.

The feller who says to me: "You 're dead-wrong!"
Who scoffs at all of the things I say,
Who starts an argument loud an' long
To prove it could n't be just that way;
At him I bluster, and fume, and frown,
And yet, more worth in this man I see
Than I 've found in the easy, complacent clown,—
The feller who allers agrees with me.

Towards the feller who tells me I 'm wrong I 've had
At times the feelin's that make men fight,—
While, somehow, never could I get mad
At him who smilingly says: "That 's right!"
Yet, Fate, please see that my pathway blends
With one who strongly dissents, and free,
And just scratch off of my list of friends
The feller who allers agrees with me.

—Roy Farrell Greene, in Puck.

Mrs. Bittersweet's Proposal.

"Peppers and pumpkins! A widow moved in right next door, and this leap year."

Mr. Alonzo Larkins stared apprehensively out of his window, as if he expected to see his newly arrived neighbor flitting up his porch steps in search of him with a lasso, instead he really did see a small, inoffensive looking woman walking serenely from her doorway toward her own front lawn, bearing a pot of pansies and a trowel.

"Oh, of course," he continued caustically, "wants to make a good impression first before she lets out at me. Well, ma'am, my herat is tough. But you are a neat little bundle," he added with a slight change in tone; "trim as a sassafras whistle. That's right—let that ruffled up pink contraption slide off your head. Gum, what shiny brown hair! And look at the little curl bobbing over her off ear!"

Little Mrs. Bittersweet did not seem at all troubled by the orb Mr. Larkins deemed it expedient to keep focused upon her. She trotted around about her own business, paying little heed to the doings of her bachelor neighbor. The first time she met him plump and square she gave him a sweet, indifferent little neighborly "Good morning," which somehow excited his discontent and ire.

"Took about as much notice of me as she would of a brindle dog," he complained to himself; "in fact, not as much. She pets up all the old stray dogs and gives 'em bones. What's the matter with me, I'd like to know?"

He looked anxiously into the mirror as he brushed his hair. He saw therein a good looking and fairly good natured face, the chief defect of which was an expression tending toward self-conceit.

"Now, ma'am," he observed decisively, addressing the absent widow, "you've got to see me and appreciate me; then if you choose to take advantage of leap year privileges. I don't really know as I'll run away."

Meantime Mrs. Bittersweet's attention had been directed to Mr. Larkins by her friend, Miss Podderly.

"He's the smartest man in Bibbville," said she, "and got everything in his house a woman's heart could wish, from gas ranges to teaspoons, not to mention scuds of blue and white ware saucepans. But seems like he's afraid some woman'll marry him in spite of himself. I guess he's too bashful to ask any one. But I believe in my heart you could overcome the difficulty, Polly, if you'd set your cap good and strong."

"Set a fiddlestick!" retorted Polly Bittersweet, scornfully. "I'll never set my cap for any man."

"Well," said Miss Podderly, "I wish I had the opportunities you turn up your nose at so recklessly."

Mr. Larkins finally grew decidedly discontented and a little puzzled.

"I don't understand you, ma'am," he admitted, in one of his mental apostrophes to the widow. "I have so far modified my views as to give you every opportunity to signify your wish to become Mrs. Larkins, and yet you're as cool and calm as a bale of snow. I'm not used to it, ma'am, and I won't stand it. I'll give you three weeks more to get interested in me, and then I'll take and propose to you—that's about what I'll do."

When the allotted three weeks of grace had expired Mr. Larkins, in desperation, executed his threat and received a plump "No!"—the result of Miss Podderly's championship and a streak of contrariness in the widow's disposition.

He accepted the sentence with visible disappointment, but bore it with manly fortitude.

"I'm sorry, ma'am," he said, frankly, "tearing sorry. I've taken more of a shine to you, somehow, than I ever did to any one, and I'd be good to you, you can bank on that. But if you can't like me, you can't. There, now, ma'am, don't go and cry—don't. I wouldn't hurt you feelings for 40 farms," for the widow's heart all at once had smitten her sharply and some subtle pathos in Mr. Larkins' simple acceptance of defeat caused her eyes to brim with misty tears.

"I'm so-soo-o sorry," she faltered, blushing and sobbing, "I——"

"Don't mention it," implored Mr. Larkins, "don't you be miserable or blue about it. But if you should—kind of change your mind, you know, ma'am, just let me know, won't you?"

Mr. Larkins dove headlong into his garden patch and hoed vigorously to distract his thoughts, and the widow sat down on the edge of her porch and swung her neat little foot dejectedly.

"I do believe I'm half-witted," said she under her breath. "I dare say I've lost as good a man as I'll ever meet, and all because Henrietta Podderly told me to run after him. I needn't have run after him, but I could have thrown him away, and I ain't half as smart as I thought I was. I'm lonely and miserable, woo—oo—oo." Mrs. Bittersweet ran into her sitting room and cried as heartily as Mr. Larkins hoed.

After that she smiled sunnily whenever she met. He smiled genially. The widow daintily became more lonesome and more convinced that she had discarded a congenial spirit.

"He won't propose again in a hundred years," she bemoaned herself, "and no wonder he don't want to risk another snub. He did tell me to let him know if I changed my mind; I hate to, like fun, but—"

One golden afternoon when both were sitting, in an unusually pensive mood, upon Mrs. Bittersweet's porch, the widow's heart suddenly prompted her to a little prospecting.

"Mr. Larkins," she said, softly, "do you ever change your mind?"

"No," returned Mr. Larkins plumply, "not without solid reason."

"We-ell," she continued, holding her breath at her own boldness, "would you still like me to—er—er—be—be—"

Her meaning rushed through Mr. Larkins like a streak of electricity. He sprang out of his lolling attitude at a bounce.

"Polly, if you're asking me if I'd like you to be my wife, I say yes—yes—yes. I didn't dare to ask you again, but you've a perfect right to ask me, even if I hadn't told you to, for it's leap year—why, Polly love, what's the matter? You're as pale as ashes. What is it, darling?"

"Why, I've actually as good as asked you to marry me," gasped Polly, "just what I've always declared I'd die rather than do! Oh, well," as Alonzo's arm stole protectingly around her waist, "I guess I was excusable this time. But, Alonzo, listen. Don't you ever, the longest day you live, let Henrietta Podderly know I did it—will you?"

"Never," vowed Alonzo, kissing her. —H. W. Durbin, in San Francisco, Call.

A COYETE'S GRATITUDE.

How He Warned His Man-Friend That a Freshet Was Coming.

"I was once starving," said Coyete, abjectly. "You who have lived in a warm land where something is growing all the year round, know nothing of the hunger that comes when the fierce blizzard blots out everything, and there is only snow, snow, everywhere. Can one eat snow? It's all very fine for you with a paunch full of candy to sit there and prate about stealing. Does a fellow dig, dig, dig through earth so hard that he must bite it out with his teeth, dig deep under the log walls for sport as the cubs play in the sunshine, or just to steal? Bah! you who have never known hunger know not of this thing. Why, once when the ground was frozen hard, and I was dying inch by inch, some fierce-toothed animal inside me biting, biting—only of course it was the hunger chewing at my stomach—I dove fair through the window of a log shack to get at the meat inside. The glass cut me to be sure, but that was nothing to the hunger pain that goes on, on, never ceasing until there is food or one is dead.

"You see they were all whisky traders at Stand-Off. The place came by its name in the days of a mighty fight when man and his comrades stood off the mounted police. These men had been given as bad a name as Coyotes even. My man may have been bad, too; but how was I to know, being only a Coyote. He was always throwing me bones and pieces of bread, and whistling to me, and calling me Jack.

"Now, this place Stand-Off was on the river flat, and one night in Springtime I heard a great flood coming down the Belly river. It was a still night, and the noise of the rushing water came to my ears for miles, but the men heard it not, for they were all in the shacks. Fast I galloped down over the flat near to the shack where was this man who had often thrown me a bone. I whimpered, and whistled, and barked the danger call, and howled the death-coming song, and finally my friend came to the door and threw a stick of wood at me, and spoke fierce oaths. Then he shut the door. I could hear the roaring getting louder and louder and knew that soon it would be too late for all the menkind; not that I cared, except for this one. So I howled louder than ever, and he came out and strove to kill me with a firestick, but I only ran a little piece into the darkness, and howled again.

"Being a man of much temper, he chased me, and the noise brought out the others, for they thought it was Indians. I sought to lead him over to the side of the flat land which was next the sloping hill, knowing full well that the new water would flow there first.

"All at once he ceased running behind me, and I, who was listening, knew that he scarce breathed he was that still. Now, he will hear it, I thought; and in an instant I heard him cry to the others: 'Boys, we must pull out from this—there's a freshet coming.'"—From "Sa-Zada Tales," by W. A. Fraser, the American Kipling, in the Metropolitan Magazine.

Japanese Athletics.

The Japanese, although men of very small stature, are among the strongest in the world, says St. Nicholas. Any boy of 14 or 15 who will faithfully practice their system of producing strength will find himself at the end of a few months able to cope in feats of power with the average man of 25, and all this without the dangerous practice of lifting very heavy weights. It should be remembered that rest must be taken after every exercise. While resting try deep breathing. Stand erect, though not in a strained position, and at each breath draw the abdomen in and throw the chest out. As the breath is exhaled, let the chest fall inward again, and the abdomen outward. From 20 minutes to half an hour is long enough to devote to jiujitsu, and this includes the time spent in breathing during rests—for deep, correct breathing is in itself one of the best exercises possible. In inhaling draw the breath through either the nostrils or the mouth, as preferred; in exhaling always let the breath escape through the mouth.—Philadelphia Record.

Lake Baikal, with a length of 390 miles and an area of 15,000 square miles, is directly in the way of the plateau where the trans-Siberian railway reaches its highest elevation, 1,500 feet above the sea level. Hills from 3,000 to 6,000 feet high surround it, rising so abruptly from the water's edge that building along their sides without tunneling is impossible. The lake itself is too deep to be bridged, Its surface is 1,561 feet above sea level, the deepest part 1,624 feet below, and it is subject to frightful storms. From November to April it is practically ice-bound. The lake begins to freeze early in November, is completely ice-bound by the middle of December and the ice does not break up until May. Its white covering reaches a thickness of nine and a half feet. To get around the end of the lake requires a detour of nearly 100 miles, and tunneling and cutting through rock under the most adverse conditions. The cost of such a railroad section conservative estimate puts at 25,000,000 rubles, or something less than $20,000,000. How long it will take can hardly be estimated—four or five years at any rate.

Pius Tenth has recently discovered that he is not, as supposed, the two hundred and sixty-fourth pope, but the two hundred and fifty-eighth. He has eliminated no less than six pontiffs from the list of his predecessors. In the "Gerarchia Catolica," or official annual of the holy seat, which has just appeared, he is set down as the two hundred and fifty-eighth pope. During the closing years of the reign of Leo Thirteenth the extensive researches of Mgr. Duchesne, director of the French school at Rome, brought to light the fact that six popes of the period preceding the crusades were more or less mythical, their existence being based on legend and tradition rather than on actual history. They have been eliminated, and no longer figure on the official roster of supreme pontiffs of the Roman Catholic church. At the same time Pius the Tenth has caused the urn containing the dust of the alleged martyr Fortissima to be removed from the Basilica of St. Mark. Archaeologists have all come to the conclusion that there was no foundation for the story of the alleged martyrdom of Fortissima, and that therefore there was no reason for the veneration of her remains or for regarding her either a martyr or a saint.

"Commercial Korea in 1904" is the title of a monograph just issued by the department of commerce and labor. It discusses commercial and other conditions in Korea, showing area, population, transportation facilities, railways, telegraphs, postal service and foreign commerce, including imports and the countries from which they are drawn, and exports and the countries to which they are sent. The population of Korea the monograph in question puts at about 15,000,000 in round numbers, the area at about equal to that of the state of Kansas, and the foreign commerce at about $12,000,000, of which imports form about $7,500,000.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Wouldn't any woman be happy,
After years of backache suffering,
Days of misery, nights of unrest,
The distress of urinary troubles,
She finds relief and cure?
No reason why any reader
Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. Almira A. Jackson, of East Front St., Traverse City, Mich., says:

"For twenty years I never knew what it was to have good health. Every physician consulted said I had liver trouble, but their medicines did me no good. Just before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was almost paralyzed. I could hardly stand on my feet because of the numbness and lack of circulation. Had a knife been thrust into my kidneys the pain could not have been more intense. My sleep was disturbed by visions of distorted figures. The kidney secretions were annoyingly irregular, and I was tortured with thirst and always bloated. I used seven boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. The bloating subsided until I weighed 100 pounds less, could sleep like a child and was relieved of the pain and the irregularity of the kidney action. My circulation is good and I feel better in every way."

A free trial of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Jackson will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price 50 cents per box.

The standing of the three leading Japanese journals is as follows: The Jiji-Shimbun, which means literally "timely incident new-hearing," is a semi-official paper and may be regarded as the Times of Japan. The staff is composed of well-to-do men, from among whom appointments are often made to the chief posts in government departments. Rumors are never admitted to the pages of the Jiji-Shimbun, and it has a great reputation for truthfulness and sincerity. The Nichi-Nichi Shimbun—i. e., Day and Day New-hearing, or, as we should say, Daily Chronicle—is the organ of the progressive party in Japan, while the Koku-Miu Shimbun—i. e., Country People's News—which has been calling for "fearful musters and prepared defense," in its character of the nation's journal, is regarded as a less responsible paper, but is perhaps all the more interesting for that.—London Chronicle.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED 1875. COLUMBIANA, ALA., APRIL 14, 1904. VOL. 29. NO. 33.

A NEW ENEMY OF RUSSIANS

Cholera and Typhoid Ravage Czar's Troops at Harbin.

DYING BY THE HUNDRED

Majority of Fatalities are Among Recruits Who Arrive in Frightfully Emaciated Condition.

A St. Petersburg special says: The Japanese are not the only enemies the Russians have to fight. They have cholera and typhoid fever to contend with, as well as the armies of Japan. Advices received from Harbin state that the two diseases named are epidemic there and that hundreds of troops have been stricken.

The new levies are the greatest sufferers. These men reach Harbin after a five-thousand-mile journey in a terribly emaciated condition and fall easy victims to cholera and typhoid.

Hundreds of the troops who are arriving at Harbin from European Russia are suffering from frost-bitten noses, feet and hands. It is no uncommon thing to meet soldiers on the streets of Harbin whose noses have dropped off as a result of frost bite. Of course the cholera and typhoid, which is raging, finds easy marks in soldiers whose strength has been sapped by the trials they had to undergo on the journey to Harbin.

Cholera's Fearful Ravages.

The mortality, according to advices received in St. Petersburg, is very great, and is said to be increasing daily. Entire regiments are reported unfit for service.

The military authorities express much concern over the reports from Harbin. They fear that unless the cholera is checked it will render the Russian armies unable to meet the Japanese in the field.

The cause of the epidemic is ascribed to the filthy conditions which exist at Harbin. The streets are full of offal and refuse, and the soldiers have to use the water of the Sungari river, which is as foul as any sewer.

Harbin is the Russian base in Manchuria. From Harbin all troops arriving for the front are distributed. Thus it is apparent that an epidemic of cholera at Harbin threatens the entire Russian army in the east.

No Consuls to Manchuria.

A Washington special says: The state department has decided to find temporary employment for the persons recently appointed to consular offices in Manchuria and will make no effort to place them at their designated posts pending the issue of the war between Russia and Japan. Mr. Cheshire, who was nominally United States consul to Mukden, will be attached to the United States legation at Pekin. Mr. Davidson, who was named as consul to Antung, on the Yalu river, will be sent instead to Niuchwang to serve as assistant to Mr. Miller, the consul at that point.

Edwin Morgan, who was to have been consul to Dalny, will be sent to Shanghai as assistant consul.

BONDING COMPANY PAYS SHORTAGE.

Amount Stolen by Treasurer of Georgia Insane Asylum Made Good.

The American Bonding Company, through its attorney in Atlanta, paid Treasurer Park $22,885 Friday, the amount due the state because of the shortage of Cashier C. H. Troutman, of the bank at Milledgeville, Ga. Troutman recently committed suicide because of the shortage. He was treasurer of the state sanitarium and had been speculating with the state's funds.

The bonding company which was on his bond made an investigation of the books and as soon as the exact amount of the discrepancy was discovered tendered the check to the state. The check was accepted, and the state relieved the company from any further liability.

OPPOSITION TO STATEHOOD BILLS.

Tennessee Representative Presents a Minority Report in the House.

Majority and minority views of the statehood bill, recently reported from the house committee on territories, were filed in the house Friday by Representatives Hamilton, of Michigan, and Moon, of Tennessee, respectively.

Mr. Hamilton reviews the provisions of the bill at length and urges the necessity and justice of admitting the four territories as two states. The minority views are signed by Representatives Moon, Loyd, Robinson, of Indiana and Thayer.

After the president's pass the others will be numbered consecutively and issued to officials in the order of their prominence.

WIND AND HIGH WATER.

Mississippi Levees Threatened and Storm of Snow and Sleet Sweeps Over the Northwest.

Friday the Mississippi river at Memphis registered 37.8 feet, a rise of 4.8 feet in three days. This stage is 4 8-10 above the danger line, and prospects now point to 38 feet, or possibly higher water.

The strain upon the levees continues to increase with the increasing height of the flood, against which an unceasing watch must be maintained night and day.

Captain Lucas and Chief Engineer Pharr expresses firm convictions that the levees with careful watching will stand the ordeal. Active measures, however, are being taken to guard against every approach of the water.

A number of streets in North Memphis have been overflowed with backwater from Bayou Gayoso, delaying traffic to some extent, but no damage has occurred. Railroads have experienced no interruption whatever, and it will take a 40-foot stage of water to give them any serious trouble.

Notices have been given to steamboat captains passing the exposed levee in the vicinity of Luxora, Ark., to reduce speed or keep on the opposite side of the river in order to prevent damage to the levee from wave wash. The water at this point is high upon the levee and is causing considerable alarm to the inhabitants of that vicinity.

The levees at Golden lake and Bradley Landing, Ark., are under a very severe strain and forces are at work topping and strengthening them. The water on the Arkansas side, opposite Memphis covers the low lands to a distance of from 15 to 20 miles.

Snow Storm in Dakota.

A severe wind and snow storm prevailed over North and South Dakota. Thursday night and Friday, and in some instances railroad traffic was blocked and telegraph service seriously hindered.

Fair Building Wrecked.

The high wind that prevailed in St. Louis Friday completely destroyed the partially completed bazar building in the Japanese reservation in the world's fair, not a timber being left standing. None of the workmen was injured. The work of reconstruction was begun almost immediately. No other buildings on the grounds were damaged.

Blizzard in Nebraska.

Nebraska was swept by the worst blizzard of the year Friday and the most severe April storm known in many years. A fine sheet of sleet and snow was driven by a wind that at times reached the proportions of a hurricane.

Minor damage was reported from several towns. Cattle on the ranges turned out for spring grazing will suffer, the temperature having fallen 20 degrees within twelve hours.

REPORT ON THE ANTI-JUG LAW

Filed by Representative Clayton in the House---Finding is Favorable.

A Washington special says: A report favoring the passage of the Hepburn and Dolliver bill granting the state's police power over original packages of liquor shipped within their borders as interstate commerce was filed in the house Friday by Representative Clayton, of Alabama. The report says:

"There has arisen considerable misapprehension as to the meaning and purpose of the proposed legislation. It has been said by some to be a prohibition measure and by others to be an attempt to deprive the individual citizen of the right to have beer, wine and other liquors shipped to him from another state for his own use and enjoyment. Neither of the assertions is true, as (we think) has been demonstrated.

"This bill is not intended to prohibit the sale and use of beer, wine or other intoxicating liquors which have been uniformly held by the United States to be legitimate articles of commerce, nor is the measure designed to abridge the right of a citizen of one state to import from another state such beverages as he may desire for his own use, as before saying. The purpose of ths proposition law and its sole purpose is to allow each state to carry out its own domestic or internal policy in regard to the control of intoxicating beverages within the boundaries of the state.

"The sole effect will be to permit the state, if it so wills, to circumscribe the sale of intoxicating beverages within its boundaries to the full extent that it may desire to restrain such traffic or to regulate the sale of the same through the medium of its own laws, including local option laws, high license laws or dispensary laws."

BOLT BY THE HEARST DELEGATES.

Adoption of Unit Rule in a County Convention Caused Dissatisfaction.

The Essex county delegates to the democratic convention caucus met in Newark, N. J., Friday night and seventeen Hearst delegates bolted when a motion to adopt the unit rule prevailed. The remaining delegates decided to support Former Senator Jas. Smith for one of the delegates at large.

FROM WASHINGTON

The Acts and Words of Our Law Makers.

APRIL 8TH.

The contracts for cancelling machines used by the postoffice department was debated at length in the senate in connection with the postoffice appropriation bill. Mr. Culberson introduced an amendment reducing the rental of the machines and the democratic senators charged that the rental now paid was the same that was paid under the contracts made by George W. Beavers when he was chief of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department and that they were excessive. Mr. Lodge denied the charge, saying that there was no proof in its truth.

The postoffice bill was still under consideration when the senate adjourned.

The house passed a large number of bills, including the Philippine shipping bill and the bill appropriating $475,000 in the aid of the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition to be held in Portland, Oregon, in 1905. The only amendment made to the Philippine shipping bill was one extending until July 1, 1906, the time when the law shall become operative.

The bill provides that no merchandise or passengers except supplies for the army or navy shall be transported by sea under penalty of forfeiture between ports of the United States and the Philippine archipelago, directly or via a foreign port, or for any part of the voyage in any except vessels of the United States. It does not prohibit, however, the sailing of any foreign vessel between the United States and the Philippines nor between ports or places in the Philippines.

Mr. Bowers, Mississippi, answered some statements recently made by Mr. Gillette, Massachusetts, regarding violations of the constitution of some of the southern states with respect to negro suffrage. He read from various decisions of Mississippi courts holding that the state did not discriminate against the races and that it had been fair and impartial in the enforcement of the suffrage clause of the constitution.

APRIL 9TH.

In the senate Mr. Spooner replied to the democratic strictures on the conduct of the postoffice department, and also traversed quite an extensive political field. He defended the course of the postmaster general in connection with the irregularities of his department and charged the effort on the part of the democratic senators to secure a congressional inquiry in the interest of party politics.

No progress was made on the postoffice bill. The conference report on the Indian bill was partially read, but further consideration was postponed on the suggestion that the conferees had inserted provisions that had not been passed on by either house.

On motion of Mr. Mitchell the senate concurred in the house amendment to the Portland exposition bill which had the effect of passing the measure. It appropriates $475,000 for the exposition. Other bills were passed as follows:

Authorizing the commissioner of general land office to transmit original papers to be used as evidence.

Providing for free admission to the Lincoln museum in Washington.

The recent executive order of the president relating to age as evidence of pensionable disability furnished the text for an appeal by W. Bourke Cochran to the house to uphold the honor of that body in refusing to submit to what he alleged to be the usurpation of the legislative authority of congress by the executive. In anticipation of Mr. Cochran's speech almost every seat on the floor was occupied and the galleries were filled.

The monthly report of the department of agriculture will show the average condition of winter wheat on April 1st to have been 76.5 against 97.3 on April 1, 1903, and 84.1 the mean of the April averages of the last ten years.

The census bureau in a preliminary report on irrigation in New Mexico in 1902 shows 254,945 acres irrigated from all sources. The number of farms represented was 9,285 and the average cost per irrigated acre $16.87. The entire length of main canals and ditches was 2,846 miles, an average length per system of over two miles. The progress made in the irrigation work of the government is reviewed in a publication issued by the geological survey, which points out the necessity of caution and conservatism in the extension of reclamation work

A Hungarian count has written a book in which he calls Admiral Dewey a "mass murderer."

Last winter Minister and Madame Takahira, of Japan, presented Mrs. Roosevelt with a collection of Japanese dolls, dressed to represent court ladies and various types of high life in the Land of the Rising Sun. Arranged in a cabinet they form an attractive decoration, their gorgeous robes of bright colored brocade and gold embroidery blending with the brilliant furnishings of the red room of the white house.

APRIL 11TH.

The Culberson amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill providing a commission to investigate the postoffice department was before the senate and after being ruled out of order was pending in modified form when the senate adjourned.

Mr. Gorman made an earnest plea for an investigation, saying the postoffice department had cast reflection upon members of congress and that a thorough examination should be made.

The house passed the bill reported by committee on rivers and harbors appropriating $3,000,000 for the restoration or maintenance of channels, or for other river and harbor improvements.

Mr. Burton, chairman of the committee, in explaining the bill urged the adoption of settled principles with regard to river and harbor work. Messrs. Burgess, of Texas, and Ransdell, of Louisiana, favored increases in the appropriations for river and harbor improvements, the former urging that they should be doubled and the latter regarding $100,000,000 as not too much. Mr. Clark, of Missouri, made a plea for the improvement of the Missouri river. Quite a large number of bills of minor importance were passed.

THEIR VICTIM

Was the First Man Seen After Weapons Were Secured.

At Ludlow, Scott county, Miss., Saturday night Professor Pate, the Ludlow high school principal, was having a public entertainment. Two young men in the audience raised a disturbance so that Professor Pate asked five citizens to conduct them out of the building. The men became enraged, obtained shotguns and returned. Captain C. E. Young, who had nothing to do with putting the men out, was shot by them as he left the building. He was instantly killed. The murderers have not been caught.

No More Books Go Second Class.

Books can not go through the mails as second class matter, as the supreme court of the United States ruled Monday. The decision was in what is called the second class mail matter case, brought by publishers. The court below was sustained and the victory is with the postmaster general, who has contended for the exclusion of these books. For sixteen years these publications have had the second class privilege.

The two new battleships ordered in England by Japan will be exceedingly powerful, their length, 445 feet, exceeding that of the most powerful battleships by 20 feet. Their main batteries, it is said, will be the most powerful yet devised. The armored belt at the water line will be 9 inches thick with 6-inch armor continuing to the level of the deck. A new feature will be a superstructure of 4-inch armor, insuring that no part of the upper works will be unprotected. Formal orders for these battleships were placed on January 30th. They are to have a speed of 19 knots and will be able to discharge eleven tons of projectiles per minute from their main batteries.

The police of Berlin and other European capitals are being warned by Scotland to maintain the strictest vigilance for persons going to points at which Kaiser Wilhelm touches en tour. It is evident that a body of conspirators with a serious plot on foot are meeting in London.

In 1880 the south had but 20,500 miles of railway. In 1900 there were over fifty-four thousand miles, representing a new influx of capital to the amount of $1,500,000,000.

April 19th, Patriots' day, is a legal holiday in Massachusetts, as is April 21st, anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, in Texas.

Tennessee farmers want the state to appropriate $5,000 to develop the live stock investigations now in progress and to extend experiments in breeding and feeding.

There are 644,000 farmers in Texas, the largest number of all the states of the union. Georgia comes next with 522,000.

Southwestern men claim to have obtained good results from feeding the common desert cactus to cattle. They say the dangerous points become soft when chopped up and boiled or soaked in water. The department of agriculture is investigating the matter.

Waterbury, Conn., will send a beautifully carved marble watch to the world's fair. Both the watch and chain were cut from a solid piece of stone.

Two years ago Monday General Wade Hampton died, followed the next day by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage.

Senator Depew has been decided upon as temporary chairman of the national republican convention.

Samuel Hoar, a distinguished Massachusetts lawyer and nephew of Senator Hoar, died Monday.

At St. Louis Saturday the Japanese bazaar building on the fair grounds was blown down.

It is reported that Russia will have fully a half million soldiers in the field.

Hon. John D. Long has been made leader of the State Temperance Society of Massachusetts.

COMER NOMINATED

And All Congressmen Will Succeed Themselves

On account of the length of the ballots the count will be necessarily slow, but enough returns have been received to indicate that B. B. Comer has swept the state for president of the railroad commission and will be nominated by an overwhelming majority.

From the returns at hand John V. Smith has carried only five counties—Colbert, Limestone, Chambers, Baldwin and Lawrence.

Indications point to the nomination of J. R. Dowdell, Jonathan Harralson, John R. Tyson, N. D. Denson, John C. Anderson and A. D. Sayre for associate justices of the supreme court. Chief Justice Thomas N. McClellan had no opposition.

Returns from the congressional districts indicate that all of the present congressmen from Alabama will be returned to the house of representatives.

In the fifth district indications point to the nomination of J. Thomas Heflin, secretary of state.

DISPUTE OVER FIFTY CENTS

Ends in Pistol Duel—One Killed; the Other Seriously Wounded.

In Birmingham, E. P. McDonald was shot and almost instantly killed Monday night by Alexander S. Lawson, an engineer on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, who in turn was shot through the thigh and badly wounded by McDonald.

The tragedy was the result of a quarrel about 50 cents which Lawson claimed was due him by the Stag saloon. He made the statement that he had been "short changed" by the bartender, and McDonald took it up, saying with emphasis that it was not true. McDonald threatened to shoot Lawson. Lawson stated that he was not armed, but that he would be back in a few minutes and kill McDonald.

McDonald said that he would not shoot him if he was not armed, but that he would wait until he came back. Lawson came back half an hour afterwards and the shooting took place.

Talladega Boy Kills His Father.

A special from Talladega says. Will Castleberry shot and instantly killed his father, J. C. Castleberry, Saturday morning. He borrowed a pistol and made the statement that he intended killing his father. Young Castleberry subsequently gave himself up is now in jail. No cause has been assigned for the shooting.

The land area of the south is 585,312,000 acres. In 1900 the total farm acreage was 387,690,426 acres, or about two-thirds of the total land area. The total improved acreage was only 145,185,599 acres, or about 40 per cent of the total farm acreage. This leaves 242,000,000 acres of farm lands to be put into cultivation. The unimproved farm lands of the south give a greater area for settlement and cultivation than the total area of Texas. Over 110,000,000 acres of this unimproved farm land lies east of the Mississippi river. The total value of farm lands and improvements in the south in 1900 was $3,182,573,472, and of all farm property $5,158,161,991.

Tuesday, August 2d, has been fixed as Alabama Day at the St. Louis exposition. It was decided upon after considerable correspondence between the club and State Historian Thomas M. Owen, who suggested that this date would be most appropriate, as it would celebrate Alabama's adoption of a constitution.

In presidential years congress has adjourned as early as June 7 (1900) and as late as October 20 (1888).

Justice of the Peace Ormond, Attorney W. H. Withers and Deputy Sheriff T. J. Jones were indicted by the federal grand jury at Atlanta. The charge against them is that of being in collusion and with conspiracy in order to interfere with and defeat the extradition of Charles Blazer—L. C. Harding.

Arnold L. Kay, an employe of the Southern railway, was the victim of an accident at the railroad tracks near the Sloss furnaces. In coupling two box cars he was caught in the coupler his right leg was crushed and he received internal injuries.

Manuel Guavesi, who has been for five years at the head of the Yaqui Indians in Mexico, and who in that time instigated many uprisings, first in one section and then in another, has been captured and executed.

April 28th has been discussed in committee rooms and among senators and representatives as not an improbable date for the termination of the present session of congress.

William Armstrong Turk, passenger traffic manager of the Southern railway, died of pneumonia at Washington. The deceased was one of the best known and most popular railroad men in the country.

By an explosion of a stove at the Ensley steel plant Sunday three negroes were badly injured and one killed outright.

The statue of Vulcan will be shipped to St. Louis next week.

OUR POPULATION 80,000,000

The United States Now Has 79,900,389 Inhabitants.

NEW YORK CITY HAS 3,800,000

Increase For the Country of Almost 4,000,000 Since 1900—New York Leads All the Other States With 7,500,000—Chicago Rapidly Approaching the 2,000,000 Mark.

Washington. — The Census Bureau has just issued a bulletin containing the estimates of population for 1901, 1902 and 1903 for all the cities having 10,000 or more inhabitants in 1900 and for States and Territories. According to the figures presented, the total estimated population of the United States, exclusive of Alaska and the insular possessions of the United States, is 79,900,398. This is an increase of 3,905,814 since the census of 1900. The population is estimated for 438 cities having 10,000 or more inhabitants in 1900. According to these estimates, New York is now a city of 3,716,139 inhabitants; Chicago is rapidly approaching the two million mark, having 1,873,880 inhabitants; Philadelphia has 1,367,716; St. Louis has just passed and Boston has almost reached the 600,000 mark; Baltimore has 531,313; Cleveland is now a considerable distance ahead of Cincinnati, which cities have 414,950 and 332,234, respectively. Buffalo has also considerably increased its population, being credited with 381,403 inhabitants. San Francisco and Pittsburg are also close competitors, the former having 355,919 and the latter 345,043. Detroit, Milwaukee and New Orleans have just passed 300,000, and Washington is close to that figure.

The report shows also that in the number of towns and cities of over 10,000 inhabitants Massachusetts is in the lead, with forty-seven, containing a total of 2,197,706 inhabitants; but this total of urban population, of course, is not as large as that of New York, Pennsylvania or Illinois.

Considered by States, New York leads in population, with more than 7,500,000; Pennsylvania exceeds 6,500,000 and Illinois has passed 5,000,000; Texas is looming up with over 3,000,000, having passed Missouri. Twenty-two States now have less than 1,000,000 inhabitants each, and fourteen exceed 2,000,000 each.

The report also says that hereafter the Census Bureau will make annual estimates of population, based upon what is known as the arithmetical method, or upon the assumption that the annual increase for each year since the last census will be one-tenth of the decennial increase between the last two censuses. The bulletin adds:

The country as a whole and most of the States and cities are growing with a steadily decreasing per cent. of increase. As this condition has obtained in the United States for the last twenty years, it is likely to hold good in the future. Under such conditions the arithmetical method has been proved more accurate than any alternative method. Estimates by this method, based on the census population of 1880 and 1890, were made for the seventy-eight cities, each of which had over 50,000 inhabitants in 1900, and the results compared with the census count. The estimates gave these cities a total annual increase of 407,028 between 1890 and 1900. The count showed an actual average increase of 414,793, or closer than estimates based on the vote cast or the number of names in a directory or local census of school children.

The following are the estimates of the population in 1903 of all cities given 25,000 and upward in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Connecticut:

New York—Albany, 93,920; Auburn, 31,692; Binghamton, 41,039; Buffalo, 381,403; Elmira, 37,106; Kingston, 25,516; New York, 3,716,139; Newburg, 25,501; Rochester, 170,798; Schenectady, 43,538; Syracuse, 114,443; Troy, 75,567; Utica, 60,097; Yonkers, 52,701.

New Jersey—Atlantic City, 33,272; Bayonne, 36,829; Camden, 79,811; Elizabeth, 56,441; Hoboken, 64,080; Jersey City, 219,462; Newark, 265,394; Orange, 25,731; Passaic, 32,452; Paterson, 113,217; Trenton, 76,766; West Hoboken, 26,523.

Massachusetts — Boston, 594,618; Brockton, 43,873; Cambridge, 98,444; Chelsea, 35,920; Everett, 28,317; Fall River, 114,004; Fitchburg, 34,378; Gloucester, 26,562; Haverhill, 38,987; Holyoke, 48,736; Lawrence, 67,932; Lowell, 100,150; Lynn, 72,350; Malden, 36,853; New Bedford, 68,955; Newton, 36,350; North Adams, 26,519; Quincy, 26,053; Salem, 37,504; Somerville, 68,090; Springfield, 67,423; Taunton, 32,713; Worcester, 128,552.

Connecticut — Bridgeport, 77,635; Hartford, 87,836; Meriden, 27,088; New Britain, 28,506; New Haven, 114,600; Waterbury, 56,521.

BRIDE DIES AT THE ALTAR.

Miss Graves Says "Yes" in Marriage Service, Then Collapses.

Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Mary Catherine Eberle died suddenly at her residence, No. 232 Florida avenue, Northwest.

Mrs. Eberle, who was Miss Graves, had just been married to John Andrews Eberle, and as she said "Yes" in the marriage service when asked by the clergyman if she would accept Mr. Eberle as her lawfully wedded husband she fell to the floor in a swoon and died. She suffered from heart disease.

Robbers Get $1500.

The Government trading post at Ross Fork, Idaho, has been held up by two masked men, who secured about $1500. They bound and gagged Pyke, the storekeeper, and rifled the safe.

IRON HORSE KILLS INDIANS

Three Victims of a Rear-End Railway Collision.

Big Chief White Horse, Mortally Hurt, Smokes a Pipe While a Dirge is Being Sung.

Ill. — Indian stoicism and grief were dramatically exemplified in a wreck on the Northwestern Railway, near Melrose Park. The wreck followed a rear end collision, due to a fog. Three of the red men, who were on their way to New York to become members of Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, were killed outright and more than twenty were injured, several of them perhaps fatally. The dead are:

Killed Head, Philip Irontail, Jr., and Thomas Comelast. The injured include Big Chief White Horse, will die; Luther Standing Bear, will die; Annie Gooseface, will die; Mrs. Thomas Comelast, wife of one of the killed; Thomas Comelast, Jr., six years old, son of the dead man; Sammy Lone Bear, Abraham Good Crow, Blind Eagle, Little Elk, Charge the Enemy, Chief Highball, at the head of the delegation of the Sioux, and William Sitting Bull, son of Chief Sitting Bull.

Sixty Indians were on the rear car of the Omaha passenger train. The car was struck by the fast mail from San Francisco and telescoped. After the crash there was silence for a moment, and then uncanny sounds of mental distress, physical suffering and death chants were heard.

Rescuing parties found the Indians in native costume. Many of the red men had painted their faces prior to the collision. In stoical silence the uninjured stood around while their comrades were being taken from the wreck or lent assistance where opportunity was afforded.

The accident did not come upon the Indians without warning. Luther, Standing Bear's infant son, died just as the party was about to leave the reservation. The father, who is regarded as a prophet, predicted then that the journey would be unlucky and full of misfortune.

Big Chief White Horse, the oldest Indian in the party, was taken from the rear part of the wreckage with the bodies of Killed Head, Irontail and Comelast. His body were severely injured and his legs were broken but his stolid countenance gave no hint of the pain he was suffering.

Getting a pipe from Charliey Old Bear, who had helped to chop the wreckage from around him, he smoked placidly while the surgeons dressed his wounds.

"You are going to die," a doctor told him. "Better not smoke."

"Ugh," responded the old warrior, "I smoke last time then."

While the dead and wounded were still in the field beside the track, Chief High Bear went to the manager, William McCune, and demanded that the entire tribe return at once to the Pine Ridge agency, whence they had come.

"We fear the iron horse," said High Bear, whose wife was among the injured. "My people mourn the dead that the iron steed has murdered. They go no further. They sing the death chant and the song of mournful returning. Come and see."

Within the circle of the dead and wounded sat Big Chief White Horse smoking his pipe. Around this grim cluster were gathered the unhurt chiefs, and behind were the few squaws. They were singing the death chant.

It was a pitiable sight to see the Indians lying on the ground, clad in their native garments, with their red blankets dyed deeper by the blood from their wounds.

The men were all of splendid physique, and the exhibition of calm nerve on the part of Chief White Horse was a good example of that of the other members of the Indian party.

LARGE WARSHIP LAUNCHED.

The Virginia Has Death-Dealing Equipment and 15,000 Tons Displacement.

Newport News, Va.—The great 15,000-ton battleship Virginia was launched here. Miss Matilda Gay Montague, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Governor Montague, of Virginia, named the big vessel.

The new battleship, with a length of 435 feet, an extreme breadth of seventy-six feet two and a half inches, and a displacement of 15,000 tons, is the largest warship ever built in this country. The twin screws, driven by 19,000 horse power engines, are expected to give the vessel a speed of nineteen knots.

Baltimore Returns Contributions.

In conformity with the decision of Mayor McLane, of Baltimore, Md., not to accept outside aid for the relief of destitution caused by the fire, the $2781, received at the Mayor's office, is being returned to the donors. As $20 of the fund was sent by anonymous persons, this sum was turned over to Chairman Brackett, of the citizens' relief committee, for application in relief work.

Rejoiced Too Much Over Fortune.

After contesting his wife's will, which cut him off with $50 and left $50,000 to European relatives, and winning $25,000 by his suit, John Tohrnberg, of East St. Louis, Ill., rejoiced to such an extent that he broke his leg and died from blood poisoning. There being no children, the $50,000 estate will go to the relatives in Europe.

Two Iowa Banks Fail.

The Exchange Bank, of Dow City, Iowa, and the Bank of Buck Grove, Crawford County, have failed. The total liabilities are said to be $500,000, and the assets only $150,000. Both institutions are owned by H. S. Greene, of Dow City.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

Application made for entry in postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., as second class matter.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Apr. 14, 1904

THE PRIMARY ELECTION.

While all the beats have not yet reported figures have been received showing the following nominations;

Probate Judge, D. R. McMillan.
Clerk, W. R. A. Milner,
Tax Collector, J. E. Adams,
Assessor, J. S. Falkner,
Treasurer, W. E. Lester,
Supt. of Ed., Jno. B. Farrell,
Com. 1st Dist., W. E. Riddle,
Com. 3d Dist., J. N. Wyatt.

The Democratic Executive Committee will meet tomorrow to make the official count, and The Sentinel will give a tabulated statement of the same next week.

The ticket is made up of representative men of Shelby county—clean, conscientious, christian gentlemen. Next week we shall have something to say of each of them.

Throughout the State the primary election created great interest, and the few days previous were warm ones.

Comer wins out over Smith by a big majority.

All the old Representatives were re-nominated. Heflin wins in the Fifth. Hobson made a great campaign, but Colonel Bankhead was too much for him. Mr. Bowie had no opposition.

For the Supreme Bench the returns thus far indicate Associate Justices Haralson, Dowdell, Tyson, Judges Sayre, Donson and Anderson as the new men on the bench.

The Democrats only want Probate Judge and Clerk, says the Advocate. It isn't what they want, brother; but what they will get: and that is the entire ticket. This is a Democratic year.

The demagogue cry raised by the Advocate and the populist leaders about the wool hat fellows is breath wasted. These same wool hat fellows will give the populist leaders such a jolt next November, that they will not be able even to ask "who threw that brick?"

The following men were nominated by the populists last Saturday: A. P. Longshore, Probate Judge; J. S. Pitts, Assessor; W. E. Harrison, Treasurer; J. O. Dorough, Supt. of Education. We are told that the candidates for Clerk and Tax Collector are to be supplied by the black and tan Republicans.

The Advocate says when the taxes of 1903 are collected there will be enough money in the treasury to pay off the indebtedness of the county. In the light of a recent loan of several thousand made by the Commissioners' Court there is a great big doubt coming on the Advocate's proposition.

Jas. McGowan, who was a member of the Commissioners' Court in 1896, informs The Sentinel that at the expiration of his term of office there were $7,000 in the county treasury, and that the county did not owe a dollar. Mr. McGowan is one of Shelby county's most reputable citizens, and his sincerity cannot be questioned in the least.

The Advocate says that property values in Shelby county have increased nearly a million dollars under a populist administration. That being the case, the tax rate should correspondingly decrease. A glance at your tax receipts will show you that instead of decreasing, the tax rate has nearly doubled since the populist leaders have taken a turn at the wheel. Under Democratic administration of the county's affairs the tax rate rarely, if ever was above four mills; to day under a populist administration the tax rate is seven mills. How do you like it?

We trust the farmers will not think The Sentinel presuming in advising against an increased acreage of cotton. The high price this spring may have a tendency to make some of them put nearly all their farm land into cotton, thinking the same high prices will prevail for the next yield. We suggest they plant a little more corn—it always brings a good price. And the same may be said of hay. A few more pigs in the pen will net you a neat little sum next winter. It pays to raise good hogs, and you can produce the corn to feed them. "A little more hominy and bacon" is not a bad motto.

SEVERAL THINGS.

"What has the Democratic party ever done for the people in this county? It has done nothing but steal their rights, and will do it again if they get a chance."—Advocate.

The Democratic party kept the county out of debt; kept the tax rate down to four mills (it is now seven); made the railroads pay the taxes levied against them, something the populist administration has failed to do (see court record); the Democrats never practiced extortion upon the people through unlawful tax levies (this the populist administration has done).

Better pull the splinters out of your own eyes, brother.

DEMAGOGUERY:

"Some of the Democratic candidates are loving the dear people to death now, but after the election they won't even speak to you."—Advocate.

The above is an illustration of the demagoguery the Advocate indulges in. When a party organ makes an appeal to the prejudices of men, or attempts to array one class against another by arousing prejudice, the cause for which it stands is in poor straits. But, then, it is only through prejudice—the arraying of class against class—that the populist leaders and their mouthpiece over the way hope to again hoodwink the people.

A LITTLE BRIDGE HISTORY.

In 1901 a tax of one mill on each dollar's worth of taxable property was levied to build "bridges and causeways" in Shelby county.

In 1902 the Commissioners' Court decided it had better specify what particular bridges the levy of 1902 was for. Among others, there is the following levy of one mill for:

"One at Laney's Ford across Cahaba River, to cost $3,300 * * * and to build, in conjunction with Jefferson county, a bridge across Little Cahaba River, near its mouth, to cost $3,200.00."

Some of the money from the above levy must have gone astray, for when we come down to 1903, we find the following:

" * * * and that a levy of 2 mills on each dollar's worth of taxable property be and the same is hereby levied to build the following bridges: BALANCE on steel bridge on Cahaba River at Laney's Ford, $3,250.00; steel bridge across Cahaba River at Parker's Mill, $2,800.00."

The above shows two levies in the aggregate amounting to $6,550 to pay for a bridge which the order making the levy says "to cost $3,300." To this was added about $800 to build approaches to the bridge, making a total of about $4,000. If this reasoning is incorrect, then but $50 was paid on the cost of the bridge out of the levy of 1902, for when we come down to 1903, we find a levy is made to pay "balance on steel bridge on Cahaba River at Laney's Ford, $3,250.00."

The bridge across the Cahaba River at Parker's Mill has never been built. These are a few things for the taxpayers to think about.

HOW ABOUT IT?

The following is a copy of an order made by the Commissioners' Court at its January term, 1904:

"On motion it is ordered by the Court that on the payment of the sum of Three Dollars by each person within the road age, to the overseer of the road on which he is apportioned, he shall be exempt from road duty for the year in which said amount is paid.

"On motion it is further ordered that the Probate Judge, at the expense of the County, have printed receipts, with stubs attached, which shall be furnished the apportioners of each beat.

"On motion it was further ordered that the apportioners of each beat shall make out a list of road hands apportioned to each road, and fill out said receipts and on the stubs the name of each man who is apportioned to said road for One and fifty one-hundredths dollars. And it shall be the duty of each overseer to take said receipt book with him when he goes to warn the hands to work the road, and on the payment by any one of said road hands the said sum of One and fifty one-hundredths dollars, shall give him a receipt of the same and said hand shall on the payment of said sum be exempt from road for this working.

"On motion it was further ordered that the overseer of each road shall give to each hand who works the road a receipt showing the number of days worked.

"Be it further enacted, that it shall be the duty of each overseer within five days after each working of his road turn over to one of the apportioners the stubs and receipts unused, together with all money collected by him.

"Be it further enacted, that it shall be the duty of the said apportioners on or before the 1st day of January and July of each year to return to the Commissioners' Court all the stubs, unused receipts and money that has been paid to them by the overseers of their respective beats."

In the face of the above order some of the road overseers in the county have absolutely refused to accept the cash payment in lieu of the work, saying they had no right to do so—that they had not been instructed to accept cash payment, and compelled men to work the roads who had proffered the commutation fee. Take, for example, the Peter coal mine at Maylene: the men were warned out to work the roads; they tendered the cash payment; the road overseer refused to accept the money; the result was the mine was compelled to close down at a great loss to not only the operator but to the miners as well, until they had performed road work. Where does the blame lie? Who was derelict in the performance of duty? The Probate Judge, the apportioners or the road overseers? Was there politics mixed up in the refusal to accept cash payment?

M'MILLAN NOMINATED.

When approached by The Sentinel for an expression on the result of the primary, Judge McMillan said:

"I certainly feel flattered and highly honored in the vote I received in the primary. This feeling is enhanced by a knowledge of the fact that my opponent, Hon. E. S. Lyman of such high character and universal popularity over the county. Mr. Lyman and all of his supporters are in hearty accord with the ticket nominated, and will enter into the support of the same in the pending campaign with the same enthusiasm that characterized their action in the primary. Assurances of this fact were promptly given by Mr. Lyman, as will be seen by his telegram to me which I wish you would publish.

Montevallo, Ala., April 12, 1904.
Hon. D. R. McMillan, Columbiana,
You have my congratulations, best wishes and hearty co-operation. E. S. Lyman.

I have received the cordial congratulations of Mr. Lyman's leading supporters from all parts of the county. The ticket nominated gives general satisfaction. The defeated candidates, so far as I have been able to hear expressions, take their defeat gracefully, and all will unite in a hearty and cordial support of the ticket."

"What, in your opinion, is the outlook for success in November?" was asked.

"Splendid!" was the reply. "The party was never in better shape, as will be seen by the fine vote polled in the primary. The day being Monday, and a fine day for working in the field, quite a number remained at home and worked. I have reason to believe that the entire Democratic ticket will be elected in November."

A LOYAL MAN.

Hon. E. S. Lyman, of Montevallo, who is in the city, said in an interview with The Sentinel yesterday, speaking of his defeat for the Democratic nomination for Probate Judge:

"Those of my friends through out the county, who honored me by their votes in the primary, have my profound thanks. To my friends in my home beat, I can only say that my command of language is insufficient to express the measure of my appreciation for the interest and fidelity they have exhibited. The greatest consolation that comes to me in this defeat," said Mr. Lyman, feelingly, "is that I am to remain among and as one of them."

In speaking of his opponent, Mr. Lyman said: "Judge McMillan's popularity, force of character, many virtues; his experience and ability and the splendid victory he has achieved in the primary, insure him the election in November, and the same can be said of the entire ticket." Continuing, Mr. Lyman said: "My friends, putting aside disappointments and regrets, will fall into the ranks of the victor, as would have been expected of my opponents had I received the nomination, and with the goal still in front we will press on as men of one mind, to the full fruition of our hopes and purposes, as a party."

People who know Mr. Lyman as he is, a high-minded, honorable, christian man, will not be surprised at the above expressions from him. He is a loyal Democrat and ever has been. He is disappointed at defeat—that is but natural, but we venture the assertion that Mr McMillan will not have a more ardent supporter than Ed. Lyman. He is that kind of a Democrat—loyal to his party and ticket at all times and under all circumstances. He has nothing to regret in his course and manner during the primary campaign.

All Confederate veterans in Shelby county will be interested in a letter published elsewhere in this issue, written by R. O. Camp, of Wilton. The columns of The Sentinel are open to any who may have anything to say upon the subject. The object sought to be attained is surely a meritorious one, and will appeal to every wife or daughter of Confederate soldiers in Shelby.

Daughters of Confederacy.

Wilton, Ala. April 4th, 1904.
Editor Sentinel:

Being in Columbiana a few days ago, it impressed me, after talking with Comrades Johnston and O'Hara, that the old Confederate Veterans are being left behind in this rush for pelf.

I wish to call the attention of every Confederate veteran to the fact that we are not organized in Shelby county—that Montevallo, Calera, Columbiana and Wilsonville each, should thoroughly organize. Every one of these points named should organize a Camp and get every Confederate veteran to join it. If the annual dues 10 cents per year are not available, those, of us who are able can certainly contribute this amount so that not one old Confederate veteran should be left out.

I note that in moving among the Confederate veterans at court while in Columbiana that not one Cross of Honor has been distributed in Shelby county. Every old soldier with a correct record is entitled to one of these Crosses, and I would respectfully suggest to the Grand Mothers of Shelby county who went through the time that tried men's souls and made history for the Southern people from 1861 to 1865, that they consult with Comrades Johnston and O'Hara and perfect an organization of the Daughters of Confederacy, and communicate with Mrs. Gabbett, care of Crankshaw the Jeweler in Atlanta, Ga., who will give all information necessary.

The old Confederate soldier, who braved everything for our devoted country should be honored above everything else, and it belongs to the brave women of the south, worthy descendants of those men, who braved everything for their Southern soldier boys to do their duty.

Yours very truly,
R. O. Camp,
Co. D, 1st Confederate Ga. Reg.

The Best Family Salve.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel gives instant relief from burns, cures cuts, bruises, sores, eczema, Tetter and all abrasions of the skin. In buying With Hazel Salve it is only necessary to see that you get the genuine DeWitt's Witch hazel salve and a cure is certain. There are many cheap counterfeits on the market, all of which are worthless and quite a few are dangerous, while Dewitt's are perfectly harmless and cures. Sold at Williams Bros.

"Bessemer is the strong hold of Jefferson," says the Birmingham Ledger. That's tough on Bessemer. However, the Ledger appears to have a pretty good hold on the Hearst b b-b-oom.

Good for Children.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough cure gives immediate relief in all cases of cough, croup and lagripe because it does not pass immediately in the stomach but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood tissues. One Minute Cough Cure is pleasant to take and it is good alike for young and old. Sold by Williams Bros.

"The Cleveland faction is talking for Parker, but is working for Cleveland delegates."—Hearst anxiety in the Birmingham Ledger.

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to with stand each succeding colds and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by Bandy Drug Company.

The regular monthly meeting of the Shelby County Medical Association was held in Calera Tuesday, nearly all the members being present. The visiting physicians were nicely entertained by the physicians of Calera. Before adjourning, the Association appointed a committee to draught resolutions relative to the recent death of Dr. K. F. Best Cough Medicine for Children.

When you buy a cough medicine for small children you want one in which you can place implicit confidence. You want one that not only relieves but cures. You want one that is unquestionable harmless. You want one that is pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all these conditions. There is nothing so good for the cough and colds incident to childhood. It is also a preventive and cure for croup, and there is no danger whatever from whooping cough when it is given. It has been used in many epidemics of that disease with perfect success. For sale by Bandy Drug Co.

Next week the attention of Circuit Court will be occupied with criminal cases.

Nothing Equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for Bowel Complaints in Children.

"We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in our family for years," Mrs. J. B. Cooke, of Nederland, Tex. "We have given it to all of our children for croup. We used other medicines for the same purpose, but never found anything to Chamberlain's. If you will use it as directed it will always cure." For at Bandy Drug Co

Farr-Armstrong.

Sunday, cool as it was, was a day not soon to be forgotten, especially by the good people of Lynch, for at the Methodist church at 3 p. m., Prof. Wade Hampton Farr led Miss Georgia Armstrong to the altar, and there took upon themselves the vows that made them one forever, and sharer of each other's joys and sorrows.

The attendants were Miss Minnie McGibony and Mr. Robert Crim, Miss Ola Dye and Mr. J. Oscar Payne; the ushers were Prof. W. S. McEwen and Mr. C. B. Davis. Rev. J. Sampley, in an impressive manner pronounced the ceremony.

The church was filled with admiring friends of the young couple. Promptly at 3:45 Prof. John M. Dye, seated at the organ, took up the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, while the bridal party filed up the aisle.

The groom is one of our best young men, and is a high-toned christian gentleman; the bride is one of our popular belles. These young people have scores of loyal friends who wish them unbounded happiness through life's uneven pathway. May their joys be many and their sorrows few.

JUST A LITTLE TALK,

So many people think trial judges are cold hearted, have little or no feeling and show no mercy to unfortunates who happen to break into their court. How mistaken an idea! A few evenings ago, Judge Alston, who is presiding at the term of court now in session, told of a little circumstance that came to him only a short time ago. "The hardest task of my life," said Judge Alston, "was to sentence a man a short time ago who had been convicted of manslaughter. His young wife sat beside him—as she had done all through the trial. It was the last day of court and I had to sentence him, and I would have been glad if his wife had not been present. As I looked into the face of that woman I could see how it was drawn with anguish, how utterly miserable she was, and in her eyes was an appealing look that touched me deeply. When I told the prisoner to stand up, he passed to his wife a little babe but a few months old; it smiled and cooed in its innocence as he had fondled it. The wife and mother made a brave effort to control her emotion. I shall never forget the picture; it almost unnerved me. I passed sentence as quickly as possible and left the court room." As Judge Alston told of the incident, his eyes filled with tears, and there was a tremor in his voice which showed that the scene was still fresh in his memory. The Judge was in a reminiscent mood, and he told of another instance where a man was convicted in his court for mortgaging property a second time. "It was a case of entire ignorance of the gravity of his act, and of the law," said Judge Alston. Just before sentence was passed, it developed that the convicted man was an old Confederate soldier—one of General Forrest's men. He could not tell to what Company and Regiment he belonged. "What evidence have you to show you were a Confederate soldier?" asked the Judge. Quickly brushing back the gray hair from his forehead, a great scar was revealed—the mark of a saber cut. Then placing a hand upon his breast, said: "Here, too, Judge." He was given the minimum sentence, and within a few weeks Judge Alston was instrumental in securing a full pardon for the old man. No doubt every trial judge has had experiences similar to those of Judge Alston—little life stories that cause a something to come up in the throat and a tugging at the heart-strings.

"I was in Columbiana in 1864," said R. O. Camp, of Wilton, who was attending court here last week. "I was military telegrapher with General Johnston at the time. Was at Calera for a short time, and I remember there wasn't much of anything there at that time but a limekiln. Columbiana, at that time was a little hamlet, but the people who lived here then were of the same big hearted kind who live here now—nothing too good for the deserving stranger who comes among them. On our way to Calera from this point we took dinner at Shelby Springs, which at that time was nothing but a hospital camp. Those days were trying ones to Southern people, but there are but few of them living now who remember just how trying they were." Mr. Camp is very much interested in having the old veterans organize Camps all over Shelby county, and in another column of this issue of The Sentinel will be found a letter from him upon that subject.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Milner, of Montgomery, arrived in the city on Monday. Mr. Milner went to Nashville Monday night to take out his run as mail agent between Nashville and Montgomery, while Mrs. Milner will remain for a few weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. Mason.

"PE-RU-NA TONES UP THE SYSTEM IF TAKEN IN THE SPRING,"

SAYS THIS BEAUTIFUL YOUNG GIRL.

MISS MARJORY HAMPTON, OF NEW YORK.

Miss Marjory Hampton, 2016 Third Avenue, New York City, writes:

"Peruna is a fine medicine to take any season of the year. Taken in the spring it tones up the system and acts as a tonic, strengthening me more than a vacation. In the fall and winter I have found that it cures colds and catarrh and also find that it is invaluable to keep the bowels regular, acting as a gentle stimulant on the system. In fact, I consider it a whole medicine chest."---Miss Marjory Hampton.

PURE BLOOD.

Blood Impurities of Springtime ---Cause, Prevention and Cure.

Dr. Hartman's medical lectures are eagerly scanned by many thousand readers.

One of the most timely and interesting lectures he ever delivered was his recent lecture on the blood impurities of spring.

The doctor said in substance that every spring the blood is loaded with the effete accumulations of winter, deranging the digestion, producing sluggishness of the liver, overtaxing the kidneys, interfering with the action of the bowels and the proper circulation of the blood.

This condition of things produces what is popularly known as spring fever, spring malaria, nervous exhaustion, that tired feeling, blood thickening and many other names.

Sometimes the victim is billious, dyspeptic and constipated; sometimes he is weak, nervous and depressed, and again he may have eruptions, swellings and other blood humors. Whichever it is, the cause is the same—effete accumulations in the blood.

Nothing is more certain within the whole range of medical science than that a course of Peruna in early springtime will perfectly and effectually prevent or cure this almost universal affection.

Everybody feels it in some degree.

A great majority are disturbed considerably, while a large per cent. of the human family are made very miserable by this condition every spring.

Peruna will prevent it if taken in time.

Peruna will cure it if taken as directed.

Peruna is the ideal spring medicine of the medical profession.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

THE WORLD'S WONDERS ON DISPLAY

St. Louis Working Night and Day to Be in Readiness For the Opening of the World's Fair on Saturday, April 30th Next.

THE first few thousand carloads of the twenty thousand cars of exhibits that will arrive at the World's Fair in St. Louis within the next few weeks have been received and unloaded. Large forces of men are employed night and day in receiving and placing the valuable products from many nations of the world as they come in. Any one who has not been over the World's Fair grounds cannot, with the wildest stretch of his imagination, realize the magnificence of this latest and greatest of Universal Expositions. With its thousand buildings spread out over an area of two square miles, enclosed by six miles of fence, the great World's Fair glistens in the sun, and is the centre of interest to all this part of the country.

The management has very considerately arranged many of the principal exhibit palaces in a compact group. While there are more than twenty-five buidings of considerable size given up to exhibit purposes, the very large buildings are some fifteen in number; eight of these, the Palace of Transportation, Machinery, Electricity, Varied Industries, Education, Manufactures, Mines and Metallurgy, Liberal Arts, are situated in the northeastern part of the grounds. The main entrance to the Exposition will let the visitor into the centre of this group. As each building covers from eight to fifteen acres and contains several miles of aisles, lined on either side by most interesting exhibits, the visitor will see his time slipping away with a world of things yet remaining to be seen.

The Government has spent more on this Exposition than it has ever expended before. First, it gave $5,000,000 to the general fund of the Exposition, upon consideration that the city of St. Louis would raise $10,000,000. This of course was promptly done. Then, the Government appropriated nearly a million and a half more for buildings and exhibits, and a few weeks ago decided to make a loan of $4,600,000 to the Exposition in order to have the elaborate plans carried out to their completeness. The Government cannot lose much on this investment at St. Louis, for the reason that St. Louis returns in internal revenue taxes for the Eastern half of Missouri alone, over $15,000,000 a year.

I wish I might describe the great beauty of the Government building. It is 800 feet long and stands on a broad terrace upon the hillside, overlooking the grand group of exhibit palaces. Near by are the Government Fisheries building and sea coast defense guns.

The Palace of Agriculture is the largest of the Exposition buildings and stands in the central western part of the grounds, upon a high elevation. This building covers twenty acres of ground, the equivalent of a small farm, and contains many thousands of exhibits, not only from the States of the United States but from countries of the world. The Palace of Horticulture stands directly south of the Palace of Agriculture and is 400 by 800 feet.

The Palace of Art, composed of four large pavilions, is one of the most interesting parts of the Fair. The several buildings contain a total of 135 galleries, filled with the priceless treasures of Europe and America, gathered with great care by discriminating committees. As an example of the care with which these selections were made, Italy may be taken as an example. Some four thousand paintings were offered, yet only four hundred could be selected. One of the four buildings of the Palace of Art is devoted entirely to statuary.

The Palace of Forestry, Fish and Game is in the western part of the grounds, covering four acres. The physical culture exhibits is situated in the western part of the grounds, and adjacent to it is the fine large athletic field, with amphitheatre seating twenty-seven thousand people. Upon this field the games will take place during the summer.

In this hurried glance at the Exposition of 1904, we must not forget that very interesting quarter, known as the Pike. This is the amusement street of the Exposition. The visitor will certainly open his eyes in amazement when he sees the array of amusements spread out for his delectation. It is a long story in itself, to tell what has been prepared for his entertainment. The Pike is considerably more than a mile long, and upon either side are arranged about fifty elaborate and extremely novel shows. Some of them cover as many as ten or eleven acres each.

The World's Fair will open on Saturday, April 30, with fitting ceremonies. Upon that occasion an anthem written by Edmund Clarence Stedman will be sung by a chorus of six hundred voices. The music—by the eminent composer, Professor John K. Paine, of Harvard University—as well as the poem, was written especially for this occasion upon the invitation of the Exposition. Frank Vanderstucken, director of the Cincinnati Orchestra, has written a march, and Henry K. Hadley, of New York, has written a waltz, also upon invitation of the Exposition, for its musical programs.

The central feature of the Exposition, or what is intended to be the most beautiful scene in the whole grand picture, is made up of Cascade Gardens, the Colonade of States and the Hall of Festivals. The gardens with their cascades and statuary, and the elaborate architectural features, are nearly a half a mile from east to west and represent an expenditure of one million dollars. It is the most ambitious scheme of formal gardening ever undertaken at an Exposition, or elsewhere. The Festival Hall, 200 feet in diameter and 200 feet high, contains the largest organ in the world, and has a seating capacity for thirty-five hundred people.

Practically all St. Louis is preparing to accommodate World's Fair visitors. The private homes will be open for the reception of guests throughout the Exposition. The prices will be from 50c. to $1.50 per day for each person for rooms. Restaurants are so plentiful that meals may be had in almost any locality where the visitors may happen to stop.

PALACE OF MACHINERY, WORLD'S FAIR, COVERS TEN ACRES.

——Copyrighted, 1904, by the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Manufacturing in Japan is still in its infancy. Only twenty years ago the first cotton factory was opened in Osaka. By 1898, only fourteen years later, Japan had seventy-five cotton factories, with 889,377 spindles. The product is being exported to China and Korea chiefly. In silk manufacture Japan holds foremost rank. In this line her 1901 export was of the value of $15,000,000. The match-making industry has gone ahead, from $942,000 exportation in 1891 to $3,700,000 in 1901. Other important industries are porcelain and earthenware, lacquered ware, flowers, matting and paper manufacturing. Hong Kong China; British India, Korea, the Philippines, the United States and Australia are Japan's chief foreign markets. As all of these markets except the United States are practically contiguous and of easy access, and as labor in Japan is cheap, her advantage in this rapid increase in manufacturing industries is obvious. In the case of the United States, and after deducting the $21,000,000 for American goods bought, Japan collected $24,000,000 from Uncle Sam to balance last year's trading.

Although Luzon is a tropical country, it sometimes gets cold enough there to make a sleeper crawl under a blanket, especially in the mountains. There is an official record of its having snowed in the province of Abra twenty years ago, although no white man saw it. The natives came to town and reported a swarm of white butterflies having descended from the sky and disappeared into the earth. Thus the Spaniards knew it had snowed.

The eighth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social science began in Philadelphia Friday.

DANGEROUS NEGLECT.

It's the neglect of backache, sideache, pain in the hips or loins that finally prostrates the strongest body.

The kidney warnings are serious — they tell you that they are unable to filter the body's waste and poison from the blood—the sewers are clogged and impurities are running wild to impregnate nerves, heart, brain and every organ of the body with disease elements. Doan's Kidney Pills are quick to soothe and strengthen sick kidneys, and help them free the system from poison. Read how valuable they are, even in cases of long standing.

L. C. Lovell, of 415 North First St., Spokane, Wash., says: "I have had trouble from my kidneys for the past ten years. It was caused by a strain to which I paid little attention. But as I neglected the trouble it became worse and worse until any strain or a slight cold was sure to be followed by severe pain across my back. Then the action of the kidney secretions became deranged and I was caused much annoyance, besides loss of sleep. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice, and after taking them a short time their good effect was apparent. All the pain was removed from my back and the kidney secretions became normal. Doan's Kidney Pills do all that is claimed for them."

A FREE TRIAL of this great remedy which cured Mr. Lovell will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

RUSSIA'S VICEROY.

Admiral Alexeieff a Master Mind, a Master Will and a Masterful Hand.

Admiral E. I. Alexeieff, described by Senator Beveridge in his book, "The Russian Advance," as "a master mind, a master will, altogether a masterful man," is the subject of an informing article by Charles Johnston, in Harper's Weekly. Admiral Alexeieff has toiled for years at the building of a new region of Russian influence, a region nearly as large as the combined area of France and Germany, and with a fringe of possible future acquisitions many times greater, only to see the whole of his life work threatened with dissolution. "In this lifework," says Mr. Johnston, "he has accomplished miracles almost, facing conditions of great and unexpected difficulty, amid surroundings alternately picturesque with the glamor of the East and squalid with intrigue and physical wretchedness. Through all these difficulties Admiral Alexeieff has acted with constant resolution, force, rapidity, and constructive power.

Youngest Cavalryman of Civil War.

The death of Oscar Arion Frost, at Ottawa, brings out the claim for him that he was the youngest cavalryman enlisted in the Civil War. He went into the Third Missouri Cavalry at fourteen years of age, and served through the war. It cannot be claimed for Mr. Frost, though, that he was boyish in appearance. At the time of his enlistment he was six feet tall and weighed 190 pounds.—Kansas City Journal.

How America Opened Japan.

A timely and important article, published in Harper's Weekly, is a personal account of the historic events leading to the opening of Japan to the world's trade, written by Commodore Nicholson, U. S. N. (retired), who was navigating officer of Commodore Perry's flagship at the time of the expedition of 1853. How Perry overcame the prejudices of the Japanese and the obstacles that interfered with the accomplishment of his mission are told by Commodore Nicholson in a narrative of uncommon interest.

MUSIC AND ANIMALS.

The Puma is the Most Sensitive to the Influence of Melody.

Some very curious experiments have recently been carried out in the German Zoological Gardens in order to ascertain the actual influence of music upon animals. The instrument was the violin and Herr Baker was the performer.

Of all the animals the puma was the most sensitive to the musical influence. His moods changed rapidly, according to the nature of the melody, the animal frequently becoming very excited and nervous, "just like a Frenchman," as the report says.

Leopards were entirely unconcerned, but the lions appeared to be afraid, although their cubs wanted to dance when the music became livelier. The hyenas were very much terrified, but the monkeys were merely curious and the monkeys were merly curious.

The experiments are to be continued, and with a variety of instruments, in order to distinguish between the mental states which are actually produced by the music and those which are merely the result of an unusual experience.—Scientific American.

Interesting.

To hear the music of sweet bells, and also to test solid silver, take a solid-silver tablespoon, and tie two cords of equal length to the handle. Hold the ends of the cords to each ear, at the same time closing the ears with the fingers. Then by a motion of the body swing the spoon, letting it strike the back of the chair or like wooden object. You have no idea what sweet music you will hear. Try it, and see. —Woman's Home Companion.

Longest Road in the World.

In 1901 the great Siberian Railway was thrown open to the public There was then in operation a total of 1444 miles in Manchuria and 3559 miles in Siberia, a continuous Russian line from Moscow to Port Arthur of 5429 miles; and the new trains de luxe, which will begin running this summer, will give virtually a through service from Paris to Port Arthur, a distance of 7299 miles, 6000 miles of which is over Russian lines.—From James W. Davidson's "The Great Siberian Railway," in the Century.

N-RAYS AND DIGESTION.

This Process Causes Their Emission, as Does Muscular Activity.

That the processes of digestion, as well as mental and muscular activity, seem to cause the emission of N-rays, is the conclusion reached by M. Lambert, in France, after a series of interesting experiments. He believes that these curious rays are produced by ferments, especially by those concerned in the digestion of albuminoid matter. In his experiments on digestion, says a writer in Harper's Weekly, M. Lambert placed a small quantity of fibrin in tubes containing in one case activated pancreatic juice, and in another artificial gastric juice made by mixing five per cent. solution of pepsin with a four per cent. solution of hydrochloric acid. From these tubes the N-rays were emitted, and were detected not only by producing increased luminescence of a phosphorescent screen, but also photographically, thus removing the subjective element from the experiment. As a result of these experiments, M. Lambert believes that in the course of digestion the fibrin undergoes strains which act to produce N-rays.

Prosperous Yucatan.

Yucatan simply boils over with prosperity. Her railways are paying, her banks grow fat dividends, and her multi-millionaires are buying the best there is to be had, whether it be luxuries for the family or a first-class education abroad for their sons.—Mexican Herald.

A Machiavellian Maxim.

Whatever is the occasion of another's advancement is the cause of his own diminution.—From the Prince.

Put to the Test.

A great crowd has assembled to cheer the boy Prince Alexander on his arrival at Belgrade by steamer. "Why do these people make so much noise when they see me?" cried little Alexander. "Because they love you, my little son." Immediately he almost sprang out of the minister's arms, calling out, "They say you love me. Show me your love by throwing all your hats into the water." The hats were thrown.—From "Belgrade, the White City of Death."

Efforts are being made in a Newark hospital to teach a man of thirty years to talk. The subject lost his faculty of speech through a blow on the head, delivered by thugs. Words of one syllable are spoken to him and he is made to repeat them until they come tripping from his tongue. He is being carefully led from speaking single words together into sentences, and it is expected that in a few months he will be able to talk as well as could be expected of a normal child of three or four years of age. The man was assailed two months ago. At the hospital a fracture of the skull made necessary the removal of two square inches of bone which pressed upon the brain. The operation was entirely successful, but although the man could evidently think as formerly, he could not frame vocal expressions or write. After all efforts of the doctors had proved futile the nurses took up the method described and report rapid progress.

The position of women in Korea is very low. A woman may be reduced to slavery by the treasonable misdemeanors of a relative. The family of a man convicted of treason becomes the property of the government, the women being allotted to high officials. As in ancient Greece, the literary and artistic faculties of the wife and mother are left uncultivated, while among less reputable classes the mental abilities are trained and developed with a view to making them brilliant and entertaining companions.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for several years and no children blessed my home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. He tried to cure me, but after experimenting for several months, my husband became disgusted, and one night when we noticed the testimonial of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, he went out and bought a bottle for me. I used your medicine for three and one-half months, improving steadily in health, and in twenty-two months a child came. I cannot fully express the joy and thankfulness that is in my heart. Our home is a different place now, as we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Yours very sincerely, MRS. L. C. GLOVER, 614 Grove St., Milwaukee, Wis." ADDRESS

To Voters by Chairman R. E. Bowdon, Chairman of the Democratic Committee.

TO THE VOTERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

In the beginning of the present campaign, appeal is made to every voter to carefully weigh the issues presented, and reflect upon the grave responsibilities that are his in the consideration and performance of his patriotic duty.

Events of the past few years have removed every cause for, and have largely allayed the differences and feelings that have heretofore separated the white people, and at the same time they have demonstated the absolute necessity for their standing together. This is one of the few counties in the state where a perfect reunion has not been completely effected, and the manifest desire now shown here for a r - l lignment is highly pleasing and encouraging.

The declaration of the Roosevelt administration for political and so cial equality of the races, emphasized by an exhibition as abhorrent and digusting as the most bitter hatred of the white man could devise, should speed the day when every white Southern man, at least, without regard to past differences, shall boldly declare himself for White Man Rule. The Democratic party of Alabama sounded the keynote of the campaign in the nation, when it adopted for its motto: "White Supremacy." Let Shelby county not be found firing on this emblazoned banner.

The opposition ticket in this county was nominated in part, and approved in its entirety, by that wing of the Republican party whose nom de plume, "Blacks and Tans," marks them indelibly as upholders of the Black and Tan plank in their party's platform. In so far as a vote can be construed as an endorsement of "principles", a vote for that ticket must mean a preference for political and social equality, and a recurrence of the avalanche of black ballots, of which we have just been happily relieved.

Fusion government in this county has proven a disastrous and inglorious failure. It has succeeded only in loading you with debt and oppressive taxation, without parallel in your history. Your rate of taxation has, within the past six years, been almost doubled, while your assessed values have increased in like proportion. Repeated levies and collections have been made for the same purposes, and those purposes unaccomplished. Questions of constitutional right to demand such excessive taxes have been raised by a few of the largest taxpayers, some of which have been, and all of which may be, determined in their favor; thus throwing the entire burden of over-taxation on the shoulders of the poor man, with crushing discrimination. Obligations beyond your ability to meet, have been entered into, and put upon you, without your knowledge, consent or desire. Contracts for special improvements made, beyond the amount of revenue authorized by the constitution for such purposes, and your revenue derived from the generel rate of taxation will not meet the running expenses of the county, and repay the money borrowed, upon which you must continue to pay interest. In short the county has been rushing towards strangulation, with ever increasing speed.

These results have been brought about by errors, lack of foresight, want of consideration, over-estimation of resources, and defiance of laws and business principles, on the part of those entrusted with authority. Thoughtful men must—they will—pause and retrace their steps. Look not to the authors of these evils, for their remedies.

The Democratic party presents for your judgment and suffrages, nominees of acknowledged probity, proven qualifications and tried efficiency; men with full appreciation of their responsibility and obligation to the people; with deference to the law and the constitution; who will act within legally prescribed limits; whose induction into office would inspire a renewal of confidence in the integrity of our great county, and bring its affairs out of confusion into order; men backed and supported by principles tried and true, which have been since our free government began—which are eternally right.

We appeal alike to your race pride, your political principles, your interest in the material welfare of the people, to restore in Shelby county, rational, conservative, constitutional government and policies.

Very respectfully,
R. E. BOWDON,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee Shelby County, Ala.

For Probate Judge.

The office of Probate Judge is the most important of any in the county, and because of its great importance the most diligent care should be exercised in chosing a man for the place. It should be occupied by a man well versed in law—not of his own making, but such law as is laid down by the Code and the Constitution of our State. The Probate Judge of a county should be a man of such character and probity as will bring to him the confidence of the people—one in whom they can rely as being just, clean, and who will not trample upon the constitutional right of any man just because he can usurp power through an interpretation of law to his own liking; a man who loves the laws of his State, and will administer justice to all, and in honesty; who believes in the Constitution and integrity of his State, and who will cheerfully discharge his duties, not because the law compels him to do so, but because he believes it is right.

The Democrats of Shelby county have nominated that kind of a man; one whm every man in the county knows—and they know him to be honorable, just and conscientious in all that he does. In asking the suffrage of the voters of the county for Judge D. R. McMillan for Probate Judge, they present not only one of the most able lawyers in this section, but one whose every day life will commend him to to all, and those who oppose him can use no argument against him except that he is a loyal Democrat. He served the people of this county for three years as Probate Judge, and his record as such is the best recommendation why he should be, and, doubtless, will be elected next November. Having an abiding faith in the organic law of his State, and which, by the way, every loyal man should have, there is no danger that he will ever in his administration, or at any other time, trespass upon the constitutional rights of anyone. Judge McMillan has lived in the county for more than twenty years, and is honored and respected by all who know him, regardless of political affiliation, and his following in this race is not wholly confined to his party.

For Circuit Clerk.

Who is there in Shelby county whe does not know "Uncle Billy" Milner? They are few if any. Mr. Milner is the Democratic Candidate for Circuit Clerk, and no more worthy man ever came before the people asking for their suffrage. Never does one see him, but what the mind will fly back to thos dark days of 61-65, when war laid waste this pretty Southland, for he carries with him the marks of that dreadful carnage, and is today a permanent cripple from wounds received while battling for the Star of the Confederacy. No braver Confederate soldier ever lived and no more honorable citizen ever lived in Shelby county, and he has live in the county for thirty-four years.

Mr. Milner is not a stranger to the duties and responsibilities entailed upon the Circuit Clerk, having served the people of this county in that capacity for a number of years, and that he made a good officer the books and his record will show conclusively. Competency should be one of the essential things voters should consider when deciding upon who shall have in their keeping the records of the county, and there are few men in this county as competent to fill the office of Circuit Clerk as W. R. A. Milner. Always accommodating and obliging those who have business in the office of Clerk can rest assured that Mr. Milner will do all he can to aid them.

W. R. A. MILNER.

But few more years remain to the old Confederate soldier, and there is a general disposition to honor these old veterans whenever possible, and Shelby county will not be a laggard in this matter. The Sentinel believes Mr. Milner will receive the hearty support of all his old comrades, for in honoring him they are honoring all who wore the gray. He has lived among the Shelby county people for years and they all know him—and they know him to honor, love and respect him. Those who oppose him believe he will be elected, and of course he will be.

For Tax Assessor.

In the person of J. S. Falkner, the Democrats have chosen one of Shelby county's best young men for their candidate for Tax Assessor. He was born and has been reared in this county, and to all he is known as a man of unimpeachable character and sterling worth. He has been identified with Sunday Schools and Church work since boyhood, in this county, and has the confidence, love and high esteem of all who know him. He is not aggressive, but there is about him that undefinable something that makes you his friend when you have met him. This old world would be much better off if there were more young men living in it of the same sterling character as Mr. Falkner. In his canvass for the nomination and his wish to be elected Mr. Falkner has no other desire than to be elected upon his own merits, and not upon the demerits of any other. His has been a clean canvass—just such an one as might be expected from a gentleman of Mr. Falkner's character and reputation, and it is believed he will be elected by a handsome majority.

His capablility to fill the office of Tax Assessor has never been questioned—as it could not be. He is an expert accountant, and for a long time, and up to the time of his nomination, has been book-keeper for the large mercantile establishment of J. H. Wilder & Bro., at Vincent, and those gentlemen testify to his fitness and capability for the office he is a candidate for, and there are not many who doubt his election. Especially are the people of Columbiana acquainted with Mr.

HON. SYDNEY J. BOWIE.

Falkner, he having for a long time been deputy postmaster at this place. And it is a pleasure to present to our readers a picture of the next Tax Assessor of Shelby county—J. S. Falkner.

For Congress.

The Sentinel doubts very much if there is a Democrat is this District but that desires to see Hon. Sydney J. Bowie returned to congress. He has made a most acceptable member, and one in whom all have pride.

His efforts to have rural mail routes established throughout the District have been very successful, and when he thought there was discrimination in favor of the North as against the South in this class of legislation he did not fail to call the attention of the department to its partisan methods. Mr. Bowie has been particularly interested in securing land grants for the public schools of Alabama, and is now at work on that same line, and has every reason to believe he will be successful in securing these grants. In that event the public schools will receive an added impetus to build them up stronger and better. In other public matters Mr. Bowie has been equally painstaking, and is quick to respond to any request that may come from the people of his district, no matter what the color of their politics. Thus far in his official career he has made an ideal Representative, and the Democrats of the District desire his retention.

We are confident there will be no opposition in his own party, and any that may be outside of that will not cut much figure in the coming election.

Let's send him back with the biggest majority ever given a candidate from the Fourth District. It can be done.

Tax Collector.

For a candidate for Tax Collector the Democrats of the county nominated J. E. Adams, a country merchant and farmer in Beat 11. There is no better man living in Shelby county than Mr. Adams—a sober, industrious, christian man; one who has the esteem and confidence of his neighbors and of all who know him in the county. He is a man of strict integrity, high personal character, yet unassuming in his manner and deportment, and because of this modest disposition his friends and neighbors say he will do to tie to seven days in the week. The Democrats are proud of their candidate for Tax Collector because of his great personal worth and they know that the people will not be disappointed in him as an official. To meet him is to be his friend, for there is in that quiet way of his a strong personal magnetism that is almost irresistible. He is a just and honorable man in all his dealings, and his friends, regardless of politics, commend him as a man to be trusted in whatever position he may be placed.

Mr. Adams is a native of Shelby county, so we are informed, and no county can produce a more upright and law-abiding citizen than our candidate for Tax Collector. There is no doubt of his election whatever.

For Treasurer.

The Treasurer of the county, or of any corporation or firm, should be a man of good personal character; one whose responsibility can not be questioned in the least. He should be a man who is capable of keeping his books accurately, and in such shape that at a glance the condition of the treasury may be known. For this responsible position the Democrats present W. F. Lester, a farmer from Beat 8. One of the things that will commend

W. E. LESTER.

Mr. Lester to the voter is that he is a competent book-keeper, and although a farmer and stockman by occupation, he has fitted himself in such a manner that he is competent to fill almost any position in which the keeping of a perfect set of books are very essential and required qualification.

No man in Beat 8 stands better as a man among his neighbors than Mr. Lester, and this of itself is a strong recommendation. He is President of the Sunday School Association of Beats 8 and 11, and is always found identified with any movement that is for the uplifting and betterment of the condition of those around him. He has been successful in the management of his own affairs, and this, too is a recommendation to the voters of his fitness for the place to which he aspires. He is genial and accommodating, and as such has been proven in more ways than one in his neighborhood and the people of the county have no fears that the funds entrusted to his keeping will be in good hands, and that his stewardship will be all that any could ask. No better reccommendation could any man have than that which Mr. Lester is given by the people in his neighborhood—those who know him best.

Commissioners.

For County Commissioners, the Democrats have nominated from the First District, Walter E. Riddle, a prominent farmer of Beat 9. The Sentinel doubts if the nomination could have been a more happy one as Mr. Riddle is a prosperous farmer—one who is deeply interested in seeing an economical administration of the county's affairs, and because of his fitness for the place the Democrats of his beat urged his nomination, and he has a following of not only all Democrats, but among Republicans and populists as well. He is a conscientious man in all his dealings, believing that justice and right between man and man should prevail at all times. Mr. Riddle was born in Beat 9, and most of his lifetime has been spent near the old homestead of his father. He is admired because of his excellent citizenship, and it is believed he will be elected by the largest majority ever given a candidate for Commissioner in the First District.

What is said of Mr. Riddle, may also be said of John N. Wyatt, of Beat 3, who is the Democratic candidate for Commissioner in the Third District. Mr. Wyatt is also a farmer—a successful one, too, and was born where he now lives. He has taken a great interest in the administration of county affairs, and if he is elected, which appears to be beyond question, he will make a faithful steward. Mr. Wyatt is a conscientious, christian man, and will do what he thinks is right at all times. In voting for him the people of the Third District will not only honor him, but will be honoring themselves at the same time.

County Coroner.

George D. Campbell is the Democratic candidate for Coronor. For nearly three years Mr. Campbell was manager of The Chronicle, which has been succeeded by The Sentinel, and he is now an employe in The Sentinel office. While manager of The Chronicle he became acquainted with most of the people in the upper portion of the county, and is well known to them. He is a hard-working, industrious man, competent to fill the position to which he aspires, and often the duties carry a great responsibility with them. Mr. Campbell's duties in the office where he is employed has prevented him from going out with the other candidates, but The Sentinel bespeaks for him the full vote of his party at the polls in November. Mr. Campbell is a cripple having lost his leg at West Point Ga., during Wilson's raid in April 1865, and he will appreciate the vote of all the old soldier who wore the gray.

GEO. D. CAMPBELL.

Supt. of Education.

For the past two years John B Farrell has had supervision of the public school system of this county and almost every parent in the county know with what earnestness and zeal he has worked to make the schools of the county, and make them equal to any in the State, taking all the circumstances and difficulties considered. Mr. Farrell is not interested in the schools of Shelby county just because the duties of his office require it, but his heart is in the work, and The Sentinel would admonish the people of the county about displacing a man whom they know by his work for an unknown quantity. The schools of the county have progressed wonderfully in this county in the past two years, and the teachers of the county are in sympathy and accord with Mr. Farrell's efforts to bring educational interests to a still higher standard in Shelby county, and to that end he he is bending every effort.

Under his administration the teachers have seemed to take more interest in the schools than ever before, and we believe it is to his credit that teachers of efficiency are being employed all over the county. Mr. Farrell's home is in Beat 11, and was raised a farmer boy, until his great interest in education at matters secured him the nomination of Superintendent of Education at the hands of the Democrats, and he was handsomely endorsed at the polls by people of all parties. And we believe they will do it again in the November election. We are indeed disappointed in not being able to place his picture in our Democratic art-gallery, but we were disappointed in not getting it in time.

Constitution Disregarded.

Never under Democratic administrations were the provisions of the Constitution transcended or violated, while the populist administration has respected no law except that of its own making, and its frequent violation of Constitutional law has increased the burdens of the taxpayers. Section 3986 of the Code says:

"It shall be the duty of the court of county commissioners, at the term commencing on the first Monday in June, to levy the amount of taxes required for the expenses of the county for the current year, not to exceed one-half of one per cent. five mills, on the taxable property, and the amount of other subjects of taxation in the county, as assessed for revenue to the state, as shown by the book of assessments after it has been corrected."

The populist administration put a levy of 6 mills upon the people in 1899; a levy of 6 mills each for the years 1901 and 1902, and for the year 1903 the populist administration squeezed the people of the county a little harder and pinched the people with a tax rate of SEVEN mills; the people paid all these levies—the railroads have paid none of them. That's the manner in which the populist administration has buncoed the people.

The Legislature of 1898-9 passed an Act authorizing and requiring a levy of not less than one nor more than two mills on the dollar "to aid in the maintainance of and construction of public roads in this county, which levy SHALL BE A PART OF THAT WHICH IS AUTHORIZED BY THE CONSTITUTION FOR COUNTY PURPOSES." The Constitution says not in excess of five mills for county purposes. The populist administration levied six mills. Under the same law a similar levy was made in Franklin county. It was carried to the Supreme Court and that body held the levy to be an illegal one. This decision was recognized by the populist administration when it ordered a refund to the Southern Mineral Land Co. of the illegal tax collected from that corporation. No refund was made, however, to the common people. Why? Because, ignorant of the fact that the levy was an illegal one, or not being able to carry it to a court of justice, they did not pay under protest. Thus were they compelled to pay illegal tax by the populist administration that poses as a friend of the common people. Never was a trust more infamously betrayed!

What followed? With a decision of the Supreme Court staring it in the face even the populist administration decided that a tax levy similar to preceding ones might cause a revolt among the people, so a levy "for bridges and causeways" was tacked on to the levy for county purposes. Here again the populist administration transcended Constitutional law for there is no constitutional provision for "bridges and causeways," unless the bridges are first specified and the cost of each, and the bridges built, or the debt created therefore. The populist administration complied with none of these constitutional provisions. So the next year the administration tries another experiment in making the levy, and specifies particular bridges and the cost but failed to show that the "bridges were built, the debt created," or that they had been contracted for. This was another transcendancy of Constitutional law, and for three years the populist administration taxed the people of this county for bridges that have never been built, for which no debt had been created, nor had they even been contracted for. And for one of these bridges alone tax levies have been placed upon the people to the amount of $7,375, and this amount for a bridge that the minutes of the Commissioners Court says "to cost $3,200." The Advocate and the populist leaders will tell you the above is a decree of the courts written by The Sentinel, but it is only plain constitutional law which anyone may read if he desires, and even Judge Longshore admits in his speeches that "YOU CANNOT LEVY A TAX FOR BRIDGES UNDER THE STATE CONSTITUTION UNTIL YOU FIRST BUILD THE BRIDGES AND CREATE THE DEBT." In view of the fact that the people were taxed for Parker's Mill bridge in 1902 and 1903, when no debt had been created for it, or contract made for its erection, the above declaration of Judge Longshore is an admission that the levies were contrary to law.

Now, then; figure up the total valuation of your property as assessed for the years 1899, 1901, 1902 and 1903; from the total amount take one-half cent from every dollar and you will know much illegal tax you have been made to pay by the populist administration, and the railroads have paid none of it.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Sept. 15, 1904.

A Frenchman has invented a pneumatic cap to be worn by motor bicyclists for the protection of their heads in case of accident.

When automobile insanity and midsummer madness join hands there is pretty sure to be a funeral, for the old reliable railroad locomotives are hard headed at all times and batter their way along no matter what or who gets in front, says the New York News.

Don't swear at the telephone operator, advises the Massachusetts Ploughman. A man in New York, who recently lost his temper in this fashion, was arrested and found guilty on the four charges of profanity, provoke, assault and battery and disturbance of the peace. The lay mind may wonder just how he did all these things over the telephone, but he was heavily fined for doing them.

The Paris chamber of commerce has recently revived the project of a tunnel under the English channel, the New York Sun states. The scheme is now almost hoary with age. There certainly has never been a time when the construction of a subterranean hole between England and the continent was more feasible from the engineer's point of view than it is today, when the digging of such holes has been reduced to a science. Merely as an engineering enterprise there is probably nothing in the way of its successful accomplishment.

According to the Chemist and Druggist the native drug stores in Japan are still largely stocked with dried snakes, toads, lizards, crabs, etc., infusions of which are the popular household remedies throughout the country. Various "secret remedies," which are supposed to be as universal and potent in their curative effects as many of our western patent medicines, also abound. Magic plasters are much in vogue, and massage is largely practised, the operators being chiefly blind people. Face paints and powders may also be seen on the shelves.

The automobile and good roads questions seem to be prominent among the issues of the day, says Rural World. They are about to be blended into one question, however, for the better the road the more automobilists there will be. Some farmers uphold the auto side, but the majority are against it. If more autos will improve the condition of rural roads, they are to be encouraged, but if they wait for the good roads to come first, they should be discouraged. There is no doubt, however, that the automobile is a nuisance on the public rural roads. They made it unsafe for a child or a lady to drive along. The horse was on the ground first, and will not leave for the "steam horse" without some conflict.

It comes pretty high for nations to quarrel these days when implements of warfare have such tremendous powers of destruction and so much delicate machinery plays such an important part in the game, comments the New York Press. Military experts have figured out that the war in the far East is now costing the belligerents just about $3,000,000 a day. Of this sum it is estimated that the cost to Russia is $1,800,000 and to Japan $1,200,000. That the war is proving more expensive to the Russians than to the Japanese is due to the fact that it is being fought so far away from the main base. If Great Britain should happen to become involved in the struggle the experts think it would mean the waste of $5,000,000 a day, $35,000,000 for every week the struggle lasted. And these figures take no account of the initial cost of fitting out the armies and fleets.

M. De Iriarte of Manila, chief of the bureau of archives, patents, copyrights and trade marks of the Phillipine islands, is visiting Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. Mr. Iriarte is one of the board of commissioners which has charge of the Filipino exhibit at the World's fair, and is the son of a judge of the supreme court of the islands during the Spanish regime. He is very enthusiastic in expressing his appreciation of America, having visited Washington, Cincinnati, Detroit, Cleveland, Indianapolis and Chicago. Mr. Iriarte is a prepossessing gentleman of the distinctively Spanish type. He has a delicately pointed moustache, a high forehead and not too much hair. During his stay in Chicago he was styled by the newspapers there the Beau Brummel of the islands. He said concerning the future of the islands: "The prospects are bright. Of course, development in the pursuits of peace have been temporarily retarded on account of the recent war; but it is only a matter of a short time before all the fields will be under cultivation and the islands will enter a period of prosperity."

"IN A HARD ROW FOR STUMPS."

You ask for manliest, martial deeds?
Go back to Ohio's natal morn—
Go back to Kentucky's fields of corn;
Just weeds and stumps and stumps and weeds!
Just red men blazing from stump and tree
Where buckskinn'd prophets 'midst strife and stress
Came crying, came dying in the wilderness,
That hard, first, cruel half century!

What psalms they sang! what prayers they said,
Cabin or camp, as the wheels rolled west;
Silently leaving their bravest, best—
Paving a nation's path with their dead!
What unnamed battles! what thumps and bumps!
What sabre slashes with the broad, bright hoe!
What weeds in phalanx! what stumps in row!
What rank vines fortressed in rows of stumps!

And the saying grew, as sayings will grow
From hard endeavor and bangs and bumps:
"He's got a mighty hard row for stumps;
But he tried, and died trying to hoe his row."
O brighter and better that ten-pound hoe.
Than brightest, broad sabre of Waterloo!
Nor ever fell soldier more truly true
Than he who died trying to hoe his row.

The weeds are gone and the stumps are gone—
The huge hop-toad and the copperhead,
And a million bent sabres flash triumph instead
From stately, clean corn in the diamond-sown dawn.
But the heroes have vanished save here and there,
Far out and afield like some storm-riven tree,
Leans a last survivor of Thermopylae,
Leafless and desolate, lone and bare.
—Joaquin Miller, in Harper's Weekly.

MAUREEN'S LOVER

* * *

By Constance Craigie Halkett

Of course, I know that any number of men have been guardians sometimes (as I am) to a young and pretty ward.

But my wife and I agreed one day that, among the lot of them, nobody could possibly give more food for thought and anxiety than did Maureen O'Connor, our niece and ward.

To say she was pretty sounds tame. She was as fresh and sweet as a wild flower. She was as wild as any deer on our hills. She feared neither man nor beast, rode horses many boys would have declined to mount, could swim like a fish and run like a hare. When I add that she was just seventeen, and had shut up her lesson books with a decided bang the day before her birthday, you will perhaps understand why my wife and I were sitting looking at each other, discussing Maureen.

She was, or would be, an heiress, and she knew about as much on the subject of money as those birds yonder near the marsh. She could spend it, though, for she loved giving. No tale of distress was ever told to her in vain, for she had the warmest of Irish hearts. The only way, indeed, one could influence her, I found out long ago, was to appeal to that—it was no good lecturing Maureen.

My wife was looking rather helpless. Maureen adored her, but ruled her—absolutely. My wife worshiped Maureen, and spoiled her horribly, but to me she always played the role of a dutiful ward, though she knew perfectly well that it never deceived me for one moment.

"She ought to go to the city and make her social debut," she said, firmly.

"I quite agree with you," said I, "but will she go?"

"I—I don't know."

"Ah!" I laughed, "you see, we can't exactly make her go."

"Have you ever been able to make her do anything?" my wife asked, scornfully.

She spoke as if she had been in the habit of enforcing obedience on Maureen every other minute, and I was riled.

"I haven't observed that your attempts in that direction have been so very successful," I said, crossly.

Whereupon we both laughed (we possess a sense of humor—a thing which saves so many situations from becoming serious).

Just then, through the open window, we caught sight of a dainty, charming figure, in the simplest of draperies, tearing across the lawn, three or four dogs at her heels.

I went to the window and called her back. She came reluctantly.

"Am I in for a scolding?" she asked, her lovely face mutinous, her eyes so full of laughter that they would have disarmed the severest guardian, I almost think.

"Come in here," I said, "we want to speak to you seriously."

She groaned and gave a backward glance across the flower-spangled meadows and the sunny garden.

"Fancy being serious on such a day!" she said. "It's wasting one's time positively, I do assure you."

However, she lifted her dainty skirts, and with one bound was in at the window.

"My dear," I said, "you've grown up now, you know."

Her answer was an affectionate hug, and "If you only knew how funny you look when you try to look solemn," said she.

Well, we sat down, one on each side of her, and we propounded the social debut. I talked what I believed to be common sense. My wife said a good deal about parties and beautiful gowns, and seasoned the lump with a little worldly wisdom, which I firmly believe she had learned out of a book, as she hasn't a particle of her own.

Maureen sat there as quiet as a mouse and listened patiently, but said nothing until we came to a full stop. It is a trifle difficult to go on adducing arguments in support of a plan when nobody says anything to contradict you.

This was what we both felt, so we paused. Maureen still sat silent for a moment, then she spoke. I had never heard Maureen's voice with that inflection in my life; she was actually serious.

"My dears," she said, and she slipped one hand into mine and another into my wife's, "you've been very good to me all my life," and there was a thrill in her voice as she said it which made my eyes grow suddenly dim. "I've lost both father and mother, but you have been to me so kind that I never missed either—can I say more? But don't make me do this thing. What is the idea? I shall be rich some day, and I know you think me pretty, therefore you would like me to make a grand marriage. I don't care if I marry or don't, but I'm quite sure it would be hateful to live in a dirty old city, and I'm not going to do it, so that is quite settled, isn't it?"

During the first quarter of her speech my wife and I held our breaths—it was so unlike the Maureen of every day—but the wind-up held a family likeness to speeches we had often heard, and we felt that we were treading familiar ground once more.

"Then you won't go," I said.

"Indeed, I won't," she replied, and then there was a vision of gathered skirts and tiny feet, for Maureen had departed by the way she had come.

My wife and I looked at each other and gave a sigh of relief.

"I hate the city," she said suddenly, "but I thought it was my duty to take her there."

"Just what I felt myself," I told her, "but apparently we won't have to uproot ourselves after all; you see, she has made up her mind."

"It never takes her long to do that."

"If she made up her mind to marry anybody, for instance, and we didn't approve," she suggested, "what could we do?"

My face, I presume, presented a blank, for my wife jumped up and went out of the room laughing.

Maureen wasn't my only care, either. I had a son called Tom, and he was as wild as a hawk, and so I need hardly say that he and my ward hunted in couples. He was a year or two younger than she was, but he would have followed her to the moon willingly, had there been a path there, and there had never been an escapade of hers in which Tom had not had his full share.

I had had tutors for him, but one after another these gentlemen had informed me that—well, one of them had insinuated that I had better engage one of the wild beast tamers from a traveling menagerie, as such a person might succeed in instructing Tom. For an ordinary man it was a hopeless task, he said, to attempt to teach him anything.

My wife had warned me not to engage any young man as tutor this time. "Now Maureen is grown up," she said, "your own common sense will tell you that it wouldn't do at all."

I agreed hastily, and sat down to accept the suggestion of a friend who had proposed sending me a certain Professor Bryant, who, my friend said, was quite clever at dealing with boys. I had visions of spectacles and a brain stuffed with classical lore, of some old dry-as-dust specimen of humanity, and I gave a sigh of sympathy with Tom. I remembered my own mad youth, and understood him better than most people could, except Maureen.

But the boy must learn: he was going to college soon to prepare himself for the bar, and he needed preliminary tuition.

My letter was written and duly dispatched, my terms were accepted by "Professor Bryant," and a few days later came a telegram announcing his arrival.

I had spoken to Maureen about it, and she had coaxed Tom into a state of quiescence, which was a shade better than the open rebellion which he usually showed to new arrivals of the genus tutor.

I sent a carriage to the station to meet the professor, and stayed at home to receive him.

I went out to the hall when I heard the wheels on the drive, and I shall never forget my feelings of surprise when the "professor" came into the lamp-lit room. He was six-foot-three, at least—a fair-haired, blue-eyed giant, and if he was more than six and twenty, I'm—well add to that the fact that he was the most attractive man I ever saw in my life and you will understand that, as he stood there facing me in his rough tweed suit, I was mentally ejaculating:

"What will Molly (my wife) say?"

What she did say was so different from what I had expected that I was struck dumb, and only stared at her, wondering for the hundred thousandth time at the inconsistency of women.

She just looked at me, her eyes bright and her cheeks quite pink, and she said:

"He's the handsomest man I ever saw; he is one of the Bryants of Dorchester, a cousin of my mother's (isn't that queer?). He's as good as gold and as nice as he can be, and I do wish he'd fall in love with Maureen."

Which speech, as I have already remarked, struck me dumb.

There was no use in reminding her, "You said so and so a week ago." She would have waved me aside with an airy "One is at liberty to change one's mind." So I, metaphorically, took a back seat, and waited to see what would happen next.

What did happen was a refreshing novelty. Tom took to Bryant at once; he also took to his books, and worked like a beaver, morning, noon, and night—except now and again, when he and Bryant took a holiday and went fishing. Of this art Bryant was found to be a past master, and Tom's respect for him increased accordingly.

The other noticeable fact since his arrival was still more extraordinary.

Maureen became strangely quiet—oddly shy—a new loveliness had touched her face, and even I knew it was something which could not be accounted for by any physical cause. It was almost the difference between an "Undine" before she had a soul and after she possessed one, or at least the difference between a child and a woman.

Maureen had crossed the dividing line, and, consciously or unconsciously, somebody had won her heart.

Things went on much as usual otherwise, but, about six months after Bryant's arrival, he asked to see me in the library "on business."

My heart sank. He was going to throw up the place—of course, I knew that. He did "throw up the place," as I had expected; but he said to me when he had done so: "I think it's only fair to tell you that it's not because of any trouble I've had with Tom that I am leaving. We get on capitally. The boy has brains and grit enough for two. He'll make his mark by and by, but——" he paused.

"Out with it, man!" I said, impatiently. "I can't stand people who leave a sentence unfinished."

Bryant smiled broadly.

"All right," he said, "I'll go straight to the point. I love Miss O'Connor, your niece and ward. I am a poor man; although a small estate at Dorchester belongs to me, it has been let for years, and I haven't enough to keep a wife, even supposing that I might venture to try and win Miss O'Connor. I am getting to care for her more every day, and I'm going away because I can't stand it."

"Bless my soul!" I said, "you had better tell her that."

Bryant took a step forward, his eyes very bright.

"Do you mean to tell me that you would sanction," he began, eagerly, then checked himself hastily; "but no," he said, "it is impossible, I've hardly any money."

"But I've enough for two," said a soft voice at my elbow, and, turning round, I found Maureen beside me.

"It seems to me," I said to Bryant, "that this is a matter to settle between you. If Maureen wants to marry you, she will marry you, whether I approve or not. I'm not sure whether she wouldn't marry you, whether you approved or not. Anyhow, I am off to the farm; you can fight it out between yourselves."

I met my wife in the passage. Her face was simply a note of interrogation.

"It's all right," I said, laconically. "Bryant and Maureen are in there."

"Then he has fallen in love with her," she said, joyfully.

"It looks like it," I remarked.

But she paid no attention and went on:

"And he will marry her?"

"I shouldn't be surprised," I said, "but of one thing I am certain—she will marry him."

And she did.—Saturday Night.

SCIENCE & MECHANICS

Night ascensions of the Lebaudy balloons are facilitated by an acetylene searchlight on the Eiffel Tower, the pencil of light following the airship.

What is said to be the largest electromagnet in the world has been installed in the Bridgeport (Conn.) Hospital. It will be used for extracting pieces of iron and steel from the eyes of machinists and other metal workers who may be injured.

The solar engine of Captain W. A. Jacques has a small steam boiler in the concentrated rays of the sun and a condensing steam engine. A motor of ten-horse power, costing about $3000, has reflectors about thirty-six feet in diameter and containing 10,000 square feet of surface.

The American Inventor tells of a narcotic bomb invented by a surgeon in the Austrian Army, which may be fired from any gun. This bomb has a time fuse, and when dropped amid a regiment of the enemy will not explode, but will fill the air with narcotic gases strong enough to make 2000 men unconscious for several hours. It is an application of the principles on anaesthetic surgery to war.

The recent excitement in the cotton market has served to attract attention to the possibilities of cotton raising in various places where that industry has not yet been developed. From Bogota, for instance, comes the information that in some parts of Colombia cotton can be seen growing wild on land that has never been tilled, and the newspapers of that country are trying to create a sentiment in favor of the cultivation of cotton there.

Our knowledge of glaciers has been considerably advanced by some experiments which have recently been carried out on a glacier in the Tyrol. The ice was bored at a distance of about a mile and a quarter from its tip, at a point where its breadth was over 2000 feet. The bed rock was there reached at a depth of 500 feet. The temperature was found to be at the melting point throughout the whole extent of its tongue, and it was also ascertained that the glacier bed is trough-shaped, and that the surface ice moves more rapidly than that at the bottom. The holes which were bored have been plugged with pieces of wood, which for a long time will serve as indices of the rate of motion, and also of the rapidity of the melting process.

Ivory in Vogue Aga'

It is remarkable how the cycle of fashion wheels round and round, bringing back into vogue that which has been formerly vulgarized and, therefore, set aside by connoisseurs of beauty who can afford to satisfy their whims. Ivory toilet sets, for instance, are again in fashion after years of neglect, during which time silver backed brushes have been in vogue, which have been superseded by gold ones, and again by tortoise shell sets mounted in gold, at present the apex of extravagance and fashion.

Some people say it is the interest we feel in the Japanese at this moment that has brought back the ivory toilet sets into favor, but others declare that it is simply the moment for ivory. A jeweler says that there is another cause, and that is that ivory is not quite so expensive as it was. It is being used either plain or carved, and sometimes delicately colored with art nouveau tints and designs.

A FILIPINO TEACHER.

A Filipino Teacher.

The advancement of education among the Filipinos under American influence is rapidly progressing. Not only are there now a large number of American teachers in the islands doing daily excellent work, but the number of well-qualified Filipino teachers is constantly increasing. Among these Miss Pilar Zamora, whose portrait appears here, is of especial interest just now because she is in charge of the model school on the Philippine Reservation at the St. Louis Fair, and has been largely instrumental in the collection of exhibits for the educational display at the Exposition. She is a native Filipino, about twenty-five years old. She graduated from the Collegio de Santa Rosa, a Jesuit institution. After American occupation she took an English course, graduating in 1902, and assuming charge of the Santa Cruz school in Manila. Later she was transferred to the Manila Normal College. Miss Zamora believes thoroughly in having American methods and the American language instituted in the islands for the education of the natives.

Filipino Archers

Archery has been practiced in the United States at intervals, in a desultory way, and on two or three occasions has seemed on the point of becoming popular. About 1830 it must have been practiced here to a considerable extent, judging from the trade catalogues and manuals published about that time by the dealers in archery goods. Again about 1875 there was a revival of the sport in this country, and in 1879 there was formed a National Association, which has held its annual contests since, though public interest in the sport has not been sustained.

The Potomac Archery Club, of Washington was organized in 1879, and is one of the few clubs that have kept up an organization. Archery is still practiced in the Philippine Islands, as shown by the accompanying cut.

TO MAKE WALKING EASY.

Who has not at one time or another experienced the tortures of walking in uncomfortable shoes, and who has not more than once wondered why some growing genius did not present to suffering humanity a remedy for the many evils that do beset the feet?

What seems to be a solution of the trouble will be found in a newly-contrived shoe which has for its purpose the comfort of the wearer first, last and all the time. As will be seen by the picture the sole is so constructed that elasticity and ventilation are given with each movement of the foot. The shoe yields to the inclination of the instep in walking, and the compression and depression of the sole successively forces little draughts of air beneath the inner sole. It is said that this new shoe is highly recommended from a sanitary standpoint.

WORLD'S OLDEST CITY.

Chicago University's Expedition Unearths the Ancient City of Adab.

Udnunki, the ancient Adab, perhaps the oldest city in the world, has been discovered by the University of Chicago's excavating expedition in Babylonia.

This city has for many years been the object of search by Orientalists. It is mentioned in the code of Hammurabi, an early king of Babylonia, which document was translated recently by Professor Robert F. Harper of the University of Chicago, who is director of the expedition.

Professor Harper received the good news in a cablegram from Professor E. J. Banks, field director of the expedition, who since leaving this country last winter for Bismya, in Babylonia, has announced many important discoveries. The uncovering of ancient Adab is the greatest triumph of the expedition and one of the most important archaelogical achievements of recent years.

Dr. Banks informed Professor Harper that he had found bricks bearing the syllables "Ud-Nun-Ki" at the lowest level of the ruins. He is certain that these bricks identify the city of Adab. With a force of 120 men he excavated the ruins at Bismya and found the remains of four temples, built one above the other, which he named according to the kings who built them.

The dates became earlier until finally the bricks identifying Udnunki were found. Among the other articles which Dr. Banks discovered are marble statues, onyx and sandstone lamps and many bronze articles. He denied the report that there had been a theft of valuables.

"The discoveries announced by Dr. Banks are of the greatest importance to science," said Professor Harper, after receiving the news. "The site, which is being excavated by our expedition, undoubtedly has the ancient name of Udnunki, which most students read as the ancient Adab referred to in the code of King Hammurabi. Work on the ruins of Udnunki will be discontiued for the present as the excavators are spending the heated term in Bagdad."

Ferret That Likes Music.

Warren Sheley, a young son of Dr. O. C. Sheley of Independence, is the possessor of a full grown ferret, a present from some place out in Kansas. The animal has the appearance of an elongated white rat with a kitten's tail, and is not only thoroughly domesticated, but is about the most entertaining house pet imaginable.

It plays with a string like a kitten and is very fond of music, dancing in a kangaroo sort of fashion when its young master whistles a lively tune. It seems specially fond of a zither owned by Master Sheley, and never seems quite so well satisfied as when resting its long, pinkish body across this instrument and scratching the strings with its claws. In addition to being a rare pet, the ferret is sure death to rats and mice, not to mention chickens. It is said to be able to kill any dog that attacks it, its method of protecting itself being to fasten its needle-like teeth in the dog's throat and then to cling there until it has sucked away the animal's life blood. Master Sheley's pet, however seems friendly enough to his big shepherd dog, the two playing together in perfect comradeship.—Kansas City Journal.

The Passion of Giving.

"Giving becomes a disease in time," remarked a West Philadelphia woman who has had some experience in very practical forms of charitable work. "It is delightful to most of us to be assured that some deed of ours has given great pleasure or done much good. Indeed, it gives us more satisfaction than many deeds acted out from the most purely selfish motives, and will appeal to us after these more selfish pleasures cease to please. It takes a terrific hold on many people. Women who have been able to give liberally have continued after they had nothing of value, sending silly, worn-out finery that could not possibly be of use to anybody. But they have tasted the joy of conferring benefits, of receiving gratitude, and they simply can't deny themselves. Why, people have stolen that they might not have to give up the pleasure of bestowing gifts! Nothing can exceed the lengths to which this passion for giving will carry the victims."—Philadelphia Record.

A Goat Story.

A well-known suburbanite who had been greatly troubled by the depredations of a neighbor's goat was driven to desperation one day when he learned that the animal had consumed a favorite red flannel coat of his. Determined on the goat's destruction, he employed an unscrupulous small boy who lived in the neighborhood to secure him to the railroad track just before the daily express was due. Some days afterward a friend inquired with interest if the goat had been effectually disposed of.

"Not on your life," was the disgusted answer; "that goat has a charmed life, he coughed up that red golf coat of mine and flagged the train."—Harper's Weekly.

THE LITTLE FOUR COMBINE.

By Victor Gage Kimbert.

It was the last Saturday in May. Little Mrs. Fletcher stood half irresolutely before her front door, from which she had emerged after sweeping the piazzas, and then called to a child in the next yard.

"Kathie, Kathie Raynor, tell your mamma and Mrs. Brown and Mrs. James to come over here right away, will you please?" And then going into the clean, sweet smelling sitting room she sat down in the nearest rocking chair to await their coming.

Within five minutes three curious women stood before her—only curious, for their anxiety at her sudden summons was dispelled at her easy, comfortable attitude. Whirling three chairs toward them for their acceptance, she said laughingly—

"Did you think the house was afire? No," and she glanced at the women, one with a dusting cap still on her head, another with a dusting cloth in her hand, and the third with sleeves pinned to the shoulders and tell-tale bits of flour on her arms. It was almost too bad to take you from your work, but I just had an idea that I thought would be better shared, and I wanted to lay it before you at once. You see, it is like this: the hot weather is just coming on, and I believe the thing we dread the most is the everlasting Sunday dinner that has to be planned for, and which keeps us sweating instead of resting; and I have been thinking it would be nice to only get one Sunday dinner a month and have a good time the other three Sundays. What do you think?"

A look of blank astonishment, then a ripple of laughter, from the three was her reply, and then Mrs. Raynor spoke—

"Theoretically, it is probably very nice, but practically, I fancy my husband would decidedly object to fasting, not only as a matter of principle, but of health as well."

"Oh, I have no intention of fasting, or requiring the rest of you to lose your dinner. My idea is this: here are four families of about the same size, whose Sunday dinners are the one dinner of the week because then the Johns are home, and where each family pays about the same for the dinner. Mrs. James perhaps pays more for beefsteak, or chicken, while another pays more for fruit, but taken on the whole the general bills bear a strong resemblance, though the items vary. We are all friendly, enjoy being together, and so my plan is that we take turns in preparing Sunday dinners, and spend the intervening Sundays at the homes of the others, with no care nor worry. It will be worth a small fortune to me to dress for church in the morning and have no changing till night. What do you think?" And again she looked at her visitors.

"I think it would be fine," said Mrs. Brown, "and then I could keep my Sunday school class. I have had to give it up through the summer months on account of the heat, and Sunday dinner, but I could get a substitute for three Sundays. Just think, only three Sunday dinners in three months. Count me in on this arrangement, with many thanks."

"You may count me, too," said Mrs. Raynor.

But Mrs. James hesitated.

"I really do not know what to say. I would be delighted to make some arrangement to have the Sundays more enjoyable and less fatiguing, and really it is not so very much more work to prepare a dinner for a dozen than for half that number, but I am afraid that Dick would not like to go away for dinner, he counts on Sunday dinner——"

"That's all right, my dear," said Mrs. Fletcher, laughing; "but Dick James likes to go visiting as well as anybody I know, and on the surface it is all that need appear; you will simply be invited to take dinner with us or the other of us, and when it comes your turn, nobody need be any the wiser. In the afternoon we can all out to the park, across the lake, or anywhere our sweet wills incline, and have a pleasant and profitable time."

"But," said Mrs. James, tentatively, "how about the hostess, who will have the dishes to do, et cetera? Will it not look suspicious for the rest to come here and go off together?"

"Well, you will not leave me, for I have arranged with Granny Wisner to come and help me and wash up the dishes on the Sunday I entertain. Poor soul, she would have been delighted to have come for the sake of a really good dinner, but I told her I would give her a quarter, and she half cried and said it would keep her the next week. I expect that was an exaggeration, but I know every extra cent counts with her, and it is almost an act of charity to help her get something to do. Of course no one else would be influenced by my action, but I think it is well worth the cost."

"I will get her surely if she will come," said one and another.

"Now have you arranged, supposing there should be extra company? You have to have this thing thoroughly digested without our taking any more time to think over the matter."

"Well, my plans are very flexible, I grant you, and can be altered, modified, amended, or what you please, as occasions arise requiring it, but so far as the expected company is concerned, I would pay the hostess of the day whatever she deemed a fair pro rata amount for the extra guests. And for desirable company, these dear relatives who do not care how much we eat and broil so that they are comfortable, what easier than to say, 'We are going out to dinner next Sunday' long enough before hand to nip their project in the bud. I know we all enjoy having our friends visit us, but there are limits to everything, and when a certain few make it a point to always be on hand for Sunday dinner, I think a mild lesson is in order."

Mrs. Brown flushed a little.

"You have noticed it, too, have you? Well, I do get pretty tired sometimes; of course I know to whom you are referring, and though I do care for them in a way, still when those distant cousins come and bring their friends, utterly unexpected, though I can look for them most any time, and and keep home from church, and make it the hardest day in the week, I do wish they would be more considerate."

"Well, there is a new rule in order now, and I shall expect you all to dinner one week from tomorrow. We will decide in the meantime who can best entertain us the next time, and the invitation can be given in an offhand manner at dinner, and no male biped will suppose for a moment that he is being managed," said clever Mrs. Fletcher, clever, because she knew she was the one woman of the group whose pocket book never was empty, and who could furnish the first dinner and give the others a chance to save up in the meantime for the day when they should serve.

She knew perfectly well that she should talk the matter over with Ned, and was sure of his co-operation in anything she wished, for he was one of the husbands who did not need managing, and if the other men could have known the blessing of such comradeship as existed between him and his wife, sane, loving, considerate, they would have wished for it in their own home. But training and disposition was against it, and so perfect confidence was an unknown quantity in their homes. Only in little things, but the fineness of the gold was dimmed, the beauty of the home-life impaired, to the extent that mutual confidence was imperfect.

Was the combine successful? Most emphatically so, as any one of them would tell you, could you see her personally. The minister congratulated himself because three of his teachers, who had been wont to take a vacation through the warm weather, alleging that they simply could not care for the classes and Sunday dinners, did not even suggest a substitute, and the very infrequent Sabbaths they were absent he secured Mrs. Fletcher, who had no regular class, to fill the vacancy.

Rested, cheerful women ready for the next week's work, instead of dreading it, was a partial result, and four well satisfied households throughout the summer spoke much for the combination.

One day Mrs. Raynor asked Mrs. Fletcher how she came to think of such a delightful arrangement.

"Well, I did not exactly think of it, it evolved as most things do. When my sister and I both lived in the same city, it was an understood thing that every other Sunday only one should get dinner. One day I thought how nice it would be to enter into some such plan with a neighbor; gradually, as I thought it over, I decided that four would be the right number, neither too many nor too few, and selected you three to help me, as first choice. If for any reason either of you had thought it impossible, I should have selected some one else, for I was determined to try it, and equally determined you should enjoy it if I could persuade you."

"Well, I can say right now that I never enjoyed a summer more. Some way, that free coming in made me feel as if I was free from responsibility for a time, and gave me strength to rest, for it takes strength to do that," and she laughed a little constrainedly.

"It certainly does, and it takes sense as well. So many of us take our cares with us continually, instead of just considering them when it is necessary, that we get wrinkled and old long before we need," was the reply.

Ned Fletcher, who was in the secret, helped it on with all his might, many a time with his genuine good humor and sound sense, and also planned afternoon outings during the week when the men would do all the work and the women have a half-day's pleasure. Fish and chickens cooked in mud in a great camp fire, with plenty of plain bread and butter, made a supper fit for a king, he asserted, and they were fain to agree with him; though when some one suggested pickles and cheese as an appetizer, he profited by it.

The last Sunday in September he rose at the end of the dinner and toasted the "Little Four Combine," as he had dubbed them all summer, and then he had to explain, and a merry laugh and a hearty vote of thanks to the originator followed.

"And we are going to do the same thing next summer," said Mrs. Brown, with emphasis. "And I know four others who are going to try the plan."

We Are the Richest.

The United States constitutes the richest nation on the globe. Mulhall furnishes these figures: United States $81,750,000,000, Great Britain $59,030,000,000, France $47,950,000,000, Germany $40,260,000,000, Russia $32,125,000,000, Austria $22,560,000,000, Italy $15,800,000,000, Spain $11,300,000,000. These computations are based upon values as shown by real estate records, buildings, merchandise and railways, as well as the circulating medium in each nation.

Our Occupations.

A Census Bureau report on occupations shows that in continental United States the total number of persons engaged in gainful occupations in 1900 was 29,073,233, which constituted one-half the population, ten years of age or over, and nearly two-fifths of the entire population. Of these 4,833,630 were women and 1,750,178 were children. Those of foreign birth aggregated 5,851,399, or one-fifth of the total number of gainful workers.

INTERESTING TREE LORE.

Talk With Man Who Knows All About Woodland Growths.

"How many leaves do you think a tree has?" asked the man who had read it all up, stopping his friend in the park, relates the New York Sun. "Of course, you don't know. Some birches have 200,000, and each leaf has 100,000 mouths. I know of a 60-year-old birch that had 35,000 leaves and a 35-year-old one that had only 3,000.

"These 35,000 leaves, dried, weighed only ten pounds and the 3,000 dried, only three-quarters of a pound. But they do tremendous work in a season. During a spring and summer, birches and lindens have been found to exhale 600 or 700 pounds of water per pound of dry leaves; the ash tree about 500; beeches, 400; maples, 400, and oaks, 250. The conifers give out about 100 pounds a tree. To stagger you still more, an acre of beech forest of, say, 500 trees, would exhale about 2,000,000 pounds.

"And the funniest part of it all to me is that the water in a tree, or the moisture, really amounts to more than half the weight of the tree, or from 55 to 60 per cent., while the wood weighs but 40 to 45 per cent. In a big forest what you don't see weighs more than what you do see. Funny, isn't it?

"As to forests and water," continued the tree man, "I learned that a partial cutting down of the Volga river valley forests had the tremendous effect of lessening so great an area of water as the Caspian Sea. I figured the comparison and found that pro rata six feet of water would be taken off Lake Superior, eight off Lake Michigan, 18 off Lake Erie and 27 off Lake Ontario. I was staggered.

"Then I found that deforestation, as we call it, has robbed the Vistula River of 26 inches of water, the magnificent Rhine of 28 inches and the beautiful blue Danube of 55 inches. Let me hit you nearer home. The Hudson has been called a drowned river because the sea encroaches upon it. But you're drowning it more now by your deforestation and you'd better hurry up with those Adirondack lands. The salt water now, they say, goes up to Hastings.

"The Schuylkill is less in volume than ever. So is the Mohawk and so is the Connecticut. Even the fish left the lower part of the Savannah River; but they're trying to do something with that water now.

"Another queer thing is that Christopher Columbus' son Fernando, who crossed the ocean with him, was the first man to start the question of forests causing rainfall, by his observations of the wealth of vegetation on the Island of Jamaica."

COTTON FROM THE FIR TREE.

The Fibres, After Pulverization, Are Passed Through Special Machines.

Writing from Rouen, France, Thornwell Hayners, United States Consul, sends the following to the Department of Commerce and Labor:

The French Chamber of Commerce of Milan says that an artificial cotton is now made from the cellulose of the fir tree freed from bark and knots. The fibres, after being pulverized by a special machine, are placed in a horizontal brass, leadlined cylinder of some 3,500 cubic feet capacity and steamed for ten hours, after which 2,000 cubic feet of a bisulphate of soda wash is added and the whole is heated for thirty-six hours under a pressure of three atmospheres.

Then the wood or fibre which has become very white, is washed and ground by a series of strong metallic meshes, after which it is again washed and given an electro-chemical bleaching by means of chloride of lime. Passage between two powerful rollers then dries the matter, producing a pure celulose, which when reheated in a tight metal boiler containing a mixture of chloride of zinc and hydrochloric and nitric acids, to which is added a little castor oil, casein, and gelatin to give a resistance to the fibre, gives a very consistent paste.

Threads are then produced by passing this paste through a kind of draw-plate. These threads, after being passed over a gummed cloth, are immersed in a weak solution of carbonate of soda and passed between two slowly turning drying cylinders. Finally, to give the necessary solidity, the thread is treated to a ammoniacal bath and rinsed in cold water, after which the product is pliable and works well.

In Bavaria experiments have recently been made to produce cotton from pine wood, and it is claimed that the trials have been very successful.

Among the Mortalities.

When the average announcement of six deaths from heat is analyzed it "pans" about as follows: Item 1—Three babies died, which would have died anyway, not from heat, but really from lack of heat, say at the ages of 1, 2 and 3 months respectively. Item 2—One small boy was drowned. It is probably true that if he hadn't been hot he wouldn't have gone near water, but at the same time he was drowned, not because he was hot, but because he couldn't swim. Item 3—An old lady died of pneumonia. Item 4—An old gentleman, who had long suffered from a complication of diseases, including diabetes and dropsy, but who is thought to have died from heat because when found he had a fan in his hand. One morning paper, determined to roll up an imposing total, actually enumerates horses among the mortalities. Isn't the humidity enough without this sort of thing?—Pittsburg Press.

The Czar Plays Cricket.

One of the Czar's first acts after his return from his recent tour in the country was to have cricket-pitch laid out in the park at Tsakkoe Selo. At first most of those who were privileged to play cricket with the Emperor were extremely nervous at the idea of his being hit by the ball, and intentionally bowled wide to avoid striking his majesty.

QUEER ANIMAL FIGHTS.

WHEN ANGRY ARE REGARDLESS OF OPPONENT'S STRENGTH.

A Fox Killed by a Rooster—A Kangaroo Battled With and Conquered Buffalo Bull—How the Deer and the Horse Fight.

When once an animal's temper has become aroused it is strange how utterly regardless it becomes of the strength and ability of the object of its anger.

At Compton Paunceforte, in Somersetshire, a fox was killed in a poultry yard by an infuriated cock. It appears that the fox made a raid on the young chicks, and after killing several belonging to certain hens, turned its attention to the brood of another. This conduct, however, the plucky cock would not permit without a struggle, and rushing at the fox, it was fortunate to pierce it in the eye with its spur with such force that the spur penetrated right into the fox's brain, becoming so securely fixed that the victor could not remove it without the assistance of a farm laborer, who had been an interested spectator of the contest between the ill-assorted pair.

Another curious contest, between a kangaroo and a buffalo, took place in a large zoological garden in the north of England. The two animals, after breaking loose from their enclosure, met face to face in an open space in the park. Without any preliminary quarrel, the bull made a furious onslaught on the kangaroo, which at first contented itself with an endeavor to avoid the charge.

After a few minutes, however, the bull's attention became altogether too personal to pass unrebuked, and using its hoofs as battering rams the kangaroo belabored the buffalo in the most effective manner. Roaring and bellowing, the irate buffalo made repeated attempts to gore its antagonist to death, but with scant success, the kangaroo proving a most "slippery" foe. The fray waxed furious for over an hour, at the end of which time the buffalo retired, not before, however, its carcass bore unmistakable signs of the kangaroo's attention.

Gillies in Scotland relate many stories of fierce contests between stags. It is believed that these fights are invariably brought on through jealousy, caused by one stag challenging another's right to be at the head of the herd.

Using their antlers as weapons of war the two stags thrust and gore at each other until one animal is done to death. It is by no means an uncommon thing for their massive antlers to become entangled and locked together, in which case one animal's horns are frequently pulled right off its head; while on several occasions pairs of antlers have been found on the moors unmistakably witnesses of the ferocity of a contest between these animals.

Horses use either their teeth or their hoofs as a mode of defence. A curious instance of the effectiveness of these weapons occurred at Sheffield Park. A bulldog, barking and snarling, chased a horse turned loose, around a meadow—not with angry intent, but purely from an excess of high spirits. After galloping round the field several times, the horse stopped dead, and turning sharply around lashed out at the yelping dog, with a fatal result, for its skull was cloven.

The gorilla is a most formidable opponent in battle, its great strength lying in its powerful arms. Few animals of the forest have the slightest chance of overpowering a gorilla. A python has been known to encircle its coils around the gorilla's body, only, however, to have its own body torn open by its adversary's hands.

Fish fighting is a most peculiar sport in Siam. The two fish, trained from the age of six months to fight, are placed in a large glass bottle. It is most curious to note each fish's attitude when it becomes aware of its adversary's presence in the bottle. Swelling with rage and pride, they sail around and around the narrow space, pretending not to notice each other, until suddenly one fish makes a savage dart at its unwelcome companion, biting its fins and body. The fight continues until the referee sees that the issue is no longer in doubt, when the contest is stopped.—London Answers.

Three Graces, but Which?

With the announcement at Newport of the engagement of Miss Elsie Cryder, one of the noted 18-year-old Cryder triplets, to William Woodward, society is asking itself whether the complications in which the beautiful triplets figure will never end.

A year ago a friend of the Cryder family could walk up to Miss Elsie, or Miss Edith, or Miss Ethel Cryder and remark without fear of making a mistake.

"Good morning, Miss Cryder. Aren't the Newport breezes simply delightful?"

But that is no longer possible. Miss Edith in June married Frederick Lathrop Ames and it is reported that Miss Ethel also is to wed. As the result of all this the young men of the Newport smart set are always making mistakes. A New York society man asked one of the triplets to go automobiling with him today.

"I am sure the day is delightful for a ride, Miss Ethel!" he said.

"But I am not Miss Ethel," she answered frigidly.

"I beg your pardon, Miss Cryder," he exclaimed, changing color.

"But I am not Miss Cryder," she said. "I am Mrs. Ames."—Baltimore Sun.

For the Telephone.

In the house of a woman physician was observed a very intelligent sanitary device, says the Philadelphia Press. The mouthpiece of the telephone was fitted with a cover, something like the felt piece with which a photographer shields his lens. This cover was always kept on the mouthpiece when the telephone was not in use, the object being to keep out dust, which in a doctor's office might be infected with an unsual allowance of germs. The example is worth following in any house.

POINTS ABOUT COW MILKING.

It Is Not an Easy Task for the Inexperienced.

"Most city persons," said a millionaire amateur farmer, according to the New York Press, "labor under the impression that to milk a cow is easy. There could be no greater mistake. Milking requires a peculiar movement of the wrist, which, if not learned in one's youth, seldom is learned afterward. Some cows are more easily milked than others, but even in the case of the easy ones it has to be done in a certain way or not at all. I have known some inexperienced persons to acquire the movement after a few trials, but they found it imposed such an unnatural strain on the muscles of the wrist that they seldom essayed a second attempt.

"I had a young fellow from the city out at my place one summer who had the idea that it was as easy to get milk as it was to drink it. As a usual thing we don't let an inexperienced person try to milk a cow, for there is nothing that will dry her up quicker than to be made the subject of experiments; but this young fellow was so dead certain that he knew all about it that I took him out to the shed one evening after the cows had been stanchioned and were placidly munching their grain, and told him to go ahead and see what he could do.

"When he looked at the long line of animals, and saw them switching their tails and now and then kicking at a fly, his heart seemed to fail him.

"'I can't sit down in here at the beginning,' he protested; 'can't we take one of them outside?'

"In order to humor him I chased an easy milker out into the yard, and then handed him a stool and a pail. He stood gazing at the cow thoughtfully.

"'Well?' I finally asked.

"'Well?' said he.

"He looked very unhappy. 'To tell you the truth,' he at last blurted out, 'I am—er—person of some—er—that is—delicacy, and on such short acquaintance, you know, I—I don't like to take—' He came to a dead stop.

"'Bah!' I said.

"That apparently stung him into action, for he sat down on the stool like a man who seats himself in an electric chair. Then he closed his eyes and started in. A few seconds later he opened his eyes and you never saw a man so bewildered. There was nothing doing. He looked up at me in piteous appeal.

"'She—she—er—doesn't seem to have any,' he said.

"At that I laughed outright, and he got up as mad as a wet hen.

"'Now, don't get excited,' I said, soothingly. 'Let me show you how to do it.'

"Well, after I illustrated to him how easy it was he tried it again. He toiled valiantly for ten minutes without result, and then, chancing to look up, he saw he was providing entertainment for the entire population of the farm. At that he arose, kicked the pail against the fence and hurried into the house to bathe his wrists with witch hazel."

THIS WEASEL A SMALL ONE.

Could Not Whip Big Rat Fairly and Used Real Strategy.

"A weasel is a wizzard as well as a fighter, and often wins his battles by strategy," said Emmet Wolfe, of Mississippi, who was at the Galt House the other day. I was recently in a fishing camp that was near a large stack of lumber. It seemed that a large number of rats inhabited the cool crevices under the lumber pile, and one day a weasel put in its appearance. We had the pleasure of seeing a battle royal every day for several days, and by and by the weasel had killed every rat in the colony except one, which was nearly as large as a cat. They fought several times a day, and the weasel always got the worst of it.

"One day we noticed it industriously digging a hole under the woodpile, and as soon as the fight began to warm up the weasel suddenly turned tail and sneaked to the hole like all possessed. The rat followed in hot pursuit, and both disappeared in the mouth of the weasel's hole. It was only a twinkling until the weasel reappeared and flashed into the hole again. We watched a long time, and neither animal appeared. Finally we moved the wood and dug up the weasel's hole. We found the rat—dead—and the weasel had dug itself out another way. The weasel had trapped the rat and killed it at leisure, the hole being too small at one end for the rat to escape, which the weasel knew all the time."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Star is Far Away.

"In July I always look for this fellow."

The astronomer fixed his great telescope on a star that locked no bigger than a pin point—a small, bright star, shining with a white and steady light.

"That little star," he said, "is so far away that it takes its light 3,500,000 years to reach us. The beam from it that you now see was given forth 3,500,000 years ago. What, I wonder, was the world like then?

"And do you know how fast these star beams travel? They travel at the rate of 12,000,000 miles a minute. Think of it—12,000,000 miles multiplied by 3,500,000 years reduced to minutes—that is the distance from the star to us.

"Here is a strange fact. The star may have been annihilated 2,500,000 years ago, but we, in that case, would know nothing of its annihilation till 1,000,000 years from now, for whatever should happen on this star would take 3,500,000 years to reach us.

"Imagine a Russo-Japanese war on the star. The war news would come to us a little stale, eh?"—Portland Oregonian.

ORCHARD and GARDEN

To Preserve Fence Posts.

Take boiled oil and mix with pulverized charcoal to the thickness of paint, and paint the posts with this mixture. Posts treated in this way will last twice as long. Poplar and basswood posts can be made to last as long as any others by using this paint, which will cost but two cents a post.—H. C. Hemmingsen in The Epitomist.

Mange on Swine.

Mange on swine is caused by filth and unnatural conditions. It is due to minute parasites, which burrow under the skin. It cannot be easily cured, but if the animals are thoroughly scrubbed on a warm day, using carbolic acid soap, then well rinsed, and when dry thoroughly anointed with a mixture of four parts lard and one part kerosene, two or three times, and given clean quarters, the mange will disappear if the animals are then kept clean.

About Radishes.

Radishes grow very quickly, and will get out of the way of other plants in time to give them an opportunity to push forward. Hence, in order to save room radish seed may be sown as they also serve to show the rows of plants that are slow of growth. The Long Scarlet variety is one of the best. In order to have them crisp and tender they should be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. They are easily forced in cold frames and every one should take advantage of such opportunities.

Thin Out Plants.

When plants are crowded they compete for plant food and moisture. The thinning of plants in the rows will enable the grower to secure a crop during a dry season when it would be impossible to do so if they are crowded in the rows. Every weed that grows near another plant takes from the soil the elements for the support of that plant and appropriates moisture that may be desirable. The best remedy for drought is thorough cultivation, which destroys weeds and prevents escape of moisture.

The Morning Feeding.

Feeding too often is a serious mistake. If the hens are in good condition for laying they will thrive much better if compelled to come off the roost in the morning and scratch for their breakfast than if they walk up to a feed trough and fill their crops. The morning feed of grain and seeds may be scattered in the litter after they are on the roosts at night, so that they can begin as early in the morning as they desire. Before going to roost at night they may be given all the can eat. They will digest all that the crop will hold before morning.—Mirror and Farmer.

Fences.

The question often arises as to whether fences are necessary to separate the flocks. If no males are used with the hens, and each flock is kept in a separate house, they will respect boundaries simply because if the hen strays into some other flock than her own the other hens to which she is a stranger will fall upon her and give her a chastisement. This may be tested at any time by placing a strange hen in a yard of fowls. She will be treated with cruelty and will have to keep out of the way until she gradually becomes acquainted with all the members of the flock.

Kill Early Weeds.

One-half the labor of summer may be avoided by killing the early weeds. If the ground has been put in a fine condition much of the work of weed-destruction may be done with the hand-wheel hoe, which works close to the smallest plants, without injury. If weeds get a start they will greatly retard the cultivated plants and keep them from making fair growth before summer, at which season there is always liability of drought. Weeds can be eradicated from a farm entirely by systematically working against them and preventing them from seeding and multiplying, as the large majority of weeds are annuals.

Feeding Hogs Too Long.

The Oregon Experiment station conducted an experiment in pig feeding to determine the effect of continuing to feed fat hogs after they had reached their apparent maximum condition. The hogs were fed 92 days, at least 30 days longer than it is profitable to feed for fattening, as a rule. The first 15 days of the period one pound of gain was made for each 4.15 pounds of peas and barley, mixed, consumed—the grain fed. The next 15 days it took 5.40 pounds to make a pound of gain; the next 6.02 pounds; the next 6.88 pounds. The fifth period, or from the 60th to 75th day, it took 17.66 pounds to make a pound of gain, and from the 75th to the 92d it required 19.64 pounds to produce that result. This suggests the bad policy of "holding hogs for a better market" after they are in marketable condition.

Seed Hints.

In using seed the climate must be taken into consideration. Corn is a semi-tropical plant, and requires plenty of warmth. Many farmers are led astray by tempting inducements to try varieties that are prolific, endeavoring to secure certain kinds that produce from three to four ears on each stalk. What is most desired is early maturity; but the greater the number of ears and the taller the stalk, the longer the time required for growth, and hence the farmer should aim to select the kind that he knows will mature in his section, though he should endeavor to secure the best that is most suitable to his soil. Corn is a gross feeder, and cannot be injured by too much well-rotted manure, especially if the ground is thoroughly prepared. As a "starter" in the hills, which is not necessary on all soils, some good brand of fertilizer may be used.

Farm Notes.

Never feed little chickens more than they will eat at a time.

Wash, scald, clean, whitewash and disinfect the henhouses.

Poorly shaped eggs are not good for hatching; use or sell them.

Epsom salts in the drinking water is a cure for colds in chicks.

In profitable butter making it is all-important to suit your customers.

For best results do not have the male related to the rest of the flock.

Keep the dust boxes in the sun; the hens like it and it keeps the dust dry.

A little feed will often save a good deal of time in milking a restless cow.

Sweet potatoes and cornmeal are excellent for fattening fowls for market.

A cow, in order to be a prolific yielder of milk, must be a hearty eater with good digestive powers.

Dairying, like any other business, is most successful when grown into gradually, as experience is gained.

There are times when the best of stock does not pay as one would wish, but when good stock is not paying it's a poor lookout for the inferior kind.

OLD-TIME FLOWERS IN FASHION.

They Last Longer and Fewer Are Needed—And They Are Cheapest.

Flowers that flourished in grandmother's garden are the fashion now. Folks who are staying in town, either from choice or necessity, are ordering hollyhocks, larkspur, phlox, thrift, marigolds and the like for decorations, and the gardens about the big country places are filled with blossoms that bring back childhood's days.

The old-time flowers have many things in their favor. First of all, they are cheap, for they are easily cultivated. Then they are thoroughly decorative and, almost without exception, possess a pungent, telling odor that speaks of the earth.

"Another thing in their favor," as a Broadway florist argued, "is their last ing quality. By adding fresh water and a bit of salt each day the old-fashioned summer flowers will hold their form, color and fragrance for a week or more.

"Then, a few of these flowers go such a long way. Americans are at last learning the way of arranging flowers properly. What could be more hideous than formal bouquets of flowers here and there in a house?

"In Japan the art of arranging flowers is taught in manuals just as we teach the multiplication table here. Every girl there at a very tender age begins this study. Each day her task is to change the flowers in every room in the house. They fully appreciate the beauty of the solitude in floral decorations, and I will never forget the expression of a high Japanese official's face when he came into my shop just after landing in this country and saw the bouquets for a bride and her six maids. I could almost see the cold chills chasing one another up and down his spine.

"In Japan one ses a single iris, a single peony, a stalk of azalea, one blossoming branch of the cherry, or a few bright green leaves in the beautiful vases hanging from their polished posts. One never sees a lot of flowers of this, that and the other kind pushing and crowding each other in the same vase.

"The old-time garden flowers so much the rage now do not lend themselves happily to this cruel crowding, and so I say they are a good fashion in the aesthetic sense of the term."—New York Sun.

Intoxicated Wasps.

Wasps have a great fondness for overripe fruit, especially pears, plums and sweet apples. The sugar of these fruits has a tendency to pass into a kind of alcohol in the ordinary process of rotting, and after imbibing large quantities of this liquid the vasps become outrageously intoxicated. They crawl away in the grass in a semi-somnolent condition and remain till the effects have passed off, when they will go at it again. It is while in this condition that they do their worst stinging. A person receiving a sting from one of these intoxicated wasps will suffer severely from nerve poisoning for days.

Curious Custom.

A curious custom has just been celebrated at Klin, near Moscow. All the marriageable girls in the town lined up in the principal street, decked out in their simple finery, many of them also having with them the stock of linen, household and personal, which forms part of their dowry. The young men contemplating matrimony then walked down the serried ranks of beauty as they moved towards the church, and selected the girls of their choice. A formal visit to the parents to arrange details was then made in each case, and a date fixed for the ceremony.

Seven Feet Left.

The Guide—Well, here we are on the peak at last.

The Tourist—Oh, guide! do you mean to say we can get no higher? Don't say that I can ascend no farther.

The Guide—Well, you can climb up this alpenstock if you want to. It's seven feet long.

Turning the Turf.

"Nearly time for turning over the turf, isn't it, old man?" asked the young man of the farmer.

"Yes," replied the countryman, looking at his plaid hose; "better be getting your golf sticks ready."—Yonkers Statesman.

ANOTHER KING JOHN, AND IN SHELBY COUNTY, TOO?

All the civil rights of the citizen in this country are founded on the Constitution. It is a compendium and the palladium of the sacred rights and privileges of the people. It is a fundamental and supreme law, taking precedence over legislative acts and executive and judicial mandates and sentences. "In order to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity," it is essential that the Constitution be obeyed and enforced, in letter and in spirit. No one reaches to the full stature of citizenship in this State, until he has held up his hand, invoking the aid of Deity, and sworn to support the Constitution; no officer can enter upon his duties to the public, until he again plights his vows in support of the Constitution.

No higher tribute can be paid to citizen or judge, than that he supports the Constitution; for then he has fulfilled all the law; he has faithfully and honestly performed the duties to which he was called; he has kept the decalogue of all civil relations. He who will not endeavor to support it, puts himself down as superior to rights of the people; repudiates his duty to them; throws off all restraint; is not bound by any rule of conduct save his own will, and violates his solemn oath. He is out of harmony with the music of domestic tranquility and is "fit for treason, stratagem and spoils."

Judge Longshore has deliberately put himself in this latter class. At Shelby, and other places in the county, he has publicly and emphatically stated that he will not support the Constitution except under compulsion. In order to realize more clearly his position, let us parallel his statement, as written down on the spot, with the solemn oath he took and subscribed when he assumed office. Study statement and oath:

"I will not support that Constitution only so far as the law COMPELS me."

"I, A. P. Longshore, solemnly swear, that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Alabama, so long as I am a resident thereof; and that I will faithfully and honestly discharge the duties of the office upon which I am about to enter, to the best of my ability. So help me God."

Viewed from the standpoint of common integrity, as well as patriotic duty, the oath of office is but a confessed stultification, to the man who makes so monstrous a statement; his declaration being, in effect, that his inclination, alone, furnishes the criterion for his official actions, oath to the contrary, nevertheless, until the over-ruling power of some other tribunal or process is invoked to compel duty at his hands; that he recognizes no guarantee of rights to the citizen, and is amenable, only, to superior force. He would deny that men are equally free and independent; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain malienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that political power is inherent in the people; that no religion should be established by law; that the people and their houses shall be secure from unreasonable seizures and searches; and that the accused in criminal prosecutions has any rights; that no person shall be accused, arrested, detained or tried, except in cases ascertained by law; nor put twice in jeopardy for the same offense, nor barred from prosecuting or defending any civil cause to which he is a party; that trial by jury shall remain inviolate; that the truth may be given in evidence in prosecutions for libel; that the courts shall be open for righting of injuries, and justice administered without sale, denial or delay; that excessive fines shall not be imposed, nor cruel or unusual punishment be inflicted; that all persons before conviction shall be bailable, except in certain capital cases, and excessive bail shall never be required; that the privilege of habeas corpus shall not be suspended; that no person shall be imprisoned for debt; that no power of suspending laws shall be exercised, except by the legislature; that private property shall not be taken for, or applied to, public use, unless just compensation be first made therefor; that the people have a right in a peaceable manner to assemble together for the common good, and to apply for redress; that every citizen has a right to bear arms in self defense, and defense of the State; that the privilege of suffrage shall be protected by laws regulating elections, and prohibiting undue influence from power, bribery, tumult or other improper conduct; that foreigners who become bona fide residents, shall enjoy the same rights of property as native born citizens; that the property of private corporations (such as railroads) and individuals, shall be taxed at the same rate; that money raised by SPECIAL taxation for a SPECIAL PURPOSE, can only be used for such purpose; that the sole object and only legitimate end of government is to protect the citizen in the enjoyment of life, liberty and property, and when the government assumes other functions, it is usurpation and oppression. These are some of the things the citizens of Alabama are guaranteed in the Constitution, and which Judge Longshore says he will not support without compulsion.

It is an appalling position for any man, not to say judicial officer to occupy; this assumed by Judge Longshore, who, officially, deals with the cherished rights of the people in Shelby county.

Have not the acts of Judge Longshore followed the trend of his declared attitude toward the Constitution? Take the removal of special funds from the channel prescribed by the Constitution. Take the continued levy of illegal taxes, by resisting which the railroads are released from paying the same rate as the individual, and the fact that such acts must be stopped, if at all, by judgment of a superior court—legal compulsion.

Now, that Judge Longshore has defined this as his deliberate conduct and future policy, let the people beware of him, and elect a judge who will support the Constitution, in which is embodied essential liberty and welfare—will support it, not from compulsion, but from choice, desire; from his sense of duty, from patriotic love, and an appreciation of his solemn oath.

The Advocate is So Truthful, You Know.

The Advocate, which poses as the very embodiment of all that is truthful, fair and just, said a short time ago:

"There are more than a thousand white men in Shelby county now disfranchised by the new Constitution; The Sentinel likes it; the Advocate don't."

Never was there a more glaring misstatement of fact and distortion of truth. The populist leaders have exerted their every effort to show that white men have been disfranchised, and with all their efforts they have been able to cite to but two instances, and surrounding those, even, there is a chain of suspicious circumstances that leads most people to believe that there was a plan to deceive. What the Advocate and the populist spell-binders hope to gain by their willful deception is beyond the ken of man. But juggling of words and twisting of statements will not make them any votes.

Will Judge Longshore tell to the people of Shelby County why a portion of the taxes paid by the Southern Mineral Land Company in this county was refunded by the Commissioners' Court?

Illustration of Populist Mendacity.

The Advocate says, and Judge Longshore has proclaimed it time and again in this campaign that the Democrats are responsible for the much talked of road machinery being in Shelby county. This is only one of the many methods adopted by the populist leaders to mislead the people. The next story they will tell, probably, is that the Democrats contracted for the machinery.

The Sentinel would like to ask if the Democrats issued two county warrants, No. 584, and No. 637, the two aggregating $555, which were issued to pay the freight on said machinery? And we would like to ask if the Democrats paid out about $200 of the county's money to pay the expense of making a trial experiment with the said machinery. We would like to ask if it was a Democratic Probate Judge who signed a contract for said road machinery in April, 1903? We would like to ask if Judge Longshore did not say in a speech in Beat 2, in April, 1904, that he had never signed any kind of a contraot in connection with said road machinery? The contract for the machinery made in April, 1903, speaks for itself. That contract is signed "A. P. Longshore, Judge of Probate of Shelby County," and the Judge now admits that he did sign the instrument. We might go a little further and ask if the populist administration did not agree in writing to return the machinery to the railroad station if the machinery did not come up to the guarantee promised by the Good Roads Machinery Company?

These are some of the things the people of this county are "making pertinent queries about," and the efforts of the populist leaders to "turn turtle" in the matter are so transparent that a blind man see through them.

The House Journal records Judge Longshore with having voted for three City Court bills while he was in the Legislature. He denies it, but the records are against him.

If the populist administration can get to levy a few more special tithes, about the only folks who will have any vines and fig trees left will be the railroads, and they are the only ones who have no use for them. Unfortunately, according to common report, they neither worship nor are they burdened with any conscience.

TAX LEVY LESSON UNDER POPULIST ADMINISTRATION.

In 1901, a tax levy of one mill on each dollar's worth of taxable property was levied to build "bridges and causeways" in Shelby county. Here's an opportunity for the taxpayer to do a little figuring on his own account and see the result.

In 1902, the Commissioners Court decided that it had better get down to "brass tax" (you've heard that expression before) and specify what particular bridges the levy of 1902 was for. Among others is the following (extract from the Commissioners' minutes):

"One at Laney's Ford across Cahaba River, to cost $3,300 * * * and to build in conjunction with Jefferson county, a bridge across the Little Cahaba River, near its mouth, to cost $3,200."

Some of the money from this levy must have gone on a still hunt for the bridge fund, and is still hunting, for when we come down to 1903, we find the following (extract from the Commissioners' minutes):

* * and that a levy of 2 mills on each dollar's worth of taxable property be and the same is hereby levied to build the following bridges: BALANCE on steel bridge on Cahaba River at Laney's Ford, $3,200; steel bridge across Cahaba River at Parker's Mill, $2,800."

Here are two levies aggregating $6,550 to pay for a bridge which the order making the levy says "to cost $3,300." One of the Commissioners informs The Sentinel that to the original cost was added about $800, making a total cost of $4,100. To pay this amount the taxpayers of Shelby county have been compelled to cough up $6,550. The records show it, and the figures prove it. And yet the populist administration is asking for a re-election at the hands of an outraged people.

In the levy of 1903, it will be seen that the people were taxed to build a bridge across the Cahaba River at Parker's Mill to cost $2,800, and in 1902 the people were taxed $3,200 for this same bridge under the caption "in conjunction with Jefferson county." That bridge has not yet been built, and at the time the levies were made it was not even contracted to be built. Both of those levies are illegal, for the Constitution says "the bridges must be built and the debt created" before the levy can be made. Even Judge Longshore admits this to be true, for he said in his speech at Dunnavant:

"YOU CAN'T LEVY A TAX FOR BRIDGES UNDER THE STATE CONSTITUTION, UNTIL YOU FIRST BUILD THE BRIDGES AND CREATE A DEBT."

And yet, Judge Longshore goes before the people and says "all the tax levies under my administration have been legal." Unsupported by any law he makes the statement. Notwithstanding that the Circuit Court of this county is against him; notwithstanding the Supreme Court of Alabama says he is wrong; notwithstanding the levies overstepped the expressed limit of the State Constitution—in the face of such authorities Judge Longshore contends that all the levies under his administration are legal. Bearing in mind the utter disregard of Constitutional law that Judge Longshore has displayed The Sentinel would ask the voters of Shelby county: has his administration dealt equitably and justly with your affairs? The Sentinel does not believe that you think so.

If Judge Longshore should be re-elected, which is not at all likely, what can be expected at his hands? His administration has placed illegal tax levies (and they have been declared illegal by the courts) upon the people of Shelby county. The people were made to pay these illegal levies; the railroads have not paid them. Judge Longshore says the levies are legal. If he says so now it is only fair to conclude that if he is re-elected the same unjust and illegal levies will be placed upon the people again. The people, not being able to contest these levies, are compelled to pay; the wealthy railroad corporations carry the matter into the courts, and it is decreed that the railroads do not have to pay the levies for the just and sufficient reason that the levies were IN EXCESS OF CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, and therefore ILLEGAL. What, then, is the deduction? The populist administration, an administration which poses as the champion (by the way, self-appointed) of the people, has assumed a power, in direct opposition to Constitutional law, and through illegal levies has squeezed the people to the tune of thousands of dollars, while the railroads have been excused by the Circuit Court from paying. The records in the Circuit Clerk's office show that the L. & N. railroad was sued for the excessive tax, and the following is the judgment of the Circuit Court:

"This day, March 24, 1902, comes the parties by attorneys, and this cause is submitted on brief, and upon consideration it is ordered by the Court that this cause be and the same is hereby decided in favor of the defendant.

Judge Pelham was presiding, and he told the defense that proof conclusive must be shown that the levy was illegal. This was done, and when Judge Pelham rendered the judgment he said the prosecution had not even the shadow of a peg upon which to hang its hat. And yet, Judge Longshore says all the tax levies under his administration are legal!

Prominent Republican Opposes Teddy.

Col. F. M. Abbott, of Selma, one of the most prominent Republicans in Alabama, and President of the Selma Street Railway Company—a Republican with whom President McKinley often consulted in regard to conditions in the South, has come out against Roosevelt, and in an interview gives his reasons for supporting Judge Parker for President, and The Sentinel commends his words to every white man in Shelby county. Colonel Abbott says:

"To the white men of Alabama: I am now, and have always been a Republican in national affairs, but I shall vote for Judge Parker this fall, and I am honest in the belief that the salvation of the Republican party is in the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt. NO WHITE MAN IN THE SOUTH, WITH ANY SELF-RESPECT CAN SUPPORT ROOSEVELT FOR RE-ELECTION.

"Mr. Roosevelt entered the White House under the most auspicious circumstances and with the good will of a reunited country. The people of the South very naturally felt kindly toward the man who had been called to the executive chair under such sad and peculiar circumstances, and when Mr. Roosevelt stood in the residence of John H. Milburn at Buffalo and took the oath of office, he gained the love of the entire Nation when he pledged himself to carry out the policy of the beloved William McKinley. But he was unable to resist the temptation of seeking a renomination and he at once surrounded himself with politicians and started an active campaign to secure the nomination at the hands of his party.

"He inaugurated a system of referees in the Southern States which was not calculated to build up a Republican party, but only to strengthen the office-holding ring. This was not Roosevelt the man, but Roosevelt the politician, seeking a renomination. The result of this system has been that men of character and self-respect have refused to identify themselves with the party organization and the office-holding ring was, as a matter of course, able to control delegations for the President and his nomination was made sure. But how much better would it have been if he had had the courage and manhood to have carried out his original policy as was displayed when he appointed Governor T. G. Jones to a Federal Judgeship, and Judge Thomas H. Roulhac as United States Attorney. This would have made the man so strong that no power could have beaten him for the nomination, and he would at the same time have retained the respect and good will of the entire people. This, together with his negro policy, is what is causing me to support the Democratic ticket, National, State and county, and no self-respecting Southern white man can or will do otherwise."

Colonel Abbott says further in this interview given to the Montgomery Advertiser, that through friends he keeps in close touch with the situation in the North, and he is confident that Mr. Roosevelt's unpopularity is not confined to the South, but extends throughout the Nation. He believes that Roosevelt will be defeated in November and that the defeat will result in a complete reorganization of the Republican party on clean lines, and the elimination of the office-holding rings that have been fostered in every State by the present administration. Colonel Abbott, himself a capitalist, is sure that Judge Parker is by far a safer man than Mr. Roosevelt and that the business men of the country, while keeping quiet, will go to the polls in November and cast their ballot for Parker and Davis.

The Bosses and Ringsters.

Never was a party more completely handled by bossism and ring-rule, than is the hyphenated opposition to Democracy in Shelby County. There are, however, self-respecting and independent-thinking Republicans and populists in the county, calmly and grimly waiting for November, to register an emphatic and telling kick against being led, like so many political Fidos, to vote the wishes of a few men who pose as leaders. The plan was simply to get the offices for the favored few. Others were "cut out," or ruthlessly and premeditatedly run over because they would not submit to the dictation of the bosses. Regardless of the wishes of the rank and file of the populist party, a self-appointed caucus arranged a division of spoils with the black and tans. The prospective pie was cut, and a more generous slice than usual handed out to the spotted brother. The big boss needed more strenuous assistance. The primary voters were denied the right to select nominees other than those dictated by the bosses—that of Clerk among the number, contrary to precedent, or expectation of the Republicans. Mr. Pearson announced for that office, as he doubtless thought he had a right to do. The bosses said Nay! and Mr. Pearson, knowing the power of the bosses, to save himself from humiliation, had to withdraw, that a black and tan entry might be made.

A more forceful demonstration of the fact the bosses diagramed and cut the patches of which the ticket was constructed, could not have been given than was done in Beat Nine, where Mr. Holland was led into the shambles to be slaughtered, under instructions "saunt" from headquarters. An old citizen of the county, honored and respected by men of all parties, absolutely beaten, and crushingly humiliated, in his own beat, by a stripling in politics, merely because the bosses decreed the office to the lower end of the county, presents a spectacle of unmitigated heartlessness and political chicanery and brutality, that cannot be honorably justified or satisfactorily explained. It was no more nor less then the iron will of the bosses, wrought through their political marionettes and automatons, and had not the appearance, even, of an open and fair deal. Such methods will assuredly, meet with deserved resentment.

Republicans and populists will have no opportunity to vote their principles. They are simply expected to boost into office, the court house caucus and the black and tan nominees, products of the ring within a ring. And this same court house caucus slated a candidate for sheriff two years hence. The bosses have said it, and, well, there's going to a surprise party.

Tithes and Tithes.

The purpose—the sole purpose of government is the protection of the citizen in his life, liberty and property. That it may exist, the power of taxation is necessarily given it; but the Constitution wisely limits this power, that the people may not be unnecessarily burdened. Limits it in the extent to which taxes may be levied, as to the purposes for which taxes may be levied, and as to the application of the special taxes to those particular purposes. When a greater rate is levied than is authorized, when special taxes are levied for purposes not authorized, or taxes collected for special purposes, or are applied to other purposes, power is "usurped" and government becomes "oppression"—to use the forceful and denunciatory terms employed by the Constitution makers.

The above propositions are self evident, and it is equally so that to depart from and defy the wise restraints of the fundamental law is to have our destiny handled by unbridled officers who do only their own will and land us in destruction.

The populist administration stands charged with this usurpation of power and oppression. Every taxpayer (always excepting the railroads) has realized to his cost and sorrow the pressure of the heavy hand of so-called government, since the populists have been in power, as they never have before in this county. The cause of it is clearly revealed and admitted in the oft repeated declaration of its chief officer: "I WILL NOT SUPPORT THAT CONSTITUTION ONLY SO FAR AS THE LAW COMPELS ME." It is an established and adjudicated fact that, in spite of the Constitution, in defiance of its plain limitations, ten cents on the hundred dollars was levied for road purposes in excess of authority. This was plainly usurpation and oppression, except to the railroads who invoked the "law" to "compel" the administration to regard their constitutional rights as citizens. It is established that nearly Eight Thousand Dollars of taxes levied and collected for road purposes, was, in defiance of the Constitution and in perfect harmony with Judge Longshore's declaration, transferred to the general fund of the county. The record speaks out the fact that four times the taxpayers (railroads excepted, always) been called upon to pay special taxes for one bridge, three times for another (not yet completed), twice for others, and once for several that have not been built, and none of which until this year, (when a Democratic lawyer who believes in the Constitution wrote the levy, at the solicitation of Mr. Longshore) did the record show contracts had been made or debts created, all of which, in fact, and according to Judge Longshore, at Dunnavant and other places, was unconstitutional and illegal, and therefore in perfect accord with his statement that he will not support the Constitution until compelled to by law. The railroads have enough involved in this matter to resort to the costly compelling powers; others have not and hence must submit to oppression.

Judge Longshore in his speech at Montevallo, cited as an instance of the oppression of England, from which our fathers fled, the fact that all, regardlsss of religious persuasion, must pay tithes to the Established Church. Our Constitution is supposed and designed to protect us from such as this or worse. It does theoretically; but in the keeping of one who does not regard and will not support it, practically, it does not. Our road tithes went into the general fund; helped to pay the additional $1,200.00 a year salary awarded by the generous populist-Republican representative of the people(?) to the three already best "established" officers of the county, on the theory that the Probate Judge was burdened with the distribution of warrants to Confederate veterans. The route taken by the special bridge taxes collected for "Hell-a-Buck Creek," "Parker's Mill," (for two years), "Beaver Dam Creek," "Walton's" and "Beeswax," the record does not disclose; but it doubtless helped along the "establishment" all right enough. The only difference that can be distinguished between the English and Shelby County brands of oppression is that in England the railroads are required to help pay the preachers, while in Shelby County only the people contribute to the fiddlers. The Sentinel prefers the English brand, while the Advocate and the populist administration prefer the other.

Shelby County is in a pitiable, deplorable, condition. A chief officer who boldly asserts that he will not support the highest law of the land; his statement demonstrated by the record of his acts; the people fleeced through illegal taxes, and they are diverted from the purposes for which they were levied; officers salaries increased without reason; laws misquoted to deceive the people; debts ever increasing and treasury empty and void. This is the epitome of six populist years. Enough to stagger the sons of those sires who fled the shores of the old world to establish and maintain a free CONSTITUTIONAL government. Buckle on your armor, young Democrats, and march to the polls in defense of your inherited constitutional rights. Prove yourselves worthy of your fathers and elect men who, when they hold up their hands and swear to support your Constitution, will delight in doing it. In this lies your only way of escape from continued usurpation and oppression, and your return to let-live tax rates.

That is a very pretty speech of Judge Longshore's: about the emigration of our fathers from the tyrannies of the old country and their glorious foundation of this great republic of constitutional rights; very pretty. But he belies the orator-patriot from whom he borrowed the rounded periods and loyal sentiments when he follows them with the declaration that he will not support the Constitution until compelled to.

The entire Democratic ticket will win out.

The Advocate has a great deal to say about the "Democratic bosses" in its last issue, and how they try to lead the rank and file of the party around by the nose, so to speak.

Jerusalem, but that's a sock-dolager—from the Advocate's view point. It has been so long under the lash of the populist leaders, has worn their collar so long that it really believes that every other political party must necessarily have its bosses, and that its members must bow in meek submission and servitude to the mandates of the few; political marionettes, if you please, who are prompted to action only when the dominating spirit of an iron-handed boss pulls the string. Forsooth, the Advocate speaks its own experience, an experience not born of Democracy. Because the collar chafes its neck, it would have the outside world believe that all others are in a like humiliating condition.

Let's see: the Democratic party held a primary in which every Democrat in the county was given an opportunity to vote for the men of his choice, and the vote in the primary shows the hand of no boss. Like honorable men who believe in majority rule; like true Democrats that they are and ought to be, they will support the ticket nominated just as cordially and heartily as they did the men of their personal choice in the primary. That is Democracy: "Of for and by the people." The slur heaped upon the Democrats in the South end of the county by the Advocate in its last issue will be resented in November in a manner anything but pleasant to the Advocate and the little coterie of bosses who shape its political(?) sooth-sayings. The Advocate has made a public display of its ignorance of the Democracy of the south end of the county, and they do not appreciate the reflection upon their integrity.

Now how about the populist primary? It was "of, for and by the bosses," What was their action? These leaders held a meeting of long, laborious, painful hours, even unto the midnight hour and over into a Sunday, and finally formulated a slated ticket. A bid must be made for Republican support, and to do this one of its members who had been high in the counsels of the party was sacrificed, slaughtered, kicked out—by whom? the party? No, the bosses. It was done, too, over the protest of members of the party who were present. These latter wanted a straight out populist ticket; but the bosses said the Republicans must have Clerk, Tax Collector and two or three minor offices thrown in for good measure. To give the action a semblance of fairness to the outside world the leaders called a primary—a farcical affair, for hardly a corporal's guard voted at any precinct in the county excepting, possibly, Columbiana beat. Why? For the simple reason that the mandate had gone forth that the slated ticket must be voted for, must be nominated. What was the result? Many of those who had up to that time affiliated with the one time populist party, did not go to the polls, and on that day severed their connection with the political corpse which the bosses are trying to resuscitate by administering hyperdermic injections of the same doctrine that put upon the Southern people the carpet-bagger and the reconstructionist.

Talk about bossism and high-handed ruling! The populist posses have the world "skun" to the ground in that particular accomplishment(?).

Bossism? U-m-m Gosh!

From a Former Populist.

The following is an extract from an address to the people of Chilton county, delivered two weeks ago by Hon. S. M. Adams, and it is so applicable to conditions existing in Shelby county, that we publish it:

Why should Chilton county continue to be the laughing stock for the whole country? Our people are as good in most part as other people, our young men are as bright, our women as beautiful, and in a material point we are coming to the front, and geographically we are in the very centre of the great State of Alabama, on one of the greatest lines of railroads in the whole land, within fifty minutes run of the capital, and near the same distance of Birmingham, one of the greatest cities in the South. Our location is good, our people are all right, and our farmers are improving on all lines, beautifying their homes, and improving their lands. The whole people are waking up on the educational interest, and the school system is being improved. Now, in the light of all these facts, why should we continue the state of politics which every man must know means political death and disfranchisement to our people? If the people will, they can put Chilton county in line with the Democratic party, and at the same time, under the primary plan, have choice as to the men that fill the offices in the county. So the thing is this, in one word, line up with the Democratic party and retain every privilege that you now have in county matters, with the additional influence that you can have in the State; on the other hand, fight the Democratic party, thereby dissolve all connection with the State, for that is what it means, and you virtually say to the world that I only want and claim citizenship in this county. Can the people afford it? And why will a good and loyal people do such a thing? They would not act in such a manners in business or in anything else on earth. The answer must be—prejudice, and that alone. And a few men, who, in my judgment, care but little for the people's welfare are keeping these fires of prejudice burning for their own selfish purposes. The people are told that the Democrats are thieves and liars, and it has been done so long that some people believe it, while at the same time every man in the State knows that the Democrats themselves became tired of the old method and laid it aside and gave us a fair primary law and a good general election law, and the excuse for a division no longer exists. Let us for example behold the quietude in our sister counties where the primary has settled all questions and where the Democrats have no opposition, and where peace and quiet will reign undisturbed even on the day of the election. Would not any good man desire such a feeling among his neighbors, and there are not a few men, who will read this letter that do know that the only way to have this state of things is by a white primary under the direction of the Democratic party. There is no other way, and I say this after years of experience, under much more favorable circumstances than now exists. If it could not be settled in some other manner in 1892, when the majority went out of the organized party, I know that it is worse than folly to fight now with only Chilton county and not more than half of that. Come to the conference on June 11 and let us free the county. I believe that if you are a Democrat you will come or send a hand.

Respectfully,
S. M. ADAMS.

S. M. Adams, who gives utterance to the above words, was at one time President of the Farmers' Alliance in Alabama, and up to a few months ago was one of the most influential leaders of the one time populist party. As Mr. Adams says in the above, he believes that the only good that can come to the South is through the Democratic party; that its opposition comes only from a few men who care but little for the people's welfare, and who are keeping the fires of prejudice burning for their own selfish purposes. The Sentinel presents the above to the voters of Shelby county as subject matter for sober, conscientious thinking.

It's Up to You, Brother.

"You can rake the files of the Advocate with a microscope, rake them with a fine tooth comb, and you'll never find where that paper admits that the administration had borrowed $8,000 from an Ensley banker."—Sentinel.

For willful misrepresentation, Carrie, you take the cake. If you will read the grand jury's report as made to the Judge of the Circuit Court you will find that report reads that all the indebtedness of the county had been paid except one warrant, which was not due until 1905, and that Judge Longshore informed the grand jury that an arrangement had been made to borrow as much as $8,000 to run the current expenses of the county until the taxes were paid in the fall."—Advocate.

"For willful misrepresentation, Pop, old boy, you take the cake," and we say willful advisedly, too. Have you so soon forgotten the contents of that report? Are you afflicted with a very bad case of lapsus memoriæ, or really was that memory conveniently at fault. To show that the Advocate's editing committee, conveniently, ignorantly, or otherwise, as the case may be, misrepresents the contents of the grand jury report, The Sentinel reproduces that report just as it came to us from the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Mr. Pearson:

To the Hon. A. H. Alston, Presiding Judge:

We, the Grand Jury, empaneled by Your Honor, beg leave to report that we have diligently engaged in the discharge of our duties, and have completed our labors within less than ten days.

We have examined the books of the Probate Judge, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Sheriff, County Treasurer and County Superintendent of Educatio. and find them all correctly and properly kept in accordance with law.

We find that the treasurer has on hand about $6.75, and that the county will have to borrow money to meet current expenses. The indebtedness of the county of about $11,000.00, EXISTING AT THE TIME OF THE REPORT OF THE LAST GRAND JURY was paid out of taxes collected, but the county is now out of funds, and it again becomes necessary to borrow money to meet current expenses. The estimate made by the Chairman of the Commissioners' Court is that it will only be necessory to borrow about $8,000 to meet current expenses until taxes can be collected; and he also informs us that arrangements have been made to borrow this sum at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum. It will probably be necessary for the county to borrow from $8,000 to $10,000. County taxes, however, aggregating about one thousand dollars, are now tied up in litigation, and will probably be collected next fall which will go in reduction of this indebtedness.

We have also examined into the sufficiency of the bonds of all county officers and find them all sufficient and the sureties good except the bond of O. S. Lybrand, Justice of the Peace of Beat 11, which we recommend be strengthened.

We have also examined into the condition of the county poor house and find that it is well kept and the inmates say they are kindly treated. The rooms were clean and neatly kept, and bedding in good condition. There are 17 inmates—13 whites and 4 colored. We are gratified to be able to report to Your Honor that the graver class of crimes in our county is on the decrease, and that since the sitting of the last grand jury there has been but one case of homicide, which from all the evidence before us was justifiable.

We have in a body inspected the jail as Your Honor directed. We find it utterly inadequate either for the safe-keeping or the comfort of the the prisoners, nor can the present building be repaired. The walls in places are crumbling out and the building is dangerous to the lives of the inmates. As the location of the court house is now settled for some time, not only justice but humanity requires that our county erect a new jail, and the Commissioners certainly cannot now be criticized for doing so, even if it requires a special tax. Our county is growing in wealth, and we believe ere many years will rank among the most important counties of our State, and we therefore recommend that such jail be built, not only with a view to the present, but to the future, and that while it is being done that a first-class jail be erected and that it be placed further away from the street than at present.

We thank Your Honor for your charge, and the sheriff and all his deputies for their prompt and efficient service, and all the officers for courtesies extended us. We also desire to thank the Solicitor for his assistance.

H. W. NELSON,
Foreman.

Now, then; if there is a word in that report, as claimed by the Advocate, about "all the indebtedness of the county had been paid except one warrant," or that all the debt of the county had been paid, we'll admit that what we have said about the indebtedness of the county to be without foundation of fact. It makes no reference to the present indebtedness of the county.

What does the report say in relation to that matter?

"The indebtedness of the county of about $11,000 existing at the time of the report of the last grand jury was paid out of taxes collected, but the county is now out of funds, and it again becomes necessary to borrow money to meet current expenses."

Now let us see what the indebtedness of the county really was at the time the last grand jury, referred to in the above, made its report. The following extract, relative to the matter, is from that report:

"As best we can ascertain, the county's indebtedness for borrowed money and and on outstanding warrants and of all kinds, is $17,425.80, but of this amount there is now on hand in the hands of the Columbiana Savings Bank about $1,600.00 of money borrowed by the county, which is not charged to the treasurer, but which is to be turned over to him to pay the necessary expenses of the present term of court and other expenses. We have not estimated the expenses of this term of court as any of the county's outstanding indebtedness, and we estimate that the greater portion of this fund will be required for such court expenses, and after they are paid the county will owe approximately $17,000.00 on all accounts. Of this indebtedness $11,000.00 is for borrowed money, borrowed at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, all of which has been used for county purposes, except the said sum of about $1,000 above mentioned, as we are informed, is to be used for paying the expenses of this term of court."

It says that after the court expenses are paid "the county will owe $17,000 on all accounts. Of this debt $11,000 is for borrowed money." If the above report is true, and remember it was made under oath to the Judge of the Circuit Court, the indebtednese of $11,000 reported paid by the last grand jury was not all the indebtedness of the county; for there is a discrepancy of $6,000 between the two reports. And yet the Advocate says in its last issue that the last grand jury reported that "all the indebtedness of the county had been paid except one warrant." The report says nothing of the kind. The report of the last grand jury says nothing of the present indebtedness of the county. If it had done so it would probably have said that from statements made before it the indebtedness of the county is even more than has been claimed by us.

The Sentinel contends that in four items alone Shelby county owes more than seventeen thousand dollars. The stub book in the Probate Judge's office shows there are two outstanding warrants, unpaid, of $1,000 each. The $8,000 recently borrowed from an Ensley banker, and more than $7,000 unlawfully transferred from the road to the general fund. The law very plainly says that the road fund must be kept separate and apart from any other fund and must not be used for other than road purposes. Examiner Gorman says that without authority of law nearly eight thousand dollars were transferred from the road to the general fund. Was it a loan, or was it not? or was it a straight out hold-up of the county treasurer for that much money from the road fund? The Sentinel contends that it was borrowed, even though made contrary to law, and that it is a debt the general fund of the county owes; just as much so as the debts for which two one thousand dollar warrants have been issued, or the $8,000 debt owed the Ensley banker. Then the $6,000 difference between the last two grand jury reports, to say nothing of several other outstanding warrants that are unpaid, among them being one for $200, and another for $250. And yet the Advocate asserts without equivocation that the last grand jury reported "all the indebtedness of the county as being paid except one warrant." Read the grand jury's report for yourself, and see if the Advocate's quotation of the grand is not untrue in every particular. The Advocate's memory is either faulty or convenient! Which, is for the reader to decide.

We fling back to the Advocate its own words: "Won't you tell the people of Shelby county that you didn't know what you were talking about?" In charity we believe you do not, but those who do your writing probably do know. Yes, sir; "truth crushed to earth will rise again."

We repeat: the Advocate never admitted the administration recently borrowed $8,000 until last week. It published a report of the grand jury which said it had been done, and then twisted that report to make the people believe the grand jury said "all the indebtedness of the county had been paid but one warrant." And there is nothing in that report that refers in the remotest degree to any warrant, or that all the indebtedness of the county had been paid. Misrepresentation? You're it!

He Finds Something.

And it came to pass that one lonely pilgrim, weary and foot-sore, came all the way from the kingdom round about Vincent, to the house of the chief elders and soothsayers of his tribe, a tribe that had once been powerful, but which has withered under the blighting touch of these self-same elders and soothsayers. This lonely pilgrim had received the sad news, to him, that disintegration had reached the very vitals of his tribe and that he had been summoned to hurry, hurry, hurry; that there was need of a megaphone and a spieler. After his conference with the chief elders and soothsayers, at which they had prescribed and administered a good "rubbin' in" of palaver salve, he spiels through his megaphone that the Commissioners' Court is composed of flesh and blood, and that the heretofore-supposed immaculate tribunal, actually erred in the levy and collection of special taxes: just what The Sentinel has charged all the time. Bnt this man with a megaphone does not say anything about the suit being instituted against the railroads to compel them to pay a tax which he a lmits was an "error," charitable word! What was the result of that suit? A verdict for the railroads and the taxpayers of the county had a big bill of costs to pay. The people were wrongfully compelled to pay an illegal tax which the railroads were rightfully excused by the courts from doing. It was a costly "error"—to the taxpayers of Shelby county,

Our friend, the pilgrim, says further: "I find the minutes of the Commissioners' Court plainly show that they positively refused to buy the road machinery which The Sentinel would have you believe they had." The pilgrim shows his weakness, and is his self accuser. The Sentinel has never intimated that the Commissioners' Court had purchased the road machinery. The Sentinel has asked the Advocate, the mouthpiece of the populist administration. if it is not a fact that a prominent member of the Commissioners' Court has contracted for that road machinery over his official signature? The Advocate knows whether this is or is not true.

But why this record of "refusal" to buy? Is it customary to record refusals to purchase. Or was it absolutely necessary that in this particular instance the record should be made for the benefit of just such pilgrims as the one from Vincent? Did the elders and soothsayers of the one time populist party deal fairly and frankly with "G. A. C.? Did they, or did they not, tell him that the road machinery had been contracted for?

So far so good; but this pilgrim failed to find out that the Commissioners' Court is composed of five members, usually—though sometimes one only. "Truth crushed to earth," etc. Time and "plenty of rope" will bring it all out. Make another pilgrimage, "G. A. C."

'Tis a Pity, Indeed it Is!

'Tis a pity that the record is not made to show that the Commissioners' Court "refused" to levy taxes twice—or thrice—for the same special purposes; that the purposes were faithfully carried out; that money so raised for special purposes was not otherwise used; that it was not collected from part only of the taxpayers—the least able to pay, and that The Sentinel has misrepresented facts in stating bits of bridge-tax history. Then pilgrimages from "Parker's Mill," the upper Cahaba valley, and the trans-Cahaba would be in order, to gaze upon the revelation disclosed by what had been "writ." Indeed, and 'tis a pity!

The populist administration has never yet shown by what authority it appropriated $555.97 of the county's money—the money of the people, if you please, to pay freight on the much talked of road machinery, and $200 more to operate it while experimentin' with it to see whether it was as the contract guaranteed. The administration doubtless thinks: "darn the people; we are it."

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaires unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over 35 years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottle 25c; regular size 75c. At Williams Bros.

Joint Discussion.

The question of a joint canvass between the candidates representing the different political parties of the county is being made much of at this time. The candidates representing the combination populist and Republican ticket are, so we are informed, making the open assertion that the Democratic candidates have been invited to a joint canvass, and that they have declined it, and they are making their boasts that the Democrats are afraid to meet them.

The Sentinel has inquired into this matter, and finds that no invitation had been extended the Democratic candidates, and that this claim on the part of the populist candidates and leaders (in the one you will find the other) is without foundation in fact, and is evidently made for political effect only. The populist leaders see the handwriting on the wall, and are "as drowning men catching at straws." The nearest approach to an invitation to a joint discussion was to the Bay Springs meeting on last Saturday, the 21st. From the best information we can obtain this meeting was arranged by the populists, in that community, at the instance and request of the court house officials, and for their special benefit. A "flaming" advertisement of this meeting was placed in the populist organ several weeks before the meeting. It gave notice that a joint discussion of political issues would be had on that occasion, and that "distinguished speakers" would be present to represent the various political parties. This notice was signed by leading populists in that beat, showing that its conception was wholly by the populists.

For some weeks it was advertised that this meeting would be on the 28th of May. Afterwards, for some reason, the date was changed to the 21st.

We fail to see wherein this could be construed into an invitation for any special Democratic candidate or candidates in Shelby county to be present on that occasion for the purpose of meeting the opposition speakers. No. Democratic candidate would care to be put in the attitude of assuming that he was one of the "distinguished speakers" who was expected to be present.

The last issue of the Advocate before the meeting at Bay Springs contained and invitation to Hons. A. P. Longshore and D. R. McMillan to be present and address the people on the political issues of the day. We are informed that this issue of that paper did not come to the hands of Mr. McMillan before Thursday night. He was in the midst of county court, and had other engagements which would have prevented his accepting the invitation on that short notice, had he otherwise been disposed. This invitation (?) to Mr. McMillan, appearing alone in the paper, and no personal or written invitation having reached him makes it smack of having emanated from the court house; for could not the same committee have addressed a letter to Mr. McMillan inviting him to come, as easily as to have written the Advocate for publication? Of course, Judge Longshore, for whom the meeting was arranged, was present. No use to send him an invitation. He knew of it, and was predetermined to be present, county court or no county court. Consequently everything that week was made to bend to that end.

So, viewed from the standpoint of the surroundings, it appears to us that Democratic speakers were not really expected at Bay Springs, but that the object of those who arranged for the meeting was to create an impression that there was to be a joint discussion in order to get a crowd for the populist orators, and then to be in some sort of a position that they could boast that the Democrats were afraid to meet them. By hook or crook they determined to have a crowd, even going to the extent of saying that Captain Hobson would speak at Bay Springs Saturday afternoon.

When an invitation from the proper party source is extended to the Democrats it will receive at least courteous attention.

The Advocate should study the report of the last grand jury. And the people should do the same. The Advocate says the last grand jury reported all indebtedness of the county paid but one warrant. We republish the grand jury report so that the people may read how the Advocate tries to mislead them.

The populists were hard pushed to get a crowd at Bay Springs when they circulated the story that Captain Hobson would speak there. Deception cuts no figure with them.

Its Consequences.

There has developed considerable opposition to a joint discussion between the candidates of the various political parties in this county. This grows out of the past experiences of the people in connection with joint discussions. The Sentinel is informed that joint canvasses were entered into for two or three years after the populist party came into existence in this county. Circumstances surrounding these discussions, brought on by the fires of prejudice which were kept burning by the populist speakers, were disagreeable and unpleasant. They had the effect of engendering strife and dissensions in neighborhoods and communities. Fathers were turned against sons, brothers were arrayed against brothers and friends against friends, and general demoralization reigned through out the county. In some places bloodshed was narrowly averted.

Not a few doubtless remember a joint meeting of this character in Wilsonville, when General Pettus and others spoke in behalf of the Democrats, and Judge Longshore, and other populists spoke for the populist party. The information that comes to The Sentinel is that knives and pistols were drawn, and but for the timely action of cool heads lives would have been sacrificed. It is common knowledge that Democratic speakers were treated in a manner that was an outrage upon the good name of Shelby county. Who that was present can forget the treatment received by Governor Oats at Harpersville? and this is only one instance of the many where Democratic speakers were indecently treated by men whose passions had been aroused by inflamatory speeches.

Information comes to The Sentinel from all parts of the county that many of the best people oppose a joint discussion on the grounds mentioned in the foregoing.

The people of the county know full well what element is trying to again plunge the county into the same condition of affairs that has existed under joint discussion campaigns. They can only hope to win by prejudicing and poisoning the minds of the people—the weapon of the man or party who knows his footing and foundation is not at all sure; who knows his only hope of winning is by arousing the fires of hate and malice within the breasts of men who do not think as fully for themselves as they should; and having destroyed the peace and quietude of the different communities and neighborhoods they hope to ride again into office upon the wreckage they have made.

We would suggest to the populists that their chairman address a letter to the Democratic Chairman with the proper invitation, and we can assure them of one thing, that if not accepted, it will at least receive a courteous reply, stating reasons for declining.

But for the populists speakers and leaders to arrange for meetings advertise them as joint discussions (which they know to be willful perversion of fact) in order to get a crowd, and then boast that Democratic speakers have been invited and are afraid to come, is the smallest and most contemptible thing a man can do, for it prejudices one against his fellowmen without even the semblance of truth to stand upon.

And now one of the populist leaders says the grand jury intended to say that all the indebtedness of the county had been paid. Under the circumstances, the evidence is not good. No doubt if the grand jury intended saying anything of the kind it would have done so. You can rest assured if all debts had been paid the grand jury would have said so.

The Birmingham News published pictures last Saturday of delegates to the National Republican convention. Three white men and one negro.

HIS NARROW ESCAPE.

The late Denis J. Swenie, for many years chief of the Chicago fire department, was known over all the United States as one of the most successful of fire fighters. He never asked his men to take any risks that he was not willing to take himself, and he was covered with the scars of wounds received in the performance of his duty.

A fierce fire broke out in the downtown district one day, and, as usual, he was one of the first to appear on the scene. It was a stubborn blaze, and while the firemen were fighting it from a point of vantage there was an explosion that blew the chief and several of his men out through an open doorway. A moment later the roof fell in. The chief picked himself up from the sidewalk. Half his hair was singed off, his face was blackened and covered with scratches and bruises, both hands were bleeding, and he limped as he hunted for his helmet.

"Boys," he said, "we got away from there just in time. If we had stayed in that room a second longer we might have got hurt."

The Word "Stunt" Gaining Caste.

The word "stunt," as meaning a specific task or performance, is making very rapid progress toward respectability and good standing in the language. But a few years ago it was seen in print only in the sporting columns of newspapers, and then always in quotation marks. Now it has broken into Harper's Magazine and even the Atlantic Monthly, though in the latter case with an explanation which seems to read into it a meaning that does not really belong to it. Already nearly everybody drops it from the tongue without even the hint of an apology, and it seems in a fair way very soon to take a permanent and undisputed place in all the dictionaries. Those who are fastidious in the matter of language may lament and protest, but their lamentations and protests in similar previous cases have had little effect. The English language is growing all the time, and sometimes, like the most carefully trained rosebush, for example, it asserts an irrepressible tendency to grow a little wild.—Providence Journal.

Even Mansfield Smiled.

Richard Mansfield is a stickler for every little point in the presentation of his plays, yet now and then the unexpected happens in such a way as to provoke a smile from one who is not considered the most humorous of actors. In the final scene of "A Parisian Romance" Mansfield as Baron Chevrial falls dead at supper amid the talking and music. The doctor in the play calls out: "Stop the music! The baron is dead!" and the curtain falls.

On one occasion Mansfield was playing a one night stand in a small country town where the music of the local orchestra was atrocious. At the supper scene Mansfield fell dead as usual, but the actor who was playing the part of the doctor cried out:

"Stop the music! It has killed the baron!"

Even Mansfield smiled.

Marion Harland's Age.

Marion Harland (Mrs. Edward Payson Terhune) is credited by cyclopedias with seventy-two years of age and nearly forty titles of books. She concedes the latter, but of the former she says: "Why will my friends (and cyclopedias) persist in making a septuagenarian of a woman who never means to rise sixty? When I tell you that I went to a dinner party last night, arose this morning at 7 and have a 'first mail' of 142 letters; that I go this afternoon to a club tea and afterward to another dinner; that I walk two and three miles daily and can read the daily papers without glasses, you will see how amiable I am in forgiving that 'seventy-two years of age.'" Mrs. Terhune has recently prepared and delivered a new lecture, with the happy title, "Looking Westward: the Fine Art of Growing Old."

The Chinaman's English.

A Philadelphia man who has a Chinese cook is reported by the Philadelphia Press as much puzzled by the "pidgin" English used by the Celestial. "He says 'topside' for upstairs and 'no hab got' for 'I have not' or 'they are not,' and 'one piecee' for a single individual, and all sorts of other funny things," explained the employer. "For instance, the other day I got home and told him to go upstairs and tell my two daughters I wanted to talk to them. This was the answer he gave me when he came down: 'Two piecee gail topside no hab got; one piecee gail driveedrivee; one piecee gail walkeewalkee.' From which I eventually made out that neither of my daughters was at home, one being out driving, the other out walking—but he's a great cook anyhow."

We have a faint recollection that Eugene V. Debs once flourished as a patron saint of the populist party. He has since become a Socialist and its chief instrument for the destruction of society, as a candidate for President of the United States on that ticket. Hear him:

"The Socialist party is the party to support, the working class party, the deadly and uncompromising foe of capitalism and wage slavery.

"Arouse, ye workingmen! Open your eyes and see the class struggle.

"Join and support the only party that stands squarely upon the class struggle as the basis of its revolutionary character. The Republican, the Democratic and the late populist party are all capitalist parties, all for wage slavery, all against the working class."

In the name of Democracy we emphatically protest against the classification. As for populists: it cannot be denied that they have become thus hyphenated, and coupled up like the Gemini from Siam. "Republico-populism."

Whooping Cough.

"In the spring of 1901 my children had whooping cough," says Mrs. D. W. Capps, of Capps, Ala. "I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with the most satisfactory results. I think this is the best remedy I have ever seen for whooping cough." This remedy keeps the cough loose, lessens the severity and frequency of the coughing spells and counteracts any tendency towards pneumonia. For sale by Bandy Drug Co.

With no party organization, the leaders of the one time populist party are trying to whip their one time followers into line for the Republican ticket.

There no longer being a populist party, the Republican party, with the aid of the leaders of the former populist party, is trying to absorb all who will "absorb."

A large following of the one time populist party are opposed to the black and tan Republicans absorbing part of the ticket. Their kick will be registered in November.

weak lungs should be careful. Coughs and colds are dangerous then. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs and colds and gives strength to the lungs. Mrs. G. E. Feaner, of Marion, Ind., says, "I suffered with a cough until I run down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by J. W. Bandy Drug Co.

Rhematic Pains Relieved.

The prompt relief from severe pains of sciatic and rheumatism which is afforded by Chamberlain's Pain Balm, is alone worth many times its cost. Mr. Willard C. Vail, of Poughkeepsie, N. Don't Want It.

Nelsons, Ala., May 21, 1904.

Editor Sentinel:—

The people of this community are opposed to a joint discussion by the county candidates. A petition has been circulated in this community by a populist, and all know it is being done at the instigation of the populist politicians.

Those of us who lived in this county when a former joint discussion was had know that it caused a breach between neighbors that have not yet healed.

I believe the upright, peace loving people will not encourage a movement that is intended to disrupt, tear down and destroy, and these petitions for a joint discussion are for no other purpose, and every citizen who holds the friendly ties sacred, which bind every community together, will refuse to sign a petition for a joint discussion.

FARMER.

It matters not what the means employed, just so they win out. That is the policy of the populist leaders.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried. In fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by Bandy Drug Co.

THE SCHOOLHOUSE.

Oh, make the schoolhouse beautiful
By hill and plain and sea!
Delight within and bloom without—
Picture and flower and tree.

For the boys and girls, while life shall last,
And wherever their steps may fare,
Will remember the lovely, joyous place,
Or the house forlorn and bare.

And the lore they gained, and the precepts heard,
And the patriot songs they sung,
Will be treasured still if the spot was dear
In the days when life was young.

Let the guelder-rose and the lilac bloom
In welcome by the door,
And the turf be green the paths between,
And, above, the bright flag soar;

And plant the elm for its regal shade,
And the pine for its boughs of balm
Magnolia with its lustrous leaves,
And the jasmine, by the palm;

For tree, and flower, and pleasant song,
And the tale by the picture told,
Will help full many a youthful heart
To turn life's gray to gold.

Then make the schoolhouse beautiful
By hill and plain and sea,
For the school is shaping, year by year,
The nation yet to be!

—Youth's Companion.

A TREAT FOR BERTIE.

"I've always kept it out of your way," said Miss Edith, affecting to totter beneath the weight of a large brown leather bound book, "but I suppose—now you'll have to make the acquaintance of all the sisters and cousins and aunts. Albums are supposed to be out of style, I know, but I think families will always have them. No, I don't require your support, thank you. Just sit down there quietly and behave yourself while I show them to you—and don't make any stupid comments. I said 'behave yourself.'"

"That isn't misbehaving," said the prospective member of the family.

"I'd like to know what you call it."

"Very nice, as far as it went."

"Don't, Bertie. Now look here, Bertie. Here's pa and ma to begin with. They're recent, of course. I don't like ma's expression very well; she looks so serious. Pa's all right."

"Good likeness, both of 'em."

"This," said Miss Edith, turning the page, "is Ruth when she was a little bit of a thing. I think she's cunning, don't you?"

"Awfully cunning."

"And that one on the opposite side is Jim when he was a baby. He seems to be surprised about something."

"I'd never have recognized him. It's the first time I ever saw him without his pipe. I'm surprised, too. Where do you come in?"

"Never mind about me. That's Grandma Brown. You never saw her, but she's likely to come here for a visit in the spring. You'll have to mind your Ps and Qs then, sir."

"She does not look very venomous."

"Bertie! Well, I should say she didn't. She's the sweetest, loveliest old thing that ever was. She used to pet me to death when I was a little girl."

"I'd like to know how she could help it."

"Goose!"

"You know that I am sorry that I didn't know you then."

"When?"

"When you were a little girl. I seem to have lost such a lot of time."

"You didn't lose any time after you did know me."

"Well, I knew a good thing when I saw it. Never mind; I won't lose any more time if I can help it."

"I expect you'll stay down at your club four nights out of every week."

"You've got another guess coming."

"Bertie!"

"Sweetness."

"Are you quite perfectly, absolutely sure that—that you do?"

"I'm perfectly, absolutely, sure that if I don't nobody in the world ever did or ever will. Are you sure?"

"Oh, I think maybe I do—a little."

"Edith!"

"Now, Bertie, stop! Yes, I'm sure. You know I am. Bertie, Aunt Martha's looking at you! There! I wanted to show you that album and you don't seem interested one bit."

"Who's this?" asked the young man.

"I told you that was Aunt Martha. The other is Uncle Henry. They used to be quite wealthy, but Uncle Henry lost his money in some investment and now he seems to have changed a great deal. He won't work any more, and Aunt Martha just supports him. Of course, that't a family secret, but I wouldn't keep anything from you."

"And I've never kept anything from you."

"Are you sure?"

"Quite sure. We'll just tell each other everything, won't we, darling?"

"I'm sure I wouldn't hide a thought from you."

"Nor I from you. I think that's where some couples make a mistake—not telling things to each other. We won't be like that, will we?"

"I don't see how people can if they truly love each other."

"I don't, either."

"Perhaps—I don't think people do care for one another as much as we do—do you?"

"I'm sure they don't."

"Bertie, we were going to look at the album. Now tell me what you think of this girl."

"Tell me who she is first. I'm not going to make any rash breaks. I've looked through photograph albums before."

"Whom did you look through them with?"

"Why, with friends. You know it's not an uncommon form of enter——"

What are you looking at me like that, for, Edith?"

"What friends?"

"Why—er—I don't just call to mind. Why, Edith, you don't suppose it was anything like this, do you? No. Nobody I ever cared two pins about. If I had I'd tell you directly."

"You are positive?"

"Quite positive. You see, I don't even recollect who it was."

"Oh, I didn't suppose it was any body. really. I was just joking. Bertie, doesn't it seem strange?"

"What?"

"Eight months ago we didn't know each other at all and now here we are sitting here—engaged."

"It seems too good to be true to me, sometimes. When I think of it—and how something might have happened and I might never have seen you! I was thinking of going to St. Louis last year."

"Bertie, suppose you had!"

"You would probably have found some one else you liked."

"I wouldn't have done anything of the kind."

"Don't you think you would."

"I know I wouldn't. Why didn't I ever find anybody I liked before? Do you think you would have found some one else?"

"I'm quite certain I wouldn't. Nobody I could have cared for as I care for you. No, I guess it was all fixed up beforehand. We were just cut out for each other, darling. I don't believe it would have made any difference if I had gone to St. Louis. I'd have met you somehow. I——"

There was an abrupt start as a matronly looking lady entered the room. "Well," she exclaimed, "what are you two young people doing here in the dark?"

"I was showing Bertie the photograph album, mamma," said Edith.

"H'm-m!" said the matronly looking lady. "It didn't look much like that to me."—Chicago News.

FORCING PLANTS BY FIRE.

An Experiment That Some Horticulturalist Would Do Well to Make.

A curious phenomenon connected with the forcing of flowers under somewhat exceptional circumstances was observed not long ago by M. J. Jolly.

On the second of September last, a large fire broke out in the village of Chaussee-sur-Marne, between Chalons and Vitry-le-Francois, and destroyed a large part of the village. The fire, urged by the wind, spread as far as it was possible, and consumed the last houses on the side toward the country. It also attacked the neighboring trees forming part of a large pear and apple orchard, and reduced the two rows entirely to ashes. The three following rows, protected by the first, and the distance, remained standing, although considerably damaged and bady scorched. The injury done to the sixth row was naturally not so great. A goodly number of branches, nevertheless, were scorched and unable to resist the heat, while the remainder subsequently exhibited a peculiar phenomenon, viz., a second flowering. This began at the end of September, and in October all the branches of the trees except those that had been scorched were covered with blossoms, as in the month of May, the ones most heavily laden with flowers being those that had been most exposed to the action of the heat. That is not all. In another direction the fire had ceased in the vicinity of some lilac bushes, and these, as well as some plum trees, flowered anew, the lilacs in particular being covered with blossoms.

It is to be remarked that the conflagration lasted but four hours at the most, and there is therefore nothing here that resembles an ordinary forcing. All the species that blossomed are those whose buds for the following year are formed in the month of August. Now the facts gathered by M. Jolly, an eye witness, seem to show that it is possible for a momentary but strong action of heat to produce a second flowering. Does this exert a local influence, a certain dessication of the organs of the trees? It is possible; and we have seen that a previous desiccation is necessary for forcing, just as it is, according to Geard, for the parthenogenetic development of certain eggs. At all events, the fact might and ought to serve as a starting point for experiments from which might be derived practical hints for the forcing of fruits and flowers. With early varieties, it might be possible to obtain two crops, the regular one in the spring and a supplementary one in the fall, provided strong heat were employed, although for a short time, as soon as the buds are formed. This would be more economical than the present methods, since the heat necessary for the development of the flowers and fruit would be furnished, not by coal, but by Dame Nature. Some horticulturist or amateur would do well to make the experiment.—Scientific American.

Nicknames for British Warships.

(From the London Daily Telegraph.)

"Jack" likes a name which rolls easily off the tongue, short, handy and open to familiar alteration. The Howe, of the Admiral class, which he has dubbed "Anyhow;" the Aeolus, known as the "Alehouse;" the Resolution, nicknamed the "Rolling Rezzy;" the Barham, which bluejackets know chiefly as "Baa-Lamb;" and the "Old Immortality" or "Immortalight," by which he is wont to identify the handsome cruiser lately in eastern waters bearing a famous record—all have handles that suit and please him.

During the month of January the Canadian Pacific railway sold 110,840.78 acres at a total value of $386,649.88.

Reminiscences of Fresh and Salt Water Fishing.

By W F. SIBLEY.

Born of New England parents and living in Western Massachusetts until my seventeenth year, little or no opportunity presented itself for salt water fishing.

If results may be considered as being proficient in fresh water fishing, I certainly had some claim, as a boy, to knowing a thing or two about catching trout, as the strings of fish I brought home on every occasion when I could absent myself from school clearly demonstrated.

My outfit in those days, as I remember it, consisted of a grass laid line, possibly half a dozen trout hooks and an alder pole cut for each occasion at the brook's side. The proud distinction of owning a creel was something I looked forward to, but a small birch crotch stick served the purpose to string my fish on, and I don't know but full as well.

But if I am also to tell you something of my salt water experiences during the past fifteen or eighteen years, a single incident of the boyhood's exploits trout fishing will suffice to carry out my statement as to results.

About five miles from my home there was a small stream or brook known as the North Branch. It had its source in a swamp, wound in and out of the woods, brush and meadow land at the foot of rising ground and hills, until at last, after a five-mile course, terminated in a large lake.

It made little or no difference to me about fishing up or down stream, but as it was a shorter cut to the head of the brook, I usually commenced there, the brook at that point being scarcely a yard wide, running through meadow land.

I was always pretty sure of getting a fair number of trout in this meadow, as it was not fished so much as lower down stream, and a good start always gave me encouragement for the rest of the brook.

The day was overcast, and early I was on my way to the brook, striking in, as I usually did, at the source. My success was beyond expectation until I reached a small strip of woods, a mile or more down the brook, which terminated in a mass of brush and undergrowth. It was not until I discovered fresh boot prints along the soft bank, that it dawned upon me that, early as I was, there was some one ahead of me on the brook. However, I fished on until I came to the open meadow. There was conviction enough of my indifferent success—a man ahead, as I had thought, very carefully fishing that strip of meadow brook.

Disappointed, I seated myself on a large stone, under cover, to watch him for the time being and to think how I could get ahead. Yet I disliked to give up that strip of meadow brook, as there were always large trout there. I could plainly see that the man ahead was having fair success, as trout after trout found its way to his creel.

Suddenly he stopped. I guessed the cause, knowing almost every pool in the brook, and judged he was near a deep hole where dwelt a trout that had fooled me once or twice that season. To make a long story short, that man fished for that trout a full half hour at intervals, but gave it up, proceeded down stream and was soon lost to view. In turn I took up the ground he had fished over, picking up several good sized fish on my way to the scene of the fisherman's defeat. I got near enough to the pool to see a large trout sunning himself in the shallow water, and he saw me, I am quite sure. I was in no hurry to try conclusions, so, seating myself in the grass some distance from the brook, I baited my hook with fresh worms, winding the line lightly on the end of my alder until only a couple of feet hung from the end of my pole. Even then I waited some fifteen minutes before approaching the brook, finally doing so on hands and knees, until within casting distance, when I lay flat on my belly in the grass. An overhand cast, the bait strikes the centre of the pool, is seized almost immediately by a monster trout; a dextrous movement of the boy at the other end of the pole, and the biggest trout I ever took from that stream was writhing on the bank before me. It was a thrilling moment in more ways than one, and I was about the happiest youngster imaginable. There were some twenty odd trout on that birch string, and with this beauty to top out my catch, the day's fishing was over for me.

Curious to know how my rival on the brook was getting on, I took a cross cut to head him off, coming upon him just emerging from a clump of alders. Scarcely had we passed the time of day, before his eyes were riveted on the string of fish I carried, a volley of questions assailing me as to where I caught them, and particularly the big one at the top of my string.

Boylike, to his seeming chagrin, I related what I saw him try to do and what I had accomplished.

My story being told, the fish was put on the smallest scales I had ever seen at that time, produced by my chance acquaintance from one of the numerous pockets of a queer coat, and touched the fourteen ounce notch.

Be it to the man's credit there was no money offers for my big trout, but in lieu of a ride to the city, which, in our conversation, I had learned was his destination, and to a hungry boy the nice luncheon he gave me, the fish found its way to his creel without the asking.

Now comes the fairy part of the story, assuming that you have no reason to doubt the truth of what I have related. It was not long after this eventful day that a fine three-joint trout rod was delivered by express at my home, no doubt from my appreciative fisherman, but I never knew, as no card or letter accompanied it.

In 1876 the scene shifts from New England to New York City to engage in commercial life. Few were the holidays or outings accorded, as it was by constant application that I held my position for the next five years.

Sometimes in my Sunday strolls I had wandered to the docks in New York and there saw the gamins, yes, even men, fishing for porgies and having fair success. On such occasions my palms always itched to get hold of one of those lines the boys were using, but I never betrayed my feelings to them in the matter.

Next came the fishing bank excursions, but the boats were so crowded on Sunday, my only day, that after one or two successful trips I gave it up.

Time drew on apace. I had more liberty and money. A vacation of two weeks was also allowed me, which I divided up into day outings weekly, extending my vacation over the months of June, July and August.

From some companions I learned that Giffords, situated about midway of Staten Island, on that part of Raritan Bay known as the Great Kills, was a good place to locate if I was looking for salt water fishing. Accepting their advice, rods, reels and the necessary outfit was provided, a few lessons given me by the veteran, Mr. Fitzgerald, more popular as "Uncle Mike" among the fishermen, and I was fairly started on my salt water career.

Weakfish, bass and bluefish were the only game fish considered worth taking by "Uncle Mike," but I was satisfied at first to take almost anything that took my bait, and delighted if I caught a dozen weakfish. Later on I went in for number more than pleasure, for there was most always an empty basket waiting to be filled on my return.

Fish were plenty in those days and even up to the middle eighties. It was considered no great feat to take thirty or forty weakfish weighing from two and a half to four pounds each during a tide, but I honestly believe there were some men who either did not fish, or did not know how, for notwithstanding the fact above stated, they invariably came ashore "skunked."

The first stripped bass I ever took weighed about three pounds and was a disappointment from the fact that I was so intent upon catching weakfish, and weakfish only, that I am quite of the mind that I should have thrown it overboard had not a fishing companion prevailed upon me to keep it.

Later on, when I used lighter tackle and fished more for the sport than number, I could not hook on to a bass often enough.

It was in September, 1888, I think, that I surprised the natives and myself in taking from the Kills an eighteen pound bass after a half hour's struggle. This was an unheard of catch in those days, it having been some ten years previous that a bass of that weight had been taken in the Kills, so I went to the New York Sun office for a mention only of my catch, but the column article which the reporter devoted to it was so graphically written that it was widely copied by the newspapers and other publications like the Angler, and Forest and Stream. Right here allow me to tell you that Brother Harris, of the Angler, questioned the weight of the fish, or the claim made for me by the Sun, but I did not mind that. The fish weighed eighteen pounds then, and when I tell the story of its capture, etc., etc., to-day, that is what it weighed, never more or less.

Keeping everlastingly at it brings success, we are told. Well, I have been persevering enough in my efforts each four months of every season, but from a score of some 900 odd fish taken during the season of 1890, I have, with just as constant application and more hours, only been able to produce a score of 117 in 1903.

Seven years ago I fished from a Whitehall boat; since that time from a gasoline launch. Possibly it may make a difference, but I think not.

I have become so infatuated with salt water fishing that I do not think I could ever return to the now posted brooks of New England, seek of the owner a permit to catch a two-ounce trout, or do I think the streams of Nova Scotia, that held me captive for so many seasons, would to-day induce me to give up the prospect even of catching a few large weakfish, bass or bluefish.

The Paschal Candle.

In every Catholic church all over the world a "paschal" or Easter candle, made of purest wax, is blessed on Holy Saturday, the day before Easter, by a deacon, who fixes at its base five grains of incense in memory of the five wounds of Jesus and the precious spices wherewith He was anointed in the tomb.

From Easter until Whitsunday the paschal candle burns on the gospel side of the altar during mass and vespers, as a symbol that Christ, the light of the world, has risen from the grave.

Anciently the torch was a huge affair. One used at Canterbury, England, in 1457, weighed three hundred pounds. Another, at Norwich, was so high that it was lighted by means of an orifice in the roof of the choir.

FULLER FILES CONTEST.

Charges Illegal Votes and Bribery and Irregularities in Returns.

Probate Judge S. L. Fuller, who was defeated for re-election by Robert I. Burke in last Monday's primary in Cullman county, has filed a contest after he had announced that he would not do so. He filed his petition with R. L. Hipp, chairman of the county democratic executive committee. This was a surprise even to most of Judge Fuller's closest friends, who had strongly advised him against it.

He alleges that 357 illegal votes were cast by republicans and populists that money was used to bribe and defraud, that republicans were allowed to manage the election at some of the boxes. He also alleges that gambling and fraud were resorted to to wrongfully influence voters. He charges fraud, irregularity and illegality in management, certifying and returning.

Two Girard Men Injured.

Jack Christian, a young white man, was caught in a belt in the dye house of the Eagle and Phenix mills at Columbus, Ga. His arm was mangled so badly that it had to be amputated below the elbow, and he was thrown fourteen feet, with the result that he is now suffering from concussion of the brain. The chances for his recovery are small.

George W. Garrett, aged 44 years, a Seaboard Air-Line foreman, was thrown under a freight car and saved his leg only by presence of mind. He was caught by the car and the calf of his leg badly cut, but he saved himself.

TAX COLLECTOR

Claims that Forged Poll Tax Receipts Are Out In Wilcox.

According to Tax Collector Lambert it appears that there were some one hundred persons in Wilcox county who voted in the recent primaries to whom he had not issued poll tax receipts, but who at the same time claimed to hold same. In other words, the tax collector intimates that somebody has been forging his name. He wants a state examiner to come at once to Wilcox and make a thorough examination of the matter.

Nominee Dead.

S. H. Herren, democratic nominee for the office of circuit clerk of Cullman county, died suddenly Sunday night while writing a card of thanks to his supporters in the late primary. He was an old confederate soldier. His opponent in the primary was O. S. Roden, whom he defeated by a vote of 1,018 to 537. He is survived by a wife and two sons.

A committee from the Talladega city council is preparing a programme for the dedicatory services on the occasion of the dedication of the Joseph B. Graham Memorial school now in course of construction. It is expected to make the event an important one in local history, with distinguished visitors present, also military companies from nearby towns. At one time Mr. Graham was superintendent of the city schools and superintendent of education for Talladega county. At the time of his death he was field agent of the Southern Education board.

The governor instructed Secretary Jackson to announce the appointment of Malcom A. Graham as a member of the board of trustees of the Alabama Girls' Industrial school from the fifth district. Mr. Graham, who succeeds the late Congressman Chas. W. Thompson as a member of the board, lives at Prattville.

Congressman Burnett was nominated to succeed himself in congress over John A. Lusk, of Marshall, by a majority of 4,948. Out of 10,124 votes cast Burnett received 7,536 votes and Lusk 2,588.

Alabama master plumbers are in annual convention in Birmingham.

Hale Eastham, night engineer in the M. and O. yards at Meridian, Miss., was assaulted by his colored fireman Monday night and severely hurt. The fireman is missing.

Alexander R. Lawson, the engineer who shot and killed E. P. (Dump) McDonald a week ago in Birmingham, died from his wounds, received in the duel, Monday.

The final count of the primary for the chancellorship of the northwestern division shows: Altman, 7,063; Carmichael, 5,692.

In Mobile in annual convention are the Alabama State Medical and the Alabama Pharmaceutical associations.

May 11th, at Selma, the forty-fourth annual grand conclave of Alabama grand commandery Knights Templar will convene.

Work will soon be started on the construction of the $15,000 Carnegie library at Talladega (colored) college.

Joseph S. Cain, the "father" of Mardi Gras in Mobile, died Monday at the age of 72 years.

Congressman Bankhead's exact majority over Captain Hobson is 941.

Lieutenant Governor Cunningham is expected home the last of the week.

Quarter Century Development of the South.

In a comparative statement of the total value of all mineral products in the southern states in 1880, 1901 and 1902, not a single state but shows gains, Alabama, for instance, taking the lead, having increased the value of its products by over $57,000,000, and West Virginia by over $56,000,000. Virginia comes next with an increase of $20,612,000, followed by Tennessee with a net gain of $18,788,000. Missouri, next in rank, has increased the value of its mineral output $17,371,000, Kentucky's gain is nearly $11,000,000, and that of Maryland $9,569,000. The increase in other states, in the order named, is as follows: Texas, $8,949,000; Georgia, $4,054,000; Arkansas, $3,290,000; Florida, $2,777,000; South Carolina, $1,444,000, and North Carolina, $1,019,000. The value of the output of minerals in Louisiana, $966,639, and of Oklahoma, $431,000, in 1902, is all gain, as this industry in each of them was undeveloped in 1880.

One Gone Forward.

The first of five new submarine boats, building at St. Petersburg, and forty wagon loads of ammunition were dispatched Monday to the theater of war. The submarine boat, which was sent off in sections, is elliptical in shape and fitted with an improved electrical apparatus for firing torpedoes, which, it is claimed, experiments have shown enormously increases offensive power of torpedoes.

There is now under way and contracted for $200,000 worth of building in Talladega. The largest individual improvement is the Planters' Chemical company's $100,000 plant.

It is reported that a number of Norwegians are to be imported into Alabama for farm laborers.

First In Oil Production.

Geological survey statistics made public place the world's production of petroleum in 1902 at 185,151,089 barrels. Of this the United States and Russia produced 91.44 per cent. For years Russia has led in point of production, but an increase of 10,377,722 in the production of the United States in 1902 and a decrease amounting to 4,628,515 barrels in the production of Russia put the United States at the head of the list. The United States produced nearly 2.6 barrels of refined product in 1902 for every barrel produced by the rest of the world.

AT THE CAPITOL

Congressional Proceedings and Other Items

APRIL 14TH.

The senate devoted the entire day to consideration of the bill for the government of the Panama canal zone and Mr. Morgan again occupied the floor most of the day. The discussion related principally to details of governing the canal, but some consideration also was given to Mr. Hale's amendment requiring the use of American bottoms in the shipping of canal supplies to the zone.

In the house the Philippine bill passed and the postoffice appropriation bill sent to conference.

APRIL 15TH.

After a day of quiet routine proceedings the senate was addressed by Mr. Bailey on the question of civil service. The subject came up in connection with a paragraph in the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The Panama canal bill occupied the major part of the day and was passed without division.

The civil service appropriation bill was taken up and when the senate adjourned about half of it had been read.

The senate passed a joint resolution ordering the printing of 10,000 copies of the report of the anthracite coal strike commission.

The postoffice appropriation bill was referred to a conference committee.

A bill extending to the outlying possessions of the United States the law prohibiting the transmission by express of obscene literature from one state to the other was passed.

APRIL 16TH.

The entire day in the senate was given up to the consideration of a bill for the modification of the agreement of the Indians of the Devil's lake reservation in North Dakota for the sale of their lands. No decision was reached.

General routine work on the deficiency bill was completed by the house. Preceding this the District of Columbia was legislated for in several minor matters.

APRIL 18TH.

The senate continued consideration of the civil appropriation bill, but did not conclude it. A number of other bills were passed during the day, including measures ratifying agreements with the Indians of the Devils Lake, Rosebud and Flathead reservations, located respectively in North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana.

The conference report on the army appropriation bill will be considered tomorrow.

The sundry civil bill was laid before the senate and the amendment in relation to the appointment of forestry agents was agreed to. It was then laid aside and the bill for the modification of the agreement with the Indians of Devils Lake reservation in North Dakota was again taken up and passed after slight amendments.

The house passed the last of the supply bills of the government, the general deficiency appropriation measure, after a stormy session which lasted until 8:15 in the evening. The contest was a party one over the deficiency appropriation for pensions, which the democrats tried ineffectively to amend by incorporating as a law the recent executive age disability order.

Late in the afternoon Mr. Hitt offered his Chinese exclusion bill, introduced Saturday, as an amendment to the special deficiency bill and it was accepted without objection.

After the opening a bill was presented providing for the relief of the growers of long tobacco. It repeals the internal revenue tax to 6 cents a pound on leaf tobacco in the hand and all special taxes.

Physicians who attended Major Hugh C. Dennis, president of the Rialto Grain and Securities Company, whose sudden death ended his connection with the case in which Senator J. R. Burton, of Kansas, was recently convicted, state that Major Dennis' death resulted from continually brooding over the conviction and sentence of Senator Burton.

At Washington the thirteenth annual continental congress of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution opened Monday with over 2,000 delegates, alternates and visitors in attendance. The sessions will continue throughout the week. Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, wife of the senior senator of Indiana, presided. The credentials committee reported a total of 41,206 members, 687 chapters, thirty national officers and 273 delegates.

Postmaster General Payne has returned from Galveston for Washington improved in health.

The United States court of appeals will hereafter hold one term each year in Birmingham. A bill providing for this passed the senate Monday. The president's signature is required now to make it effective as a law.

United States Minister Allen reports to the government that the Korean government is not now granting mining or other concessions, hence applications for such, says the minister, are useless.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The Democrats of Shelby county have every reason to be proud of their county ticket. Every man who has a place on that ticket is worthy the suffrage of every man in the county irrespective of party. They are the choice of the Democrats of Shelby county in the primary. The campaign was a warm one, but to the credit of all Democrats it was entirely free of anything of a personal nature. Each qualified white elector in the county had an opportunity to vote for his choice. There was no slate such as has been framed by the opposition.

The county ticket has at its head Hon. D. R. McMillan, candidate for Probate Judge. No higher tribute can be paid Mr. McMillan than given by his opponent in the primary, Hon. E. S. Lyman. In speaking of him a day or two following the primary, Mr. Lyman said: "Judge McMillan's popularity, force of character, many virtues; his experience and ability and the splendid victory he has achieved in the primary insure him the election in November." Well versed in the law, honorable, conscientious and of high moral character his fitness for the office to which he has been nominated is all that could be asked. He is a capable leader, and his influence will be a power in the campaign.

Who is there in the county who does not know W. R. A. Milner, our nominee for Circuit Clerk? No better clerk ever had in charge the court records of any county than Mr. Milner. His friends are legion and they are all over the county—friends who love and revere this gray-haired Confederate veteran who carries the scars received while in honorable service in defense of this pretty Southland—the home of his people and his people's people. Competent and trust worthy; honest and true as the sun which comes up over the eastern horizon—no better composite has any man.

To Beat 11 the Democrats have gone for a candidate for Tax Collector. A tiller of the soil, since early boyhood, J. E. Adams has made for himself a reputation in his community that is indeed enviable. And while making that reputation he also framed a character the foundation of which was built by his mother in his boyhood days—one of sterling worth in every particular. His quiet, unassuming manner has a peculiar charm that leaves most pleasant impressions upon all who come in contact with him. Although having spent most of his life in the fields, he has applied himself in other ways and his capability to discharge the duties of Tax Collector is questioned by none.

It requires a man of capability to discharge the duties of Assessor, and all Democrats are really proud of the young man whom they have chosen as a candidate for this office, J. S. Falkner. Of fine christain character, he is now in the full zenith of a sterling young manhood. He is a Shelby county boy through and through, and Shelby county is proud of him. He is at present book-keeper for Wilder Bros., the well known merchant firm of Vincent. He is an unnsually bright, energetic and congenial young man, and to know him is to remember him with pleasure. He is a representative of one of the oldest and most reputable families in Shelby, and in November it will be only a question of what his majority will be over his opponent.

Again to the fields did the Democrats go for their candidate for County Treasurer—one whom all know to be an honorable, upright, worthy man in every particular, Christain-like in all that he does, Walter E. Lester, carries the confidence of the people with him. His every-day walk in life has been an examplary one, and it is through this every-day character Mr. Lester owes more than any other one thing, the confidence that has come to him of his fellowmen. The office of County Treasurer is one of great trust, and the people of any county cannot be too careful in choosing the man who is to hold the funds of the county in trust. Mr. Lester is an energetic, tireless worker, and his nomination will bring strength to the ticket outside of party lines.

The record of Jno. B. Farrell during his present term is the best evidence of his fitness for the office of Superintendent of Education During the past two years the public schools of Shelby county have taken on new life, and it is to the untiring efforts of Mr. Farrell—the great personal interest he has taken in their development that has brought this about. The teachers of the county have a high regard for Mr. Farrell, and his popularity as a man and his fitness as an educator has given him the best effort of his teachers in their school work. The cause of education has taken great strides in the past two years, and the schools of this county have kept abreast of this tide. The future of a county depends largely upon its educational energy and life, and for that reason the people of any county should be very careful before delivering its public school system into the hands of an unknown quantity. Mr. Farrell has proven his efficiency, and will continue to do so.

The Democrats of the First and Third Districts have nominated excellent men for Commissioners. Both are farmers, but this detracts nothing from their capability, but on the other hand, both being heavy taxpayers, they will be watchful of the funds of the county, and will prevent any unnecessary and wasteful use of the county funds. They are representative men of their communities, honorable and upright in all that they do and mark the prediction: W. E. Riddle and Jno. N. Wyatt. will be members of the next Board of County Commissioners.

The men who have been nominated for minor offices are all good men of that class to be trusted in the discharge of their duties.

The above is the ticket the Democrats present to the voters of Shelby County for an endorsement in November, and The Sentinel believes that endorsement will be given with a handsome majority. Conditions are such that necessity demands a change in the management and administration of the affairs of the county, and as the campaign progresses the necessity of this change will become more and more apparent.

"One of the best Institutes the county has ever had," is what Supt. John B. Farrel says of the meeting at Harpersville, "The people up there treated us royally, too," he added.

Important Notice.

Some time ago we came out in a card, through the county papers, setting forth the fact that the duty of redistructing the county is now upon us. At the same time we made an earnest appeal to the officers and patrons of the different schools to assist us in this work, by making diagrams of such districts as in their minds should be formed. But as yet, we have had but little assistance. In making said diagrams please describe the location of schools and boundaries of districts, by the use of township and section lines, roads, streams, etc.

If you have suggestions to offer, now is your time for soon it will be too late,

Jno. B. Farrell,
Supt. Ed.

Teachers' Institute.

The Shelby County Teachers' Institute convened at Harpersville, Ala., April 15th, 1904, and was called to order by John B. Farrell. Superintendent of Education, at 10:30 a. m. After songs 343 and 86 were sung, devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. O. P. Bentley. His words of encouragement, and his prayer preceding the Institute, were inspiration to all present.

The welcome address by Prof. S. J. Strock was cordial and cheering. In the absence of L. B. Riddle the response was given by E. L. Patton. He emphasized the great importance of teachers attending these Institutes, giving examples of efforts he has made to attend them.

As some time was consumed in arranging homes for the delegates, after the enrollment of teachers and the appointing of two committees, one on Resolutions consisting of Misses Mary Liles, Bertie Allen and W. H. Gilbert, and the other on Local Taxation consisting of Profs. Strock, Patton and Ellenburg, the Institute adjourned for dinne at 12 m.

At 2.00 p. m. the Institute resumed work; opening with the song "Showers of Blessings" and prayer by C. H. Florey.

The first subject was taken up. "Our Prescribed Music Course and its Importance," by Misses Stella Posey and Bertie Allen. Miss Allen read a lengthy article that was very much appreciated; by request, she also gave an outline of music work she has done in the past year. Discussion of the subject followed by Mrs. Kate Wallace and Prof. Patton, showing the importance of this work in our schools.

Miss Stella Powell being absent, the next subject, "Is the Drawing Period Necessary in the Average School?" was passed.

The subject of English Grammar was next taken up. Interesting papers were read on the subjects assigned. Misses Kate Gorman, Zada Davis, Ellen Williams and Mary Liles, and a general and interesting discussion followed by many of the members present. Supt. J. B. Farrell giving several blackboard illustrations by request of Prof. Ellenburg.

The next subject, "Advisability of our Prescribed Course in Agriculture," by Prof. E. L. Patton, was discussed pro and con at some length by the Institute; Miss Allen and Mrs. Kate Wallace giving interesting experiments made in their schools. They, with Mr. Gorman, took a strong postion in favor of the adoption of the course; D. L. Patton and J. W. Ellenburg taking an uncertain position, first on one side and then on the other.

A very excellent paper was read by Mrs. Kate Wallace, "How Do You Manage the Overgrown Boy, Proud of His Teens?" It was very highly appreciated by the Institute, and on motion of Miss Allen, it was resolved to have it published, she consented on condition that she might revise the paper.

The subject of Arithmetic was next taken up, Prof. C. H. Florey introducing the subject. The different divisions were discussed very freely and fully by the members of the Institute. Some interesting examples in common fractions were given by Prof. S. J. Strock. After the discussion of this subject the Institute adjourned to meet at the Baptist church at 8 o'clock for the evening program.

After a succession of beautiful and appropriate songs, Supt. Farrell introduced, in his usual impressive manner, the speaker of the evening Dr. F. M. Peterson, of Montevallo. Dr Peterson entertained a large audience in a delightful manner, giving many instances of his work as a teacher, and pointing the teacher especially to the Divine help.

The Institute met at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, Supt. J. B. Farrell in the chair; opening song 272, followed by invocation by Dr. F. M. Peterson.

As some of the members were compelled to leave, a departure from the program was made, and Local Taxation was taken up. Prof. Patton was called upon first and showed plainly the great advantages that this system would be to the public schools. Dr. Peterson came next, and took a strong stand in defense of the education of the negro, illustrating the effect of illiteracy in the South, calling this universal ignorance a moral blot on our land. Dr. Peterson is also in favor of compulsory education, and the lengthening of the school term from five to eight months; he also stated that the redistricting of the State would be the open sesame to many other improvements in our county. The question of money for schools, not how much but how made was discussed. He heartily endorsed all that Prof. Patton had said in favor of this subject.

Prof. J. W. Ellenburg gave an excellent blackboard treatise, "An Exercise in Enumeration and Pronunciation." He then made a motion to locate the Teachers' Institute, and suggested Columbiana as a permanent meeting place for the teachers. The motion was opposed by Dr. Peterson, whose argument was that the good done for the different communities should not be sacrificed for the convenience of the teachers. Prof. Strock agreed with Dr. Peterson. The motion was lost.

The committee on resolutions reported and the report was unanimously adopted

Supt. Farrell made many excellent short talks during the Institute which were greatly enjoyed.

On invitation of Dr. Peterson it was decided to hold the next Institute at Montevallo.

Respectfully submitted,
CAROLYN ROWE.
Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS.

Inasmuch as we, the teachers of Shelby county assembled in Institute at Harpersville, have received such a thoroughly cordial welcome, we wish to express a hearty appreciation for the same. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we extend our sincere thanks to those who have so kindly entertained us in their homes, and also for the especially kind attention they have shown in furnishing transportation to and from the raiload. Be it further

Resolved, That we extend to Dr. F. M. Peterson our unanimous thansk for his presence the very excellent address given on last evening, and his helpful work in the Institute. Be it

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the county papers

Respectfully submitted,
MARY A. LILES.
BERTIE H. ALLEN,
W. H. GILBERT.

Senator Burton is likely to find the grafting business rather expensive to him before he gets through with it. But, then, his downfall was not unexpected by even his closest friends, for, if all reports are true he has been a purchaseble commodity ever since his entry to politics.

Every Democrat in the county can give his party ticket a most cordial support. Every man on the ticket is representative of loyal, honest manhood; men of clean character and high-standing in their respective communities.

The Best Family Salve.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel gives instant relief from burns, cures cuts, bruises, sores, eczema, Tetter and all abrasions of the skin. In buying With Hazel Salve it is only necessary to see that you get the genuine DeWitt's Witch hazel salve and a cure is certain. There are many cheap counterfeits on the market, all of which are worthless and quite a few are dangerous, while Dewitt's are perfectly harmless and cures. Sold at Williams Bros.

Parties subject to road duty should remember that they can pay the cash if they do not care to work. In some places in the county the road overseers have refused to accept cash payment. The law says overseers must accept the money if tendered when warned out.

Good for Children.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough cure gives immediate relief in all cases of cough, croup and lagripe because it does not pass immediately in the stomach but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood tissues. One Minute Cough Cure is pleasant to take and it is good alike for young and old. Sold by Williams Bros.

The Georgia delegation will be for Parker.

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to with stand each succeding colds and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by Bandy Drug Company.

The Columbiana Millinery Shop has just received a large invoice of [illegible] fat or lean, the rich or poor can be fitted—both the shapes and the purses. 2t.

John McGibony, a prosperous farmer of this beat, says the recent cold weather has about destroyed the apple crop, but that peaches are in good condition.

Miss Bertie Allen and Miss Pettus, two teachers in the Montevallo public schools, passed through this city last Thursday, enroute to the Teachers' Institute at Harpersville.

The play, "A Pious Fraud" will probably be given in Shelby and Wilsonville at near future dates. We can assure the people of those towns that they will be delightfully entertained.

The Columbiana Millinery Shop is constantly receiving shipments of the latest shapes and styles of white and black chiffon hats. The most fastidious can find just the shape they want. 2t.

John W. Bolin, a prominent farmer from near Wilsonville, was a pleasant caller on The Sentinel last Saturday. Mr. Bolin says the farmers are very busy up in his section just now.

Hon. Sydney J. Bowie will deliver an address during Commencement at the Girls' Industrial School in Montevallo. Mr. Bowie is taking a great interest in educational matters in Alabama.

All matter intended for insertion in The Sentinel for the current week should be in the office not later than Wednesday morning, as we will try to go to press in the afternoon of that day.

The telephone line being erected between this place and Wilsonville by Messrs. White and Davis, was completed last Saturday and works like a charm. This line will prove a great convenience to both towns.

While some negroes were gambling in a shanty at Aldrich last Saturday night, an unknown person shot through the window of the building, killing a negro named Smith, and probably fatally wounding another. There is no clue as to who did the shooting.

Geo. W. Morgan, a prominent merchant of Montevallo, was in the city the fore part of the week, having been summoned as a juror in a special case. Mr. Morgan was at one time in business in Shelby, and took advantage of his trip to Columbiana to visit friends over there last Sunday.

PLEASING ENTERTAINERS.

A Delightful Presentation of "A Pious Fraud."

A large audience greeted the presentation of "A Pious Fraud" at the Academy Tuesday night. From lifting of the curtain on the first act to its falling at the closing scene, the work of each member of the cast was entirely acceptable to the audience as was evinced by the frequent and hearty applause prompted by individual merit.

The plot of the comedy is a pleasant little story, depicting the tribulations of two college students who, at the approaching close of school, desire to give a little dinner to their sweethearts. The arrival of an aunt of one of the students is expected to chaperon the party, but as she is unavoidably delayed, and the young ladies having accepted the invitation to dinner, the boys are in the middle of a dilemma. They finally decide to dress another chum to the character of the aunt, and from that time the troubles of the two college boys come thick and fast. At times they want to choke the life out of the pseudo aunt, but that individual holds vantage ground, knows it, and improves the opportunity. The two sweethearts are niece and ward of a Mr. Spettigue, a pompous individual with an irritable temper, who is inclined to be tyrannical in his ways. The father of one of the boys, an old English gentleman of culture, arrives upon the scene, and at the suggestion of his son, although contrary to his own inclinations, proceeds to make a conquest of the so-called aunt. In this pursuit he has a [illegible] of the choleric uncle. In due time the real aunt arrives and there is consternation in the ranks of the conspirators. With the aunt comes a ward who has had in her life a little romance all her own, and the hero of that romance is Lord Fencourt Baberly, the college boy who is disguised as the aunt. A pathetic little scene in connection with this part of the play is when Ela DeLahey tells the little romance of her life to the disguised lord. A little later the deception practiced by the boys is exposed, but not until our pompous friend has engaged himself to the spurious aunt. In the finale the real aunt reads a little lecture to the boys, and later gives her hand to Sir Francis Chesney, who had been her sweetheart in the days of auld lang syne. Matters adjust themselves and all ends well.

Prof. Dowell and Will Lawley were typical college boys who are ever ready for a lark, or to make love to a pretty girl. Grover Liles, as the fraudulent aunt, afterwards Lord Fencourt Baberly, portrayed the character to life, and had the audience with him from his first appearance. Mr. Farrell as the peppery old uncle and guardian was good. Henry Latham dressed the character of Sir Francis Chesney well, and his dignified air was surprising to those who know Henry in every day affairs. Percy Pitts was a jewel of a servant, a veritable Handy Andy at all times. Miss Gertrude Roberts and Miss Edna Nelson as Amy Spettigue and Kittie Verdum, sweethearts of the college chums, were delightfully discreet, yet in hearty sympathy with their sweethearts, but ignorant of the deception practiced upon them by the boys. Miss Esther Mason as Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez and Miss Stella Powell as Ela DeLahey, her ward, made a pleasing impression—the former a personification of dignified gentility; the latter a devoted, loving companion to the friend who had been so kind to her.

The faculty of our Graded School and the friends who assisted in the presentation of "A Pious Fraud," furnished a delightful evening to a large number. The staging was clever, the characters had been carefully studied, and the portrayal of each was all that could be asked. The Sentinel believes that the entertainment could be repeated to equally as large an audience as was present Tuesday night.

Pleasant features of the evening were the musical numbers of Miss Nelson and Annie Ponder, and Miss Mason and Lois Mason.

LATER.—Since writing the above The Sentinel is authorized to say that the play will be repeated again tonight (Thursday). Admission 10 and 15 cents. The Academy should be filled to the doors, not only because it will help the piano fund, but for the reason that the entertainment is a meritorious one, and we feel sure you will be pleased.

Rev. J. W. Willis, pastor of the Montevallo Baptist church, preached two excellent sermons in this city last Sunday, at the Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Upshaw, pastor of the church here, preached in Montevallo on that day.

It has been a long time since Shelby county has had a Superintendent of Education who was more popular with the teachers of the county than Jno. B. Farrell. He has made a good official, and is sure of another term.

Columbiana people have every reason to be proud of the teachers in charge of their public schools. Good schools and good churches are the best advertisements a town can have. Those of Columbiana are among the best in the State.

An item in The Sentinel last week, relative to the appointment of city physicians, should have read they were appointed by "the Board of Censors" instead of by the Board of Census. Our attention was called to the error by Dr. DuBose.

Now that the warm summer days are near at hand it might be a good idea to clean up any refuse matter which may have accumulated in the alleys during the winter months. A little precaution along this line is equal to a quarantine against fever.

The case of Frank J. Kroell, who was convicted in the Circuit Court of this county a year ago and sentenced to thirty-six years in the penitentiary for the killing of Walter S. Cary, has been passed upon by the Supreme court and the decision of the lower court affirmed.

"Child Study in Relation to character Building," is the subject of an address to be given by Prof. Spright Dowell before the Sunday School convention to held at Mt. Chapel church next Sunday. The Sentinel doubts very much if this subject could have been given to one more thoroughly equipped to talk intelligently of than Prof. Dowell.

An attractive show window may be seen at Leo Friedburger's this week. A miniature park has been arranged in the window; it is sodded, the grass is growing nicely in it, and several guinea pigs meander as they please, paying little heed to the inscription "Keep off the grass" displayed conspicuously. The window has attracted the admiration of all, and is the handiwork of Simon Friedburger.

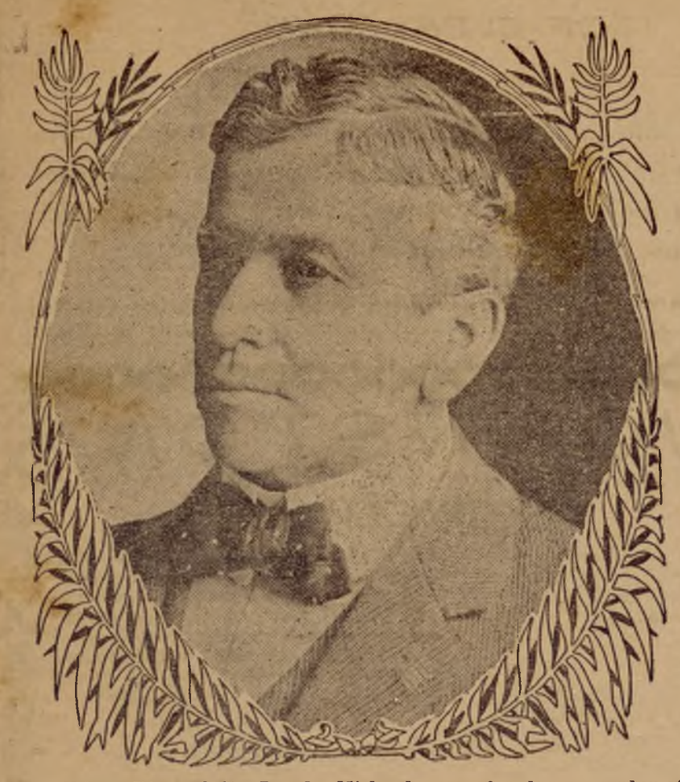
A MICHIGAN MAYOR SAYS:

"I Know Peruna is a Fine Tonic For a Worn Out System."



Hon. Nelson Rice, of St. Joseph, Mich., knows of a large number of grateful patients in his county who have been cured by Peruna.

Hon. Nelson Rice, Mayor of St. Joseph, Michigan, writes:
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen: "I wish to congratulate you on the success of your efforts to win the confidence of the public in need of a reliable medicine. I know Peruna is a fine tonic for a worn out system and a specific in cases of catarrhal difficulties. You have a large number of grateful patients in this country who have used Peruna and have been cured by it, and who praise it above all other medicines. Peruna has my heartiest good wishes."---Nelson Rice.

MARCH, APRIL, MAY.

Weak Nerves, Poor Digestion, Impure Blood, Depressed Spirits.

Gentlemen: "I wish to congratulate y ou on the success of your efforts to win the confidence of the public in need of a re liable medicine.

The sun has just crossed the equator on its yearly trip north. The real equator is shifted toward the north nearly eighteen miles every day. With the return of the sun comes the bodily ills peculiar to spring. With one person the nerves are weak; another person, digestion poor; with others the blood is out of order; and still others have depressed spirits and tired feeling.

All these things are especially true of those who have been suffering with catarrh in any form or la grippe. A course of Peruna is sure to correct all these conditions. It is an ideal spring medicine. Peruna does not irritate—it invigorates. It does not temporarily stimulate — it strengthens. It equalizes the circulation of the blood, tranquilizes the nervous system and regulates the bodily functions. Peruna, unlike so many spring medicines is not simply a physic or stimulant or nervine. It is a natural tonic and invigorator.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

BIG FIRE AT WYLAM

Burns Eighteen Residences, a Church and a Hotel.

Friday afternoon fire broke out in the Tate hotel in the central portion of Wylam and in less than an hour the flames, fanned by a stout west wind, had destroyed eighteen residences. The total loss is estimated at between 16,000 and $17,000. The flames were checked by the use of dynamite used to blow up the houses in the path of the fire. Wylam has no water protection. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been a defective flue. The losses incurred are as follows: Mrs. W. W. Wilson, hotel, $2,500; Tate, household goods, $1,000, partly insured; Dr. W. D. Caldwell, house $800, furniture $1,000, horse $200, partly insured; old Methodist church, $1,500; William Montgomery house and household goods $2,000, partly insured; J. L. Conley, three houses and household goods, $2,000, partly insured; J. W. Sanford, two houses, $1,000; Mrs. William Jenkins, five houses, $2,500; Mrs. Brown, house destroyed by dynamite, value $500; Mrs. White, household goods, $500; W. J. Stacey, house $800, household goods and buggy, $1,000. This is the first time in the history of this mining town that it has suffered such a loss, but the citizens will rebuild.

The hotel is the first modern hostelry erected in the Louisiana capital. Mrs. Leavitt is there with her husband, the artist, who is painting a portrait of Governor Heard.

Korea's Palace Burned.

A report to high officials has it that the imperial palace at Seoul, Korea, was completely destroyed by fire Thursday night. The fire began in the evening and lasted throughout the night. The emperor and his suite succeeded in escaping to a nearby refuge. The report does not mention any loss of life, nor does it give the cause of the fire, but the recent political unrest in the Korean capital leads to fears that the destruction of the palace was the work of the rebellious element.

The imperial palace is a massive structure 400 years old, is built of stone. It is an old federal structure and contains within its walls a constant guard of 500. Inside the confines of the palace grounds 5,000 retainers live. The palace is not the oldest of the emperor's homes. He has another palace in which he lived for many years, but one night a snake fell from the ceiling of his bed room, according to a well circulated story and Yie Evi immediately moved to his present imperial abode.

GREENWOOD, MISS.,

Was Visited by a Cyclone Thursday—The Damage.

A cyclone struck Greenwood, Miss., Thursday night.

The fourth story of the big new furniture factory was completely demolished, entailing a heavy loss. One store and several smaller buildings in the same vicinity were swept from their foundations. No loss of life is reported, but all of the wires are down north of the city and no reports can be obtained.

In Its Old Bed.

With a roar that was heard for miles the Mississippi river, Friday night, cut through Killickrankie Neck in Davis Bend, restored Davis island to the Mississippi mainland, and resumed its old channel through what for forty years has been known as Lake Palmyria.

Incidently several valuable cotton plantations were practially ruined. The neck of land through which the river cut to regain possession of its former channal was about five hundred yards wide. Davis Bend is twenty miles south of Vicksburg.

Cotton In India.

The government of India has issued the final general memorandum on the cotton crop of British India for 1903-04, showing that the area under cotton of 17,870,599 acres is over a million acres larger than the corrected area of last year, which was then the highest returned. The official figures of the estimated yield is 2,873,393 bales. The estimated total yield for this season excluding returns from Assam and Mysore, which did not report last year, is approximately the same as for last season.

Will Open the School.

Colored citizens of Jackson, Miss., have raised the funds necessary to reopen the Holly Springs state normal school for colored teachers, and say that they will not ask the north to give a cent. They propose to get the cash from their own people. This is the school that was closed on account of Governor Vardaman's veto of the bill which appropriated $2,000 per annum to its support, and which bill the legislature was unable to pass over the veto.

The United States entertains several costly unbidden guests. The chinch bug costs $100,000,000; the Hessian fly costs $50,000,000; the grasshopper, $9,000,000; the potato bug, $8,000,000, and the cotton boll worm $60,000,000.

Although the sea covers three-fourths of the earth's surface it does not provide in the same proportion for man's wants. Only about three per cent. of the people in the world gain their living directly from the sea.

It is a curious fact that the teeth that are seldom used decay more rapidly than those that have daily work to do. It is a fact, however, and being a fact, the thing to do is to take pains to eat on both sides of the mouth equally.

The Sultan of Turkey has issued an order forbidding his subjects to clothe their children's heads with strange, fantastic hats, imitating European fashions. The children are to wear the simple Turkish bonnets, with no exaggerated ornaments.

The best rugs of Persia represent patience, taste and prolonged labor. On each square foot of surface a weaver works about twenty-three days. A rug twelve by twelve feet would therefore require the labor of one man for 3312 days, or over ten years, not counting Sundays.

The fact that Thomas Jefferson was great as an inventor is seldom mentioned—possibly because he failed to patent any of his inventions, thereby making a monopoly which would make it profitable for a manufacturer to introduce them. His copying press, however, came into general use. He devised a three-legged camp-stool, a revolving chair, a wagon, a pedometer, a hemp cultivator and a plow which brought him a gold medal from France.

SUBMARINE BELL SIGNALING.

A Novel Invention Which Is to Aid Safety at Sea.

If vessels could run from lightship to lightship infallibly by sound as they do by sight in fair weather, the improvement would amount to a revolution in coastwise traffic; and it is on a coastwise route that the practical trial of a new system of submarine bell signaling is being carried out.

The apparatus may be described briefly as follows: Electrical transmitters peculiarly sensitive to sounds which proceed through the water are placed in iron cases, one on the starboard and one on the port, inside the ship, below the water-line, and some distance from back to bow. They are wired to the wheelhouse and connected there with a switchbox having two ordinary telephonic receivers. By a system of switches the observer is enabled instantly to compare the sound received on the starboard with the same sound received on the port side. If a more exact direction is desired, a slight swinging of the bow of the vessel will increase or diminish the sound received in either one of the transmitters to such an extent that the exact location of the submarine bell may be determined when the bow crosses the line.

It is well known that a navigator in straining his eyes in the night for a light is tempted to believe that he sees a light at the point where he expects to see it, and many wrecks have occurred for this reason. The apparatus of the Submarine Signal Company is designed to eliminate the personal factor entirely. The captain at his window need not know whether he is listening to the starboard or the port receiver until he has ascertained which is the louder. Having done so, he presses an electric button, which lights up a green or red light, according to whether the bell is on the starboard or port side.—H. C. Gauss, in Harper's Weekly.

Ventilation Through the Walls.

The fact is that considerable ventilation is capable of taking place and quite a large exchange of fresh for bad air is effected through the walls of buildings. Many a room that is notoriously "stuffy" could doubtless be made pleasant to live in by removing the solid paper or impervious coat of paint from the wall and substituting porous paper, or, better still, giving up paper altogether and using a distemper wash of pleasing tone.—Lancet.

The Oldest Tree on Earth.

It is said that the oldest tree in the world is a bo tree at Adnuradhapura, Ceylon, which was planted close to a Buddhist shrine in 245 B. C., and is therefore 2149 years old. Legend has it that this tree sprang from a branch which severed itself by miraculous power from the sacred tree under which Gautama became Buddha, the enlightened one.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband should be a woman's constant study. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Potts tell their stories for the benefit of all wives and mothers.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make every mother well, strong, healthy and happy. I dragged through nine years of miserable existence, worn out with pain and weariness. I then noticed a statement of a woman troubled as I was, and the wonderful results she had had from your Vegetable Compound, and decided to try what it would do for me, and used it for three months. At the end of that time I was a different woman, the neighbors remarked it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. It seemed like a new existence. I had been suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, but your medicine cured that and built up my entire system, till I was indeed like a new woman.—Sincerely yours, MRS. CHAS. F. BROWN, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., Vice President Mothers' Club."

Suffering women should not fail to profit by Mrs. Brown's experiences; just as surely as she was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability, and nervous prostration. Read the story of Mrs. Potts to all mothers:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—During the early part of my married life I was very delicate in health. I had two miscarriages, and both my husband and I felt very badly as we were anxious to have children. A neighbor who had been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it, and I decided to do so. I soon felt that my appetite was increasing, the headaches gradually decreased and finally disappeared, and my general health improved. I felt as if new blood coursed through my veins, the sluggish tired feeling disappeared, and I became strong and well.

"Within a year after I became the mother of a strong healthy child, the joy of our home. You certainly have a splendid remedy, and I wish every mother know of it.—Sincerely yours, MRS. ANNA POTTS, 510 Park Ave., Hot Springs, Ark."

The annual estimate of the nation's drink bill shows a total retail cost of alcoholic and other stimulating beverages for the year ending June 30, 19d3, to have been $1,451,633,379; the annual average for the past five years, $1,293,903,358. This shows an expenditure for stimulants of $18.15 for each of the 80,672,000 inhabitants, or $90.75 per family of five. The average annual cost for five years was $16.17, or $80.85 for each family. It is estimated that one-fourth of all the people using alcoholic beverages, on which basis each consumer of strong drink expends $62.16 every year to gratify appetite. The per capita cost of coffee, tea and cocoa is $2.61 every year against $15.54 for acholocic drinks.

WOMEN BREAK DOWN.

Sometimes women drift into a condition of "half invalid." Continual languor—all tired out, run down, backache, nerves shattered, headache, terrible pain, no appetite, poor digestion. In nine cases out of ten it's because the kidneys fail to do their work of filtering the poisonous system waste from the blood. The kidneys are weak and need the strengthening help of Doan's Kidney Pills. Read how these pills repair a weakened physical condition when this condition is caused by sick kidneys.

Mrs. Sadie Mettles, of 394 W. 4th Ave., Columbus, Ohio, says: "Prior to the year 1898 I suffered considerably from backache, pain in the head, languor and depression and weakness of the action of the kidneys. The pain was always worse in the morning and I felt miserable. I was induced to procure a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and I began their use. They proved prompt and effective. They cured me, and there has been no return of the trouble since taking them. I owe all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Mettles will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

ESTABLISHED 1875. COLUMBIANA, ALA., APRIL 28, 1904. VOL. 29. NO. 35

THE ENDEAVORERS

End Opelika Convention — Decatur in 1905.

The State Christian Endeavor convention came to a close Sunday night after a successful session. About eighty delegates were in attendance

The new officers are:

President—Professor George White, of Prattville.

Vice President S. J. Cassels, of Montgomery, was re-elected.

Miss Maud Newton and Mr. S. F. Bissett, of Birmingham, were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Miss Mattie Irvin, of Montgomery, was elected junior superintendent.

Mr. H. Galt Braxton, the retiring president, was elected by acclamation world's vice president for a four-year term.

The Decaturs were selected as the place for the next convention, which will be held at a time fixed by the executive committee.

Murder Suspected.

Sunday Handy McDonald was found in an unconscious condition about four miles from Selma and died on Monday. According to a woman by the name of Henrietta Brantley, she and McDonald went down in the woods searching for one of her children who had run away after being whipped. She states that she left McDonald with Sam Davis and Anna Brantley, whom they met near where he was found.

His skull had been crushed by a blow from some heavy instrument. Henrietta Brantley was brought to the city and lodged in jail. The authorities are searching for Sam Davis and Anna Brantlev

Theodore Nadeau, the eastern capitalist and promoter, who has been making arrangements for financing an enterprise to manufacture putty by a new method, is in Mobile to make an inspection of the kaolin beds, from which he proposes to secure a large part of the material used in the Louisville factory. The new method of making putty has been experimented with for the past three years, and it is believed to be a success.

Buried Under Rock.

Samuel Linn, a prominent miner and one of the oldest residents of the Brookside community, received injuries Saturday afternoon which resulted fatally some hours later. Mr. Linn was in a room of the mine alone. A violent explosion caused other miners to rush to the scene to find him buried under about two tons of rock from the roof.

JAPANESE VESSEL SUNK.

Warlike Maneuvers by Russia About the Upper Yalu.

The Russian Vladivostock squadron, after a period of inactivity, suddenly appeared off Gen San on the east coast of Korea and sank the Goyo Maru, a Japanese merchant steamer of 600 tons.

General Kuropatkin, it is believed, is destined to become commander-in-chief of all the emperor's forces, both military and naval, in the far east.

Admiral Alexieff may remain there for some time as viceroy, but his reign is considered practically ended.

While Alexieff and Kuropatkin are on fairly good terms, harmonious relations between Vice Admiral Skrydloff and the viceroy are considered impossible, and with the three enjoying independent commands, it is realized that friction ultimately would be bound to arise which might endanger successful operations. Skrydloff and Kuropatkin on the contrary are warm personal friends.

Kuropatkin has sent a large portion of Rennekampff's cossack cavalry across the upper reaches of the Yalu, and a considerable force of cavalry which crossed the Tumen at the same time is moving down to the southwest to effect a juncture with it. Together with this force, which it is believed totals 2,000 men, he will threaten Inouy's left flank, when the Japanese are ready to cross lower down on the Yalu.

Dismissed the Captain.

The courtmartial of the captain of the cruiser Boyarin, which struck a mine February 13th, has brought out facts hitherto unprinted. According to the testimony adduced the Boyarin sighted a vessel in the fog off Dalny February 12th and a duel occurred between the two which lasted fifteen minutes. Both vessels were damaged. It was later discovered that the enemy was also a Russian and was the Yenesei. The latter vessel later ran onto a mine and was destroyed. The Boyarin gave her crew no aid. Subsequently the Boyarin also struck a mine. The crew escaped, but the captain failed to secure her by a hawser and the Boyarin drifted out to sea and was lost. In his defense the captain produced a letter from the dowager empress congratulating him on his courage in saving the crew of his vessel. Owing to the letter the court did not condemn the captain, but merely withdrew his permission to serve in the future.

Mississippi Railroads.

Announcement is made that the Liberty-White railroad has been completed from McComb City to the Amite river, 18 miles, and that trains are running on regular schedule doing freight business. It is the intention of the management to build through to liberty and to have the road running to that place by the first of July, making a new road of 25 miles.

The Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City is forging north from Newton, to which place from Mobile track laying is almost completed.

The Southern has surveyors in the field marking out their new line from Webb to Memphis, and the Frisco is said to be behind a proposition to build from Memphis to Indianola The Southern is now building west from Okolona to some point in Calhoun county, but the terminus is said not to have been decided upon. The survey for the electric line from Jackson to Vicksburg is almost completed.

The M. E. church, south, claims 1,566,828 members, including ministers, 18,561 congregations, 15,000 churches, 979,935 pupils in the Sunday schools and 108,841 teachers; there are 3,569 chapters of the Epworth League with 123,325 members. The church property is valued at over $32,000,000, upon which there is an indebtedness of $54,356. The collections for the past year totaled $812,686.34.

AMONG LAWMAKERS

At the Seat of Government at Washington.

APRIL 22D.

The general deficiency bill occupied the major portion of the senate's time, but before it was taken up Mr. Gallinger spoke on the tariff policy of the republican party. While the reading of the deficiency bill was in progress, Mr. Cullom delivered a speech on the house Chinese exclusion rider.

During the day the attention of the senate was brought to the amendment of the house to the bill for the government of the canal zone and some embarrassment was created by naming Mr. Gorman as a democratic conferee on behalf of the senate in place of Mr. Morgan, who is the senior democratic member of the committee on interoceanic canals, with the result that both senators declined to serve. Senator Gorman in declining stated that the place rightfully belonged to Senator Morgan as the senior senator of the minority on the committee. The president of the senate then appointed Senator Morgan, who promptly resented the discourtesy by flatly declining to serve on the committee.

The house considered private pension bills and two hundred and thirty-three were passed in forty-five minutes. A conference was ordered on the bill to provide a temporary government for the Panama canal zone. Messrs. Hepburn of Iowa, Levering of Massachusetts and Adams of Georgia being appointed conferees on the part of the house.

The president was severely ciriticised by Mr. Kitchin of North Carolina, who included in his castigation General Grosvenor. He declared that the president had insulted the people of the south by saying in one of his publications that throughout southern character there ran a streak of brutal barbarism. He openly charged the president with being the advocate of lynch law and quoted from one of the president's books to sustain his assertion.

APRIL 23D.

The general deficiency appropriation bill was passed by the senate, leaving only one of the appropriation bills unacted on by that body. A number of amendments were adopted, among them one limiting the Chinese exclusion legislation to a reaffirmation of the exclusion laws of 1902 and other existing exclusion laws. An amendment which was acepted was that excluding Chinese and other aliens coming in as a result of agreements between other countries and a steamship company, having special reference to a contract between the Cunard line and the government of Hungary to supply 30,000 emigrants annually to the steamship company. About 200 private pension bills were passed during the day.

In the house speeches were made by Representatives Hepburn and Cochran and sharp retorts proved features of the session.

A bill was passed for the "protection of the public forest reserves and national parks in the United States." The bill for the commission to investigate the merchant marine was taken up by General Grosvenor. The house concurred in the senate amendment to a bill for a lock and dam in the Tennessee river at Chattanooga.

The house was in session for over five hours Sunday for the purpose of paying tribute to the memory of the late Senator M. A. Hanna, the late Representative C. W. Thompson, of Alabama, and the late Representative W. W. Skiles, of Ohio. Tributes to the memory of the late Mr. Thompson were paid by Representatives Wiley, Underwood, Clayton, Burnett and Bowie, of Alabama; Littlefield, of Maine; Thomas, of North Carolina; Bailey, of Illinois; Conner, of Iowa; Padgett and Gaines, of Tennessee, and Patterson, of North Carolina.

APRIL 25TH.

Whether the president shall order the construction of the battle ship provided for in the naval appropriation bill, or wait until the war in the far east demonstrates the comparative ability of the big sea fighter and the torpedo boat or submarine craft, was a question raised in the senate by Mr. Hale, of Maine, on the adoption of the conference report.

Mr. Bacon discussed trusts, replying to the recent speech of Mr. Dolliver. He devoted the greater portion to conditions which make it possible for American products to be sold abroad for a less price than American consumers are required to pay.

The military academy bill, the last of the general appropriation measures, was under consideration at the hour when memorial services for the late Representative Thompson, of Alabama, were begun.

Mr. Bacon read a letter from Charles Schwab to Mr. Frick giving the cost of manufacturing steel rails, which Mr. Bacon said showed that the "trust" needed no protection against English steel manufacturers. The letter said rails could be sold at a profit at $16 per ton.

"It will be very difficult to convince pig iron producers of Alabama and surrounding states, who have been receiving $18 and $20 for their iron," said Mr. Aldrich, "that the statement is correct."

"That is information given by Mr. Schwab in a private letter," said Mr. Bacon.

"I don't care how private it is," claimed Mr. Aldrich, "he can be mistaken as well as any one—what he states there is absolutely untrue and absurd."

The house passed a large number of bills, including the Alaska delegate bill. The bill to authorize the construction of a light house and for signal station at Diamond Shoal, N. C., occasioned a long debate, but finally passed without division.

An objection to a request by Mr. Grosvenor for leave to print brought a mild protest from him, which aroused Mr. Gaines, of Tennessee, who charged that Mr. Grosvenor had printed everything in the Record about President Roosevelt which the president did not do.

The house insisted on its disagreement with the senate on the amendments of that body to the emergency river and harbor bill, and Messrs. Burton of Ohio, Dovener of West Virginia, and Bankhead of Alabama, were appointed conferees.

Congressional Appropriations.

Chairman Hemenway, of the house committee on appropriations, in a statement compiled under his direction, gives the total of all supply bills (subject to slight changes in pending bills) as $597,862,324, to which must be added $84,971,820 for interest on the public debt. The estimated revenues are $704,742,060. By these figures the expenses are $22,000,000 less than the revenues. The estimates of the various government departments, on which the appropriations bill was based, exceeded the total estimated revenues by $42,845,862. No river and harbor bill making provision for new projects of improvement in the rivers and harbors of the country was undertaken. Likewise, no omnibus measures, carrying provision for public buildings, were allowed to pass.

Pay for Canal.

The state department has been notified of the conclusion in Paris of the contract for the sale to the United States government by the Panama Canal company all of its franchises and property on the isthmus. The money for the canal company will be paid over by the secretary of the treasury, it is understood.

Secretary Hay himself will pay to Panama the $10,000,000 to which it has become entitled. This payment will be made in Washington to Senor Morasemena, the newly appointed minister from Panama, as soon as the government authorizes him by cable to accept the money. The authorities in Panama have become clamorous for this payment, as the money is needed to defray certain expenses already incurred.

Following closely in the lead set by Great Britain, the United States government has decided to use some of its oldest vessels for target practice, for the drilling and experience of the gunners and officers on our modern war vessels. The first vessel to be put to this use is the old civil war monitor, the Montauk. It is proposed to put her through such repairs and changes as will better prepare her for the battering she is to undergo. Armor will be placed on her as heavy as she will carry. The shooting will be done in as shallow water as possible, and when she sinks the holes will be patched and she will be put through the same operation over and over again until she falls to pieces. The old monitor is one of the first of this class of vessels. She has undergone many engagements. Torpedoes have been fired at her and heavy ordnance has directed its missiles at her single turret, but she still floats.

Senator Hanna and seven members of the house have died during the fifty-eighth session, namely, Representatives T. H. Tongue of Oregon, Vincent Boreing of Kentucky, R. H. Foerderer of Pennsylvania, Henry Burk of Pennsylvania, W. W. Skiles of Ohio, G. W. Croft of South Carolina, and C. W. Thompson of Alabama.

T. H. Ball, of Texas, resigned. His place is filled by J. M. Pinckney. George B. McClellan, of New York, resigned and was succeeded by W. Bourke Cochran. Charles Dick, of Ohio, resigned to succeed Senator Hanna in the senate. George Howell, of Pennsylvania, was unseated in favor of William McConnell, and J. A. Shafroth, of Colorado, resigned in favor of R. W. Bonyge, who contested his election.

Nicaragua's gun boat, the Onetta, is at New Orleans.

Prince Po Lun Tsee, nephew of the Chinese emperor and commissioner to the St. Louis exposition, and the first member of the royal family of the flowery kingdom to visit the United States, was received by the president Monday. Prince Po handed the president a letter from the emperor which was written on a silken sheet four feet by two.

Reports from Governor Jelks say he is improving.

Will Be Governor Winthrop.

The president has selected to be William H. Hunt's successor as governor of Porto Rico Beekman Winthrop, who is at present judge of the court of first instance in the Philippines. He went to the Philippines four years ago as private secretary to Governor Taft.

The Olympia has gone into dry dock.

Receiver Has Charge.

The Brunswick and Birmingham railroad has been placed in the hands of a receiver, J. R. L. Smith, of Macon, Ga., upon petition of E. C. Machen, formerly president of the road. The order was granted by Judge Speer, of the United States court for the southern district of Georgia, Saturday at Macon. Machen alleges that the road is indebted to him in the amount of $50,000 for services rendered.

The Atlantic and Birmingham is restrained from turning over securities of the Brunswick and Birmingham to the Knickerbocker Trust company of New York. The hearing as to a permanent receivership is to held May 2nd.

Rod Mill Busy.

About 700 men are now employed in the rod mill of the Alabama Steel and Wire company at Ensley. On account of the scarcity of negro labor the mill is still somewhat handicapped, but just as soon as additional men can be secured they will be put to work. The places of the strikers in the open hearth furnaces of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway company have all been filled and everything is moving along smoothly.

The Cane Crop.

The situation throughout the country remains favorable, but the planters would like to see a good rain and some warm weather. The dry weather has almost reached the dignity of a drought in some sections and the absence of rainfall for a much longer period would have an unfavorable effect on the young canes, though thus far they are not suffering.

Under date of February 9th, Thornwell Haynes, United States consul at Rouen, France, states that the sugar beet acreage for the coming harvest will be greatly reduced, and that many sugar factories, as many as thirty probably, will be closed next season.

Investigating Radium.

The United States geological survey is investigating the occurrence of radium in this country and seeking public co-operation of gathering details regarding localities of radio-active minerals. Radio-active has been observed in many minerals and other substances.

In congress this week day and night sessions are expected. The leaders plan to end the session on Thursday. There remains only one appropriation bill to be passed by the senate, that for the military academy. A number of the supply bills are still in conference, however. The conference will report on the post-office appropriation bill. The report is to be considered Thursday. The Alaska delegate bill is before the house as a continuing order, to be considered in the absence of conference reports, which are yet to come on the military academy, the general deficiency and the sundry civil appropriation bills.

At a conference plans and specifications for new terminal facilities for the Southern railway and Rock Island in New Orleans to cost between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000 were approved. Work on the improvements will begin at once and it is expected that it will require two years or more to complete the work.

MINES IN THE NEVA

Proved to be Powder Packages Dropped Under the Ice.

Some excitement was caused by a report that mines had been discovered at the mouth of the River Neva where they had been placed by the Japanese to blow up the ships when they leave the works at St. Petersburg from Cronstadt to receive their guns. The report grew out of the sighting of four floating powder cans. These were recovered and turned over to the police authorities, who on making an examination found the cans to contain powder manufactured by a Russian factory. They were part of a load of powder which was transported in a cast to Cronstadt more than a year ago and were dropped under the ice.

Rich Japanese are collecting money to send large batches of actors and geisha girls after the army to amuse the soldiers. "If our poor soldiers have something to laugh at and enjoy after a day's heavy marching or battling, it will do them the world of good," is the argument. The mikado has been petitioned to allow actresses and geisha girls to travel with the navy, but Admiral Togo refused. He said his boys were too busy acting themselves to need the tonic of mimicry. All the actors and actresses sent after the army belong to the comic line of business.

The Russian capital is agog with reports of possible mediation between Russia and Japan through King Edward as a result of Edward's visit to Copenhagen. Everywhere, however the Russians seem to be of one mind, that no proffer of mediation can be entertained. Russian papers say no faith can be reposed in British diplomacy.

The duchess of Alba left her eagerly expected "Biography of Christopher Columbus from His Own Writings" unfinished; in fact, the duchess had only just begun on the great work and science and literature suffers an irreparable loss, it is feared.

The duchess, formerly Fernan Nunez, who died at the age of 40, was one of the foremost historians in Europe, and the famous Alba archives with their vast treasures of manuscript were put by her into fine order.

There is a rumor that the duchess appointed the United States heir to the Columbus manuscripts in the Alba archives.

The Youngest Soldier.

Judge Botts, distinguished as having been the youngest federal soldier in the civil war, is dead at Los Angeles, Cal. Twenty years ago a Toledo paper offered a gold medal for the youngest federal soldier in the civil war and it was awarded to Botts. He enlisted in the Fortieth Missouri regiment at the age of 13, and being large for his age, was allowed to enroll as a soldier.

The Voices are Dead.

The interior of the large building of the Victor Talking Machine company, of Camden, N. J., was burned Sunday. Loss, nearly $500,000. The concern carried an insurance of $250,000. Upward of half a million phonographic records and 25,000 talking machines were destroyed. Thousands of original records impossible to replace were ruined.

Increase in Collections.

The monthly statement of the collections of internal revenue show for the month of March, 1904, the collections amounted to $19,084,180, an increase as compared with March, 1903, of $459,271. For the nine months of the present fiscal year the receipts show a net increase of $3,107,561.

The Federation of Labor will meet in Gadsden on Thursday and Friday.

While a total of over 140 bills became laws during the two sessions, less than 150 of them were "public" bills, and of this latter number one-half authorized the bridging of rivers, the damming of streams, the regulation of federal courts, the ordinance of the District of Columbia.

Miss Alice Roosevelt has the measles.

Judge George Gray will preside over the tenth annual conference on international arbitration to be held June 1st to 3rd. Acceptances received from delegates indicate that the attendance will be large. It is arranged that one session of the conference shall be given to the proposed arbitration treaty with Great Britain and another to international arbitration from a business point of view.

Frederick V. Martin, of Indiana, commissioner of immigration for Porto Rico, killed himself by cutting his throat. The cause of Mr. Martin's act was brooding over private financial matters. The affairs of his office are believed to be in good shape.

In a fit of despondency W. B. Henderson, of Memphis, city attorney and son of Vice Mayor B. R. Henderson, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He was a law partner of Congressman M. R. Patterson.

In the house there were 15,398 bills and 349 resolutions, 152 joint resolutions and 61 concurrent resolutions introduced. Of these 2,253 passed the house. In the senate there were 5,465 introduced.

MR. HEFLIN RESIGNS

Will Vacate the Secretaryship of State on May 1.

Secretary of State Heflin filed his resignation with the governor, to take effect May 1st. The special election for congress will be held on May 9th to fill the unexpired term, and after then Mr. Heflin will go to Washington, should congress stay in session, to represent his district. The governor will be notified by wire of the resignation.

Boy Run Over.

Three little boys, Leslie Hatcher, Angie Douglas and George Douglas, were run over by a negro drayman at Bessemer, and Angie Douglas was seriously injured, the heavy dray passing over his body and bruising his shoulders badly. It seems that the boys were standing in the street waiting for a car. The negro driver was also watching the car and drove over them before he became aware that they were in the way.

Alabama Will be There.

The plan for the army maneuvers at Manassas, Va., have about been completed by the war department. The maneuvers will begin about September 5th and last two weeks.

Nearly thirty thousand troops will camp on the old Bull Run battlefield, of which about eighteen thousand will come from the state organizations. The Tennessee quota will be 538; Alabama, 915; Mississippi, 301.

Up for Life.

E. M. Carwile was found guilty of the murder of P. H. Snow, of Boaz, last winter and sentenced to life imprisonment. Snow was a business man of Boaz and he and Carwile had some dispute about a mortgage, and Snow was shot in the public road while Carwile was near by with his gun. Carwile says Snow shot himself accidentally.

Store Burned.

At Cullman, J. W. Sparks' store was burned down with all its contents, consisting of a stock of general merchandise valued at $9,000. There was $6,000 insurance on the stock. The origin of the fire is not known, but robbery and incendiarism are suspected.

Farmer Killed.

A Central of Georgia train struck the buggy of R. S. Kite while crossing the track at Nuckolls, near Seale, demolishing the vehicle and instantly killing Mr. Kite and the horse. Kite was about 45 years of age, with a wife and eight or ten children.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition company received a loan of $4,600,000 from the government, of which $100,000 is to pay the expenses of the board of lady managers. An act was passed to protect foreign exhibitors at the exposition of literary, artistic and musical works, through the copyright laws of the country, and provision was made for the withdrawal fee of duty under bond from the exposition of articles or materials donated to incorporated institutions of religious, philosophical, educational or scientific character.

As the result of a meeting held in Scottsboro by citizens, injunction proceedings have been begun to stop the building of the new court house. The injunction was granted by Judge Paul Speake at Huntsville and will be in force as soon as the required bond is made.

STATE CONVENTION DELEGATES.

The following gentlemen compose the Shelby county delegation to the Democratic State Convention to be held in Montgomery on May 26th, to elect delegates to the St. Louis Convention:

Hon. W. B. Browne, T. J. Martin, J. F. Pope, Hon. W. R. Oliver, J. E. Ruffin, W. C. Benton, Hon. E. S. Lyman.

And now an expert boll weevil professor says the pest breathes through its feet.

Here's another knocker-out of somebody's fool fad. An eminent physician says there is no such thing as brain fag.

Carrie Nation is to become a museum attraction. That is a place just one time removed from the rush the growler point.

Parker's silence is a horrid nightmare to Mr. Bryan. Parker is saying nothing, and because of this silence Mr. Bryan is throwing all kinds of fits.

As usual, the Birmingham ball team makes a good start, and it is hoped the Barons will break their record and play good ball until the close of the season.

The President's referees in Alabama are at it hammer and tongs, fighting each other for place and patronage. The Bookerees are in a bad mix-up among themselves.

Malcolm A. Graham, of Prattville, has been appointed to fill the vacancy on the Board of Trustees of the Girls Industrial School, Montevallo, caused by the death of Hon. Chas. W. Thompson.

Commencement times are always the same, and yet they are always different. It is difficult to harmonize the above expressions, yet we believe every teacher in the country will vouch for their truthfulness.

The stork visited the Fillipino camp at the World's Fair a few days ago, and to Bihinang, a young Negrito matron, belongs the distinction of being the mother of the first full blooded Filipino to be born in the United States.

Now that J. Tom Heflin is a full-fledged congressman, the Centerville Press says he should leave his humor at home when he goes to Washington, and deport himself with dignity. Surely the Press does not wish to intimate that Mr. Heflin is a funny man!

The developments brought out in the investigation of Mr. Smoot, Mormon, by the senate committee, are enough to make the people of the United States do some tall thinking. No organization, no matter what its nature, which sets at defiance the laws of the country as has been proven the Mormon church does, should be permitted to stand.

MONTEVALLO AFTER COLLEGE.

Our neighboring town of Montevallo is making a strong effort to land the Presbyterian college.

A large sum of money has been subscribed, and a location for the college has been given. The people of that thriving town will not let up, and as the date has been deferred by the committee to some time in the fall for locating the institution, the people of Montevallo will put increased energy into the movement—and their past record for accomplishing work along this line makes Montevallo a formidable competitor in the contest for the school.

Montevallo is admirably located for such an institution, being in almost the exact center of the State; its altitude is of that degree which iinsures pure air, therefore a desirable location from a good health point of view; it has some of the finest springs in the State, assuring plenty of good, pure water, and there is an abundance of the best fuel right in the dooryard. The town is wholly free of the many temptations to young men always found to a more or less degree in a city. The people there are of a refined, cultured class, and should the school be located there its environments in a social and moral way would be all that could be desired.

Here's to Montevallo's success.

AN ERROR IN REPORT.

The copy of the Grand Jury's report furnished The Sentinel last week said there was only about $6.75 in the county treasury. Solicitor Whitson informs us that the statement is an error; that the amount is $1,353.75.

But that does not prove that the county is out of debt by any means, for it has been but a few weeks since the county borrowed several thousand dollars, and the Grand Jury says it will be "necessary to borrow from $8,000 to $10,000 to meet current expenses." If the county is out of debt why was the loan of a few weeks ago made? If the loan was made, is the county out of debt? The Grand Jury report does not say it is.

The Bullock County Breeze, commenting on Hearst and his boom or barrel (there is but little difference), says: "He is one of the best known men in the United States today." Hearst is a member of congress. Will the Breeze tell its its readers what particular thing Mr. Hearst has done while in congress aside from keeping his chair warm?

The Sentinel would like to see General Stanley, of the Greenville Advocate, appointed Secretary of State. He has given a lifetime of work to the Democratic party, and his appointment would be a recognition not only of faithful service to his party, but would be honoring the newspaper fraternity of Alabama.

The lower house of congress held a five hours' session last Sunday to pay tributes to the memory of the late Senator Hanna, and the late Hon. C. W. Thompson, representative of the Fifth district from this State. Beautiful indeed were the tributes paid the memory of Mr. Thompson.

Bryan is out in a bitter attack on Judge Parker. Such a display comes with mighty poor grace from a man whom the Democrats have followed to defeat in two presidential campaigns. His attack upon Parker is so wholly uncalled for that even Mr. Byan's sympathizers are leaving him.

The Birmingham Age-Herald does not seem to take kindly to the growing sentiment in favor of Parker. However, in case of his nomination the Age-Herald will be among his warmest supporters. Everybody will be for Parker, excepting always the Nebraska megaphone.

Judge Alton Brooks Parker, of New York, and Hon. John Sharpe Williams, of Mississippi, is a ticket the Democrats can win with in November, and there is every indication that they will be nominated.

The result of the primary campaign over in the Sixth did not appear to be Hobson's choice. However, Captain Hobson says he will have another try in two years from now.

It is claimed that Burton, the United States senator convicted of working a graft on the government, will not resign, but intends to hang on until the senate kicks him out.

Congress adjourns today, according to the dispatches.

Lark Johnson to Hang.

Lark Johnson, the negro charged with the murder of John Lawley near Montevallo a year ago, has been found guilty as charged, and the jury fixes the penalty at death.

The Russian navy is bottled up at home, and from all acoounts it is not sorry.

Hon. J. Tom Heflin has sent his resignation as Secretary of State to the Governor, as he is now a full-fledged congressman.

The Anniston Star has recently installed a new Mergenthaler machine. The Star will twinkle brighter than ever now.

We are wondering if summer will ever come to stay at least a day or two. Think of it! Two inches of snow in Tennessee last week!

Give the Russians a little more time and they will blow all their own battleships out of the water, and the Japs will then have nothing to do.

The Peruna company should send Colonel Bankhead and Captain Hobson a car load of that beverage for the advertising they gave it during the recent campaign.

The Birmingham Ledger says there are but two or three offices in the United States that pay as well as the sheriff's office of Jefferson county. And there is always a big scramble for the place. It is said the office is worth above $25,000 a year.

Yesterday morning, Judge Alston lectured the Shelby county Jury Commission for drawing incompetent men for jury duty. He was prompted to make the censure because one man drawn for jury duty was 84 years old, another 76 years old, and still another was blind.

Roosevelt is determined to have the negro Crum confirmed before congress adjourns if it is possible to do so. The Democratic senators say they will sit all summer if necessary to prevent the confirmation. The President's negro policy has caused more trouble between the two races within the past year than all the presidents since the days of Washington. Self-respect of the white people should defeat Roosevelt if no other campaign material were at hand.

By order of the Postoffice Department, each rural mail carrier must keep account of the condition of the roads over which he travels and send in with his report an account of impassable places, and how much attention patrons along the route give to keeping the roads in passable condition. It is the purpose of the department to thus test the interest patrons may have in the service and decide its continuance or discontinuance according to the road conditions shown in the carrier's report.

JOHN TYLER MORGAN.

Birmingham Age-Herald.

On the day that news came from Paris that all obstacles had been cleared from the digging of an isthmian canal—on the day that the French rights were transferred to the United States—on that very day the republican managers of the bill for the government of the canal zone treated Alabama's senior and honored senator with marked discourtesy. He is the senior democratic member of the committee on interoceanic canals, and he should have been named as the democratic or minority member of the conference committee to adjust differences that had arisen between the two houses over the canal zone bill. He was not named, but Senator Gorman was. The latter at once declined to serve, and Senator Morgan as promptly declined to take his place. His own words in that connection are the best: "I respectfully decline," he said, "to serve on that committee. I bow with deep humility to the breach of the rule and accept the discourtesy shown to me, I trust, with proper humility, and I certainly will not consent to serve on the conference committee under the circumstances."

The incident created embarrassment and indignation in the senate and it will be strange indeed if just and patriotic men in all parts of the country do not resent in November the discourtesies that republican senators have dealt out to the grand old man who fought for a canal thirty years, making it at last a possibility. No one will claim that we would today be engaged in building a canal if Senator Morgan's years of work had not been given to it. It might have come in the long run, but no one living would have seen the completion of the canal if Senator Morgan's matchless services had not been devoted to its promotion on every possible occasion.

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to with stand each succeding colds and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by Bandy Drug Company.

SEVERAL BOUQUETS.

Editor H. E. Whitaker, of the Montevallo Sentinel, has purchased the Columbiana Chronicle, has moved to the latter place and will continue the publication of The Sentinel. He is among the best newspaper men in the State, and will give Columbiana one of the most up-to-date papers in Alabama.—Greensboro Watchman.

Editor Whitaker, of the Montevallo Sentinel, has acquired a controlling interest in the Shelby Chronicle at Columbiana, the county seat, and took charge of that paper April 1st. Mr. Whitaker is what may be termed a hustler, and will give the people of "Old Coon Town" and Shelby county a lively paper. Success to him.—From Union Springs Breeze.

Editor Whitaker, of the Montevallo Sentinel, has discontinued the publication of that excellent paper, having acquired a controlling interest in the Columbiana Chronicle and assumed management of the same. Mr. Whitaker is a strong writer and an able newspaper man. We wish him a full measure of success that his energy and ability so justly deserve.—Blocton Messenger.

The Columbiana Chronicle has passed into the hands of Editor H. E. Whitaker, of the Montevallo Sentinel. The name of the Chronicle has been changed to the Columbiana Sentinel. Editor Whitaker is one of the best and most popular newspaper men in the State, and we heartily commend him to the people of Columbiana. He and his wife are most excellent people. The Progress is glad to know that Editor Whitaker is in a broader field of usefulness.—Prattville Progress.

Mr. H. E. Whitaker, of the Montevallo Sentinel, has acquired a controlling interest in the Columbiana Chronicle and consolidated the two plants at Columbiana. Editor Whitaker gets out one of the best weeklies in the State, and with a wider field will still improve. The Sentinel has been one of our valued exchanges, and we are glad to know its editor is to increase his usefulness. Success to you, Brother Whitaker, and may you still hold aloft the banner of Dmocracy, and win in the approaching election.—The Centerville Press.

Mr. H. E. Whitaker, who has been publishing The Sentinel at Montevallo, has recently purchased a large interest in the Chronicle at Columbiana. In consequence of this he has moved his Montevallo plant to Columbiana and at the latter place has consolidated the two and will continue publication under the name of the "Columbiana Sentinel." This will give one instead of two good Democratic papers and by prop r support it can be made a powerful aid in establishing on impregnable foundation Democratic ascendency in the county.—Montgomery Advertiser.

We congratulate brother H. E. Whitaker, of the Montevallo Sentinel, on having acquired the Shelby Chronicle. He has consolidated the Chronicle and Sentinel, removed The Sentinel from Montevallo to Columbiana and will continue both papers under the name of the Columbiana Sentinel. We not only congratulate brother Whitaker, but the people of Columbiana and Shelby county as well, for it means well for all concerned. Mr. Whitaker is a hustler, and well merits the united patronage of the county. Success to him and The Sentinel.—Talladega News-Reporter.

April 1st, H. E. Whitaker, of Montevallo, moved to Columbiana where he consolidated the Montevallo Sentinel and the Chronicle of Columbiana. Mr. Whitaker has edited the Montevallo Sentinel for four years and during this time has made it one of the brightest and most interesting papers of Alabama. The Columbiana publication is the "Columbiana Sentinel," and the Home predicts for it a splendid career. Mr. Whitaker will give the people of Shelby county a first-class newspaper if they give him the encouragement and support his ability demands.—Our Mountain Home, Talladega.

The "Columbiana Sentinel." This is a new name for an old but a thoroughly modernized institution. Mr. H. E. Whitaker has purchased a controlling interest in the Shelby Chronicle, published at Columbiana, the county seat of Shelby county, and has consolidated his paper with that. We are glad to see this evidence of progress on the part of Editor Whitaker. He made a gallant and effective fight for Columbiana in the late county seat contest and is deserving well at the hands of Columbiana people. He is a vigorous writer and will continue to give the people of Shelby county a good paper.—Bessemer Weekly.

Conference Notes.

The District Conference of the Talladega District, met at Jacksonvill, Ala. April 20. The first day was spent in missionary institute work.

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. L. C. Branscomde, presiding elder of the district, after which Rev. T. K. Roberts, of Anniston, discussed "Training the Young."

At 11 o'clock, Rev. A. J. Lamar, of Nashville, Tenn., preached a very able sermon on the subject of Missions. The afternoon session was spent in the reading of a paper on Women and Missions by Mrs. E. B. Miller, of Talladega, with the discussion of different phases of the Mission question by Rev. Dr. Newman, of Talladega, R. I. Walston, of Sylacauga, and others. At the night service Rev. Henry Warwick, of Birmingham, preached an able sermon on "Love, the Native of Missions."

The Conference was opened on Thursday morning by Bishop A. Coke Smith, of Norfolk, Va. The report of the presiding elder showed the District to be in good condition. The pastors' reports on the spiritual state of the different charges showed an upward move.

The year bids fair to be one of the best in the history of the District. The preaching was simple, strong and edifying. Bishop Smith's presence was a benediction to both preachers and laymen of the Conference.

The Conference was delightfully entertained. Columbiana was chosen as the place of holding the next Conference. G. T. H.

Sunday School Mass Meeting.

MONTEVALLO.

The Sacred Concert given on Tuesday night April 16th, under the direction of Miss Kate G. Sampey of the musical faculty of the A. G. I. S., was a brilliant success in every way. The work of the orchestra is especially to be commended. This is a new organization, no more than five months old, and yet they play with air of experience and confidence worthy of adepts. Nothing has added so much zest to the musical life of the school and Montevallo as the work of this orchestra. To Miss Sampey belongs the credit for the splendid work of this organization. They played several numbers on the program. They were assisted by a chorus of eight voices who rendered Gounod's "Praise Ye the Fathers," Nevins' "Saviour, Wheu Night Involves the Sky," and Verdi's "Pilgrim Chorus." The solos of Miss Annie Laurie Jones, Miss Kathryn Garrett and Miss Annie Dee Sampey were three beautiful numbers artistically sung. The concert netted a substantial sum for the benefit of the M. E. church organ fund.

On last Tuesday, Montevallo was quite astir with interest and life in extending a co dial welcome to Mr. Robert C. Ogden, of New York, and his party of tourists who are making a tour of Southern Colleges. The party numbered on its list many men and women of national and some few of world wide repute. Mr. Ogden himself won all hearts by his charming freedom from conventionality and almost boyish freshness. Dr. F. M Peterson welcomed the visitors to the town and college in a forcible address setting forth the objects and ideals of the A. G. I. S. as an educational institution. Speeches were made by Mr. Ogden and others. All the speeches were happy in style and spirit, and evinced a most sincere gratification at the educational progress of the South, and hearty sympathy for everything that made her progress. Mr. Talcott Williams, of the the Philadelphia Ledger, paid a beautiful tribute to the Southern women whom he characterized as the South's greatest and noblest educators in the past.

The Sentinel list continues to grow here, and it won't be loug until all of our people will be subscribers.

Miss Lucile Johnson, of Cropwell, and Miss Bama Chandler spent one night in the city last week with friends.

The cold, dry, windy weather has given our farmers the blues if there be such a thing. Cotton is slow about coming up and some had to replant. Corn is not growing much. Oats and wheat will be almost a failure. There will not be any apples or pears. The corn has already got away back in the crib. Meat high, and no money and, it being a long time before blackberries come in, it looks now as if some of us are going to get in the middle of a bad fix, even before the all day singing and protracted meeting sets in. Pete.

Over the trans-Siberian railroad a fast freight train leaves Moscow once a week and reaches Vladivostock in eighteen days and Port Arthur in twenty-one days. During the year 1902 the railway transported over its entire length 1,980,000 tons of freight and 1,370 passengers, though some of the short hauls exhibit much larger figures. The pettiness of this business is shown by a comparison with the same amount of mileage on American roads, on which the amount of freight carried in a year is from 40,000,000 to 100,000,000 tons.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. WHEN YOU GO TO THE WORLD'S FAIR

Suggestions That Should Be Helpful to the Stranger in St. Louis :: No Trouble When You Get Your Bearings :: The Greatest of the World's Expositions

By MARK BENNITT

It will be worth all the self denial that one may practice for several years to see the World's Fair of 1904 at St. Louis. Money saved, earned or borrowed, cannot be better spent than in getting acquainted with the world's progress as revealed at this latest and greatest of expositions. All of us cannot travel around the world to take note of what the nations are doing, but the nations from all around the world desire us to know and have sent their best works to St. Louis to be placed on display.

Therefore, by all means or any means, see the World's Fair. It means everything to your future growth of mind, to your present pleasure and life-long satisfaction. Who that saw the Centennial Exposition or the Columbian Exposition that does not revert to it with recollections of keenest pleasure?

Within the two square miles of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis there is more to be seen than ever was brought together in ten times the space before. It is a great collection of expositions massed into one. It is nearly twice as large as the Columbian Exposition at Chicago, nearly ten times larger than the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo. Every exhibit palace offers the equivalent of a splendid exposition, each covering many acres of space.

The largest of these is the Palace of Agriculture, with its twenty-three acres under roof, and filled to the doors with the most wonderful agricultural collection ever assembled upon any occasion. The important States and Nations of the world are all here alongside great numbers of individual exhibitors. Five great staples have been chosen for extraordinary display. Corn, cotton, sugar, rice and tobacco are here arrayed as they have never been before, and undreamed possibilities are revealed to inquiring minds. Such a dairy display was never attempted and such a collection of farm machinery and tools was never placed on exhibition.

The Palace of Transportation is next in size, covering fifteen acres. One may only hint at the wonders it contains. The historical exhibit of locomotives is one of the features. It shows the development of seventy-five years in locomotive construction. Strange indeed is the person who is not yet impressed with these evidences of man's long struggle with the problem of rail transportation, the most civilizing of modern influences, next to the newspaper, which must always stand first. To describe in detail this exhibit would be a long story in itself.

Now let us cross the flower gardens to the Palace of Machinery, just south of Transportation. The huge power generators are the first things to arrest the eye. The Allis-Chalmers engine of 5000 horse-power, the Curtis steam turbine of 8000 horse-power, the Parsons steam turbine of 5000 kilowatts, the four Westinghouse generators of 3000 horse-power each, and each as high as a house. And then other generators great and small of all kinds—the most wonderful display of engines ever assembled. But these are not all. Think of ten acres of glistening machines of every kind and you have some idea of the contents of the Palace of Machinery.

We cross the lagoon to the eastward and come to the beautiful Palace of Electricity, with eight acres of exhibits from many countries, which show the marvelous development of electrical science. To the north again over one of the arched bridges we approach the Palace of Varied Industries, viewing its wonderful grace and splendor as we go. Here are fourteen acres of exhibits from all over the world. The Palace of Manufactures is the same size and stands on the opposite side of the Plaza of St. Louis. It is equally interesting in the variety and newness of its contents.

Opposite the Palace of Manufactures to the southward is the Palace of Education, this being the first time that education has been allotted a great building all its own. A variety of schools in daily session are the feature of this eight acre display. The two exhibit buildings in the eastern part of the main group are Mines and Metallurgy and Liberal Arts. The Department of Mines and Metallurgy has a twelve-acre outdoor display in addition to the nine acres under roof.

The Palace of Art at the World's Fair contains 195 galleries. Each gallery is a large room, lighted from above and filled with the choicest works of all countries of the world in which art has made noteworthy progress. The group of buildings to house this magnificent display represents an expenditure of more than $1,000,000.

Even to the timid traveler, St. Louis presents no complications. It is all as plain as a b c when once you get your bearings. The streets all run east and west or north and south, with rarely a confusing diagonal.

All trains into St. Louis arrive at Union Station, one of the finest railroad terminals in the world. The station is on the south side of Market street, between 18th and 20th streets, so that when the visitor emerges from the station he finds himself at the beginning of the city numbering both north and south and eighteen blocks from the river.

Standing on Market street with his back to the station the down-town or main business section of the city is to his right about one mile. The World's Fair is to his left, westward about five miles. All the street cars are so labeled that he may easily know which cars to take.

Practically all St. Louis will be a lodging house during the Exposition. The hotels have greatly multiplied in number and thousands of private homes are open for the accommodation of guests. The rates at the hotels are generally on the European plan as it will be more convenient for guests to get their meals wherever meal-time may find them. Prices for rooms in private houses range from 50 cents to $2.50 per day per person. The prevailing rate is $1.00 per person and in nearly every case good accommodations with all conveniences and in good localities may be had for this price. The higher rate presupposes larger rooms and more luxurious quarters. But no one need pay more than $1.00.

The hotel prices have a wide range. Competition will be brisk.

ELECTRICITY IN JAPAN.

Activity of the Island Empire in Construction Work.

That the modern Japanese are determined to keep abreast of the peoples of the Western world is shown not only by their quick mastery of the art of war, but also by their readiness to appropriate all the results of modern scientific discovery. According to the London Electrical Engineer, they are now displaying much activity in the utilization of electricity for lighting, power and traction purposes. The Tokio electric light works have been in operation for a considerable time, and it has become necessary to greatly extend the power house. The plant at present has a capacity of 5050 horse power, and this is being increased by an additional 3600 horse power. This new plant will go into operation during the present month, and work will then be commenced on a further extension, which will ultimately increase the output of the station by 10,000 horse power. Fresh demands for electric power are being made on the electric company by the railway company, which is operating an extensive system of light railways in Tokio.

The Dardanelles.

The question whether Russia has the right to send her Black Sea fleet through the Dardanelles is based upon a treaty executed in 1841 between the five great Powers, whereby it was agreed that no ship belonging to any nation save Turkey should pass through the channel without the consent of Turkey. This agreement was reaffirmed by the treaty of Berlin, executed after the Russo-Turkish war in the 70s.

Where Lord Nelson Really Died.

Visitors to the Victory, at Portsmouth, England, who have gazed upon a spot in the cockpit and believed it to be the place where Nelson breathed his last, were quite mistaken, according to discoveries just made during the overhauling of the ship. The authentic place where the hero died was close against one of the huge ribs of the ship a little further forward. This place is now to be railed around, and it will be lighted with electric lights, for which a storage battery is to be placed on board.

A CHANGE OF AIR.

Why It Proves Beneficial When a Person Is Ailing.

To maintain the balance of perfect health in a body so complex as man's, where the circulatory, respiratory, muscular and nervous systems interact so much upon one another, there is need of very frequent adjustment, especially in such a busy age as this.

One great benefit of change of air is that the great law of contrast enforced upon us by all natural phenomena is allowed fuller scope for its beneficent work. The various organs of the body are very really rested by slight changes in diet, cooking, water, new surroundings, people and amusements. The same monotonous daily round of duties tries them as it tries us, and change of work is actual refreshment.

If specific ailments have manifested themselves, then the seashore for a tonic and general stimulant, mountain air for its aseptic property, a sandy district for its dryness or a sea voyage to invigorate the whole system will be calculated to ward off what would otherwise spell serious illness.

Man's Nerve Impulses.

The speed of nerve impulses in man is stated by Dr. Alcock, in a recent paper before the London Royal Society, to be sixty meters (216 feet) a second. The experiments of Sir Michael Foster fifteen years ago showed it to be thirty-three meters. Dr. Gowers, the eminent neurologist, remarks that either Dr. Michael Foster or Dr. Alcock is widely wrong, or the rate of transmission has become greatly accelerated during the last fifteen years.

Origin of "So Long."

With reference to the origin of the familiar expression, "So long," a correspondent of the London Academy suggests that it is derived from the Norwegian "Saa laenge," a common form of farewell, equivalent in meaning to "au revoir," and pronounced like "so long," with the "g" softened. There was a fair number of Norwegians among the settlers in America, to judge by the names, and it is quite likely the phrase was picked up from them. It is in general use among the Dutch in South Africa.

AN ORGAN WITHOUT STOPS.

That Was the Opinion of the Man With a Musicless Soul.

There is a man living in an Eleventh street flat who has no music in his soul, and there is a man on the lower floor whose soul is full of it. The lower floor man not long ago added a four lung parlor organ to his lares and penates, and two healthy daughters of his began to practice on it. Several nights later a friend paid a visit to the first man, and as soon as he got inside the apartment he heard the parlor organ on the lower floor.

"Fine toned instrument that," he said, because he, too, had some music in his soul.

The musicless man grunted.

"Whose make is it?" the visitor asked.

"Don't know," was the ungracious answer.

"How many stops has it?"

The host pulled himself up for a powerful effort. "Well," he replied, "it's been in the house for about a week now, and in that time it hasn't had any that I have been able to discover."—New York Press.

Happy When They Are In Jail.

"Many a prisoner as soon as he steps in the outer office," said a Charles street jail officer, according to the Boston Record, "throws himself into a chair with a sigh of relief, muttering: 'This is the first happy hour in many months.' This is especially true of men charged with large embezzlements. Their consciences seem to be on the verge of collapse until they arrive under the shadow of the jail, when they then see their future clearly."

Ancient Prescriptions.

Sir Walter Besant's study of old English customs shows that the doctors of several centuries ago prescribed for fevers "a cold water affusion" with drinking of asses' milk. When the queen was ill in 1663 they shaved her head and applied pigeons to her feet. Powdered mummy for a long time was considered to be a specific against diseases. It is said that the reason it went out of use was that dealers took to embalming bodies and then sold them for genuine ancient mummies.

TWENTY-ONE RUSSIANS KILLED

By Explosion of Mine—Attempt to Assassinate Kuropatkin.

The czar has received the following telegram from Vice Admiral Alexieff: "I respectfully report to your majesty that during the placing of mines by some steam launches Lieutenant Pell and twenty men were killed through a mine exploding prematurely under the stern of one of the launches.

Rumors are in circulation that two beggars attempted the assassination of General Kuropatkin when he was in New Chwang a few days ago. It is said the beggars succeeded in approaching the general and were talking to him, when a guard noticed that one of them put his hand inside his robe. The men were seized and searched and knives were found upon them. It is said that the men were Japanese.

Russia has made a new issue of $15,000,000 in paper currency against free gold in the state bank. At the ministary of finance it was explained that it was an ordinary issue and in no sense was forced. Under the law, paper is issuable to double the amount of gold up to $15,000,000, in excess of which paper issued must be covered rouble for rouble. In the state banks there are in round figures $400,000,000 in gold, which would permit of an issue of $550,000,000 in paper, but the paper issue at present only amounts to $350,000,000.

It has been definitely decided to send the Russian squadron in the Baltic sea to the far east. There has been considerable hesitation regarding the dispatching of this squadron to the seat of hostilities. Once it was decided to send the fleet, but afterwards the advisability of such a move was questioned by the authorities. Admiral Skrydloff, according to a reported interview with him, plans to combine all the Russian fleets and if possible clean both the Pacific and Yellow seas of Japanese vessels by a combined effort.

Viceroy Alexieff has sent to the czar a full report of the loss of the battleship Petropavlovsk and the Russian destroyer Strashni on April 17th. The mistake by the officers of Strashni, who mistook Japanese destroyers for Russian warship, led to the greater disaster in the loss of the Petropavlovsk. The report continues: The explosion occurred at the right side of the Petropavlovsk, then a second explosion under her bridge.

It is reported that the Russian garrison and population at Vladivostock are threatened with famine. Dispatches recently stated food at Vladivostock was almost gone and the population was leaving in order to get the necessities of life. Railway communication with the city is interrupted and it is difficult to get sufficient food there to relieve the situation.

King Menelik II of Abyssinia is one of the most remarkable of sovereigns. His official relations with foreigners have invariably made a favorable impression. He is not striking in his outward personality, for he is of only medium height, stout enough to appear dumpy, and his black face is heavy and scarred by smallpox, but intelligence and usually good humor illumine his features. The great boon that Menelik has conferred upon his country is peace. An unlettered native of Africa, he has done for Abyssinia practically what many civilized governments are doing for their colonies. When the herds of Abyssinia were nearly exterminated by rinderpest, Menelik toiled with his soldiers in the fields and distributed the fruits of their labors to the hungry. He said he worked with the men to impress the people with the fact that they must look more to the soil for their food. It is said that for three years he ate no beef. "Why should I enjoy plenty," he said, "while my people are in want?" He has introduced small coins into the country and the increase of the foreign trade from eighty thousand dollars to several millions is attributed directly to his influence.

The black hole of Calcutta was 18 feet square. When Fort Williams was taken, in 1756, by Surajah Dowla, nabob of Bengal, 146 persons were shut up in the black hole. The room afforded each person a space of 26 1-2 inches by 12 inches, which was just sufficient to hold them without their being violently packed together. To this dungeon there was but one small window and the weather being very sultry, the air within could neither circulate nor be changed. In less than an hour many of the prisoners were attacked with extreme difficulty of breathing and several were delirious. In less than four hours many had died in delirium. In five hours all the survivors except those at the grate, were unconscious. Eleven hours after they were imprisoned 23 only of the 146 came out alive and all of these had high fever, from which they were slow in recovering.

The first record of the use of envelopes is contained in a satirical poem written by Dean Swift in 1726:

"Lend these to paper sparing Pope,
And when he sits to write
No letter with an envelope
Could give him more delight."

In the British museum there are preserved two envelopes, one of which is dated Stockholm, April 24th, 1755, and it is known that in 1760 Madame de Pompadour sent a letter in an envelope to the Duchess d'Alguillon. Envelopes were used in England soon after 1830, and are referred to in a paper written in 1830 by Sir Rowland Hill, the father of modern postal systems, as "the little bags called envelopes." They were without gum on the open flap, which was secured by wafer or wax.

The presidential vote in 1900 was but 37,551 larger than the vote of 1896. It stood in both 1896 and 1900 at about fourteen millions. The increase in population since 1896 has been ten millions. In 1890 there were 21,329,819 males of voting age in this country. There are now about twenty-three millions.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally. Another woman,

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N.J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me." —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED 1875. COLUMBIANA, ALA., MAY 5, 1904. VOL. 29. NO. 36

THE BIRMINGHAM

An 8,000-Ton Cruiser, Will be Ready in Two Years

It can now be stated positively that the navy department will name one of the new cruisers for the city of Birmingham. Congressman Underwood made this request of Secretary of the Navy Moody recently, and the latter agreed to grant it if the president approved of the suggestion. The president has given his approval.

The new cruiser, which has already been authorized, will be 8,000 tons and will be built within the next two years. The mayor of Birmingham will at the proper time be asked to name the young lady who will christen the ship at the launching and the people of Birmingham will be expected to provide the new cruiser with a silver service.

The M. E. Conference.

As the day for the assembling of the delegates to the thirty-first general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church approaches, general interest in the gathering of representative churchmen from all parts of the civilized world becomes greater, and when Bishop Merrill calls it to order at Los Angeles, Cal., Wednesday it is expected that 748 out of a total of 750 accredited delegates will be in their seats.

For the first time in the history of the Methodist general conference women delegates will have seats in the conference and a vote in the direction of church affairs.

The colored delegates, of which there are seventy-five, will make an effort to have one of their race elected bishop.

Expenses are Low.

The expenditures of the United States government are much less in proportion to population than those of many other leading nations of the world. This fact is shown by a statement just published by the department of commerce and labor, through its bureau of statistics, showing the population, revenues, expenditures and indebtedness of the principal countries of the world. It shows that while the expenditure of the United States, with 80,000,000 of people, is $640,000,000; that of the United Kingdom, with 42,000,000 of people, is $898,000,000; that of France, with 39,000,000 people, is $695,000,000; that of Germany, with 58,000,000 people, $553,000,000.

Two Suicides.

Lewis E. Rafield, a resident of Mobile, committed suicide at his home by cutting his throat with a razor. He was found in a dying condition by a neighbor who heard his groans.

When asked why he did such a thing he said that his wife was going to die and that there was no peace for him on earth.

He died two hours after being found. The man's wife is dying.

Mrs. Sid Marsh, of Clintonville, committed suicide Friday night. Deceased was prominent in social circles. No cause is assigned for the rash act. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh had been eating supper, when the woman left the table. She soon returned and, resuming her place at the table, swallowed the contents of a box of strychnine. In a few minutes, while gasping for breath, she told her husband that she was going to leave him.

Accidentally Shot.

At Tuscaloosa little Gertie, the 7-year-old daughter of A. J. Wilson, was accidentally shot by her 10-year-old brother, who was playing with a loaded 38-caliber revolver. The bullet entered her cheek and came out of her mouth.

Edward R. McDavid Monday morning assumed the duties of secretary of state. His first official act was the issuance of a commission to Scott Sayre as judge of the fifteenth judicial circuit.

Boy Drowned.

While in bathing in Warrior river Monday with a number of boys Fred Wooten, aged 11, son of Richard Wooten, a prominent merchant of Oneonta, was drowned. The little fellow had finished his bathing and is said to have been sitting on the bank, washing his feet, when he slipped into the river, where there was eight feet of water.

Early Monday morning the safe of the Florence hotel, Birmingham, was chiseled open and $500 belonging to the Atlanta baseball team stolen. No clue.

The Japanese forces in the battle of Sunday numbered 100,000 men.

The Cullman county democratic executive committee has nominated Asa B. Fuller to fill the vacancy on the democratic ticket caused by the death of S. H. Herrin, nominee for clerk of the circuit court. A letter from State Chairman Mallory declaring that a primary should be called for making this specific nomination was disregarded. Petitions bearing the names of over 750 voters were presented asking for a primary.

Dr. Greth sailed five miles in his air ship Monday in California.

Pig Iron.

Iron production in Alabama is holding up. Furnaces are breaking records. The Republic company is making more than 700 tons of iron daily at three furnaces at Thomas. The Sloss company has six or seven furnaces in operation, and each furnace is turning out 200 tons and more daily. Other companies report good production. The shipments equal the production.

Work on new furnaces is being pushed, two iron makers being under way, one at Woodward, belonging to the Woodward Iron Company, and the other at Ensley, belonging to the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company.

Up to July 1st sales have already been made which will require almost steady production, while a few orders have been booked for delivery after that period, and there is an inquiry for iron which guarantees a steady business to the first of November.

The Canal Commission's Work.

The sanitary officers connected with the isthmian canal commission find they have a task on their hands. They have returned from a month's trip to the isthmus, where they went over the field. Nowhere were there the commonest facilities for the preservation of health. In all the isthmus the doctors found but one bath room.

So far as the quarters for employes along the route of the proposed canal were concerned nothing for the preservation of health had been considered. The first step will be the creation of a water supply and sewerage system. There will have to be medical attendants for forty thousand people.

The Illinois Central announces the immediate expenditure of $250,000 on its machine shops in Memphis. It is the intention of the system to double the capacity in the shops there and to increase its shop force at Memphis by the employment of 500 additional men.

New corporations in the eastern states during April, with a capital of $1,000,000 and over, reached $74,700,000 against $83,050,000 in March.

Statistics show that manufacturing industries in Chattanooga in 1903 increased their business 27 per cent. To provide for this increase, $1,600,000 were expended in improvements. New industries were established to the amount of $1,000,000; or, in other words, Chattanooga manufacturing industries augmented their capital by an amount exceeding $2,500,000 in one year. In 1902 the total value of the manufacturing interests of Chattanooga was over $16,000,000. At the close of 1903 this value was over $19,000,000. In manufacturing growth Chattanooga surpassed any city of equal size in the United States.

Since March 4, 1900, when the bill permitting national banks with a capital of $25,000 and upward, to be incorporated, 697 national banks have been established in the south, or about 40 per cent of the entire number established in that time. The establishment of banks in the south has outrun the population.

Launching of the battleship Rhode Island, set for Saturday, has been indefinitely postponed, owing to labor troubles at the yards of the Fore River Manufacturing company.

AMONG LAWMAKERS

At the Seat of Government at Washington.

APRIL 28TH.

President Pro Tem Frye adjourned the senate sine die at 2 p. m. today, the hour fixed by resolution of the two houses of congress. The occurrence was devoid of unusual incident and the final close of the session was but slightly different from the end of an ordinary day's sitting.

The senate began its day's work at 10:30 a. m., but the greater part of the time was devoted to a political debate.

The only important acts of legislation during the day were the presentation and acceptance of conference reports on the Panama canal government and emergency river and harbor bills. Neither report aroused debate.

The closing day of the second session of the house of the Fifty-eighth congress was made notable by the demonstration which was evoked by a resolution offered by Mr. Williams, the minority leader, testifying to the courtesy and impartial manner in which Speaker Cannon had presided over the house.

Many conference reports were agreed to on bills which had been in dispute between the two houses. The only debate of any importance was on the bill providing for the restoration to the naval academy of three cadets who had been dismissed for hazing, the house voting overwhelmingly against it.

At 2:10 the gavel fell and the fifty-eighth congress concluded.

Uncle Sam Has Another Cruiser, the California.

The armored cruiser California was launched Thursday at the ship yards of the Union Iron works. She was christened by Miss Florence May Pardee, daughter of Governor Pardee, of the state of California.

The cruiser California is supposed to embody the latest and best in vessels of her class. There are to be five vessels like her. She will cost complete $5,000,000. Her principal dimensions are: Length of load water line 503 feet, extreme breadth 69 1-2 feet, mean draught 24 feet and displacement 13,400 tons. She will have a belt of steel armor 7 1-2 inches wide on the water line and varying in thickness from 3 1-2 to 6 inches, as well as the 5-inch casement above the belt of armor for 232 feet of the vessel's length.

The total number of bills introduced in the house during the session just ended was 15,756 and in the senate 5,087. Most of these were of a private nature, involving appropriations for claims or pensions. The total number of private laws approved by the president up to noon Friday was 1441. The total number of public laws 181, and the total number of resolutions which have become law 37. The agregate number of bills was not above the average of a long session, but the number of private bills passed was far in excess of those generally enacted during a similar term. The total number of reports on bills in the house alone was 2943, or nearly double the usual number. The amount of public business transacted was below the average.

The naval board appointed to investigate the circumstances attending the bursting of two 8-inch guns on the Iowa February 5 last, has reported to the secretary that the board finds that in the firing of the guns all precautions were taken. The report says that "when the forgings of the guns were being machined at the gun factory defects developed and the guns were rejected, but on the protest of the manufacturer the guns were accepted.

The bill introduced by Senator Pettus relating to the settlement of the claims of states for organizing, equipping and subsisting volunteers between their muster in and their acceptance for service in the war with Spain, has become a law. Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi are interested in the bill.

IN SIX WEEKS

Payments on Spanish War Claims Will be Made.

Under the terms of the general deficiency appropriation bill, which has been approved by the president, the claims of the several states for expenses incurred during the Spanish war may be filed until January 1, 1906. Practically all of these claims have been filed with the auditor for the war department.

Tennessee and Mississippi will receive about $20,000 each and Alabama $30,000.

The recent illness of King Carlos, which was announced to be la grippe, is now believed to have been due to an attempt to assassinate him by placing poison in his food. The king's secretary and aide-de-camp, who was ill at the same time, is known to have been given anti-poison treatment.

Spain now has fifty factories producing beet sugar. The beet sugar crop as warehoused indicates over the previous year an increase in the stock on hand and production together of nearly 88,000 tons.

HEAVY LOSS BY FIRE

Sustained by Birmingham on Sunday Morning.

Birmingham Sunday morning suffered its most destructive fire since the early nineties, when the six-story Caldwell hotel and a block of buildings were destroyed.

Sunday's result is three handsome four-story brick buildings on the south side of First avenue, between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets, in the heart of the business district, and making up a part of one of the most substantial business blocks in the city, with another smaller building almost totally destroyed. It now appears as if new structures will be erected for probably two hundred feet along First avenue.

The loss from the fire is estimated to be nearly $150,000, with between $75,000 and $85,000 insurance.

The fire started in the one-story establishment of A. T. Killian, wholesale grocer and produce merchant at No. 2023 Morris avenue, from an unknown cause. The building occupied partly by Killian is a one-story brick structure belonging to parties in Mobile. The flames originated in the rear of this store, spreading to the place of business of P. Giacoppazzi, No. 2021 Morris avenue, which was also a one-story building.

When the flames were discovered they were shooting out of the rear of the Killian and the Giacoppazzi buildings. This latter contained a large stock of fireworks. It was just before daylight and the shooting flames lighted up the skies brilliantly and the fire could be seen for miles.

All of the apparatus in the fire department of Birmingham, including the aerial truck, was brought into service.

The principal losers are:

	Damage.	Insurance.
John W. Tomlinson. .	$10,000	13,000
Mrs. E. W. Turner ..	10,000	10,000
Geo. P. Harrison	30,000	16,000
Caldwell & Meinetts (office building)	10,000	20,000
P. Giacoppazzi	4,500	3,500
Turn Verein Society ..	5,000	2,500
T. V. Boardman	25,000	10,000
W. D. Colby	7,500	5,000
Underwriters' Real Estate & Ins. Co.	5,000	3,000
Attorneys and others, including Confederate Veterans	15,000	5,000
Robert Garry & Co. (damage by smoke and water)	5,000	5,000

It is claimed by the owners of the office building that the structure can be repaired and put in good condition for the sum of $7,500.

Colonel Tomlinson states that his building will be rebuilt immediately.

Colonel W. H. Denson, who had offices in the Harrison building, was probably one of the heaviest losers by the fire. Besides his office fixtures he lost a library of 2500 volumes which he valued at $10,000, his insurance amounting to only $3,000. Included in the library of Colonel Denson was a complete set of the Alabama reports, there being eighteen volumes of the old series and 137 volumes of the "First Alabama Reports."

"I have lost all of professional life practically," declares Colonel Denson. "There are between 2500 and 3000 attorneys at law in Alabama, but there are only 87 sets of reports left. There were also included in my library a full set of the Reports of the British Parliament of 1857, the time of the monetary crises." A number of other attorneys lost their libraries also.

Gadsden sporting men have organized the Etowah Game and Fish Protective Association, which has for its aims the protection of all kinds of game and the encouragement of stocking the streams of the county with fish by the government.

On account of the increased receipts at the Anniston postoffice for the last year the salary of the postmaster will be increased another $100 when the apportionments are made in June. In the matter of postoffice revenue Anniston is the fifth and perhaps the fourth office in the state, Birmingham, Mobile, Montgomery and possibly Selma alone exceeding her.

Lee County Improvements.

The new Phenix-Girard bank, with a capital stock to begin with of $25,000, will open its doors next week. It is reported that a wholesale house is to be established at an early date. Much building is going on. The Columbus Railroad Company now operates car lines through Phenix City and Girard, and the opening up of these new lines has aided much in the development of the two cities.

At Opelika W. O. Harrell is moving the ruins of the Planters' warehouse burned some time ago, and it is rumored will build new stores on the lot. He has a large wholesale house in contemplation. Colonel Lum Dukes will soon erect two stores.
